SAYS MILES IS A FORGER

A Young Brooklynite Accuses His Uncle of Swindling.

HE HAS BROUGHT SUIT FOR $350,000

William Hurley, the Claimant, Says That the Signature of His Father's Name to Big Contracts Was Not Authorized—Mr. Miles is a Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—William Hurley, a young flour dealer of Wallabout Market, is suing his uncle, William Miles, of No. 229 Henry street, this city, for the recovery of property estimated at $350,000 and held by Miles, young Hurley asserts, on a contract to which the name of his father, Samuel Hurley, was forged. Jacob Miles, a brother of William, is made a party to the suit.

According to Hurley's story, his father was a partner with Jacob and William Miles in the leather business. Mr. Hurley died in 1862, leaving a will, in which the two Miles brothers were named as executors. They paid $13,000 over to Mrs. Hurley as her husband's share in the business.

Through John Kerwin, a Williamsburg produce commission merchant, young Hurley learned that Miles had control of valuable property in Williamsburg, and claimed that he held it for relatives named Hurley. Hurley told his uncle what he had discovered, and demanded $20,000 in settlement. His uncle granted it. Hurley continued his investigations, and claims to have discovered irregularities in the transfer of real estate from his father to Miles. He went to Miles again and demanded $40,000. He says that Miles acceded to his demands.

Young Hurley claims to have since discovered that large holdings in real estate in New York and Brooklyn, several mines, and 4,000 lots in Cypress Hills Cemetery belong to the old firm and that he is entitled to a one-third share in the property. Mr. Miles admits having given $40,000 in settlement, saying that he believes in arbitration and is willing to go to great lengths to keep peace in the family. He denies charges of forgery made by young Hurley.

Mr. Miles is a Welshman, nearly 80 years old, who lives very modestly in spite of his reputed wealth. He is prominent in the social organizations of his nationality. He is a director in the Hamilton Insurance Company, and president of the old Sixpenny Savings Bank, and a trustee of Cypress Hills Cemetery.

THEIR BRAVERY COMMENDED.

Secretary Tracy Thanks Officers and Employes of Mare Island Navy Yard.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Secretary Tracy has issued a general order commending and making public acknowledgement of the important service rendered by officers and enlisted men of the navy and others during the disastrous fire at the Mare Island Navy Yard, San Francisco, on June 13 last, at which twelve persons were instantly killed by the explosion of ammunition.

In his order Secretary Tracy says:

"When it is considered that the explosion referred to had scattered burning fragments upon the roof of the shell house and about the building, that there was imminent danger of fire therefrom reaching the magazine near by, which contained a large quantity of powder, and that greater disaster was liable to ensue, the department is deeply impressed with the courageous conduct of those who promptly approached the building and by well directed and persistent efforts succeeded in preventing further loss of life and property."

The order mentions Capt. J. C. Watson, Captain of the Yard, Commander C. E. Clarke, Surgeon D. O. Lewis and a large number of naval officers, enlisted men and yard employes, and it also calls attention to the services of Mrs. Ross McDougal.

In conclusion the order says:

"Where so many responded to the call of humanity and nobly performed their duty in this great emergency, it would be invidious on the part of the department, and indeed difficult, to select any one for special commendation; but to those persons whose names appear in the several reports received concerning the accidents, and who are mentioned in this order, the thanks of the department are hereby tendered."

DISSOLVED TO-DAY.

Second Division, New York Court of Appeals Concludes Its Labors.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The Court of Appeals, Second Division, is in session and will hand down about 60 decisions, thus finishing the work for which it was constituted. It will to-day, without any formal ceremonies, dissolve and adjourn sine die. Each of the seven judges will return to the Supreme Court bench.

While this does away at present with a second division in this court it does not forever dissolve it as under the amendment to the State constitution, the Governor may at any time that there is an accumulation of business recall the present judges and appoint new ones.

The judges whose terms expire to-day are: David L. Follett, Norwich; Charles F. Brown, Newburg; Alton B. Parker, Kingston; J. S. Landon, Whitehall; I. G. Vann, Syracuse; G. B. Bradley, Corning, and Albert Haight, Buffalo. The court has been in existence since Jan. 1, 1889, and has disposed of a very large number of cases. The calendar is now so cleared that the original court can take care of it.

Twenty infected houses have been razed to the ground. In St. Pauli 10 saloons and cafes, which did business throughout the worst of the plague, have been closed for disinfection. The schools will be opened on October 10, on which date all the fugitives will probably have returned.

CONFERENCES WITH CLEVELAND.

He is Receiving Many Callers During His Stay In New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Several important conferences have been held with Mr. Cleveland at the Victoria Hotel.

The National Campaign Committee, including Messrs. Harrity, Dickinson, Sheehan, Brice, Whitney, Smalley and Quincey, the only absentees being Senator Ransom, of North Carolina; Congressman Cable, of Illinois, and E. C. Wall, of Wisconsin, had the first consultation, which lasted over two hours.

Immediately after their departure a delegation of the New York State Committee arrived and matters pertaining to the State campaign were discussed.

It is understood that the local situation and the proposition to run an independent local Democratic ticket were also discussed.

It was stated that the stay of Mr. Cleveland in town would be short, and that he would return to Buzzard's Bay next week to bring his family here.

Replying to a note of inquiry sent to him by a reporter, Mr. Cleveland stated that, as yet, he had made no arrangements with regard to making speeches during the present campaign. He did not know whether he would make speeches or not; he might possibly, but no positive arrangements had been made up to the present. He was not in a position to say whether arrangements would be made. He did not know how he would employ his time during his stay here.

In the morning from information obtained by the police the man was arraigned and held on a charge of murdering Paulsen at 139 Hester street, Thursday night.

He gave his name as Frank W. Rohle, a Swede.

No Third Ticket Yet Nominated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—No third ticket has yet been nominated by the "Anti-Snappers." As evidenced by the meeting held by them last night, however, the probabilities of an anti-Tammany county ticket are stronger than ever. Although no action was taken last night, further than the adoption of the report of the committee appointed last Friday to meet Chairman Harrity, and Messrs. Dickinson, Quincy and Smalley of the Democratic National Committee, there was much speechmaking in favor of a third ticket.

CHARGED WITH TREASON

Warrants for Homestead Strikers' Advisory Board.

FIVE MEN ALREADY IN CUSTODY.

Consternation Among the Men at This Latest Movement Against Them—Substance of the Informations—Each Person Who Aided the Strikers Liable to Arrest.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 1.—Detectives arrested last night in Homestead Thomas Crawford, George Bylands, T. W. Brown, J. Dierken and W. H. Baird on an information sworn out by County Detective Fetzhoover, charging them with treason against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

There is consternation in the camp of the strikers to-day. All the members of the celebrated Advisory Board, of which Hugh O'Donnell was chairman, have been charged with treason. The five men brought here were all that could be found last night.

The men for whom warrants are now out are David H. Shanton, John McLackie, David Lynch, Hugh O'Donnell, Harry Bayne, Elmer E. Rail, Isaac Byers, Henry Baers, G. W. Campus, Isaac Critchlow, Miller Colgan, John Coyle, Jack Clifford, Dennis M. Cush, William McConegly, Michael Cummings, William Combs, Patrick Fagan, W. H. Gaches, Matthew Harris, Reed Kennedy, H. H. Thompson, John Miller, S. B. Searight, John Murray, Martin Murray, Hugh Ross, William T. Roberts and George W. Sarver.

The informations were made by County Detective Seltzhoover before Chief Justice Paxon of the State Supreme Court. The idea of taking it up to the Supreme Court is to dispense with all the preliminary work such cases would involve by going through the lower courts.

Some of those to be arrested were not at Homestead during the day of the riot. On this account they defied the company, thinking there was no way of getting at them as long as they did not participate in the riots. The present move shows that every person who aided or abetted the strikers is liable to arrest.

The information says the accused did on July 1, and divers other times, excite insurrection, rebellion and war against the Commonwealth and defied its laws.

MRS. HARRISON'S CONDITION.

Continuous Good Reports From the Sick Room Cheer the President.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Harrison passed a very good night. Dr. Gardner said this morning that she is "about the same."

Mrs. Harrison seems much stronger. She continues to take a good deal of nourishment, and if, after a week of comparatively comfortable days and restful nights she seems better and stronger, then it can be said that there is an improvement in her condition.

Mrs. Dimmick said this morning that Mrs. Harrison was quite bright and her improvement made the family feel much better. The continued good reports from the sick room have caused the President to hope that after all he may be able to keep his official engagements out of town.

Mrs. Gilmore Declines to Have a Monument Erected to Her Husband.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Gilmore, in a graceful letter to a morning paper, has declined the monument the paper suggested raising by popular subscription to the memory of her husband, the late bandmaster. While acknowledging her gratitude, Mrs. Gilmore says the declination is in accordance with the wishes of the dead.

Manager John H. Laine said last night that all the contracts which Mr. Gilmore made for his band would be fulfilled to the letter. The singers who had been engaged for the western tour will start for their destination next week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Democratic State Committee met in the Hoffman House last evening. Half a dozen directors of National banks, who are Presidential electors, were asked to resign because of their ineligibility. There is said to be serious opposition to the nomination of Rufus K. Peckham.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

BIG WRECK ON THE CENTRAL.

Many Cattle Crushed in Collision, or Roasted Alive in the Burning Wreck—A Conductor Escapes from the Crash to be Gored Nearly to Death By a Bull.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 1.—A wreck at Landsdown last night compelled all Lehigh Valley trains to be run over the Jersey Central. As a result, at 7:15 this morning, a Lehigh Valley cattle express crashed into the rear of a Central coal train, at the main crossing between Somerville and Raritan, completely demolishing the Lehigh Valley engine, piling up the coal and cattle cars, and killing at least ten cattle. People living near the scene were awakened by the terrific crash of the collision. Eyewitnesses say that the cars went into the air as high as the telegraph poles, then piled themselves on top of the engine completely burying it. The cattle cars burst open, liberating some of the cattle, while others were crushed.

The wreckage caught fire at once, and the Somerville fire department was called out to quench the flames. Some of the cattle were roasted alive. No one was injured severely, although nearly all of the train men who leaped for their lives were badly bruised.

Amzi Williver, a conductor, escaped from the wreck safely, but was run down by a large bull which had got loose, and was tossed over a fence near by. Williver was gored severely, and will probably lose his right eye.

The wreck is due to carelessness, but just who is guilty cannot be found out. The accident drew a great crowd of people to the scene. It is the biggest wreck that has occurred in this vicinity in years. All the tracks are blocked, and the passengers are being transferred around the wreck. Both wrecking trains were sent for, but it is a matter of hours before the tracks will be cleared. The wrecked Lehigh Valley engine is a sight. The cab, tender and woodwork are mashed into pieces no bigger than one's hand, while the wheels and main parts are bent and crushed beyond all recognition.

Twenty-two of the cattle cars still loaded are standing on a side-track, and will remain so all day. The poor animals are bellowing pitifully, in need of food and water.

In the wreck at Landsdown, two men were killed.

The Youngest Stenographer Testifies.

Edgar Sheppard, a bright lad graduated from the PRESS office, and now stenographer for G. D. W. Smith, general purchasing agent of the Central railroad, writes as follows:

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS—Will you kindly allow me space enough in your valuable paper to thank the Y. M. C. A. of this city for what it has done for me. Last October I joined the class in stenography, and through its very efficient teacher, J. A. Robinson, I now hold a good position and have had it since the 13th of June, 1892. I believe I am the youngest stenographer they have taught, (15 years of age), and deem it my duty to tell the other young men in this city what a valuable thing is in store for them if they join that class. EDGAR SHEPPARD.

AN ENTHUSIAST'S PROPHECY.

Judging from Thursday's Rousing and Popular Celebration, He Thinks Fanwood Will Wheel Into Line for Cleveland.

The good people of Scotch Plains are enthusiastic over the great demonstration of Thursday evening, when, as announced in these columns, the great banner-raising of the Cleveland and Stevenson Tariff Reform Club of Fanwood township took place. The quiet ancient village of Scotch Plains was awakened from its long "Rip VanWinkle sleep. Houses were profusely decorated with Chinese lanterns, windows were lighted with candles, and, 'mid the martial music of the Plainfield Cadet band, the burning of red lights, and deafening cheers, the banner rope was pulled by the president of the club. As if by magic the handsome banner, bearing the portraits of Cleveland and Stevenson, was unfurled. More music and cheers, and then the fast-gathering crowd adjourned to Excelsior hall, where an enthusiastic gathering of over 250 people were awaiting the speech-makers. The executive committee announced the officers for the evening, as follows:

President—Judge Thomas F. McCormick.

Vice-presidents—Judge L. S. Ashley, James Boden, George R. Nichols, William C. Stanbury, John R. Marsh, Joseph W. Yates, James Clark, William W. Myers, Chauncey B. Ripley, Vincent L. Frazee, William K. McClure, John Simpson.

Secretaries—Thomas J. Nichols, J. P. Stevens, William E. Gibbs.

Judge McCormick, amid many cheers, was escorted to the chair, and, after a few appropriate remarks, extolling the manly character and honest integrity of Grover Cleveland, he introduced Edward Shallow of Rahway, who intelligently expounded the injuries of the Force bill.

Next followed the silver-tongued farmer orator, James E. Martine, of Plainfield, who carried his audience heart and soul with him for an hour or more. Cheer followed cheer, and, after going into an intricate explanation of how the high protective tariff of McKinley worked to the disadvantages of the farmer and laborer, he closed his address with a glowing tribute to the national presidential candidates, Cleveland and Stevenson, and to the candidate for governor, George T. Werts.

The Hon. John Dunn, of Elizabeth closed the enthusiastic meeting amid cheers and hand-clapping for his humorous characteristic utterances on the squanderings of the Republican party.

The Hon. Frederick C. Marsh sent a congratulatory letter and regretted his absence on account of a previous engagement.

More music and more red lights, and Scotch Plains was left to slumber again to dream of the greatest demonstration it had ever witnessed.

The music then led an admiring crowd to Fanwood, where they serenaded the president of the club.

All this demonstration and enthusiasm by the very side and nearly under the very roof of a great Republican township is significant of the result to follow. It is even prophesied that Fanwood will wheel into the Democratic column. A local enthusiast says: "She will not submit further to Republican dictation. They see the 'writing on the wall'."

Columbus Day and the New Jersey Schools.

Addison B. Poland, State Superintendent of public schools in New Jersey, has sent a circular letter to all the county and city superintendents in the State, requesting their cooperation in the celebration of Columbus Day. The letter says:

Your attention is respectfully called to the recent proclamation by the Governor of New Jersey recommending that Friday, October 21, 1892, "be observed by the people of this State as a general holiday; that our citizens cease from toil and devote themselves on that day, so far as possible, to such exercises in their schools and other places of assembly as will properly celebrate the day".

In order that the character of the exercises may be largely the same throughout the country, the national executive committee has prepared the programme, a copy of which is mailed to you herewith. It is urgently recommended that the programme be followed in the main, with such additions as may commend themselves to any particular school or locality. Let superintendents, principals, and teachers spare no effort to make this celebration of the anniversary of the discovery of America a fruitful one for the inculcation of patriotism in the children and youth under their charge.

Plainfield Women Look at "Loves of Bonnets".

White & VanArsdale's opening yesterday drew crowds of enthusiastic shoppers. Four and five deep the women stood, gazing at the hats and bonnets in the windows, and critically discussing with their friends the new styles. "Is n't that bonnet a gem!" "That trimming is simply superb!" "I think that one is lovely!"—and similar expressions, could be heard. Inside the store (even with the large addition recently made), there was scarcely room to get around, and everyone admitted that the opening was a grand success.

The Cause of It.

Secondary weather reports in New Jersey last Saturday night indicated auroras, sunbursts and volcanic pyrotechnics at Plainfield, and total eclipse at Somerville. And it was all on account of the pennant, see? If you do n't see, you want to move around to Collier's at once, and have the cobwebs dusted from your eyes. It will cost you nothing, and be of lasting benefit to you.

A ringing noise in the ears, headache, deafness, eyes weak; obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, bloody and putrid; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Not all of these symptoms at once. Probably only a few of them.

That's Catarrh.

A medicine that by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties has cured the most hopeless cases. One that will cure you, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing. A medicine that doesn't simply palliate for a time, but produces perfect and permanent cures.

That's Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A cash payment of $500, not by you, as you might expect, but to you, if you can't be cured. It's an offer that's made in good faith, to prove their medicine, by responsible men, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy.

That's the kind of medicine to try.

Doesn't it seem so?

DELIGHTED WITH PLAINFIELD.

High Court Foresters Conclude Their Visit and Go Home.

The members of the Independent Order of Foresters who were meeting in High Court session were so well pleased with Plainfield that it was near midnight when they departed. During the afternoon the standing committees made their reports. The state-of-the-order committee reported that during the past year the growth of the order in New Jersey had been unprecedented in the history of the High Court. The number of courts had been doubled, and a very large increase of members was mentioned as an inspiration to still further spread the order, and a new series of literature will be circulated.

A resolution was adopted to institute commanderies of the Royal Foresters, a uniformed rank.

In the evening the members of the Plainfield Court, which was recently instituted, presented themselves, and were introduced to the High Court by Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger Oronyatekha, who said they desired to learn more of the mysteries of Forestry. The visitors were welcomed by High Chief Ranger Clark, and remained as visitors.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows:

High Chief Ranger—Willett F. Bingham, Elizabeth.
Vice High Chief Ranger—Eugene De La Roi, Florence.
High Recording Secretary—Freeman Merrill, Port Richmond, S. I.
High Treasurer—Willard Heywood, Newark.
High Physician—Dr. Andrew Q. Donavan, Elizabeth.
High Counselor—Cornelius Kane, Elizabeth.
High Auditors—J. J. Hoff, Somerville; G. B. Campbell, Newark.

The next meeting will be held at Jersey City.

The delegates were profuse in their expressions of delight over their visit to Plainfield, and the recesses were spent in viewing the city.

Musical Extravaganza at Music Hall.

The inauguration of manager Gilmore's accession to the control of the Arch street theater, Philadelphia, occurred the other evening before a crowded and delighted audience. The opening attraction was "Telephonia", which is to be played at Music Hall next Monday evening. It was capitally acted by a company of strength and excellence, including among its members Cora Pryor, Marie Bartlett, Cora Williams, Blanche Barrington, Louise Doen, Julia Fanner, Virginia Burford, Raymond Hitchcock, Billy Williams, Jas. Callen, George Egans, Ed. Ackerby, Chas. Graham and others.

The play opens at Genoa, Italy, in 1492, on the eve of a holiday with a great chorus and dance. During the scene there is a capital topical song and dance by Kolumbus and Malone entitled "You Can Guess"; an incantation and startling appearance of Telephonia, the vision of Kolumbus, duet, "When Love is Nigh", etc. In rapid succession you are led by bright dialogue and catchy songs from Spain to America. The remainder of the play is located in this country, opening at Coney Island and thence to Brooklyn, ending with a trip to Chicago, of course taking in the World's Fair. It is bright throughout, full of specialties, catchy music, songs and dances and lots of witticisms.

Champion Corbett's Play.

James J. Corbett, who has justly earned in the fistic arena the title of Champion of the World, is busily at work rehearsing Chas. T. Vincent's comedy-drama "Gentleman Jack", in which he is to appear at Music Hall, next Tuesday evening. Mr. Corbett's ambition to shine as a histrionic star is justified in the eyes of many who saw his debut in a speaking part during the run of "Sport McAllister" at the Bijou theater, New York, last May. Mr. Corbett's part is that of an athletic college student, and the plot is said to follow closely events in the young champion's life, culminating in the memorable encounter with the ex-champion at New Orleans.

Mr. Maybaum Doesn't Worry Mr. Martine.

[Newark News.]

Union county politics are growing daily more heated until they will soon reach the boiling point and undoubtedly remain there until the various conventions are held within the next four weeks, after which they will simmer quietly until election day.

The Democratic Congressional convention is first to be held, and speculation is rife as to who will secure a majority of the delegates from Union county, which will have a majority of the delegates in the convention. John T. Duun and James E. Martine are the rival aspirants, and neither is losing an opportunity to secure votes, but are attending the meetings of their prospective constituents. Both candidates have, however, been somewhat worried by the inroads on their strongholds being made by Alexander Maybaum, of South Orange, who is keeping even with his rivals in the pace they have set in their chase for votes.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

KEELER ON THE GIANTS.

How the New York Papers Receive the Crescents' Former Shortstop.

(Sun.)

Keeler, the new third baseman, took his place on the team, and handled himself like a veteran.

(World.)

Keeler made his debut as a Giant, and did remarkably well. He is a fast runner and a good fielder. Manager Powers doubtless has a "find" in him.

(Herald.)

KEELER PROMISES WELL.

Keeler, the new third baseman, occupied his position on the New York nine and made a good impression. It is not fair to judge a player, favorably or unfavorably, by his work in one game. But the young man handled himself so well that the audience gave him their encouragement at once. He is not much larger than Fuller, and looks somewhat like "Shorty" on the field. He is a good runner and stole the only base stolen in the game. It will take the test of a good many games to prove whether he is heavy and speedy enough for league company. It is, however, safe enough to assert that "Jim" Knowles will not be missed so long as Keeler is on the base.

Carbonell Gives Himself Vent.

(Somerville Democrat.)

Would you believe it! After many, many years Plainfield has now a pennant and the town has gone mad. "Let those laugh who win", and we are glad that in manager Reed's case "virtue" did not need to be "its own reward". If the Plainfield kickers and toughs had any minds it would prove a salutary lesson which even our biblical friend (to whom we might remark that the devil can quote Scripture but still remain black) might take unto himself to advantage. However 'tis useless to expect any effect upon a minus quantity.

Great is our admiration for the facile and convenient memory of the Press, which can almost in the same breath declare the League broken up and the clubs a tie for first place, and rhapsodize for two columns and a half over the glorious manner in which the Crescents won the pennant. We congratulate them heartily on their victory for we always abide by the fortune of war with as good a grace as may be, but when they began to crow over having beaten Somerville, a gentle whisper of "4 to 3", and a deprecating inquiry of "when did you win a series from Somerville", was sufficient to bring forth a storm of accusation of previous cheating or more talk about the "pennant". They have won the pennant sure enough, but they had better leave "beating Somerville" out of their remarks. The game was a good one, but 'tis not ancient history and we'll let it go at that.

Last Season's Success to be Repeated.

Encouraged by the hearty support he deservedly received last season, H. O. Newman announces a second series of three concerts to be given in the Casino on the evening of Dec. 22, Jan. 26, and Feb. 14, by the New York Philharmonic club, consisting of Eugene Weiner, flute virtuoso; Max Dick, violin virtuoso; George Sauer, viola soloist; Johann Miersch, violin virtuoso; Paul Miersch, violoncello virtuoso, and Wilhelm Angermunde, double bass, assisted by Miss Juch, soprano, Miss Marion S. Weed, mezzo soprano; William H. Rieger, tenor and Xaver Scharwenka, the renowned pianiste, composer and conductor.

Subscription will be received only for the series of three concerts, at $3 each, but the number issued will be limited to the comfortable seating capacity of the Casino. Last season, Mr. Newman was compelled to refuse those subscriptions that came last.

John Dunn, the Republicans' Candidate.

[Elizabeth Journal.]

Hon. John T. Dunn may not, after all, have a flowery pathway to the Democratic nomination for congress. The Union Democrat, of Rahway, Judge Hyer's paper, relates with apparent relish the visit to that city of Alexander Maybaum of South Orange, "an aspirant for congressional honors", and tells of an incident which seems to credit him with great ability. On the other hand the Plainfield papers seem to be pushing the candidacy of Mr. Martine with great earnestness, and are very curtly saying to the Democratic party that the best thing they can do is to nominate the farmer orator. More than this it is reported, somewhat sub rosa, of course, that in the event of the nomination of one of Mr. Dunn's opponents a check for $5,000 will be sent to the national Democratic committee "for legitimate campaign expenses". At the same time Mr. Dunn is allowing no grass to grow under his feet.

The Local Societies Well Represented.

The fall conference of the Union County Christian Endeavor union, which was held in the First Presbyterian church at Rahway Thursday evening, was the best and most enthusiastic session ever held by that organization, and the meeting was in every respect a most successful one. All of the county societies were well represented, large delegations being present from each. Plainfield sent her usual share of delegates, and the societies of the Trinity Reformed, First Presbyterian, Congregational and Park Avenue Baptist churches, Hope chapel, and Warren Mission, were all represented by their live and active workers. Dunellen and New Market combined to send a large stageload.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

A GREAT PRIMARY.

Lively But Harmonious Gathering of North Plainfield Democrats.

The North Plainfield Democrats had a primary last night that was probably the biggest in the history of the township. In all, 225 voters balloted. While the primary was a rouser, there was the utmost harmony. Nine candidates were nominated for delegates to the congressional convention. A great effort was made to secure a delegation pledged to nominate Judge Bartine for Congress. The Bartine element, however, was defeated, and the delegates elected were unpledged. They are S. C. Shann, John Bodine, John Thickstun and Levi Kline. It is understood that they will vote for Ballantine.

The full list of nominees and their votes is as follows:

S. C. Shann, 196; John Bodine, 119; John Thickstun, 110; Levi Kline, 109; L. R. Blackford, 95; J. A. Blatz, 94; E. D. Smalley, 77; Joseph Newman, 7; H. F. Watson, 6.

After the result was announced, the election of the four receiving the highest number of votes was made unanimous.

The officers of the primary were:

Chairman—David Carney.
Secretary—Andrew Kenney.
Judge—Mr. McLaughlin.
Tellers—John Vetterlein, E. C. Morse.

The congressional convention will be held at New Brunswick Wednesday.

More Light at the Grove Street Bridge.

The chapel of the First Church of Christ was lighted for the first time last evening. The building is lighted with electricity throughout, and a large light over the door casts a gleam that makes it possible for pedestrians to travel on that thoroughfare with a feeling of safety that has never before existed.

The light on the opposite side of the street casts its rays far enough to meet the large light from the chapel, so that one might think himself walking in daylight. This will be appreciated by those who have occasion to use that street. The test last evening was satisfactory, and the lights were duly accepted by the committee in charge.

All is now in readiness for the opening exercises to-morrow.

Protection for the Scott Works and Vicinity.

Two hose companies have been organized among the employes of the Scott printing machine company. Hydrants have been placed near each end of the long stretch of buildings, and two houses have been erected at the ends of the yard. The hose carriages have arrived, and 1,000 feet of hose is expected to-day. There will be eight men in each company on call at any alarm in the shops or the vicinity.

Hawks Have a Good-bye Party.

A strange flight or gathering of hawks was observed during the high winds the past week on the premises of Thomas H. Taylor, near Washington Rock. A number of them were shot by Mr. Taylor's family, who state that the number of hawks was so numerous that it was impossible to count them. The flight resembled that of wild pigeons seen in this section years ago. It is stated by good authority that these gatherings of hawks are preparatory to their migration South.

Mr. Howland in a New Enterprise.

A certificate of incorporation has been granted to the Powhatan Manufacturing company, which purposes leasing and operating a mill in Norfolk county, Va. The capital is $40,000, and the company has the following officers: President, W. W. Howland; secretary, B. N. Price; treasurer, R. W. Robinson; directors, J. T. Kitchell, J. E. Howell, F. W. Dean.

Firemen's Parade and Banquet.

Engine companies No. 1 and 2 are each going to have a fine new hose-wagon similar to Alert's, and will celebrate by a short parade Oct. 18. The mayors and councils and entire departments of city and borough will be invited to participate. The parade will be followed by a banquet at the Crescent rink.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

Self Praise.

Self praise is no recommendation, but there are times when one must permit a person to tell the truth about himself. When what he says is supported by the testimony of others, no reasonable man will doubt his word. Now to say that ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are the only genuine and reliable porous plasters made is not self praise in the slightest degree. They have stood the test for over thirty years, and in proof of their merits it is only necessary to call attention to the cures they have effected and to the voluntary testimonials of those who have used them.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

TWO GIRL BUTCHERS.

They Understand the Trade as Well as Any Man.

Queer Discovery Made in an Illinois Town —The Lang Sisters Save Their Father the Expense of Hiring a Man.

That the gentler sex is gradually pushing man aside and usurping many of his occupations is beginning to assume a serious phase, and the question has been pertinently asked if women will not in time compete with men for every point of vantage in the financial and industrial world. It seems that they are capable of doing almost any kind of work that is done by man. Their choice, of course, lies along the line of light employments, but they do not scorn to do blacksmithing and light machinists' bench work in the factory, harness making, etc.

There are, writes a Chicago Tribune correspondent from Chester, Ill., two young women near here, whose widowed mother still runs the farm, who don male attire and plow, harrow, sow and reap with as much skill and certainty of success as if the work had been performed by males.

Of all the occupations thus encroached upon by the fair ones the slaughter house would seem to offer the most uninviting field for women, yet two young Chester women the other day "skinned a beef" and divided it into halves with as much skill and dispatch as most butchers. They are the daughters of Simon Lang. As Mr. Lang was a butcher it occurred to him that women might be butchers as well as men. In consequence of his logic his two daughters, Mary and Carrie, both handsome young girls of sixteen and nineteen, of robust health and splendid physique, do nearly all the work in the slaughter house. The old gentleman draws the steer into the place of execution and deals it a blow which lays it at full length and then leaves the rest to his girls, while he goes to town and attends to his retail business.

In a jiffy the life stream flows from a large gash in the throat of the prostrate animal, and, as soon as the convulsive muscular contractions cease, these two girls, with keen-edged knives, run around the foot, up the leg to the knee, which is cut off and thrown aside, and the hide is folded back disclosing the red meat and white fat as the snip, snip of their sharp knives waves back and forth.

The united strength of the girls turns the windlass which raises the beef to the rafters, where it rests during the act of disemboweling and division into two parts. The girls are adepts in the manufacture of all kinds of sausage, and say that while they do not like their business they do the work to save their father the expense of hiring a man to do it while they would be compelled to sit in idleness or hire out in some one's kitchen.

To see these girls in holiday attire no one would suspect that their hands were ever soiled in a slaughter-house. They are pretty and stylishly dressed and have many admirers among the young men of their social set.

A Summer Without Nights.

To the summer visitor in Sweden there is nothing more striking than the almost total absence of night. At Stockholm, the Swedish capital, the sun goes down a few minutes before 10 o'clock and rises again four hours later during a greater part of the month of June. But the four hours the sun lies hidden in the frozen north are not hours of darkness—the refraction of his rays as he passes around the north pole makes midnight as light as a cloudy midday, and enables one to read the finest print without artificial light at any time during the "night." At the head of the Gulf of Bothnia there is a mountain on the summit of which the sun shines perpetually during the five days of June 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23. Every six hours during this season of continual sunshine a steamer leaves Stockholm crowded with visitors anxious to witness the phenomenon. At the same place during winter the sun disappears and is not seen for weeks; then it comes in sight again for 10, 15 or 20 minutes, gradually lengthening its stay until finally it stays in sight continuously for upward of 120 hours.

Metal Bank Notes Proposed.

Sir Henry Bessemer recommends the issuance for monetary purposes of what may be called a bank note made of metal. It would answer all required purposes and would make forgery and fraud next to impossible. His proposition is to take a thin plate of aluminum, suitably stamped and engraved, about the size of the florin, this disk of "the strange new white metal" to serve the purpose which the £1 English bank notes now fill; that is to say, it would represent the value of £1 and should be made redeemable on presentation. Its intrinsic value would be small, of course, but by means of a newly invented process it could be made so it would defy all the ingenuity of the forger, which would really make it a thing of great value after all. The metal is so light that the little aluminum disk could never be mistaken for a silver coin; and it would surely be a much pleasanter "thing to handle than a crumpled, dirty bank note, impregnated, possibly, with the germs of many diseases.

A Wise Choice.

Summer Boarder—If I don't open this window I will suffocate.

Landlady—If you open it the mosquitoes will come in.

Summer Boarder (after reflection)—Leave it shut, and telephone for the undertaker.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Careful Boy.

One of Walter's front teeth was loose, and his mother cautioned him to be careful lest he lose it.

"Don't be afraid," he said; "it isn't half as loose as my fingers have always been, and I haven't lost one of them yet."—Harper's Young People.

WHY?

Because it's always pure, always the same, always the best. Such a record tells more than pages of "talk." It's just as good to-day as ever and it is the tobacco for you. If you smoke, you should smoke

Arp's Forty-Three Years' Experience.

Is it a sell or a calamity? We don't manage them down here. I have been married forty-three years and such a thing as managing my wife never occurred to me. I didn't marry her for that. It is very well to talk about managing a horse or a railroad, but the word is a reflection on woman's character. A wife is a partner, a help meet. She helps to meet the family expenses and to make life worth living. Managing a wife is a bulldozing business, and that is just what brings about so many divorces. A wife who has to be managed is not a wife. Mr. Beecher said that the first thing to be done to insure good health was to be born of healthy parents. And so the best way to manage a wife is not to marry one who has to be managed. As Bob said when he had served out his sentence in the chain gang: "Boss, de best thing for you to do when you git dar is—not to go dar."

Woman was the last and best work of the Almighty. If Adam evoluted, she didn't. She came fresh from her Maker's hand, and was given to man to refine him and elevate him. How she should manage him is a fair question, but how he should manage her is ridiculous. It is a case of "reductio ad absurdum," as the lawyers say. The pure, trusting, innocent being ties herself, binds herself to this evoluted son of Adam as fast as Prometheus was bound to the rock, and as soon as the chains are fastened he begins to look around and inquire: "How shall I manage her?" Manage her like you did before you married her. That's all. Never let her know that she is chained. Companionship is the word—companionship that honors the man more than it does the woman; for she is of a higher rank in purity, in morality, in beauty. She is a link between him and the angels, and will take us all to Heaven if we will let her. Three hundred white convicts in one chain gang in Georgia and not a woman. Just think of it. But the weeping and sorrow are hers—sorrow for husbands and sons who have fallen. The pain and suffering in bringing us into the world are hers. The care and anxiety of raising the children are hers. Job speaketh of the dark watches of the night when deep sleep falleth upon a man, but it doesn't fall upon a weary mother with a fretful or sickly child. I know whereof I speak, for ten have come to us and she raised them and never murmured. It has been a world of trouble, but she endured it. It is all over now and the crop is laid by and she deserves a pension both from earth and Heaven. She never thought about managing me, but she has done it. It is well enough to talk about taming a shrew, but managing a woman—never. If there were a whole book written upon it, it would go dead—stillborn—for a gentleman wouldn't if he could, and a tyrant couldn't if he would. There may be Petruchios, but there are no Kates.

BILL ARP.

Opie Read "Hedges."

There are undoubtedly many ways to manage a wife, but failure is generally the result—that is if the wife should receive the intimation that her husband is trying to manage her. If a wife is managed at all it is better to conduct the performance in a manner so quiet and confidential as to keep it entirely hidden from her. It mainly depends upon the wife as to whether or not she is to be managed. If she decides not to be managed, and this decision will soon manifest itself in some unexpected way, it were well for the husband to "hedge" in some beseeming manner. We would naturally suppose that a delicate little blue-eyed creature with a "won't you please love me" expression of countenance and a half suppressed lisp that brings a suggestion of a "stray note of music found floating on a sunbeam"—I say we would naturally suppose this sort of ethereal embodiment to be easily managed; but she isn't. In truth she holds her husband—if she has one, and if she hasn't she'll get one very soon—in a condition which is not exactly that of henpeckedness, but which is a slavery almost as abject. But is he afraid of her? Surely not. She rules him with her tears; and it is better to be ruled with an oaken plant than with a "flood of tears." Ah! but how should a wife be managed? By attention, by little respects and courtesies, by keeping romance alive in the house. A woman who once has loved is forever after a child of romance. A rose given to her at evening is far more effective than a morning argument. Try at times to think as she does. Read in her line rather than ask her to read in yours, and the chances are that your literary taste will be brightened if not improved. Joke with that delicacy and gentleness that add spice and perfume to conversation; but through the smile of pleasantry let not the truth of satire shine. Reason with her. Yes, and reason earnestry, but remember that your court of appeals should be love instead of exact and unflinching justice.

The man who sets in with the determination to rule his wife may find a certain sort of happiness, but he is not likely to communicate any of it to her. Happiness is contagious only in a peculiar condition of atmosphere.

Manage well yourself, and in that may lie the management of your wife.

NEW YORK'S GREAT TIME

Arrangements Completed for the Columbus Anniversary Festivities.

THE GRANDEST CELEBRATION THIS COUNTRY WILL EVER SEE.

It Commences Next Saturday With Services in the Synagogues -- Sunday the Christian Churches Will Eulogize the Discoverer--School Boys' Parade Monday--The Naval Parade -- Wednesday, Oct. 12, the Great Day--Two Monster Processions--Other Exercises--Hundreds of Thousands of Visitors Expected.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Preparations for New York's celebration of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus are about completed. The ceremonies will begin on Oct. 8, when the first of the religious service will be held. Oct. 12 is the date selected as the anniversary proper. The National Guard of neighboring States will participate in the military exercises.

Every indication points to the grandest celebration ever seen in the United States and the number of visitors during the week will run up in the hundred thousands.

The celebration will cost more than $100,000. With that amount there will be given a military parade, a night pageant, a naval parade, a school parade, a fireworks display, and a banquet. Provision will also be made for the general decoration and illumination of the city and the erection of fifteen grand stands.

The programme for the celebration is, in brief, as follows:

Saturday, Oct. 8, services in synagogues.

Sunday, Oct. 9, services in churches.

Monday, Oct. 10, school and college parade, opening of loan art exhibition at the Academy of Design.

Tuesday, Oct. 11, naval parade.

Wednesday, Oct. 12, military parade, dedication of the Columbus monument, night pageant, and fireworks display on the Brooklyn Bridge.

Thursday, Oct. 13, banquet.

These are the official arrangements. Besides, there will be celebrations by organizations and societies and other entertainments. A monster parade of Roman Catholics will be a feature of Tuesday's celebration.

On Saturday morning the celebration will begin. Religious services will then be held in the Jewish synagogue in commemoration of the day.

Nearly all the Christain churches will hold special services with elaborate musical programmes on Sunday, Oct. 9.

On Monday, Oct. 10 begins the secular part of the celebration, and from sunrise until midnight of the following Thursday New York will do nothing but celebrate.

On Monday will take place the big parade of the schools and colleges of New York and neighborhood. Sixty-two out of the sixty-five public schools in this city will take part, besides scores of high schools, colleges and private institutions.

More than 25,000 will be in line. Ten thousand boys, from 12 to 18 years of age, will represent the public schools. Four thousand more will come over from Brooklyn, and the Roman Catholics will send 6,000 from the thirty-eight parochial schools in this city, and from the various colleges and orphan asylums. Several military schools, [illegible] schools and trade schools will also participate, together with a number of uniformed organizations of boys.

The public school boys under 12 will not be allowed to join the parade, nor will others over 12, whom their teachers do not think physically able to stand the strain of the parade.

One hundred and forty gross of American flags will be distributed among those who will parade. The parade begins at 10 o'clock.

The public school boys will be led by a grand marshal, and will be divided into twenty battalions of 500 each, led by a school principal as commander.

Each battalion will be further divided into ten companies, each led by a boy chosen by his fellows.

Those in charge of the parade have already begun drilling the boys in simple military evolutions.

For the night a score of events are preparing. The most important of all will be the opening of the big loan art exhibition at the National Academy of Design. A number of minor celebrations and entertainments given by societies and clubs will close the day's festivities.

At 12:30 p. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 11, occurs the big naval parade, for which the Atlantic coast, from Boston to Cape Hatteras, has been ransacked for vessels to take part. The vessels will assemble in the lower Bay, and form in two lines as an escort to the Government ships in the centre, and 100 boats of the merchant marine will be in line, and about fifty Government ships, which will consist of warships, cruisers, revenue cutters and lighthouse tenders. Boats belonging to the Fire, Police and Dock departments, and foreign men-of-war will also take part. A boat carrying the Naval Reserve and a fleet of steam yachts will accompany the fleet.

The start will be made on the first of the ebb tide. The fleet will move up the lower Bay at the rate of six miles an hour to the upper Bay. As it rounds Bedloe's Island the guns on Governor's Island will fire a salute.

The line of parade will then be up the North River to the foot of 125th street, where the parade will disband.

The fleet will parade a distance of twelve miles. Boats will be on hand to convey sightseers out to the parade, and owners of high buildings, commanding a view of the river are already putting a premium on their roofs.

If possible, several boats will be devoted to the use of the poor children of this city, giving them a view of the parade free of charge.

It is certain that the cruiser Philadelphia, the monitor Miantonomah, the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, the torpedo boat Cushing, and the navy tug Narkeeta will be in line. The Alanta also may be ready in time.

In the afternoon the athletes will have a chance at the athletic festival at the Manhattan Field. At the 7th Regiment armory another grand musical performance is to take place. Six thousand members of the United German-American Singing Societies will give a festival. President Harrison, ex-President Cleveland, Gov. Flower and Mayor Grant, in all probability, will be present. An elaborate programme has been arranged.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Twenty-five thousand Roman Catholics will also parade, in charge of Father Keefe and Victor Dowling. Archbishop Corrigan, in company with other distinguished prelates, will review the parade as it passes the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum at Fifty-first street and Fifth avenue. Some of the bodies in line will be the Society of the Holy Name, 8,000 strong, Catholic Benevolent Legion, 6,000; Young Men's Catholic Society, 3,500; Catholic Knights of America, 2,500; Catholic Mutual Benefit Society, 1,500; St. Vincent de Paul, 5,000.

Wednesday will be the biggest day of the whole celebration. The day will be ushered in at sunrise by salvos of artillery from several points and ringing of bells in the churches of the city. The chimes at old Trinity will give a special programme of patriotic airs. At the same time the Stars and Stripes will be hoisted with appropriate ceremonies at the Battery and from the old fort in Central Park, near 110th street. Thousands of American flags will be unfurled at the same time all over the city by private persons.

At 10 o'clock the monster military parade, the largest ever given in this city will begin the line of march.

Practically all the military of every kind in the neighborhood will participate, also all the uniformed civic societies and other organizations. More than 100,000 men will be in line. The headquarters will be at the New York Hotel.

The line of march is to be a long one. The various organizations will assemble at the Battery and march thence to Broadway, to Fourth street, to West street, to and around Washington square, to Fifth avenue, to Fourteenth street, to Fourth avenue, to Seventeenth street, to Fifth avenue, to Fifty-ninth street, where the parade will disband.

In its formation and progress the parade will follow the plan adopted for the Washington Centennial parade in this city in 1889. The 1st and 2d Brigades, N. G. S. N. Y., as well as United States regulars and militia from neighboring States, will be in line, in addition to many civil organizations from all parts of the country.

Immediately at the conclusion of the parade will come the dedication ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the Columbus monument at Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street.

The ceremonies will commence at 3:30 in the afternoon. No definite programme has been decided upon as yet.

The monument has arrived and is now being put in place. The corner stone of the pedestal has been laid and work is progressing rapidly.

At night comes the grand pageant over the same line of march as the military parade.

The pageant is modelled after the Mardi Gras exhibitions in New Orleans, but will be finer than any ever seen there or anywhere. The preparations are in charge of Capt. Thompson, who has had charge of the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Every one in line will be in costume. A platoon of gayly-dressed heralds will be followed by twenty allegorical floats, which have been making for seven weeks, and are to cost $25,000.

They will be the feature of the pageant. Following is the order and name of each float: 1. Fame; 2. Prehistoric Rock Dwellers; 3. Toltec Sun Worshippers; 4. Homage to Columbus; 5. The Santa Maris; 6. Car of Liberty; 7. The Capitol at Washington; 8. The Press; 9. Poetry and Romance; 10. Music; 11. Science; 12. Wealth and Commerce; 13. Supremacy of the American Woman; 14. The United Oceans; 15. Columbus's Car of State; 16. Car of Electra.

The other four floats have not been decided upon as yet.

Following will come the various orders of Red Men in this city and vicinity, in costume. All the riding academies will participate on horseback. Their members will be in costume typical of various centuries. One cavalcade will represent the times of Ferdinand and Isabella.

Six military bands, in charge of Cappa, will have the principal position in the line of march. Sandwiched in between them will be a score of civic bands.

All the floats will be illuminated with electric torches. They will be drawn by horses—from ten to twenty attached to each float. At the same time the grand illumination of the Brooklyn Bridge will be progressing. The plan as now proposed is to have two tons of colored fire burned on each of the bridge towers, changing from red, green and amber, to blue. Flashes of crimson fire will alternate between each, making in all a series of fifteen illuminatives.

Thursday evening comes the banquet at the Lenox Lyceum, at which 1,250 will sit down; 200 will be the city's guests; the remainder will pay $20 each for the privilege.

The task of decorating the city fittingly is already assuming gigantic proportions.

Property owners along the line of march have been requested to decorate their buildings.

Forty thousand fairy lamps have been purchased for illuminating purposes.

Extraordinary arrangements have been making for the past month to accommodate the huge crowds which will flock to this city for the week of the celebration. Nearly every hotel keeper in the city has promised the committee not to raise his rates for the celebration.

For the visiting militia other arrangements have been made.

Quarters will be provided for 6,000 in the various regimental armories.

Confessed to Embezzlement.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—C. J. Seldenridge, aged 28 years, clerk in the freight office of the Reading railroad at Front and Willow streets, is under arrest on a charge of embezzling between $1,000 and $3,000. He confessed and is locked in jail in default of $2,000.

Two Men Lost from a Schooner.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 3.—Schooner Lawrence A. Mourot, from Grand Banks, lost Charles Austin and Angus O'Hanley, members of her crew. The former leaves a wife and six children in this city. Both were natives of British provinces.

SHERIFF M'CORMICK'S DEAD SHOT.

He and a Posse Came Upon the Desperado and a Companion, and a Desperate Battle Ensued—Cooley's Partner Managed to Make His Escape.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 3.—There is much rejoicing in this vicinity over the end of Frank Cooley, the leader of the notorious Cooley gang, who was shot and killed yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at the home of his father, "Lake" Cooley, between Fairchance and Smithfield.

The authorities some time ago decided that their frequent raids into the mountains would never capture the gang and they changed their tactics. George Fisher, a United States Secret Service detective from Hagerstown, Md., Frank Fegg of Uniontown, Policeman Hartley of Fairchance and others have been quietly lying about the neighborhood for the past three weeks. They observed that the gang came down from their mountain retreat to old man Cooley's every Sunday for three Sundays and amused themselves playing cards and drinking.

The Sheriff concluded that they would do this again yesterday and prepared to make a capture. Early in the morning Sheriff McCormick and a few deputies from here slipped out quietly to Fairchance before daylight to avoid the spies of the gang and joined the watchers in the field. Frank Cooley and Jack Ramsey, the two most daring of the gang, came riding down to the Cooley house about noon and in the afternoon went back of the house into a field which had been lately cleared of timber and was full of stumps.

When the sheriff's party came down on them, Ramsey and Cooley were both half lying and half sitting against stumps with their Winchesters beside them. Sheriff McCormick was in advance, and while some distance off Cooley spied him. He and Ramsey fired five times at the sheriff without getting up, but all their bullets missed him. The sheriff had meanwhile taken refuge behind a tree, and from this place fired the ball that pierced Cooley's heart as he lay against the stump, killing him instantly.

A number of shots were fired at the outlaws by other members of the sheriff's posse. Ramsey started off on a run as soon as he saw his chief was killed, with some of the sheriff's party at his heels, racing after him and firing as he ran, but he got away.

Coroner Holbert of Fairchance was summoned, and held an inquest on the body of the dead outlaw, and he now lies at the home of his father. The greatest excitement prevails in the southern end of the county, and a feeling of relief is felt over the death of the outlaw leader.

Public Debt and Treasury Statement for the Month of September.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The statement of the condition of the Public Debt and Treasury on the 30th of September shows a decrease during the month in the former, $708,255.50, and an increase of cash in the latter of $3,743,573.66, a net decrease of debt of $3,451,829.16.

There was an increase of $90 in the interest bearing debt; a decrease of $26,260 in the debt on which interest has ceased; and a decrease of $681,752.50 in the debt bearing no interest.

The totals of these classes of indebtedness on the 30th of September were: 4 1-2 per cent. bonds continued at 2 per cent., $25,864,500; 4 per cent. bonds, $559,586,750; refunding certificates, $79,720; aggregate interest-bearing debt, $585,031,170. Other items were: Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $2,510,145.26; debt bearing no interest, $378,976,848.87; total debt $966,518,164.13.

The cash balance in the Treasury exclusive of the $100,000,000 gold reserve was $31,895,918.34. Of this amount $16,275,538.61 was on deposit in National Banks to the credit of disbursing officers and on general account.

Coin in the Treasury consists of $240,605,908.50, against which certificates amounting to $146,535,989 had been issued and $454,725,782.31 silver, with $329,469,304 certificates outstanding against it.

The statement of receipts and disbursements show that the cholera quarantine did not affect customs receipts as was feared it would.

Expenditures last month were $28,917,798.74, against $23,934,801.19 a year ago. Pensions were chargeable with the great bulk of the increase, being $12,654,367.13.

ANOTHER FALL RIVER MURDER.

John Kennedy Stabbed to Death by His Brother-in-Law.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 3. — John Kennedy of this city was murdered in Anawan street yesterday afternoon by his brother-in-law, Maurice Kennelly, who lives with him. Both men had been drinking. Shortly before the killing they talked together in the kitchen when some sharp words passed between them, and Kennedy ordered his brother-in-law to pack his trunk and leave the house at once.

Kennelly went into the street, then threw a half pint bottle through a pane of glass into the room where Kennedy was sitting. The latter ran to the door and Kennelly dared him to come out, threatening to run a knife into him.

Kennedy went up to him in the middle of the street, whereupon Kennelly struck him. The men clinched, and Kennelly got Kennedy's head under his arm, drew his pocket knife, and plunged it to the hilt into Kennedy's abdomen just below the stomach. The wounded man died in a few minutes. Kennelly was soon captured. Both men were hard drinkers.

At the police station Kennelly admitted having committed the crime, and says he did it in self-defense.

They started out Saturday morning to gather chestnuts and up to this morning have not been found. They went in a northerly direction and entered the woods several miles from this city.

Searching parties were out all day. The lads were barefooted and coatless and must have suffered terribly from the cold. It is reported that they were seen near Warrensville, nine miles from the city. The search is being continued today.

ROYALTY ON THE RACK

Sensational Suit to be Tried Soon in the Berlin Courts.

DUKE CHARLES' NAME SMIRCHED.

Death of Ernests Renan at Paris—His Great History of Israel Incomplete—Cholera Reports from Various Sources—Other News by Cable.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—A suit which involves no less a person than Her Majesty the Empress Augusta Victoria and her near relatives of Slesvig-Glucksbourg will be called in the common law courts within a few days.

The late Emperor William, after taking possession of Slesvig-Holstein in 1866, tried his utmost to befriend the deposed dynasty. In this spirit he sanctioned the marriage of his grandson, the present Kaiser William, with the poverty stricken Princess of Augustenbourg, reviled by Bismarck's agents at one time as the "Countess Pretender" of Slesvig, and that of Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia to her sister. He did more. He distributed the castles and crown estates of the Holstein family among its various homeless members, and thus put them on their feet again.

They are all comfortably well fixed at the present time. Among the castles Emperor William gave away was the Glucksbourg Schloss, which he turned over to Duke Charles of Slesvig, husband of Duchess Wilhelmine, the daughter of the late Prelate VI. of Denmarck. Both the Duke and Duchess are dead, and the present incumbent of the title and heir of the estates has, up to a few weeks ago, considered himself the undisputed proprietor of Schloss Glucksbourg. Then the spectes of a secret scandal was flashed before his eyes by the letter of a lady belonging to the highest nobility in the country, who showed him deeds and other legal instruments to prove that her daughter is the child of the late Duke Charles, who, she claims, left her all his personal property and selected Schloss Glucksbourg for her residence.

Duke Frederick Ferdinand who, like the rest of the family, always considered his late uncle Charles a model of propriety, refuses to believe the lady's statements, and says the documents are not sufficient legal evidence. The lady, therefore, appealed to the Kaiser, who, however, refused to interfere in family affairs. All hopes of an amicable arrangement being abandoned, the case will now be tried in the open courts, and a good deal of dirty linen will be washed on that occasion.

ORDERED TO NEW YORK.

Several Thousand of the Regular Army to Take Part in the Celebration.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—An order has been issued at the War Department directing General Howard, commanding the Department of the East, to concentrate troops in New York City on the 12th instant to participate in the Columbus celebration there on that date. Troops will be sent from Fort Porter, Fort Ontario, Plattsburg barracks, and all posts in New York harbor.

The Superintendent of the West Point Military Academy has been directed to send the Cadet Corps of the academy and a battalion of engineers. The four troops of the Seventh Cavalry stationed at Fort Myer, Va., were to have attended, but General Schofield decided to omit them on account of the unusual number of sick at this post. The troops ordered to New York will aggregate several thousand and will be a fair representation of the United States Army.

Will Support an Independent Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The committee appointed by the "anti-snapper" organization for the purpose of advising with the Democratic National Committee on the subject of independent local nominations, held a meeting last night. It was unanimously decided to go ahead with their original intention of supporting an independent ticket.

PILOTS ON U. S. SHIPS.

The Government Finally Determines to Make Use of Them.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—For eleven years the employment of pilots on government vessels has been forbidden and the responsibility of bringing war ships through difficult channels placed on commanders. The futility of this endeavor to save money has been shown repeatedly in the many accidents that have occurred to naval vessels through the ignorance of their commanders of harbors into which they sailed.

Groundings have been frequent and courts of inquiry and courts martial followed as a matter of course. The experiences of the Atlanta, the Concord, the Vesuvius, the tugs Nina and Fern and several others have shown the department that an ounce of preventive is worth a pound of cure, and so hereafter reliable pilots will take the places of naval officers on the bridges of naval vessels when entering ports with the channels of which the commanders are unacquainted.

DENIES THE ALLEGATIONS.

Story of Trouble Between Col. Sinn and His Wife Declared False.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 3.—A sensational story of the separation of Col. William E. Sinn and his wife, Cora Tanner, the popular actress, which appeared in a Brooklyn evening newspaper, has been denied.

Mrs. Tanner, the mother of Cora Tanner, is represented as saying that her daughter has been virtually separated from her husband since last June; that she was married to a man of advanced years, and that was one reason why they could not get along together; that Miss Tanner's failure of success was due to Col. Sinn's poor judgment in the selection of plays, and that a separation some time ago was pending, but was delayed when Mrs. Sinn would not, as a condition, sign a paper relinquishing all claims upon her husband's estate.

Mrs. Tanner said last evening that about nine-tenths of the published interview with her were willful falsehoods on the part of the reporter.

Col. Sinn said that the story was a lie from beginning to end, and intimated plainly that he would hold the Brooklyn newspaper that published it liable in the courts.

Manager Walter L. Sinn said last evening to a reporter that the story was absurdly false. The engagements made for this season for Cora Tanner, he said, were signed with the stipulation that in case "Husband and Wife" was not a great success the dates should be cancelled. The new play did not make a hit, and so the star did not take a company on the road.

THE NEW YORK APPORTIONMENT.

Court of Appeals to be Asked to Hear Arguments at Once.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 3.—The Court of Appeals resumes its session to-day, and immediately upon its reconvening Attorney-General Rosendale will ask the court to at once allow the arguing of the case of the people ex rel. Carter vs. Frank Rice as Secretary of State, or as it is better known, the apportionment case.

The case was argued at Saratoga, and the General Term decided in favor of the apportionment, but Mr. Rosendale wants it settled beyond all doubt. He will ask that the case be heard at once because of the importance of the question and the short time to intervene between this date and the time for the nominations and election.

Mr. William A. Sutherland will probably appear for the appellants and Mr. Rosendale for the State. If the Monroe county case is also up at the same time the one argument will serve for the two cases.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

SUES FOR A BIG ESTATE.

A BROOKLYN MAN AT LAW AGAINST A PLAINFIELD FAMILY.

COVETS A DEAD MAN'S WEALTH.

W. S. Hurley Discovers Facts That Convince Him His Father's Fortune Was Concealed—Forgery and Fraud Alleged by Which Hurley Says Houses and Lands, Cemetery Lots and Several Mines Were Kept From His Mother.

The Miles family of Somerset street at the foot of the mountain are concerned in an important lawsuit now pending in New York city.

The litigation was begun by William Samuel Hurley, a Wallabout Market flour merchant, of Brooklyn, who sues his uncle, William Miles, uncle of Frank W. the flourist, to recover property valued at $350,000 which, he says, belonged to his father, Samuel Hurley, who died about thirty years ago. Hurley's mother is still living in Duffield street, Brooklyn, and during the years of her widowhood has struggled to bring up a family of three children while money which she now thinks belongs to her has been used by other persons.

In his suit young Hurley reserves the the right to increase the amount of $350,000 in case that more property than has yet been discovered is found in the possession of his uncle. The case will be called in the Supreme Court, New York city, this week, when a day will be set for the trial. Eminent counsel has been secured on both sides, and some interesting developments may be looked for.

DISCOVERED BY ACCIDENT.

Young Hurley made his alleged discovery that this valuable property had been fraudulently withheld from his mother and her children by accident. John Kerwin, a produce commission merchant of 99 North Fifth street, Williamsburg, thought he would buy some property in North Fourth street, near Berry street. The buildings were dilapidated and were tenanted by Italians, Poles and Hungarians. He made some inquiries and found that the tenants paid no rent and had no landlord. He finally found that the property was owned by William Miles. Mr. Kerwin called on Mr. Miles and made him an offer. Mr. Miles said he did not wish to sell, but would give him a long lease. Several offers were made, but they were all refused, and on one occasion it is alleged that Mr. Miles said that the property was in the name of poor relatives named Hurley, and that he could not sell without creating bad feeling.

Mr. Kerwin was still anxious to buy, and he hunted up Mrs. Hurley in Duffield street. Mrs. Hurley said that Wm. Miles was her brother-in-law, and told Mr. Kerwin that she had never heard of the Williamsburg property. Her husband had kept his business to himself. She said that her husband and William and Jacob Miles, father of Frank W., had been in the tannery business until 1861, and the concern was regarded as wealthy. When her husband died it was said that he had met with business reverses and she received only $13,000 as her share of the estate.

YOUNG HURLEY INVESTIGATES.

When young Hurley heard the story he called on Mr. Miles, who, it is said, admitted that the property in question had belonged to his father. Then Mr. Hurley began an investigation on his own account and discovered that in the firm's prosperous days $100,000 had been taken out and invested in real estate. He also found, he says, that just before his father's death in 1863 there was a row over a settlement among the members of the firm, and Mr. Hurley would not accept the terms offered by William and Jacob Miles. Samuel Hurley left a will, in which he named the Miles brothers and a Mr. Wells as executors. The latter never qualified.

Another visit was made to Mr. Miles by young Hurley when he had these facts in his possession and he says that his uncle offered to settle for $40,000. Mr. Miles, it is said, showed him a contract signed by Samuel Hurley in 1861 by the terms of which Hurley has conveyed all his interest in the business to the Miles brothers for $13,000, the sum which Mrs. Hurley had received after her husband's death. Hurley agreed to settle with his uncle for $40,000, and after getting possession of the contract took $1,000 on account. Hurley still has the contract, it is said, and will keep it, as it will play an important part in the trial. He will summon a number of experts to prove that his father's signature is a forgery. Hurley has also the papers and securities in the $40,000 settlement. Mr. Hurley believes that his father's will is also a forgery, as he was in a dying condition and unable to make a will when the one recorded as his was executed.

Young Hurley has found much valuable property in New York, as well as several mines and about four thousand lots in Cypress Hills cemetery, all of which are now held by his uncle, who claims a share in all this property, and has made Jacob Miles, of North Plainfield, a party to the suit.

William Miles refused to discuss the suit when seen at his house. He is eighty years old and a Welshman, having been for many years president of the St. David's Society. He is a director in the Hamilton Insurance company and was president of the Six Penny Savings bank at the time of its collapse.

At the home of Jacob and Frank, on Somerset street, it was stated that there were two sides to the story, and that the defendants would be able to put in an adequate defense and win their case when it came to trial. The Miles are confident that they can disprove all of Hurley's charges.

—A meeting for the organization of the New Jersey State division of the American League of Amateur Photographers, will be held at the rooms of the Newark Camera club, Friday evening at 7:30. The members of the Plainfield club are invited through their president, Oscar S. Teale, to be present and assist in the organization.

THEIR NEW CHURCH OPENED.

Great Crowds Attend the Meetings of a Denomination Whose Creed Is Simple and Whose Only Book of Discipline Is the New Testament.

The new chapel of the First Church of Christ was opened yesterday under imposing ceremonies. All the beauties of a lovely Sabbath dawned upon the land, bringing with it joy and gladness to the hearts of the members of the church. Many prayers had been offered that just such a day should be granted.

The chapel, under the skillful hands of the women of the church, had been profusely adorned with flowers. The pulpit was decorated with long trailing vines that met each other in the centre, making a complete drapery. Large and beautiful bouquets of flowers were arranged around the platform. Many floral emblems were presented by friends of the church, and willing hands placed them in position with artistic effect.

The morning exercises were begun at the appointed hour. Elders Hand and Shultize of the home church and elders Stewart and Heney of the First Church of Christ of Brooklyn, were on the platform. Elder Shultize invoked the blessing of God on the exercises and announced the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name". All joined heartily in the singing, after which elder Hand read from the 33rd Psalm and 8th chapter of Matthew. After prayer, elder Stewart was introduced. He spoke in a clear firm manner and in a few words pointed out the difference of Christianity from reformation. After singing, Brother Heney was introduced. He spoke in glowing terms of Him who had so graciously called him while he was yet a sinner. He spoke of pride in our churches as not in accordance with Christian graces. He did not like respect of persons, but would rather that all should be one in Christ Jesus. His voice trembled as he spoke of his ardent love for all those who had obeyed from the heart the form of doctrine that had been delivered to the disciples. His theme was Christian fellowship and Christian union.

Elder Hand spoke briefly of the workings of God toward them as a church, and acknowledge His hand in all that had been accomplished. "Surely"—he said—"God is for us, and if He be for us who can be against us!"

Elder Hand announced the indebtedness of the church to be about $2,600.

A call for help was given, which resulted in a gift from the friends of the church of $196.15.

Many others expressed their intention of helping remove the debt.

After this service the Lord's Supper was observed, elder Stewart presiding.

The afternoon session was held under the charge of the Sunday-school superintendent Hand, who seemed overjoyed at the progress of the school. There were singing and speaking, responsive readings, by the school, and addreses by E. D. Boice, formerly superintendent of the South Plainfield Baptist Sunday-school, and by superintendent Hand. These all made the session one long to be remembered.

The evening service was announced for 7:30, but long before the hour arrived the chapel was filled to overflowing. Many were compelled to stand while others found seats on the platform. Every available place was occupied, and many who were anxious to hear crowded around the door until the line reached almost to the sidewalk. Camp chairs and benches were brought into use, to make comfortable the many friends, but scores were compelled to go away.

Elder Hand asked all to join in singing "How Firm a Foundation, Ye Saints of the Lord". The Scripture lesson was read from Matthew, 16th chapter, after which the Rev. J. B. Cleaver offered prayer. All joined again in singing "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story", and elder Hand with a few appropriate remarks introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr Cleaver, former pastor and founder of the First Church of Christ in Plainfield. Mr. Cleaver expressed his joy and delight in seeing in Plainfield so pretty a chapel in which the people of Plainfield of all classes could worship in accordance with the New Testament Scriptures. He spoke at length on Paul's trust in Jesus—"I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed to Him".

He said the Christians' creed was the creed of all Christendom—I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God. This is the creed of the First Church of Christ of Plainfield, the shortest and yet the most complete and satisfactory, as it needed no revision. He declared the book of discipline to be the longest and most stringent, as it embraced the entire New Testament.

After the sermon the rite of Christian baptism was administered to six who expressed their belief in Christ and who desired to follow and obey Him. Four of the candidates were from the Bound Brook Dutch Reformed church, where Mr. Cleaver is now preaching.

Many more of this church are persuaded that Christ must rule and reign in them and that to put on Christ is to be buried with him in baptism. Many from Bound Brook were present to witness the solemn ordinance, and expressed the opinion that many more would soon follow. The brethren believe that God's blessings are evidenced in the growth of this band of believers whose lives and lips express the Gospel they profess.

The church is at present presided over by elder Hand, whose exhortations are profitable and interesting to those who would hear God's word in truth and simplicity. Elder Hand announced meetings to be held in the homes of the members each night in the week except Wednesday and Friday evening, when meetings will be held in the chapel. A cordial invitation was extended to all to join in worship at the new church, and a meeting where the presence of God was felt was brought to a close.

—The educational classes of the Y. M. C. A. will be organized Monday evening, the 10th inst.

SCANDALIZED CLERGYMEN.

Somerville's Pastors on a Crusade Against Shocking Spectacular Stage-Performances.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 3.—The May Davenport Burlesque company played here Saturday night to a crowded house, the result of an effort on the part of the ministers to suppress the performance. The board of commissioners, who had been appealed to, had no right to prevent the curtain rising; so the chief of police, in company with an officer, sat through the performance to see that nothing vulgar or indecent was said or done.

When the show was billed, a week ago, the Rev. Wm. M. Trumbower went to the shop-keepers on the main street and insisted that they take the gaudy pictures of women in tights out of their windows, and this was done. The climax was reached Saturday, when the troupe arrived in town.

The advertising agent scattered small handbills all over the streets, telling suggestively what might be expected at the "show of voluptious beauties", and closing with an earnest appeal for the boys to "come and see the fun".

These handbills especially aroused the clergy. Mr. Trumbower enlisted the Rev. J. P. Searle, and together they went to the office of counselor James J. Bergen, ex-speaker of the Assembly, and sought his influential aid. These three, in company with the chief of police, held a council of war, with the result as stated above.

Mr. Messler, the manager of the hall told the members of the May Davenport company that nothing objectionable would be allowed; if they did do anything of the sort, the show would be stopped at once, as he was held responsible for the respectability of all performances in his play-house.

As a result, the show was cut all to pieces, even the skirt dancing being left out. When the curtain rose, baldheads gleamed for three rows back, but all were disappointed, as nothing even suggesting what they had expected was forthcoming. A little singing and knock-about work by a half-dozen fourth-rate Coney Island concert-hall people was the whole show. No undraped tights were allowed. No one was satisfied except the people on the stage, who had nothing to do.

BANNER-RAISING IN THE BOROUGH.

Republicans Burn Red Fire in Honor of Harrison and Reid.

Spencer's hall was a blaze of light, Saturday evening when the borough Republicans had a pleasant time stretching their banner across the street in front of the Grant club headquarters. The band played lively airs and drew a crowd, who enjoyed the pretty sight of colored electric lights, red fire, and Roman-candle discharges, which illuminated the banner as it was unfurled along its cable. Judge Ulrich addressed the crowd from the roof of Col. Spencer's piazza, and Mr. Spencer smiled complacently from the same height and waved the folds of a big American flag. When the fireworks were exhausted the band led the crowd to Saengerbund hall, where ex-Mayor Place presided over an audience composed of voters of both parties and a great assortment of children. There was a long list of vice-presidents, only a few of whom were present to sit on the platform. A stump-speaker named James McGee of Illinois held forth on Republican doctrines till everybody got tired. At the banner-raising itself there were mingled cheers and hisses. The U. S. Grant club fathered the affair, and did itself as much credit as possible under the circumstance.

FAST PACE BY BOY RUNNERS.

The High School Hares Too Fleet for Their Pack of Hounds.

The hares who led the hare-and-hounds chase of the High School Athletic association, Saturday afternoon, reported at THE PRESS office at 7 p. m.

They left the High School building at 2, and made a circuit by way of New Brunswick to Bound Brook, in all about twenty-two miles, taking the train from Bound Brook home. They had seen nothing of the hounds since the start, in spite of the liberal trail of bits of paper left behind for the hounds to scent them by.

An Opportunity for the Ladies to See a Champion.

The champion of the world, James J Corbett, assisted by his own dramatic company, will appear at Music Hall tomorrow evening. Since Mr. Corbett's grand victory at New Orleans, and while training at Loch Arbour, he has devoted considerable of his time preparing himself for the stage, and under the management of William A. Brady, he will be seen in Charles T. Vincent's comedy drama, "Gentleman Jack". The play is said to be well written and will afford Mr. Corbett a great opportunity to show his ability as an actor as well as a pugilist.

Thirty-six delegates were present, representing twelve Young Men's societies. The Catholic Young Men's Lyceum of this city was represented by M. J. Winn, J. C. Traynor and John J. Lynch, who is also treasurer of the union, having been elected at the previous meeting held in Jersey City.

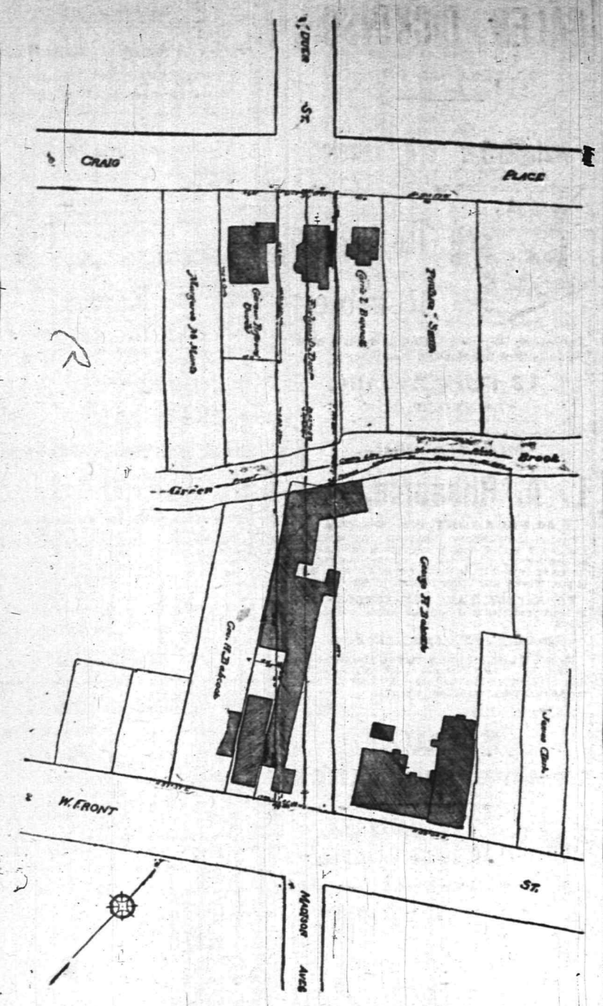
If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 8-16-y



THE PROPOSED EXTENSION OF MADISON AVENUE.

THE PRESS to-day presents a correct map of the proposed Madison avenue extension, showing just what property the new street is to go through. This connecting link between Duer street and the present terminus of Madison ave. will open up a fine thoroughfare, a valuable artery between city and borough. The property along the new street and at its Front street corners will be wonderfully developed, fine stores and residences being already planned. The credit for this great public improvement is due to George H. Babcock and William M. Stillman. The project will be furthered at the October session of the common council to-night.

A FLAG FROM THE WOMEN.

It Will Be a Gift to the War-Prisoners' Association.

As has already been noted in these columns, the sixth annual reunion of the New Jersey Association of Union ex-Prisoners of War will, by special invitation of Garfield Loyal Ladies' League, be held in Plainfield, Thursday, Oct. 13, at 10:30 a. m., in Reform Hall, corner of Central avenue and West Second street. All members of the association are earnestly requested to be present and bring recruits with them. The reunions are full of interest, and are becoming more so every year. The wives and feminine friends of Union ex-prisoners of war are cordially invited to meet with the association to cheer the members with their presence. Ample provision for the reunion has been provided by Garfield Loyal Ladies' League No. 22. A feature of the reunion will be a flag presentation by the women to the association.

Don't Miss This, This Evening.

"Telephonia" is the name of the play to be given at Music Hall this evening. It is an extravaganza of considerable merit. There are 30 members in the company, which gives opportunity to show some handsome costumes and also to introduce a number of catchy songs and funny sayings. The first act is laid in Italy, the second in Palos, Spain, and the third at Coney Island. Miss Cora Pryor, who appears as Telephonia, is quite handsome and has an excellent voice, and she knows how to use it. James Callan, an old favorite, and Billy Williams, together with Raymond Hitchcock, each add no little to the interest. Then Miss Kate Zanfrette and Miss Mabel Clark, dance, and oh, how they can dance—Miss Clark especially, being one of the best seen here in some time. A number of marches are introduced and some very pretty movements are executed. The scenery, and there seems to be plenty of it, is pretty, and altogether a very pleasant evening can be spent by taking in "Telephonia".

$13 Apiece for the Players.

The base-ball benefit game, Saturday, was not liberally attended, but a large number of tickets had been sold, and the players' profit was $13 apiece. The boys were in for a good time, and nobody cared who won. The Crescent club made 6 runs, and the Patersons made 2.

Wanted to Fight the Counselor.

Counselor Reed has appealed the case of Peck vs. Fleming, which was tried before justice Crosley and a jury of 12 a few days ago. Julia Peck sued John Fleming for $150 back rent. Fleming refused to pay because he said the house was untenantable. Mrs. Peck proved that she had made all repairs demanded by Fleming. The jury stood 8 to 4 in favor of the full amount of the claim. The four stood out for no damages, and a compromise verdict of $50 and costs was awarded. Chas. A. Reed represented the defendant, and Wm. M. Stillman the plaintiff. One of the witnesses, a Cranford giant, fancied that Mr. Reed insulted him during cross-examination, and wanted to fight the counselor. He was restrained and pacified by Mr. Stillman, who acted as peace-maker.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

GOOD NEWS FOR WINTER!

It Seems as Though John Kean's Family and the Rest of the Coal Combiners Were Forming a Corner for Another Advance in Price.

Track No. 4, which is the extreme right hand track going west, is blocked between Plainfield and Dunellen, and freight and coal trains are switched over the main line. The cause of the block is that the the track is being used for the storage of coal in cars. About 4,000 tons are laid-up along the strip of track spoken of.

The coal is consigned to the Port Johnson (Bergen Point) yards, but they are full as is also every siding and all other storage points along the road from Easton to New York. Thousands and thousands of tons of coal are now stored in this way, yet the dealers are told that the supply is so short that the company can take no orders for delivery in October.

It looks as though John Kean's family and the other railroad stockholders in the deal, contemplate a corner and another consequent advance in the price of coal.

Missionary Brown Addressed Them.

The closing sessions of the Y. M. C. A. convention, held yesterday in Perth Amboy, were full of interest to the Plainfield delegation. The day's services were opened with a consecration meeting at 9 a. m. In the men's meeting at 4 p. m. Fred. E. Taylor, assistant pastor of the Peddie Memorial church, Newark, gave his well-known "Bottle Talk". At the same hour the boys met in the association rooms and were addressed by A. D. French of Montclair. At this meeting fifteen boys raised their hands for prayers, and five conversions were reported.

The meeting for women was addressed by Mr. Drake of Newark.

In the evening, platform meetings were held in the different churches and several most excellent addresses were dellvered. A. D. French of Montclair and John R. Morse of Rahway spoke in the Presbyterian church. Arthur Lucas of Jersey City and W. E. Compton of New Brunswick occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church.

The farewell meeting was held in the Methodist church in the presence of a very large audience. Addresses were delivered by the Hon. Elkanah Drake of Newark, secretary D. F. More and Charles B. Brown of Plainfield. The delegates then joined hands and sang "Blest be the tie that binds". Thus closed one of the best district conventions ever held by the Y. M. C. A. in this State.

Good-Bye Reception.

A parting reception was given by the Oriental court of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., to Charles A. Coey, last Thursday evening, after the regular meeting of the council. Refreshments were served, and a pleasant time was had by all. After the reception John A. Kriney was initiated into the mysteries of the court. Mr. Coey leaves to-day for Rockford, Wash., where he will remain indefinitely, to the regret of the Plainfield members.

Bourke Cockran on the Force Bill.

What is this election bill? Stripped of all its verbiage it is this: That the United States are to appoint in each state a general supervisor of election; that the supervisor has complete control over congressional elections in every district of the state. He can employ as many deputies as he chooses. He can search the houses before election to see if there are any fraudulent voters there concealed. But the real danger in this measure lies in the clause which provides that after each election these federal officers would certify the return of the members elected to the house of representatives. It doesn't matter who gets the votes. It doesn't matter who has five or six or ten thousand majority. The federal supervisor fixes the identity of the individual who attends before the speaker's desk to be sworn in on the day when congress organizes.

You may say that perhaps the Republican party will be honest in the exercise of this power. Well, gentlemen, I do not believe that there ever yet has been given to any man or set of men a power to oppress his fellow citizens for his own benefit that the power has not been exercised, and if you give the Republican party power to perpetuate its own control in the house of representatives there is nothing in its history to show that it would exercise that power in a spirit of moderation. Look at the history of the Fifty-first congress to ascertain just how this power would be exercised.

I am reminded of the experience of an English gentleman traveling through France during the empire. He was in a first class compartment and had with him a French official who had several registers and a large urn. The Englishman inquired what they were for, and he said the registers were a list of the voters, the urn was to receive the ballots. He also had a large bag with him, and on being interrogated as to what its use was replied, "Oh, that is the majority."

That is the force bill in brief, just as it would be in brief here. Its result would be the emasculation of representative government; it would be the destruction of representative government.

The State Bank Tax.

The project of repealing the present prohibitory tax of 10 per cent. on the issue of state banks is a very hopeful movement in favor of a most welcome change in the financial condition of the country. There need be no fear of any toleration of a depreciated bank note circulation should this restriction be removed. There is not a state in the Union which would authorize or allow it, and if it were attempted anywhere the facilities for collection are now so great that it would be crushed out at once. The best features of the former statutes would be preserved in new state legislation, and the natural law of supply and demand would govern all the rest of the needed restrictions.

The tax which it is proposed to repeal is in itself unconstitutional. It is not levied for revenue, but for prohibition, and the fundamental law nowhere gives to the federal congress the right to suppress by its action the issue of the state banks. There would follow from its repeal the most perfect currency for business purposes the world has ever known. Flexible in its character, redeemable at all central points, and thus always at par throughout every portion of the country, and meeting the needs of the hour in its answer to every legitimate demand, it would prevent pressures and stringency in the money market, and injure no one but the greedy speculator who makes his cent per cent in a financial crisis.—David M. Stone, Editor of New York Journal of Commerce, in Forum.

More Republican Misinformation.

Ex-Congressman William E. Mason, of Chicago, now stumping the country under the auspices of the Republican national committee, says in one of his speeches:

"Before the McKinley bill became a law we had four factories making macaroni. Now there are over twenty."

But John F. Scanlan, also of Chicago, made the following statement before McKinley's ways and means committee in 1890:

"There are some fifty-eight factories in this country, located at New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Braidwood, New Orleans, Denver, San Jose, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland."

As Scanlan presented the "prayer and petition" of these fifty-eight manufacturers, he must be right. Mason ought to be coached or called in.

Labor Not Humbugged.

The Knights of Labor in Brooklyn have not been deceived by the cry of protection to labor. A local union in that city has sent the following circular to other assemblies in that city and in New York:

DEAR SIR—The attention of your organization is called to the fact that the most important political issue ever presented to American wage earners is the tariff question. Local assembly 7,612, Knights of Labor, holds that a protective tariff robs the many for the benefit of the few; that it lowers wages and deprives men of employment, and that it is a deadly foe to organized labor.

This assembly offers a cash prize of twenty-five dollars to any Knight of Labor or trades unionist who can prove the contrary, and requests a conference with your organization to arrange for a debate upon the foregoing proposition.

JAMES B. CONNELL, Master Workman.

During the fifteen years of the low tariff era—from 1846 to 1860—there were but seventy-four strikes reported in an official way. During the fifteen years from 1878 to 1892 there have been over 6,000 strikes, involving a very large proportion of the entire body of workingmen in the United States.—Albany Argus.

The farmer, as Senator Allison has said, "has practically no protection at all." And that is the bald reason why the farmer should not vote the protectionists' ticket.—Harrisburg Patriot.

The Force Bill and a Dictatorship.

Republican special pleaders seek in vain to minimize the force bill issue, knowing how it has aroused an irresistible mass of patriotic sentiment in the north as well as in the south. Now and then one is found to declare frankly the real attitude of the party as sufficiently declared in the abhorrent measure known as the Lodge bill. A few days ago the Hon. Frederick Douglass made this remarkable statement:

"I believe that this is to be ultimately a composite nation. There is nothing else in store for us. It is almost certain to come. I am inclined to think that there will eventually come in this country a dictatorship. There is a growing demand for a strong government that will be able to protect all its citizens—rich and poor, black and white—alike."

The distinguished negro politician here evinces a candor which is warmly commended to every Republican special pleader or spellbinder who is in accord with his party on the subject. It is indeed certain that a dictatorship would be the natural and logical issue of the force bill if the patriotic people of this country were to permit this initial attempt at coercing their political action and strangling the liberties of every sovereign state.

Happily there is little fear that such a contingency will be brought about. "Forewarned is forearmed," and the people have been most thoroughly advised of their peril by an honest and courageous Democratic press. It need not be doubted that they will in November return a verdict against the party which aims at placing ignorance on top of intelligence in the southern states of this Union and eventually establishing a dictatorship at Washington.

McKinley Gives Himself Away.

The best embodiment of the sham and insincerity of the Republicanism of the present day is to be found in the person of its chief apostle, Major McKinley. The champion of high protection goes about the country repeating the stale humbug that "the foreigner pays the tariff tax." Yet the champion is seldom able to convince anybody that he believes his own words, for he nearly always blurts out some fatal admission which shows that he has not deceived himself at least.

Thus, in speaking at Woodside Island park, Ohio, he gave the following description of three of the tariff bills passed at the recent session of congress:

"One was to put wool on the free list, which means free from the sheep's back, but tariff when it goes on the people's backs; another was hoop iron free for the cotton planter, but hoop iron tariffed for all the rest of mankind; the third is cotton bagging free for cotton states, but tariffed for all other states."

But if "the foreigner pays the tax" how can the tariff on woolen goods be a burden to the people? "Tariff when it goes on the people's backs" can have but one meaning, and that is that the American consumer pays the tariff tax.

And if the foreigner has been paying the tax on cotton bagging, does not the removal of the duty merely relieve the foreigner instead of the southern planter? What hardship is involved in leaving "hoop iron tariffed for all the rest of mankind" if the foreigner is going to pay the duty in any case?

McKinley does not believe his own words.

Bayard on Harrison's Letter.

In a criticism of President Harrison's letter of acceptance ex-Secretary Thomas F. Bayard says:

There is not a burdensome tax upon productive industry which he proposes to lighten, nor the weight of which he desires to see more equally distributed. There is no obscurity or complexity in such cases that distress and embarrass importers and puzzle courts and counsel for which he proposes a remedy. To the amount of tax that reaches the public treasury he seems wholly indifferent, but the advantages and profits of protection to its special beneficiaries he dilates upon with rapture and prophesies their abundant increase.

The toiling farmer who produces the bulk of our exports, the great army of unprotected consumers, in whose increased cost of living the tariff and all other taxes are mingled, cannot find even one cold word of passing consideration and hopeful promise in this document of self and party congratulation and commendation.

Never did a paper more plainly and unconsciously to the writer tell the story of its origin, and that its author was only the advocate and representative of a combination of classes unjustly favored by law, who had advanced him to power for their own profit and naturally desired its continuance.

It Rises to Plague Them.

Republican organs which protested against the McKinley bill two years ago do not like to have their old files looked through just now. Yet the truth spoken then is now rising to plague the insincere supporters of McKinleyism. The following is from the St. Paul Pioneer Press of Sept. 18, 1890: "It is a misconception of the condition and the needs of the country on which the McKinley bill is founded. We can find, upon a careful review, no reason why the McKinley bill should become a law, and none why it should receive the support of Republican members of congress unless they belong to the school that believes in the entire prohibition of imports and the death of all commerce between nations. It is not an answer to the demand for tariff reduction and reform."

Wade's Fibre and Fabric, of Boston, an organ of weavers and spinners, says: "By cable, Sept. 3, we learn that great distress prevails among the 10,000 idle employees of the tin plate factories in Wales. However, what is their loss is the gain of some five or six of our millionaire iron masters. Stealing this business does not enrich this country; it only hastens the time when labor will turn and rend the coal and iron millionaires who are legally robbing the entire nation."

Here's Fat to Fry.

The Pittsburg Post refers to a published statement that the cost to the Carnegie company of making a ton of armor plate is only forty dollars, whereas the government pays this company the enormous price of $800 a ton for it, and adds:

But the profit on the armor plate contract is a mere bagatelle compared with what the steel rail trust makes in the aggregate under the $13.44 tariff tax on imported rails. This insures the trust a profit, according to the New York Mining and Engineering Journal, a competent trade authority, of not less than ten dollars a ton. The capacity of the Illinois Steel company is 1,200,000 tons a year and of the Carnegies 620,000 tons. Figure up the profits on this amount at ten dollars a ton—$18,200,000 in all—and you can see the way the McKinley law creates millionaires and pampers the plutocratic class. No wonder Mr. Frick, under oath, was so reticent about the cost of production.

The enormity of this abuse of the taxing power is that it puts into the hands of the political millionaires, and through them in the hands of unscrupulous party bosses, vast sums of money drained from the people by taxation to be used as it was in 1888 in corruptly determining elections of president. A million dollars from the steel trust would be a small contribution to help re-elect Harrison and a McKinley congress. It would not be one-twentieth the sum the trust realizes through McKinley taxes. The people are actually taxed to provide the money that is used in corrupting the elections.

A Tariff Reform Document.

The more the tariff is discussed the clearer it is proved that the effect of the McKinley act has been to raise prices upon articles where it had advanced the duty, while the tendency of the times has been so far the other way upon articles on which the duty was not advanced that the total average reduction of a fraction of 1 per cent., which Senator Aldrich's committee found, was made possible.

Mr. Charles S. Hamlin, secretary of the New England Tariff Reform league, has been studying the details of the Aldrich report with some care, and finds that it is as good a tariff reform document as could be asked for when read aright. It is only by taking totals and disregarding the operation of the McKinley law that any case for the protectionists can be made out from it. The contention of the protectionists this year (in opposition to their arguments of 1890) that higher duties mean higher wages and lower prices can be abundantly answered from the Aldrich report itself, assuming that its figures are true. The actual fact, as found by Mr. Hamlin on analysis of Senator Aldrich's figures, is that out of seventy-five articles which advanced in price, 77 per cent. were advanced in duty by the McKinley act, and of 139 articles which decreased in price, 67 per cent. were either unchanged or lowered in duty.—Boston Cor. New York Evening Post.

Ingalls Sees the Dividing Line.

Ex-Senator J. J. Ingalls is the author of the following strong words:

"We cannot disguise the truth that we are on the verge of an impending revolution. The old issues are dead. The people are arraying themselves upon one side or the other of a portentous contest. On one side is capital formidably intrenched in privilege, arrogant from continual triumph, conservative, tenacious of old theories, demanding new concessions, enriched by domestic levy and foreign commerce and struggling to adjust all values to its own standard. On the other side is labor asking for employment, striving to develop domestic industries, battling with the forces of nature and subduing a wilderness; labor, starving and sullen in the cities, resolutely determined to overthrow a system under which the rich are growing richer and the poor are growing poorer."

But the dividing line which the ex-senator sees is practically the line between the Republican and the Democratic party. Protected capitalists naturally flock with those politicians who give them high protection and enable them to tax the masses of the people for their private enrichment. A protected millionaire who is a Democrat is a rare bird in Uncle Sam's domains. If there are any such they have outgrown the need or the power to tax their fellow citizens.

"We always fry ours in Cottolene."

Our Meat, Fish, Oysters, Saratoga Chips, Eggs, Doughnuts, Vegetables, etc.

Like most other people, our folks formerly used lard for all such purposes. When it disagreed with any of the family (which it often did,) we said it was "too rich."

We finally tried

and not one of us has had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottolene had no unpleasant odor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. So that's why we always fry ours in Cottolene.

Sold by all grocers.

IN STATE CONVENTION

Meeting of the N. Y. League of Democratic Clubs.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC ASSEMBLAGE.

About Two Hundred Delegates Present—Sketch of the Platform Adopted—Officers for the Next Year—John Boyd Thatcher of Albany Made President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The fifth annual convention of the New York State League of Democratic Clubs was held at Chickering Hall yesterday afternoon. The hall was handsomely decorated with flags and bunting, and on either side of the stage were hung large portraits of the National Democratic candidates.

About 200 delegates were present when President John Boyd Thatcher called the convention to order at 12:40 p. m. In his opening address President Thatcher spoke at length on the main issues of the campaign, and his mention of the name of Grover Cleveland as the standard-bearer of the party was received with enthusiastic applause.

The convention was then organized, with Assemblyman William Sulzer as chairman and Edmund C. Stanton as secretary.

A Committee on Credentials and another on resolutions, with Magnane Coxe as chairman, was appointed.

While waiting for the Committee on Resolutions to report, Congressman Amos J. Cummings was called to the platform and addressed the convention.

The platform adopted was substantially as follows:

"We firmly believe that tariff revision, as proposed by the Democratic party, is absolutely necessary to the continued prosperity of the country. Our fundamental commercial need is a wider export market, and we believe that only through such a revision is it to be obtained, while at the same time the menacing growth of monopolies will be checked, and the cost of the necessaries of life reduced without in any way endangering the security of invested capital or the rights of industrial labor.

"We declare it our opinion that the selfish disregard of all the better principles of government shown by the Force bill, to which the Republican party is committed, is fraught with the greatest danger to the Republic. The very life of our nation depends upon the continuance of that adjustment between local government and Federal power, which was established by our fathers and guarded by a long and brilliant line of Democratic administrations.

"The Federal administration of Benjamin Harrison is denounced for the burdens it has put upon the taxpayers of the country, and its squandering of the people's money, while contrasted with it is the record presented by the safe and honorable administrations of Grover Cleveland, David B. Hill and Roswell P. Flower.

"We heartily indorse the candidates nominated and the principles announced by the Democratic National Convention at Chicago, and we pledge the earnest support of this League to Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson."

The convention then proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year. Bartow S. Weeks placed the name of John Boyd Thatcher, of Albany, in nomination as president of the Democratic State League of Clubs of the State of New York, and he was elected by acclamation. On the nomination of Congressman Charles W. Tracey of Albany county, John H. V. Arnold was elected by acclamation as first vice-president. For second vice-president, Bernard J. Degnan of Kings was elected. Herman Ammend, Wm. E. Gross and Hon. Ferdinand Levy were elected third, fourth and fifth vice-presidents of the League respectively.

The other officers elected were: Secretary, Edmund C. Stanton; assistant secretary, Frank E. Johnson of Brooklyn; Treasurer, Hon. Perry Belmont.

SULLIVAN SICK OF THE RING.

He Denies the Story That He Wants Another Go With Corbett.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—John L. Sullivan arrived in this city last night. He was asked by a reporter if it was true that he had expressed a desire for another match with Corbett.

He emphatically denied that he had any such intention. He was heartily sick of the ring, he said.

Speaking of the report that he had been drugged during his recent fight, he said that he never was in better condition in his life than when he stepped into the ring with Corbett.

The dispatch which gave rise to these questions was dated from Boston, and in it Sullivan is reported as saying:

"I am saving money now with resolute determination to challenge Corbett to fight again and give me a chance to win back the money that was robbed from me at New Orleans.

"There was something wrong.

"I am not making any direct charges just now but that I was not right I well know.

"After the first round I could see a dozen Corbetts, and, as good a man as Corbett is, I don't believe he or any one living can stand up and fight me twenty-one rounds without being hit.

"There was a scheme afoot to break what seemed to the poolroom men a dead sure combination, and I was selected to be thrown down."

A CRAZY PRINCE.

The Grandson of Dom Pedro Suddenly Becomes Insane.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Prince Peter of Coburg, grandson of Dom Pedro, late Emperor of Brazil, suddenly went crazy yesterday. His room was on the fourth story of the Imperial Hotel. He struck down an attendant and threw up the window preparatory to jumping out.

His shouts attracted a large crowd below. He called out to them that he was the Emperor of Brazil and had been wrongfully deprived of his empire. A policeman summoned a brigade of firemen, who spread nets under the window while three officers went up to the Prince's room.

They entered the Prince's room unobserved while he was shouting to the people below and caught him by the arm before he perceived their presence.

He has been placed under restraint, and probably will be taken to a private asylum.

PECK MUST BE TRIED.

The Motion to Quash the Indictment Denied at Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The motion to quash the indictment against Charles F. Peck has been denied and he will have to answer the criminal charge.

There was a motley gathering of State politicians, counsel and criminals, in the court of sessions when the Peck case came up for decision as to the quashing of the criminal indictment against Charles F. Peck and Elbert E. Rogers.

Judge Clute presided with Justices Hempstead and Stewart while Edward J. Meegan appeared for Mr. Peck and District-Attorney Eaton for the indictment. Mr. Eaton called the case and Judge Clute said:

"The motion to quash the indictment is denied. It is the duty of the grand jury to investigate any alleged offence."

Mr. Meegan then presented a demurrer sworn to by Mr. Peck in which he said that the indictment was illegally found and that there were two counts.

In presenting the demurrer Mr. Meegan said:

"This is presented in entire good faith and I believe it is perfectly legal. Upon that question I desire to look up some points of law and ask a postponement."

The Court—"How much time do you want?"

Mr. Meegan—"I can be ready by Wednesday."

The District-Attorney was unable to be there on Wednesday morning and the case was postponed until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Nations Slow in Responding.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The invitations which the United States Government sent out some time ago to all the maritime nations of the world to participate in the naval display at Hampton Roads next spring, commemorative of the discovery of America, have not been answered with the degree of promptness expected. So far only one nation—Great Britain—has given a positive promise to participate, and only two others have acknowledged the receipt of the invitations.

CONNECTICUT ELECTIONS.

Reports from Many Places Where Town Meetings Were Held Yesterday.

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 4.—The towns of Derby, Ansonia, Seymour and Huntington went Republican yesterday. Derby has been strongly Democratic but the election was carried by the Republicans by 100 majority.

NEW MILFORD, Oct. 4.—New Milford threw the largest vote ever polled at a town election, and the Democratic majority was greatly decreased. Washington went Democratic as usual. Roxbury cast a light vote, making a Democratic gain.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 4.—The town elections in this vicinity resulted in little or no change in the political complexion of the town governments. Seymour went Republican and Wallingford is Democratic by a safe majority. In Guilford the Democrats elected first selectman on a local issue, but the balance of the Republican ticket is elected by about 40 majority. The town meeting voted $15,000 for a town hall. East Haven elected a Republican majority of the Board of Selectmen. The town voted no license by a vote of 92 to 67.

DANBURY, Oct. 4.—The Democrats carried the town election by 700 majority, the largest in the history of the town. They were victorious in every one of the four wards. Three of the wards never were Democratic before and the town has previously gone Republican.

ROCKVILLE, Oct. 4.—In the town election here and in Vernon the Democrats made a gain of 350, reducing the Republican majority to 34. The Democrats elected their ticket in Ellington, by an increased majority. The Republicans made small gains in Tolland.

BRIDGEPORT, Oct. 4.—The town election resulted favorably to the Republicans by the usual majority. Stratford, Birmingham and Naugatuck went Republican, being usually Democratic, while Stamford and Fairfield gave the usual Democratic majorities.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 4.—Last year the town of Orange, in which is Savin Rock, a popular summer resort, voted no license by a majority of 26. This year the town goes solidly Democratic and votes for license by a majority of 146.

NORWICH, Oct. 4.—The town of Windham, including the borough of Willimantic, elects a Republican town government. Last year it was Democratic. The town also changes from no license to license by 404 majority.

HARTFORD, Oct. 4.—The town election was an exceedingly quiet one. The Democrats elected all their men by majorities averaging about 900, the Republicans taking only such places as are reserved for minority representatives.

NEW BRITAIN, Oct. 4.—The Democrats won the town election, but with reduced majorities.

MERIDEN, Oct. 4.—The Democrats carried the town election by an average plurality of 450. LeGrand Bevins, their candidate for first selectman, had 555; Herman Hess for town clerk, 693. Only a light vote was polled, the Republicans making no fight.

NORWICH, Oct. 4.—The town elections in Eastern Connecticut show a few changes from last year. Preston and Montville, usually Democratic, are carried by the Republicans. Putnam changes from license to no license, and Windham and Stonington from no license to license. Other towns, so far as reported, remain about as last year.

FOR NINETEEN YEARS.

Bookmaker Webster Gets Within One Year of the Extreme Penalty.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Burton C. Webster, convicted in the Court of Oyer and Terminer of manslaughter in the first degree for killing Charles E. Goodwin in August, 1891, because Goodwin insulted Webster's common-law wife, Evelyn Granville Webster, and later attempted to brain him with a cuspidor, was yesterday brought up in the court in which he was tried and convicted to be sentenced.

Mr. Howe stepped forward and said that he asked for a new trial on the grounds that the judge had admitted as evidence the picture of Goodwin taken some time before the killing, on the admission as evidence of the alleged and contradictory dying statements, and on the remarks of the judge himself about murder.

The judge denied the motion for a new trial and Mr. Howe took his seat. Webster remained standing with his hands behind him, nervously fingering the rim of his derby hat. The judge then said:

"Webster, a jury has convicted you of manslaughter in the first degree. You were indicted for murder of the first degree. I consider that the jury gave you the benefit of every doubt, and therefore I do not consider it my duty to give you a light sentence. I sentence you to nineteen years in Sing Sing prison."

Those in court were surprised that the judge had given him the benefit of even one year. Webster was greatly relieved at getting the one year. He did not expect it. After sentence had been passed he was taken back to the Tombs. Mr. Howe will get a stay pending an appeal of the case.

FIVE MORE SECURE BAIL.

The Charges Against Homesteaders to be Tried Under the Kings Jury System.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—George Reylands, John Durkin, William Gaches, David Lynch and Thomas J. Crawford, members of the Homestead Advisory Board, who were under arrest on the charge of treason, have secured bail in $10,000 each for their appearance at court.

The treason charges will be tried under the Kings Jury system, which virtually allows the prosecution to make their own jury.

Attorney Greek for the prosecution says that the Advisory Committee of the Lawrenceville (Union Mills) will not be arrested on the charge of treason.

DEFAULTER DANN'S END

Belief General That He Committed Suicide.

DOCTORS TALK OF APOPLEXY.

They Think the Post-Mortem Will Justify Their Opinion—Story of the Embezzlement of Half a Million Dollars—The Case in Court Yesterday.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 4.—The death of the notorious defaulter Edward S. Dann last evening, has created a sensation here, and the generally accepted theory as to the nature of the mysterious illness is that he committed suicide, taking a heavy dose of morphine or some other poison. The physicians who attended him declare, on the contrary, their belief that he suffered a stroke of apoplexy, and confidently predict that the post-mortem examination will confirm their theory.

Dann died at 7 o'clock. He was profoundly unconscious at the time of his death, having been in that condition for 49 hours, the attack occurring on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock.

Edward S. Dann stood high in church and social circles. When the bank examiners found that there was a shortage in the accounts of the bank and recommended the arrest of the trusted secretary and treasurer, the trustees could not believe that the examiners were right in their conclusions. They had trusted him implicitly for over 20 years—ever since the bank was started.

He had been looked upon as a model of faithfulness, industry and integrity. He was always first to arrive at the bank and last to leave; he was the custodian of church funds, and widows and timid women came to his bank because they had so often seen his silvered head bowed in prayer at the altar. He never took a vacation, and always balanced the books himself. Such an attentive officer the trustees thought could do no wrong.

The examiners hinted that perhaps Dann had reason for working personally over the books and wearing the cloak of sanctity. But the trustees scoffed at the idea. However, private detectives were called in and Dann was put under arrest. He was cool when confronted with accusations, and said he could explain all if time and access to the books were given him. The examiners said they could figure the books without him.

The news of his arrest caused great excitement when it was made known in June. He was not locked up like a common criminal at first, but was allowed to go to and from his house under surveillance of a detective. Then it was that Dann made his first and unsuccessful attempt to take his own life. He swallowed 20 morphine pills. His stomach rebelled, threw off the poison, and he lived on in disgrace.

The examiners found in column after column of figures abstractions running back for a long period of years, and continuing up to the day he was apprehended, when he stole a package of $10,000 deposited by ex-Justice Charles Daniels of the Supreme Court. The shortage at first was stated at $100,000, then at $200,000; then it was said to more than reach the bank's assets.

The trial of Dann, ex-Secretary and Treasurer of the National Savings Bank, on 16 indictments for felony, was to have begun yesterday or to have been avoided by a plea of guilty.

At 10:15 District Attorney Quinby said: "I desire to move the case of the people against Mr. Dann.

"If the court please" said Mr. Hoyt, Dann's counsel, "I shall be obliged to ask that the case go over for a week. I have here the certificates of two reputable physicians to the effect that Mr. Dann is ill and unable to leave his bed."

He then submitted the certificate of Drs. Harrington and Hopkins to the effect that his client is in a critical condition.

No objection was made by the District Attorney and Judge Titus postponed the case for one week.

The cases of Dann's accomplices, Armstrong and McCredie, were then called.

"I next desire to move the case of the People against Armstrong," said Mr. Quinby.

Attorney Kisselburg, for Armstrong, objected to this on the ground that the presence as a witness of Mr. Dann might be an imperative necessity for his client's defense, and for that reason desired the case similarly put over until Mr. Dann's recovery.

The request was granted.

The case of McCredie was next moved, and his attorney, Tracy C. Becker, also made application for adjournment, presenting certificates from physicians that McCredie is suffering from chronic alcoholism, which has impaired his mental faculties so as to prevent his being able to make defense in a legal proceeding.

Counsel desired a postponement for an indefinite period until McCredie could improve and asked that the case be put over the term.

The District-Attorney objected and Judge Titus postponed the case for one week.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

Rudolph M. Titsworth lies dangerously ill at his home, 39 West Seventh street.

Mrs. W. A. Woodruff, of East Second street, returned last evening from Williamsport.

The engagement of Miss Jewell H. Allen of this city to Edward Thornton of Cranford, is announced.

George Percy Taggart was elected a member of the New York Press club at their meeting on Saturday.

THE PRESS was favored this morning by a call from Jesse Lawson of Plainfield, who is in the pension department at Washington.

The Plainfield members of the grand jury, sworn in Elizabeth this morning, are William H. Sterling, E. P. Thorn and Joseph Cutter.

Charles Moore and Miss Annie Townley were married on Labor Day in New York city, and are now at home to their friends in their newly-furnished residence.

The city common council last night did a kindly deed in adopting a resolution of sympathy condoling councilman Johnston on his affliction in the loss of his little child.

Miss Grace Howard and G. Harry Squires, who are to be married in Grace church to-morrow, held an informal gathering of their bridesmaids and ushers, at the home of the bride last night. The wedding rehearsal took place afterwards at the church.

Mrs. R. B. Grinnell, of Netherwood, gave a luncheon to-day at her home on Belvidere avenue. The table was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves and golden-rod. The guests were Mrs. S. A. Haines, Mrs. C. P. Ralli, Mrs. Augustus Shepard, Mrs. James L. Anthony and Mrs. Charles Ellis.

Mrs. Edward F. Many has issued cards for the wedding reception of her daughter Mary Elizabeth and George Beekman Schoonmaker, the home of Mrs. Eugene Hatch, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Ketcham, at 14 West Eighth street, Tuesday evening, Oct. 18, from 8 to 10. The bride and groom will be at home after Dec. 1, at 103 West Seventh street.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Edwin Loomis, yesterday afternoon at his late residence, were conducted by the pastor of the deceased, the Rev. Dr. C. B. Mitchell. The Rev. Drs. A. H. Tuttle and J. B. VanMeter also attended, and respectively offered prayer and made remarks. Among the floral offerings were a magnificent pillow of white roses, lilies of the valley and violets, from the trustee of the M. E. church, and a beautiful harp from friends in the Park Place chapel.

BY THE WAY.

—You'll have to go early to get in Music Hall this evening.

—The people of Arlington avenue are to have a crosswalk at Rose street.

—William Woodruff has sold Alener S. Kline's house on Summit avenue, to George Benedict.

—An electric lamp is to be placed on Sixth street midway between Madison and Central avenues.

—Isaac Kennedy, the new sexton of the M. E. church, has been given the job of looking after the town clock in the belfry.

—The devotional committee of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at the residence of A. C. LaBoyteaux, 52 East Sixth street, this evening at 8.

—More fire hydrants are wanted at Webster place, Kensington avenue and Broadway. The fire committee has been instructed to take the matter in hand.

—Two new fire hydrants are to be put into service in the neighborhood of the Irving school, for the protection of the school and other property in that section.

—To-morrow evening the former city council chambers will be thrown open as the general headquarters of the Plainfield Democracy. There will be some short addresses of interest.

—The Water Supply company in its bill for fire-hydrant service is charging the city for hydrants the council did n't know it had ordered. The account is therefore being investigated.

—The present common council uses up money much faster than the taxpayers pay it in. Last night the total amount of money raised on new and extended notes in anticipation of taxes was $15,500.

—Isaac W. Rushmore and others have petitioned the common council for the macadamization of West Eighth street beyond Plainfield avenue. The matter has been put in the hands of the street committee.

—A. A. Cruikshank, Mrs. George B. DeRevere, F. C. Langhorne, C. C. Burke, and others, have petitioned the common council against permitting the trolley road to be extended through Woodland avenue. The communication was filed.

—The location of the proposed W. C. T. U. public drinking fountain is to be changed from Peace street at the foot of North avenue to Broadway in front of the W. C. T. U. headquarters. The designs are to be approved by the city before the fountain is erected.

—One particular reason of Mr. Corbett's appearance in a high-class comedy-drama, supported by a picked company, is the opportunity it gives for the ladies to be present and see what a gentleman a "champion" is. There will be a large attendance of ladies at Music Hall this evening.

—The residents of West Fourth street who wonder why their thoroughfare is not mademadamized in accordance with the ordinance passed are informed by authority of councilman Fisk that it is because they have n't paid their share of the money into the city treasury. When they pay their share the work will be begun.

Probably a Murder.

The body of William L. Rue, of Trenton, was found in the canal at Bound Brook this morning. From injuries at the back of the head it is supposed that he met with foul play.

TIRED OF THE FIGHT.

Judge Bartine Withdraws from the Race for Congressional Honors—Great Strife and Excitement at a Rousing Primary.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 4—Because of having been beaten in his own township caucus, Judge John D. Bartine will withdraw from the congressional fight in this district.

The Democratic forces of Bridgewater were present in great numbers at Saturday's primary, which was held at the court-house. No such gathering was ever held before in the county. The strife between the rival aspirants, Bartine and J. W. Ballantine, was something awful. Judge Bartine was sure that he could elect a majority of the ten delegates chosen, and until Friday night things did certainly point his way. But for days the Ballantine forces had been on the alert, and hustling. In consequence, the largest vote was cast that has ever been know in a township caucus. 674 votes were in the ballot-box. Three were thrown out. Ballantine succeeded in capturing seven of the ten convention delegates chosen. Bartine got two, and there was a tie vote for the tenth man. The tickets were cut and slashed horribly. During the afternoon the excitement was intense. Groups of men stood on the street corners hobnobbing with the politicians and wire-pullers. The belief here is that the congressional nomination will not come to Somerset at all, but that Monmouth will get it.

The Champion's Appearance This Evening.

The plot of "Gentleman Jack", the play in which the World's Champion, James J. Corbett, will appear at Music Hall this evening, is said to be a unique one. The first act opens with Mr. Corbett as a college student at old Princeton, the second act discovers him an employe of a bank of which his enemy's father is the president. The third act takes place on the roof of the Madison Square Garden, New York, in which Corbett is in the capacity of a professor of boxing. The last act is his training quarters at Loch Arbour and the Olympic club of New Orleans. Mr. Corbett will be supported by a strong company of dramatic artists.

Soon the Line Will Reach the Station.

The ordinance granting the privilege of extending the street railway tracks through Front and Peace streets to North avenue was adopted on final passage by the common council, last night, and is now ready for the mayor's signature. The work of extension will be begun as soon as the ordinance is a law.

The East Front street merchants presented a petition to the council opposing any but a single-track extension. This was filed to keep company with the protest of the West Front street merchants who demanded a double track throughout.

Union County Democratic Convention.

The Union County Democratic Executive committee met yesterday and decided to hold the county convention for the nomination of a county clerk, surrogate and coroner on Oct. 19. The primaries will be held Oct. 17. The First District convention will be held in Queen's Hall, Elizabethport, the Second at Summit and the Third at Westfield, all on Oct. 26, and the primaries on the 24th. The date for the Congressional convention has been changed to Friday, Oct. 14, in Library Hall, Elizabeth.

Plainfield Had the Lead.

The game in Elizabeth Saturday between the Elizabeth and Plainfield cricket clubs resulted in a draw. The Elizabeths went to bat first and were retired for 59 runs. Plainfield's team then went in, but on account of darkness the game was called when three men only were out for 37 runs, Wharton and Chamberlain batting in good form. As seven men had to be put out for only 23 runs to beat, the chances were greatly in favor of the visitors.

The Baptists' Centennial.

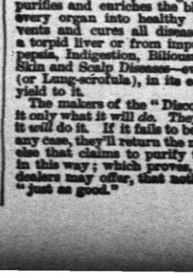
The Samptown Baptist church will celebrate its one-hundredth anniversary, tomorrow, at 10:30 a. m., in the meeting-house at New Brooklyn. O. B. Leonard will read a sketch of the society covering the first half century, and the Rev. E. Thompson, present pastor, has prepared a history of the last fifty years.

Wants Damages From the City.

E. B. Titsworth, whose wagon was smashed by the hook-and-ladder truck two months ago, demands $11.25 damages from the city. He says he "done all he could" to avoid the collision, but the fire officials say that the accident was caused by his own carelessness. The bill has been referred to the corporation counsel.

The Mayor Found the Flaws.

Mayor Gilbert discovered clerical defects in the ordinance to open and accept Sycamore street, and refused to sign it. The council concurred in the veto, and a new ordinance is to be drafted correcting the mistakes. The Sycamore street enterprise is therefore temporarily delayed.



A feeling of dullness, languor, and depression means that your liver isn't doing its part. That means impure blood, to begin with, and all kinds of ailments in the end. But you can stop them in advance. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, and rouses every organ into healthy action. It prevents and cures all diseases arising from a torpid liver or from impure blood. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulous Skin and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula), in its earlier stages, all yield to it.

The makers of the "Discovery" claim for it only what it will do. They guarantee that it will do it. If it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, they'll return the money. Nothing else that claims to purify the blood is sold in this way; which proves, no matter what dealers may offer, that nothing else can be "just as good."

The New Firm of VanEmburgh & Son.

George L. VanEmburgh and his son, Fred. M., have formed a partnership to be known as George L. VanEmburgh & Son, and will deal in notions, a full line of wools, dressmakers' furnishings, men's, women's and children's underwear and hosiery, etc. They will begin business on or about October 20, opening temporarily with a fine new stock in the store now occupied by Miss C. E. Clarke. Next spring they will move into the proposed Babcock block on West Front street, and then it is said the First National Bank will move down stairs to the ground floor.

Carpenters will make improvements in the temporary store, before the opening. VanEmburgh & Son will no doubt meet with the great success such enterprising and reliable business men deserve. The transfer of the business was made through William A. Woodruff.

Can't Have Hydrants Till Pipes Are Laid.

F. E. Kinsman, W. H. Hillman and other residents of Sherman avenue, insist on water-supply for fire protection along their thoroughfare. The city is powerless to put hydrants there until the water company extends its pipes. Many people do not understand the nature of the water contract, and 500 copies are to be printed for circulation among the uninformed. The water company does n't extend its pipes till a paying list of subscribers in the new neighborhood is secured.

CLEVELAND'S PERSONALITY.

MAYOR SAUNDERS TELLS OF IT, AND OTHERS ALSO TALK.

A Rousing Meeting of Democrats in the Campaign Club's Rooms—Mr. Syphax Prays the Arm of the Republican Party That Holds His Colored Race in Bondage, Will be Paralyzed.

Every seat was filled, every foot of standing room was occupied and there were crowds outside unable to get in to last evening's meeting of the Cleveland and Stevenson campaign club, in the Crescent rink building. Under the same roof a short distance away the Republicans shivered and tried to be enthusiastic over a meeting of the colored race they are trying to still hold in slavery, but in the meeting of the Democrats John B. Syphax, a colored speaker from Virginia, roused those of his own hue and the hundreds of whites present to a pitch of warmth and fervor that burst forth in cheers and applause that really shook the building.

The meeting was presided over by president Demarest of the Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign club. Among those who sat on the platform were vice president Bodine of the North Plainfield Democratic association, Joseph W. Yates, Seymour Marsh, W. G. Brett, Edward Conklin, H. B. Ely and the speakers. Besides Mr. Syphax, who prayed that the result of the coming election would paralyze the hand of the Republican party that held his race in bondage for their votes, George L. Record of Jersey City, delivered one of his unequaled talks on the tariff, and Mayor William L. Saunders spoke in part as follows on the personality of Grover Cleveland:

Some philosopher has said that if we are to believe that any kind of a politician is a saint we must let him tell his own story. I am not sure whether or no Mr. Demarest had this in view when he invited me here to-night. He certainly knows as editor of THE PRESS what a poor kind of a politician I am, and what herculean task it is to try to prove me a saint. As I came out in the train the other afternoon I was greatly flattered by a gentleman who introduced himself to me as a member of this organization and said that he was coming to-night to hear me speak. I told him that he was very kind but that I feared he would be disappointed for I was not much of a talker. He replied that he had read some of my writings and—"O, Yes"—I said—"I can write". "Well"—said he—"We don't expect you to talk wisely or interestingly or to stick closely to facts, but just talk the same as you write". [Laughter]. But, now that you have given me the chance you must take me as I am, and one of the surest things that I am, is a Democrat: as such I can not but welcome the chance to speak in this Republican stronghold, even though I do no more than tell you how much I sympathize with you who struggle against heat, mosquitoes and Republicanism, and to bid you move across the brook in North Plainfield where the land rolls in peace and plenty, where mountain breezes blow, and where under Democracy a mosquitoe is quite as unknown as a megalonyx. [Laughter].

You have doubtless heard it said that this is not a personal campaign. You will, I trust, pardon me if I differ with that sentiment and say that the personality of Grover Cleveland [Loud and continued applause] stands out mountain-like in prominence to guide the doubtful voter. Who, since Lincoln, has so engrafted his personality in the hearts of the people as he! Adored by his friends and respected by his enemies, defiant in his honest tenacity of purpose, and shaping the policy of his party as he thinks it should go! What need is there of a platform when Grover Cleveland is the candidate. [Applause]. His record on every public question is well-known, and what he has done and will do is platform enough for me. Some months before the Chicago convention a prominent Cleveland Democrat from New York was given a public dinner in Denver, Col. Cleveland's anti-free silver letter had just been flung in their faces and the Colorado Democrats were naturally defiant; yet at that dinner the name of Cleveland was loudly cheered and everybody admitted that they could n't help but love him even if he was against them on the silver question.

An honest old-time Republican said to me the other day: "I shall vote for Mr. Cleveland because his position on the tariff question is exactly what I have been taught to believe was the true one by such men as Sumner, Sherman and Garfield, and I simply cannot now repudiate all my early Republican teachings and sustain this new McKinley position of my party." This to my mind is an unanswerable argument because it is certainly true that the leaders of the Republican party up to recent years taught the wisdom of a tariff sufficient only to meet the expenses of the government—a protection that nursed only infant industries so long as they were in the cradle, or in the words of Garfield: "That protection which leads to ultimate free trade". This is exactly the position of Grover Cleveland and the Democratic party in this campaign. We have the rabid free-traders in our party, of course, but they are with us because, as Gus Williams used to say, "When a man can't do what he thinks is the best thing then he should be mighty glad to do the next best", or perhaps they are with us as, in the words of the old deacon in his prayer—"O, Lord, we come to Thee because we've nowhere else to go". [Laughter.]

Now, how did it happen that the policy of the Republican party on the tariff question changed so radically from the teachings of Garfield and Sherman to those of Harrison and McKinley? High duties were levied at first to meet the expenses of the war. This was good business and in line with the Democratic policy of tariff for revenue. But as years rolled on and war debts were reduced, there grew a system of pension extravagance and fraud unparalleled in the history of the world. The Republican party was so strongly intrenched at Washington and was so long in power, that extravagance and profligacy replaced prudence and wisdom. The party which had saved the Union fell a prey to political henchmen and became the hand-maidens of wealth. Such men as Andrew Carnegie went to Congress year after year and got as much protection as they asked for—protection for industries that were old enough to be grey-headed and rich enough to link themselves together in trusts that made a few millionaires at the expense of every citizen of the United States who went into the market and bought the thing that was, and still is protected.

That this high protection has built up industries I freely admit, but how much money are the American people willing to pay for it?—that is the question. We have a population of 65,000,000 people. If each one will contribute one cent each year I will promise to build up a new industry. I will cultivate and market American bananas grown on the top of the Catskill mountains. I will get rich, too, because your contribution of one cent each per year will be to me $650,000. Put a big enough duty on bananas, tax them as we do wool, tin, iron and such things, and how easily it is seen that the increased price of bananas will draw from us a sum each year equal to one cent per individual. This may seem a trivial argument, but think of it twice and you must see its application to the whole doctrine of protection. It applies with uncommon force to wool. We would put wool on the free list because it comes home to all of us and when we buy clothing and carpets we don't want to pay a tax even if it does encourage an American industry, for we know that in the climate of New South Wales the sheep feed in the open fields all the year round. With nature against us we cannot compete except by paying a price equal to the difference. Let the Cubans and West Indians have the banana industry; let the people of New South Wales raise sheep to their hearts' content; but let us by having freer raw materials add to the already long list of American products, which comprises such as agricultural implements, steam engines and locomotives, in the production of which we ask no protection to enable us to challenge the world. [Applause].

Supposed Incendiarism at Netherwood.

(New York Evening Post.)

The Central railroad of New Jersey has set its detectives at work endeavoring to find out what malicious person has designs on its property at Netherwood. Some months ago the handsome station at Netherwood was destroyed by fire, which was supposed to have been caused by an over-heated furnace. The company's workmen are now at work on a new station. Last Saturday at midnight the workmen's shop was set on fire and destroyed, together with tools and a quantity of valuable lumber and other building material. It is now believed that the first fire also was of incendiary origin, and efforts will be made to discover and punish the person who has such designs against the company.

Knights Templar in Conclave.

Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., met in conclave in their asylum, East Front street, this city, last evening, and conferred the order of Red Cross. There was a large attendance of Sir Knights. During the evening there was an agreeable surprise to the Sir Knights of Trinity by the visit of a number of Sir Knights of Pilgrim Commandery, No. 16, stationed at Hoboken, who were cordially welcomed and entertained. Among the visiting Sir Knights were Eminent Commander, Henry Weinhagen; P. E. C., F. M. McDonough; Chas. B. Reynolds, C. G.; I. J. Palmer, treasurer; James A. Brown, recorder; P. J. Taylor, S. B.; H. H. Gawley, S. G.; Phil Stuerwald, S. W.; John S. Bruce, J. W.; Julius Heins, 3d G.; Levi Farr.

Complains of Unfair Treatment.

J. D. Case sent a letter to the common council last night protesting against the unfair way in which his mother had been treated. She had been forced by the street commissioner to lower her sidewalk at 17 Church street while others had left their sidewalks at the old grade, thus making a stumbling-place "for aged persons and children". "My mother"—he wrote—"pays her taxes"—and he petitioned that the adjoining sidewalks be cut down to the same level as hers. The matter was referred to the street committee.

Monthly Report of the Boys' Club.

Total number of boys in attendance during September, 1,457; largest attendance in one evening, 85; general average, 56. The scroll-saw class will be started Saturday evening, October 8, Mr. Miner, ex-superintendent, having kindly consented to teach the class on Saturday nights.

The first entertainment will be given Monday evening, October 17, to which all are invited who are interested in the work.

Testing the Fire Department.

Councilmen Fisk and Erickson gave an unexpected test call for the fire department from box 34, at 10:45 last night. Alert hose company was crippled by the lameness of its horse, but was first to respond, getting to the box in 2½ minutes. The other companies arrived in quick succession.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

Shiloh's Cough Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold; a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price, 50c. and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

JOINED HANDS FOR EARNEST EFFORT

Plainfield Has at Last a Democratic Organization That is Capable of United and Effective Work.

At a recent meeting of the Plainfield Tariff Reform club, organized eight years ago, it was decided to join with the Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign club and all others desirous of good government and tariff revision, in one strong association for more effective work. The executive committee empowered to select a president for such organization, last evening elected J. A. Demarest to that office and appointed Seymour Marsh to fill Mr. Demarest's place on the committee.

The officers of the Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign club—which as now organized is the most complete, powerful and capable Democratic association Plainfield has ever had—are as follows:

President—James A. Demarest.
Vice-presidents—H. B. Ely, J. W. Yates, James Clark, V. L. Frazee.
Secretary—Noel Verrier.
Treasurer—H. W. Marshall.
Executive Committee—L. G. Timpson, W. L. Hetfield, Seymour Marsh, and the officers of the club.

The executive committee, under direction of chairman Ely, have already laid out a plan for the most effective kind of work.

Fought His Father and Aunt.

Edward Conshay was arrested last night by marshal Pangborn for assault and battery on his father, Frank, and on his aunt, Mary McGlone. He was taken before justice Crosley and held in $150 to appear before the December grand jury at Somerville.

Progressive Charity.

Bert Hetfield, Robert Crane and Frank Dencklau held a circus Sept. 24 and made 55 cents. Then they held a fair the 29th and cleared $7.25. Now they will hold another circus, followed by a sociable, and the accrued profits will be given to an invalid boy on East Second street.

Now for the Work of Extension.

The petition of George H. Babcock for the extension of Madison avenue as mapped in these columns last evening was granted by the common council at last night's session, and Wm. J. Leonard, E. C. Mulford and Wm. M. Sandford were appointed commissioners to take charge of the work.

Christian Endeavor Officers.

At the annual election of officers of the Christian Endeavor society of Trinity Reformed church, last evening, the following excellent unanimous choice was made:

President—Bergen D. N. Carter.
First vice-president—Miss E. C. Benedict.
Second vice-president—Fred C. Smith.
Recording secretary—Miss F. Mattison.
Financial secretary—Miss M. Woodruff.
Treasurer—Miss Ella Fenner.

Plainfield to Illuminate Fanwood.

The residents about Fanwood having pledged subscriptions sufficient for a year, the township committee last evening authorized the making of a contract with the Plainfield Electric Light company, to light Fanwood from and to the railroad station and through the streets of Fanwood park. It is hoped that the example will be followed in Scotch Plains.

Adversity Follows a Poor Man.

Emery Robinson applied to the city for a trucking license, and the next day his horse died. Therefore he asked for a refusal of his license and a return of his fee. This was granted.

MOOREHEAD KEPT FAITH

The Young Actor Shot Himself "As Per Club."

HE POSSESSED PLENTY OF MONEY.

The Reason is Assigned for the Act Except That Moorehead Belonged to a "Suicide Club" and That it Was His Turn to Go—His Dying Message.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The suicide of J. Barlow Moorehead, the young actor who shot himself yesterday, turns out to be a sensational one. He was found dead in his room in the boarding house at 56 West 35th street at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. There was a bullet-hole in his left breast, and on the bed beside him lay a 22-calibre revolver. A picture of his mother lay on the body close to the wound.

A letter addressed to the coroner was opened by that official, who was somewhat staggered at its contents. Here is the letter:

OCT. 3, 1892.

CORONER OF NEW YORK CITY:

DEAR SIR—I have committed suicide as per club. Please give verdict to such effect, and oblige, J. B. MOOREHEAD.

The coroner began probing into the matter and learned that Nestor Lennon, an actor, could probably explain the curious epistle he had received. Lennon was summoned and told the coroner that there was a suicide club in this city.

Moorehead, he said, was a member, and he also belonged to it. He said that was the reason Moorehead shot himself, and added that the dead man was compelled to do it. In speaking of the workings of the club, Lennon said:

"Each member, on joining, is compelled to fix the date on which they are to take their own life. Moorehead's hour had arrived. By a special rule of the club he was offered a 10-year parole, but he refused to accept it, being determined to keep his agreement."

Mr. Lennon refused to tell more of the Suicide Club, or the circumstances under which Mr. Moorehead had joined.

The coroner will thoroughly investigate the case.

Moorehead was a native of Philadelphia and was possessed of a fortune, estimated at several hundred thousand dollars. He devoted a good deal of time and money in taking theatrical troups on the road.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

To Be Held in Brussels Nov. 22, With Seventeen Powers Represented.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—State Secretary Foster has sent by cable notification to the European governments which have already signified a willingness to be represented at the International Monetary Conference that it has been arranged to have the conference meet in Brussels on Nov. 22 next, the Belgium government having signified its readiness to have it hold its sessions in its capital and the leading powers having approved the selection.

The governments which have accepted the invitation of the United States to send delegates to the monetary conference are as follows: Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal, Roumania, Russia, Servia, Spain, Sweden and Norway and Switzerland.

The delegates from the United States already designated by the President are as follows: Senators Allison and Jones, Congressman McCreary of Kentucky; Henry W. Cannon, of New York, and F. A. Walker, of Massachusetts. In addition to these it is expected that Mr. Terrell, Minister at Brussels, will be made a delegate.

SHOT THE TREASURER.

Bold Daylight Attempt at Bank Robbery at Erie, Pa.—Robbers Captured.

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 4.—A bold but unsuccessful attempt at bank robbery occurred at noon at the Keystone National Bank.

While treasurer Frank Kepler was fixing up his cash, four young men entered the bank and before he was aware of their presence he and bookkeeper Charles De Liebell were covered by revolvers which peered in at every window.

The robbers cried:

"Hands up," but Kepler undertook to drop behind the counter.

One of the robbers fired and hit Kepler in the face, inflicting a very dangerous wound.

All four of the robbers beat a hasty retreat, but were run down and are now in custody.

They are young men and give fictitious names.

They were heavily armed.

They claim to be from New York.

Accidentally Shot by a Friend.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 4. — George Yorks, a coachman in the employ of ex-Judge Noah Davis, while examining a revolver which Marshall Inman intended buying, accidentally shot him. The ball entered young Inman's neck and lodged near the spinal column. He lies unconscious, and will probably die. Yorks has not been arrested.

Not Wanted for the Cronin Murder.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The story published that Geoghegan, alias Coleman, is wanted for complicity in the Cronin murder, is not believed by State Attorney Longenecker. He says he has not been asked to sign any requisition papers.

Gov. Flower to Inspect the Erie.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Gov. Flower has gone to Buffalo, from which place, after addressing the Real Estate convention, he will start on a trip over the Erie canal to see for himself what repairs are needed. His recent inspection of the Champlain canal convinced him that $35,000 will be a sufficient appropriation for that water-way, instead of the $160,000 asked for, and vetoed by him.

Chili May Send the Capitan Pratt.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—A cable from Valparaiso says it is is semi-officially reported that should Chili be invited to attend the New York naval demonstration next spring the Capitan Pratt will be sent.

Self Praise.

Self praise is no recommendation, but there are times when one must permit a person to tell the truth about himself. When what he says is supported by the testimony of others, no reasonable man will doubt his word. Now to say that ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are the only genuine and reliable porous plasters made is not self praise in the slightest degree. They have stood the test for over thirty years, and in proof of their merits it is only necessary to call attention to the cures they have effected and to the voluntary testimonials of those who have used them.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for ALLCOCK'S, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

The proprietors of Ely's Cream Balm do not claim it to be a cure-all, but a remedy for catarrh, colds in the head and hay fever. It is not a liquid nor a snuff, is easily applied into the nostrils. It gives relief at once. 50 cents.

DRIVEN OUT BY THE TARIFF.

The Tax on Raw Materials Sends a Large New Haven Concern West.

Another instance of the evil effects on manufactnring industries of the Republican policy of placing high tariff duties on imported raw materials is afforded by the contemplated removal to the west of a large hardware factory in New Haven. The concern is the largest manufactory in New Haven, and is owned by the mayor, J. B. Sargent. Some 2,000 hands are employed and all kinds of hardware are manufactured. But the McKinley act, with its high duties on raw materials, has had a bad effect on the business of the concern, and removal to Milwaukee is now contemplated. In explanation of his reason for making such a change Mayor Sargent says:

"Under the present tariff laws we could obtain raw material at much cheaper rates in the west than we can here. If raw material were admitted free of duty vessels from all over the world would be unloading their cargoes of such material in New York, so that the iron and coal kings of Pennsylvania would be obliged to meet the New York prices. In that case New York would be the great center for raw material, and New Haven would be a far better place for such a plant as ours than any city in the west.

"What is the case at present? On account of the existing tariff the dealers in raw materials in the west put up prices as high as the price of foreign raw material which comes into New York burdened by a heavy import tax. The loss all falls on the manufacturer. We must pay $6.72 a ton for iron and about $4.10 a ton for lead and so on. In the west the cost of raw material is cheaper because there is less freight to pay, and in a year this extra freight amounts to considerable."

Mayor Sargent's statements carry their own moral. Let the high protectionist draw conclusions from them favorable to his favorite policy if he can. But what in the light of these statements, becomes of the Republican claim that the American consumer does not pay the tax which the McKinley act imposes on raw material?

The Starch Duty.

The duties on starch are levied for private revenue only. As we import very little starch because of the prohibitory tariff on it, all this tax upon cleanliness goes to the starch trust and hardly any to the government. The tariff of two cents a pound is a tax which the foreigner does not pay, and unfortunately it is a tariff which does not lower the price of starch. This was confessed by the starchmakers themselves in a comical way when they complained at the treasury department that starch was being sold in the American market for less than the price fixed by the syndicate, conclusive proof, they said, that it was being smuggled into the country.

Treasury detectives went to work, and they found that cargoes of starch had been smuggled in under another name and had wickedly lowered the price of starch. The unlawful importation being stopped the price of starch went up again, and every housekeeper in the land was condemned to pay to private citizens a fine of two cents a pound on every pound of starch she was reckless enough to buy. The moral of this example will apply to hundreds of other articles differing from starch only in the size of the tax levied upon them and the share of its proceeds given to the government.—M. M. Trumbull.

Peck's Averages.

In showing up the untrustworthiness of Commissioner Peck's "average annual earnings," the New York Commercial Bulletin, a nonpartisan trade journal, says: "As to the value of such averages as these Mr. Peck gave an opinion in his report in 1888 as follows: 'In the preparation of wage tables the effort has been to get down to actual facts. The statement of averages has been purposely omitted as tending only to mislead.' In 1888 Mr. Peck would not average separately the wages of blacksmiths, carpenters or bricklayers because such averages would be misleading, and yet in his report for 1891 he averages the wages of all the skilled and unskilled men, women, boys and girls employed upon the greatest diversity of work, and attempts to use these averages in showing whether the tariff has favorably or unfavorably affected wages. The utter worthlessness of this report is too apparent to need further consideration."

The Ice Cart and the Candidate.

Candidate Whitelaw Reid says: "The ice cart at the White House door will disappear in like manner from their campaign literature when they discover that it quite suits a nation of 65,000,000 of intelligent and self respecting freemen to have a president who does not gush, does not slop, does not play the demagogue, does not pretend to be the bosom friend of every man he meets."

Which gives occasion to remark that the ice cart did not originate in Democratic literature, but is a happy witticism of big Tom Reed's.

But is not the candidate's description of Harrison a cruel whack at Blaine?

Two Specimen Protectionists.

The two following incidents throw a curious light upon McKinleyism as a corrupting force in our political life, and the fact that they have been extensively exploited by Republican newspapers as campaign material is a still more curious thing.

A Philadelphia firm, which seems to be the only concern in this country manufacturing phosphorus, writes a letter to Governor McKinley to say that they "are doing a prosperous business" as the result of the higher protection which he gave them. The letter closes with "trusting that the country at large will see that it is vitally to the interest of the prosperity of the whole country that protective tariff principles shall triumph at the coming election."

The milk in the cocoanut for this firm is that McKinley raised the duty on phosphorus from ten cents a pound to twenty cents. Of course they will now

A Republican Senator on the Force bill.

I have read that bill with care and attention more than twenty times. I have read it in the light of calm consideration. And I repeat if it were presented to me now with the alternative of party support or party dismissal I should not vote for the bill. A more infamous bill, in my judgment, never passed the threshold of the doors of the senate. Avowedly in the interest of good government, it was instigated, in my judgment, by men whose interest it was to prevent a free expression of the will of voters at the polls.—Hon. Henry M. Teller in United States Senate.

ENGLAND'S NEW CABINET.

A Body of Rulers Which Was Never Created by Law.

American readers are once more invited to the difficult task of learning what elections mean over in Great Britain, and how it is that they take place at odd times, so to speak, instead of at stated intervals, as with us. It has been said that any intelligent American can readily understand any part of the British government except the cabinet and the established church. The former only requires of him long and thorough study, but to really understand the latter one must be born and reared in the kingdom.

The cabinet was created not by law—it grew up by practice. There is no such office as premier or prime minister—it is simply a title bestowed on the head of the cabinet, and he holds one or two offices, as may suit him. Mr. Gladstone is lord privy seal and first lord of the treasury. Next to him in rank, if rank there be, for it is all as their convenience may require, are Earl Rosebery, foreign secretary; Baron Herschell, lord chancelor; Sir William Vernon Harcourt, chancelor of the exchequer, and Herbert H. Asquith, home secretary. There are twenty-two members of the present cabinet, and may be more if Mr. Gladstone sees fit to invite other heads of departments to seats in the council.

Right. Hon. John Morley is rather more prominent than his rank would indicate, as he is chief secretary for Ireland, and the same may be said of Sir Charles Russell, attorney general. On these two will fall the principal labor of arranging the details for the home rule for Ireland bill, which is to be the leading measure of the Gladstone administration. Much vexation is expressed by the so-called radicals, or democrats, that no one of their wing of the liberals was invited to a place in the cabinet. The home secretary, Mr. Herbert H. Asquith, will have a temporary interest for Americans, because a strong pressure will soon be exerted on him from this country to secure a pardon for Mrs. Maybrick, the American woman now in an English prison on conviction of having poisoned her husband.

EARLY NAVIGATION.

Ancient Wooden Anchor Taken from the Bottom of Green Bay.

One of the many curious exhibits which will be shown in the transportation department of the world's fair, and one which will be of interest to lake captains, will be an old wooden anchor in use on the lakes one hundred years ago. It is a primitive contrivance, and has been secured for exhibition by Chief Smith through the State Historical society of Wisconsin.

This old anchor was taken from the bottom of Green Jay, Wis., four years ago. It is a curious contrivance, and was not uncommon on trading vessels on the upper great lakes in 1792. The anchor is about five feet across from tip to tip of the flukes and about four feet high. It is regarded as a picturesque relic of early navigation. Three of the legs are a part of the stump which forms the head. The fourth leg, in front, is movable and is secured by an iron bar shown in the picture. This was moved outward in order to fill the basket with stones and then pushed back into place and nailed in again.

Fine Specimen of Sham Latin.

Perhaps one of the best of the numerous class of sham Latin inscriptions was one which appeared some time ago in a Dublin paper. It was antique "Latin," as follows:

"'I sabilli hæres ago, foribus es in aro.'
"'Noscio Mari thesbe trux, votis innem—pes an dux.'"

This purported to have been found near the site of a church dedicated to "the saint known to the old chroniclers as Uncatus Ambulans."

The "Latin" inscription was in reality an absurd rhyme:

"'I say, Billy! here's a go, forty 'buses in a row.'
"'No,' says Mary, 'they be trucks: what is in 'em?—peas and ducks.'"

Facts About Postage Stamps.

The number of postage stamps used in a year is something enormous. For instance, the ordinary postal revenue for the year ending June 30, 1891, exclusive of the money order business was $65,065,293.87. Of this $41,432,129.50 came from letter postage. The bulk of this is, of course, in two-cent stamps, and it is safe to put the whole number of this denomination used at more than two billions per annum.

CEDED TO US AT LAST

United States to Have Pago Pago Harbor.

WILL BE USED AS A COAL STATION.

The Acquisition of Great Importance, Because it Affords Increased Protection to American Commerce—Consul Sewell's Good Work in the Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The negotiations which have been pending for more than two years between the United States and the Samoan Islands, by which the harbor of Pago Pago was to be ceded to this government for use as a coaling station, have at last been successfully concluded.

The revolution delayed the consummation of this project and it was not until the conclusion of peace that any progress was made.

When the titles to the various tracts of land which the United States sought to acquire were laid before the Attorney-General for examination he found them defective, there being several claimants to each parcel of ground.

To obviate this difficulty the claim of each individual was purchased separately, the aggregate price paid being $5,000.

Since the restoration of peace in the Samoan Islands Consul Sewell has assiduously devoted himself to the completion of these negotiations. As a consequence the deeds for the property at Pago Pago are now in the possession of this government, and a delicate and important diplomatic mission has been performed.

Owing to the small sum expended in purchasing the ground there is a considerable appropriation left available for the immediate construction of wharves, storehouses, and other necessary buildings.

Accommodations will also be provided for the Consul, Vice-Consul and attaches representing the United States government in the Samoan Islands.

This acquisition is of very great importance, as it affords increased protection to American commerce, rapidly developing in the South Sea Islands.

RHODE ISLAND'S LEGISLATURE.

Convened in Special Session to Consider Important Matters.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 5.—The special session of the General Assembly convened yesterday. The Governor's message was read, recommending the passage of an act to relieve the existing difficulty with regard to the Newport municipal election and acts to insure better protection against the introduction and spread of cholera.

The Republicans introduced a bill providing for the holding of a city election in Newport on the fourth Wednesday in October under the new ward division law, the appointment of inspectors of the count of the votes, the preservation of the ballots on demand of 10 citizens, and making the new date permanent.

The Democrats presented a bill providing for an election this year under the old law and for the repeal of the new division bill.

Bills were also introduced in accordance with the recommendation of the Governor concerning public health, giving the board of health supervision of all water supplies and authorizing other preventive measures.

A resolution by the Democrats for a public hearing on the Newport matter was defeated. The Legislature adjourned until Friday.

A RIOT FEARED.

Intense Feeling Against Gen. Weaver in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 5.—So intense is the indignation at Pulaski and in Giles county over the fact that Gen. Weaver is announced to speak there Saturday next that the best citizens fear a riot. Threats are openly made against Weaver.

Chairman Carroll of the Democratic State Committee has addressed a letter to the County Chairman urging that he endeavor to allay the excitement. He said charges had been made against Weaver, and he was entitled to make a reply.

Third Party people from all over this section of the State will attend, and if Weaver is attacked there will undoubtedly be bloodshed.

THE PRESIDENT CANNOT ATTEND.

Mrs. Harrison's Condition is Such that He Must Remain in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—It is stated that at the meeting of the Cabinet yesterday the President intimated to his associates that the condition of Mrs. Harrison was such that he would not leave her bedside, and that in consequence he would be compelled to abandon his plans to be present at the exercises incident to the Columbian celebration in New York next week, and later at Chicago.

All the members of the Cabinet will be present at both celebrations. The President will be represented by Vice-President Morton.

REAL ESTATE MEN IN BUFFALO.

Gov. Flower Welcomes the Delegates—Henry George's Speech Last Night.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—Last evening's session of the second annual congress of Real Estate Dealers was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock. Henry George of New York delivered an interesting address on the "Single Tax Question." While Mr. George's theories on this question were not entirely new to many of his hearers he was listened to attentively. He advocated his plan of taxing land alone, while leaving the improvements untaxed, in a vigorous manner and received much applause.

The convention then took up routine business, receiving reports of committees which will be acted on later.

It is safe to say that there are fully 7,000 delegates and visitors in the city.

The Detroit and St. Louis contingents came in shortly before midnight. The former came in a special car decorated in true western style, and bearing banners modestly declaring that the City of the Straits was the greatest place on earth.

The St. Louis men said they want the next convention and are going to make a fight for it.

Two special trains conveying delegates from Chicago and points west of that city came in about 8 o'clock in the morning. Louisville, Nashville and Cincinnati delegations arrived an hour later and the delegates from New York and Boston, Philadelphia and other points in the East reached here about the same time.

No sooner did the delegates emerge from their coaches than they began to boom their respective abiding places as the only place to be considered for the next place of meeting.

This question will likely prove the big bone of contention before the convention.

At 10 o'clock, the hour for the opening of the convention, Music Hall was well filled.

There was considerable delay in calling the convention to order and it was 11 o'clock before President Weil brought down his gavel.

Rev. Dr. Hubbell delivered the invocation and Mayor Bishop welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city. Gov. Flower was then introduced and in a neat address welcomed the delegates to the State of New York.

Col. Henry L. Turner of Chicago responded in a neat speech and the Congress was declared formally opened.

A MYSTERY SOLVED.

Threatening Letters to a Family Traced to the Wife.

LEWISTON, Me., Oct. 5.—The solution of a mystery that has for some time puzzled the inhabitants and created much excitement in the town of Gray, appears to have been reached.

In April, 1891, a note was found in the hallway of the residence of Leonard Bennett, then located in Brunswick. The letter purported to come from a sweetheart of Mr. Bennett in his youthful days, and asked to be given an opportunity to meet him.

Little attention was paid to the first missive, but others came in quick succession, threatening the life of Bennett's wife and his grown up son and daughter, and expressing in burning terms love and devotion for the husband and a desire that they might live together.

To escape this persecution the family removed to Gray, but still the letters came and the family lived in constant fear that the threats would be carried out and that some member of the household would be murdered.

A quiet investigation that has been going on has resulted in fastening the authorship of the letters on Mrs. Bennett, who is believed to be insane.

CALLS IT BLACKMAIL.

Mrs. Sharp and Her Son, of Newark, Deny Certain Charges.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 5.—George Sharp and his mother, Mrs. Sharp, were seen by a reporter this morning at their home, near Belleville. They had just returned from New York, where, they said, they had been consulting a lawyer with the intention of prosecuting the persons who circulated the stories of an alleged criminal operation having been performed on Mrs. George Sharp, whose body has been exhumed in Brooklyn.

The charges are characterized by Mr. Sharp as an attempt at blackmail. Mrs. Sharp said that the story was a tissue of lies.

The rumor that Sharp is a relative of the late "Jake" Sharp, of New York city, is not correct.

LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 5.—Patrick O'Brien has sued Reilly & McManus, contractors, for $10,000 damages. He worked for them and was injured by the cave-in of an embankment at Conewago. He claims that he notified the contractors to shore the work to avoid accidents, and, although they promised to do so, they did not. O'Brien is crippled for life.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

Enthusiastic Convention in New York—Cleveland Makes an Address.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The National Association of Democratic Clubs has adjourned, after electing the following officers:

President, Chauncey T. Black.
Secretary, Lawrence Gardiner.
Treasurer, Gov. Roswell P. Flower.

The convention was held in the Academy of Music yesterday, and was a most enthusiastic gathering. Nearly 4,000 delegates were present.

Precisely at 10:30 ex-President Cleveland entered at the left wing, escorted by Chauncey Black, President of the League.

Without further preliminaries President Black called the convention to order and read amid continual interuptions of cheering his address:

At the close of Mr. Black's address which occupied a little over twenty minutes in delivery, cheers for Cleveland were resumed.

As they died away President Black once more stepped to the front and presented Grover Cleveland.

The convention cheered its longest. Mr. Cleveland stood with his hands folded toying with his eye-glasses, waiting for it to subside; but at his opening sentences the cheers broke out again and he said with some sternness: "Gentlemen, you must keep quiet; we have had enough noise."

Mr. Cleveland then said in part:

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN:

It affords me especial pleasure to extend to you on this occasion a hearty welcome.

As a citizen of this proud municipality I am glad to assure you that our hospitality is always open and generous.

As an unyielding, consistent believer in Democratic principles, I trust I need not hesitate to pledge to the representatives of organized Democracy, the goodwill and fraternal sympathy of this Democratic city.

This then is no holiday assemblage, but an impressive convocation in furtherance of the designs and purposes, for the accomplishment of which you and those you represent, are banded together.

These designs and purposes, as declared by your association, are: The preservation of the Constitution of the United States, the autonomy of the States, local self government and freedom of elections; opposition to the imposition of taxes beyond the necessities of the government, economically administered, and the promotion of economy in all branches of the public service.

These professions embody the purest patriotism, and the loftiest aspirations of American citizenship. Though at all times they should suggest to us the strongest obligation to political effort, their motive force, as incentives to political activity and watchfulness, should be irresistible at a time when the Constitution is held in light esteem as against the accomplishment of selfish purposes, when State boundaries are hardly a barrier to centralized power, and when local self government and freedom of elections are the scoff of partisanship. Those who subscribe to the creed of this Association and make any claim to sincerity, can hardly excuse themselves for lack of effort, at a time when the necessities of the Government, economically administered, have but little relation to the taxation of the people and when extravagance in the public service has become a contagious plague.

To those who hope for better things this convention of Democratic clubs is a bright promise of reform. Unorganized good intentions and idle patriotic aspirations cannot successfully contend for mastery with the compact forces of private interests and greed, nor is the organization always the most useful which has the widest extent.

I am sure that I can say nothing better in taking my leave of you, than to wish that your convention may be a most profitable and encouraging one, and that, at its conclusion, you may resume your places in your home organizations, newly inspired to determined and zealous effort in the cause of True Democracy.

As he retired to the back of the stage at the close of his remarks the representative Democrats who formed the "setting" of the stage rose and applauded and waved their handkerchiefs; the Harvard boys yelled; the audience stood up and cheered, the band played "Four Years More of Grover" and Mr. Cleveland withdrew.

The general business of the convention was then entered upon.

BARNABY WILL CONTEST.

Reported in Legal Circles that Providence That a Compromise is Probable.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 5.—It is reported in legal circles that there is a possibility of a compromise in the Barnaby will case.

The attorneys for the Conrads and Miss Maude Barnaby, it is said, have made a proposition whereby all opposition to the probating of the will of the late Mrs. Josephine A. Barnaby will be withdrawn, except to the legacy to Dr. T. Thatcher Graves.

It is said that the heirs and the other legatees have agreed to allow the will to stand, and that they will unite in an effort to throw out the $25,000 bequest to Dr. Graves.

Historic Mansion Burned.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Oct. 5.—The historic mansion on the Brandywine, where Washington and Lafayette slept during the revolution, and which has lately been occupied by Robert Byers, was yesterday destroyed by a fire which originated in a defective flue. Loss, $5,000; partially insured.

A Murderer Sentenced.

LACONIA, N. H., Oct. 5.—Giuseppe Manctra, alias Joseph St. Maria, the Italian who killed B. L. Perkins at Alton on Sunday, Sept. 25, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the Supreme Court, and was sentenced to 20 years in State prison.

LORD TENNYSON DYING

England's Poet Laureate Cannot Long Survive.

SUFFERING FROM GOUT AND GRIP.

Queen Victoria's Interest—Pugilist Mitchell in Serious Trouble—Papal Delegates Start for America—Cholera Ship at Gravesend—Other Cable Notes.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—It is believed that there is no hope for the recovery of Lord Tennyson. Dr. Dabbs, who is in constant attendance, says that his patient's condition is very grave. The latest bulletin issued said:

Lord Tennyson's condition is extremely critical. He is much weaker and takes nourishment with difficulty.

Tennyson's illness began on Friday. He has suffered from gout for several years, but the disease has not become acute until recently. The rapid development of influenza early in the week brought him to his bed on Friday. He was strongly opposed to yielding to the malady, as the special train which for years has conveyed him from Haselmere to the shore opposite his winter home on the Isle of Wight had already been ordered. He begged hard to be allowed to go, but Sir Andrew Clark and Dr. Dabbs told him that the journey could be made only at the peril of his life. Tennyson reluctantly consented to remain at Haslemere.

Queen Victoria, Gladstone, the Earl of Rosebery, Emperor William and dozens of other dignitaries are sending messages and receiving news as to the poet's condition. The Queen receives reports three times daily.

The only persons at the bedside of the patient are the physicians, who pass practically the whole day and night in the house, Lady Tennyson, who is a chronic invalid, Hon. Hallam Tennyson, the poet's son, and his family.

It seems highly improbable that he will recover, or even last more than two or three days, although his physicians refuse to speak as to the result of his illness. He is 83 years old.

BRUTAL PUGILIST MITCHELL.

Shamefully Assaults an Old Man, Inflicting Probably Fatal Injuries.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, was in the prisoner's dock of the Bow Street Police Court at a morning trial to answer a charge of assault.

At midnight Mitchell had a row with an old man named Salvage in a street off the Strand.

Both men had been drinking.

How the trouble started has not been ascertained, but after a few words Mitchell suddenly struck the old man a savage blow on the ear.

The blow laid open the old man's scalp and he fell stunned to the ground.

A crowd gathered, shouting "shame," "shame," etc.

A policeman arrested Mitchell and locked him up.

Salvage's wound bled profusely. He lost about a pint of blood before he could be got to the hospital. It is feared that his skull is fractured. Mitchell was remanded to await the result of closer inquiries as to the old man's condition.

Papal Delegates Start for America.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Mgr. Satolli and Mgr. O'Connell, Papal delegates, sailed for New York to-day on the steamship Majestic. Their mission is to gain information for the Vatican as to the general condition of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, and especially as to its recent growth and present membership. The Faribault school matter and the consequent differences between Archbishop Ireland and Archbishop Corrigan probably will also be investigated and reported on by the delegates.

Jesuit Election Displeases the Pope.

ROME, Oct. 5.—Father Martin, the new Jesuit General, will come to Rome shortly, and, after an audience with the Pope, will proceed to Piersole where he will live. The election of Father Martin displeased the Vatican. The Pope wished and expected that a Frenchman would be elected to the office. One consequence of the election will be, probably, that the plan to elevate a Jesuit to the Cardinalate will be abandoned.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The steamer Benalder, Captain McIntosh, from Antwerp, is in quarantine at Gravesend. There is one case of cholera on board, also another case of suspicious illness.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Thomas Barrett, who was struck by an express train at Tarrytown Saturday night, has died of his injuries at the Provident Hospital. He leaves a wife and one child. His remains were taken to an undertaker's room, where an inquest will be held by Coroner Mitchell, of Yonkers.

Marine Band Ordered to New York.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Sec. Tracy has ordered the United States Marine Band and the companies of Marines sent from here to Sandy Hook during the cholera scare to proceed to New York city, for service during the Columbus celebration. Secretary Tracy and a number of naval officers will attend the celebration.

Gen. Husted's Will.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 5.—General Husted's will is very short, and gives everything, personal property and real estate, absolutely and without reserve or condition, to his wife, Helen M. Husted. Chauncey M. Depew, Dorlin Clapp and Helen M. Husted, General Husted's wife, are named as executors.

A Twelve Club League Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The baseball magnates at their meeting decided upon the twelve club scheme for next season. They have agreed also to ask for an extension of time on all notes given by them. The losses, financially, this season are said to be very heavy.

Mitchell's Majority Over 20,000.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 5.—Latest reports estimate Mitchell's (Democrat) majority at more than 20,000. The People's party vote is disappointing, as it will be under 5,000. The entire Democratic ticket is elected.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"Absolutely the Best."

It is made of pure cream of tartar and soda, no ammonia, no alum. A like quantity goes farther and does better work. It is therefore cheaper.

Cleveland's is the baking powder used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of cookery. It never varies, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Try a can.

MINISTER EGAN HOME.

He Will Remain in New York for Several Days.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Hon. Patrick Egan, Minister to Chili, who got in yesterday on the steamer Newport from Panama, will spend a few days in this city among friends before going to Washington.

Mr. Egan's reception as the steamer reached her wharf was a most cordial one. When he came down the gangplank he was surrounded by a crowd of friends. As soon as he could regain his breath he said:

"I am glad to step once more on American soil."

In answer to the many questions that were all hurled at him at once he said that he had had a pleasant but uneventful trip.

He looked the picture of health and was in excellent spirits.

Mr. Egan declined to discuss the Baltimore question.

Mr. Egan brings with him a treaty to be negotiated with Chili.

In the treaty it is provided that all claims on the part of corporations, companies or private individuals shall be referred to their commissioners, to be appointed, one by the President of the United States, another by the President of Chili and the third by mutual agreement of the two Presidents.

If no agreement be reached within three months after the ratification of the treaty the President of the Swiss Republic shall name the third commissioner.

Claims must be presented to the Commissioners after due notice to the two governments within two months after the first day of meeting.

The Commissioners must decide on any claims within six months from the first day of meeting.

All sums of money awarded by the Commission to be paid by one Government or the other are to be paid at the capital of the receiving Government within six months of the final award.

Each Government is to pay its own commissioner, secretary and other officers, and the two are to share the expenses of the third member of the commission.

If not exceeding 5 per cent. of the amount of the award, the expenses are to be paid by a ratable reduction from the amount of the award.

The Commission is to meet as soon as possible after the ratification of the treaty.

Pleads Guilty to the Charge.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 5.—Obadiah I. Voshell, paying teller of the Smyrna Delaware National Bank, is under arrest on a charge of making false entries in the bank books, records and statements with intent to deceive the bank's officers. He was given a hearing before United States Commissioner Smith in this city and held in $6,000 bail for court. Voshell pleaded guilty to making the false entries.

Well Poisoner Evans Indicted.

GEORGETOWN, Del., Oct. 5.—The Sussex county grand jury has returned a true bill against William Evans, accused of poisoning the well of John Hosser, near Oak Grove, several weeks ago, from which one of Hosser's children died and several other persons were made seriously ill. Evans' trial will probably begin next week.

New Volcano in Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. — Commander Evans writes the Navy Department from Ounalaska under date of September 24 that a new and very violent volcano has erupted on the Alaskan peninsula in lat. 58 n., long. 159.20 w. The noise of the eruption, which took place during the last week in August, he says, was heard a distance of 60 miles.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M., Thursday: For New Jersey, Fair; Northerly Winds; Colder Thursday Morning.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Hailstones the size of peas fell on Westervelt avenue this afternoon.

—James Buchanan and Gen. J. H. Littlefield will speak at the Republican meeting to-morrow evening.

—Despatches this afternoon state that Lord Tennyson is in the last stage of his illness and is slowly passing away.

—Mrs. C. M. Fine, the popular milliner of 120 West Front street, is making a specialty of evening bonnets. She also makes and re-lines muffs.

—There will be a big meeting of the Crescent League to-night. Officers will be elected, and there will be a great lopping-off of dead wood.

—The lot at the corner of Grandview avenue and Somerset street, has been purchased of the Marsh estate, by A. M. Kirch, who will erect a store, with apartments overhead.

—At 1:50 this afternoon it rained hard on the south side of North avenue, and not a drop fell on the north side. The south side was thoroughly wet, while the north side was dry as a bone.

—The Republicans are having all sorts of hard luck with their banner on Front street. The other day it blew down and almost killed a woman. Monday night it cut the electric light wires and plunged the post-office in darkness.

—At the seventh anniversary of the Trinity church Christian Endeavor society, to-morrow evening, there will be good music, and an address by the Rev. J. Clement French of Newark, president of the Essex County Christian Endeavor union.

—The annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Newark Conference will be held in Vincent chapel to-morrow. There will be morning and afternoon sessions, and all interested in home missions are cordially invited to be present.

—The members of Garfield league desire to return thanks to the store-keepers of this city who so generously donated provisions, to the various societies who loaned articles of table service, and to the editors of the public press for the gratuitous notices which appeared in their papers, thereby enabling the ladies of the league and Major Anderson post, No. 109, G. A. R., to make the re-union of the 30th N. J. Volunteers the grand success that it was, giving pleasure to our guests and doing credit to the patriotism of our citizens.

President, George H. Fountain.

President—G. H. Fountain.
Vice-president—William Lunger.
Secretary—J. P. Reed.
Treasurer—Ethan Lamphear.

COUNTY COMMITTEE.

First ward—William Lunger.
Second ward—T. W. Burger.
Third ward—C. C. Dilts.
Fourth ward—S. T. Hoffman.

The rooms on Park avenue will be open every evening to the public. Good reading will be provided. There was a large attendance present last evening, and T. W. Burger made an address.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the G. D. Rose Grand Opera Co.

JOHN KEAN'S FAULT!

HE'S IN THE COMBINE THAT'S RAISED THE PRICE OF COAL.

And the Extra Dollar Per Ton You Pay Is to be Used to Help Along His Election.

The Courier said the other day in an editorial paragraph all by itself: "Would you know what the Democratic party has done for you in New Jersey? Look at your coal bill." Now this is only said in woful ignorance or wilful mendacity. It is a lie!

A bill did pass both branches of the legislature, having for its object the legalization of the Reading combination, but it never became a law. The Democratic party feared the powers it gave would be used to form a monopoly in anthracite coal, and Governor Abbett vetoed it.

That bill, therefore, never had any effect one way or the other on the price of fuel, and whatever mistake the legislature made in passing it was rendered entirely harmless by the action of the Governor.

Then, too, the Democratic attorney-general has secured an injunction compelling the sundering of the ties that bound the combination together.

But, as an exchange says, coal continues to go up in price notwithstanding the refusal of the Democratic party to legalize the Reading combination. It has gone up until the price charged for it is a burden upon the poor and to thinking persons there can be no doubt that the additional millions the coal barons are now squeezing and intend to squeeze out of consumers during the cold winter coming will represent untold misery and suffering.

Everybody with a vestige of influence or power is doing all he can to crush this conspiracy—except the attorney-general of the United States and the beneficiaries of the monopoly.

Among the coal barons who are solely and wholly responsible for the exorbitant price of coal and the attendant misery are the Kean family of Elizabeth, of which John, jr., is a member.

They are among the rich few direct beneficiaries of this raid upon the pockets of the poor, and it is into their already well-filled coffers that the dimes and dollars of the mechanic, the widow, the laborer and the more affluent consumer are indirectly poured.

It therefore ill-becomes Mr. Kean, his newspapers or his party, to dishonestly charge another party with an injustice which that party cannot have been guilty of, but which, on the contrary, is to Mr. Kean very largely a family affair.

The fact is suggestive—says the Newark Journal—that a goodly share of the extra dollar per ton which the coal combine has assessed upon consumers in this State goes into the capacious pockets of John Kean, jr.

Mr. Kean's millions are largely invested in stocks of the coal companies represented in the "combine". The action of these coal companies is always governed by the judgment of a majority of the stockholders. As none of the owners of coal stocks has "kicked" against an arrangement which has vastly increased their dividends it is fair to assume that John Kean, jr's, stock voted for the combine.

It seems like rubbing it on coal consumers to ask them to elect for governor a millionaire member of the coal combine, who is using some of the dividends wrung from their hard necessities, in his campaign throughout the State.

It is impudence to propose for governor a gentleman who will continue to draw his coal stock dividends after he is seated in the gubernatorial chair, and the attorney of the State is proceeding legally against his co-partners in the combine.

People who are paying a dollar more a ton for their coal than they paid before the coal companies combined to rob them, are not in the humor to elevate to the governorship a gentleman who is one of the principal beneficiaries of the combine. Nor can they be placated by the spectacle of this gentleman using his profits from the combine for his own election.

A Popular Hostelry.

Among the hotels of Plainfield and vicinity the Somerset House in North Plainfield ranks as one of the first. E. A. Boyce, who has been proprietor and sole manager for a number of years, has remodeled and refurnished this popular hostelry, and now, with the commodious stables attached, it is one of the best hotels for permanent boarders, or the transient traveling public, in the city.

The bar is always well stocked, and large or small parties can be supplied with the choicest of refreshments at short notice.

His latest addition for the benefit of the public is a lofty weather-signal pole, from the top of which the weather signals are displayed.

The host and hostess are ever on the alert to cater to the wants of their patrons.

Will There be No Large Concerts in Plainfield, This Season?

It is now improbable that there will be any concerts by the Plainfield Choral society, this season. This city will thus be left for the first time in many years, without any series of musical entertainments of any extent. It is to be hoped therefore that the efforts of the Music Hall management to arrange a course of three concerts by the Sousa band will be successful.

HYMENEAL.

Clark—Homan.

The marriage of Miss Nettie B. Homan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Homan of 6 West Fifth street, to Samuel Wakeman Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Y. Clark of New York city, took place last evening. The wedding was a very charming event. A great throng of invited guests witnessed the ceremony in the M. E. church, where the Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell officiated. The bride was a picture of radiant beauty in a dainty costume of white Bengaline silk, adorned with duchesse lace and pearl trimming. She was attended by Miss Mattie A. Covert, maid of honor, who was becomingly attired in corn-colored silk, and the Misses Dora and Grace Ulrick, flower girls, who wore white silken gowns. The groom's best man was P. Howard Wilson of New York; and the ushers were Frank Martin, Fred Newman and Frank Newman, all of Plainfield, and Dr. Arthur Boyer. The ceremony was in the established form of the Methodist Episcopal church, and was very pretty and impressive. The wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents was a most felicitous event. The house had been handsomely decorated, and caterer Stephenson had prepared elaborate refreshments in his usual choice style. All had a delightful time, and showered good wishes and beautiful gifts on the happy young couple, who left on a late train for their wedding trip.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

J. H. Jackson, has returned from a business trip through Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

A reception and sale will be given by the Daughters of the Cross at the Park club-house Friday afternoon, Oct. 14, from 4 to 6.

Walter A. Hudson, of New York, a basso of high repute, has arranged for the opening of a studio in Plainfield, where he will receive pupils for voice culture.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, in "That Girl From Mexico", will be the next entertainment at Music Hall. It is believed that Plainfield society will show its taste and appreciation by a large attendance.

Gustave Sutterlein of Greenbrook road gave a celebration party last night in honor of his wife's birthday anniversary. There were over 60 present, and all had a most pleasant evening. The singing by the Gesang and Turn Verein was especially fine.

The first regular meeting of the Choir Boys' Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross was held last evening at the residence of Charles P. Taggart, Sycamore avenue. After the regular business meeting, the boys spent the rest of the evening in playing games and having a generally good time. The meetings of the society are to be held monthly.

ROUSING CELEBRATION.

There Will Be Great Enthusiasm at To-Morrow Night's Banner-Raising.

There will be great times at the Democratic banner-raising in North Plainfield to-morrow night. The banner will be unfurled at 8, and will stretch across Somerset street from the Democratic headquarters to Henry Voehl's building. The band concert will be fine, and the display of fireworks abundant. The street will be finely decorated, and all residents are requested to illuminate in honor of the occasion. There will be good speakers, including probably the genial ex-speaker James J. Bergen, whom everyone like to hear.

To Swell the Building Fund.

Mrs. H. P. Bradley is getting up a "silver offering sociable", to be held at her residence, 44 Jefferson avenue, to-morrow afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Women's Friendly society of Evona, of which she is a member, and for the benefit of the Sunday-school building fund of Evona. It promises to be a very successful affair, and all interested in this work are cordially invited.

Youth's Suits Cut in the Latest Fashion Plate Shape.

There is no buyer of clothing that likes as much style on his garments as a young man from his first long pants up to 22 or 23 years of age, and that is where Watson & Co., please the dressy Newark boys, as they have a special designer for young men, who gives them the full fashion plate cut on all their garments.

Look at the new D. B. Dress and Walking Suits now shown in all their Broad and Market street windows marked $10 and $12 and you will see how the cut will improve the dress appearance of a youth.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

As she enters womanhood, every young girl needs the wisest care. Troubles beginning then may make her whole life miserable. But the troubles that are to be feared have a positive remedy. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription builds up and strengthens the system, and regulates and promotes every proper function. It's a generous, supporting tonic, and a quieting, soothing nervine—a legitimate medicine, not a beverage, free from alcohol and injurious drugs. It corrects and cures, safely and surely, all those delicate derangements and weaknesses peculiar to the sex.

A remedy that does cure is one that can be guaranteed. That's what the proprietors of "Favorite Prescription" think. If it doesn't give satisfaction, in every case for which it's recommended, they'll refund the money. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms.

Decide for yourself whether something else sold by the dealer, is likely to be "just as good" for you to buy.

100 YEARS OLD.

SAMPTOWN BAPTISTS CELEBRATE THEIR CENTENNIAL.

Interesting Reminiscences by ex-City Clerk O. B. Leonard of Plainfield.

The good people of the Samptown Baptist church (now New Brooklyn) are today celebrating their one-hundredth anniversary. At this morning's session, O. B. Leonard, formerly city clerk of Plainfield, read an historical sketch covering the first half century, and the present pastor, the Rev. E. Thompson, read a history of the last fifty years. A portion of Mr. Leonard's interesting paper is herewith published:

PIONEER PLANTERS AND FAMILY ANCESTRY.

This year, A. D. 1892, the great Baptist denomination celebrates its centennial of foreign missions for the conversion of the Pagan world.

The Samptown Baptist church began its individual church life this same year that William Carey was instrumental in the organization of this first missionary society at Kittering in 1792.

While the millions of adherents of the Baptist faith in both hemispheres are commemorating the grandest of modern enterprises for the evangelizing of the earth, the minds of this little community will be engrossed for the present in "considering the years of many generations" and "preparing themselves for the search of their fathers" as God gave them faith and courage to plant the standard of the cross in this locality one hundred years ago.

ORIGIN OF SETTLEMENT.

The beginning of the settlement in this part of New Jersey antedated the constitution of the Samptown church a century and a quarter. Three or four generations had at first occupied their house lots and tilled their outlying farm plots, the original deed for which was dated December 18, 1666. This conveyance of real estate embraced a territory of about 40,000 acres including the plantations in and around Samptown.

This land title came from the Woodbridge Patentees, a small colony from Newbury, on the Merrimac, in New England. These pioneers had come during the spring of 1666 and purchased a tract lying between the Rahway and Raritan rivers for £80 from the "Elizabethtown Grantors", whose charter was obtained by royal patent from England the previous year.

Among the encouragements held out from the very beginning for peopling this province was the unrestricted freedom guaranteed in matters of religion. To escape the intolerance of the established church order in New England and Long Island and avoid other indignities and deprivations to which they were constantly subjected, the Samptown ancestry moved to the rich farming land along the Raritan and its tributaries. To the new colony the old name of Piscataqua was first given in memory of the eastern home of some of them on the banks of a river bearing the same name. Here in this vicinity they cleared the forests, tilled the soil, built them homes and peopled the land with men and women who lived and wrought and died and left a posterity to take up the work in the strength of the God of their fathers.

The names of the original freeholders and first pioneers succeeding them for several generations were included in less than one hundred households, direct descendants from a few of whom composed the families constituting the greater part of the constituency of this parish at its organization in 1792. The more prominent members helped especially to make the history of the Samptown church through seasons of joy and sorrow, of conflicts and triumphs, and among them were Christian women not a few, devoted, abiding in faith and good works.

The following are the names of most of the families who first took up land in this region and whose descendants constituted the greater part of the membership of the Baptist churches at Piscataway, Scotch Plains and Samptown. This list embraces representatives of the Dunns, Martins, Hulls, Gillmans, Dunham, Drake, Langstaff, Fitz Randolph, Manning, Walker, Smalley, Bonham, Mundy, Giles, Runyon, Wooden, Sutton, Halton, Mollison, Dayton, Stelle, Blackford, Clarkson, Coriell, Platt, Brokaw, Boice, Bishop, Fords, Merrill, Higgins, Hendrieks, Field, Laing, Webster, Lupardus and others, all of whose names at one time or another have appeared upon the church roll of the Samptown Baptist church.

INLAND DEVELOPMENT.

With the distribution of the unoccupied back lands in 1699 and 1700 and the later division among the settlers of interior tracts in 1717, many of the younger generation moved inland. But not till the last allotments were made in 1734 and 1738 did any considerable number venture beyond the town lots of Elizabethtown, Woodbridge and Piscatawaytown. But the attractions of new fields of husbandry towards the "Blew Hills" induced an increasing number after this date to push further towards the inferior and occupy fertile farms on Cedar brook and Green Brook and the rich valleys beyond the mountains, so that by 1750 there were occupied farms scattered all along over the country from the Raritan river and Staten Island Sound on the east to the Passaic river near its source and the mountains beyond.

CHURCH ANTECEDENTS.

Nearly all of the original pioneers and associates who emigrated to Piscataway township in 1666 and a generation thereafter were ardent advocates of the Baptist faith or particularly inclined to advance their religious doctrines and principles.

Though no public church organization of this denomination existed through the first twenty years after the first settlement in which the pioneer planters were establishing their temporal and government affairs, yet as soon as it was practicable they officially constituted themselves into a Gospel church during 1689.

For a little more than fifty years afterward the membership of this Baptist church located at first at Piscataqaytown remained undivided—though the congregation was gathered from the farming population, as has been observed, extending over a territory of twenty miles square reaching as far as the hills of Morris county. The steady increase of industrious planters pushing into the unbroken interior, largely of Baptist families, suggested the necessity of forming another church centre at Scotch Plains. Ten to twenty miles distance made it very inconvenient for persons to attend church very regularly or very often during the bad roads of winter and early spring.

For the accommodation of those who at greatest inconvenience for several years had been worshiping with their fathers at Piscatawaytown, the Baptist church at Scotch Plains was organized in 1747 by the withdrawal of some fifteen members from the parent church.

The erection of this meeting-house at the Plains afforded a convenient resort for public worship and satisfied the membership farther to the northwest for a period of about five years. By this time a few other families of the Piscataway church located on scattered farms in the hill country of Morris county decided to raise the Baptist banner at a centre nearer to their mountain homes. In 1752 the Morristown church was constituted by 11 members of the parent church dismissed for this purpose.

In 1767 the Baptist households of the Scotch Plains society, for many years residents in Washington and Passaic valleys, to the number of 18, withdrew and were formed into a Gospel church, worshiping at first about four miles westerly, and afterward at Mt. Bethel, about seven miles beyond. Two years later, in 1769, twelve persons obtained letters of dismission to be incorporated into a Baptist church northeasterly ten miles at Lyons Farms.

REVOLUTIONARY DEPRESSION.

During the next decade began the mutterings of the coming storm, when the war clouds were gathering which burst upon the nation a few years later. The Revolutionary struggle arrested further church extension for a full score of years, not in this commonwealth only but all over the land. In many instances whole congregations were scattered and church organizations became broken and disbanded. The ravages of the British army while quartered in the township of Piscataway with headquarters at New Brunswick, destroyed a million dollars' worth of property, besides entailing great misery and discomfort upon the families, many of whom afterwards composed this parish.

After the declaration of peace in 1783 and the settling down of the people to mercantile pursuits and domestic industries, matters of religious faith received increased attention. About the opening of the 18th century new fields of Christian usefulness were explored and church extension increased with continued growth of population.

STRUGGLES FOR SEPARATE SOCIETY.

A goodly number of the descendants of the Piscataway families who had moved away from the first tilled farms of that township, and taken letters from the mother church in 1747 to form the Scotch Plains Baptist church, were comfortably located on lands where New Brooklyn, Dunellen, New Market and Plainfield are now situated.

By 1790 a score or more of these settlers used to hold religious exercises occasionally in their private dwellings at convenient points between the two meeting houses. During the summer of 1791 the question was publicly considered by both churches of holding preaching services on convenient Sundays throughout the year at Samptown, the meetings to be conducted alternately by pastors Van-Horn and Runyon.

It was at first proposed, in 1791, to the Scotch Plains and Piscataway congregations by the people in the neighborhood of Samptown, belonging in part to both churches, that the ministers of each body attend divine service every third Lord's day in their midst at a point convenient to the greatest number of worshipers. A joint committee from the two congregations was appointed and reported the plan as advisable. But, when the question came up before the two respective churches in their business meetings, the proposal was disapproved.

Though the desired course after deliberation was not deemed expedient, it was thought advisable to establish the brethren who lived at Samptown into an independent church, and such was the recommendation in the fall of the same year by both societies.

During the spring and summer of the following year, 1792, a few earnest and progressive brethren foremost in the request for separate services purchased a lot on the easterly side of the road half way between Totown and Quibbletown. Before the year ended a modest little meeting-house was erected by them on the plot. The building was 28 feet by 18 feet, and 18 feet posts, sheathed inside with planed pine boards, with no lath and plaster, and the exterior was enclosed with cedar shingles.

ORGANIZATION AND CONSTITUENCY.

The records of the Scotch Plains church, under date of August 21, 1792, state that twenty-one members request letters of dismission for the purpose of organizing an independent Baptist church at Samptown.

A further request was urged by these petitioners in a communication of October 4, and at a business meeting of the Scotch Plains church, October 10, 1792, the following named persons petitioning were granted dismission for the purpose stated.

CONSTITUENT MEMBERS.

Joseph Manning, Zerniah Manning, Joseph Drake, Benjamin Blackford, Mary Blackford, Samuel Drake, Judith Drake, Ephraim F. Randolph, Rachel F. Randolph, Joseph F. Randolph, Robert F. Randolph, Christianus Lupardus, Peter Till, Christianus Lupardus, jr., Dugal Ayers, John Luke, Margaret Luke, George Laing, Anna Laing, Morris Frazee, Eunice Shaw and Dr. Cole.

The first entry in the official minute book of the Samptown church is the following: "After repeated requests being made to the congregations of Scotch Plains and Piscataway to be supplied by their ministers in conjunction (so that we need not be constituted with a different church) were rejected, we whose names are inserted in the following letter of dismission from Scotch Plains church thought it most advisable to take our dismissal from said church (being twenty-one in number) for the purpose of organizing a church in the new house to be known as the Samptown church."

Preparations were at once made for the official recognition of the church. The Rev. Benjamin Coles, of Long Island, the Rev. David Jones, of Pennsylvania, and the Rev. Jacob Fitz Randolph, of Mt. Bethel church, were invited to assist in the public organization.

After solemn and appropriate services on the appointed day the constituent members previously named signed the following statement, after which the last two designated ministers affixed their signatures to a statement under date of December 1, 1792, as having regularly "constituted the twenty-one persons a church of Jesus Christ in Gospel order":

We whose name are hereunto annexed, professing believers in baptism by immersion only, the laying on of hands, the eternal election, particular redemption, special vocation, and final perseverance in grace, together with the fundamental doctrines contained in the confession of faith adopted by the Baptist association of Philadelphia, September 25, 1742, being members of the Scotch Plains church, from an appreciation that it will be for the glory of God and our mutual benefit to be constituted into a distinct church in Gospel order in the vicinity of Samptown, Piscataway township, county of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, having obtained a regular dismission for this purpose, have set apart this first day of December, 1792, for public organization."

On the same occasion the officiating clergymen duly ordained Joseph Fitz Randolph as ruling elder and Joseph Manning and Christianus Lupardus the first deacons of the church.

The first trustees of the church and congregation were elected the following month in January, 1793, consisting of Thompson Stelle, Samuel F. Randolph, Joseph Manning, Benjamin Blackford, Ephraim F. Randolph, Samuel Drake and Benjamin Laing.

"Well, you got the office?"

"Yes."

'What did it cost you?"

"That's a hard question. You see, I broke my leg running for it, and that cost considerable; then my brother-in-law was killed making a speech for me, and I had to bury him; then I barbecued all my cattle, killed three mules ridin' around the country, mortgaged the farm, and got a divorce from the family; so, you see, it kinder foots up."—Atlanta Constitution.

DR. PINKHAM'S PROVERBIAL PHILOSOPHY

A woman best understands a woman's ills.

At the age of fifty, Mrs. Pinkham publicly commenced her great work of helping such women as could not help themselves. Having devoted her life to the study of female complaints she discovered that a large proportion of the diseases of women have a common origin and may have a common cure. That cure she created, and named Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how honest was her purpose and trustworthy her judgment is plainly indicated by thousands of such thankful letters as this:

DEAR MADAM,—. . . . Would that I could induce all suffering women to give your Compound a fair trial. I must say to you that it is an invaluable medicine. It has been very beneficial to myself and daughter.—Mrs. S. BLAIR, Roanoke City, Va

Citizens and tax-payers of the Borough of North Plainfield are invited to attend and be heard at a meeting of the Common Council on Friday evenings, October 7, and November 4, next. It is proposed to present for adoption an ordinance granting a franchise to construct and maintain an electric trolley railroad on Somerset street with such extension or diversion of route as the owners of a majority of the property fronting on available streets in that vicinity, and the best interests of the Borough may determine.

WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS,
Mayor.

AMERICA'S NOBILITY.

It Is Composed of Members of the Grand Army.

The Most Exclusive Aristocracy on Earth—Memories of the Days When the Call for Soldiers Electrified Every Section of the Land.

[Special Washington Letter.]

Sound the loud timbrel, exultingly sing; the long war is over, the soldier is king. He comes not with royal pomp and panoply, nor carries he booty and jewels. He is clad neither in purple nor fine linen. No prisoner-slaves are chained to his chariot wheels. He is regal only in the hearts of a loyal and united people. Here in the national capital he reigns as no potentate ever reigned. His scepter is the olive branch, and his crown is commingled gratitude and love.

Speaking to sons and daughters of veterans of the armies of the union, a prominent politician recently fittingly asserted that those children are of noble blood. Their fathers were knighted by the sovereign hand of the people of the republic. But, there is an aristocracy in the land which transmits not its heritage. All soldiers are not yet classed with this upper tendom; but every member of the select is a soldier. There never was such an exclusive aristocracy on earth as the Grand Army of the Republic. Its membership is select, and its number diminishing, rather than increasing. Day by day and hour by hour this aristocratic class is growing numerically less. The emperor of Germany, the czar of all the Russias, the queen of Great Britain and Ireland and empress of India cannot join this brotherhood. No Rothschild, Vanderbilt nor Gould; no money king, and no prince of politicians or statesmen can be admitted to this select circle. None but the boy in blue who bore musket or sabre, or fought at cannon's mouth, can find admission to the conclaves of the grand army.

As the world grows in wealth, and as generations multiply, the money kings and princes of society increase in number, and the nobility of monarchies doth multiply. But the grand army is growing more exclusive year by year. The day is coming when there will be but two survivors of this aristocracy; and one of them will follow his comrade to the grave, and fire the remnant of a volley over his remains when they are lowered into the grave. The last survivor will be buried by inferiors, and over his grave the soldiers of a new generation will fire an echo of the last volley which he himself had fired over the resting place of his last comrade. Do you realize what an aristocracy that is? There never was anything like it in the history of the world. It is not likely that the earth will ever again see such an exclusive band.

Thirty-one years ago "Halstead's Horse," the gallant young men from New Jersey, were the first soldiers to come to the relief of Washington. There was only a battalion of cavalry, and it was afterwards known as the First New Jersey. Following them came the Sixth Massachusetts, and in their wake came tens of thousands from the stores, workshops, farms and manufactories of the land. They came by rail, and, because of limited facilities, they came in comparatively small detachments. Many miles of the old Baltimore & Ohio road were guarded by soldiers, in order to prevent the interruption of transportation of troops and supplies. To-day, over twelve lines of road, they are coming by the tens of thousands, and no guards are needed to insure perfect transportation. They have lived to see peace, perfect peace.

There was a time when the people cried "peace, peace," but there was no peace. The entire land was in the throes of seismic political disturbance. Even the quiet New England villages and the hamlets of the western prairies were in turmoil. Friends of a lifetime were foes and enemies. In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, discussion preceded anger; anger preceded insult; blows followed, and sometimes life was held as cheap as a bauble; and all this even in our country homes. This condition obtained in the north, south, east and west. Out of these ebullitions the grand army was evolved. There are thousands of old maiden ladies in the states to-day who were sweethearts then. They know and have known, all through the lonely years of bitterness and lamentation, how and why their lovers sprang to arms and left them. They know all too well that they are still waiting and watching for the time when they can see "Johnnie come marching home again," knowing in their minds that their good-by at the garden gate was a good-by forever, and that their soldier boys will never come back; and yet, in their woman hearts, they are longing to see "the troops come marching home again, with glad and gallant tread."

You all know the widowed mothers, whose husbands and sons went forth. They have learned long since that, for each and every one of them, "some other son must comfort her old age." They have learned that the stalwart husband and promising boy sleep the sleep that knows no waking somewhere in the southern soil between the silent waters of the Potomac and the Rio Grande; sleep there in order that this government of the people, by the people and for the people might not fade from the earth. And yet, their wifely and motherly hearts picture again and again the blaring bands, the steady steps and manly bearing of each company and regiment that went to the front. The cry was: "On to Richmond," but before they got to that objective point many a poor fellow fell to rise no more. Lips were sealed in sudden death and voices stilled which had but recently been singing:

"Just before the battle, mother,
I am thinking, dear, of you,
While upon the field we're marching,
With the enemy in view.
Farewell, mother, you may never
Press me to your heart again;
But oh, you'll not forget me, mother,
If I'm numbered with the slain."

Of them, rather than of all others loved and lost in this generation, it may most truly be said that "they are gone but not forgotten." Their memories are ever green in the hearts of home. They are the charter members of the Grand Army above; and, if there is the possibility of an aristocracy in Heaven, those dear dead boys in blue have seats nearest the Great White Throne, where their royal rank can best be recognized by all.

There is a grand army post here from Illinois, and they have a splendid octette; not of cultured voices, but of natural singers. They are all gray-beards now; and one of them is sightless, while another wears an empty sleeve. But how they can sing the old war songs, and how they do draw crowds around their headquarters. They have just been moistening the eyes of two score listeners, singing a song, whose last verse was this:

"We've been fighting to-day on the old camp ground,
Many are lying near.
Some are dead, and some are dying,
Many are in tears.
Many are the hearts that are weary to-night,
Wishing for the war to cease.
Many are the hearts looking for the right,
To see the dawn of peace.
Tenting to-night; tenting to-night; tenting on the old camp grounds!"

I am not soft-hearted, nor sentimental: but when those old soldiers of the legion sang that song, I must confess to the shedding of a few unbidden tears. I couldn't help thinking of dear old Belknap; and of McPherson; and Lytle [illegible] boys, dear hearts, how they used to warm towards the boys who are still here, singing the old songs they used to sing, in chorus sweet and clear. Who can be ashamed of such tears?

Do you remember the old fifes and drums: those barrel drums, nearly two feet long? I used to try to carry one of them and play upon it, while Fifer Kilmartin, of the Burlington zouaves, in the old First Iowa infantry, played "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Well, here are some of the old boys, just coming in on the Pennsylvania road. They are from New England and there is a little old fat man puffing and blowing while he rattles on one of those old-time drums. This is certainly like old times. The fifer is one of those tall, gaunt, raw-boned men of the hill country. He may be only fifty, or he may be seventy years of age. He is of that sturdy stock which withstood Pickett's charge at Gettysburg. No soldiers on earth but southerners could have made such a charge as that. No soldiers on earth could have resisted it save the cool, deliberate, brave Yankees of Vermont. Well, this fifer is evidently one of them, and he is as earnest in playing "Bonnie Doon" as my old friend Kilmartin used to be in playing about the young lady whom he left behind him at Burlington.

You must get here within the next few days somehow. You can sell an old suit of clothes, and borrow ten dollars from one friend and ten dollars from another, buy a round trip ticket and come. It may take you six months to pay your debts; but it will take you a life time to fully enjoy the reminiscences of the last grand review of the aristocratic Grand Army of the Republic. Get ready and come. We are looking for you and for all of your friends. If you can't find time to leave your work or your business, why just take time anyway and come. Why, if there were to be nothing else to see but Sheridan's cavalry, you should come. Those gallant riders of the Shenandoah valley, though their ranks are thinned, will ride together up Pennsylvania avenue next week for the last time on earth.

THE WHEELBARROW.

It's the Only Vehicle to Be Seen in the Streets of Chinese Cities.

As we pass through Japan into China we find that the Chinese, like the Japanese, seldom use horses. In Japan men draw immense loads in jinrikshas and two-wheeled wagons, but the Chinese, writes Eli Perkins in the New York Sun, use the wheelbarrow. A Chinaman will wheel half a ton clear across the city of Shanghai for ten cents.

In this old Chinese town, the city of Shanghai, around which a wall was built a thousand years ago, we see all the industries carried on in the most primitive style. Here is a man pounding copper into a teakettle, logs are being sawed by hand, and hand looms are weaving silk. Carpenters, blacksmiths and masons work for $2.50 a week, and subsist on rice and a little peanut oil and fish. Rice is worth 1½ cents per pound, and 35 cents' worth will feed a Chinaman for a month.

The Chinese tailor will make a lady's dress or a suit of clothes $5 cheaper than any other tailor on earth. Hundreds of tourists fit themselves out in China. They use English goods and pay Chinese wages, which are $3 a week for an expert tailor capable of reproducing any garment.

A most superb test of Chinese ingenuity occurred yesterday. A large stout lady in our party, with jinriksha riding and hard traveling, had used up her last pair of French corsets. Its many broken and protruding bones made it unbearable. When my tailor brought back a Tuxedo suit this morning Mrs. Marsh said jokingly:

"John, you makee corset?"

John took the corset in his hand, examined its difficult mechanism, and said: "Yes, me makee. Me can do."

Mrs. Marsh gave him the sample, and this morning John sidled in softly with two perfect corsets. They were absolute copies, one in pink and the other in black satin, and fitted to a charm! John's price was $3 for duplicating a $15 French corset.

ODD FELLOWS' ORPHANS.

Those Living in Illinois Will Hereafter Have a Splendid Home.

The orphans' home erected by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at Lincoln, Ill., was dedicated a few days ago with appropriate ceremonies. The building is a splendid one, four stories high. The first story is of Joliet limestone, and the other three of red brick, trimmed with brown sandstone and roofed with old Bangor slate. It is one hundred and thirteen feet long by seventy-seven feet deep, with fire escapes in the rear, and will accommodate one hundred and twenty children.

I. O. O. F. ORPHANS' HOME.

Cottages will be erected to furnish additional accommodations. The building is thoroughly equipped with hot and cold water, electric lights, and all modern conveniences. Two large classrooms, which occupy a part of the second floor, can be thrown together and converted into a large chapel, which will be ample for all gatherings which may have occasion to be held at the home. Rev. C. E. Schaille, the superintendent, is thoroughly imbued with the spirit of odd fellowship, and is thoroughly interested in the success of the home. He was one of the citizens who made the effort to secure its location here, and he has been the custodian of the building since its completion in May.

Declined with Thanks.

A doctor who was treating one of his patients for a simple but tedious disorder found the man in such an irritable condition that he began to cheer him up, says the New York Evening Sun. But his words fell on deaf ears, for the man had been housed up so long that he was firmly convinced that his time had come. "Tut, tut," said the doctor. "I'll have you round again in a few days if you'll keep quiet and take the medicine. Why, man, I suffer from the same complaint as you myself." There was a look of compassion in the patient's eyes as he reached out the bottle, and said: "In that case, doctor, take some of this medicine you prescribed for me." The man had grown almost hopeful under the influence of the doctor's reassuring words, but his hopes were cruelly dashed the next moment as the medical man drew back from the bottle with a shudder and replied: "No, thanks."

He Repented at Leisure.

He—Will you marry me, Ethel?

She—Yes.

He—But look here—good Heavens—this isn't fair. You declined all the other fellows.—Jury.

No Doubt.

Acquaintance—Where passed you the summer?

Milkman—At my watering place, as usual.—Chicago Globe.

LORD TENNYSON IS DEAD

The Poet Expired Peacefully Early This Morning.

HE WAS CONSCIOUS TO THE END

His Death Due to an Attack of Gout, Complicated With the Influenza—All England Mourning—His Principal Works—Made Poet Laureate in 1851.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Lord Tennyson died at 1:35 a. m.

Early in the evening Lady Clark left the house and took a carriage to be driven to London. She said that all hope was gone. Tennyson's mind was unclouded, and he knew that his remaining hours of life were few. He had talked tranquilly of his death with his wife and his son Hallam. He seemed to be perfectly happy and free from pain. Lady Clark spoke with tears as she told of the scene at the bedside.

All hope of Tennyson's recovery was abandoned between 11 and 12 o'clock Tuesday night. The gardener yesterday fastened with a stout rope the rustic gate at the front entrance to the grounds around the house and tied a basket to the latch. He explained that Lord Tennyson was very near death, and the family wished to secure perfect quiet by the exclusion of all visitors from the grounds. The basket was for the cards of friends or admirers who might come for the news of the poet's condition. Bulletins were fastened to the rustic gate.

As the morning advanced many men arrived at Aldworth from London and joined the watchers outside the gate. Many persons came and went after dropping their cards in the basket. Hundreds of telegrams and letters of inquiry, condolence and sympathy were brought from all parts of Great Britain and the Continent.

Toward evening most of the watchers went to Haslemere or London, leaving only the reporters at the gate. At nightfall the windows of Aldworth were lighted, and the large bow windows opposite the terrace steps were thrown open. Those outside thought that the poet was dead, but this impression was corrected by the late bulletins.

Dr. Dabbs says that Tennyson's acute illness began on Sept. 27. He was chilled while driving, and the severe cold which he then caught developed rapidly into influenza.

Alfred Tennyson was born in Lincolnshire in 1809. In 1833 he published his first volume of poems and in 1881 succeeded Wordsworth as poet laureate.

His principal works include the Morte d' Anthur, In Memoriam, The Princess, Idyls of the King, Enoch Arden, The Holy Grail.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S GIFT.

Corner Stone of the Memorial Library at Ayr Laid.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—In Ayr yesterday the corner stone of the Memorial Library, presented to this town by Andrew Carnegie, was laid with elaborate ceremonies.

Almost the whole town took a holiday and despite the hostility of the working-people to the affair, an immense crowd gathered round the site of the building.

The procession from the Town Hall to the foundations of the buildings was led by the city officials, Mr. Carnegie and Mrs. Carnegie.

Mrs. Carnegie laid the corner stone and the Mayor, after delivering a speech of effusive thanks, presented Mr. Carnegie with the freedom of the city.

As Mr. Carnegie stepped forward, hat in hand to reply, he was greeted with round after round of cheers so loud that a few groans and cries about Homestead were hardly audible. Mr. Carnegie spoke at considerable length. Part of his remarks was as follows:

"I feel more strongly bound than ever to devote the remaining years of my life less to alms ending in self and more to the service of others, using my surplus wealth and spare time in the manner most likely to produce the greatest good to the masses of the people. From these masses comes the wealth which is entrusted to the owner only as administrator."

Mr. Carnegie received from the city a magnificently illustrated volume of "Views of the Land of Burns."

DEACON BENT ON DIVORCE.

He Received His Wife's Card at a Hotel, But Refused to See Her.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—On October 13 Deacon will prosecute his wife before a court of judges in Grasse on the charge of criminal adultery, for which the penalty under French law is not more than two years and not less than three months in prison.

Mr. Deacon's suit for divorce will be brought probably in an American court.

While in Paris, Mr. Deacon received his wife's card at the Hotel Brighton, but he refused to talk with her or allow her to enter his room.

Sang "Ta-ra-ra" in a Church Congress.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—At the Church Congress in the Dover Town Hall, yesterday, Major Edwards, recent Labor candidate for Parliament, rose between the opening prayer and the Bishop of Manchester's address on theosophy, and began singing lendly "Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay." Several clergymen tried to pull him down into his seat and quiet him, but he clung to a pillar and sang on. Two constables were called and they ejected Edwards.

EDWIN BOOTH HURT.

Falls in a Faint at His Hotel in Lakewood, N. J.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 6.—The condition of Edwin Booth, who is wintering here, is giving his friends great anxiety. Yesterday he met with a serious fall, and he is now confined to his bed.

Mr. Booth was out riding, and upon returning to his room in the Laurel House he complained to his daughter of feeling dizzy and faint. He also said that he had a pain in the head. Before his daughter could lay aside the work that she had in her hands the actor fell in a swoon upon the floor.

In falling Mr. Booth struck his head against the edge of the mantlepiece, inflicting a bad but not dangerous cut over the right eye. In falling he also received a stunning blow upon the head.

Mrs. Grossman became frightened, and at once summoned help. The actor was carried to his bed, where his wounds were dressed by the house physician Mr. Booth has been in ill-health for some time, and it was thought that the change of climate would do him good. The accident, coming as it does, on top of his illness, is causing his family as well as his large circle of friends much anxiety.

Mrs. Grossman said that her father was troubled with vertigo, and thinks that his fall was due to that. She says that fortunately he received no serious wounds, and she hopes that he will be out in a few days.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Bishop Neely Made Assistant Presiding Officer—Yesterday's Proceedings.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 6.—The sessions of the Protestant Episcopal convention will be held daily from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. The House of Bishops assembled yesterday afternoon and re-elected Rev. Dr. William Tatlock of Stamford, Conn., secretary.

The assembling of the House of Deputies brought together a distinguished body of clergymen and laymen. Among them were Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller of the United States Supreme Court, who is a representative from the diocese of Chicago; Dr. Seth Low, Pres't of Columbia College, New York, and ex-Mayor of Brooklyn, one of the deputies from the Long Island diocese; ex-Gov. A BOLD ABDUCTION.

Miss Lela Bennett Torn Away from Home at Maxtown, O.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 6.—At Maxtown, in the northeastern part of Franklin county, yesterday, there occurred a desperate encounter between three men and three women. A young man named Samuel Bangs has for some time been paying attention to Miss Lela Bennett, who resides with her three brothers, a sister, and her elder brother's wife.

Miss Bennett did everything possible to discourage Bangs, and expressed great indignation at his persistency. Yesterday morning Bangs, accompanied by his brother Edward, and a man named Quince Van Tassell, appeared at the home of the Bennetts. There was no one there but the two Bennett girls, Edna and Lela, and the wife of A. E. Bennett. The ladies suspected that the fellows meant no good to them, and when they rapped at the door, instead of opening it, locked it, and also locked all the other doors and windows, and all three fled to the upper part of the house.

The men secured a ladder, and climbing to an upper window smashed it in and entered the room. Edna Bennett procured a shotgun and fired upon the intruders. The shot struck Van Tassell in the breast, but before she could fire again the gun was taken from her and thrown out of the window. The two Bangs boys then seized Miss Lela and forced her out of the window, down the ladder and into the wagon.

They then drove away at full speed, and have so far eluded capture. The Bennetts are prominent and respectable people and the whole neighborhood is out in arms against the abductors.

The steamship Coolmbia, from New York, which had been held in quarantine since Sept. 23, was allowed to land her passengers and mails.

CRESPO WINS THE DAY

Defeats the Venezuelan Government Forces.

BLOODY BATTLE AT LOS TEQUES,

Six Hundred Killed—Officers Made Prisoners—The Victorious General Intends Entering Caracas Immediately—La Guayra Still in the Government's Possession.

LA GUAYRA, Venezuela, Oct. 6. — A desperate battle has just taken place at Los Teques, a small town on the railroad line to Valencia, at a distance about equal between that place and Caracas.

Six hundred are killed and many high government officials captured. Crespo has struck another decisive blow, which, following upon his previous successes since the revolution began in last March, means victory for the Crespistas.

To-day, Caracas is more than ever excited. Crespo has announced his determination to enter the capital immediately.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The steamship Venezuela, just arrived from La Guayra, brings the latest news from the Venezuelan revolution. As affairs stand now the long struggle is nearing an end and will result in the overthrow of the government, which has made such a persistent fight.

According to the reports, Gen. Colino, with a force of 6,000 men, joined Gen. Crespo, the revolutionist leader, at Valencia, on Sunday, Sept. 25. This, the report says, made Crespo's force number 16,000 men. On Monday, Sept. 25, Gen. Crespo started his forces for Caracas. A portion of his advance guard arrived at La Victoria on Sept. 28. Crespo is advancing his forces upon Caracas by different routes. They all expect to meet at Caracas.

The march from Valencia would occupy from 12 to 15 days, provided there is no interruption. At Los Peques the revolutionists will fight their decisive battle. Las Peques is the best fortified place that the government holds, and Gen. Polido is there with 6,000 soldiers.

It will be necessary for Crespo to take this point before he can enter Caracas. Once he is in possession of Los Peques his entrance into Caracas will be an easy matter.

On Sep. 28 there was a battle between revolutionists and government troops at a place called Vacuta, which is just outside of La Guayra, and the revolutionists were defeated. Each side had about 6,000 men. The revolutionist troops were approaching the town of La Guayra when the government troops opened fire upon them from the mountain side, and from the advantage of their position succeeded in putting the revolutionists to flight.

All those who can are leaving Caracas, and in order to do so must obtain the permission of the highest officials in power.

THE MAFIA IN CHICAGO.

Believed That Martino Was One of the Society's Victims.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Lieut. Wheeler of the Chicago police, who has been working diligently for several days on the case of Eligero Martino, the Italian who was killed Sunday night in a west side saloon, believes that Martino was a victim of the dreaded Mafia, and says that he has good reason to think that a branch of the society which caused so much trouble in New Orleans a little over a year ago exists in this city.

This belief is based upon the actions of the seven Italians who were arrested after the shooting and the positive testimony of three Italians that a branch of the society is established here. The seven men were present in the saloon when the shooting occurred, yet each swore that he did not know who fired the fatal shot.

Later it was gathered from them that they feared the consequences if they told anything. The wife of the murdered man told Lieut. Wheeler that her husband was the victim of the Mafia. A well-to-do Italian barber also notified him of the existence of the society, and an Italian grocer swore that he knew of its existence here.

Corbett Welcomed at Asbury Park.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 6.—Champion Jim Corbett returned to his old training quarters yesterday for the first time since his departure for his fight with Sullivan. The many friends he made while in training were all at the station to meet him, and were also at the Opera House at night to see him in his new play "Gentleman Jim." Before going on the stage he told the reporters that he would not pay any attention to Billy Madden's efforts to bring about a match between himself and Goddard.

The Fight Was a Draw.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 6.—The often postponed fight between T. R. Brown, of Hartford, and "Billy" Russell of this city, for the featherweight championship of the State and a purse of $500, came off in a hall on the outskirts of the city last night. The spectators were mostly Yale students and gave $5 a piece for tickets. Both men were in good condition and fought well. In the 11th round both fell exhausted to the floor and the fight was declared a draw.

Honors to Gladstone.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 6.—At a special meeting of the municipal council Mr. Holt, a leading Liberal, moved that the freedom of the city be conferred upon Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Norwood, Conservative, Member of Parliament for Liverpool, seconded the motion, and it was carried unanimously.

GEORGIA'S ELECTION.

Democrats Carry the State by at Least 50,000.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Georgia has gone Democratic by more than 60,000 majority. Peek, the third party candidate for Governor, carried less than 20 out of the 137 counties in the State.

The whole State Democratic ticket is elected. The Democrats have elected 153 members of the lower house and 42 Senators. The third party has elected 20 members to the lower house and two Senators.

MASONIC HOME AT UTICA.

Dedication of the Retreat for Needy Members of the Craft.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 6.—The dedication of the Masonic Home yesterday drew an immense concourse of people.

Notwithstanding that the weather since Monday has been so unfavorable that many of the principal and more elaborate decorations were abandoned, yet Utica presented a gala appearance, flags and bunting and Masonic emblems having been used in profusion, especially along the line of march.

Grand Master Ten Eyck and his staff, with the exception of Grand Secretary Ehlers, were present.

All the railroads centering here ran special trains during the morning to accommodate the crowds which made Utica their objective point, and at noon and for an hour after, when the various organizations were marshaling for the parade, the scene in the lower part of the city was an animated one.

There were fully 25,000 people gathered within a radius of a mile, and they were mostly from out of town, the residents having scattered themselves along the line of march and near the reviewing stand in Rutger street, where the grand officers were located when the parade reached that point on its way to the home.

The building, which has heretofore been fully described, has been visited this week by nearly all the leading members of the fraternity. It gives unbounded satisfaction to the craft, and is looked upon as a monument to the noble and philanthropic principles of the order.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the preparation for the parade was begun by Utica Commandery Knights Templar, escorted the officers of the Grand Commandery to their place in line.

At 1:30 the parade moved and it is doubtful if more persons were ever in line in this State than were gathered together at this time.

Arrived at the Home, the lodges and organizations were faced en masse towards a large platform on which were seated the officers of the grand lodge and others.

The Home was thrown open to ladies, who witnessed the ceremonies from the windows and balconies.

The regular Masonic ritual of dedication was then gone through with. After an invocation by the Grand Chaplain and chorus, Grand Master Ten Eyck of Albany spoke at some length.

A RACE ON THE SOUND.

The Richard Peck and Puritan Have an Exciting Contest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A race down Long Island Sound yesterday between the side-wheeler Puritan of the Fall River line and the twin screw boat Richard Peck of New Haven resulted in a victory for the cutter.

The Peck left New Haven at midnight. She had quite a crowd of passengers on board who manifested a great deal of interest in the contest.

The Peck ran slow from New Haven to Stratford shoals where she was to meet the Puritan, which left Fall River at 8:30 p. m.

At 2:30 a. m. the Peck sighted the lights of the Puritan and on the latter's coming abreast of her, all steam was crowded on both steamboats and the race began.

The Peck took the course along the Long Island shore and the Puritan steamed about a quarter of a mile from her further out in the Sound.

There was a light breeze from the north and the water was smooth.

The passengers on both boats crowded the decks and the interest was intense.

The speed of both boats was about twenty-three miles an hour, their usual rate being twenty.

After a few miles neck and neck the Peck began to forge ahead, not rapidly but steadily until the white hull of the Puritan was a mile astern.

The race was to end at Sands Point, and when the Peck passed that point she was a mile and a half ahead of the Puritan.

The Peck arrived at her dock here at 6:45 a. m. and the Puritan ten minutes later.

The total distance covered by the two boats in the race was fifty-six miles.

The chief engineer of the Puritan and the other officers of the Fall River line deny that the Puritan and the new Peck had a race, but the captain, the chief engineer and all the officers of the Richard Peck and of the New Haven line say that there was a race, and that the Puritan was beaten by a good mile and a quarter in the thirty-mile race.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES

Still Raging Near May's Landing—The Loss Heavy.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Oct. 6.—The loss by the forest fires which are still raging in this vicinity is now estimated at over $50,000, and promises to be much greater before they are extinguished. Residents of Hessville, below Petersburg, were compelled to fight the flames all night to keep the fire away from the village.

The winds which are prevailing in high force have driven the fire over miles and miles of the best timber in South Jersey. Hundreds of cords of market wood were burned yesterday. This loss is keenly felt by the owners, as their entire summer's work is represented in it.

Large forces of men are fighting the fire at every point with but little success, and it is feared that the damage will be very great. Several small towns are threatened by the fire, and every precaution is being taken to keep it back. The large scope of timber burned over is a mass of charred wood.

Cleveland Will Attend.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—It is now stated that ex-President Cleveland will accept the invitation to attend the dedication of the World's Fair buildings, and that he is preparing a letter of acceptance. The statement is confirmed by Director-General Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland are expected here on Oct. 21.

FATE OF THE DALTONS

Rejoicing at the Extermination of the Outlaws.

OBTAINED AT A HEAVY COST.

Three Citizens Killed and Two Fatally Injured—Five of the Six Desperadoes Shot Down—One Managed to Escape—All the Money Recovered.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 6.—The Dalton gang of outlaws, the most notorious in the West, has been wiped off the face of the earth, but in the battle which resulted in their extermination three good citizens were killed and two fatally wounded.

The desperadoes, who had grown bolder as they thought they were above all law and that the officers of the county were powerless against them, attempted to raid the banks of this city, their old home, when they met the fate which they so well merited. Had they confined their efforts to train robbery they might now be alive, but emulation of the James boys proved their ruin.

Bob and Grant Dalton, Tom Hardy and an unknown member of the Dalton gang are dead.

Emmett Dalton is very dangerously wounded.

City Marshal C. T. Connelly, George Cudine and Charles Brown, a shoemaker, are dead.

Cashier Thomas G. Ayers, of the First National Bank, and Lucius Baldwin, a clerk in Read Brothers' store, are fatally wounded, and T. A. Arnold and Lewis Deitz are slightly injured.

It is the result of an attempt of the Dalton gang to rob the bank of C. M. Condon & Co. and the First National Bank in this city yesterday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

One of the gang succeeded in making his escape.

The six members of the gang came into town on horseback, and leaving their animals in an alley, walked rapidly across the square, four entering Condon's and two going to the First National Bank.

At Condon's Bank they were told by Cashier Ball that the time lock would not be opened until 10 o'clock, so holding their Winchesters in their hands they told Ball and Teller Charles Carpenter that they would wait, taking meanwhile the money in the drawer.

Bob and Emmett Dalton were those who visited the First National Bank. Here Cashier Ayers, his son Bert and Teller W. H. Sheppard were forced to give up all the money in the safe, which was hastily shoved into bags.

The Daltons then forced the three out of the front door, following right after them.

The alarm had in the meantime been given, and as they came out George Cudine and Express Agent Cox shot at one of the robbers, badly wounding him. The robbers returned the fire, killing Cudine, and the robbers in Condon & Co.'s. Bank began shooting out of the window, hitting Ayers and Brown.

Both robbers ran back through the bank, when they were met by Baldwin, and they killed him.

The citizens being thoroughly aroused by this time were after them hot and heavy and succeeded in killing the four men named above and mortally wounding Emmett.

Coffeyville is the old home of the Daltons, and it is peculiarly appropriate that the world should be rid of the gang by our citizens.

The large rewards for their capture, dead or alive if the citizens' wishes are respected, will go to the families of the murdered citizens.

All the money was recovered and turned over to the banks.

Emmet Dalton has made a partial confession that his gang was the same that robbed the Pacific Express car on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway, at Adair station in the Indian Territory last July, and committed other daring burglaries.

The news was telegraphed to Parsons shortly after 10 o'clock, and General Superintendent Frey, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad, with his special car, in which were 30 or 40 trusty citizens with Winchesters and shot guns, came to Coffeyville to assist in running the desperadoes to bay. They found on their arrival that their was but little work for them to do, as the plucky inhabitants of Coffeyville had wound up the careers of the desperadoes.

MRS. HARRISON A LITTLE BETTER.

The President's Visit to New York Will Be Dependent on Her Condition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Harrison passed a more comfortable night, and this morning was feeling easier.

She remains propped up in bed by pillows and has experienced the usual fluctuations attending her disease, feeling better or worse at times. The improvement or depression depends largely upon the state of the weather.

She continues very weak, but her condition is not considered critical.

Mr. Halford said this morning that the published accounts that the President would not attend either the Columbian exercises in New York or the exercises in Chicago incident to the formal opening of the World's Fair, were unauthorized and in a measure misleading.

The President's movements day by day were dependent on the condition of Mrs. Harrison. If when the time arrives he feels that he can leave Mrs. Harrison, he will attend both celebrations; otherwise he will attend neither.

It is not a matter that he can decide in advance.

For Violating the Sherman Act.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The United States Circuit Court Grand Jury has reported an indictment against John H. Paterson and 24 others, officers and employes of the National Cash Register Company, charging them with creating a monopoly in favor of the National Company in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. Justice Putnam was on the bench. This is the second indictment against the officers of this company.

Two Killed by a Locomotive.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., Oct. 6.—A south-bound express on the Housatonic Railroad crashed into a wagon belonging to Capt. J. S. Barnes of Lenox, at Lee yesterday afternoon, instantly killing the occupants of the wagon—Capt. Barnes' coachman and Jerry Donovan, also both horses. The bodies of the men were horribly mangled.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

SQUIRES--HOWARD.

A WEDDING IN GRACE CHURCH AND A RECEPTION IN THE CASINO.

Details of the Swellest Affair of Its Kind That Has Ever Transpired in Plainfield.

Miss Grace Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Howard, of Ninth street, was married last evening to George Harry Squires, at Grace church, by the Rev Erskine M. Rodman. The church was crowded from door to choir with the many friends of the bride and groom. The wedding took place at 7. Shortly before that hour the boys came in from the choir room to their places singing the processional hymn. The bride was met in the vestibule by the ushers and bridesmaids, and the bridal party proceeded up the aisle while the choir sang the wedding march from Lohengrin.

The groom and his best man, E. Louis Walz, jr., met the bride at the choir steps, where the first part of the ceremony was performed. The bride and groom then proceeded to the altar and were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Maude Agnes Bowers, and the best man, while the ushers and bridesmaids remained at the choir steps.

After the ceremony the guests gathered again at the Casino, where the reception was held, and where Mr. and Mrs. Squires received the congratulations of their friends.

The gifts were numerous and handsome. The bride and groom will spend their honeymoonin the Adirondack mountains in a log-cabin at the private grounds of the Adrondack League club, of which Mr. Squires is a member.

The church was very prettily decorated with flowers. The font was filled with golden rod and the altar was covered with hydrangeas, while palms were placed on each side.

The ushers were: J. W. Sanford, jr., F. W. Walz, G. S. Beebe, J. P. Munn, A. S. Streuli, and A. A. Tilney. The bride wore white corded silk trimmed with duchess lace, and a tulle veil. The bridesmaids and maid of honor wore tulle made over rose-colored silk, and carried pink roses and lilies of the valley. 1 to Athletes.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

THE JANITOR WENT MAD.

WEST ENDS' PENNANT LOSS UPSET HIS BRAIN.

He Imagines People Are Hunting for His Life, and He Defies His Genuine Flesh-and-Blood Pursuers with a Shot Gun—Exciting Chase and Capture—In Custody at Last.

[SPECIAL TO THE PRESS.]

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 6.—The patrons of the West End-Crescent ball games this summer will no doubt remember the janitor of the West End club, Ben Mitchell, as he always, with the exception of the last game, accompanied the team, when it came to Plainfield. He is a thin, wiry fellow weighing about one hundred and thirty pounds, with red hair and quite a pleasing countenance. He always wore a blue drilling jacket when in the ball field, and smoked a short pipe.

Mitchell came to Somerville about one year ago. He was sent to jail here for some light offense committed in Bound Brook while under the influence of liquor. After a week or so, he was liberated, and as he had no place to go jailer John Kenney permitted him to remain at his house and do small jobs in payment for his board. In April Mr. Kenney secured him the position as janitor of the West End club, since which time until one week ago he has shown himself to be a model man about the club-house. Once in a while he would go off on a spree and upon the occasion of the first game in Westfield he took two pictures from the room at the hotel where the players dressed and brought them home, as he said, to decorate the house. As soon as manager Mack found out what Mitchell had done he returned the pictures to their owner.

Mr. Mitchell is now locked up in a cell in the Somerset county jail charged with breaking and entering a house at Belle Mead, belonging to overseer-of-the-poor Wm. Ely, on Monday night. Two weeks ago Ben went to Providence to see some friends. He was gone a week, during which time he drank heavily. After he returned, he resumed his duties at the club, and though he acted strangely nothing was thought of it.

Last Friday night he left the club-house, as was his custom, about 8 o'clock, and went across the street to the court-house, where he still boarded with the jailer. Mitchell slept in the upper part of the court-house in a little room just in the rear of the court room. There is an inside window in this room which looks into the judges' room. What happened can be best told in Mitchell's own words, as related to a PRESS reporter to-day:

"I awoke about 12 o'clock. It was dark in my room. I had not been awake more than a minute when I heard the slats of the blinds move and heard a man and woman talking in the judges' room. The woman said to the man: 'Wait until I get my revolver and I will shoot Mitchell. I see him lying in the bed.' Then the man replied "All right: I will get my knife and head him off.' I was awfully scared, and jumped up and lighted my lamp, and as I looked toward the window I plainly saw the blinds move. That was enough to drive me almost mad, and I unlocked my door and ran out into the street and across to the club-house, where I saw John Anderson and Jack Farrell." John Anderson is the local reporter for the Somerset Messenger. He saw Mitchell run across the street When he came into the club-house he saw that Mitchell was nearly frightened to death; his teeth were chattering, and his face was the color of chalk. At first Mitchell would not say anything about what scared him, but finally he told them. Mitchell thought his enemies were around the house, and went to each window looking for them. He was sure he could see the shadowy forms; and at last, driven nearly to distraction, he went to one of the front windows and, striking his breast, called out: "Here I am: shoot me through the heart!" Farrell remained in the house with Mitchell all night, as he would not go out, but passed the hours pacing to and fro with a hatchet in his hand to defend himself.

Saturday night a similar scene was gone through with, and was only stopped when Walter Durling induced Mitchell to go over to the jail, where he was locked up. Monday morning he seemed to be rational, and keeper Kenney gave him his keys and allowed him to go out and go to the club. Mitchell did up his work at the club early in the morning, and then, according to his own statement, started on foot for Philadelphia, where he has several cousins. He had five cents in his pocket, and nothing else but the clothes to his back. He reached Belle Mead at 5 Monday afternoon. He applied to Wm. Ely for lodging and was given a ticket allowing him to sleep in the poor-house, kept by Mr. Vancleef, over night. He went there. At 12 at night he got up, and, imagining that he was still being pursued, as he fancied he heard voices in an adjoining room, he leaped from the window and started back for Ely's house. His sudden departure was seen and Vancleef's daughter and a young man followed him. Ely's house is about one mile from the poor-house. Mitchell ran all the way to Ely's house, and, having reached there, forced an entrance into the kitchen. Miss Vancleef and the young man arrived soon afterwards, and awoke Ely, who had not heard the noise of Mitchell's entrance. Ely came down stairs by the front way, and, reinforced by several others, tried to get into the kitchen. Mitchell by this time was wild. He thought he would be murdered, and, espying a shot gun standing in the corner, seized it and told the party outside that if they attempted to get to him he would kill them. They tried to parley with him, but it was no use. All they could say or do only brought forth the threat that he would kill the first man he saw. This matters stood from 1 o'clock until 5 in the morning, when Ely went to squire Hageman and swore out a warrant against Mitchell. This warrant they tried to serve, but could not. Finally one of the storming party took off his coat, and, putting it on the end of a stick held it up in front of the window. Mitchell raised the gun and pulled the trigger, but the cap snapped. The powder was wet He then said he would give up, and they took him before the squire, and thence brought him to Somerville, where he is now in jail on the charge of breaking and entering. A PRESS reporter saw him to-day and asked him about the affair. Mitchell says he thought that his life was in danger and that he only used the gun to defend it. He looks very bad; his eyes have the wild stony stare of the insane, and he is very nervous from the loss of his usual stimulants. In all probability he will be sent to the asylum, as he is plainly crazy. He has an honorable discharge as a U. S. marine, and draws a pension of $3 per month. He has lost considerable money on ball games this year, and has had trouble with a relative of his by the name of McCaffrey who lives in Bound Brook. Combined troubles, and the loss of the pennant by the West Ends, have upset his mind completely.

Good News for the Afflicted.

After spending $1,000 for medicine without relief, I concluded to try the Chicago Magnetic Shield company, and have found their goods to be as represented, and would not sell my appliances for one hundred times the amount paid for the same, if the same could not be replaced.

Respectfully,
I. W. WILSON.

The smallest is the best in pills, other things being equal. But, with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, nothing else is equal. They're the best, not only because they're the smallest, and the easiest to take—but because they do more good. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels in a way the hugh, old-fashioned pill doesn't dream of. Think of trying to regulate the system with the ordinary pill. It's only good for upsetting it.

These are mild and gentle—but thorough and effective, no pain—no griping. One little pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. The best Liver Pill known. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are prevented, relieved and cured.

Put up in sealed vials—a perfect vest-pocket remedy, always convenient, fresh and reliable.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. It's a plan of sale peculiar to Dr. Pierce's medicines.

FURTHER HISTORY OF THE PIONEER BAPTISTS' CHURCH.

O. B. Leonard's Interesting Review of Notable Events of the Past, Read at Yesterday's Hundredth Anniversary.

[CONCLUDED FROM YESTERDAY.]

PRELIMINARY MINISTRATION.

At the first business meeting of the church, Jan. 10, 1793, an invitation was extended to the Rev. David Jones, A. M., senior pastor of Great Valley, Pa., to become their pastor. He declined the call on account of his preparation to go the next year with General Wayne, as chaplain of his forces to the northwest territory to put down the unruly Indians. In the meanwhile preaching was supplied by home talent till a unanimous decision could be reached for a settled pastor.

Benj. Blackford was a gifted brother and exercised his talents in frequent emergencies. On March 27, 1793, he related to the church his experience in being called by God to the Gospel ministry. After preaching on several occasions for his people during the spring and early summer, the church duly licensed him July 31 to preach the Word of Life wherever a door of usefulness might be opened. The church, after looking around for a suitable pastor, on the 7th of April decided to have a joint ministry for eight months. They chose the Rev. Benj. Coles, recently a supply at Scotch Plains, and the Rev. Jacob Fitz Randolph, then about leaving his Mt. Bethel charge, to preach for them four months each. This arrangement was partially carried out. Elder Roger of Philadelphia and Bro. Blackford occasionally occupied the pulpit in the absence of the joint minister. In the fall of 1793 Elder Jacob F. Randolph, who that year had bought a farm in Plainfield, was invited as a supply for half the time for one year on a salary of £37 and 10 sh. for the period. The ruling elder, Joseph F. Randolph (an older brother of Elder Jacob) was a man well qualified by natural talent and long experience to occupy the pulpit, if necessary, to the edification of the people, should any vacancy happen to occur. For ruling elders in those early times were chosen by such Baptist churches desiring their oversight and services, because of their natural gifts of utterance, a good knowledge of Scripture doctrine, and ability to give sound advice, in matters of discipline.

Thus through the year 1793 and late into the spring of the following year the church had no settled ministry, but was ministered to by the brethren named.

ASSOCIATIONAL CONNECTIONS.

In associational relations the church had at once united with the newly-organized New York body, constituted in October, 1791, and holding its first anniversary in the old Gold Street meeting-house the same year that the Samptown church was publicly recognized. Every year thereafter for nearly a quarter of a century all the annual meetings of the New York association continued to be held in New York city. This ancient order prevailed notwithstanding about half of the churches composing the body and a majority of the membership were located in country churches in this State and adjoining provinces.

To accommodate this rural element, in 1813, the date of anniversary meeting was changed from the second Wednesday to the last Wednesday in May "in order that the members may not be called away from home at the time of corn planting". But the country brethren claimed other concessions and recognitions.

The first departure from the one-sided city gathering for a re-union in the country was made in 1814. The year before Elder Randolph was moderator of the association and preacher of the introductory sermon. The pastor and a full delegation of influential messengers from this church proposed and insisted upon the next and twenty-third anniversary being observed in the newly-renovated and enlarged meeting-house at Samptown. This rural retreat was selected and agreed upon at the rendezvous of the Baptist Brotherhood on the 11th of May, 1814. Then the hospitality of the community was taxed to its utmost capacity and the representatives were welcomed from city and surrounding country churches, 28 in number, with a membership that year of 1,970.

Ever afterward the anniversaries alternated between New York city and one of the country churches composing the organization. Only on two other occasions during the first half century were these yearly sessions convened with this church, viz., in 1826 and 1834 in the new edifice. On this forty-third anniversary (held in 1834) 31 churches sent delegates representing a total membership of 3,458.

FIRST PASTORATE.

On May 8, 1794, the church and congregation met and hired out seats and pews for twelve months for the support of elder Jacob F. Randolph called to be their minister for the ensuing year. Elder Randolph, as undershepherd, was chosen year by year in this way till May 2, 1798, when he was elected permanent pastor for as long a time as mutually agreeable. This long pastoral relation existed till the winter of 1818, and proved a wise choice of the people under divine guidance. For nearly a quarter of a century his labors here were blessed of the Holy Spirit to the conversion of one hundred and one souls and the church was otherwise strengthened by many valuable accessions from other portions of the Lord's vineyard. There was scarcely a twelve months during his ministry after he became a settled pastor in 1798, that some conversions did not occur. The year 1799 witnessed the ordinance of baptism administered by him to eleven hopeful converts, and the minutes of the New York Baptist association for that year show a membership of 40 on the church roll. The largest revival enjoyed under his pastorate occurred in 1808 when the work of grace resulted in the conversion of 53 adult members of the congregation and raised the membership of the church to 90, and the following year five more conversions are recorded, and additional families added to the congregation. The continued increase called for more extended accommodation in the house of worship. Early in the year 1812 the propriety of enlarging the little edifice was considered, and on the 16th of March, 1812, the trustees decided, upon the favorable action of the parish, to build an extension of 20 feet on the north side of the house. During the summer this addition was put up at an expense of $700, making a church building 28x38 feet. With enlarged facilities for those early days the number of hearers increased, and the next year six additional converts were baptized into the fellowship of the church. At this time, notwithstanding the varying changes of a farming population, and the distraction of the public mind from religious subjects by the unhappy differences with Great Britain which resulted in open hostilities between the two nations, the membership roll showed for that year the names of 97 communicants, the largest number at any one time during the first pastorate. Especially helpful to the pastor for several years were the services of his younger brother, deacon Robert F. Randolph, who was a practising physician of the township. As early as the fall of 1808 he stated his divine call to the work of the gospel ministry and the church duly licensed him after sufficient opportunity was given them to judge of his gifts and capabilities. For several years he continued his professional practice and as opportunity offered preached the word of life to perishing souls.

On the 27th of August, 1812, a council was called of the following named pastors of neighboring churches: the Rev. Wm. Parkinson of New York, first, and elders Ellis, of Mt. Bethel, Edwards, of Northfield, and Wilcox, of Lyons Farms. With appropriate and solemn services brother Robert F. Randolph was ordained to the ministerial work and set apart by the laying on of hands to the divine work. He subsequently became pastor of the Staten Island church.

From the first services of elder Randolph at Samptown there prevailed an unusual degree of unity and Christian kindness in the church. There was but a thinly settled neighborhood in the vicinity and only a small congregation from which to expect any accessions. But his blessed and successful ministry of more than a score of years with this people betokens the favor of God upon his faithful labors.

October 7, 1818, elder Jacob F. Randolph notified the church in its business meeting that his pastorate at Samptown would cease November 1 following. At the same time he requested letters of dismission for himself and 31 others to unite in forming the present First Baptist church at Plainfield which was publicly constituted on November 25 following with elder Randolph their pastor.

SECOND PASTORATE.

At once the congregation instituted measures to secure some one to take oversight of the church in Spiritual things. On Monday, November 16, 1818, at a special Parish service a unanimous call was given to Elder Lebbeus Lathrop, of Warwick, N. Y., to become pastor of this people at a salary of $250.00 a year and his firewood. The invitation was accepted and his labors commenced at Samptown on Sunday, the 14th day of February, 1819.

During the short interval of three months when the church was without a settled preacher the pulpit was supplied with several excellent men who ministered to the little flock. Advantage was taken of the interim by making needed alterations to the interior of the edifice whereby additional sittings were obtained and increased comfort of the worshipers provided for by the purchase of another stove for winter use.

After thinning out of the membership roll in 1818 by sending off the colony to constitute Plainfield First, the number remaining at settlement of second pastor was less than fifty members. Before the first year closed of his ministry ten converts were added by baptism; the next year seven baptisms are recorded; the next year eleven were baptized. Every year following witnessed some conversions from his personal and practical preaching of the truth.

A remarkable and special work of grace was wrought by the Holy Spirit as reported in the association minutes for 1832. The Lord fulfilled his promises in answering the prayers of this people, and honored the faithful labors of his zealous servant by the ingathering of thirty precious souls. These repeated seasons of increased religious interest greatly strengthened the church in spiritual power as well as numerical force.

During 1833 a subscription of $2,530.50 was readily made towards a new meeting house. This church building, (burned down in 1879), but familiar to many of the present generation was erected in 1834 on the north side of the road about opposite the old house and was modelled after that of Piscataway which was itself consumed by fire in 1851.

It is a noticeable fact to record that just at the close of this great awakening in 1831 and 32 and the erection of a new and enlarged church edifice in 1833-4, there followed another marvellous revival in 1834-1835 when 30 persons joyfully followed the Saviour in the ordinance of baptism.

The pulpit qualities of elder Lathrop rendered his preaching attractive and convincing and his Master gave him many souls for his hire. One hundred and fifty-five conversions are recorded in the minutes of the church as the full number who made a public confession of their faith in the Lord Jesus during his pastoral labors of 21 years. While his physical strength endured his energies were unabated and richly rewarded by the repeated additions to the church roll.

Under this efficient ministry the membership in 1838 reached one hundred and sixty-one the largest number at any one time in the history of the church, (excepting only the year before the New Market church went out from this body), a numerical strength not surpassed by either of the parent churches during the same period—1819.

Some centres of population grow and increase in number, because they are always receiving and retaining, but seldom part with their new accessions.

Other places are like distributing reservoirs, always giving out something of their inflow so that they are never too full and seldom if ever have a permenent increase. Such has been the case with Samptown. Directly and indirectly the church has given from her membership the constituency for three other churches and still she has a name to live.

On the Fourth of March, 1840, elder Lathrop resigned his charge having attained the ripe old age of nearly 79 years. "He was a good minister of Jesus Christ, a faithful steward of the mysteries of God".

As to the tenor of pulpit themes during the first fifty years both pastors were lovers of the "strong meat" of the gospel and preached an uncompromising Calvinistic theology doctrine, and subjects similar to the following frequently occupied their thoughts: "God's Sovereignty"; "The Severity of Christ"; "Original Sin"; "Man's Impotency"; "Eternal Condemnation". "Such doctrines constantly preached nourish a sturdy piety and magnify the power and grandeur of the Almighty. They are as grand as the rock-ribbed mountains and as needful to theology as mountains are to the earth. But a land of rugged mountains only would impoverish its people. The valleys are the fertile sports and while the preaching of those early days had not too many mountains, its valleys were too few in number and too narrow."

Both men were consecrated to their work, devout in their spiritual life, of rugged intellects and sacrificing devotion. Their preaching, if not "with enticing words of man's wisdom", was earnest, personal and generally in demonstration of the Spirit and power.

They were true laborers of the Lord.

"What faithful watchmen on these walls
Have sped the Gospel sound.
And many a soul, the Christ who calls,
Has heard, and sought and found.
So they their generations served,
Patient 'mid hopes and fears.
Their work sublime outlived their time
And spans a hundred years."

"What changeful years! Saints pass away.
The church survives all strife.
Her house of God we throng to-day
And mark her strength and life.
Still may she live and flourish here
With heavenly beauty bloom,
And thousands win from ways of sin,
The hundred years to come."

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera without injury unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the O. D. Bass Grand Opera Co.

HYMENEAL.

Hinkson—Carpenter.

A very pretty home wedding took place at Princeton at 6:30 last evening, when Miss Emily Mabel Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carpenter, became the bride of William Elwood Hinkson, assistant manager of the Plainfield Central pharmacy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hinkson, of Princeton. The ceremony was Presbyterian in form, and the Rev. Lewis W. Mudge, of Princeton, officiated. The handsome young couple were married under a big bell of black-eyed Susans, and the house was nicely decorated with golden-rod and smilax. The ushers were A. W. Smedley and Dr. E. B. Cottrell, of Philadelphia, and W. H. Bartine, of Princeton. The bride wore a beautiful costume of white brocade, en train. The guests were the relatives and and immediate friends of the contracting parties, and those from out of town were as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. William Hinkson, the Misses Hinkson, Lewis E. Hinkson, Mr. and Mrs. William Hinkson, jr., Mrs. Samuel Black, Miss Tillie Black, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Black, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hinkson and John C. Hinkson, all from Chester, Pa.; E. N. Gray, of Camden; Miss Nellie B. Green, of Trenton; Charles Green, of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Fell, Dr. Alexander Fell, B. H. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carpenter, and Miss Robertson, of Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Miss Murphy, of Bordentown; Miss Lampman, of Albany, and Mrs. F. G. Stout and son, of Ardsley, N. Y.

The bride and groom left on the 8:38 train for Trenton, and will continue their wedding journey to-day. Their destination is undecided.

CRESCENT LEAGUE'S NEW OFFICERS.

The Annual Meeting Results in an Entire Change of the Board of Trustees, and the Election of President Leggett.

Fifty members were present at the annual meeting of the Crescent League, last evening, when president W. R. Codington took the chair at 9. Treasurer Arnold's annual report showed the club's finances to be in a prosperous condition and that the debt caused by the furnishing of the new building has been greatly reduced, yet a large number of the 108 members were in arrears of dues. Subsequently a motion was carred that all members owing more than three months dues should be notified that unless such dues were paid within two weeks their names would be dropped from the rolls.

The resignations of James K. Arnold, D. S. Roberts, J. A. Smith, Peter Schultz, George Mahon and H. Terry as members of the club were read and accepted.

The selection of trustees in place of Charles Leggett, F. M. Slater and C. K. Moore, whose terms had expired, resulted in the unanimous election of W. G. Brett, D. C. Adams and B. T. Barnes. Charles P. Leggett was then elected without a dissenting voice as the League's president, Clarence Teel was elected vice-president and George Hallock secretary.

J. T. Fritts and C. A. Reed having resigned as trustees and H. L. Emerson having been dropped from the rolls, their places in the board were filled by the election of George O. Stevens, Charles H. Lyman, W. R. Codington and John Kenney.

President Leggett made a short speech of acceptance to the effect that he only assumed the duties of the office with the belief that the members in arrears would settle and that the club's affairs would be conducted in a more business-like way than in the past.

Want Funds for Their Fountain.

The women of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Plainfield have long recognized the fact that a drinking fountain for men and animals was greatly needed in the city, and at a recent meeting, accepting the help offered by the women of the Branch Alliance of the Unitarian league, voted to secure said fountain, and hereby appeal to the public-spirited citizens of Plainfield to aid them in their undertaking. Subscriptions will be received by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. S. R. Krom, 71 Madison avenue.

—The boys of the Congregational Sunday-school are expected to meet Mr. Goodrich in the church parlors Friday evening at 7, to discuss the forming of a cadet company.

TEMPLES OF BAALBEC.

Some Wonderful Specimens of Ancient Eastern Architecture.

The Mountains of Northern Syria—Scenery Whose Beauty and Grandeur Are Unequaled—One of the Most Ancient of Oriental Towns.

[Special Baalbec (Syria) Letter.]

One of the most interesting regions in all the orient is the beautiful valley between the Lebanon and the Anti-Lebanon mountains. While the explorer has devoted much time to the survey of Palestine proper, the mountains of the northern part of Syria have received comparatively scant attention. Much remains to be learned of the exceedingly interesting ruins found in these lonely heights and in these lovely valleys. Thanks to the skill of the French engineers a fine road extends from Damascus to Baalbec and thence to Beirut, so that the travel is comfortable either for horse or carriage. April 24 last we said good-by to Damascus, with its gardens, fountains, mosques and bazaars, and jumping into our saddles were soon cantering off on the fine road, horses and riders in the best of spirits, the rushing waters of the beautiful Barada, the procession of gay-robed orientals with their camels and donkies, the brilliant foliage of orange grove and palm trees, and the cloudless sky, combining to make a picture of rare beauty and interest.

At the village of Dummar we turned to our right, leaving the valley of the Barada to our left. For two hours we rode through a wild, rocky region among the mountains. At length we turned again into the valley of the Barada, which announced itself to the eye by the long line of green which stood out in strong contrast to the barren rocks, while the ear was delighted with the sound of rushing water. Here we reached the village of Bessima. Our ride now was through the valley. The foliage was rich, while the limpid river leaped in cascades from rock to rock. In about thirty minutes from Bessima we reached El Fidsche, "the fountain," where the Barada, the ancient Abana, takes its rise, bursting forth out of the earth with tremendous volume and force. The sight was an astonishing one to me. Far off among the snows of Lebanon begins this stream and, making its way under the earth, here finds its exit. Over this noble fountain are the impressive ruins of an ancient temple, probably erected to the god of the fountain.

Here Filippo, our guide, spread the lunch, a romantic spot indeed—amid cliffs towering a thousand feet on each side, while the waving fountain foamed over the rocks at our feet. After lunch we moved on up the valley over a most difficult and rocky road. At a place where we were obliged to climb slippery rocks my horse lost his footing and fell heavily on his side. Fortunately my feet came out of the stirrups and I suffered only a slight sprain. After an afternoon ride of remarkable beauty amid snow-covered heights we reached Suk Wadi Barada, at the outlet of a pass in the midst of a most picturesque region. The present village stands on the site of an ancient town of the earliest Christian times called Abila, capital of the district of Abilene whose Tetrarch Lysanias is spoken of in the Gospel of Luke. The remains of the old city are on the other side of the stream in the rocky heights. There are ruins of a temple and graves cut in the rock. One of these graves bears the moslem tradition that here is the grave of Abel, owing to a confusion of the name of Abila with Habil (Abel.) Hence they call it Kabr Habil—the grave of Abel. At the end of the gorge of the Barada suddenly opens the green plain of Zebedani. On the left was the steep Jebel Zebedani, on the right the chief spur of Anti-Lebanon, Jebel-es-Scharkl.

The view at sunset was very fine, clouds of purple and gold floating over the summit of the snow clad heights. Nightfall found us at the village of Zebedani where beds were made up for us on the floor of a khan, while the villagers crowded in to greet the strangers. While Filippo was attending to the mysteries of the cooking some of our party played leap frog, to the intense amusement of the spectators. Early next morning we moved up the valley to visit the extensive mines of Baalbec, which were to be reached only by a climb over a high ridge. Along this route I noticed at quite a height a goat-herd with a large flock of black goats. He came running towards me carrying a wooden bowl brimming with foaming milk just drawn. One cent was sufficient pay for this delicious drink. Now and then along the route peasants came out with old coins to sell, and the cry of "antica howadji," greeted us at almost every settlement. Early in the afternoon we descended into the Bukaa valley at the head of which towered the majestic ruins of Baalbec. Over four thousand feet above the sea level, in the midst of a luxurious growth of gardens and with the crystal waters of the Litany flowing through it, this spot was well chosen as the site of a city and a eparation for a sanctuary. Little is known about the early history of Baalbec. Its origin is lost in remote antiquity.

It is commonly supposed that it was the center of Baal worship and one of the sun god. It is supposed to be identical with the Aven of Scripture. According to Lucian and Macrobius the picture of the sun god was originally brought here from On. The prophet Amos speaks of "the field of Aven." Heliopolis is probably meant. "Aven" is the Hebrew form of "On." Arabic authors attribute the buildings to Queen Balkis, of Arabia, or to Solomon.

Antonius Pius was probably the builder of the two temples which remain—the larger as a sanctuary of all the gods, the smaller as the sanctuary of the sun god. Theodosius the Great destroyed the large temple and turned part of it into a Christian church. Heliopolis was later the seat of a bishop, but after the conquest of Damascus it fell into the hands of the Arabs.

There are the ruins of three temples at Baalbec—the Great temple, the Temple of Jupiter, Apollo, or the Sun, and the Circular temple. It is impossible in a limited space to enter upon a careful description of these majestic ruins, which have not ceased to challenge the wonder and admiration of all travelers and students.

The great temple was a kind of pantheon. It is situated on a magnificent platform and extends east and west about eleven hundred feet. There was a peristyle of fifty-four Corinthian columns. The height of the columns is sixty feet and a diameter at the base of seven feet. They are crowned with rich Corinthian capitals and supported on an entablature fourteen feet high. Most of them were formed of three blocks united without cement by strong iron dowels. Only six of these noble columns are standing. Three have fallen since 1750.

That part of the platform on which the peristyle rests consists of immense walls built up fifty feet from the ground and formed as may be seen of thirteen courses of beveled stone in alternate layers of longer and shorter blocks. Outside of these walls at a distance of 29 feet is another wall built of large stones and contain three blocks of such extraordinary proportions that the temple acquired from them its ancient name of "Trilithon," or the "Temple of the Three Stones." These enormous blocks are respectively 64, 63 feet 8 inches, and 63 feet in length, and 13 feet square, and have been raised twenty feet from the ground. There is in the quarry about a mile away one stone huger still which has been not entirely cut away from the bed rock. This stone is 71 feet long. Who built this wall? By what enginery were these colossal blocks moved? The supposition is that Phœnician workmen cut, moved and placed them. They are larger than anything in Egyptian architecture. The obelisk may have been longer, but not so great in cubic contents. Conceive of blocks of stone each much larger than a Pullman car.

THE BICYCLE SULKY.

It Helped Nancy Hanks and Hal Pointer to Their Records.

The discounting of time and distance and the wrecking of records at Washington park, Chicago, will undoubtedly work a revolution in the manner of harness racing in trotting and pacing gaits. And this will come about on account of the new-fangled contrivance which enabled Nancy Hanks to put in the files the gallant records of Maud S, Sunol and other wonders of the trotting turf, and then while wonder was still on regarding the mare's great achievement enabled Hal Pointer a few hours later to smash to flinders the records of Johnston, Direct, and all other great pacers. That the animals are wonders themselves there is no question, but the pos sibilities of their recent achievements are unquestionably due in a great measure to that new-fangled contrivance, the bicycle sulky, with its ball-bearing axles and pneumatic tires. The adoption of this new sulky in place of the conventional high-wheeled and airy affair which Dexter and Goldsmith Maid, Sunol and Maud S hauled about the track in earning their fame, had much to do in making the new queen and king of the turf, Nancy Hanks and Hal Pointer, for it has been an admitted principle of mechanics that ball-bearing axles were subject to less friction than the old style of hub and parallel axle, while the superiority of the pneumatic tire over the non-elastic steel or iron one has been demonstrated beyond question within the last year.

Bicycle riders have maintained that the pneumatic tire on a ball-set wheel is from two to five seconds a mile faster than the solid rubber tire, the superiority of which over the iron or steel tire has never been questioned any more than has that of the modern bicycle over the cumbersome velocipede that found some favor and even become a fad in France thirty years ago, and from which the perfect wheel of to-day has been evolved.

RECEIVED BY VICTORIA.

A Negro Woman Who Traveled Many Miles to See the Queen.

Mrs. Martha Ricks, the old negress who was honored by an interview with the queen at Windsor, is seventy-six years of age, and for half a century of this time has cherished the hope of seeing the gracious lady whom her people regard as the liberator of the slaves. She had been a slave herself, but had found freedom and refuge in Liberia, the little negro republic on the west coast of Africa. Finally, when, as she says, her time began to seem to be almost done, she resolved to start for England by herself. She did, indeed, set out alone, with no other credential of her mission than a satin quilt, embroidered with a pattern of the coffee plant, which she hoped the queen might accept from her. However, she found friends on the voyage, and on her arrival in England Dr. Blyden, the Liberian minister, interested himself in the furtherance of her desire. Finally he succeeded in obtaining for her an interview with the queen, Mrs. Blyden, the wife of the minister, taking the latter-day pilgrim to Windsor with her on an unofficial visit. The little party of Liberians also included Dr. Blyden's daughter and granddaughter. The queen received her guests surrounded by her own children and grandchildren, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Princess Beatrice and Princesses Victoria and Maud. Each of the guests were presented to the queen, who shook hands with them and said some gracious words.

WHAT TO EAT
is a difficult problem with many people because but few articles of food agree with them. The doctor says and the result is unpalatable food. The reason the physician objects to grease is because lard is the article most used, and every physician knows that hog lard in any shape is unhealthy and indigestible.
AVOID GREASE
Every one interested in pure and healthful food hails with joy the new product which is composed of pure cottonseed oil and pure beef suet—nothing else—not even salt. It is better than either lard or butter for all cooking purposes, and one pound of Cottolene will do as much as two pounds of lard or butter, and it costs less than either.
COTTOLENE
Every housekeeper that tries Cottolene will find in it just what she wants.

TENNYSON'S SUCCESSOR

Urged That the Mantle Should Fall Upon Swinburne.

POWER TO APPOINT IN GLADSTONE

The Premier May Not Be Inclined to Honor the Man Who Has Vilified Him—An Austrian Wins the Great Road Race—Foreign Notes of Interest.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—The room in which the dead poet Tennyson lies is dimly lighted with candles. Although the surroundings of the deathbed are solemnly impressive, pains have been taken, in deference to the poet's feelings often expressed to his family, to avoid everything suggestive of funeral forms.

The space reserved in Westminster Abbey for Tennyson is just to the left of Robert Browning's tomb. No memorial service will be held in Haslemere on Sunday, but it is understood that Bishop Wluchester will refer in his sermon at the parish to the poet's death.

The "Pall Mall Gazette" thinks that Mr. Gladstone will appoint Swinburne to the Post of Poet Laureate. It quotes a recent article in the "Speaker" by Mr. Gladstone, entitled "British Poetry in the Nineteenth Century." After awarding Tennyson the palm, Mr. Gladstone wrote:

"Pressing upon him or walking in the same path, we have had many true poets, some extraordinary and many of very considerable powers. Among those claiming first of these descriptions we have mentioned Browning, and merest justice requires that we add Swinburne."

The "Pall Mall Gazette" adds: "In view of the abuse Swinburne has lavished upon Mr. Gladstone, the choice would be characteristic and an instance of a great man's magnanimity."

Sir Andrew Clark, who attended the poet in his last hours, says that Lord Tennyson's end was beautiful.

"In all my experience," said the eminent physician, "I never saw anything more glorious. There were no artificial lights in the chamber. All was darkness, except for the silver light of the moon, which fell upon the bed and played across the features of the dying poet like the halo in one of Rembrandt's pictures."

Hallam Tennyson, the poet's son, said: "The end was beautiful, calm and painless. He passed away as if in sleep. The watchers could hardly distinguish the final moment."

Twice during the night the dying man smiled upon those around his bedside, indicating that he was conscious and recognized them, but he was too feeble to speak.

Soon after the poet's death the sky, which had been clear, became clouded, and the light of the moon was obscured.

Shortly afterward the rain fell heavily, and the scene contrasted strongly with that which had illuminated the parting hours of the great poet.

Sir Andrew Clark, who had not left his patient's bedside for twenty-four hours previous, returned to London immediately after the poet's death.

The last words spoken by Lord Tennyson were a few affectionate utterances addressed to his wife about an hour before his death.

AN AUSTRIAN VICTORIOUS.

Count Starhemberger's Time of 71 Hours and 35 Minutes the Best.

VIENNA, Oct. 7.—Lieut. Baron Reitzenstein, the only one of the German long-distance riders who was thought to have a possible chance of beating the Austrian record, arrived at Floriadorf this morning having been seventy-three hours and forty minutes on the way from Berlin.

This settled the contest in favor of Austria, Lieut. Count Starhemberg having made the distance from Vienna to Berlin in seventy-one hours and thirty-five minutes.

Hamburg Tradesmen Cannot Meet.

HAMBURG, Oct. 7.—The police have refused to allow the keepers of small shops to hold a meeting to consider the precarious condition of their affairs. More than 3,000 men had responded to the call. The city government feared that the bitterness and distress of the tradesmen would lead them to violent scenes and, perhaps, riot, and was unwilling to risk the danger that the starving workingmen might be aroused to action by the example.

In Memory of Parnell.

CORK, Oct. 7.—The anniversary of Parnell's death was generally observed in this city yesterday. The flag was hoisted at half-mast on the Town Hall, shops were closed, and club houses were draped in black. Parnellites wearing the ivy marched through the city all the afternoon, with bands playing the dead march.

RUNK SPECULATED IN STOCKS.

His Suicide Due to Using $80,000 of the Firm's Money.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—It now develops that the cause of the suicide of Wm. M. Runk, of the drygoods firm of Darlington, Runk & Co., late Wednesday night, was the using of $80,000 of the firm's money in stock speculation. A week ago Mr. Darlington returned from Europe. During his absence Mr. Runk had been dealing in stocks.

It appears that Mr. Runk, whose own personal estate is represented to be a very handsome one, did not make these ventures with his own funds, but, aided by the absence of Mr. Darlington, he employed the moneys of Darlington, Runk & Co. to an amount of about $80,000.

Wm. Runk was 46 years old and was one of Philadelphia's most wealthy and influential citizens.

The suicide was committed at his country home at St. Davids, near here, by shooting himself through the temple.

He carried $535,000 insurance on his life.

He was at his place of business the same day and appeared to be extremely nervous, as he had been for a day or two. Late in the afternoon he went to his home and for two hours his wife noticed that he was irrational, but supposing it was due to some business trouble gave it no especial attention.

After sending one of his sons to the railroad station to meet an employe of the store, he went to his stable and with a small Smith & Wesson revolver put a bullet through his temple, dying instantly.

He was seen to go into the stable by the gardener and a short time later was found by the same person cold in death.

The report of the pistol was not heard.

The news of the suicide did not reach this city until morning and because of the prominence of the victim it spread rapidly.

He leaves two boys by his first wife, one of whom is at Yale and the other at the University of Pennsylvania, and three children by the second wife. His city home was No. 134 North Eighteenth street.

FESTIVITIES AT WOBURN, MASS.

Celebration of the 250th Anniversary of the Founding of the Place.

WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 7.—Bells, bonfires and the booming of cannon ushered in Woburn's greatest of days, the 250th anniversary of her nativity.

The voice of cannon and peals of bells aroused the city at daylight, and the early morning hours found the streets filled with people.

Decorations were general and profuse, and business was almost wholly suspended.

Early in the day the city's invited guests began to arrive and were shown about the city and otherwise entertained.

The literary exercises opened shortly after 11 o'clock in the new armory, which was crowded.

Mayor Thompson presided.

Rev. Franklin Carter, D.D., President of Williams' College, offered prayer.

Mayor Thompson then delivered an address of welcome, at the conclusion of which Hon. Frank Brooke Richardson, the orator, delivered his address.

When the orator had finished a quartette sang a commemorative hymn.

Then editor James Jeffery Roche, of the Boston "Pilot," the poet of the occasion, was presented. He was warmly received and the reverent and patriotic sentiment of the verses struck a responsive chord in the hearts of all present.

After a memorial selection by the quartette, the exercises were brought to a close with the singing of an anniversary hymn written by Rev. D. March, D. D., to the air of "America," by the entire assemblage.

BIG SMUGGLING OPERATIONS.

Many Chinese and Much Opium Landed on the Pacific Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—It has just been learned here that the yacht Halcyon, which recently sailed from Victoria with smuggled opium and Chinese on board, discharged its cargo at various places along the coast and has returned to Victoria. The smugglers' ring at Victoria actually ran in and sold in the Pacific coast ports $150,000 worth of opium and $100,000 worth of silk, besides landing 89 Chinese, for whom they received $500 a head.

The agent who accomplished this work was named Vruman. He made arrangements for landing the cargo at small places remote from customs guards. The Halcyon landed a portion of her cargo at or near Santa Barbara, another portion of it being transferred to a small vessel in Puget Sound and landed in the woods near Tacoma. This lot was subsequently shipped via the Northern Pacific to New York.

The Chinese were all landed near Monterey. The Halcyon is now seized at Victoria for entering port witnout proper papers. It came from Lulu Island, near Victoria.

The voyage was the most successful smuggling expedition known on the coast. The first owner of the Halcyon, Mr. Whalley, is now living like a prince in Honolulu on his gains in smuggling opium.

WHERE IS CAPT. LAWLOR?

He Vanished With the 12-Foot Boat in Which He Put to Sea.

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—There is some anxiety here regarding the fate of Capt. Lawlor, who sailed from Boston on June 5 last in a 12-foot canvas boat for a trip across the ocean.

His wife received a letter from him at North Sydney, B. C., July 30, whence he sailed for St. Pierre. A few weeks later he was spoken by a vessel near St. Pierre, and that is the last information as to his whereabouts.

OUR FLAG INSULTED.

The Consul at La Guayra Fired Upon by a Venezuelan Warship.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A special dispatch to the "World" this morning from La Guayra, Venezuela, says:

"United States Consul Philip C. Hanna has been fired at from the guns of a Venezuelan warship while on a visit to Macuto in a private boat.

"Fortunately, the United States consular representative was not struck.

"Macuto has been the scene of several sanguinary engagements, which have ended in the defeat of the government forces by the Crespistas.

"The surgeons of our navy rendered good service during the fights in giving their attendance to the wounded.

"Considerable courage was exhibited by them in the exercise of their charitable mission, as they were placed in a most dangerous position.

"Public feeling now runs strongly against the United States."

THE DALTON EXTERMINATION.

Emmet Still Alive, But Cannot Recover His Ante-Mortem Statement.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 7.—Emmet Dalton, the wounded member of the bandit gang, is still alive, but suffers intense pain. It is not believed that he can recover. The robber who succeeded in escaping has not been recaptured, and as he probably is making his way toward the Indian Territory, where he has many friends, it is not thought that he will be captured.

The town is still greatly excited over the stirring events of Wednesday, but there is a great feeling of relief over the extermination of the gang of outlaws who have terrorized this section for the last three years. The bodies of the dead robbers have been prepared for burial.

Emmet Dalton made the following ante-mortem statement:

"Oct. 1, 1892., I met the boys south of Tulsa and they asked me how much money I had; I told them about $20; I asked them how much they had and they said about $300; I asked them what they were going to do with it; they said that this town had been trying to capture them; I said that was a lie for we used to have lots of friends here.

"Bob said he could discount the James boys' work and go up and rob both Coffeyville banks in one day; I told them that I did not want any of it at all; he said I had better go along and help and get some of the money and leave the country; that if I stayed around here I was sure to get caught or killed by myself.

"The morning of October 3 we saddled up north of Tulsa in the Osage Nation, and rode twenty miles toward Coffeyville and talked the matter over. I went out of love for my brothers, for I knew that the authorities would get after me anyhow and I would have no money to get out of the country.

"We camped at the head of Hickory Creek at Limber Hill, about twenty miles from Coffeyville, the night of October 4. That night we saddled up and rode to the bottoms of Onion Creek on the Davis farm and next morning we fed our horses some corn. I asked the boys if they were coming up here. They said that they were and I said that it would not be treating you right, as you had always befriended us.

"I asked them how they were going to do the business.

"Bob said we would ride in about half past nine in the morning. He said there would not be many people in town so early and not many to hold up. He said he wanted me along because I was quick on foot. He said that I would go to the First National and the boys to Congdon's. He said we would ride in and hitch at the old Congdon building. People would not see us until we got right into the bank.

"All five horses belonged to Bob. I am a full cousin to Bob and Cole Younger. My mother was a sister of Cole Younger's father."

He confessed that the gang was responsible for the Red Rock, Wharton and other robberies in Indian Territory, which had been credited to them. The story of a hidden treasure, he said, was nonsense.

"If there had been a hidden treasure," he said, "we would all have been alive to-day. It was because we were all 'broke' that we planned the Coffeyville raid.

"We were being hard pressed by the officers down in the Territory when Bob decided that we would have to get out of the country."

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

Two Lives Lost in a Midnight Blaze at Mapleton, L. I.

BATH BEACH, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The residence of S. D. McLure at Mapleton, town of New Utrecht, was destroyed by fire late last night. Bart. May, a medical student, of Leffert's Park, and Gustav Schwik, a classmate, were severely burned while removing furniture.

Two other men who were engaged in removing furniture from another part of the house were crushed by falling timbers and perished in the flames. There names cannot be obtained.

Death of Actress Mary A. Wray.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Mary A. Wray is dead at Newton, L. I. She was probably the oldest actress on the American stage, being 87 years old. Her maiden name was Rutan. She had supported the elder Booth, and many other famous actors, long since dead.

McNaughton Nominated for Congress.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 7.—The Democrats of the Third Congressional District nominated ex-Senator Donald McNaughton, who is at present Executive Officer of the New York State Department of the World's Fair, to represent them in Congress.

A MYSTERY NO LONGER

New York's Woman Smuggler Turns Up and Threatens.

DIVORCED WIFE OF WM. CAMPBELL.

She is Accused of Bringing in $110,000 Worth of Oil Paintings Without Paying Duty—Her Lively Career in Europe and in This Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The mystery regarding the woman who is charged with smuggling $110,000 worth of oil paintings was cleared up yesterday at the Custom House. Anna Louise Churchill was her maiden name. She is now the wife of Dr. Cacaci, of Naples, and is the divorced wife of William Campbell, a wealthy wallpaper manufacturer of No. 518 West 42d street. She is described as a fascinating woman, 36 years old. She was the central figure of a sensational horsewhipping case in 1883, when she attempted to thrash her husband in Central Park.

A divorce suit followed and she was granted $4,000 a year alimony. She was conspicuous about New York for several years. She went to Europe in 1888, and met Dr. Cacaci, a wealthy physician and speculator in fine paintings. She cut a tremendous figure in European capitals and watering places for several years, and returned to this country in August, 1891. Last January the paintings arrived, which are now in the custody of the customs authorities.

The collection was so large and valuable, containing 106 paintings in all, that suspicions were aroused. She swore that they were her own personal effects, and had been in use in her own household for over one year. Treasury Inspectors Traitteur and Sendens were put upon the case. Mrs. Cacaci went to Saratoga in the summer. It was discovered that she was circulating a catalogue of the paintings. She sold about 25 of the less valuable ones.

Inspector Traitteur traced the pictures to the Manhattan and Lincoln Safe Deposit companies. The lot in the Manhattan Safe Deposit Company was entered in the name of her friend, James F. Caldwell, the starter of race horses. Seizure was made on Wednesday, although the sheriff had levied on the paintings in the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company on a judgment obtained by Stenographer Monohan. He sued to recover fees for stenographic work in Mrs. Cacaci's divorce case. In the supplementary proceedings instituted by him, about two weeks after the paintings arrived, she swore that she owned no property of any sort. This testimony contradicts the oath she took at the Custom House.

Mrs. Cacaci assumed an air of great indignation yesterday when she called on Deputy Collector Phelps regarding the seizure. She claimed that Traitteur had made love to her in Saratoga, and this was his method of revenge because she repulsed his love. She said that she would have those paintings out of the Custom House very quickly. Her friends, Mr. Caldwell, Police Superintendent Byrnes and other men "with a pull," would take care of Inspector Traitteur's charges, she averred.

Although the Customs authorities value the seizure at $110,000, it is evident from Mrs. Cacaci's catalogue that she expected to realize from $250,000 to $300,000 from the sale of the collection. Whether the Customs authorities will release the collection on payment of duty or confiscate them has not yet been determined.

HATHAWAY SEEKS SEPARATION.

His Wife Was With Frank Mezick When He Committed Suicide in Chicago.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 7.—Fred G. Hathaway, the husband of the woman who was with Frank Mezick when he committed suicide in Chicago the other day, filed a bill for divorce in the Court of Common Pleas here yesterday, asking also the custody of the child.

It was learned here yesterday that two weeks ago Hathaway caught his wife out riding with a young Cleveland blood, and in the quarrel that followed he either ordered her from the house or she left it in a rage. Hathaway supposed that she was with her parents until she turned up in Chicago.

Hathaway is of one of the best families in the city. He is a brother-in-law of F. DeHaas Robinson, president of the Cleveland Cable Railway Company and the Cleveland Baseball Club.

GEORGE DELAMATER GUILTY.

Convicted of Statutory Embezzlement—G. B. and T. A. Delamater Acquitted.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 7.—The jury in the Delamater cases found a verdict of guilty as to George Wallace Delamater, and not guilty as to G. B. and T. A. Delamater.

G. W. Delamater was in the court room and received the verdict without flinching.

The defense will move for a new trial, and, failing to obtain it, will carry the case up on the question of the constitutionality of the Act of 1889, and their numerous exceptions taken to the Court's rulings.

The verdict meets with general approval.

The charge upon which ex-Senator Delamater is convicted is statutory embezzlement, that is, the firm received deposits in their bank, knowing themselves to be insolvent.

MILOREY BROWN MUST SWING.

A Thirteen-Year-Old Colored Girl to Be Hanged at Columbia, S. C., To-day.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 7.—There will be four murderers hanged in this city today.

Deering, the Edgefield negro murderer, had his sentence commuted yesterday to imprisonment for life by Gov. Tillman.

The Governor will not interfere in the case of Milorey Brown, a 13-year-old colored girl, who poisoned a white baby in Spartanburg, or in the case of John Williams, a negro, who killed Mayor Henneman, of Spartanburg.

By declining to interfere in the latter case, the Governor has prevented a lynching, as a secret committee had made all arrangements to kill him if his sentence was commuted.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M., Saturday: For New Jersey, Fair; Northwesterly Winds; Warmer Saturday Morning, Followed by Cooler Saturday.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A basket sociable will be held at the Emmanuel Baptist church Oct. 18.

—There will be a special sale of buttercups at Tier's, to-morrow. Don't miss it.

—Guttmann's band took part in the firemen's parade at Westfield yesterday.

—There is a big reduction on flour, etc., at the store of the United Tea and Coffee Growers' association.

—The Plainfield Bicycle club participated in the wheelmen's lantern parade at Rahway last evening.

—Somebody stole Tom Hale, jr's relay Columbia bicycle from in front of the Crescent League rooms, last evening.

—The Hotchkin Sisters' Concert company will give an entertainment in Warren Mission chapel next Thursday evening at 8.

—Seats are now on sale at the usual prices for Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew's appearance at Music Hall, next Monday evening.

—The Park Avenue Baptist Christian Endeavor meeting, this evening at 8, will be led by Mr. Robinson of the Congregational society.

—Mr. Shallow of Rahway, and Mayor Saunders of North Plainfield, will speak in the general headquarters of the Democratic party, to-morrow evening.

—Thirty Republican wheelmen appeared in uniform in a shoat parade last night. They looked chilly in their white coats, but they'll find it much colder after November 8.

—When all the projected electric railways are completed, Plainfield will be the hub of the rapid transit system of central New Jersey, and connection will be easily made for Bound Brook, Somerville, New Brunswick, Westfield, Cranford and Elizabeth.

—The line of suits, trousers and overcoats offered by C. Schepflin & Co., brand new and stylish, well and durably trimmed, has never been excelled. Men, boys and children can be fitted to perfection at one-half the price charged elsewhere.

—The Republicans had a blow-out in the Crescent rink last evening. Judge Ulrich called the meeting to order, and introduced chairman Ernest R. Ackerman as a typical young Republican. The speakers of the evening were ex-Congressmen Finerty and Buchanan.

—The tournament of the Riverside Gun club, at Red Bank, this week, was a great success. Plainfield was represented by Charley Smith ("Dutchy") and Nief Apgar, who won the club team race against a dozen competitors at inanimate targets on Thursday, for the "Independents" of Plainfield.

—F. M. Hulett, whose show-window decorations are not surpassed even by metropolitan music-stores, now has his dancing hall and musical conservatory all ready for the public, and is preparing to give a fine opening concert and select invitation dance some time next week. Full particulars will be duly announced.

—At next Monday's regular meeting of the Cleveland and Stevenson Campaign club, the speakers will be Edward H. Strobel of New York and J. A. Beecher of Newark. Mr. Strobel was secretary of the American legation at Madrid, under Cleveland. Mr. Beecher is too well known as a most entertaining speaker to need introduction.

LIVE BOROUGHITES.

NORTH PLAINFIELD DEMOCRATS HAVE A ROUSING TIME.

Vigorous Speeches by Party Leaders Accompany the Enthusiastic Banner-Raising.

The North Plainfield Democrats did themselves proud last night. Their banner-raising was a great success. The crowd was large, the glare of red fire and display of fireworks was abundant, the band played, there were good speeches, and everybody joined in one mighty hurrah for Cleveland and Stevenson. The demonstration made a very pretty scene, and the harmony and enthusiasm exhibited were an indication of the great things to be expected in November.

The outdoor meeting accompanying the banner-raising was officered as follows:

Chairman—B. Luerssen.
Secretary—Andrew E. Kenney.
Vice-presidents—Hon. Wm. L. Saunders, E. C. Morse, Judge Sperry, Rev. T. Logan Murphy, Samuel Townsend, Fred. M. Slater, Dr. C. R. Thiers, John A. Thickstun, S. C. Shann, W. E. Mattison, M. D., Joseph Blatz, David Carney, Ira F. Riker, Abram King, William H. Pangborn, John Carney, John T. Case, Benjamin Gavin, Frank Linke, Andrew Love, George Demler, Frank Moebus, Jacob Voehl, John Vetterlein, David L. Thompson, John L. Anderson, George Stewart, E. P. Gavin, R. A. Boyce, Theodore Luerssen, Lewis M. Bird.

Rousing speeches were made by Mayor Saunders, the ever-popular ex-Speaker James J. Bergen, and David J. Carney. All were well received, and the meeting adjourned with cheers for Cleveland and Stevenson.

Mr. Saunders's address is in full as follows:

Fellow Citizens and Democrats: The presence of Speaker Bergen and others is sufficient excuse for me to keep in the background to-night. This demonstration and the husky condition of my voice remind me of the Hancock campaign when I was a member of a Democratic club in Vermont. Democrats are needed up there you know, and we were struggling hard. Our club was thriving and enthusiastic, just as this one is. A motion was made that we buy torches for a grand procession and a dispute arose as to the kind of torch to get. One fellow spoke in favor of the fan torch because it made a big show; another wanted the gun torch because you could carry it on your shoulder or anywhere that you pleased, while a third thought the broom handle torch was best because it was cheapest. The question was much mixed when a little quarryman from Rutland got up and said that for his part he believed in modern inventions and improvements. He was a reader of newspapers and he had heard of a torch that was way ahead of any of those mentioned. It had been advertised in the newspapers and on the rocks by the railroad, and was up to the times. "I therefore move you," said he, "that we procure Brown's Bronichal Torches."

We have gathered here to raise the banner of our political faith. The men who lead us in this cause are men we know and trust. We make the fight with them because they represent the principles we urge and honestly believe to be the best for us and for our country. Grover Cleveland is the exponent of tariff reform, the foe of trusts and the friend of the people. Adlai Stevenson is a warrior of the old-time Democracy, to whom a Force Bill is

"A monster of such frightful mien
That to be hated needs but to be seen."

And General Stevenson has seen this monster, as everyone has who knows anything about the South during the dark days of reconstruction. We who believe in Home Rule will never permit federal interference at our elections, whether they be local, State or National. Intelligence and education will and must triumph in spite of law. God be praised that in this free land the shackles of the slave have been forever broken! but if the freedman is not brave or intelligent enough to manage his own affairs, then he is not a fit man to vote. If he is so much like a jackass as our Republican friends would have him think—and I do not believe he is—then he had better be driven by a whip, than be pulled by the ears to the polls by a U. S. Marshal. The colored man of the South is all right and wants to be let alone. He is beginning to think and grow, and the older and wiser he gets the less he thinks of the Republican party.

Now, just a word about protected bleasings and wages. They are building a tin-plate factory at Elizabethport, and this is hailed as what the McKinley bill has done for us. If we had productive tin mines in this country I would favor a reasonable tariff on tin-plates until the industry had become established, but in my experience as a mining engineer and manufacturer of mining machinery, I know that there are no productive tin mines in this country. Those in the Black Hills have never paid in spite of English capital and the support of the United States government. All these figures and tables published by the Republican papers, showing an enormous increase in the tin-plate industry, are deceptive, because they appear to represent a production of tin-plate in this country, when, as a matter of fact, in almost every case the raw plates made by foreign laborers are imported and simply tinned over by men imported from Wales for the purpose. This Elizabethport factory is simply a tinning factory, and Mr. Rogers, the president of the Welch Tin-Plate association, and the man who is building the Elizabethport factory, is my authority for the statement that they had decided to build tinning factories in this country before the McKinley bill was framed in Congress. Mr. Rogers says that the McKinley bill is only a secondary consideration with them; that capital is quite as sensible as it is sensitive to markets, and, as they were sending to America two-thirds of their Welch production in finished tin plates, they naturally saw the advantage of manufacturing near their greatest market, especially when they found out that American machinery and high-priced American labor could produce the best and most profitable results.

A friend of mine, and a protectionist, recently visited Ticonderoga, New York, where the Graphite Mines of the Dixon Crucible Co. are situated. He said that the exhibition of protection there was too much for him, and it almost gave him the Mugwump fever. Here are mines where a handful of men are employed, not to get out as much graphite as could be produced, but to simply mine enough to supply the wants of the Dixon Crucible Co. and keep up a show of American industry that might be used in their argument with Republican congressmen to prohibit the importation of graphite, and to keep up the price of lead pencils and such things so that the Dixon Co. might reap the benefit.

The love which the Republican party expresses in its platform each year for the poor laborer is too much for the hardest heart. They tell you that the purpose of this high tariff is to keep up your wages. Their sympathy for you reminds me of the remark made by the small boy whose father with great professions of solemnity, called him in the drawing-room and said that it grieved him to tell him that he felt compelled to give him a whipping. The boy very promptly replied: "Go ahead dad, but for heavens sake don't give me again that old gag about its hurting you more than it does me." The question of wages is largely a question of supply and demand. Skilled labor in America is well paid because it produces well, and because of our wide extent of territory and great natural resources. If protection has anything to do with it why is it that a laborer in New York gets $1.50 per day while in some of the Southern States negroes work for 50 cents per day. Colored men are plentiful there and do not aspire to positions requiring skill, hence the price of labor goes down. In Vermont quarrying machine runners get less than $1.50 per day, while in some of the Western States they get as high as $3 for running the same kind of machine. This is because these machines have been in use for the last twenty-five years in Vermont and everybody knows how to run them, while in Western States skilled labor is scarce. I know of a class of laborers whose wages have been largely increased since the passage of the McKinley bill, and they are going up every day. Servant girls used to get eight or ten dollars per month and now they get here in the North from fifteen to twenty dollars. The same service is rendered in other States in this country for very much lower figures, and the reason why we pay a big price here is because service of this kind is scarce. A young girl prefers a position as saleslady for half price, and this is a natural feeling, because the children of Americans aspire to better positions in social life. Our Republican Consul at New South Wales is my authority for the statement that in that free trade country the laborer is better paid and better treated than in any other country in the world. A common laborer there gets two dollars per day, and eight hours is the standard time for labor. In the vast coal fields of New South Wales the miners are paid one dollar per ton, while here in America the price is from fifty to seventy-five cents. If protection has anything to do with wages, how in the name of heaven is it that in protected Germany wages are about half what they are in free trade England, and in free trade England they are half as much as they are in protected America, and in protected America they are less than what they are in free trade New South Wales. Take this puzzle home and solve it if you can.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Councilman and Mrs. W. G. E. See will be at home, 29 Sandford avenue, after the first of November.

Mayor Alexander Gilbert has been elected secretary of the New York Clearing-House association.

F. L. C. Martin is on the list of nominations for representatives to the New Jersey Division, L. A. W., for next year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Baxter and family, of 107 Richmond street, left to-day for Unionville, Orange county, N. Y., the former home of Mrs. Baxter's mother, for a month.

Mrs. J. W. Gavett gave a tea to a number of her most intimate friends, principally the Ladies 9 of the Y. M. C. A., last evening, at her home on Third place. The occasion was the seventh anniversary of her wedding day.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Harry Squires, who will spend the winter in New York, have leased from next Spring the home on Broadway now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Andrews. Mr. Andrews is building on Central avenue.

It is expected that Plainfield's society people will so appreciate the public appearance in this city of charming Gladys Rankin and her clever husband Sidney Drew, as to fill Music Hall next Monday evening. Seats are now on sale.

The Trenton True American says that "The most brilliant and sparkling event of the season in the old college town was the very select wedding event that took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carpenter on Nassau street at Princeton. Miss Mable, their second daughter, was married to William E. Hinkson, the popular young druggist of Plainfield."

The greatest success of this campaign in Plainfield, will always be remembered as the work of the Cleveland and Stevenson club. Their Monday evening meetings from now till election, addressed by eminent speakers, the mass-meetings in Music Hall already arranged, and the thorough personal canvass of the city proposed, will certainly result in the gain of many votes for tariff reform. The largest share of the credit for this complete and efficient work is due to Henry B. Ely, chairman of the executive committee of the club.

Good Music This Winter.

The Mendelssohn Male Chorus is now rehearsing regularly every Thursday, and will give its first public concert in December. None but the best music will be rendered, but the preference will be given to light rather than heavy music. There will be good soloists and fine orchestral accompaniment. Only the best voices are admitted, and the membership is limited to forty. Mr. MacClymont will no doubt make a most excellent conductor.

The Ralli Robber Was an Amateur.

The burglar who entered Constantine P. Ralli's house at Netherwood some nights ago turns out to have been a workman of the neighborhood. He has restored the stolen property, and for his family's sake prosecution is deferred and he is put on his good behavior.

Warren Mission Election.

The following officers of the Warren Mission Christian Endeavor society were elected last night:

President—Henry Seader.
Vice-president—M. M. Dunham.
Recording Secretary—Lizzie Stafford.
Corresponding Secretary—W. C. Dobbins.
Treasurer—Alice Bolsterle.

Three Men Killed in a Wreck.

All trains over the Philadelphia and Reading road were delayed this morning by a fatal wreck. A freight crashed into the rear of a coal train. Three men are reported killed.

—THE PRESS prints elsewhere a communication from a young newspaper man, Will F. Ford, son of William J. Ford of this city. For one who has not yet had a vote, it shows remarkable discernment of political principles.

Look out for counterfeits, imitations, and substitutes, represented as genuine, but sold at less than regular prices by dealers in medicines not authorized to sell Dr. Pierce's genuine medicines.

To guard against fraud and imposition, the makers of Dr. Pierce's genuine medicines now sell their world-famed remedies only through druggists, authorized as agents, and under a positive guarantee of benefit or cure, or money refunded. Authorized agents only can, under these regulations, furnish Dr. Pierce's genuine medicines, which always have been, are, and always will be, sold at the following prices:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery the remedy for all diseases arising from impure blood, $1.00 per bottle. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (the remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements), $1.00 per bottle. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets (the original little Liver Pills), 25 cents per vial.

But they're the cheapest medicines sold, because you pay only for the good you get.

U. C. BOWLING LEAGUE.

A SIXTEEN TEAM CHAMPION CONTEST ARRANGING.

There'll be a Great Struggle for Strikes and Spares all Winter Through Union County.

Noel Verrier and George A. Hallock represented the Crescent League, and Philip Butscher represented the C. Y. M. L. of Plainfield, in the meeting held last evening, at Elizabeth, for the permanent organization of the Union County Bowling League. There were present besides: W. J. Whelan of the Y. M. C. L. A. of Elizabeth, G. W. Cooley and G. B. Sheppard of the Arthur Kull club of Elizabeth, R. M. Davis of the Elizabeth Field club, John M. Shreve of the Alcyone Boat club of Elizabeth, E. F. Weeks of the Elizabeth Athletic club, J. W. Wooten of the Villa Luntas of Linden, and others making a total of ten clubs represented out of the sixteen that have asked to be included.

The meeting was called to order by W. J. Whelan, temporary chairman. Upon each act taken during the proceedings, Mr. Whelan, who was Elizabeth's representative in the base-ball league, would sarcastically inquire if it met the approval of the Crescent League representatives present.

A constitution and by-laws reported by the committee consisting of Messrs. Davis, Sheppard and Barnaby, were adopted, and permanent officers elected as follows:

President—J. W. Wooten, of Linden.
Vice-president—R. M. Davis, of Elizabeth.
Secretary—G. W. Cooley, of Elizabeth.
Treasurer—G. A. Hallock, of Plainfield.

The name adopted for the organization is: The Journal Bowling League of Union County. There will be an executive committee consisting of one member of each club in the league. The annual dues will be $5. The contests will be divided into two sections if less than fifteen teams are entered, and three sections if more than fifteen and less than twenty. A committee consisting of Messrs. Davis, Sheppard and Whalan was appointed on sections and schedules to report at the next meeting, the 13th inst.

The prizes, besides the trophy offered by the Journal, of Elizabeth, will be a prize for the winning club, a prize for the winner of each section and a prize for the highest average. The rules will be the same as those of the American Amateur Bowling League.

He'll be an Example for Future Governors.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It cannot be a very difficult thing for any man to choose, who has the least consistancy of character, and who is proud of being known as an American citizen. It matters not which political organization he may favor. The Republican party have presented the name of John Kean, jr., as their candidate for governor. A monopolist and a man of wealth, he has served one term in congress, but he belongs to the party who are opposed to the principles of our government as formulated by those who established it, and therefore is not the people's friend, as the Republican managers favor class-legislation. And then Mr. Kean is no small factor in that villainously revolutionary scheme that the Republican president, Benjamin Harrison, attempted to fasten upon the nation last year, and which measure he still clings to with all the tenacity of his nature, viz: the Force Bill, which means the ignoring of State rights, as regards the franchise, and putting the ballot box under the surveillance of the military which strikes a death blow to the institutions of our country, necessarily transforming our government into a monarchy or that which would be worse.

It then again seems strange to me how any intelligent American citizen who is proud of claming the protection of the stars and stripes can walk erect, with a dignified mien, and deposit his ballot which gives away the keystone of his liberties. Hence every man should remember that in voting for "Kean" for governor or for Benjamin Harrison for chief magistrate of the nation, is assisting to forge shackles for freemen. Every true citizen of this great country is expected to aid in saving the old ship of State, and vote for the fearless leader of Democracy, Grover Cleveland!

On September 14, Judge George T. Werts was selected as the Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial chair, and will without any doubt direct the helm of the State craft for the next three years. The judge is a sage man to be interested with State matters. He was an efficient student of Thomas Jefferson and he has always been true to the principles of that great desciple of liberty, and he has always proved himself the friend of the working man as well as the rich, believing that each should receive the full care and attention of the laws, thus advancing the interests of the State, whose perpetuity and strength depends upon the equitable treatment of the people.

Judge Werts has a keen perception of his official duties and being a man of firm integrity, and always making himself familiar with what he is called upon to perform, he grasps them fearlessly, and in such a way that he has inserted his name upon the history of his native State as an upright, just and honest legislator and jurist that cannot be erased. And if every Democrat in this State will do his duty on the 8th of November, George T. Werts's name will be emblazoned in letters of gold in the same volume, as an able and faithful chief executive of the State of New Jersey, whose example, other governors will be proud to emulate.

THEIR SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY.

Prosperous Record of the Trinity Endeavor Society.

The seventh anniversary of the organization of the Christian Endeavor society of Trinity Reformed church was held last evening with exercises appropriate for the occasion. A choir consisting of Miss Lizzie Dunn, Miss Emma Gillem, Miss Phœbe Mills, Charles Hazeltine, Charles Case, T. E. Hazell and Robert Clark, rendered excellent music. Fred Newman presided at the organ. Mr. Clark sang a solo in an creditable manner.

The body of the church was well filled with Endeavorers from the different societies. On the platform were the Rev J. Clement French, the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, and Horace J. Martin. Mr. Martin presided and announced a short praise service, after which the Rev. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of the church, conducted the scripture reading and offered prayer. This was followed by the secretary's report, which is given in full below.

The address of the evening was then delivered by the Rev. J. Clement French, who gave an admirable talk on the subject of "Why I am a Christian Endeavorer". The speaker was listened to with considerable interest, and all thoroughly enjoyed the helpful suggestions offered. At the close of his remarks a cornet solo was rendered by Mr. Dale, cornetist of the Methodist Episcopal church. The closing hymn was then sung, and Mr. French pronounced the benediction.

A hearty invitation was extended to all to adjourn to the room below, where a sociable time was had. All speak in praise of the way the society celebrated their seventh anniversary.

Annual report of secretary of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield, N. J.:

Oct. 5, 1892, represents as it were another milestone in our journey as a Christian Endeavor society. For seven years we have, in our weak way, been endeavoring to serve and honor our blessed Lord and Master, Jesus Christ. It behooves us, however, on this particular occasion to take a review of our work for the year ending Oct. 5, 1892, and we must confess on the very outset that although we have had a blessed year, our work for the Saviour would have been blessed to even a greater degree had we not allowed some of our opportunities for doing good to pass by unheeded, but as we cannot recall the past may we from its experience be inspired to greater activity and usefulness in our work for the Master. We began the year with 147 members, 124 active and 23 associate. During the year 25 new members have been added to the active list, 16 active members have been dropped from the roll on account of leaving the city, 6 on account of non-attendance, 5 on account of inability to attend, and 4 have been transferred to the honorary list. On the associate list, 4 new members have been added, 3 transferred to the active list, 5 have been dropped from inability to attend, and 7 for non-attendance, therefore we have enrolled at the present time 118 active and 12 associate members. The Lookout Committee have been very actively engaged during the year in looking after the absent members and endeavoring to extend a hearty welcome to strangers. The work of the prayer-meeting committee has been to appoint the ladies for the different meetings, and, in short, to have the general management of the prayer meetings. The following shows the attendance for each month during the year:

Month.	Attendance.
Oct. 1891	324
Nov. "	459
Dec. "	324
Jan. 1892	267
Feb. "	364
Mar. "	357
Apr. "	353
May "	354
June "	267
July "	309
Aug. "	304
Sept. "	341
Total	4,083

The total number of meetings held during the year was 51, thus making an average attendance of 80 at each meeting.

The Sunday-school committee have endeavored to assist the superintendent, in furnishing substitute teachers for the Sabbath-scoool. The flower committee has shared the work of furnishing the floral decorations for the church, with the ladies Christian Work society. After the services, the bouquets were, in many instances, taken to sick members of the society. The missionary committee have held two meetings during the year, one of which was address by Mr. Hamilton, who emphasized very emphatically, the importance of systematic giving to the missionary cause, and as a result Mr. Fulton's "two cents a week" plan was adopted. We now have 81 members who are giving two cents a week or more to this cause. The other meeting was addressed by Miss Richardson, who gave us a very interesting talk on India and its needs. The committee have also been sending religious papers to missionaries in the different fields and to various hospitals. The total amount of money raised by this committee from all sources during the year was $40.00. The social committee have held a number of social gatherings during the year, which have been greatly enjoyed by all who have attended them. The temperance committee have held one meeting, at which a pledge was introduced and signed by nearly all the members of the society. A literary society was organized in January 1892. They held four meetings which were all very interesting. The reception and music committees have rendered very excellent service, in the performance of their respective duties.

The Junior Endeavor society reports that their second year was one of progress and growth. The total enrollment is seventy-five with an average attendance of fifty-five. The sum of $19.50 was raised for the Church Building Fund of the denomination. The society loses the valuable services of Miss Alice Smith, superintendent, by reason of her removal from the city. The work of the third year, began to-day (Thursday, October 6th), under the promising leadership of Mrs. Robert Meeker, and with every assurance of success.

The total amount received in the treasury, from all sources during the year was $82 40. The total amount of expenditures $80.35, which leaves a balance in the treasury of $2.05. From this very imperfect and hasty review of our work for the past year, we can see that the Lord has abundantly blessed our feeble efforts, and our desire is to press forward with renewed zeal and energy in the service of our blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,
CHARLES D. WHEELER,

Think Hydrants are Unfairly Distributed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—In answer to the article in Wednesday night's PRESS about hydrants on Sherman avenue, we beg to state that we know what contract the Water company has with the city, but we think that as we pay our share of taxes we should have as much benefit as owners of empty lots, as in case of Grant avenue, where one block has four hydrants and there are only two houses on both sides of the street, and they are opposite one another, at the corner of Seventh street; and Seventh street has hydrants near these two houses. All we want is what is fair.

Respectfully,
RESIDENTS OF SHERMAN AVENUE.

The "War Cry" an Educator.

DEAR EDITOR:—I am so glad that the Salvation Army ever came to Plainfield, N. J. God has wonderfully worked through it, and to-day many souls can lift their voices in praise to Him. I myself can glorify God for the fullness of salvation. I feel that I cannot keep still, for God has saved me through and through, and has taught me many things.

I have been in this country only two years and a few months, and have been reading the dear old WAR CRY only eight months of that time. By reading it, God has taught me to read, write and speak the English language.

God has wonderfully blessed me since my conversion, and my only desire is by His grace to go forward and fight the devil and win precious souls for Him.

The New Jersey State Committee of Colored Republican will meet in this city, to perfect its organization, Oct. 11, at 2 p. m., in accordance with the orders of the executive committee. The organization includes fifty of the most prominent colored Republicans of the State. Its officers are: Charles N. Robinson, chairman; William H. Hopper, vice-chairman; J. W. Mays, treasurer; Jesse Lawson, secretary, and William A Kline, assistant secretary.

Leal's Cadets in a Big Parade.

Leal's school cadets are to be a prominent feature of the private school division in the big Columbian celebration school and college parade, New York city, the morning of Oct. 10. The Leal cadets are in fine training, and will doubtless make an excellent showing. The newly-elected officers are:

Captain—George F. Edwards.
First Lieutenant—C. P. Bull, jr.
Second Lieutenant—Henry Lowe.
Sergeant—Frederick VanVliet.
Corporals—George P. Bull, Frost, Bushnell and Newhall.

Fall Overcoats.

The new dark unfinished worsteds that Watson & Co. of Newark are making "all ready to put on", certainly stand them at the head of the trade as the great overcoat makers of Newark, and this month they show the elegant new garments on which their tailors have been working all summer.

No other firm can show you such handsome styles, including the new dark worsteds now so popular in fine custom trade, which Watson & Co. are selling at $12 as fast as their tailors can finish them.

Look in their Broad and Market street windows where you can see these silk and satin-trimmed garments that no firm can show you all ready to put on, all made up as close copies of the best ordered work from which they cannot be told when worn.—The Newark Item.

Another Rise in Coal to Help Mr. Kean.

Mr. Gopsill, of the coal firm of Gopsill & Vanderhoof, who was a delegate to the recent State Republican convention and a warm supporter of Mr. Kean, said yesterday he believes that the combine will order an advance of 25 or 40 cents a ton on November 1.

It is openly charged that this advance, which will be ordered by the Reading, Central, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and the other coal roads will be made in the interest of Mr. Kean, who hopes to gain votes by it through the general misunderstanding which seems to exist on the subject of last winter's coal legislation.

Mr. Smalley Sent for His Own Wife.

The sudden departure of Will Smalley from North Plainfield, is said to have been because of stress of circumstances. The rumor that he took a young woman neighbor with him is denied by relatives. They say that, on the contrary, he has sent for his own wife to join him in Maryland.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Rambler, leading basso of the C. D. Rose Grand Opera Co.

VICTORY FOR THE WIDOW.

A Superior Counselor Wins in the Superior Court.

Counselor Charles A. Reed yesterday won an important lawsuit in the Superior court, New York city. Mary L., widow of John L. Spencer, of North Plainfield, sued the Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance company for a policy of $3,000 on her husband's life. The company had refused to pay because he had lapsed and when reinstated had given a warantee of good health which they claimed was false. Counselor Reed established before Judge Dugrow and a jury that the company had no right to exact such a warrantee, and verdict for the full amount of principal and interest, $3,418, was given, with costs.

A Good Description.

A Texas justice of the peace was investigating a murder case. The principal witness was Uncle Mose.

"What sort of a looking man was it who pulled the first gun?" asked the judge.

"He was a little, bow-legged, ugly, sandy-haired cuss, jess about annuder sich ornery-lookin' man as you be, boss."—Texas Siftings.

Had Changed Heads.

There is one fond parent in Hartford who is going to let his beard grow without molestation hereafter. He had it shaved off the other day, and when he appeared at dinner with a clean face for the first time in a number of years his five-year-old daughter remarked: "Say, papa, whose head you got on?"—Hartford Post.

He Was Satisfied on Earth.

Atkins—Say, Bill, I've a splendid job fer you.

Bill—What is that?

Atkins—Why, that parachute man got killed yesterday an' de circus-man wants some one to go up in de balloon and jump out fer twenty-five dollars.

Bill—Well, ground's good 'nough fer me.—Judge.

No Wonder She Kicked.

First Servant—How do you like your new place?

Second Servant—I don't like it at all. "What is the matter? Do they treat you rudely?"

"O, no; but they talk so loud I can hear every word they say without having to listen, and I ain't used to that."—Texas Siftings.

Too Much Warning.

Little Miss De Style—Mamma, may I bring Mrs. De Fashion's children into the parlor to see our new gilt chair?

Mrs. De Style (entertaining Mrs. De Fashion)—Certainly, my dear. What a question!

Little Miss De Style—Will it break if two of them look at it at once?—Good News.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Some of the Handsomest Early Fall Importations.

A Visiting Gown of More Than Ordinary Attractiveness—The Proper Thing in Traveling Cloaks—Hints on the Selection of Materials.

[Special New York Letter.]

One of the handsomest early fall importations of trimmings is a Venetian embroidery done in deep rich tones of silk in open-work patterns, with touches of gold and coppery threads shimmering through the whole. The model illustrated here has just arrived from Paris for a September bride.

VISITING GOWN.

The gown is cream yellow Venetian cloth, quite plain as to skirt, with a short corsage, overlaid with this Venetian embroidery. The sleeves have big puffs of pale yellow crystal bengaline and the lower part embroidered.

Black bathing suits continue to be popular, though many pretty ones are seen of striped outing flannel.

Lavender and white stripes trimmed with broad white braid on the sailor collar and belt makes a natty and becoming suit—the color varied to suit the taste of the wearer.

Linen lawn in pale gray and drab shades is much worn for tennis in hot weather, and when neatly belted with white looks trim and appropriate.

The new grenadines with fine colored dots, figures or stripes are very attractive and dressy looking. Made up with fine lace trimmings over silk to match the figure, they are relieved of the somberness usually characteristic of grenadines. There is a great fancy this season among a certain type of small, natty figured women for crepe in those demure shades of Quaker drab and gray, which when made in simple good style set off their figures admirably.

The walking costume for early fall illustrated here is a light weight reseda cloth with full upper sleeves and zouave of black velvet and skirt trimmings of narrow black feather bands.

TRAVELING CLOAK.

White or pearl-colored gloves as well as the more useful chamois are worn with all sorts of costumes at all or any time of day. Although light suede ties are admissible with a light gown on the street they are not in good taste and absolutely inadmissible with a dark costume.

Russia leather ties can now be brought for a moderate sum and have the merit of looking well until their last days of usefulness.

The newest thing in ties is made of kid such as is used for gloves in the gray, tan and brown shades. These are very soft and comfortable, but necessarily undurable, as the kid scratches.

The newest blouses are made of crepe, silk, or lawn, accordion-plaited set into a short round yoke and girdle of velvet or lace over silk. These are very smart and wonderfully becoming to slender figures.

Taffeta silk in dark changeable shades is much used for summer traveling cloaks as well as for skirts and dress foundations, though for autumn wear I would suggest a warmer garment made on the model shown here.

A Scotch homespun or English tweed is made like an ulster with a long cape, self-fringed and lined with a pretty plaid or shot surah. The "gypsy" tie is a novelty to be worn with shirt or blouse waists. Soft China silk handkerchiefs of those indescribable tones of blue, green, rose and yellow shades are folded cornerwise and laid under the turndown collar or above it—as preferred—and knotted loosely in front. In combination with a sailor hat and plain skirt the effect is very good. Large patterned cashmere foulards are new this season. They come in pattern dresses and are quite expensive during this their novel period.

SUMMER CORSAGE.

The newest thing in blouse waists is made of Scotch plaid surah made on the bias. A model just sent out from Paris is a blue and green tartan with red and yellow stripes across the squares. The bodice is carefully fitted on the bias over a lining, the particularly new feature being a cravat of black satin—such as our grandfathers wore—wound twice around the high plaid collar and tied in front with a knot and long "ears." There are rumors that the straight skirt is to be gradually transformed by the addition of deep flounces instead of foot trimmings and hip draperies or paniers.

This will be a welcome change for many stout women to whom the severe molding has been a trying style, though for the woman of average figure I cannot imagine anything more graceful than the passing fashions of this present season.

F. F. B.

The Tale of a Tag.

A woman not a thousand miles from Richmond was without doubt the most flurried female last Sunday in seven counties when she discovered, after coming out of church, that her brand new hat was adorned with a tag, whereupon was inscribed the legend: "Reduced to $2.75."—Richmond Review.

An Unfeeling Brute.

Mrs. Friendly—What did your husband say to you to make you feel so bad?

Mrs. Newlywed—I told him that he hadn't been to church since we were married, and he—boo-hoo—said: "No wonder—s—s—burnt child dreads the fire"—boo-hoo.—Texas Siftings.

THE RANCHMAN'S LETTER.

I'm a lonely old ranch by the fire to-night,
At my ranch on the Texas frontier,
Old memories, my lady, now prompt me to write
To a friend who is distant—yet near.

While the fire dreams on in its warm chimney bed,
And the owls are calling Tu Whoo'
Alone I recall the fond past that is fled,
Alone I am thinking of you.

And you? as you flirt with some gay millionaire
Or among "the four hundred" seek rest,
Do you ever remember, my proud Lady Clare,
Your friend in "the wild, woolly west?"

Have you then forgotten our joys of the past,
That parting and silent good-by?
Alas, those bright days were too lovely to last
For such a poor fellow as I.

The parts that we play on the broad stage of life
Are now very different, I fear;
For while you are leading midst fashionable strife
I chase the shy, "maverick steer."

You dwell in proud mansions on Fifth avenue
Sometimes you are seen at Long Branch;
I live here alone with a cowboy or two
Midst the woes of a bachelor's ranch.

You dine on rare viands and costly champagne,
And lunch with Delmonico's queens,
In the summer you live in the hotels of Maine;
I live on boiled bacon and beans.

You drive in proud state, with a coachman that's dark;
You pose in your carriage, of course;
You travel in Pullmans to Tuxedo park,
I ride on a wild pitching horse!

Your dresses are poems! your bills are immense!
At least I imagine they are,
They make a fine figure—in dollars and cents;
They are paid by your frowning papa.

You go to receptions and Patriachs' balls,
You gossip at five o'clock teas,
You're a slave to gay fashion! Oh, how it enthralls;
I call it a farce, if you please.

Yes! yes! it's a shame! you are wasting your life
In those fashionable follies up there,
You who would make such a lovable wife!
I would court you myself—did I dare!

But alas, it can't be! you would never live here,
And prudence forbids me to speak;
For while you are spending four thousand a year
I subsist on two dollars a week!

—Larry Chittenden, in Galveston News

No Cause for Alarm.

Wife—The cat is in the pantry eating the cold steak. Come and drive her out.

Husband—Is that the steak you cooked for dinner?

"Yes."

"Then, I reckon, the cat's gone already."—Texas Siftings.

Correctly Named.

"I see a lot of married wheelmen have formed a bicycle club and named it the Homeless club. Does that mean they have no home?"

"No," replied N. Peck. "It only means they will now be home less than ever."—Chicago Bearings.

High Praise.

Little Johnny—Yes'm. It's most as good as wot we buy in th' store.—Good News.

Neighbob—And you expect to support my daughter on ten dollars a week?

Neighbob—Well, go ahead; my heart refuses, but my pocketbook consents She costs me fifty dollars.—N. Y. Herald.

"How do you like apples?" asked Aunt Anne.

The Dear Thing.

Miss Crofut—This little cup and spoon were given to me on my first birthday.

Miss Prussley—Oh, I must show them to mamma! She has a perfect rage for old silver.—Puck.

Rather Early.

I like to wake up in the morn,
A little after four,
To hear the little birdy's song,
And dear old papa's snore.

—Harper's Young People.

Almost an Insinuation.

Customer—Are these pants all wool?

Clerk—As I am an honest man, dey was all wool.

Customer—Then I suppose they are two-thirds cotton.—Texas Siftings.

How It Feels to Be Hanged.

Michael Blume, who was twice strung up by lynchers near Fresno, Cal., still lives, and has told how it feels to be hanged. He tells how when he was first run up he "felt his neck crack." There was no pain after the first moment. He says: "I seemed to be swimming in air that was intensely dark, but I thought I was in some familiar place. It was like a dream. I seemed to be floating away faster and faster, and lighter and lighter, until I passed into nothingness. I did not know when I was let down. I returned to consciousness as gradually and as painlessly as I had passed away." He was let down in the hope that a confession might be got from him, but he said he had none to make and was run up again. This time he was conscious of a rather long and painful struggle, and then seemed to float off painlessly into space. He was let down again, and this time the coming to life was somewhat painful.

Tecumseh's Tomahawk.

A tomahawk said to have belonged to the famous Indian chief Tecumseh is now in possession of Mrs. Lizzie Skinner, of West Point, Ky. At the battle of the Thames, north of Lake Erie, in Ontario, in which the warrior was slain, a New York soldier, named John Hanes, despoiled the fallen redskin, and subsequently gave the weapon to John Bramble, who died last December. It then passed into the hands of Mrs. Skinner in compliance with the wish of its last owner. The hatchet is said to be half English, half Indian in its shape. Doubts are evidently entertained as to its genuineness by some of the western editors who tell the story.

Dr. Freeman at Yale.

The late Prof. Freeman, the English historian, had something of Carlyle's disregard for the ordinary rules of courtesy. It is said that some years ago, when he visited Yale, one of the college professors addressed him as Dr. Freeman.

"Doctor! Why doctor?" returned the historian, who, by the way, had received the degree of Doctor of Civil Laws at Oxford, and that of Doctor of Laws at Cambridge.

"I thought you were entitled to the doctorate," was the reply.

"Suppose I am? So is Gladstone. Would you 'doctor' him?"

"No, sir," said the Yale man, somewhat disgusted. "I certainly would not apply so insignificant a title to a man of Gladstone's eminence."—Youth's Companion.

Who Wrote It?

Johnny, who is studying literature, asked his father the other day what the word "autocrat" meant.

"Why, a king, a master, or a boss," answered Mr. Jones, without looking up from his paper.

"Jim," said Johnny, an hour or two afterward, anxious to air his latest knowledge, "I'll bet you a dollar you can't tell me who wrote 'The Boss of the Breakfast Table.'"—Youth's Companion.

An Idea.

Ethel—I'm just as hungry as a big, big lion.

Mamma—Well, what do you think a hungry big, big lion would like to eat?

Ethel (joyfully)—Fruit cake!—Harper's Young People.

The Wife's Anxiety.

"How much did you put in the contribution plate?" asked his wife.

"A quarter."

"John, are you willing to put us on record as two-for-a-quarter people?"—Washington Star.

Mysteries Locked in Her Bosom.

"There's a woman that knows a great deal more than most people."

"Who is she?"

"She is a dressmaker."

"How does she know more than most people?"

"She knows where the pockets in women's dresses are, for she puts them in."—N. Y. Press.

When It Rained.

Dusty Rhodes—Just borry yourself a blazer, and the first thing you know you'll have a fashionable shirt to match.

Fitz William—How did you get that lovely striped buzzom?

Dusty Rhodes—By buttoning up my coat when it rained.—N. Y. Herald.

Lard as a Life-Saver

The school boy's composition asserted that pins had saved the lives of many people by their not having swallowed them; so lard has saved the lives of thousands by their having avoided food of which it forms a part. Hog's lard is responsible for much indigestion and dyspepsia, as any physician will testify, hence has been introduced to take the place of lard. There is no secret as to its composition. It consists only of highly refined Cotton Seed Oil, and Beef Suet. Clean, delicate, healthy and economical. Lard has had its day, and a greasy day it was. When next about to use lard,—Don't, but try Cottolene. At leading grocers.

NEW YORK FILLING UP

The Rush to Attend the Celebration Commences.

EXERCISES INAUGURATED TO-DAY.

Services Held This Morning in All the Jewish Places of Worship—The Metropolis Gorgeously Decorated—Estimated That 700,000 Visitors Will be Present Next Week—Ample Facilities For Entertaining All.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Nearly everything is in readiness for the week of celebration in honor of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. The coming week promises to be one of the greatest in metropolitan history.

It is hard to say which feature of the various exercises next week will be the most interesting, so much is there of importance to be crowded into each 24 hours. So well has the work of the Committee of One Hundred progressed, however, that even the arrangements for the banquet are about completed, and those who are fortunate enough to be present will hear some good speeches.

The hotels of the city are already crowded with strangers and the decoration of building in all parts of the big town is progressing with amazing quickness.

The work of erecting the stands and adjusting the decorations along the line of the parade is progressing rapidly, and it is now thought by sunset to-night the sound of the hammer and buzz of the saw will not be heard on Broadway until after the monster celebration. Business men and householders in all parts of the city are decorating their houses, and by Monday morning New York will present a gorgeous sight.

From the Battery to Central Park, and in fact up to the Columbus monument, a long line of color will be seen. Suspended across Fifth avenue, from Madison square to Thirty-fourth street, will be huge streamers, flags and lanterns. The national emblem will be seen floating from nearly every housetop.

Gen. MacMahon, who has charge of the details of the parade, estimates the number of soldiers belonging to out-of-town organizations who will be in line of march at 10,000 men.

The Columbian celebration began this morning, so far as the Hebrew population of New York is concerned. This is the season of the Feast of the Tabernacle, and to-day is set apart in all the synagogues for special commemoration services in honor of Columbus.

Rabbi Gotthell is at the Hotel Savoy, slowly recovering from typhoid fever, but the services at Temple Emanu-El, at 251 Fifth avenue, were especially interesting. The synagogue was decorated with flowers and American flags inside and out. Rev. Dr. Joseph Silberman preached on "America, the Promised Land." There will be other services at 11 o'clock to-morrow.

In all synagogues services were held this morning. To-morrow the Christian churches will observe the occasion.

Mr. Charles G. Wahle, secretary of the Committee of One Hundred which has charge of the celebration, estimates the number of visitors who will be here on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at between 650,000 and 700,000.

He says that the city is at this time probably better prepared for the reception of this multitude than any other city in the world.

Should Mr. Wahle's estimate prove correct, it will be far the largest crowd of visitors which has ever been in New York. The city can care for them easily, however, as it could a larger number.

Although the accommodations of most of the hotels are already engaged, as was, of course, to be expected, and many have been obliged to turn away guests, there is no reason for any one to be disappointed.

In every case where the hotels are filled the applicants have been referrred to the Committee on Transportation and Accommodation, whose office is in the Morton House, with the assurance of finding rooms in private houses.

Of private lodging houses there is a vast supply. So far, the number of rooms to let is far in excess of the demand. As they are largely in the most desirable parts of the city, the inference that no one is obliged to be without lodgings of a fairly satisfactory nature seems to be warranted.

The Committee on Transportation and Accommodation has at its office lists of desirable places for rent. Many of these are in the cross streets in the immediate vicinity of Fifth Avenue and in the houses of highly respectable persons. In almost every instance the rates are moderate, ranging from $1 to $5 a day for individuals.

Notwithstanding the great number of people who have already engaged rooms at the hotels, boarding houses, private houses and through the committee, there are ample facilities for entertaining many thousands more. Mr. F. L. Adams, secretary of the committee, said yesterday that at least 200,000 more people could be accommodated without any great trouble.

The crowds of visitors from near-by cities, towns and villages keep up a continual commotion at the depots. Hundreds of residents congregate at train time to meet acquaintances and relatives and escort them away.

All the railroad companies which bring passengers to New York have prepared themselves for an unprecedented passenger traffic. Companies that will not run special trains have arranged to divide their regular trains into sections.

A single schedule will in this way sometimes carry a dozen trains of eight or ten cars each. Freight trains have been ordered to give way entirely to the passenger traffic.

The flood gates of the railroads were raised to-day, and the people with their cheap-rate excursion tickets have been allowed to come. The family relatives, country cousins and friends came in multitudes, pouring out of the incoming trains and packing the ferryboats of those lines which terminate in Jersey City.

The railroad officials and employes have their hands full in taking care of the big crowds. At all points along some of the main lines trains will be made up and started as the travel demands.

The out-of-town soldiers who come to join in the parade are to be considered as guests of the city. The armories belonging to the city regiments have been set aside for their use as barracks, and the Committee of One Hundred has contracted for their receiving the best provisions the market affords.

STRIKERS MAKE DENIAL.

Protest They Had Nothing to Do With Yesterday's Explosion at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 8.—The striking steel workers strenuously deny that they had any hand in the atempt to blow up the non-union boarding-house here with a bomb early yesterday morning. They say it was done for the purpose of keeping the soldiers here and to change public opinion in favor of the Carnegies.

Mrs. Marron keeps the boarding house. She used to live in this city but went to Homestead some time ago.

All of her boarders were non-union workers in the Homestead mill and there were thirty-five of them.

The dining room was on the first floor and the sleeping rooms on the second.

In the front of the house, in fact, of the dining room, were large show windows, for the first floor had been built for a store.

One of the side windows had been broken for some time, and it was through this that the perpetrator of the deed worked.

The cartridge was thrown through the window into the dining-room. It struck the floor and a terrific explosion followed.

All the windows were broken and a large hole torn in the floor through which many things were hurled into the cellar below.

The beds on the second floor were thrown six feet up in the air and the occupants tumbled to the floor.

No one was hurt, but most intense excitement followed.

The boarding house, known as the Mansion House, was soon surrounded by officers, and the military was called out.

In the excitement and darkness the perpetrators escaped.

THE PLAGUE AT TONAWANDA.

Two New Cases Reported—Excitement at Fever Heat.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Two new cases of cholera are reported in the house at Ironton, where the Kalmas, father and son died, and the excitement here is intense.

Ironton is one and a half miles from here and takes its name from the Iron works there.

In a little four room frame house there live nine people who came to this country three months ago and are employed at the iron works. It was here the disease first appeared.

Frank Kalma died nine hours after he was attacked and his son died from the same disease after an illness of even shorter duration.

It is now reported that Kalma's wife and an Austrian named Kalisch are down with the disease but in a milder form.

The health authorities are greatly disturbed, and have asked for instructions from the State Board of Health.

The house is quarantined and the bedding and furniture in the rooms occupied by the Kalmas have been burned. A lot of mail from Europe was found in the house and this was also destroyed.

Dr. Jayne says that the disease has every appearance of genuine cholera, but thinks it may likely be sporadic cholera. The people in the house, he says, have been eating tainted meats and rotten vegetables and their surroundings were of a generally uncleanly character.

AN IMPOSING FUNERAL.

Ernest Renan, the French Philosopher, Laid at Rest.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The funeral of Ernest Renan was of an imposing character. The ceremonies began at the College of France in the presence of a distinguished assembly.

The Republican Guard was drawn up in the courtyard and at 10 o'clock a. m. its band played a funeral march.

After eulogistic addresses had been delivered by M. Bourgeois, Minister of Instruction, and other prominent men, the coffin was placed in the hearse.

The casket was completely hidden from sight by flowers and wreaths.

At 11:15 a. m. the procession, headed by a detachment of lancers, started for Montmartre. The cortege was a mile in length and included people in all walks of life, prominent among them being numerous Radical Deputies and Senators, journalists and literary and professional celebrities.

M. Floquet, President of the Chamber of Deputies, and M. Le Royer, President of the Senate, were present, also Gen. Gallifet and Admiral Gervais.

President Carnot was represented by Gen. Borius.

The route was lined by crowds of people.

Rombay Hook Residents Will Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Should the commissioners appointed by the Governors of Pensylvania and Delaware select Bombay Hook Island, Delaware, as the site for the quarantine station which it is proposed to remove from the Lazaretto near Chester, Pa., the quarter of a hundred inhabitants of the isolated spot on the Delaware Bay will create trouble. They say they will make a strong fight in the Delaware Legislature against the tract being brought for any such purpose, and their actions indicate that they will carry out their intention.

Shot by Moonshiners.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 8.—In a desperate fight with moonshiners in Lincoln county three Internal Revenue officers were shot. S. D. Mather, deputy collector, was killed, and Joe Spurrier, special deputy collector, and C. S. Cardwell, deputy general collector, were mortally wounded.

MILDRED BROWN HANGED.

Execution of the Young Colored Girl.—Other Negroes Suffer the Death Penalty.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 8.—John Williams, (colored) and Mildred Brown, a 13-year-old colored girl, were hanged at Spartanburg at fifteen minutes before noon yesterday.

Religious services were held in the jail by a colored preacher.

Both of the condemned criminals professed faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

At 11:35 they were led to the scaffold in the rear of the jail, which is inclosed by a high plank wall.

There the final services were held.

The ropes were adjusted and the girl cried "I'm going home to die" and showed very little feeling. William said "Good-bye everybody."

At this point he protested against his hanging.

At 11:45 the trap fell, killing both instantly.

Both necks were broken and there was not a twitch of the body afterward.

They were cut down at 12:15.

The crime for which Williams suffered death was the killing of Mayor Henneman of Spartanburg, and Mildred Brown, who is only 13 years old, for the cruel murder of a baby because its father upbraided her for a small offence.

William Wilson was hanged at Anderson at 11:15 for cruelly murdering his wife.

He came out of the jail yard at 11 o'clock and prayed continuously till the drop fell at 11:15. His neck was broken and he was pronounced dead in twenty-three minutes.

He was cut down in thirty minutes.

Strong efforts were made to save the life of the negro girl, and numerous appeals were made to the Governor to commute her sentence to life imprisonment, but the Governor was firm in his position not to interfere with the death sentence.

Thursday evening the Governor answered the last appeal, as he had all previous, that the law must take its course. The Governor then left for New York and telegrams praying that the girl's life be spared were sent to him, but they were not answered, and so the girl paid the extreme penalty for her crime.

ON CRAWFORD'S TRACK.

The New York Absconder Has Been Living in San Francisco.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Frederick M. Crawford, clerk of the Endicott Hotel, this city, who absconded with about $15,000, has been seen in San Francisco. Several well-to-do gentlemen who were stopping at the hotel made up a purse for Crawford to go to New Orleans with, in recognition of his many favors to them, and he was handed a check for $5,000, which he was to place on bets for them on the Sullivan-Corbett fight.

He left for New Orleans September 3, but did not tell the proprietor that he was going. Shortly after his departure it was found that he had not only been borrowing heavily, but pilfering and forging the name of the proprietor of the hotel.

Crawford left New Orleans shortly after the fight, going to San Francisco, where he changed his name to "Sert." He was recognized, however, by two gentlemen who were at the Endicott when his stealings were discovered. While these gentlemen assert that the San Francisco police were notified over a week ago, the local police deny any knowledge of the case.

WOBURN'S CELEBRATION

Festivities Brought to an End by a Banquet.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE PRESENTS

He Spoke For the President, Who Was Unable to Attend on Account of Mrs Harrison's Illness—Governor Russell and a Distinguished Company at the Board.

WOBURN, Mass., Oct. 8.—The climax of the great celebration here came with the banquet in the new armory. Before the immense gathering was seated, ex-Mayor Edward F. Johnson, who presided during the exercises, called upon Rev. Cyous N. Richardson of Nashua, N. H., who invoked the divine blessing. During the banquet the Germania Orchestra of Boston discoursed music. Ex-Mayor Johnson performed the duties of toast-master in a most graceful manner.

In his introductory address he called attention to the fact that three Presidents of the United States—Franklin Pierce, Grover Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison, traced their ancestry to families now or formerly residing in Woburn. His mention of the name of Grover Cleveland brought out a burst of enthusiastic applause, as did the name of President Harrison.

The first toast was: "The President of the United States," and after a brief letter of regret had been read from President Harrison, his representative, in the person of Hon. John W. Foster, Secretary of State, was presented, and was given a reception that must have stirred his heart with delight. His speech was warmly greeted.

The next to toast was "Our Commonwealth," which was responded to by Governor Russell, who also received tremendous cheers and other demonstrations of applause. Turning to Secretary Foster, who sat by his side, the Governor modestly said: "Mr. Secretary, let me say for your information that this is the reception which is always given to the dear old Commonwealth."

In the course of his address the Governor said: "The power, prosperity and progress of the Commonwealth rest upon her cities and her towns. In them she lives and moves and has her being. May the time not come when anything is done to destroy their autonomy, infringe their rights, or impair that system which was the foundation of the Commonwealth, has been for 250 years the bulwark of our liberties and is to-day gratefully recognized as the source of our independence, prosperity and happiness."

The exercises ended with singing by the audience.

WITHDRAWS FROM MONTREAL.

Hamburg-American Line Disgusted at the Quarantine Regulations.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The ridiculous quarantine regulations instituted here by the Central Board of Health at the time of the cholera scare have resulted in one steamship company withdrawing its business from Montreal.

The steamers of the Hamburg-American Packet Company, running between Montreal and Hamburg and Antwerp, have been retired from the St. Lawrence route, and for the remainder of the season of navigation will trade to Boston. Only one more steamship will arrive here.

The officers of the company say that in view of the arbitrary action of the Provincial Health Board they had no other course to pursue but to take their boats to an American port, where they would not be subjected to the petty restrictions they met with here. Their boats have been put to a great deal of loss and inconvenience without any just reason.

Canadian merchants who have made contracts with the Hamburg-American Packet Company will now be compelled to bring their goods in via the United States ports, and the result is that the trade Canada loses the United States will gain.

The loss of business to the port of Montreal will be considerable, and it is likely to be permanent, as the trade once removed from the St. Lawrence is not likely to return.

A MINISTER INDICTED.

The Rev. Mr. Bird Accused of Slandering Auburn City Officials.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 8.—The grand jury which has been sitting in this city concluded its deliberations yesterday, and prepared a large number of indictments. It is said that among them is one against the Rev. Levi Bird, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, for criminal libel. During the past summer Mr. Bird delivered a series of sensational sermons accusing the city officials of drunkenness and Sabbath desecration, during the course of which he indulged freely in personalities, and the indictment is said to be the outcome.

Mr. Bird said to-day that he understood that he had been indicted, but had not yet been arrested. He proposed to hire either the Burtis Opera House or the Rink, and deliver a sermon Sunday night on the subject of "The City Officials and Their Bird of Prey." He further stated that he would refuse to accept bail, and would rot in jail before he would make a retraction or cease to rebuke sin in high places.

Murderer Hawley Sentenced for Life.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 8.—Guilty of murder in the second degree was the verdict rendered by the jury in the Hawley murder trial last night. The jury returned at 7:35. State Attorney Fessenden at once moved for sentence, and Judge Fenn sentenced the prisoner to State prison for life. Attorney Williams at once gave notice of appeal.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

A Jury at Somerville Soon Decide the Case of the Other Freese Boy Who Stole Young Place's Wheel.

Criminal court opened at Somerville yesterday morning. The first case called was that of Philip Freese who plead not guilty on Monday last to the charge of stealing Walter Place's bicycle.

Lawyer Nelson Y. Dungan represented the youthful prisoner. The boy and his brother—who had plead guilty—were very much frightened when brought into the court room. In opening, Prosecutor Steele said that he would prove that the boys were together, that they went to the different country fairs and that they were apprehended at Trenton. Judge Bartine asked the boys if they had ever been inmates of the reform school. Fritz answered "yes". Philip, the one who plead not guilty, said "no".

Walter Place, the first witness called and the owner of the machine, identified the bicycle by its number. Wm. Pangborn, marshal of North Plainfield, was a hard witness to get anything out of. He testified to following the boys and that both admitted taking the bicycle. Lawyer Dungan tried to get the fact from this witness that Philip and his twin brother, Charles, could not be told apart. This Pangborn refused to say. Sigismund Frucht, the second-hand goods dealer, was positive, as was his wife, Rosa, that Philip Freese made the transaction about the bicycle, as he had "the longest hair." Judge Bartine was compelled to ask Frucht three different times to speak louder, but it was no use. Frucht and his wife seemed to be determined to convict both boys, though they had never seen the boys before the morning on which the machine was sold, and never since. They were positive, however, in their identification. Because they were out the $15 paid the boys for the wheel, they seemed determined to revenge themselves. The defendant, Philip Freese, denied that he was in Plainfield on the night when Place's bicycle was stolen. He said that he was at the Somerville fair on Monday. From there he went to Waverly and then to Trenton. He wasn't in Plainfield from the time he left until Pangborn brought him home. Prosecutor Steele and Judge Bartine got the boy all mixed up so that he contradicted himself several times. The defendant was the only witness called by Lawyer Dungan. The case went to the jury at 3:30, and the boy was promptly found guilty of larceny.

RAPID TRANSIT GROWING.

The Borough Preparing for Extension of the Electric Railway.

At last night's meeting of the North Plainfield borough council an ordinance was introduced granting to the Plainfield Street Railway company the franchise to extend its line along Somerset street from the brook to the foot of the mountain. There was practically no opposition to the ordinance, and it was adopted on first and second reading. At the next regular meeting of the council it will be taken up for third reading and final passage.

All of the councilmen were present at the session, and all voted for the great public improvement.

They Will Appear Here Next Thursday.

The Rochester, N. Y., Democrat and Chronicle says of the family who will appear at Warren Union Mission chapel Thursday evening, Oct. 13:

"The Hotchkin Family continues to win new laurels at every entertainment it gives. Last evening this fine little concert company appeared before a good-sized audience at the First Universalist church, South Clinton street, under the auspices of the Floral Workers, and gave the best of satisfaction. Everyone present was well pleased. Each number on the programme was warmly applauded, and many of them received encores. The talented young members of this company seem to improve with every entertainment they give."

More Misrepresentation.

The Somerville Messenger spitefully says:

More Crescent Luck.

Even their dogs are tendered the freedom of the town. The professional dog-catcher of North Plainfield the other day ran in the fox-terrier belonging to C. A. Reed, manager of the Crescent base-ball team, but when he learned to whom it belonged he returned the lucky canine to its owner with apologies, and without accepting the customary fees. Surely nothing succeeds like success.

North Plainfield has no professional dog-catcher, and Mr. Reed's dog was never caught except the Plainfield catcher. That was on June 16, and Mr. Reed paid the usual legal charges, and on August 3 the dog was released.

—A chance to see the great Columbian Naval Parade next Tuesday will be afforded by the swift and commodious steamer John Sylvester, chartered especially by the Young Men's Christian Association of Jersey City, for the members and their friends. The capacity of the steamer is 1,500, and the sale of tickets limited. This will be a good opportunity to witness the greatest naval parade ever seen in New York Harbor. By special permission the steamer will join in the procession, giving passengers opportunity to witness the entire parade. Tickets may be obtained from Arthur Lucas, general secretary of the association, 83 Wayne street, and others. The steamer will leave the Morris street dock, Jersey City, at 11 a. m. sharp. Adults' tickets will be $1; children, fifty cents.

TO THE CHORAL SOCIETY—DEAD OR ALIVE.

The Censor Describes the Nightmare of Selecting Choral Sittings, and Puts in a Plea for a Programme at Future Concerts.

There is a strong array of well-defined rumors going about in effect that the erstwhile subscribing members of the Plainfield Choral society have not come down generously enough to provoke another season of the concerts, and I have heard no wailing or gnashing of teeth as yet. I do not imagine that the society was a great money-maker at its meridian, and what it must be now is a subject for private consideration. There are reasons, no doubt, for public disregard and the present seems a hopeful time to deliver ones-self of a just amount of suggestion and dissension for the benefit of those in charge of the Choral society should they care to resume their labors.

I can't sing myself, and while I might feel this condition a personal misfortune I know that my friends regard it in the light of a considerable relief, and thus matters equalize themselves. Had I, however, been blest with a rippling tongue and a throat from which escaped the silver melody of the unrestricted thrush, I don't think I should have joined the chorus of the Choral society; but that is neither here nor there. Suffice it, that I have listened, from such sitting as it pleased the Fates to grant me, to nearly all the concerts; that I have worn my evening dress as the tickets commanded; that I have on each occasion walked all over a dozen ladies' trains in the corridor, and that I have fought and bled for my carriage with the rest of the supporting company. And now that another season is said to be improbable I cannot resist the temptation to make a few appropriate and patent (not to mention copyright) remarks.

A great deal of good sarcasm was wasted last fall upon the three or four young men who gathered at the place where choral tickets were eventually to be disposed as much as eight or nine unholy hours before the distribution was threatened, and formed in line in the middle of the black and irksome night in order that they, at least, might have their choice of seats. I don't think those young men deserved the sarcasm. The method of giving out the tickets was enough to cause more cases of lunacy than have been reported to me.

Picture for yourself seventy or eighty energetic commuters, with habits keyed to rapid eating, quick drinking and train catching, standing for hours in a long and dismal line, the convolutions of which comprehend a circuit of two or three drug counters, as many show-cases, an uncertain stove and a patent medicine outfit, and waiting, waiting, waiting. The New Yorker, by birth or adoption, is innately impatient. Imagine, then, the mental status of the seventy-ninth man, when, after waiting one hour and twenty-three minutes, actual time, he finds the head man on the line still showing up coupons and selecting sittings for his friends; or when Binks comes in on a run, takes in the size of it all, sees Jinks in fifth place, turns over his coupons to him (Binks to Jinks I mean, of course), and then rushes to New York, while Nos. 6 to 79 inclusive have to wait for Jinks to select sittings for Binks and suffer an equivalent lessening of their own chances. Nor was one case the limit. The process was indefinitely prolonged from generation to generation and No. 79, whose patience merited a private box, either starved to death or finally got a seat that he would not have bought for a dog fight.

Then, too, the men who gave out the tickets were too friendly with the line; they had a lot to say to their familiars and entered into exhaustive discussions of the relative attractiveness of the sittings as selected—the presence of an imaginary echo in the upper gallery tier as opposed to the sporadic acoustics of the rear parquet became a topic of research and soul-absorbing inquiry, and elaborate and comprehensive arguments were advanced for and against each particular misfortune until the air turned blue with the inward thoughts of the waiting many.

The selection of choral sittings as conducted was a perfect farce. To have kept a busy man standing an hour—even half an hour—to get a ticket is absurd when you consider what the ticket was good for. There are several different methods by which the distribution might have been effected without involving such nonsensical nuisance, and first among these let me venture, with all respect to the gentlemen who did their best but were too popular and friendly, would have been to introduce a hustling ticket agent who thoroughly knew his business without, however, knowing the entire population of the city to boot. After this was done a cast-iron rule should have been made that every man must hand in his own coupon and receive his own tickets and no one be permitted to select seats for his entire social clique. I have no hope whatever of this business being bettered if the concerts are ever resumed, but I can have the satisfaction of talking, anyhow.

Another matter that might have been easily corrected would have been to disabuse the polite young men who attempted to usher at the concerts of the notion that the programmes were exclusively intended for the use of their own particular set, and that when the supply of menus waxed low they should not have hid the residuum away and smilingly told ordinary mortals that the programmes were all out, when in truth they were withholding a cosy lot for their late-coming friends.

But maybe there should have been programmes enough to have gone around in any event—that possibility had not occurred to me before, and I beg to recommend that the Melopola and Philharmonic people investigate this matter on their own account.

THE CENSOR.

No Wooden Buildings Wanted.

The borough council last night instructed counselor Reed to draw up an ordinance establishing fire limits and prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings within the business portion of Somerset street.

A LEAGUE OF PHOTOGRAPHERS.

Oscar S. Teale of the Plainfield Camerites Aiding in the Efforts to Organize a New Jersey Division.

The New Jersey State Division of the American League of Amateur Photographers will soon be organized, with a large number of members from Plainfield.

The American League of Amateur Photographers, of which the New Jersey division is a branch, was organized in New York on July 12, and is designed to take the place of the American Photographic Conference. It is established for the purpose of bringing about a closer union between the amateur photographic societies and all persons who practice or are interested in the promotion of the science and art of photography, and to assist members in the acquisition of useful information. Any person of good moral character is eligible to membership. The dues are $1 yearly, which comprises the total expense to individual members.

It is proposed to organize a division in each State of the photographic clubs situated therein. A national council will meet in May, 1893, to consist of three delegates and three alternates from each club. A monthly journal will be sent to each member without charge, and arrangements will be made with photographic dealers, in all towns, to allow a discount to all holders of league membership cards.

These are some of the advantages which those who join the New Jersey division of the league will enjoy. The president of this league is Paul L. V. Thiery, of Newark, a prominent amateur photographer and president also of the Newark Camera club, one of the most successful organizations of the kind in the country. Almost all the members of the Camera club belong to the league. President Thiery is very anxious to make the New Jersey division the banner division of the league, and his efforts are being seconded by Oscar S. Teale, president of the Plainfield Camera club, and by many other earnest amateur photographers in this city.

DUNELLEN'S BOWLING GREEN.

The Game Loses One of Its Most Enthusiastic Members--Ladies' Day at Schepflin's Court.

Telegrams were received by members of the Dunellen Bowling Green club yesterday announcing the death, at his residence in New York, of John Adams, a member of the Middlesex Bowling Green club, and one of the most ardent and liberal patrons of the game. He was the doner of the "Adams Cup," a very handsome silver trophy contested for each year by the Dunellen and Middlesex clubs and won in 1890 by the Dunellen club and still held by them because the contest in 1891 was a draw. It is to be played for by the two clubs next Thursday, and Mr. Adams was to be captain of one of the rinks.

To-day is "Ladies' Day" on the green, when the ladies will play on the Dunellen court at the country seat of Christian Schepflin, and the tent and grounds will be handsomely decorated. A sumptuous collation and much appropriate eloquence will also be among the features of the day.

Improvements in the North Plainfield Company's Service.

[Dunellen Weekly Call.]

Our electric lights are now up to standard, and the merchants are greatly pleased. They are perfectly willing to pay for lights if they continue as good as they have been for the past week.

Mr. Spencer, who has charge of the Dunellen lights, says they have more help now and there should be no reason why the lights are not up to standard from now on. He thought the CALL had criticised the lights pretty sharply, but if he knew how the merchants were complaining he would not be as much surprised. The company, however, have had many mishaps and attribute the poor lights to this cause. The CALL is merely acting for the benefit of the people and thought it was about time we had good lights, after waiting over a year for them. However, it is plain to see the company is doing everything in their power this week to make them satisfactory and the merchants have shown that they are well pleased by renewing their contracts.

George Thatcher's New "Tuxedo."

George Thatcher and his company will pay their annual visit to Plainfield next Thursday evening, Oct. 13, when they will appear at Music Hall in their play "Tuxedo" for the benefit of Major Anderson Post, No. 109.

"Tuxedo" is a combination of comic opera, minstrelsy, farce comedy and burlesque. When the curtain rises on act first the audience see a number of society people trying to get up an entertainment for their own amusement. At the last moment the swells, who had promised to figure in prominent parts, fail to put in an appearance, and they are consequently at their wits end what to do, when they learn that Thatcher's minstrels are rehearsing in the neighborhood, and they conclude to seek their assistance. This is accordingly done and act second shows the minstrels giving their "first part" on the lawn of the Tuxedo club-house. Thatcher has provided himself with a clever lot of good people.

Interesting to Athletes.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

Where the Extra Price of Coal Goes.

Ninety thousand dollars a year. That's what the coal combine costs the people of Elizabeth. And it costs the county of Union $165,000 a year. The coal combine bill was passed by the Democratic legislature. Down with the party that did its best to promote such a robbery.—Elizabeth Journal.

A large share of that $90,000 a year from Elizabeth and the $165,000 a year from the county, goes into the pockets of the Kean family and is being used ostensibly to elect John, jr., governor, but in reality by the heelers to betray him and elect a Sewell legislature

The bill to legalize this Kean coal combine does not exist, as the Democratic governor vetoed it, and the Democratic attorney-general has secured an injunction in the courts restraining the existence of such a combination.

It had been supposed that the Elizabeth Journal was too wise to set afloat such silly lies that are sure to prove boomerangs.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 6-18-y

Not the Man for the Nomination.

At a meeting in Elizabeth the other evening the question was raised whether John T. Dunn, who turned the soldiers out of their armory, employed union moulders when he was running his radiator works. The members of the Moulders' union present said that he did not and that the wages he paid his foreman were not equal to the wages of the average union man.

This is the John T. Dunn that the Republican papers in the district and John Kean, jr.'s, money are trying to nominat for congress on the Democratic ticket. And it is the John T. Dunn who, if nominated, would have a hard road to election.

Plainfield Highly Favored.

Apropos of "That Girl From Mexico," who will be seen for the first time here at Music hall next Monday night, as impersonated by Mrs. Sidney Drew, Nym Crinkle says: "Mrs. Drew does wonderfully well for so young a woman, and so does her sister, Miss Rankin, who is not out of her teens. Mr. Drew is really very funny." This critical prophet Wheeler compares Sidney Drew with Francis Wilson, whom he resembles, and says that he sees no reason why in time Drew would not do as well in his line as Wilson does in his.

The "Girl from Mexico" has met with a cordial reception in New York, and Plainfield is to be congratulated over being favored with it.

A Very Pretty Wedding.

The Somerville Democrat says of the Crane-Shes wedding, reported in these columns yesterday: "It was a very pretty event. After the services at the church, Stephenson, of Plainfield, served a delicious repast. Among the guests present from Plainfield were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong and family, Miss Mary Armstrong."

NEW YORK ALL RIGHT

CONGRESSMAN CUMMINGS ON THE OUTLOOK.

The Issues of the Campaign Briefly Put Forth—Tammany Is Doing Its Full Duty—The Prospects of Victory Were Never Brighter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The political sky, so far as the Democracy is concerned, is by no means cloudy. The sun shines as steadily as in the great campaign of 1884, and the prospects of victory are fully as bright. In New York the Democrats will do their duty. They are fully as enthusiastic as they were in the campaign eight years ago.

Tammany Hall is thoroughly organized and will lead the fight in this state. So far the skirmishing has been desultory. The fight will not fairly open until Mr. Cleveland's letter of acceptance is received and local and congressional nominations are made. Then Mr. Croker will establish his permanent headquarters at Tammany hall and give all his attention to the canvass. Tammany itself will be responsible for the city. Its honor and its safety are at stake, and it will strain every nerve to give Mr. Cleveland a larger majority than that received by Governor Flower last fall. Able lieutenants of Mr. Croker in the different city assembly districts have made pledges that will, if carried out all along the line, give the Democratic presidential ticket 70,000 majority in the city.

In Brooklyn the organization is equally thorough. Hugh McLaughlin always maintains strict discipline. There can be no defection in his ranks this fall. The campaign in Brooklyn was formally opened at the Academy of Music on Monday night with a speech by Senator David B. Hill. There was no uncertain tinge in his speech. Hill is a Democrat, both in principle and training. He supports the ticket heartily and unreservedly. His words will be re-echoed in all parts of the state and will enthuse and enliven sections now inactive.

The cause of the disaffection in Kings in 1888 has been removed, and prominent leaders there say they are convinced of their ability to carry the city by from 15,000 to 20,000 majority. The Democracy will probably elect all the congressmen in these two cities.

Now for the state. The outlook is more than encouraging. Lieutenant Governor Sheehan has established his headquarters in the city, and is acting heart and soul with the state committee. Indeed he is the real state leader in the contest. He is young, active, energetic and untiring. No man more thoroughly knows the political ground. His canvass will be made even more close and searching than that made last year when Governor Flower was the standard bearer. The governor carried the state by nearly 50,000 majority. The Republicans never made a harder fight. All the power of the administration was placed at the back of J. Sloat Fassett, their candidate for governor. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent to insure his election. He was the especial favorite of Tom Platt and the machine leaders. Warner Miller's closest political friend was induced to go upon the ticket with him. Yet an overwhelming Democratic victory was the result.

This year the situation is far different. Mr. Platt, chagrined at the defeat of James G. Blaine in Minneapolis, will hardly strain every nerve for Republican success, as was done last fall. He has learned that presidential promises are pie crusts. Warner Miller is taking no active part in the campaign. There is a bitter dissatisfaction among the Republicans in the Onondago district. Then there is trouble in the new Oswego and St. Lawrence districts over congressional nominations. In Kings county also there is an unhealed sore. Secretary Tracy's friends are factional and apparently uncontrollable. The sore is an old one and it will be difficult to heal it. In New York city the fight between the Republican short hairs and the kid glove element seems to have ceased. The late John J. O'Brien's friends have apparently been mollified, but they will hardly be able to deliver their goods. In 1888 O'Brien's assembly district gave the Democratic candidate for mayor 5,000 majority and the Republican candidate for president 800 majority. This is a surprise that cannot be repeated. O'Brien is dead and many of his trusted lieutenants are in the Democratic ranks.

So much for the situation in New York. There are no factional disturbances among the Democrats. With a thorough organization and active work the state is safe. There can be no doubt about it.

The name of the Republican candidate for vice president weakened instead of strengthening the presidential ticket in this state. Organized labor will not accept the bargain made by the committee of New York Typographical union, No. 6. For fifteen years Mr. Reid fought this union with the utmost bitterness. He did not endeavor to make peace with it until he was a candidate for the vice presidency. He has always been an uncompromising enemy of trades unions. You might as well expect Homestead workmen to vote for H. C. Frick as to expect union printers to vote for Whitelaw Reid.

There are hundreds of Republican printers in the city of New York who will not accept this deathbed repentance and who will vote for Mr. Cleveland to punish Mr. Reid. The printers throughout the state will stand by them. Many of them voted for Cleveland in 1884, because Blaine did not induce his friend Reid to make The Tribune a union office.

There is a strong sympathy between trade organizations in this state, and the feeling against the Republican candidates is running along the line. It will make a difference of thousands of labor votes in November.

Registration does not begin until October. Already the captains of election precincts in the city are preparing their lists. The strongest effort will be made to register every Democratic vote. It was feared a year ago that the new ballot law would reduce this vote. It had a contrary effect. The Republicans suffered the most. The law has not been materially changed, and the city will give a far better account of itself than it did last year.

The result of the election in Vermont and Maine has inspired the Democrats in this state. The Democratic loss of one in Vermont compares more than favorably with the Republican loss of over 8,200. In Maine the figures are even more encouraging. Governor McKinley, Julius Cæsar Burrows, Henry Cabot Lodge and other strong Republican leaders were thrown into the Portland congressional district to "whoop 'em up" for Tom Reed. This czar of Republicanism carried the district two years ago by 5,000 plurality. This year his plurality is less than 2,000, and Reed strained every nerve. Several years ago the Democrats made a still hunt in his district, and he saved his bacon by less than 400 votes. Since then he has never been caught napping. All the influence of the Republican party, morally and immorally, socially and pecuniarily, has been at his command.

New York is all right.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS.

Will Not Tell Their Gains.

Mr. Frick's refusal to inform the congressional committee in regard to the profits of the Carnegies is imitated by the largest iron and steel manufacturers in Pittsburg. Thirteen of them have refused to answer the inquiries of the census bureau about the statistics of their business. A Washington dispatch to a Pittsburg paper says that Superintendent Porter "feels chagrined," and "cannot understand why the iron and steel firms of Pittsburg should act so obstinately." It is added that "in no city in the country has this branch of the census investigation been so hampered as it is by these Pittsburg firms."

But Mr. Porter ought not to stop with feeling chagrined. He ought to proceed against these obstinate Pittsburg men just as he did or threatened to do against those people in this city who refused to answer his questions about mortgages and the diseases of their relatives. They were served with a great array of papers, backed by an opinion of Attorney General Miller, threatening them with imprisonment and fine unless they answered. It would be an edifying spectacle to see the tariff enriched Pittsburgers hauled before a judge for refusing to give data from which the amount of their profits could be deduced. But we shall not see it. Mr. Porter is hardly the man to turn and rend those who put him into office.—New York Evening Post.

Protection Logic.

Major McKinley, with that complete frankness and boldness for which he has always been distinguished, declares that high protection has cheapened everything but labor. It has advanced the price of labor, but cheapened all the products of labor. Then why not repeal the McKinley bill? The laboring people, the only beneficiaries, by their votes in 1890 showed an entire willingness to dispense with the advantages of the McKinley bill, and its continuance, according to Major McKinley, will ruin the manufacturers. For if the expense of producing goods is increased in the increased cost of labor, and the selling price of the goods is at the same time decreased, bankruptcy must follow. One cannot fail to be impressed with the disinterestedness of the American people. Here are the manufacturers, whose profits, according to Major McKinley, are greatly reduced by the McKinley bill, insisting on retaining it for the benefit of labor, and the men who are reaping a rich harvest from it in higher wages, according to Major McKinley, willing to forego their advantage.—Baltimore Sun.

A Question for Protectionists.

We are told that the tariff is a tax paid by the foreigner for access to the American market. The Standard Oil company is one of the largest consumers of tin in America. It imports vast quantities, much of which is used in its export trade. Duties are paid upon every pound of tin the company brings into the United States, but the McKinley bill provides that the duties collected upon tin afterward sent out of this country shall be refunded, except 1 per cent., which is retained by the government. Under this drawback clause the Standard Oil company has received back in a single year $1,500,000 originally paid in duties upon tin used in its export trade. Now if the tariff tax is paid by the foreigner, will a protectionist friend tell us by what right the rich and opulent Standard Oil company is given that $1,500,000 a year from the United States treasury?—Harlem Reporter.

CONGRATULATING THE COUNTRY.

The Vermont and Maine Elections Give Democrats Encouragement.

The Democratic national committee has issued the following address:

HEADQUARTERS DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE, 130 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK, Sept. 14, 1892.

To the People of the United States:

The Democratic national committee congratulates the country on the result of the recent state elections in Maine, Vermont and Arkansas.

In Arkansas the combined opposition, after so many extravagant claims, fell short by over 20,000 of the votes of the Democracy alone. This has brought dismay to the combination in the south and to its manipulators in the north.

In Maine and Vermont the contest was conducted distinctly on national issues.

The Republican managers appealed for votes in those states on the ground that "the size of the pluralities would exert a great moral influence on the campaign in other states" and that the poll would be "practically our vote for president." Similar appeals summoned to their aid all the potent resources of their national organization, with its exhaustless treasury and its splendid equipment of orators of national fame.

With every favoring force at their command, except public opinion, with no organization opposed save those made up within the states by a minority party which has been out of power for a generation, and which was unaided from without, the campaign of our adversaries for a triumphant test vote in these states, so carefully planned and so thoroughly and forcefully executed, has ended in a conspicuous disaster.

Our friends everywhere are entitled to take fresh courage from these results.

They mean that the strong tendency of public sentiment is with the Democracy, and that the people of the country are prepared to enforce rather than reverse the verdict which they rendered in 1890.

WILLIAM F. HARRITY,
Chairman Democratic National Committee.
DON M. DICKINSON,
Chairman Campaign Committee.

Harrison as a Civil Service Reformer.

At a recent meeting of the Massachusetts Reform club Hon. William Dudley Foulke, of Indianapolis, who supported Harrison four years ago, exposed the bad record of Harrison in the matter of civil service reform. Mr. Foulke said that not a single case of alleged violation of the reform law had ever been pushed by the government to a successful conclusion. In the departments at Washington blackmailing is going on under the notorious Hubbell, though not to the same extent. The pension office under Mr. Raum was shown to be managed in outrageous violation of civil service reform principles.

Mr. Foulke scored Harrison severely for the worst violations of the reform spirit in packing the Minneapolis convention with officeholders to secure his own renomination, a proceeding which destroys the foundation of our liberties and Mexicanizes our government. Harrison has done here what Balmaceda did in Chili, and for which the people there took up arms. Wanamaker's own appointment as postmaster general was drawn in the darkest colors as the sale of an exalted office in return for services in raising campaign funds. Mr. Foulke related instances of high places given in return for heavy contributions to the Republican campaign funds. He asked why it would not be better to have these offices put up openly at auction, as the Roman emperorship was put up at auction by the Pretorian guard, than to have the real evil exist as it does in secret.

IN HONOR OF THE GENOESE.

New York's Magnificent Columbian Celebration Now Fairly Under Way.

THE CITY DECORATED AS NEVER BEFORE IN ITS HISTORY.

Buildings Along Broadway a Mass of Flags and Bunting—College and School Parade To-day—Appropriate Services in All the Churches Yesterday—The Metropolis Rapidly Filling Up With Visitors—Programme of the Week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—It is probable that no city was ever before so beautifully, so gaily, so artistically, and, above all, so generally decorated as is New York to-day. The citizens have responded with remarkable unanimity to Mayor Grant's request to aid in the Columbus celebration by decorating their homes and their office buildings.

It was to be expected that the city buildings, Federal buildings, hotels, club houses and prominent business houses would be resplendent in gala attire, but the ready response of private citizens comes as something of a surprise in the history of celebrations, even in patriotic New York. Some of the residential streets are as gay as Broadway.

Besides being the banner of the United States no flag is as effective for decorating purposes as the Stars and Stripes, and of course, it is the piece de resistance of the decorations. The flag is seen everywhere, in all sizes and arranged in every conceivable form. Huge breadths of cotton, dotted with stars and barred stripes, and, of course, colored red, white and blue, are also used extensively for drapery purposes.

Next to the stars and stripes are most frequently seen the red and yellow colors of Spain and Italy's cross in the centre of green, white and red. The three flags blend well and are effectively used together in thousands of cases. The portrait of Columbus occupies a prominent place in all the more elaborate decorations. The great discoverer is shown in many different situations. The favorite picture represents him landing for the first time on the soil of the New World.

Tens of thousands of cheap prints showing Columbus with a sanctified look and earnest expression were hawked about the city by peddlers at a dime each. Every small shop on the east and west sides has one in the window, with an appropriate frame of Stars and Stripes bunting.

Broadway and Fifth avenue, of course, carry off the palm for brilliancy and effect. From the Battery to Twenty-third street Broadway runs between two banks of color. Every building shows some effort.

The City Hall, as befitting, is certainly the most elaborately decorated building in New York. On all four sides the walls are literally smothered with flags, banners, shields, and all manner of gay devices. The cosmopolitan idea has been carried out to its fullest extent. No matter from what country comes the stranger who stands in the park and views the historic pile he will see his nation's flag entwined around the coat of arms. Surrounding all are gaily fluttering strings of hundreds of small banners.

Newspaper Row is resplendent. The home of every journal is more or less attractively decorated. The most elaborate work has been done on the Pulitzer Building. Colored lights make the building a fine sight at night.

The Metropolitan Hotel, the Morton House, the Domestic Building, the Union Square Hotel, the Hoffman House, the Everett House, the Albermarle Hotel, Daly's and Palmer's Theatres, and the Imperial Hotel are all splendidly draped. Some of these buildings lose their distinctiveness as buildings and are pictures in lavish colors.

Union and Madison squares, central points of interest always, are bounded by four lines of profuse decorations.

Aristocratic Fifth avenue, that Mecca of the country visitor, does not rival Broadway in profusion of decoration, but it is still a wonder of brilliancy from Washington square to Central park.

By all odds the most interesting and most beautiful thing in the way of decoration is the arch spanning Fifth avenue at Fifty-eighth street. It is imitation marble. The design is chaste and tasteful. Two Parian marble columns on each side enclose niches, in each of which is a graceful sculptural representation of peace.

The pillars are entwined with greenery and garlands hang from the top. Surrounding the arch are five allegorical female figures. The central one stands boldly in the prow of an advancing boat. On either side are two heralds with outstretched arms. On the brow of the arch is the inscription: "The United States of America in Memoriam Glorious to Christopher Columbus."

The second day of the celebration was devoted to religious services. Both in Roman Catholic and Protestant churches the services were of the most impressive character. The more important services were held in St. Patrick's Cathedral, where Archbishop Corrigan celebrated High Mass; Trinity Church, Grace Church, where the Rev. Dr. Huntington preached, and the Madison Square Presbyterian Church in which the services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst.

At Trinity Church services began at 7:30 o'clock with the Low Celebration of Holy Communion. A plain morning prayer was given at 9:30 and at 10:30 the High Celebration was begun.

At the latter service Dr. A. H. Mosher had an excellent musical service. The Rev. J. Nevelle Steele preached a sermon on the discovery of Columbus.

The Cathedral's usual rich contrasts of color were heightened by tasty placings of national flags, palms, roses and shields from altar to organ loft. The church was crowded. The music was under the direction of William Picher. Masses were said each hour, beginning at 6 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock a Pontifical Mass was celebrated. Archbishop Corrigan was celebrant, and was assisted by Fathers Lanelle, Daly and Murphy.

To-day is occurring the parade of the schools and colleges. At least 35,000 children and young people will be in the line. There are 25,000 from the schools in this city to take part. There will be at least 6,000 children from Brooklyn schools, and the representation from schools and colleges in Jersey City, Westchester County, and points on Long Island will number from 4,000 to 6,000.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

The 350 Indian boys from the Carlisle Institute arrived in Jersey City this morning at 6 o'clock. They were met there by Gen. O'Beirne, Grand Marshal of the school and college parade, who took them to Ellis Island, where breakfast was served. They were taken by ferry boat to the foot of West Tenth street whence they marched to their position in the line.

The line of march is as follows:

Form at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street, down Fifth avenue to Seventeenth street, to Fourth avenue, to Fourteenth street, to Fifth avenue, to Washington Square, to Waverly Place, to University Place, to Fourth street.

The programme for the remainder of the day is:

8 P. M.—Musical allegory, "The Triumph of Columbus," Carnegie Music Hall.

8:30 P. M.—Illumination and fireworks at the Brooklyn bridge by the Bridge Trustees.

The treat of the evening will be the musical allegory which Silas G. Pratt has arranged independently of the Commitee of One Hundred. Mr. Pratt will conduct the orchestra of eighty pieces.

The programme for the next three days is as follows:

TUESDAY, OCT. 11.

11:30 A. M.—Naval parade. Naval vessels starting from Gravesend Bay, the escorting fleets joining in the procession up the North River to One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, and returning to the Battery.

8 P. M.—Parade of the Catholic societies, starting from Forty-sixth street and Eighth avenue, to Fifty-seventh street, to Seventh avenue, to Fifty-ninth street, to Fifth avenue, to Seventeenth street, to Union Square, east to Fourteenth street, to University Place, to Waverley Place, around Washington Square to Broadway and Fourth street.

8 P. M.—Catholic celebration at Carnegie Music Hall.

8 P. M.—Cantata, "Columbus," by the German singing societies, Seventh Regiment Armory.

8:30 P. M.—City illumination and fireworks at the Brooklyn Bridge.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 12.

10 A. M.—Military and civic parade, starting at the Battery, to Broadway, to Fourth street, west around Washington Square to Fifth avenue, to Fourteenth street, to Fourth avenue, to Fifty ninth street.

4 P. M.—Unveiling of Columbus Monument at Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street.

8 P. M.—Night pageant with floats and illumination, over route of military and civic parade.

THURSDAY, OCT. 13.

7 P. M.—Banquet at the Lenox Lyceum.

The design for the decoration of the banquet hall in the Lenox Lyceum on Thursday night has been decided upon. From the centre of the dome broad scarfs will reach to the caps of the pilasters around the wall. From each of these caps a silken American banner surmounted by a metal shield a gilt eagle will fly. Between these will be flags and draperies of Italy and Spain. The groups of the balconies will be hung with hand-embroidered silk plush studded suits of ancient armor with the coats-of-arms of the principal nations. Between these will be silk and golden draperies entwined with the National colors. Polished staffs with gilt tops will rise from the balcony, each supporting a satin banner with the name of the State in gold. The boxes over the entrance will be decorated with American flags and silken embroidered banners. The arch of the sounding board will be curtained with American flags, disclosing in the opening formed by drawing back the curtains a bust portrait of Columbus surrounded by the flags of the United States, Spain and Italy. A complete suit of ancient armor will stand on each side of the stage opening. From the main floor to the stage will be a bank of plants and flowers. The banquet tables will be very elaborately decorated with floral pieces of smilax. The entrance on Fifty-ninth street will be turned into a floral bower.

On account of the serious illness of Mrs. Harrison the President will be unable to attend the banquet. Secretary of State Foster will respond to the toast of the United States. Vice-President Morton will then make a few remarks explanatory of President Harrison's inability to be present. It is barely possible that the President may be able to review the military parade on Wednesday, if the condition of Mrs. Harrison's health is such as to allow him to leave her bedside for a few hours. Should he come on he will not remain over night in the city, but will return to Washington by an early evening special train.

The Italians of New York inaugurated their part of the Columbian celebration last night by an orchestral and vocal concert in the Lenox Lyceum. Baron Fava and members of the Italian Legation occupied the central box. There was a good attendance, nearly all the boxes being occupied.

The police arrangements for the week are perfect. The full force will be on duty. Signal telephone boxes have been placed at intervals along the line of march of the several processions, with quick methods of communication between the line of march and the hospitals, so that every means of assistance in cases of accident may be had.

Each of these boxes will have a police surgeon and Board of Health physician on duty. Nothing will be spared in the way of keeping the city free of thieves and suspicious characters during the progress of the celebration.

All persons known or suspected to be thieves will be arrested. Thirty-six men were locked up yesterday and remanded for a week, when the jubilee will be over.

Damage by Storm at Cape May.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Oct. 10.—The heavy electrical and hail storm of Saturday night did much damage. Trees were uprooted, roofs blown off, the ocean pier badly damaged, and the fishing fleet sustained a loss of several thousand dollars. The Presidential yacht Clover was blown over on a meadow. It is thought that she will be gotten off without material injury.

THE FELLOWSHIP CLUB DINNER.

One of the Semi-Official Functions of Dedicatory Week in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The dinner of the Fellowship Club to be given at Kinsley's on the night of the 20th of October promises to be one of the most elaborate and important of the semi-official functions of the dedicatory week.

Mr. F. W. Rice, the secretary of the club, is daily in receipt of letters of acceptance from the distinguished gentlemen who have been invited to participate in the elaborate and elegant affair.

President Harrison will be the guest of honor and he will be present unless he should be detained at Washington by the serious illness of Mrs. Harrison.

Secretary Halford will also have a seat at the table and so will Vice President Morton, who writes the club from Rhinecliff that he will surely attend.

Among the foreign diplomats who have accepted are the Ministers from Switzerland, Venezuela, Belgium and other countries. Mr. Cozo Tateno, the Minister from Japan, has also sent an acceptance.

It is expected that all the members of President Harrison's Cabinet will attend the dinner.

Chauncey Depew replies that he shall be delighted to renew pleasant acquaintances among the Fellowship Men. W. C. P. Breckenridge, of Kentucky has also sent an acceptance.

Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore and Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul will be present, and so will Rev. Mr. McCook of Philadelphia, all of whom are on the dedicatory ceremonies programme of the following day.

Among others who have accepted invitations to be present are J. R. Fellows, of New York, Maj. General Schofield, Geo. W. Childs and Anthony J. Drexel of Philadelphia.

The number of Governors who have signified their intention of being present is exactly twenty-nine, and it is expected that their presence will very likely be the feature of the evening, nothing like it ever before having occurred.

FIVE KILLED, MANY HURT.

A Disastrous Collision Between Two Vessels Near Port Townsend.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—The tug Goliah, which has just arrived here, brings news of a terrible collision between the steam collier Williamet and the Canadian Pacific Navigation company's steamer Premier. Five persons are dead as the result of the accident and almost a score of others are badly hurt.

The accident occurred off Whidby Island, about ten miles south of Port Townsend on Saturday afternoon during a thick fog. The vessels were going in opposite directions when the crash came. The Premier, which is a passenger vessel, was struck nearly amidships by the Williamet, which was heavily coal laden.

Two persons in the Premier's cabin were crushed to death, as was the steward, who was dining in the saloon. A large number of passengers were jammed in the debris and badly hurt. One of these died shortly afterward. The fifth person to die was a woman, who became frantic when the crash came and sprang into the sea. Her name is unknown.

Both vessels were beached.

WILL NOT BE TRIED FOR HERESY.

Report of the Investigating Committee Favorable to Rev. Dr. Newton.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10.—Bishop Potter, of New York, states that there is no truth in the rumor that Rev. R. Heber Newton, rector of All Souls P. E. Church, of New York, is to be tried for heresy. From this it would appear that the report of the committee appointed to look into the teachings of Dr. Newton was favorable to that minister.

The charges were originally laid against Dr. Newton by Dean Eugene A. Hoffman, of the General Theological Seminary. Bishop Potter was obliged to take up the matter, and a committee, of Rev. Thomas Peter, Rev. Parker Morgan, Rev. J. T. Shipman, E. P. Wheeler and J. A. Beall, as attorney, was appointed to make an investigation, which has been done, and the report committed to Bishop Potter.

The gist of the report can not be obtained, the Bishop giving out merely the above denial.

—The number of cholera cases in the Caucasus during August and September was 127,273; the number of deaths, 64,767. The mortality in Baku was 70 per cent. of those attacked by the disease. At present the cholera is at its worst in Erivan.

IN MEMORY OF PARNELL

Thousands Congregate at the Irish Leader's Grave.

DAHOMEYANS AGAIN DEFEATED.

Alarm in Ireland Because of the Increased Activity of Evictors—Hamburg's Affliction Practically Ended—2,500,000 Marks So Far Contributed for Relief.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—Parnell Day was observed with universal mourning. Twelve special trains brought thousands of pilgrims from Galway and Cork to the Glasnevin Cemetery. Hundreds of wreaths were heaped on Parnell's grave. Mrs. Kitty O'Shea Parnell placed three wreaths and a great mass of cut flowers upon the grave.

The procession formed at Stephen's Green and proceeded to a spot outside the cemetery, led by a band playing the Dead March and by a memorial car. J. J. O'Kelly delivered the oration of the day. In the procession and at the meeting nearly every city in Ireland was represented.

Dublin is in the deepest mourning. All the municipal buildings are draped in black. Clubs, hotels and private houses, with but few exceptions, have shown signs of mourning. Many of them have hung out Parnell's picture framed in crape. Everybody wears the ivy.

HAMBURG HERSELF AGAIN.

Beer Gardens and Dance Halls in Full Blast—Cholera Record.

HAMBURG, Oct. 10.—For the first time since the plague broke out this city has resumed its usual appearance. Music in the streets has been permitted since yesterday noon and dancing in the dance halls began last evening. Everybody except the unemployed has been in the beer gardens or on the promenades and the attendance at church services is again falling to its normal size.

Up to last night 2,500,000 marks had been contributed to the relief fund. Several persons have been caught collecting money ostensibly for the relief fund by solicitations from house to house. They have been imprisoned for swindling and warnings against other such collectors have been issued by the relief committee.

The number of fresh cases yesterday was 81; of deaths, 7; of burials, 132. In Altona there were five fresh cases and four deaths.

DAHOMEYANS RETREATING.

Defeated With Heavy Loss By the French Troops in Duzon Pass.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Colonel Dodds, who is commanding the expedition against Dahomey, reports that one of his parties of skirmishers was attacked on Oct. 6, but the main body repulsed the enemy, with heavy losses. The French lost four Europeans and three natives, and eight Europeans and fourteen natives were wounded.

A fresh column crossed the Duzon Pass. The battle lasted for several hours, when the French were victorious and carried the intrenchments at the point of the bayonet. The French total losses were five killed and twenty wounded.

The Dahomeyans established four lines of defense, two of which have fallen into the hands of the French.

ALARM IN IRELAND.

Numerous Conventions Soon to be Summoned to Discuss Evictions.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—"It cannot be longer disguised that the agricultural outlook in Ireland for the winter is grave," says O'Connor in the Sunday "Sun."

"This is as true of Ulster as of the South of Ireland. The increased activity of evictors thus becomes a serious thing. Landlords cannot in justice be permitted to exact rent which the people have not been able to extract from the land. The people, thus assailed by the landlords and pinched by nature, ought to join together in self defense.

"It is expected that the Irish party will shortly summon numerous conventions throughout the country, at which the best method of confronting the situation will be discussed."

Jewish Conclave Postponed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The conclave of Jewish Rabbis, which was to have opened in this city yesterday, has been postponed for four weeks in obedience to the wish of Chief Rabbi Joseph, who was besought by the Western Rabbis to postpone it beyond the Jewish holidays and the time of the Columbus celebration. The date of the conclave has not yet been decided upon. The conclave has been called to discuss the trouble caused by the determination of the reform Rabbis to dispense with the Abrahamic rite in the case of adults received into the Jewish faith.

Philadelphia Italians Celebrate.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The name and fame of him who gave birth to the American continent aroused the enthusiasm of Philadelphia's Italian residents yesterday. Parades, processions, floral and bunting decorations, fantastic lanterns up on the houses, solemn vespers, an oration by Father Isoleri and a reception to Chevalier Masiglia, the Italian Consul, in the hall of the Unones Fratellana, were festures in the programme carried out by the countrymen of Columbus.

Epidemic of Glanders Near Norwalk.

NORWALK, Conn., Oct. 10.—Farmers in New Canaan, Wilton and other small towns north of this city are disturbed over the prevalence of glanders, the disease having broken out in a number of stables and many horses being infected. The humane society agents in Middlebrook and Bridgeport have made an examination of some animals attacked and are taking steps to get the disease in check.

Heavy Registration at Corning.

CORNING DEPOT, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The first day's registration in this city this year was about triple that of the first day at last year's general election. The Republicans seem to be the most active in their work here.

Big Straw Goods Assignment.

MIDDLEBORO, Mass., Oct. 10.—A. B. Alden & Co., one of the largest manufacturers of straw goods in the country, have made an assignment to George W. Stetson, of Middleboro, and Hugh B. Thompson, of New York city.

ESCAPED IN THE FOG.

A British Sealer Fired On Without Warning By a Russian Cruiser.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 10.—The British schooner May Bell, just arrived from Cooper Island reports an exciting adventure Aug. 29.

The schooner was anchored seventy miles north of Behring Island in a dense fog whith lifted suddenly, revealing a Russian cruiser a short distance away.

The latter made no signal and lowered no boats, but simply sent a shot across the schooner's bows which missed the rigging only by a few feet.

The Indian crew in terror hoisted all sails, the captain's order being unheard or unheeded in the excitement.

Then came a second shot better aimed from the Russians which pierced the schooner above the water line, going completely through her forecastle.

Still no boat left the cruiser, her commander apparently being satisfied with the bombarding of the helpless sealer.

Luckily for the latter the fog thickened and in it she escaped.

The damages were patched up at the nearest beach and the schooner came home.

An American Violinist's Success.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—A dispatch from Berlin says: Marie Schumann, of Philadelphia, aged twenty-five years, who at seven years of age appeared in public and danced and played the violin, has for some years been perfecting herself on the violin in Leipzic and Berlin under proficient teachers—Brodsky and Joachim. In Germany she met with much success on a concert tour, and latterly in London at the Crystal Palace and Covent Garden promenade concerts.

Appeal in the Coal Combination Case.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 10.—The Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company and the Port Reading Railroad Company have filed a petition of appeal from the order of the Chancellor granting the injunction against the coal combine. The petition states that the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey declines to join in the appeal and that the Philadelphia & Reading will make an application for a severance.

A Suspicious Death.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 10.—A man named J. Daily, who was known as Fay at the Keystone lodging house, where he has been staying for the past week, died at the hospital under very suspicious circumstances, and the police have begun an investigation. When Daily arrived in this city his head was bandaged, and he said he had been shot by a negro farm hand near Martinsburg, W. Va.

Sentenced at Norristown.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 10.—For attempting to wreck a Schuylkill Valley passenger train on the Stony Creek Bridge at Norristown in July last, James Ryan has been sentenced to the Eastern Penitentiary for ten years. Nicholas Mitten, a police officer of Bridgeport, for outraging a 15 year old colored girl, was sentenced to the same place for five years.

Maher Will Challenge the World.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Peter Maher, the Irish champion, will issue in a day or two a challenge to fight any man in the world.

Mr. Harrison May Review the Parade.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—President Harrison has formally requested Vice-President Morton to act in his stead at the Columbian celebration in New York City this week. Mr. Morton has notified the President of his willingness to do so, and goes to New York City to-day. The President will go to New York himself if possible, but will take no part in the social features of the celebration. He will, if he goes, restrict his appearance in public to a review of the procession as it passes in parade.

Convict Burke Sinking Fast.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 10.—Martin Burke, the Cronin convict, is sinking rapidly. It is learned from the prison officials that his feet are swoolen and that there is a large cavity on his lungs. Burke is able to take little food. He remains in the prison hospital, and his death is only a question of a short time.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Tuesday—For New Jersey, Fair; Winds Shifting to South-westerly; Slightly Warmer on Tuesday, Preceded by Stationary Temperature on the New Jersey Coasts.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Mr. and Mrs. Drew at Music Hall, this evening.

—There will be no paper issued from this office on Wednesday.

—Don't forget the mass-meeting at the Cleveland and Stevenson club, to-night, at 8:30.

—Work was begun to-day on the extension of the Plainfield street railway to the station.

—The grocery stores will be closed all day of Wednesday because of the Columbian celebration in New York.

—Walter A. Hudson, of New York, will meet prospective pupils in voice culture, at Hulett's music store to-morrow afternoon.

—Fire marshal Doane does a commendable thing to-day in taking firm stand against the street bonfire nuisance. Read his warning and profit by it.

—All of the winter apples on five trees at Louis Miller's, on the Rahway road, were stolen a night or two ago. The theft aggregated 20 bushels.

—The meeting for Bible study at the house of F. W. Grant, 119 Grove street, will be resumed to-morrow evening, at 7:45. All interested are cordially invited.

—Seven o'clock is the hour at which the Democratic primaries will meet this evening in the several wards for the election of delegates to the congressional convention.

—Doane & Edsall's shoe department lately added to Edsall's popular establishment is coming in for a goodly amount of favorable comment. It is conducted on the right plan to merit it, too. See their new "ad" to-morrow.

—The new time table that goes into effect to-morrow on the Central road, shows few changes. The 1:41 p. m., train for New York is taken off, and the 10:07 p. m. leaves at 10:17. The 4:01 and 5:16 p. m. from here do not connect for Ocean Grove, nor does the 11:42 a. m. from here on Sundays.

—It is the duty of those who want to see Grover Cleveland elected in November, to assist by their presence and support the efforts of the Cleveland and Stevenson club in the present campaign. The club is providing first-class speakers on the campaign issue at its Monday night meetings. Citizens irrespective of party are invited to-night at 8:30.

THE DUCKWORTH ORPHANS.

Union County Courts to Decide Their Guardianship.

Final hearing as to the matter regarding the guardianship of the three children of the late John W. Duckworth of this city was heard by the court at Elizabeth Saturday. Counselor Craig A. Marsh stated the case briefly. He showed by evidence produced at the hearing that Mr. Duckworth died on January 30, 1891, his wife dying on the 18th of July following, that they both died leaving no property. Shortly after the parents' death a Catholic aunt claimed the guardianship of the children, she being opposed by Mr. Andrews, representing the Knights of Pythias, whom Duckworth had been anxious should care for the little ones and keep them from Catholic relatives. Mr. Andrews has from then until the present time held one of the boys. Decision in the case was reserved.

THEY CAN'T BEAT MARTINE.

But the Republicans Say They Can Dunn, and Are Using Their Money to Nominate Him.

THE PRESS has already called attention to the fact that the Republican papers are being used to secure the nomination of John Dunn for Congress on the Democratic ticket. The Republicans say they can win against Dunn, but confess that Martine can beat them.

Now again one of the most active workers against Martine has just developed in the person of one of the late Big 6—a prominent Republican. He was around Saturday night "setting-up" the boys and shouting for Dunn. He divided what money he had to distribute—said to have been contributed for the purpose by John Kean, jr.—where it would do the most good in securing caucus voters whose ballots can always be bought with rum.

This man alleges he is against Mr. Martine because Mr. Martine was not active in the support of the Big 6 during their late crisis, and would not take part in the public meetings held to urge their retention in power.

But such a claim is gaining support for Mr. Martine everywhere. His courage and independence were proved in that way upon that occasion. Just such traits assure the people that he will go to Congress unhampered by "agreements" and unbound by pledges.

In fact, the only Democrat that is showing a fight of any strength against him in Plainfield to-day, is one to whom Mr. Martine refused to promise his support for the Plainfield post-office. This man then went to Mr. Dunn with the same request, and as he has ever since been working "tooth and nail" against Mr. Martine, Mr. Dunn's answer can be easily discerned.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Charles M. Stover and bride are back from their wedding trip.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Lowry and bride will sail from Europe for home, Wednesday.

Mrs. Eugene M. Laing has returned home from a visit at Weston, Somerset county.

Mr. Butler of Philadelphia spent Sunday with Charles F. Powlison of Grandview avenue.

B. B. Grinnell, of Netherwood, is spending his vacation in bed with a severe attack of bronchitis.

Mrs. Charles Hand and family returned home from Europe Saturday evening. They had a fine trip, and all are well.

The speakers at the Democratic meeting in the rink to-night will be Edward H. Strobel of New York, and J. A. Beecher of Newark.

The Rev. Hobart Clark will give a free lecture on "Columbus and the Discovery of America", at All Souls' church, Park avenue, to-night at 8.

Charles R. Clark, township clerk at Westfield, died last evening. He was prominently identified with the Democratic party, and he and his good work will be greatly missed.

Rudolph M. Titsworth of 39 West Seventh street, whose serious illness was noted in these columns a few days ago, died this morning, at the age of 72. Services will be held at his late residence Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Warwick and family, formerly of Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, but now of Brooklyn, spent Sunday with George W. F. Randolph. Mr. Warwick was overjoyed to hear his old friend and pastor, the Rev. Charles B. Mitchell, preach.

Sidney Drew who appears at Music Hall to-night in "That Girl From Mexico" is one of the best eccentric comedians on the American stage, and his efforts are ably supported by his wife. The piece is full of uproarious fun, yet never vulgar, and presented by a clever company cannot help but please the audience.

Chief Doane will be the guest of Phœnix Hose company at the firemen's parade in Poughkeepsie, Wednesday. The principal object of his visit, however, is the inspection of that city's latest purchase in the way of a fire truck, furnished with extension ladders and all the most modern attachments and appurtenances. Plainfield is to have one like it if it meets with Chief Doane's approval.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew appear at Music Hall, this evening, in "That Girl from Mexico". More than ordinary interest has been attached to the appearance of these young people as the central figures of their own company, on account of the reputation of the two theatrical families which they represent. But apart from such friendly interest, Mr. and Mrs. Drew have independent claims to the favorable regard of the play-going public, and much may be expected of them. Mrs. Drew (formerly Gladys Rankin) has had wide stage experience.

Foreigners May Learn English.

Classes in mechanical drawing, bookkeeping, short-hand, singing, light gymnastics, and English branches for foreign-speaking young men, will be organized at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening. All young men interested are invited to be present.

Sorehead Republicans in Plainfield.

(New York Evening Post.)

The Republicans of Plainfield are disgruntled because of the lack of recognition given them by the members of the party in the other districts of the county. The city of Plainfield is the one solidly Republican stronghold in Union county, and the Plainfield voters feel that they have not the prominence in the party that their importance demands. This continual "turning down" of the Plainfield faction has been secretly resented for a long time, and now that resentment has broken out in the form of open hostility and threats. The local Republican organ in its latest issue voiced the sentiment of the disgruntled members of the party in strong language, indicating that the flopping over of many Plainfield voters to the ranks of the Democracy may be expected.

DISCORD IN THE RANKS.

Colored Republicans Divided on the State Committee Question—Colonel Murrell Leaves for Plainfield.

A split in the colored Republican State committee, which had been looked for, occurred when some of the members met at Chester Row Hall, on Halsey street, Newark, Thursday, and organized. The rest of the members, headed by Colonel Murrell, who wanted to be chairman, are coming to Plainfield, where they will organize a Republican State committee of their own to-morrow.

Colonel Murrell was in Newark all of Wednesday trying to persuade Elijah Johnson that the committee should meet on the latter date. Johnson had been empowered by the convention at Trenton to call the State committee, and a notice was issued for Thursday's meeting. This did not suit Colonel Murrell, and he went around denouncing the meeting as irregular. When he would not go into camp and keep quiet, the members closed the doors and passed resolutions claiming that the meeting was regular.

It was 3 o'clock when the members began to gather at Chester Row Hall, among them being R. Henri Herbert, of Trenton, who presided over the late convention; Elijah Johnson, of the Newark post-office; Alex. T. Webber, of Mercer; George H. Smith, of Warren; George L. Harris, of Essex; Edward Maynard, of Union; Filmore Smith, of Monmouth, and Edward Williams, of Passaic. There were seven counties out of twenty-one represented.

Colonel Murrell claims to have all the rest, besides having nearly all the State Republican clubs, which he organized, on his side.

The G. A. R's Theatrical Venture.

Members of the Major Anderson Post, No. 109, of this city, have decided to take an annual benefit in the future, and have set Thursday evening of this week as the date of the first one. George Thatcher's minstrel-farce-comedy "Tuxedo" has been engaged to appear at Music Hall on that evening. George Thatcher being a resident of Plainfield what more natural than that the G. A. R. Post of this city should secure his company for their first benefit performance. "Tuxedo" is a combination of the features of farce-comedy and minstrelsy, the amalgum being well seasoned besides with character acting, sweet ballad singing and graceful dancing by an excellent cast of minstrel and farce-comedy performers.

Prominent in the company are George Thatcher, Hughey Dougherty, Burt Shepard, John A. Coleman, Ed. Marble, Geo. W. Lewis, Jay Quigley, John Daly and G. W. Dukelan, comedians; Raymon Moore, San Francisco's famous tenor balladist; R. J. Jose, the well-known contra-tenor; H. W. Frillman, the eminent basso; Thos. Lewis, baritone; Miss Ida Fitzhugh, prima donna soprano; Grace Hamilton, contralto; Miss Alice Evans, soubrette, and the Misses Blanche Hayden, Alice Trudelle and Cornnie Cook.

The Ralli Robbery.

The overcoats that were stolen from the residence of C. P. Ralli, Netherwood, some time ago, were found by some children hidden beneath a neighboring hedge. They were wrapped in newspaper, and were unharmed, with the exception of a few stains. It is thought that the thief was unable to dispose of the coats and was afraid to keep them, and so threw them under the hedge. As has been already stated in these columns, suspicion is fixed on an employe of a neighbor of Mr. Ralli's. Sufficient evidence, however, cannot be obtained, as the servants of Mr. Ralli's neighbor are afraid to testify.

Cheering Words.

The Hon. John J. Richardson who represents Iowa on the Democratic National Committee, gives an encouraging report of the political situation in that State. He says that nothing but good reports come up from all parts of the State, and that while a few of the Republicans who were with the Democrats on State issues have gone back to their party, they are fully offset by accessions from the Republican ranks on tariff reform and other National issues. He believes the State will go for Cleveland and Stevenson in November. So in regard to Wisconsin. The managers of the campaign there assure him that all the indications point to a Democratic victory. As to the chances of the People's party in the Northwest, there is no reason, he says, to doubt that they will carry Kansas by a large majority, and their prospects are almost as good in Nebraska and Nevada, while the Fusionists are very likely to carry Wyoming and Idaho. There are indications, he says, that the sweep of 1890 will be repeated in November.

Attention, Democrats!

To-night you will be called upon to select delegates to attend the Eighth District Democratic Congressional convention. It is your duty that you should attend those primaries and select representative men who will support the people's candidate, JAMES E. MARTINE. He is a fit man to represent you in Congress, and should you fail to send delegates to the convention who would not support Mr. Martine you do not voice the popular will of the people. With Cleveland, Werts and Martine the Democracy of the county of Union will have the strongest ticket they have had in years.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

An Indiana Man is Saved by a Discovery.

A remarkable case has occurred in our territory. J. N. Berry, a man about thirty years of age, was going down rapidly. He tried physician after physician, patent medicines, home receipts—in fact, everything. He went to a noted sanitarium and returned no better. We all thought he was dying with consumption, and that only a few weeks of life were left for him.

He commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and at the same time commenced to mend. He has used about two dozen bottles, and is still using it. He has gained in weight, color and strength, and is able to do light work. It is just such a case as we should have listened to rather suspiciously, but when we see it, we must believe it.

It has trebled our sales of "Golden Medical Discovery." JOHN HACKETT & SON, Druggists, Roanoke, Ind.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit.

NOT THE MAN!

A FEW REASONS WHY DUNN MUST NOT BE NOMINATED.

The Elizabeth "Leader" Wipes Out His Egotistical Claims With Some Bits of His History.

(From The Elizabeth Leader.)

John T. Dunn, who has either held political office, or wanted to hold it, ever since he migrated to this city, came out flat-footed yesterday in a three-column letter, printed in a sheet that has no circulation or influence, wherein he tells why he is so anxious to keep himself before the public, and why he thinks he ought to be sent to congress, the salary for which is but $5,000 a year.

This murderer of the English language could not have slept much while preparing the rhodomontade document, and if the writer is not now physically used up every one who reads the stuff will be. John T. Dunn has vast assurance when he comes out thus bare-facedly and tells the people of this goodly and patriotic city that he wants to go to congress. Heavens, what a gall!

What else does John T. Dunn want? Has n't he had enough? Does he want the earth? And why should he have anything more than he can earn and pay for?

John T. Dunn, some years ago, was a boss painter, and got a living by painting the city's engine houses and the county's bridges, some of his bills being so extravagant, it is said, that they remained unpaid for a long time. He got into politics, and swung himself into office, and while in the assembly succeeded in having a bill passed allowing him to become an attorney-at-law without taking a course of study, as all New Jersey lawyers had previously been compelled to do. That's one great act of statesmanship on the part of John T. Dunn, who says he wants to go to congress, the salary for which is only $5,000 a year.

John T. Dunn in his open letter fails to say anything about his treachery to the Democratic party in the campaign of five years ago, when he went around like a lion roaring about the "court-house ring", and which resulted in the defeat of Surrogate Gerber for re-election. He ought now to tell why he labored to effect the defeat of that gentleman, who had been fairly nominated and was entitled to re-election.

John T. Dunn also fails to tell the saloon-keepers why he reported favorably upon the ordinance closing the saloons at midnight, when he had pledged himself, as we are informed, to report adversely upon the ordinance. And John T. Dunn should also tell why he called up the same ordinance on its second reading, after having promised the saloon-keepers that it should sleep the sleep that knows no waking.

And John T. Dunn should explain to the Iron Moulders' Union, and the Federation of Trades, why he refused to make his foundry a union establishment when requested so to do. Also, why he paid the foreman of his foundry less wages than the average union man in Elizabeth was receiving. The union wage-earners of Elizabeth would like him to explain his opposition to their interests.

And besides all this John T. Dunn should appear in another open letter and tell the good people of this city, why, after enjoying the unbounded hospitality of the Veteran Zouaves for over fourteen years, he sought to disgrace the organization and break it up. He should tell them that the resolutions he offered in the city council two months ago were lies; he should tell them how he got Mr. Corbin to support him in his scheme, and why he left the council chamber the other night when Mr. Corbin needed his vote on one of his little railroad projects. John T. Dunn should also tell the people that he directed the city attorney to seize the Zouaves' armory and put a constable there, without the knowledge of the two other members of the law committee, of which he is chairman.

The above are a few things the DAILY LEADER advises John T. Dunn to answer in his next letter to the people, if he persists in telling them that he wants to go to congress. The LEADER will have other questions to ask of John T. Dunn if the Democratic party is idiotic enough to honor him with another nomination.

But the LEADER cannot believe that all the Democrats in this district are fools, and, therefore, it has n't the slightest idea that they will permit such a nomination.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew in Plainfield This Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew will make their first appearance as stars before a Plainfield audience this evening. The piece will be the comedy "That Girl From Mexico". The New York Commercial Advertiser says: "Sidney Drew has the full equipment of a comic player. His face is quaint, his legs are limber, his voice is full of fun. He preserves well the serious aspect which sometimes helps the low comedian, and he is uncommonly fertile in devising 'business'. He has never failed to make a New York audience laugh, and that is something to justify him in his aspirations."

Ripleytown is Getting Real Cityfied.

Westfield is all stirred up over the coming fair of the Athletic club. Signs are hung all over the town and the big real estate advertising board opposite the station is covered with an immense advertising sheet. Shove & Goff's drug store is nearly full of special prizes for the different contests which will take place. The ladies of Westfield have taken great interest in the fair and it promises to be one of the social events of the fall, not excepting perhaps, the representation of the opera "Patience" in the new Auditorium.

The most unique feature perhaps, will be an entirely new scheme of head pin bowling in four distinct classes, the winner in each class getting a handsome prize. The value of these prizes, to the four classes is upward of $100, and in addition to the first prize which is a gold watch costing $45, there will be a club trophy given to the club represented by the person winning the first prize.

THE DEADLY HORSE CAR.

The List of Accidents in New York Grows Each Week, and the Trolley's the Only Remedy.

A short time ago an article was published in the New York Recorder showing the large number of casualties that had occurred in the streets of New York city through which the horse cars run. The number of deaths at that time reached four a week, while the minor accidents numbered nearly 300 in one week.

Since that time a reporter has visited the different car stables and the hospitals to learn the number of people who have been injured during the past week through the horses attached to the cars. Since Sunday, Oct. 2, the list has swelled tremendously. Most of these, and in fact nearly 80 per cent., have never been reported by the police or the employes of the street railway companies. Wagons have been run into by street car horses and damaged; people have been thrown off their feet while standing in the cars, through the sudden jerk of the horses in starting; men and women have been knocked down, some badly injured and others slightly hurt.

On Monday, according to the statements made by the drivers on the different street railways, there were eighty accidents. On the Sixth avenue road there were fourteen accidents; on the Eighth avenue road there were twenty-one; on the Third avenue seven; on the Fourth avenue there were eleven; on the Twenty-third street road there were seven; on the Second avenue there were three; on the Twenty-third street cross-town line there were nine. These accidents occurred not exactly through the carelessness of the drivers, but through the horses becoming unmanageable. During the week there were fifty-seven arrests for careless driving, so-called, but according to the statements of the drivers of the street cars it was not through carelessness on their part, but through the horses becoming unmanageable.

An official at police headquarters made the statement that during the past quarter there had been 432 accidents on the street cars. This gentleman is quite prominent in police circles, and in an interview he said:

"I wish that the street car horses were done away with, because it would lighten our duties in the crowded parts of the city through which the cars run. All this talk about the trolley being dangerous is bosh, and it is made by parties who are interested in other monopolies."

An attache of Bellevue Hospital, who has had charge of the slight accident cases during the past six months, said, when seen: "You have no idea of the large number of cases I have had to attend to that have occurred through the dangerous horse cars. I want to see the trolley put in operation on every one of the street railways in New York city, and I will do all I possibly can, and use every influence to help the people who are endeavoring to secure the franchise from the board of aldermen for the use of the trolley. I know, and others who are attached to the hospitals in New York city know as well, that at least 80 per cent. of the accidents occuring in the city are through the careless driving of the horses attached to the street cars. Let us have the trolley by all means."

An Appeal.

The Democratic National Committee makes an appeal for contributions to aid them in the final struggle of the campaign against class legislation, favored monopolists, entrenched officeholders, and the control of elections by Federal mercenaries. It makes the appeal not in a secret or "confidential" circular addressed to the beneficiaries of partisan legislation, nor in the shape of a hint to petty officeholders that they are in danger of losing their places; nor does it offer high places in the government service as a reward to those who contribute in large fashion to a corruption fund, but it addresses an open letter to "all good citizens" who believe in the political principles for which the committee is fighting, asking them to contribute, and welcomes any contribution, whether large or small, to the committee's funds, in aid of the great cause in which it is enlisted. It appeals to the people, against one and all of the opponents of an honest government in the interests of the masses. It has no resources except what the people furnish, and it calls for means "not only to spread the truth among the people and to aid in getting to the polls the full and honest vote of the masses, but also to detect, to prosecute and to punish crimes against the purity of the ballot, wheresoever they are perpetrated and by whomsoever committed or directed." The committee claims, in its appeal, that the indications all point to the election of Cleveland and Stevenson; that all anxiety about the State of New York is allayed, and that she will give her Electoral vote to the Democratic candidates; that all reports from independent and conservative sources in other parts of the country are exceptionally promising, and that with vigilance and timely action everywhere, and with the aid asked for by the committee, it pledges that "honest ballots will be polled, counted and declared throughout the country, and if this is done defeat is not possible." There should be a prompt and liberal response to this appeal from friends of the cause everywhere.

THE ELUSIVE BECKWITH

New York's Crazy Millionaire Not Yet Apprehended.

HIS ESCAPE FROM LITCHFIELD.

Four Weeks Ago He Sprang Through a Window of the Sanitarium and the Detectives Have Not Been Able to Find Him—Seen Several Times.

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 10.—For four weeks past the energies and resources of two of New York's best detectives have been taxed to their utmost in a fruitless search for Geo. A. Beckwith, the millionaire lunatic of New York, who escaped from an insane asylum in Litchfield. There is not the slightest trace as to his present whereabouts, and the detectives are beginning to think he must be dead.

Beckwith was confined in Dr. Buell's private sanitarium at Litchfield, and being quiet and harmless he was allowed many liberties. On the evening of Sep. 10 he was in the billiard room in the asylum in company with an attendant and was apparently all right. Suddenly he jumped headlong through a window near by and disappeared. That was the last time the attendant saw him.

Since then he has been wandering around in the surrounding country and has frightened the inmates of many houses by his queer actions. [illegible] Beckwith is about 43 years of age and formerly resided in New York. He is worth over $1,000,000. He is 5 feet 8 inches in height, of slight build, weighs 135 pounds, is dark complexion and has dark brown hair and mustache.

Beckwith is a quick walker, and has a nervous, jerky way of talking.

Some years ago while Beckwith was riding in Harlem, he fell to the pavement and received the injuries which unbalanced his mind. Beckwith soon began to act queerly, and he finally became so violent that his family decided to send him to Dr. Buell's sanitarium in Litchfield.

A year ago he succeeded in eluding his attendant and there was a search for him. He was finally found in New York and returned to the Sanitarium. Mr. Beckwith was a familiar figure about Litchfield. He has been very peaceable lately, and seemed to be all right on the night of Sep. 10, when he went down to the billiard room with his attendant. He played for awhile and then suddenly sprang for the window and dashed through it into the grounds. A chase was at once given but he eluded his pursuers.

Beckwith has been seen at different times around Thomaston and Reynold-Bridge skulking among the rocks. He was seen by several ladies three days ago and was heard from later in Waterville, but from that time all traces vanished.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION!

Ex-Councilman Dunham Will Lead the Thirteenth Annual Session of the Union County Association.

The thirteenth annual convention of the Union County Sunday-school association will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, at Rahway, this week Thursday. There will be three sessions, at 10:30 a. m., 2 and 7:30 p. m. A programme of much interest to Sunday-school workers has been arranged. The morning meeting will open with devotional exercises, led by M. M. Dunham, of this city. The convention will be called at 10:45. The Rev. R. F. Hayes, of Rahway, will greet the delegates, and the Rev. N. W. Caldwell, of Westfield, will make the response. Following the reports there will be an address on "Temperance in the Sunday-schools" by the Rev. George H. Hicks, of Munsey, N. Y.

In the afternoon there will be a song service and addresses as follows: "The Teachers' Opportunity", by the Rev. E. M. Fergusson, general state secretary; "My Primary Class," George H. Corfield, Jersey City; "How to Help Sunday-school Teachers to Study Bible," H. A. Cozzens, of Newark: "The Spoken Word", the Rev. Dr. Teal, of Elizabeth; question box conducted by state secretary.

In the evening the election of officers will take place, and there will be addresses as follows: "The Obligations of Parents to Sunday-school Teachers," the Rev. Dr. George E. Horr, of Bergen Point, and "Acme of the Sunday-school Teachers' Work", the Rev. A. B. Kendig, D. D., of Orange.

All interested in Sunday-school work are invited. A collation will be served by the ladies of Rahway at the close of the morning and afternoon sessions.

The Kind of a Man Martin Is.

(Westfield Standard.)

F. L. C. Martin, the Plainfield bicycle man, agreed to furnish the W. A. C. with a $165 Relay Columbia bicycle for the Athletic club fair. When he brought the machine down Thursday he surprised the committee by turning over to them a full nickeled weeel the value of which is $190. He does this for the same price as first agreed on. That is the kind of a man Martin is.

—If there are any soldiers or sailors residing in this city who were prisoners of war and who do not belong to either post of the G. A. R. in Plainfield, they will confer a favor on the committee on "Reunion of New Jersey ex-Prisoners of War" by sending their name and address to Mrs. E. J. Olsson, 154 East Second street.

THE BRODERICK SHOOTING.

Buffalo's Prosecutor Intimates That the Soldiers are Being Shielded.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 10.—District Attorney Quinby, in an interview, said he intended to hold the present grand jury for six months if necessary in order to have the shooting of young Broderick by soldiers of the 22nd regiment during the recent railroad strikes here thoroughly investigated.

He says that although Gen. Doyle and Adjt.-Gen. Porter have both expressed themselves in favor of a thorough inquiry, they not only seem to be not helping the District-Attorney but actually putting obstacles in his way by withholding information, etc.

The story told by Assist.-Supt. Cusack of the police force after his return from New York seems to indicate that the military authorities do not propose to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The Iron Hall's Troubles.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—Since the bursting of the Iron Hall bubble, work on the proposed handsome building on Broad street above Arch, to be known as Iron Hall, has been stopped, and Col. H. J. Williams, secretary and treasurer of the company, a prominent member of Iron Hall, and a director of the collapsed Mutual Bank Surety, Trust & Safe Deposit Company, is having a hard time explaining things to the unfortunate shareholders.

Suicide of a Railway Young Lady.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 10.—Miss Mary McCord, aged 31 years, daughter of a carriage manufacturer of Rahway, N. J., who spends her summers with her uncle, Isaac Grubb, of the Delaware Railroad, seven miles south of Wilmington, shot herself in the right temple yesterday and died at once. She had been sick and was much depressed.

Expert Lasker Begins Operations.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Emanuel Lasker, the chess expert, opened his engagement at the Manhattan Chess Club yesterday afternoon. His opponent for the occasion was Mr. A. Ettinger. Lasker won the game, a Sicilian defense, after 38 moves. The conclusion of the visitor's game was exceptionally brilliant.

Frick and Carnegie Denounced.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—At the Trades Union meeting in the interest of the locked-out men at Homestead, resolutions were adopted denouncing Frick and Carnegie as traitors, and a committee of twenty-one prominent labor men was appointed to raise funds for the support of the strikers.

Take Notice!

I will expose for sale the goods and chattels of Mr. Berg stored by him, for payment of same, at public auction, at Carey's, corner Front and Grove streets, Plainfield, N. J., October 28, 1892, at 2 p. m.

10 10 2w. C. FRANK FRENCH.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

THE GREAT CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATS IN NEW YORK.

Meeting of the National Association of Democratic Clubs—A Special Hall Built for Them—Cleveland and Stevenson to Be on Hand.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—One of the grandest political demonstrations that has ever occurred in this country will take place next month when will be held in this city the convention of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

On the 3d of October the New York State League of Democratic Clubs will hold its convention and on the 4th and 5th of the month will occur the quadrennial convention of the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

These gatherings will be held in the great assembly hall, now in process of construction in the structure known as the New York Industrial building, which covers the entire block bounded by Lexington avenue, Forty-third and Forty-fourth streets and Depew avenue.

The auditorium is an immense affair, and will comfortably seat 14,000 persons. The stage to be erected will hold 500 invited guests and others. The decoration of the interior will be of the most elaborate character, including the disposal on the platform of tropical plants, shields of the several states and devices fitted to electrical illuminations, etc.

On the evening of the 3d of October there will be a great street parade of German clubs for the purpose of offering a fitting welcome to the visiting clubs, to whom will be further extended the courtesies of the state and metropolis by Governor Flower and Mayor Grant, of this city, and Mayor Boody, of Brooklyn. On the following night a great torchlight procession will be the feature to mark the close of the first day's proceedings of the convention itself.

A grand stand is to be erected on Madison square, and the delegates marching past in solid phalanx will be reviewed by Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson. Many novel features will be introduced, which will make it exceedingly picturesque. One of the innovations will consist of the introduction of enormous search lights disposed at convenient points, whose rays will be thrown from the rear, thus making the avenue as bright as day while still protecting the eyesight of the marchers.

As may be well imagined, an undertaking of such magnitude has involved an immense amount of planning and executive labor. The headquarters of the committee of arrangements in the Hoffman House has been for the past two weeks the busiest political headquarters in New York. William D'H. Washington is the chairman of this committee, and Frederic Goodwin secretary. Charles J. Canda, of 11 Pine street, ex-treasurer of the Democratic national committee, has accepted the position of treasurer.

Mr. William C. Whitney has headed the subscription list with a check for the sum of $1,000.

The preparations for this great demonstration are well advanced, and there is every assurance from the present indications that the entire plans will be carried out with perfect success. The gentlemen whose names have been mentioned are ably assisted by this executive committee: Ex-Mayor Franklin Edson, ex-Sheriff Peter Bowe, Senator William L. Brown, William H. Burke, T. Ashby Beall, M. W. Carr, General Ferdinand P. Earle, William Forster, John J. Gilroy, Frederick W. Hinrichs, William B. Hazeltine, Frederick R. Lee, David McClure, D. McCord, Nicholas Muller, Jr., Jordan L. Mott, Henry C. Miner, Frank B. Murtha, Augustus W. Peters, of the Consolidated exchange; ex-Assemblyman Louis P. Rannow, Walter Stanton, Assemblyman Walter Sulzer, Charles G. F. Wahle and Clermont H. Wilcox.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black, president of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, has written a strong letter of approval of the convention and the accompanying demonstrations to Secretary Goodwin, which is supplemented by another equally strong letter of indorsement written by Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, chairman of the campaign committee of the Democratic state committee.

At the last meeting of the general committee in charge of the arrangements this resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That this committee, recognizing fully the importance to the Democratic party in the national canvass, not only of the city, but throughout the country, of the successful accomplishment of the work of this committee, urgently recommends to all Democrats and Democratic organizations of the metropolitan district that the efforts of this executive committee be accorded ardent support and earnest co-operation, to the end that this convention shall not only be made a success, and its deliberation prove of great influence on the canvass for the election of Cleveland and Stevenson, but also reflect the greatest honor upon the Democracy of New York."

The work of preparation is now going forward briskly in the hands of these subcommittees, which were created at the meeting of the executive committee at the Hoffman House on the 17th inst.:

Ways and Means—Franklin Edson, chairman.
Apportionment—William L. Brown, chairman.
Hall, Decoration and Illuminations—Henry C. Miner, chairman.
Parades—Peter Bowe, chairman.
Speakers—Frederick W. Hinrichs, chairman.
Music and Stands—William H. Burke, chairman.
Traffic and Local Transportation—M. W. Carr, chairman.
Information and Press—Ferdinand P. Earle, chairman.
Invitations, Badges and Tickets—Alexander Mealim, chairman.

Albert W. Orr is at the head of the press bureau at the Hoffman House headquarters of the executive committee. He will also have charge of the press arrangements at the convention, and applications for reporters' tickets should be made to him.

CLEVELAND ON THE TARIFF.

Extracts from His Famous Message of Dec. 6, 1887.

Our present tariff laws, the vicious, inequitable and illogical source of unnecessary taxation, ought to be at once revised and amended. These laws, as their primary and plain effect, raise the price to consumers of all articles imported and subject to duty by precisely the sum paid for such duties. Thus the amount of the duty measures the tax paid by those who purchase for use these important articles. Many of these things, however, are raised or manufactured in our own country, and the duties now levied upon foreign goods and products are called protection to these home manufactures because they render it possible for those of our people who are manufacturers to make these taxed articles and sell them for a price equal to that demanded for the imported goods that have paid customs duty.

So it happens that while comparatively a few use the imported articles, millions of our people, who never use and never saw any of the foreign products, purchase and use things of the same kind made in this country, and pay therefor nearly or quite the same enhanced price which the duty adds to the imported articles. Those who buy imports pay the duty charged thereon into the public treasury, but the majority of our citizens, who buy domestic articles of the same class, pay a sum at least approximately equal to this duty to the home manufacturer. This reference to the operation of our tariff laws is not made by way of instruction, but in order that we may be constantly reminded of the manner in which they impose a burden upon those who consume domestic products as well as those who consume imported articles, and thus create a tax upon all our people.

The reduction of taxation demanded should be so measured as not to necessitate or justify either the loss of employment by the workingman or the lessening of his wages, and the profits still remaining to the manufacturer, after a necessary readjustment, should furnish no excuse for the sacrifice of the interest of his employees either in their opportunity to work or in the diminution of their compensation. Nor can the worker in manufactures fail to understand that while a high tariff is claimed to be necessary to allow the payment of remunerative wages, it certainly results in a very large increase in the price of nearly all sorts of manufactures, which in almost countless forms he needs for the use of himself and his family. He receives at the desk of his employer his wages, and perhaps before he reaches his home is obliged in a purchase for family use of an article which embraces his own labor to return in the payment of the increase in price which the tariff permits the hard earned compensation of many days of toil.

* * * * * *

The farmer and the agriculturist, who manufacture nothing, but who pay the increased price which the tariff imposes upon every agricultural implement, upon all he wears and upon all he uses and owns, except the increase of his flocks and herds and such things as his husbandry produces from the soil, is invited to aid in maintaining the present situation, and he is told that a high duty on imported wool is necessary for the benefit of those who have sheep to shear in order that the price of their wool may be increased. They of course are not reminded that the farmer who has no sheep is by this scheme obliged in his purchases of clothing and woolen goods to pay a tribute to his fellow farmer as well as to the manufacturer and merchant. Nor is any mention made of the fact that the sheep owners themselves and their households must wear clothing and use other articles manufactured from the wool they sell at tariff prices, and thus as consumers must return their share of this increased price to the tradesmen.

* * * * * *

The radical reduction of the duties imposed upon raw material used in manufactures, or its free importation, is of course an important factor in any effort to reduce the price of these necessaries. It would not only relieve them from the increased cost caused by the tariff on such material, but the manufactured product being thus cheapened that part of the tariff now laid upon such product as a compensation to our manufacturers for the present price of raw material could be accordingly modified. Such reduction or free importation would serve besides to largely reduce the revenue. It is not apparent how such a change can have any injurious effect upon our manufacturers. On the contrary, it would appear to give them a better chance in foreign markets with the manufacturers of other countries, who cheapen their wares by free material. Thus our people might have an opportunity of extending their sales beyond the limits of home consumption—saving them from the depression, interruption in business and loss caused by a glutted domestic market, and affording their employees more certain and steady labor, with its resulting quiet and contentment.

A sad scene with which to terminate a brilliant evening. They have returned from a reception. She had felt restless and nervous during the day, and is suddenly taken with that "faint feeling" so prevalent with our women.

The cause of this feeling is some derangement, weakness, or irregularity incident to her sex, and can readily be removed by prompt and proper treatment.

He has a certain rugged honesty and plainness of character and speech which give him a popularity not shared by any other public man. The Republican papers ridicule his friends as idolaters. But the feeling at which they sneer is produced by a frank integrity which justifies and invites entire confidence. He seems to us to enter upon the campaign with greater personal popularity and with a much wider public knowledge and approval of the issues that he represents than ever before.

Hard Nuts.

The Democratic papers throughout the state are giving the tariff tooters some very hard nuts to crack. The Ossian Bee furnishes the following: "It is not unusual to hear it asserted that protection means higher prices to the farmer, to the mechanic and to the manufacturer. In the same breath it is asserted that the cost of living is not increased. How can this be? If protection increases the price of the farmer's products and of the manufacturer's products, why is it that the cost of living is not increased? If protection causes wheat, potatoes, butter and eggs to bring better prices, does it not cost more for the laboring man to live? Possibly the high tariff prophets assume that the cost of living is not increased because he and his family eat less when prices advance. This may be the explanation, but it is not a satisfactory one."—Des Moines Leader.

In order to hold the wage earner the protectionists pass tariff laws which will put money into the pocket of the manufacturer, and then depend upon the latter to make a fair division with the wage earner. But what if the "fat frier" gets hold of the manufacturers' and takes the wage earners' portion for use as campaign funds?

Governor McKinley has a right to feel hurt. Neither the president nor Mr. Blaine gives any countenance to his favorite sophistry that "the foreigner pays the duty." Indeed, Mr. Harrison ruthlessly rejects it in boasting how much the repeal of the sugar duty has saved to the consumers of this country.—Exchange.

What the Hop Growers Get.

Republican papers are now telling hop farmers what a great benefit the tariff is to them, writes an exchange. "This is a "short horse soon curried." The McKinley tariff took effect Oct. 6, 1890, and it raised the duty on hops from 8 cents a pound to 15 cents a pound. In September, 1890, the prices of "state choice" hops ranged from 37½ to 38½ cents per pound. Now with the McKinley tariff in full blast the outside price of state hops is 26 cents a pound, with a New York crop 30 to 40 per cent. less than last year, when the September prices of the same grade were from 16½ to 17 cents. Oh, the McKinley tariff is a great boon to farmers! Just remember how it helped potatoes last year, with its increase of tariff from 15 to 25 cents a bushel, and potatoes worth 20 cents a bushel.—Montpelier (Vt.) Argus and Patriot.

Judging by Republican boasts, the continued operation of the McKinley bill is flooding this country with labor from the Welsh tin plate mills. Where does this benefit the American laborers?—Rochester Herald.

The Great American Hog
Is welcome abroad once more, and abroad he may go. As long as Lard was a requisite in every kitchen, the Great American Hog was highly esteemed at home; but now that modern science has introduced the new vegetable substitute for Lard, poor Piggy's occupation's gone.
COTTOLENE
The reason for this is threefold. COTTOLENE is cleaner, healthier and much more economical. A trial has convinced thousands as to this. It will convince any "convincable" person. Will you be convinced?

THE GREAT FLEET PARADING TO-DAY

THE CITY CROWDED AS IT NEVER HAS BEEN BEFORE.

To-night Will Take Place the Parade of the Catholic Societies—The School and College Demonstration Yesterday—Over Twenty-five Thousand in Line—Multitudes View the Brilliant Pyrotechnic Display on the Brooklyn Bridge—The Military and Civic Procession.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—New York City seemed to be crowded yesterday, but the crush was scarcely anything to what it is to-day. Since early morning torrents of people have been pouring into the metropolis from all directions. It is one of the largest crowds the city has ever handled, and to-morrow will undoubtedly see its size greatly increased.

Yesterday, under a perfect sky, and viewed by almost half a million people, 25,000 pupils from the public and private schools of this and other cities, marched through the flag-decked city, from Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue to Washington Square.

They were reviewed by the Vice-President of the United States, Levi P. Morton, Governor Roswell P. Flower, Mayor Grant and other notable men.

NAVAL PARADE TO-DAY.

To-day the great naval parade is taking place, and it has attracted hundreds of thousands of persons to every available place on and overlooking the bay where it can be seen. D. Nicholson Kane of the Navy is in special charge of this part of the celebration.

The men-of-war which are participating are the Philadelphia, Atlanta, Dolphin, Vesuvius, St. Mary's, the French flagship L'Arethuse, Italian cruiser Bausan, Spanish cruiser Infanta Isabella and the Cushing.

The others in the parade are the naval militia of the State of New York, fifteen municipal vessels, seventeen steam yachts and 102 merchant vessels, divided in eight divisions.

One of the sights in this parade is a series of gigantic floats upon which are shown scenes illustrative of the remarkable advance in shipbuilding since Columbus discovered America. In addition to the fleet in the parade there are a number of free excursion boats for the benefit of the women and children of the tenements.

The Philadelphia is the flagship in the parade, leading the column, as the fleet advances up the bay, on the starboard side. There are three columns in the line as they come up the bay and the North River, and the distance between the columns is 300 yards. In the centre column are the foreign ships of war, as it were, under escort.

The speed of the vessels is about seven knots an hour. As they entered the Narrows a salute of 21 guns was fired from the ships and the forts on the States Island shore in honor of the occasion. The order of parade is as follows.

Patrolling flotilla, manned by naval militia, State of New York.
United States steamship Minneapolis, Capt. Montgomery Sicard.
United States steamship Atlanta, Capt. F. S. Bigelow.
United States steamship Dolphin, Com W. S. Brownson.
United States steamship Vesuvius, Lieut Seaton Schroeder.
New York school ship St. Mary's, Commander John Merrowan.
French flagship Arethuse.
Italian cruiser Bausan.
Spanish cruiser Infanta Ysabel.
United States steamship Cushing, Lieut Cameron Winslow.
Naval Militia, State of New York, Commander J. W. Miller.
Municipal vessels, City of New York.
Steam yachts.

Eight divisions of merchant vessels.

There will be another parade to-night and a fireworks display on the Brooklyn bridge. The parade will consist of 25,000 Roman Catholics in line under the command of Father Keefe and Victor Dowling. The line of march will be from Fifty-ninth street and Eighth avenue to Fifth avenue and thence to Washington square.

Archbishop Corrigan, in company with other distinguished prelates, will review the parade as it passes the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum. Some of the organizations in line will be the Society of the Holy Name, 8,000 strong; Catholic Benevolent Legion, 6,000; Young Men's Catholic Society, 2,500; Catholic Knights of America, 2,500; Catholic Mutual Benefit Society, 1,500 and St. Vincent de Paul, 5,000.

There will be four divisions in this parade, and it is expected that 25,000 men will march.

THE PARADE OF THE SCHOOLS.

The great event of yesterday was the school and college parade.

Twenty regiments of grammar-school boys of New York and Brooklyn and Long Island and Jersey City, each regiment at least 500 strong, marched with swinging step and perfect alignment in the parade, every boy proudly carrying a flag of his country, prepared to honor and defend it; and this was only one division of the parade.

Every boy entered into the patriotic spirit of the occasion. There were three other divisions of equal patriotic purpose.

In the second division came the pupils of the parochial schools academies and colleges of the Catholic church in New York and adjacent cities, over 5,000 strong, each pupil also carrying the national flag in connection with the emblems and banners of the churches and academy to which they belong.

After them followed the uniformed schools, and last, the students of maturer years, from the different colleges of law and medicine, in engineering and the arts, about 4,500 strong; 1,000 from Columbia College, 1,200 from the University of New York, 1,200 from the Under Graduates College, 250 from the College of Dentists, etc.

In the third division of the procession was a medley composed of numerous institutes. It comprised Hebrew orphan asylums, German, Italian and French institutions of various characters intermixed with trades schools, business colleges, military institutes and mechanics' societies, with 1,000 "Young Dalton Volunteers," whoever they may be, and 60 glittering spears.

Altogether there were fully 25,000 scholars and students in the procession.

It was a perfect day for brisk marching. The rain storms of Saturday night and Sunday had simply cleared the air without damage to any of the decorations, except a few occasional strips of cotton bunting, against which the Committee of Arrangements had issued warning.

Bright sunshine and cool breezes had replaced lowering skies, and the city looked its best.

All the numerous public stands, with the exception of a few seats reserved in Madison Square were for the day only thrown open free. The immense attendance of strangers was a forecast of what may be expected when the climax of the celebration is reached to-morrow.

A platoon of the "finest," of course, headed the procession, which was timed to start at 10 a. m. and was fairly punctual.

Following in carriages came the Committee of Arrangements, the School Commissioners, the President of the Board of Education, Mr. Hunt; the City Superintendent of Public Schools, Mr. John Jasper; Mayor Grant and other distinguished guests. The Mayor, the Grand Marshal, Captain David S. Brown and Charles Guggenheimer dropped out of the procession at Washington Square and reviewed it from that point.

The carriage of Governor Roswell P. Flower, New York's chief executive, drawn by a pair of spanking bays drove up rapidly to the reviewing stand and the Governor alighted, accompanied by Adjt.-Gen. Porter in full dress uniform and followed by Gens. Earle, Varian, Jenks, Halsey and the other members of the Governor's staff.

The spectators cheered the Governor and renewed their cheering when immediately afterwards the guest of the day, Vice-President Morton, representing President Harrison, drove up in an open barouche and was received at the entrance to the stand by Governor Flower who conducted him to the seat set apart for the absent President.

Mr. Morton was accompanied by Mr. Hugh R. Garden, President of the Southern Society, and Mr. Howard Carroll.

He entered into a pleasant chat with Gov. Flower and those around him and with a number of prominent politicians who came up and shook hands with the Governor and the Vice-President.

FIREWORKS ON THE BRIDGE.

At the close of the parade the multitude of sightseers began to hunt up points of vantage to the Brooklyn Bridge, where the grand illumination and fire works display was to take place.

The display began at 8:30 o'clock and lasted an hour an a half. The beginning was announced to the public by a salvo of 100 detonating shells, after which the following programme was carried out:

Set pieces on each tower, "1492" and "1892."
Volley of twenty 14-pound shells.
First illumination of bridge towers, followed by magical illumination.

Salute of 100 detonating shells, announcing the conclusion of the display.

At the Carnegie Music Hall was performed S. G. Pratt's cantata, "The Triumph of Columbus." It was rendered by 6,000 voices and a symphony orchestra. Dr. Chauncey M. Depew opened the ceremonies with a brief speech. Some of the distinguished persons present were: Gov. Roswell P. Flower, Archbishop Corrigan, William R. Grace, Horace Porter, the Rev. C. H. Eaton, Horace L. Hotchkiss, Judge Charles P. Daly, Parke Goodwin, and others.

Some school boys walking down Columbus avenue yesterday came upon a small English flag nailed to the Indian in front of a cigar store near Ninety-third street. They stopped in front of the Indian and discussed the advisability of tearing the flag down. A small red-haired boy cut the discussion short by tearing the flag from its fastenings and running down the avenue at full speed.

The proprietor of the store came out in time to see the red-haired boy's heels flashing around the corner. He rushed toward the other boys, but they scattered and were soon out of sight.

TO WESTMINSTER ABBEY

Tennyson's Remains Removed from Haslemere.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO-MORROW.

America Will be Represented Among the Pall Bearers—Fears for Christians if Uganda is Evacuated—Further Muzzling of the Russian Press.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The body of Lord Tennyson was conveyed from Haslemere to London this morning without display and as privately as possible. At Westminster Abbey it was met by the Dean and placed in St. Faith's chapel until the funeral to-morrow.

The Prince of Wales and Lord Salisbury will attend the services. Lady Tennyson and Hallam Tennyson and his wife will be chief mourners, followed by the poet's grandchildren and the widow of Lionel Tennyson, Mrs. Birrell and a long line of notable persons.

Rev. Edward White Benson, D. D., Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by Rev. George Granville Bradley, Dean of Westminster, and all the members of the Chapter, will conduct the services. There will be two anthems, one by John Frederick Bridge, organist at Westminster, to the words of Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," the other being an unpublished lines of Tennyson set to music by Lady Tennyson. The hymn will be "Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty," which was Lord Tennyson's favorite hymn.

On Saturday Hallam Tennyson sent the following despatch to Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, the United States Minister to Great Britain, which reached him at Liverpool.

"Will you be a pall bearer on Wednesday at 12:30 at Westminister Abbey?"

Minister Lincoln replied: "Your telegram reached me just as I was sailing for America. I regret most deeply that departure prevents me from accepting your kind invitation and having the honor of representing my countrymen on this occasion, so afflicting to all the world, and not less mournful to America than to England."

Lord Tennyson's family are anxious to have America represented, and asked Mr. Henry White, Secretary of the American Legation. Mr. White has signified his acceptance.

GAGGING THE RUSSIAN PRESS.

Sensation Caused by the Finance Minister's Edict on the Salt Tax.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 11.—A sensation has been caused throughout Russia by the press censorship forbidding the newspapers to make any reference to the old salt tax, which was abolished a decade ago by imperial ukase.

Rumor says that this step is prompted by the New Minister of Finance, Witte, who intends to re-establish the tax. It is feared that this is a prelude to the gagging of the press on other important subjects.

Expedition of Col. Dodds.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Despatches from Porto Novo state that the expedition of Col Dodds against the Dahomeyans took, without opposition on Oct. 8 a third fortified Dahomeyan position between Tohne and Porguessa. All the Dahomeyan forces are now centred at Sabori, where, it is expected, they will make a final stand against the French. The French troops are in the best condition, but their advance has been retarded by heavy rains that have fallen recently.

The Celebration at Huelva.

HUELVA, Oct. 11.—Thousands of persons were grouped along the river banks to receive the fleet escorting the Queen Regent and King Alfonso to the city. After the Conde Venadito with the King and Queen came the U. S. cruiser Newark, the Italian man-of-war Vesuvio, and some forty ships of other nations.

Fears for the Safety of Christians.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Gerald H. Portal, C. B., British agent and Consul-General at Zanzibar, writing to a friend in Devonport, declares that the British abandonment of Uganda would be the signal for a general war in that region and for a massacre of Christians such as the world has not seen for centuries.

Italy Again Demands Indemnity.

ROME, Oct. 11.—The Foreign Office has cabled for the second time orders to the Italian Minister in Rio Janeiro to insist upon indemnity from the Brazilian Government for the Italian subjects who were maltreated in Santos and St. Pablo.

WHY HE TRIED SUICIDE.

Wells Said Talmage's Niece Jilted Him and Drove Him to Drink.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 11.—C. W. P. Wells, when arraigned in court for attempting to commit suicide in the Y. M. C. A. rooms in this city, said that at one time he was worth $20,000 and lived in Detroit.

He was engaged to marry Marie Talmage, niece of the Rev. T. Dewitt Talmage, of Brooklyn, but was finally rejected.

This, he said, drove him to drink, and he squandered all his money. He is now poor and broken down.

Killed by an ex-Convict.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 11.—Phil Young, an ex-convict, murdered a young white man named Manley Glass, near Central Plains, yesterday. He was arrested and jailed at Palmyra. Glass accused Young of stealing money and the latter loading his gun with gravel, met Glass in the road and blew the side of his head off. There is great excitement and lynchings are probable.

MINISTER EGAN IN WASHINGTON

He Delivers the Chilian Treaty and Letters of Credit for the Indemnity.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—At the conference between President Harrison and Minister Egan, who has just arrived from Chili, Mr. Egan received commendation and the President also expressed his satisfaction at the fair and honorable settlement of the recent difference between the two countries. Mr. Egan delivered a personal message from the President of Chili to the President of the United States, expressing satisfaction at the adjustment of the matters recently in controversy and his personal appreciation of the kindly offices of the American Minister.

Mr. Egan gave to Secretary of State Foster the memoranda of the treaty agreed upon by him and the Chilian officials for the appointment of a commission to settle the claims of citizens of the United States against Chili. Mr. Egan brought no commercial treaty with him, as has been stated. He also indorsed to Secretary Foster the $75,000 paid by Chili as indemnity for the assault upon the sailors of the Baltimore in Valparaiso, by which two of them were killed and others injured. The money was in the shape of letters of credit on Paris.

Minister Egan will leave Washington to-day.

WOULD HAVE DONE MURDER AGAIN.

Wesley Warner, Lizzie Peak's Slayer, Foiled in an Attempt to Escape.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 11.—The announcement in the court room by Prosecutor Burd that Wesley Warner, who is awaiting trial for the murder of Lizzie Peak, had been foiled in an attempt to murder the turnkey and escape, caused a great sensation. The plot was made known by Daniel Ryan, an elderly man from Burlington, who was in jail for assault. In view of this fact, the prosecutor asked the court to suspend sentence on Ryan, which was done.

It seems that Ryan was in the jail corridor Sunday night, when Warner called him to his cell door and told him that he had made up his mind to murder Turnkey U. B. Reeves when he made his last round at night, and in that way secure the keys and escape. Ryan tried to urge him not to, but he replied that he was going to make the attempt, as they could not hang him any more for two murders than for one.

Ryan gave warning to the turnkey, and Warner was at once removed to the dungeon and chained to the floor. A stout piece of wood was found concealed under Warner's bed, with which it is supposed he intended to do the deed.

PITTSBURG BUSINESS TROUBLES.

The Strikes There and at Homestead Responsible for Many Failures.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 11.—The labor troubles of the last six months are held to be largely responsible for recent business failures among the Hebrews in the Wylie avenue district. Within the last week the sheriff has attached his bill of sale to six dry goods and notion stores in that part of the city. Several of those failing have branch stores in the small towns in the vicinity, which will also go down in the wreck.

The merchants bought on credit from Eastern wholesalers, sold on credit to the peddlers and small stores, and they in turn sold largely on credit to their customers, who are almost entirely of the mill working class. Homestead has always been considered one of the best fields for the pack peddling business. The amount involved by these failures is over $200,000.

Among the victims of the panic are S. Tapolski, J. S. Friedman and D. Rosenthal. The latter's liabilities are said to reach $125,000. It is said that all the stores contain but a fraction of the amount of their liabilities, and if the sheriff's sales take place the New York firms will be the losers.

SHOT WIFE AND HIMSELF.

John Chalmers' Drunken Act—The Victim a Well Known Dressmaker.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—John Chalmers, a man about town, while in a drunken frenzy last evening, fired two shots at his wife in their apartments at 1,440 Broadway, and then shot himself in the head in a vain attempt to put an end to his career.

One of the bullets struck the woman in the neck and the other in the right shoulder, but neither made a dangerous wound. The injury which the man inflicted upon himself was trifling and he was locked up for attempted murder.

Mrs. Chalmers, the woman whose life the husband sought to take, is one of the best known dressmakers in the city, and under her maiden name of Stauffer keeps a large establishment. She employs a large number of assistants and numbers among her patrons many women of wealth and distinction, one of them being Mrs. Cleveland.

Drink and its consequent domestic infelicity led to the tragic occurence.

Greismer Died from Natural Causes.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct 11.—Coroner's Physician Sidebotham yesterday afternoon made a post-mortem examination of the body of Chester F. Greismer, the Tacoma, Wash., real estate dealer, who died at the Philadelphia hospital Sunday under mysterious circumstances. It resulted in the discovery that death was due to a complication of diseases hastened by rum and not to poison as was at first supposed.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Four thousand total abstainers, members of Father Matthew and kindred societies of the Scranton diocese, first division, paraded at Archibald yesterday in honor of the birthday of Father Theobold Matthew, their patron saint. The second division, 2,000 strong, paraded at Kingston, and the third division, 1,500 strong, paraded at Hazleton.

Ex-Premier Mercier Held for Trial.

QUEBEC, Oct. 10.—Judge Chauveau has rendered judgment committing for trial ex-Premier of Quebec Province Hon. Honore Mercier, on all the charges of malfeasance brought against him by the Attorney General. Mercier was admitted to bail on his own personal recognizance. Trial will take place immediately.

Crushed a Little Girl's Skull.

PALMYRA, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While several young men were engaged in putting the shot yesterday, Carlton H. Chapman slipped, just as the shot left his hand, and the missile struck a little girl named Sullivan over the right ear, crushing her skull in like an egg shell. She will

LIZZIE BORDEN'S CASE

The Published Stories Cause Feeling in Her Favor.

MORSE WILL SEEK LEGAL REDRESS.

Statements Regarding Quarrels, etc., Indignantly Denied by Miss Emma Borden, Attorney Jennings and Mr. Morse—Felt That the Prosecution is Weakened.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 11.—The Borden murder case is again the sole topic of conversation. The story published yesterday has influenced feeling in favor of the girl, and it is felt that the government case has been injured. Attorney Jennings, Miss Emma and Mr. Morse emphatically deny all statements regarding quarrels, etc. Mr. Morse is intensely angry and will seek legal redress.

Bridget Sullivan and Detective Seaver spent some time together yesterday looking into the minor details. The appraisal of the Borden estate has been completed, but no figures will be given out until the report is submitted to the Probate Court.

District-Attorney Knowlton is in New Bedford. Regarding the publication, he expressed the opinion that the case would not be hurt thereby.

Mr. Jennings made the following statement to a reporter:

"The matter published in a Boston paper relating to the murders of Andrew J. Borden and his wife is a tissue of lies.

"I have endeavored to find out about Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chase at the number indicated—182 Fourth street, Fall River.

"There is not only no such number, but not any within 40 of it. There is no such name as George F. Sisson in the directory, nor can I find any person who knows anybody by that name.

"The kernel of the whole malicious story deals with a condition which is absolutely disproved by things found in the cellar by the prosecution and admitted to be what Miss Lizzie claimed they were.

"Subsequent events have confirmed her claim."

Morse says that the whole story is absolutely false, not a word of truth in it. The Reagan story has already been denied by Miss Emma and Miss Lizzie, and was admitted by Mrs. Reagan to be false to at least six persons.

A member of the police force says that the names used in the story indicated are ficticious, but the matter is substantially true.

The following are two of the stories referred to,

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Chase, of Fall River, and Mrs. Abiuail Manchester, their daughter, were friends of the elder Borden, and visited them on the evening previous to the murder.

They overheard, it is stated, a quarrel between Lizzie and her father.

All heard Mr. Borden say; "You can make your own choice and do it to-night. Either let us know what his name is or take the door on Saturday, and when you go fishing, fish for some other place to live, as I will never listen to you again. I will know the name of the man who got you into trouble."

Lizzie is said to have replied: "If I marry this man will you be satisfied that everything will be kept from the outside world?" Then the visitors were announced and conversed with Mr. and Mrs. Borden on the subject of the funeral.

Mr. Borden said: "I would rather see her dead than have it come out."

Mr. George J. Sisson of Fall River is said to have heard Lizzie say to Bridget Sullivan, the hired girl: "Why don't you say how much money you want to Bridget quietly?" Bridget's answer was: "I don't know what you mean, but you are not the girl I took you to be."

Mr. George Sisson, it is said, will swear that less than a month before the murder Mr. Borden told him he had made a will giving Emma and Lizzie $25,000 each, which was more than he would have allowed them but for his wife's intercession.

Bridget Sullivan will, it is claimed, corroborate the story of the quarrel of Mr. Borden and Lizzie; also that she heard the night before the murders Morse and Lizzie talking about a will; also that on the afternoon of the day of the murder, Lizzie whispered to her, "Keep your tongue still, and don't talk to the officers and you can have all the money you want."

Church Property Damaged at Scranton.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 11.—Surface settling of the worked-out veins of the Central Mine, underlying the Hyde Park section of the city, has caused damages to St. Patrick's Catholic Church, St. Patrick's Orphanage and the parochial residence of the Rev. J. B. Whelan. There is great danger of the "workings" spreading, and in such an event valuable property would be endangered. The St. Patrick's property is alone worth nearly $200,000.

A Wealthy Lumberman Killed.

CORNING, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While inspecting the new mountain railway being built to his lumber camp from the Fall Brook railway, near Cammal, yesterday afternoon, Francis Delay, a wealthy lumberman, who resides at Williamsport, Pa., was struck and instantly killed by a Fall Brook passenger train. Mr. Delay was 62 years of age. He was the owner of an immense tract of the finest land in the Pine Creek region.

Minister Solomon Hirsch Resigns.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—When Mr. Solomon Hirsch, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the United States to Turkey, called at the State Department yesterday, he left with Secretary Foster his resignation of the office to be submitted to the President. The resignation has not yet been accepted. Mr. Hirsch was appointed from Oregon.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 11. — At 9 o'clock last night what is thought to have been an earthquake shock was felt in point twidely distant in this city. FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. —Comedies seem to be all the rage at present, and the better class of them meets with a great deal of success. The comedy of Dr. Bill, which is to be presented here on Monday evening next, is undoubtedly as fine a comedy as has been seen in years. It has now been before the public four years and still draws large audiences wherever it is seen. It is a clean comedy utterly devoid of the usual horse play methods so much used. Plainfield is promised a very excellent company headed by Miss Celie Ellis.

What Plainfielders Will Enter?

The editor of Elizabeth Town Tattle is arranging for a 25-mile road race between twenty-five of the Kings County Wheelmen and a like number of crack cyclers of Union county. He has called a meeting of the captains of the Union county clubs for next Tuesday evening in the Elizabeth Wheelmen's club-house, and hopes to have the race ridden on election or Thanksgiving day.

Interesting to Athletes.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

PLAINFIELD SOLID FOR MARTINE.

But a Strong Delegation for Dunn Elected in Elizabeth.

There were never such attendances and interest in any primaries in Plainfield since its existence, as at last night's Democratic ones. In the third ward, one old gentleman present, William Swaim had not attended a primary in 60 years. The last time he was present at one was when he voted for delegates to nominate Andrew Jackson for president. He considered last night's primary just as important.

There were 480 votes cast in the Democratic primaries last night, while at the Republican primaries also held that evening, there were only about 50. The Dunn opposition led by Joseph Shepherd in the Fourth ward, was snowed way under.

In the First ward the vote was; Martine delegates, L. F. Wadsworth 107, J. G. Miller 103. Dunn delegates, J. Loughlin 22, R. A. McCluskey 13, H. D. Templin 12.

Second ward. Martine delegates, L. G. Timpson and J. G. Morrison, 70 votes—no opposition.

Third ward. Martine delegate, Edward Birmingham, 50. Dunn delegate, J. C. Frainor, 1.

Fourth ward. Martine delegates, Peter Flynn, jr. 200, V. L. Frazee 198, T. A. McCarthy 188, Dunn delegates, J. Shepherd 39, Thomas McCarthy 41, John Bowman 37.

HAS DUNN ENOUGH AT THE START?

Reports received from elsewhere in the district by private sources to THE PRESS, seem, however, to give Dunn enough on the first ballot. The total number of delegates is 120, and 61 are necessary for a choice.

The following table shows that Dunn has just 61, but that is by giving him the solid delegation from Bayonne which he claims. Still the solid delegations of the Oranges and the balance of Union county are given Messrs. Maybaum and Martine, respectively, as an offset, so it does not seem that Mr. Dunn's vote will grow any smaller unless the delegates awake and realize the danger of his nomination and how much more Mr. Martine deserves it.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Arthur H. Mulford, who has been very sick for a few days, is much better today, and the typhoid symptoms that were apparent yesterday seem to have entirely disappeared.

W. E. MacClymont will give his first free organ recital of the season the evening of Oct. 18, in the First Baptist church. He will be assisted by Mrs Genevieve W. Hoyt, soprano, of Brooklyn.

Michael Crane, grand marshal of tomorrow's military parade in New York, has written ex-chief Auguste Saltzman, of this city, requesting his presence and participation in that parade as a personal favor.

Charles A. Lee, jr., who arrived at the home of his parents, 50 Grove street, Sunday morning, is just now delighting the hearts of all, including his little sister Marguerite, beyond everything they ever knew before. Mrs. Lee is the sister of Dr. D. C. Adams.

Ray Huntsman, of Providence, R. I., who is making his home with his brother Robert on Westervelt avenue while pursuing his studies in the New York Art League, was a participant in the notable and odd-costumed art students' division in yesterday's big parade.

Miss Celie Ellis, sister of Mrs. ex-councilman G. W. Watson of this city, is to appear here in Music Hall next Monday evening in "Dr. Bill". It will be a social event. The members of the Union County Country club and the Park club have engaged the lower proscenium boxes.

John M. Starin, who is one of the trustees of Union college, gave the use of the steamboat Laura M. Starin to the Union College alumni for last evening and to-day up and down East river to give them an opportunity to see the bridge illumination, and the naval parade Among those on board were Corporation Counsel Craig A Marsh and Mrs. Marsh and the Rev. Dr. A. V. V. Raymond, president of the General Alumni association.

TO TELL WAR TALES.

Interesting Programme for the ex-Prisoners' Reunion.

The State of New Jersey has an association composed of some of the survivors of the war who were permitted to escape the horrors of prison life. These men will hold a reunion in this city this week Thursday, in Reform Hall. There will be a public meeting at 3 p. m., when it is hoped the citizens of Plainfield will give a full attendance. The exercises will consist of an introduction of the association by the department president of the Loyal Ladies' League, Mrs. Mary S. Olssen; an address of welcome by one of Plainfield's clergymen; singing by Houghton division of the Children's Loyal Legion; a flag presentation, accompanied by singing "The Star-Spangled Banner" by Miss Bessie Blair, and an experience meeting, when ex-prisoners of war will relate the trials through which they passed. It is expected that Gen. E. L. Hayes of Glen Ridge, N. J., Gen. Shaler of New York, Col Sawyer of Cape May City, Col. Sill of Newark, Capt. S. M. Long of East Orange, Capt. VanBlarcom of Newton, Capt. Hopkins of Boonton, Capt. Peloubet of Bloomfield, and other prominent veterans, will be present.

A LITERARY TREAT.

Plainfield Women Planning a Charming Author's Reading.

Thomas Nelson Page, the writer of many delightful stories, will give one of his charming "Author's Readings" at Seminary Hall, the evening of November 3, under the auspices of the following representatives of Plainfield society:

Mrs. Chas. E. Brooks,	Mrs. J. K. Myers,
Mrs. Rowland Cox,	Mrs. H. R. Munger,
Mrs. E. B. Clark,	Mrs. H. B. Opdyke,
Mrs. G. H. Chapman,	Mrs. A. D. Shepard,
Miss Erskine,	Mrs. B. J. Shreve,
Mrs. P. W. Field,	Mrs. W. E. Stewart,
Mrs. H. Fleming.	Mrs. W. Saunders,
Mrs. Foster,	Mrs. W. Stillman,
Mrs. Chas. Fisk,	Miss Tracy.
Mrs. S. A. Ginna,	Mrs. Mason Tyler,
Mrs. D. P. Hall,	Miss Tweedy,
Mrs. Hugh Hastings,	Mrs. L. G. Timpson,
Miss Kenyon,	Mrs. C. D. Wadsworth,
Miss Ruth Leonard,	Mrs. W. B. Wadsworth,
Mrs. T. L. Miller.

As the entertainment is given purely for the pleasure of those who wish to hear Mr. Page, no tickets will be offered after the expenses are secured.

The Book Buyer says of Mr. Page: "In endeavoring to explain the secret of the charm of Mr. Page's Southern stories, one is not a little puzzled to decide upon which of his qualities the most stress should be laid. It is impossible to read one of these tales without feeling that you are getting a view of the Virginia Society of twenty or thirty years ago, such as can be got in no other way. One feels that he is in the very atmosphere of the time and place, and is in closer touch than ever before with the inner thoughts and feelings of the people. * * Nothing could convey a more broad idea of the almost unbearable suffering which the war caused in many a Virginia home than the story of the death of Marse Chan, the exquisite pathos and feeling of which affect one almost as much as does the death of the good old Colonel Newcorne. But Mr. Page's stories are not all in a minor key. A merry strain, for instance, pervades 'Nue' Edinburg's Drowndin', which, with its graphic description, full of exquisite harmonies, of Christmas festivities, is overrunning with delicious humor. Of the artistic value of these stories, there is hardly need to speak, as the rare skill of the author has been fully recognized. His stories form a unique contribution to one of the highest forms of literature."

BRIBED BY CIGARS.

How a Plainfield Policeman Was Fixed by Out-of-Town Wheelmen—Who Was the Cop?

(New Brunswick Home News.)

Messrs. J. Edgar Powelson, Abraham Cox, and Charles Powelson constituted a congenial party that took a spin to Plainfield on Thursday evening on their safety bicycles.

The trip over was made in good time by the way of Dunellen, while the enthusiastic cyclists reveled in the beautiful moonlight and bracing air. They were riding on Front street, Plainfield, and were just about to dismount in front of a drug store to get some witch hazel, milk shake or something of the kind, when a big policeman got in front of the party and ordered them to dismount.

The imposing appearance of the man led them to do this and then the blue coat proceeded thus:

"Where you fellers from?"

"Brunswick", drawled Charlie Powelson.

"Well, don't you know it's against the city ordinance to ride them things without a lantern, and that I am bound to arrest everyone I catch doing it?"

"Why, no!" explained the surprised wheelmen in chorus, with the exception of Charles Powelson, who happened to be fixed with a lantern.

"Well, that's the situation exactly."

"That's all right my dear friend," persuasively warbled Ed. Powelson, "I see you're a smoker. Try these."

The copper's fists were full of Havanas in a twinkling, and as the wheelmen rode off undisturbed he was heard to say to himself:

"Them chaps are real nice fellows anyhow. They ought to be let go."

The trio came home by way of Rahway, where they caught a late train for this city. They will always carry cigars hereafter to use in similar emergencies.

A Visit from Talented Sisters.

The Westchester Times says of the Hotchkin family who will be at the Warren Union mission chapel Thursday evening, at 8:

"The Hotchkin family had a full house at Trinity Congregational church at Tremont, last week. Nearly every piece was encored, and Miss Anna's Whistling solo was encored twice. It was indeed wonderfully good, and she was very generous toward the impatient demand for 'more'. There was a perfect museum of instruments on the platform, including several varieties of bells, and all were brought in requisition. But the bells took the leading place. These talented sisters will give another entertainment, when a new programme of equal attractiveness will be presented."

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal Your Balm has cured me." —Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B F Lippaner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

You can't believe some dealers always. They want to sell the medicine that pays them the largest profit. What you want to buy is the one that does you the most good. Which one is it? Sometimes, it may be a matter of doubt. But in the case of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, there's no room for doubt. It's a matter that can be proved.

With the facts before you, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else offered as "just as good."

And here's the proof: Among all the medicines that claim to cure women's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities, and diseases, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only one that's guaranteed.

If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you'll have your money back.

There's strength and vigor for every tired and feeble woman, health and a new life for every delicate and ailing woman—and if there's no help, there's no pay.

A FAITHFUL MINISTER.

Biographical Sketch of Lebbeus Lathrop, Second Pastor of the Samptown Baptist Church.

BY O. B. LEONARD.

Lebbeus Lathrop was born Oct. 23, 1761, at Canterbury, Windham county, Conn. He was the son of Nathaniel and Anna Fetl Lathrop, formerly of Boston, whose ancestors were French Huguenots and emigrated to Massachusetts between 1685-1700 at the time so many Protestant refugees left their native land to escape persecution. A large colony of these Christian people located at Oxford, Mass., near the present State line of Connecticut and Rhode Island, and some of the families made their homes in adjoining provinces, while others a few years later pushed further westward into New York and Pennsylvania.

Nathaniel Lathrop, his father, died in 1770, leaving enough money for a college education for his two sons, Lebbeus and Benjamin. But the funds intrusted for this purpose were diverted by an unfaithful trustee, and the children were deprived of the anticipated mental training. Cast upon his own resources he enlisted in the army during the Revolutionary war, serving a short time under General Lafayette in the Continental forces from 1778. This was just at the time of the terrible Indian massacre in the Wyoming Valley among the colony of Connecticut settlers who first located on the Susquehanna river in 1762. Thither the young Lathrop had gone after his father's death and was assisting his mother in obtaining a living on a farm for herself and her children by a second husband, who fell a victim to the deadly tomahawk during the hostilities.

On October 15, 1781, he married Mary Dolson of Brookfield, N. Y., where he lived till her decease, August 12, 1793. At twenty-one years of age he was converted to a religious life and united with the Baptist church in Brookfield. His occupation was farming, till called of God to preach the Gospel, which call he obeyed in 1787. Shortly afterward he became pastor of the church in which he had his spiritual birth. Here at Brookfield, N. Y., he labored till the summer of 1794, on April 25th of which year he was married to Harriet Wisner by the Rev. Thos. Montanye, pastor for several years of the Baptist church at Warwick, Orange county, N. Y. She was the daughter of the Hon. Henry Wisner of Goshen, N. Y., member of the First Continental Congress. In June of the same year of his marriage (1794) Elder Lathrop moved to New Jersey and assumed the pastorate of the Mt. Bethel Baptist church, succeeding Elder Randolph who had just taken the oversight of the Samptown church. He served the people of Mt. Bethel for nearly eleven years, when, in January, 1805, he moved back again to Orange county, N. Y., at Warwick, near the scenes of his first pastoral experience.

Elder Lathrop's labors with the people in the Mt. Bethel parish were blessed to the conversion of many souls and the upbuilding and strengthening of the membership of the church. All his spare time from ministerial and pastoral work he devoted to the systematic reading and study of theology with the Rev. William VanHorn of Scotch Plains, regarded as one of the most thoroughly educated ministers in the Baptist denomination of his day.

His pastorate of fourteen years at Warwick, N. Y., was with a people afterward tainted with antinomian heresy and from the first regarded as inclined in favor of the old school anti-mission belief. Of his pastoral labors in this field the writer has only a meager knowledge. But, being then in the prime of life, fresh from intimate association with Elder Van Horn, and a close student of the word of God, his representation was of one consecrated to the high office with a firm grasp of the doctrines of grace, sound in Scriptural trusts and an earnest defender of our denominational beliefs.

On the second Lord's day of February, 1819, Elder Lathrop took up the duties of the last pastorate of his life with the Samptown church. Never was a minister of Jesus Christ more earnest in pleading for the reconciliation of sinners to the Saviour under his administration, this church attained a high standard of Godly life, making large accessions to its numbers and becoming greatly strengthened in spiritual affairs. There are many living to-day in this community who sat under his faithful preaching and recall the excellent qualities of his noble character. An associate in the ministry, personally acquainted with his successful life work, has written these words: "He is remembered for his great native ability, though possessed of but little of the culture which the schools imparted. He was able often to move an audience by the earnest eloquence of his fervent piety and strong sober reasoning." He lived to herald the truth nearly half a century and almost half of this time the Samptown church had the benefit of his maturer years. And when the coming infirmities of old age compelled him to resign his charge in the spring of 1840 the church parted with a wise counsellor a zealous pastor and a devout Christian. At a special meeting just after his resignation, appropriate and sympathetic resolutions were unanimously adopted by the church.

Elder Lathrop fell asleep in Jesus on the 5th of November, 1843, in the 83d year of his age.

The East New Jersey Baptist Association commemorated their appreciation of his ministerial services by the following utterances spread upon their public minutes the following year:

"In his public duties, as well as in his private intercourse, his evangelical piety and Christian spirit won for him the friendship and esteem of all with whom he was brought in contact." "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

The work of the Relief Association during the past year has followed the same lines as hitherto with little change of any sort. The same departments as those mentioned in the last annual report have continued in operation, but no new branches have been inaugurated. The contributors of past years have continued to give financial support, but few new names have been added to the list. A decided advance, however, has been made in the matter of securing the cooperation of other charitable agencies in the city. It is perhaps unnecessary to emphasize again the great disadvantage under which all such societies labor when there is not a proper understanding between them. If there is not some method of comparison, some interchange of reports on cases treated, there is constant danger of the duplication of relief, and that the same families may be receiving help from four or five different sources, each of which has no knowledge of what is being done by the others. There is also this additional benefit to be derived from such comparison: The investigations of one may be made available for all, thereby saving much unnecessary trouble. In order to promote such co-operation as far as possible, the Relief Association keeps a registry book, in which all cases investigated are recorded, together with all information that has been gained. This book may be referred to at any time by those who are interested in any of the cases. The poormaster has felt the need of our co-operation in dealing with the city paupers, and several conferences have been held with him. The King's Daughters also have several times sent delegates to the meetings of the executive committee. They are always welcome there, and it is greatly to be desired that their visits be often repeated. At present the chief difficulty seems to be a lack of means of communication with the poor committees of some of the churches. St. Mary's church, appreciating this, disbanded its own benevolent society, and joined forces with the Relief Association. In some cases, of course, it would be impracticable to adopt this plan, but it cannot be too strongly urged that those churches which have independent poor funds should find some means of comparing their work with ours. Of Plainfield's other institutions, Muhlenberg Hospital has been as ever our faithful ally, and though it has not been necessary of late to call upon the Children's Home and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, we feel confident of their continued support.

During the past year the executive committee, which meets each week, has treated the cases of ninety-two families, representing about three hundred and sixty individuals. Forty-three of these had never applied to the Relief Association before. In dealing with the new cases the importance of the visitor's position is clearly demonstrated. Everything depends upon her. It is she who must make the thorough investigation into the true condition of the applicant (sometimes far different from the situation as represented by himself), find out whether he is receiving help from any other source, and suggest to the committee the way in which he can be most benefited. She can perhaps by her personal exertions find for him the employment he lacks, and in any case by her friendly advice and counsel can help to raise him above the need of relief. A larger number of such visitors would be of the utmost advantage to our work. Of course the most desirable arrangement of all would be that adopted by most charitable organizations—to have a paid agent to investigate in a scientific manner, and direct the friendly visitors, whose work supplements his. But until this can be brought about, we must depend entirely upon them.

The following is an approximate statement of the nationalities of the families treated, it being impossible in some cases to discriminate with entire accuracy:

American	31
Irish	26
German	10
Colored	7
English	6
Scotch	2
Scandinavian	2
Italian	1
Unknown	7

With regard to the general condition of those aided, a rough classification is as follows:

Needing continuous relief, as aged, incurable, orphans, etc	22
Needing temporary relief, because of illness, accident, or unusual trouble	46
Needing work rather than relief	16
Ineligible applicants	8

Many in the first class are aided by the poormaster or by some church. The help given by the Relief association is in most cases very slight, since our object is rather to afford relief in emergencies than to provide continued support for a few individuals.

An important part of our work is with persons of the second class, those who on account of accident or illness are disabled from their ordinary occupations for a time. If any member of the family is able to sew, the relief usually furnished is in the form of work; if not, the only alternative is to give food gratuitously for a few weeks. The great danger to be guarded against is, of course, the chance that this gratuitous assistance may be continued too long, and so do harm instead of good.

For the third class the remedy applied is usually to give them the opportunity to earn food by sewing until a permanent position can be secured. Following is the report of the employment bureau for the past year:

Number of women who have received sewing	34
Number of garments made	1,078
Amount of sales from ordered work	$22.16
Amount of sales from beneficiary work, etc	178.90
Total amount of sales	201.06
Parcels of second-hand clothing given gratuitously	100
Value of new clothing given gratuitously	$3

The amount of sales has been unusually large, since many persons who wished to contribute to the Needlework Guild have purchased the garments made. They are thus the means of doing good in two ways, since naturally the amount of work given out must be somewhat in proportion to the amount sold. The garments are plain, strong, and serviceable, very suitable for the purposes of the Guild, or for the use of any who seek durability rather than beauty in under-clothing. When work is ordered the material and design of garments are, of course, just as the purchaser desires, and the sewing is done by the best seamstresses available. The purchasing of ready-made articles or the ordering of new ones is as effectual a means of help as any that can be given to our society. Women who might otherwise be pauperized by gratuitous alms are thus enabled to get food for their families without losing self-respect. The thing which ought to be provided next is some corresponding employment for the men—a wood-yard, perhaps, where men out of work for a time could earn, instead of begging their daily bread. Then it would always be possible to test the worthiness of the tramps and others who come to our doors to be fed.

The ineligible class is made up of those who, it was believed, could support themselves or be supported by relatives without any interference on the part of the Relief association. One melancholy circumstance often met with is the unwillingness and sometimes persistent refusal of able-bodied men and women to care for their old or disabled relatives. In such cases an appeal to the law is the only effectual way of dealing with the recalcitrants, and it is greatly to be desired that there should be added to our advisory board one or two Plainfield lawyers, to whom the visitor could go for advice and instruction when such difficulties arose.

Occasionally in the work of the Executive committee there comes a case when the aid sought is neither work, food, fuel, nor clothing, but something else. Such an one was that of an old colored man suffering from cataracts in both eyes, and apparently unable to earn a penny. A place was secured for him in a New York hospital, and he was sent thither for treatment at three separate times, with the happy result that he is now able to see well.

The custom of sending some of the poor people to the seashore for a day was continued last summer, and thirteen tickets were bought with money contributed for the purpose by three friends. The morning before Thanksgiving Day was as usual devoted to giving out dinners, and eighty-seven families were provided for entirely or in part.

The Mothers' class of eighteen women who meet weekly to sew has been carried on under the supervision of Mrs. Taylor, and has continued to prosper. There are still, however, a number of our beneficiaries who need to be taught how to sew well, but are not yet reached by it. If they could be induced to join the class, and thereby learn to do better work, the Employment Bureau would be decidedly benefited.

The society for encouraging the poor working-people to save their earnings, formerly called the Provident Savings committee, but now known as the Benefit society of the Plainfield Relief association, has gone on with its valuable work. Its treasurer reports $2,421.87 collected, of which $2,052 90 are held in individual bank accounts, while only $728.74 has been withdrawn. The number of savers is now two hundred. Last autumn a branch was started in the Boys' club, and seventy-one of its members are now on the list of savers. There is every prospect that in the year to come the work can be extended, and its value increased still further.

In looking forward to the fifteenth year of the Relief association's activity, it is true that there are some discouraging features to be faced. This fall we have lost several of our most efficient workers, and there is no doubt that we shall sorely miss them. But if new helpers come to fill the places made vacant by their departure, and old friends and new unite to give the time and the money without which we cannot succeed, we shall still be able to make progress, and to render our work more useful to the poor of Plainfield.

Respectfully submitted,
EDITH R. LEONARD, Sec.

THE PUNY TENDERFOOT.

How He Surprised the Old Texan Ranchman.

He Had Soft Hands and Played the Piano, But He Fought Indians Single-Handed, and Enjoyed It, Too.

We had stopped at a railroad station on the Pecos river, in Texas, and many of the passengers were walking up and down the long platform, says the New York Herald. Among them was a dudish young man who excited considerable ridicule from the dozen rough fellows hanging about. One of them finally said something about "chawing him up," when an old man in the gang raised his hand and said:

"That's 'nough, boys; don't go any further."

"What's it to you?" demanded the other.

"A heap, I reckon! It's so much to me that I'll do a leetle shooting on that feller's account if needs be."

The two men looked menacingly at each other, and for twenty seconds I expected to see them draw and fire. Then the younger one walked away, growling as he went, leaving the field to the old man.

"Would you have fought for the dude?" I asked, when the strain had been relieved.

"Sartin!" he grimly answered.

"But you don't know him."

"No, and probably never shall, but he sort o' reminds me of a leetle sarcumstance that happened seven or eight years ago. I had a ranch up on the Pecos Plains, and a dude came from New York city to visit a naybur o' mine. He was jest sich a bean stalk as this chap. He had soft hands, a woman's way of talkin', and I looked him over and made up my mind that a Texas baby three years old could give him pointers."

"Well?"

"Waal, arter he'd bin out thar' about three months Jim and me went out one day to look up some stray mustangs. The fust thing we knew we got a volley from a lot of Indians who had broke loose from the reservation. Jim was hit in the shoulder, but fortunately carried off by his hoss, who was a flyer. I headed for a sink I knowed of and reached it without a scratch. Then you see my caper was to stand 'em off 'till Jim could send help. I had a Winchester and plenty of cartridges, and durin' the fust hour I wounded one cuss and killed another. Then I got a chunk o' lead through this right arm and begun to feel a bit nervous as to how it would turn out. I swiped a bullet into another, and in return I got this rake along the skull. It wasn't ten minutes arter that befo' I begun to feel powerful sick and weak and I jest reckoned that my scalp was goin' to make an ornament on some red critter's belt."

"THAT'S 'NOUGH, BOYS."

"But you still stood them off?"

"As well as able, but the end would hev come in about fifteen minutes more. The last three or four shots I fired I was so blind I couldn't see a rod. The reds were shoutin' to each other and makin' ready to close in when I heard a white man yellin'. I couldn't see what took place, but I know how it was just the same. That mush-and-'lasses dude was out on hoss huntin' jackass rabbits, and Jim run across him and told him how I was fixed and axed him to ride for help. What do ye think the durned cuss did?"

"Rode for home?"

"Not much! He rode fur me! He'd never seen a war Injun in his life, and Jim told him thar' was a full dozen arter me, but it made no difference. He comes up on a dead run, yellin' and shootin', and I'll chaw my hat if he didn't lay out two of the critters and kill a pony afore they could git away. He sailed right in so mighty hard that they thought he had a big crowd behind him. That thar leetle dude with soft hands and puny arms lifted me on to his hoss and rode to my ranch and then heads a crowd back and runs them reds 'leven miles and kills another.

"Why, durn me! he got two ponies out of that scrap, and he gathered up more wampum, bows, arrers, tomahawks, knives and sich than any six of us had collected in five years. When I got about I helped him to box and ship 'em to some club in New York. 'Pears to me it was sumthin' like the Manhattan club. Leastwise, it had a tarnal longish name, and the feller was a member."

"And you came to like him?"

"Say! He kin haw all I've got in the world any time he axes fer it. I made a big mistake sizin' him up. He could beat any of us with the pistol, and the fellow who took hold of him for a wrestle was throwed sky high before he could bite his terbacker. He could run like a deer, outjump a kangaroo, and we couldn't find a broncho who could buck him off."

"And that's why you interfered, is it?"

"Exactly. Show me a dude and I'll back him. These boys hain't learned the difference between a dude and a fule yit, but I hev, and I don't want no better chaps behind me in a pinch than dudes, 'specially New York dudes."

William Steel Killed.

Wm. Steel, milkman, was killed on Terrill road this afternoon by being run over by his wagon loaded with grain.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

BIRTHDAY TEA TABLE.

A Sensible Present for a Very Sensible Young Woman.

Never Was the Sum of Sixteen Dollars Invested to Better Advantage—A Few Words About Tea and Tea Drinking.

Sir Edwin Arnold and others have told us of the Japanese tea ceremonial, and that there is a regular tea college, with accredited professors, teachers of infusions. You are informed that it takes a lifetime before you can potter with a teapot with becoming dignity and grace. There are traditions transmitted through ages, with canons for the handling of the precious herb, until as a fragrant drawing from tea-caddy to cup it is brought to the lips.

If Mr. Edmund Gosse would only write it (for he must be a tea-drinker), what a delightful book on tea he could make! He has just been telling us about Lady Winchilsea; a very tender verse-writer of the close of the seventeenth century, known in her day as Ardelia; and for Ardelia to have been praised by austere Wordsworth is praise indeed. My lady did not always enjoy good spirits, but was a trifle melancholic, and sought surcease of pain by wooing nature, the muses and tea-drinking, and, as Mr. Gosse suggests, may have taken, besides, just a thimbleful of ratafia, for she writes:

"In vain to chase thee every art I try,
In vain all remedies apply,
In vain the Indian leaf infuse,
Or the parch'd eastern berry bruise,
Or pass, in vain, those bounds, and nobler liquors use."

Well, tea drinking has its pomps and pleasures, but there are ceremonials other than Japanese, and I tell of one which is simplicity itself, says a writer in Harper's Bazar.

It was a young woman's birthday, and, to be specific, she had passed her eighteenth year and was not yet twenty, and that is near enough to satisfy anybody's natural curiosity. She was thoroughly versed in the technique of tea, familiar with the chemistry of it, and her rule was, "once the water on the first boil, pour it into the teapot," for that meant tea not too strong, but with all its proper bouquet.

"How may we celebrate this young lady's birthday?" That was the question asked by a small circle of friends. Now, in that little coterie there was not one capitalist. Every young man worked for his daily bread, and was proud of it. At an informal chat, held a week before the birthday, it was determined that a tea table, with its fittings, should be the gift. It was agreed that there need be no uniformity as to fictile ware, only that it ought to be Japanese. Cups of all sizes and patterns were admissible. Accordingly, shops were visited by individuals, and, each one exercising his or her taste, at a trifling expense a dozen cups and saucers were obtained, and there were not two alike. A table was found at a furnishing house, and a top fitted to it, so as to give it more area. There were added a copper kettle with twisted iron stand and spirit lamp, a hawthorn tea caddy, a teapot, sugar bowl, a cake dish, a half dozen plates, and a Pratt institute young lady worked an artistic table cover. The only bit of silver was a modest sugartongs.

On the evening of the birthday the entire paraphernalia was massed and there was a dress parade. Then the young person to be honored made tea for the company, and, notwithstanding natural excitement, neither upset kettle nor spilt a drop of tea.

The little table was so artistic that the semblance of it has been preserved, for the youngest of the party has furnished the illustration, an exact facsimile of this birthday tea equipage. The cost of it did not exceed $16. But the pleasure! That has no money valuation.

USES OF SWEET OIL.

If green blinds are dingy and faded wash and rub on a little sweet oil.

For the earache, drop one drop of sweet oil up in the ear and place a piece of cotton in the outer ear.

A few drops of sweet oil will greatly help the running of the carpet sweeper, sewing machine and clothes wringer.

Sweet oil and putty powder, followed by soap and water, make one of the best medicines for brightening brass or copper.

To keep polished steel from rusting after cleaning, or when not in use, take a cloth with a little sweet oil on it and wipe the steel over so that the surface may have a very light but warm coating of oil.

Pure sweet oil rubbed thoroughly all over the body, rubbing in all that the skin will absorb, will be found of very great benefit to infants, delicate children, the aged and anyone who is thin or not strong. It is nutritious and strengthening, and given in this way the system is furnished with the fats it needs and could appropriate in no other way, as in case of weakened digestion, etc.—Good Housekeeping.

Starch For Collars and Cuffs.

Add to each quart of well-boiled starch half a teaspoonful of powdered borax and a tiny piece of lard, and dip the collars and cuffs in while the starch is quite hot. Use a polishing iron, and your collars and cuffs will look like new.

A Cat Heiress.

A benevolent old lady who died recently in Philadelphia left $1,000 in her will to be devoted to the care of a pet cat that had contributed very much to the happiness of her long life. All went well with the fund until the cat died, leaving five little kittens to be cared for, and now the trustees who were appointed to look after the fund do not know whether to turn the money over to the nephews and nieces of the old lady or to retain it and expend the means on the orphan kittens, who might be regarded in the law as the deceased cat's heirs. The case will probably be carried into court.

QUEEN OF THE TURF.

Nancy Hanks' Wonderful Mile at Independence.

Her Grand Chicago Record Cut Two Seconds—Victories of the Famous Mare Never Beaten But in One Heat.

Nancy Hanks, the new trotting queen, was never beaten by a trotter and never lost but one heat, the first she ever trotted, to Bonnie Wilmore, who has a five-year-old record of 2:14½. This race was trotted at Harrodsburg, Ky., July 31, 1889, Nancy Hanks' winning heats being 2:27¼, 2:25¼ and 2:25¾.

At Danville, Ky., she defeated Bonnie Wilmore and Abby V. in straight heats in 2:26¾, 2:24¾ and 2:29¼. Her last race of her three-year-old season was at Lexington, October 14, when she again defeated Bonnie Wilmore and that fast colt, Campbell's Electioneer, in 2:26¼, 2:25¾ and 2:26¾. Her best record as a three-year-old was 2:24¾.

As a four-year-old Nancy Hanks covered herself with glory and proved herself to be one of the champion trotters of the age. She won every race she started for in straight heats. July 30, at Harrodsburg, Ky., she defeated Bonnie Wilmore, Gillette, Mattie H. and New York Central in 2:24¾, 2:20 and 2:19½. At Nicholasville, Ky., August 13, she won again in 2:23¾, 2:20 and 2:18. At Maysville, Ky., she was again victorious in 2:21¾, 2:21¾ and 2:19¾. At Lexington she trotted the greatest race of her year in 2:19¾, 2:19½ and 2:14½. This was August 28, and at the same place October 18 she won a four-year-old stake in 2:22, 2:21¾ and 2:15¾. At Cincinnati, October 11, she defeated Alabaster 2:24¼, 2:23¼ and 2:17½.

Her 5-year-old career was a grand series of brilliant triumphs. At Chicago, August 20, 1891, she defeated Margaret S. in 2:20¾, 2:19 and 2:21¾. At Buffalo, N. Y., August 4, she showed her heels to Belle Hamlin in 2:16½. At Rochester, August 13, she trotted in 2:12¼. August 27, at Independence, Ia., she met the champion Allerton, 2:09¼, and Margaret S., 2:12½, and defeated them in 2:12, 2:12¾ and 2:12, making the fastest time in a race and the fastest three heats in a race. September 30, at Richmond, Ind., she trotted in 2:09, and shortly afterward retired for the season.

Thursday, July 7, she made her first public appearance for the season of 1892 at Belmont park, Philadelphia. She trotted against the track record of Sunol, 2:11¾, and defeated it in 2:11¼. At Grand Rapids, Mich., August 11, she tied her record, trotting the mile in the middle of the track in 2:09.

On August 27, at Chicago, she made a mile in 2:07¼, and on August 31 she reduced this record by two seconds, at Independence, Ia. It was a grand race. From the word "go" Nancy trotted, as only Nancy can trot, steady as clockwork and swifter than a bird. With her long and frictionless gait she reached the quarter poll in thirty seconds. "Too fast" is the verdict of the crowd. The half was reached in 1:01, and men found it hard to believe their watches. The third quarter flag was down at 1:34, and fearing that she was lagging Williams closed up with his runner, Ned Gordon. He was not needed. Doble had loosed Nancy's head and was urging her on gently with whip and voice. As she darted under the wire watches were consulted. They ranged all the way from 2:05¼ to 2:06. Cheers flooded the track. The great mare was driven back to the stand and a hush fell over all as the bell was tapped. Starter McCarthy announced the official time of 2:05¼ and his voice was drowned with yells.

A strong breeze was blowing from the northwest and situated as the kite track is from the half to the home wire the force of the wind increased with every step. The breeze began to strike her after the half was passed, and the third flag was reached a second or two slower than was intended, but here Nancy was given her head and she finished the last quarter strong and in the face of a northwest wind in :31¼.

"A noticeable feature," says Doble, "was the condition of the mare after her mile. Within fifteen minutes after she reached her stall she was as fresh and lively as a young colt, and no one would dream she had made the greatest trial of her life. Yes, the kite tracks are faster than the regulation shape. How many seconds I would not say, but there is not the shadow of doubt about it."

Nancy Hanks' three fastest miles were made by quarters in this way:

Richmond	:32¾	:31¾	:32¼	:32¼—2:09
Chicago	:31¾	:32¾	:32¾	:30¾—2:07¼
Independence	:30	:31	:33	:31¾—2:05¼

The record miles of Maud S. and Sunol were made by quarters as follows:

Maud S.	:32¾	:31¾	:31	:32¼—2:09¾
Sunol	:31¾	:32¾	:33	:31¾—2:09¾

A SELF-MADE MAN.

H. N. Higinbotham, the New President of the World's Fair Directory.

Old men down about Joliet, Ill., says the Chicago Herald, remember Harlow N. Higinbotham as a wiry young lad who came in from the farm one day to work in the Will county bank. That was in the '50s. After awhile he moved over to the Joliet City bank. Mr. Higinbotham's name was not as well known in the financial world then as it is now. He was only a clerk, who had come to town after a course in the common schools, supplemented by a term in Lombard's university at Galesburg and a course in a Chicago business college. When the boy quit Joliet it was to become assistant cashier of the bank of Oconto, Wis. That was in 1859, and Mr. Higinbotham was just of age. After two years in Wisconsin he came to Chicago as an entry clerk for Cooley, Farwell & Co., and was just getting a good start when he put on a blue uniform with brass buttons and went away with the troops. About Christmas time in 1864, after wearing the blue nearly two years and a half, he came home from Hagerstown, and, resting a month, became a bookkeeper for Field, Palmer & Leiter. This trio of millionaire merchants found a trusty man in Mr. Higinbotham. He was the kind of an employe they wanted, alert, energetic and faithful. One day in 1866 the bookkeeper left his desk, went to Joliet, and was married to Miss Rachael D. Davidson. The bookkeeper was promoted rapidly and in 1878 he became a partner in the big firm.

Private interests have not taken all of Mr. Higinbotham's time. For twelve years he worked to put the Chicago Home for Incurables on a solid basis, and the home at Fifty-fifth street and Ellis avenue, where unfortunates are tenderly cared for, is a monument to his energy. The home has an endowment fund of $600,000, and is one of the best supported institutions in the city. Mr. Higinbotham is president of it now, as he has been for twelve years. When the Newsboys' and Bootblack's association at 1418 Wabash avenue was about to be closed as a failure Mr. Higinbotham came to the rescue and infused new life in the management. He was director and treasurer of the association for fourteen years. Mr. Higinbotham is now a director of the Chicago Free Kindergarten association and a trustee of Northwestern university at Evanston.

GOOD PIE
is much prized, but many people can't eat pie because of dyspepsia or dyspeptic tendency.
Everybody
CAN EAT PIE
if it is made with Cottolene, the new pure substitute for lard. Cottolene is simply pure cottonseed oil and pure beef suet, two of the healthiest foods known.
Properly combined they are better than lard for all kinds of shortening, and everyone can eat, digest, and enjoy food cooked with it. Food that was indigestible when cooked with lard is easily digested when cooked with Cottolene, and many of the leading housekeepers of the land say they can make nicer bread, rolls, biscuit, cakes, cookies, ginger bread, pies, patties, tarts, griddle cakes, croquettes with Cottolene than with either lard or butter. Get it of your grocer and try it. Beware of imitations.

THE CLIMAX OF NEW YORK'S FETE

Monster Parade of Military and Civic Organizations Now Moving.

ITS LIKE NEVER BEFORE WITNESSED IN THE METROPOLIS.

Divisions of the Procession—The Naval Parade Yesterday a Most Imposing Demonstration — Catholic Celebration Last Night—Prize Columbian Cantata Produced—Unveiling of the Monument To-day—To-night's Grand Pageant—Festivities at Other Cities.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The magnificent celebration in honor of the discovery of America will reach a fitting climax, so far as public display is concerned, with the completion of the programme mapped out for to-day. This will be the grandest day of this unequaled demonstration of reverence for Columbus and love of country.

The patriotic fervor which pulsated rapidly at the sight of thousands of youths carrying their country's flag during the parade of Monday will reach its extreme tension to-night, when the most gorgeous pageant of modern times will electrify the people of New York and its hundreds of thousands of visitors.

The line of the military parade is from the Battery to Broadway, to Fourth street West, around Washington square, to Fifth avenue, to Fourteenth street, to Fourth avenue, to Seventeenth street, to Fifth avenue, to Fifty-ninth street, where it will disband.

The parade is under the command of Gen. Martin T. McMahon, Grand Marshal.

DIVISIONS OF THE PARADE.

The first division is composed entirely of United States troops, under command of Col. Loomis A. Langdon, First Artillery, U. S. A.

The second division consists exclusively of 380 men from the United States Naval Brigade, under command of Lieut.-Commander Asa Walker. There are companies of bluejackets from the United States ships Philadelphia, Atlanta, Miantonomoh, Dolphin, Vesuvius and Vermont.

The third division includes 5,000 men from the National Guard of the State of New York, under the command of Brig.-Gen. Louis Fitzgerald, and several thousand militiamen from Pennsylvania and New Jersey, under the command of the Governors of those States.

The fourth division has been given over to the Grand Army of the Republic. It is marshaled by David S. Brown, commanding, Grand Army of the Republic, New York City. With Commander Brown will ride Capt. Jack Crawford, the poet scout. This division includes 6,000 men.

The fifth division consists of the United States Letter Carriers' Association.

The sixth division consists of the New York Fire Department.

The eighth division has been allotted to the Italian Military organization.

The ninth division consists of German-American societies.

The tenth and last division is headed by the Ancient Order of Foresters and includes only independent organizations.

UNVEILING THE MONUMENT.

Vice-President Morton and several members of President Harrison's Cabinet, Gov. Flower and staff, Archbishop Corrigan, the Italian Minister and Italian Consuls, will aid in unveiling the Columbus Monument this afternoon at Fifth-ninth street and Eighth avenue promptly at 4 o'clock.

To-night at 8 o'clock the most brilliant and dazzling spectacular pageant ever undertaken in this city will move from the Battery to Broadway, and thence pursue the same line of march taken by the military parade.

THE NAVAL PARADE.

With every favoring condition of skies and weather, the naval pageant was a spectacle to be once seen and always remembered.

Not even the famous roadstead of Spithead—England's great naval reviewing ground—with all its surrounding panorama of beautiful scenery, could surpass it.

At 12:30 the signal to start was given and the column formed. First came the Naval Militia of the State of New York consisting of the tugs of the Pennsylvania and Erie Railroads, of the Bee Transportation Line and of the New York Lighterage Company. These, divided into four squadrons, formed the patrol line of the parade. Every tug as it fell into line sounded its shrill whistle, and the deep voice fog signals of the larger steamers bellowed response.

These were but for the police to clear the way.

Swiftly darting through the water came the torpedo boat Cushing, the flagship of the parade, its three attendant vidette boats, the steam yachts, Aida, Allegra and Helvetia.

Next in order was the steamer Howard Carroll with the distinguished guests of the Naval Committee. Then the visiting warships and the United States Naval Squadron escorting them at the rate of about seven knots an hour, with the visitors in the center.

The Flagship Philadelphia headed the starboard column followed by the Dolphin and the Vesuvius; the Miantonomah headed the port column, followed by the Atlanta and Blake.

The three steamers of the Committee of One Hundred fell in after the war vessels and headed the column of the escorting fleet.

So they moved through the long double row of gayly decked waiting vessels, bands playing, whistles blowing, flags dipping, yards manned and every possible display or enthusiasm being made.

When the last boat of the war fleet had run the gauntlet of this peaceful holiday-making flotilla, the escorting vessels weighed anchor and followed in set order in their wake.

The first division, flying the municipal flag of the City of New York, with its conspicuous crossed anchors, was headed by the tugs of the Dock and Fire Departments, and consisted of a special division of chartered steamers.

The signs of merriment on board these well appointed steamers were too obvious for concealment. Evidently all on board were having the best of times.

The second division was under the command of Vice-Commander E. D. Morgan of the New York Yacht Club, with Chester Griswold as Fleet Captain. It comprised a fleet of steamer yachts.

The fourth division comprised the Staten Island, Brooklyn and North River ferryboats.

The other six were miscellaneous steamers and tugs.

As the warships which had been anchored in the lower bay passed Forts Wadsworth and Lafayette the guns of those forts boomed out a National salute of 21 guns, which was taken up by the Philadelphia, and, under its lead, by the other vessels of the squadron, and returned by the visitors.

The roar of the great guns was deafening and continuous, and the smoke lay over the water in such dense masses that steering for a time became difficult, and under instructions previously given, the speed was slowed down until the air once more cleared.

Passing Governor's Island another national welcome of twenty-one guns burst from the ruddy walls of Castle William, and again was echoed back in thunderous reverberations by the fleet.

The long procession of boats slowly steamed their way up the North River and hundreds of gaily bedecked and crowded barges, floats and excursion steamers, which kept up a constant toot of whistles until the whole line had passed.

The spectacle was undoubtedly the grandest ever seen in New York harbor.

There was another fine display of fireworks on the Brooklyn Bridge last night.

CATHOLICS IN PARADE.

Amid another blaze of illuminated glory the parade of the United Catholic Societies took place last night and was witnessed by great throngs of New Yorkers and their tens of thousands of visitors.

Madison square and Union square, where the crowds were largest, looked like sections of fairyland. The numerous trees in these squares had depending from their branches thousands of colored lampions, the rays from which cast a variegated glow upon the steady stream of people moving under them.

It was nine o'clock before the procession started from 58th street and 8th avenue, and when the cathedral was reached on Fifth avenue, fifteen minutes later, a mighty cheer went up from the assembled multitude. This was a greeting to Mayor Grant, who came riding in a carriage immediately after the mounted police who led the parade.

There were 22,000 members of various Catholic societies in line, most of whom carried swinging lanterns, some red, others white, with still others blue. As the huge body of men moved down Fifth avenue the sight presented, when gazing up the avenue from Madison Square, was a curious one.

THE PRIZE CANTATA PRESENTED.

The Seventh Regiment Armory was filled last night with enthusiastic Germans. The occasion was the first public performance of the prize Columbian Cantata, as rendered by a male chorus numbering 4,000, and assisted by a quartette and large orchestra. The sight of so many singers, representing so many types of the sturdy German race, was inspiring.

No women singers took part in the grand chorus. The only ladies taking part were Miss Emma Juch, the solo soprano, and Marie Groebl, the contralto, and the lady harpist.

Great things were expected of the monster chorus, and they were fully realized. No less than three musical conductors were present and took turns in leading the orchestra and the thousands of happy Germans in the chorus. They were D. Melemet, the composer of the piece de resistance of the occasion, the prize cantata, "Columbus;" Heinrich Toellner and Frank Vanderstucken.

After a portion of the programme had been rendered Mr. Cleveland and his party entered. As soon as the dignified ex-President was seen the entire audience rose to its feet and loudly cheered until Grover Cleveland, his charming wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. E. C. Benedict were shown to their box.

The Catholic Club of New York and the United States Catholic Historical Society gave a literary and musical entertainment last night in Carnegie Hall in honor of the quadro-centennial anniversary of the discovery of America.

A poem entitled "Columbus, the Christ-Bearer, Speaks," was read by George Parsons Lathrop of Connecticut, and after music Frederick R. Coudert of New York delivered his oration in which he gave a complete history of Columbus, his whole life and his discovery of this continent, his triumphal return to Spain, his subsequent voyages and his death. Mr. Coudert's speech was a historical essay, bristling with dates.

Fifty people were injured by a collision on the West side elevated at 125th street last evening. None were fatally hurt.

President Harrison sent word last night that he cannot possibly be present.

CELEBRATION AT NEW HAVEN.

Knights of Columbus Take Possession of the City.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 12.—The Knights of Columbus of the State of Connecticut took possession of the city yesterday and celebrated the quadro-centennial of the discovery of America in a manner worthy of the occasion.

The influx of visitors began early and the city was fairly crowded.

The first councils of the order arrived on an early train from up the Naugatuck Valley at 9 o'clock and were followed in quick succession by other large bodies of men from Stamford, Bridgeport, Hartford, Windsor Locks, Wallingford, Willimantic, Waterbury, Meriden, Middletown, New London, Norwich and other cities in the State.

The total number of men in the parade is placed at 5,000, while it is safe to say that there were at least 30,000 strangers in the city.

The Grand Marshal of the parade was Major T. F. Callahan of the Second Regiment, with John F. Hurley as Chief of Staff.

BOTH SIDES INDICTED

Work of the Allegheny County Grand Jury at Pittsburg.

CHARGES AGAINST FRICK ET AL

The Presentments Are for Murder, Conspiracy and Aggravated Riot—Homestead Advisory Board Charged With Treason—Hugh Ross Prosecutor in the Murder Cases.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 12.—The action of the Grand Jury at Pittsburg in indicting the Advisory Board of the striking steel workers for treason has caused a decided depression among the men. There is, however, a savage satisfaction felt because of the indictment for murder, conspiracy and aggravated riot of the Carnegie officials and Pinkerton detectives.

The indictments for treason involve thirty-one defendants and include Hugh O'Donnell, John McLuckie and Hugh Ross.

The charges of murder against H. C. Frick and other Carnegie officials are for the killing of George W. Rutter, John E. Morris, Joseph Sotak and Silas Wayne, whose deaths resulted from the riot. The true bills are against H. C. Frick, F. T. F. Lovejoy, Robert Pinkerton, William Pinkerton, J. A. Potter, W. S. Corey, J. G. A. Leishman, C. W. Beddell, W. H. Burt, John Cooper, F. W. Hinde, Nevin McConnell and James Dovey.

In the conspiracy cases H. C. Frick, George Lauder, H. M. Curry, Leishman, Otis Childs, Lovejoy, L. C. Phipps, G. A. Corey, J. A. Potter, J. F. Dovey, McConnell, the Pinkertons, Cooper, Beddell, Frederick Primer, Burt and Hinde are the defendants.

In the aggravated riot cases true bills are returned against Frick, Curry, Leishman, Lovejoy, L. C. Phipps, Dovey, McConnell, Cooper, Beddell, Primer, Burt and Hinde.

The indictments against Frick and others in the murder cases are separate, making four in all.

The prosecutor in the murder cases is Hugh Ross, against whom there are charges of murder, treason, conspiracy and aggravated riot.

The indictment against the Carnegie officials in the conspiracy cases is a lengthy document, comprising ten typewritten pages. Among other things it sets forth, concerning H. C. Frick and the others named, the following:

That they did unlawfully, falsely and maliciously conspire, combine, confederate and agree together to depress, lower, lessen and diminish wages, price and compensation of labor of divers persons employed by the Carnegie Steel Company, Limited, to then and there close up the steel manufactory and to cease work and operations therein, and thereupon to convey and cause to be sent 200 men and upwards, armed with guns, revolvers, pistols, knives and other deadly weapons, to overawe, intimidate and frighten persons in the said township of Mifflin, who were then lately employed by the said Carnegie Steel Company, to invade the said township of Mifflin and to attack said persons who were then lately before employed, and to shoot off and discharge the said guns and other deadly weapons against the bodies of the said persons who were then lately before employed by the said Carnegie Steel Company, Limited.

In regard to the fight on the morning of the 6th, the bill says the defendants "did counsel and advise the shooting."

The bill in the aggravated riot cases against the Carnegie officials differs very little from that in the conspiracy action.

Yale Loses Two Good Kickers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 11.—It is given out that Crosse and Cox, two promising candidates for the university football team, will be obliged to discontinue practice for the remainder of the present season. Crosse's father objects, and Cox's neck, injured last week, has since grown worse.

Sousa's Band's Name.

DEACON IS WORRIED.

Afraid That He Will Lose His Suit Against His Wife.

CANNES, Oct. 12.—Edward Parker Deacon, whose case against his wife for criminal adultery with M. Abeille will be tried to-morrow, has arrived here and taken rooms at the Hotel des Princes. Mrs. Deacon is expected to reach here to-day.

Mr. Deacon looks worried and anxious. He told the correspondent that he feared he would lose his case in consequence of the persistence of the Abeilles family to turn public opinion against him. The Abeilles, he says, have already spent 300,000 francs in opposing him.

On the press alone they spent 120,000 francs, and the result has been a newspaper campaign against him, which caused his imprisonment and is likely to cause the dismissal of the present charge against his wife. Everybody who has shown him kindness, Mr. Deacon says, has been attacked by the editors in the pay of the Abeilles.

The coming trial will be before a bench of judges and without a jury, but, Mr. Deacon says, the judges have been so prejudiced by the misrepresentations of the press that, even with the best intentions, they can hardly treat him impartially.

In expectation of prejudice Mr. Deacon has brought here with him a dozen witnesses from Switzerland, the Riviera and other localities, where Mrs. Deacon and M. Abeille were together. He has also his stenographer, who will take down for him the testimony of these witnesses as to the criminal intimacy of the couple.

If beaten at the trial to-morrow he will take the stenographer's reports to the United States with him and use them as evidence in a suit for divorce. In fact, Mr. Deacon says, he regards the Grasse court more in the light of a commission for taking evidence than as a judicial tribunal to give an impartial decision upon his case.

Last Monday Mr. Deacon visited his eldest daughter, who is at school in Paris. While he was with her Mrs. Deacon called and was shown into the room. There was a violent scene, in which the daughter learned for the first time of the cause of the trouble between her father and mother. Finally, Mr. Deacon ordered Mrs. Deacon out of the house.

Mr. Deacon vows that, law or no law, he will have his children. He says he will not even give up the baby now with its mother.

The local interest in the case is intense. The Abeille family are seeking to pack the court room with their friends, and to prevent the admission of press representatives, lest the truth about the guilt of M. Abeille should be laid before the public.

APOLOGIZES TO LIZZIE BORDEN.

The Boston "Globe" Declares That It Was Greatly Deceived.

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—The "Globe" publishes an editorial apology for its publication of the statement in the Borden case. It says:

"The 'Globe' feels it a plain duty, as an honest newspaper, to state that it has been grievously misled in the Lizzie Borden case. It published on Monday a communication that it believed to be true evidence. Among all the impositions which newspapers have suffered, this was unparalleled in its astonishing completeness and its irresistible plausibility. Judging from what we have heard, it impressed our readers as strikingly as it did the 'Globe.' Some of this remarkably ingenious and cunningly contrived story is undoubtedly based on facts, as later developments will show.

"The 'Globe' believes, however, that much of it is false and never should have been published. The 'Globe,' having been misled, has innocently added to the terrible burdens of Miss Lizzie Borden. So far as it is in our power to repair wrong we are anxious to do so, and hereby tender her our heartfelt apology for the inhuman reflection upon her honor as a woman, and for any injustice the publication of Monday inflicted upon her.

"And the same sincere apology is tendered Mr. John V. Morse and any other persons to whom the publication did an injustice."

The "Globe" under a headline saying that the story had been proven wrong in some particulars, says:

"Detective E. G. McHenry furnished the 'Globe' with the Borden story published Monday morning. He admits it in an interview published herewith. He also asserts that the facts are true. He states that the names and residences of alleged witnesses were purposely given wrong for obvious reasons.

"The 'Globe,' in the course of its investigation into the details of the story, interviewed Dr. and Mrs. Bowen and Rev. Mr. Buck on the question of Lizzie Borden's physical condition at the time of the murder, the result of which was the conviction that in this respect at least Mr. McHenry was wrong. The story may be wrong in some other minor particulars, but the weight of evidence favors the main facts as true."

"And now for the purpose of ferreting out the murder in the Borden case the 'Globe' has engaged the best detective talent available."

A statement by Henry G. Trickey, the reporter who signed Monday's story, is appended and is to the effect that he paid detective McHenry $500 for the story and giving the details of the bargain.

De Vita Gets Twenty Years.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 12.—Carmine De Vita, who was tried in the Court of Oyer and Terminer for the murder of Thomas Burns, was sentenced yesterday to twenty years in State's prison. The homicide took place about 12 o'clock on the night of Sept. 12. De Vita and Burns quarreled about Annie Klein, a notorious woman. The Italian drew a knife and ripped Burns' abdomen from side to side. He died shortly after.

The Blanc Divorce Suit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A motion made by counsel in behalf of Baron Blanc for a bill of particulars of his wife's charges of adultery against him, has been denied by Justice Patterson of the Supreme Court. The counsel for the Baroness said it was impossible to give the names of the women of the town with whom the Baroness said her husband had consorted.

Hamburg's Cholera Record.

HAMBURG, Oct. 12.—There were 18 fresh cases of cholera here yesterday, three deaths and 132 burials. In the hospitals 891 patients are being treated. The official report states that there have been altogether 17,910 cases of cholera in the city and 7,588 deaths. It is expected that by Oct. 15 the city can truthfully be declared free of the plague.

DEMANDING HIS RECALL

Newspapers at Three Rivers Want Col. Smith Removed.

THE VICE-CONSUL MAKES A REPORT

He Is Ill from the Result of Having His Windows Broken by the Indignant Citizens—The Clergy Also Incensed at Some of His Utterances.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—Col. Nicholas Smith, the American Vice-Consul at Three Rivers, is confined to his bed with a severe cold as the result of exposure, through having the windows of his house broken by indignant citizens because of his sweeping condemnation of the sanitary condition of the town.

Col. Smith, in an interview, states that he has made an official report of what has happened to the authorities at Washington.

Mayor Norman, of Three Rivers, says that policemen are still under orders to particularly look out for and prevent any further manifestation of violence toward the American Vice-Consul, but no further trouble, he thought, would take place.

The French press is mute on the subject and does not offer any denial of Col. Smith's charges. The English newspapers, however, all refer to the matter editorially, and demand the Vice-Consul's recall.

The "Witness" says: "One sentence in Vice-Consul Smith's report upon the sanitary condition of Three Rivers is a falsehood. It gives the spirit of the whole document a malicious tenor. He described the cholera as riding at anchor upon our seaboard. There has not been a case of it in Canadian waters, and, on the other hand, it has had its home both at anchor and on shore in the jurisdiction of New York for weeks.

"The dignified proceeding for Three Rivers is to meet each statement made by Vice-Consul Smith with a direct denial if it can. It will then be time to ask for his recall, if, indeed, there is not sufficient ground for that in his chief utterance as to cholera on our seaboard. That is a slander upon our whole Dominion."

In the absence of Consul-General Knapp, Patrick Gorman, United States Vice-Consul at Montreal, has left for Three Rivers to consult with Col. Smith and to hold an investigation.

A despatch from East River states that Archbishop Lafleche, as well as the entire clergy of the district, are much incensed over what they term Col. Smith's flippant reference to the church's position in times of epidemics. This part of the Vice-Consul's report will form the text for a lengthy pastoral letter shortly to be issued.

FESTIVITIES IN PHILADELPHIA.

Catholics Celebrate the Discovery of America By Columbus.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—The Catholic Columbian Centennial parade of the boys of the Catholic institutions of Philadelphia was a big success.

Over 8,000 gaily uniformed lads were in line.

Each organization was headed by a band.

In addition to the hundreds of banners and standards carried at the heads of the different bodies every boy in line carried an American flag.

The parade was a blaze of color from beginning to end.

The line of march was along Broad street to Arch, and thence up Eighteenth to the Cathedral, where the parade was dismissed with a benediction by Archbishop Ryan.

The procession was reviewed at the Catholic high school building, Broad and Vine streets, by the Archbishop and a large number of the clergy of the archdiocese.

The parade at night had, it is estimated, 25,000 men in line, and was the largest and most gorgeous ever given by Philadelphia Catholics.

IT IS TREASON TO THE QUEEN,

So Thinks the Canadian Minister of Militia of Lieut. Macdonald's Speech.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 11.—Lieut. G. A. Macdonald, of Toronto, who has been airing his opinions lately in Boston in favor of the annexation of Canada to the United States, has been removed from the active militia list of Canada by order of Hon. Mackenzie Rowell, Minister of Militia.

The Minister says that while he has no desire to interfere with freedom of speech, he does not deem it compatible with duty for an officer holding a commission in the volunteer force of Canada, though it be but a provincial appointment, to be advocating the severance of Canada from the empire for the purpose of attaching her to another and a foreign power.

Horrible Murder at Glasgow.

GLASGOW, Oct. 12.—The most horrible murder in the criminal history of this city was committed early yesterday morning at West Lodge, a villa on the Albert Road in Pollokshields, on the outskirts of Glasgow. A woman, still unidentified, was mutilated, after the method of "Jack the Ripper," dismembered and the pieces of her body were buried in the villa garden. McEwan, the gardener, who, doubtless, is guilty of the crime, has disappeared.

Diphtheria in Orange County, N. Y.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 12.—An epidemic of diphtheria prevails at Centreville, Orange County. There are four cases in the family of Rufus Conkling, and a like number in the family of Thomas Ryan. The local authorities are condemned for not quarantining the cases and using proper precautions to prevent its spread. An appeal will be made to the State Board of Health.

A Brakeman Fatally Hurt.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., Oct. 12.—While James Hudson, a New York Central brakeman, was setting the brake on a box car yesterday afternoon, the brake chain broke, throwing Hudson to the track. He struck on his head, sustaining a fracture of the skull and spinal injuries. He will die.

Chattanooga Democrats Victorious.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 12.—Chattanooga elected seven Democrats out of eight Aldermanic candidates, securing control of the city government for the first time in the city's history.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Friday—For New Jersey, Light Local Showers; Probably Clearing Friday Morning; Variable Winds Shifting to Southerly.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The New York Tourist Wheelmen will run to Plainfield Sunday.

—A letter marked "Important", awaits "Smokestack" Edward Hoover, at THE PRESS office.

—A number of Union ex-prisoners of war are enjoying a reunion at Reform Hall to-day.

—The "moonlight" inspection of the fire department takes place next Tuesday evening at 7, followed by supper and speechmaking at the Crescent rink.

—The Home Building and Loan association of Plainfield will meet at 12 East Front street, over the City bank, next Monday evening, when the tenth series will be open for subscription.

—"Dull cloudiness and darkness reigned this morning,"—said a sarcastic boroughite to-day—"so of course the North Plainfield street lights were out again. Had it been bright moonlight, the lamps would have shone brilliantly."

—Miss Ednorah Nahar, who will give elocutionary recitations next Monday and Tuesday evenings, in Bethel chapel, gave entire satisfaction at her recent appearance in this city. By special request she will repeat the "Chariot Race" from Ben Hur, Monday night.

—The representatives of the Plainfield Bicycle club in the glorious pageant in New York last night were disappointingly few in number, and made an impression of smallness on the spectators. The handful seemed lost in that mighty parade of big clubs' big turnouts.

—Judge Codington and a jury had the case of Sheridan vs. Cahill on trial this morning. Miss Sheridan accused Cahill of being the father of her child. Cahill denied it, but corporation counsel Marsh convicted him, the jury pronounced him guilty, and the court will fix the amount he is to contribute weekly to the support of the child.

—The regular meeting of the Cleveland and Stevenson campaign club, last Monday evening, was even more interesting than past ones. Joseph W. Yates presided, and Messrs. Edward Strobel of New York, and Joseph Beecher of Newark, the speakers, were most flatteringly received and appreciated by the large audience present.

—Packer's windows always attract, with the richness of their show, but just now they have an especial object of admiration, in the fine china-painting samples exhibited by Mrs. W. H. Griffin. Mrs. Griffin will reopen her studio next Wednesday, when she will be ready to give instruction to all who wish to develop their artistic instinct.

—The Bound Brook Democrat says: "The building of the electric railway from New Brunswick to this place is to be begun at once, manager Ayres having secured the right of way, and the road will probably be in operation by April 1. Extensions to Dunellen, Chimney Rock, Somerville and Raritan will follow in short order. The electric plant will be situated here."

—On Monday evening at Music Hall, will be seen that extremely bright and very funny comedy "Dr. Bill", from the Garden theater, New York. It is a pleasure to announce an attraction of this kind. While the comedy is very laughable it does not depend for its laughs on the usual horseplay methods. It is to be seen here by a very capable company. Among the members of the company is Miss Celie Ellis, (Mrs. Blake), who has a large number of friends here.

THE SALE PREVENTED.

New Jersey's Chancellor Takes a Hand in the Contest at Roberts's Livery Stable.

The Chancellor of New Jersey has taken a hand in the troubles at the livery stable of D. S. Roberts.

Many months ago Adolphus W. Waldron, jr., talked of becoming a partner with Mr. Roberts. The partnership was never consummated, but instead Edward S. Lyon bought an interest in the business, paying Mr. Roberts $6,000 in notes, which were secured by mortgage on Lyon's share of the stock.

Now Lyon says that an attempt is being made to freeze him out of the business. Mr. Roberts transferred his mortgage to Mr. Waldron, who has of late been his book-keeper, and Mr. Waldron began foreclosure proceeding and advertised to sell the goods at auction this week Saturday. Mr. Lyon claims that the distinct understanding was that the mortgage was to be for one year, and that the year is nowhere near ended. He therefore appealed to the Chancellor, through his counsel, C. A. Reed, who has secured an injunction prohibiting the sale. The injunction is a temporary one, but the Chancellor will hear argument on the case and will decide whether or not to make the injunction permanent.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

W. E. Hinkson and bride are home from their wedding journey.

Cards are out for the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lord of Netherwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bowen of Broadway gave a "Speculation party" last evening.

John W. Murray, jr., is mentioned as a congressional possibility by local Republicans.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut is expected home this week from his Sunday-school work in the west.

Frank J. Hubbbard is home from Olean, N. Y., when he has been superintending work for F. A. Dunham.

Miss Madeline Harberger, of West Front street, is to be married during Thanksgiving week to a prominent banker and broker of New York.

Among the guests at the Columbian banquet in New York to-night will be Joseph W. Yates as representative of the foreign consuls. He is expected to speak.

The Rev. J. C. Fernald, of this city, will address the sixth annual State Christian Endeavor convention at Bridgeton, Oct. 25, 26 and 27. One thousand delegates are expected.

George H. Fountain is always unearthing curious things. The latest oddity he has dug up is what he claims is the skull of a prehistoric musk-ox of the paleozoic age, found in rummaging about in the earth near this city. He thinks the find a valuable one, and will consult State Geologist Smock about it.

What Union County Did Ten Years Ago.

The nomination of Miles Ross for congress in 1882, for several reasons was objectionable to the better element of the Democratic party.

How went Union county then?

Vosseller (Democrat) for county clerk, had a majority of 957;

Gerber (Democrat) for surrogate, had a majority of 786;

While Kean (Republican) for congress, had a majority of 1404.

Will 1892 furnish a parallel case?

Has James E. Martine been betrayed to make a Republican holiday?

Trinity Church Election.

The yearly congregational meeting of the Trinity Reformed church was held last evening, when the annual took place for members of the consistory. Alexander Willett, G. L. VanEmburg, and J. H. VanWinkle were re-elected elders for two years. D. VanWinkle was elected elder for one year to fill the unexpired term of R. R. Field. A. Swalm, H. E. Gayle and W. F. Oliver were elected deacons for two years, Messrs. Swalm and Gayle being re-elected.

Frightened to Death.

W. Alex. Bass was the owner of a large and handsome water dog. Some time ago the animal was caught by a train of cars on a bridge near New Market and hurled with great violence a hundred feet into the pond. By careful nursing he recovered, and a few days ago he was caught in the same predicament on the same bridge. As he saw the cars approaching, he ran from the bridge with great speed for about 150 yards, and then fell over dead. Mr. Bass belives the dog was frightened to death.

Convinced the Opposing Counsel.

Counselor Craig A. Marsh moved the case of A. M. Griffen against ex-county-collector Patrick Sheridan, before Judge VanSyckel at Elizabeth, Saturday. Mr. Marsh presented his case with such vigor and logic that he convinced even the opposing counsel, James English, who said if he would compute the exact amount of the claim he would pay it.

Milkman Steel's Death.

William Steel, the Fanwood milkman whose death by accident was recorded exclusively in THE PRESS of Tuesday, was 49 years old. He was carting a heavy wagon-load of beer grains, fell from his seat, and was crushed by the wheels. He died in an hour. Dr. Westcott attended him.

—A number of Plainfield Baptists attended the Central New Jersey Baptist association convention at Elizabeth yesterday.

—A lecture on "What Will Mrs. Grundy Say?" for the benefit of the Monroe Avenue chapel Woman's Aid society will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. C. B. Mitchell in the chapel next Tuesday evening.

—Dahlgreen post, 25, G. A. R., of Elizabeth, were the guests of Winfield Scott post of this city Tuesday evening. The women's relief corps provided refreshments, there were good speeches, and all had a most enjoyable time.

OVERDOSE OF LAUDANUM.

Sudden Death of Howard Wilson of Grove Street.

Howard Wilson, son of John F., of Greenbrook road, died suddenly this morning in bed at his home, corner of Grove street and Linden avenue. At about four o'clock members of his household noticed that he was breathing very heavily, and became alarmed at the stupor he seemed to be in. Dr. Carman was immediately summoned, but Wilson had sunk into unconsciousness from which he could not be aroused, and he died within a short time. Investigation showed that Wilson had taken an overdose of laudanum, which his wife says he was in the habit of using for sleeplessness. The physician therefore returned accidental opium poisoning as the cause of death. Mr. Wilson leaves a wife, who was the daughter of the late Alex. Warnock, formerly of this city.

George Thatcher's New "Tuxedo".

The combined forces of Geo. Thatcher's minstrels and Rich & Harris's Comedy company will appear at Music Hall this evening for the benefit of Major Anderson Post, 109, in their new minstrel farce-comedy creation "Tuxedo". "Tuxedo" is the result of an idea original, ingenious, unique and clever, as it brings together in one entertainment the best elements of musical farce and the only popular portion, the "first part", of a minstrel show. Strange that while experts had moaned the decay of burnt cork, and groaned at the excessive frivolity and frothiness of farce comedy, no sage among the pessimists had thought to combine the better features of both, but it has been happily done in "Tuxedo". The scenes of the play are laid at Tuxedo park, where swell New Yorkers first saw Mrs. James Brown Potter struggling with an amateur attempt at elevating the stage, and the story deals with the trials of a party of representative society people from New York, Boston and Chicago, who are engaged in the pleasing but fin their case perplexing pastime of organizing an amateur entertainment. As not infrequently happens on occasions of this kind, disappointments are numerous at the last moment, and they are on the verge of failure when they learn that George Thatcher's minstrels are rehearsing in the neighborhood, and they conclude to seek their assistance. This is accordingly done, and the second act shows the minstrels on the lawn of the Tuxedo Club house giving their first part in response to an invitation from the amateurs. This scene is said to be a pretty one.

Plainfield's Day in the Metropolis.

Yesterday was a general holiday throughout Plainfield. It was very quiet in town, all business being suspended, and many people going to New York to join in the Columbian festivities there. The experiences and pleasures were those of a lifetime. The Plainfielders who stayed to the night pageant found the Jersey Central, like all the other transportation companies, utterly unprepared to handle so large a crowd. Trains were run irregularly, and the discomforts were many. The people were penned in like cattle at the Communipaw station, for a long time past their schedule hour, and most of them when they got aboard the cars had to stand. This experience was the climax to a hard day's work at sightseeing. But everyone was glad he went.

The Plainfield schools will celebrate Discovery Day next week Friday, with the national programme prepared for schools.

Heap Much Fun.

Members of the Improved Order of Red Men had a great time in Camden on Wednesday. It is estimated that 7,000 braves were in line marching in honor of Columbus. Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, of this city, was represented by sixty members and a band of music. The braves returned to their wigwam this morning and report having had "heap much fun". With this celebration the Red Men's year changes to "Great Sun of Discovery, 401, Traveling Moon, 12th Sun", and a new century is begun.

Charming Artists in the Borough To-Night.

Concerning the Hotchkin Sisters who are to appear at Warren mission to-night the Easton Argus says:

"The Hotchkin Sisters Concert company and Bell Ringers gave an excellent entertainment in the lecture room of the Second Street Methodist church last evening but the attendance was far from being what it should have been, the quality of the entertainment being considered. We doubt if there are any musicians to be found who are more skilled than are the young ladies who compose this company. It appeared that the simple touch of their fingers on anything brings forth the richest music. Miss Julia is possessed of a richly cultivated voice and is a charming singer. Miss Anna captured the audience by her complete mastery of several instruments and by her ability as a whistler. Miss Hattie is an expert on the violin as well as in the manipulation of the bells, while a better accompanist than their assistant cannot be found anywhere."

—The Emmanuel Baptists have decided to postpone indefinitely their proposed basket sociable.

The wrong way, with Catarrh, is to stop it without curing it. The poisonous, irritating snuffs, strong caustic solutions, "creams," balms and the like may, perhaps, palliate for a time. But they may drive the disease to the lungs.

The wrong way is full of danger.

The right way is a proved one. It's with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cures, perfectly and permanently, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh. It has proved itself right, thousands of times, when everything else has failed.

And that makes its proprietors willing to prove that it's the right thing for you, no matter how bad your case or of how long standing.

If they can't cure your Catarrh, they'll pay you $500 in cash.

They mean it.

They're certain of their medicine.

WAS MARTINE BETRAYED

HIS FRIENDS IN PLAINFIELD ALLEGE THAT HE WAS DECEIVED.

It is Declared He Was Requested to Take the Stump for the Democratic National Ticket and Let Others Take Care of His Personal Canvass in the Eighth Congressional District.

(From the Newark Evening News.)

Alexander Maybaum's work and outlay of money in the contest for the Democratic nomination in the Eight Congressional District are not going to have large returns if some of the men who profess to be friendly to his candidacy can help it. Mr. Maybaum captured many delegates in the Essex end of the district. But those professing friends of his are trying to divert his strength to James E. Martine, the "farmer-orator" of Plainfield.

These men want to keep the nomination from John T. Dunn, of Elizabeth. Maybaum knows nothing of this plot. He is sincere in his endeavors to get the nomination and not a cover for underhand work for any other man. Martine is as much his opponent as Dunn. The work for Martine is going on without Maybaum's knowledge. It is being done principally in the Oranges and done with a will, although beneath the surface. The men engaged in it hope to get not only Maybaum's delegates, but also those elected in Orange for Dunn and turn them over to Martine.

It was generally believed that Dunn had gathered in all the Bayonne delegates, sixteen in number. Now a doubt is being cast upon his ability to hold all these votes. It is maintained by men not friendly to him that several of them are already avowedly against the Elizabeth candidate.

This activity against Dunn seems to have been inspired from points outside the district. Martine's friends in Plainfield have waxed exceedingly wroth over what they term the betrayal of their man. They say they are going to invoke the aid of Democratic State and National leaders in his interest. They assert that when Martine began to loom up as a Congressional probability Senator Fred C. Marsh, ex-Surrogate James J. Gerber, County Clerk John L. Crowell and other Union county Democratic leaders in Elizabeth persuaded him to leave his canvass to them and stump the State for the Presidential candidates.

Some of his friends warned him of suspected treachery, and urged him to leave his stump speaking till after the Congressional convention and go out and hustle for delegates. But he relied on the bosses' assurances, and not until Monday night, when the primaries were held did he realize that he had made a mistake. Even in Plainfield a determined effort was made to defeat his candidates for delegates. By sharp work this effort was rendered futile, but Plainfield is the only place where Martine delegates were elected.

A careful canvass of the returns from all the polling places in the district, it is conceded in Plainfield, show that John T. Dunn has a total of seventy-five delegates to the nominating convention. He needs only sixty-one to secure the nomination. The strongest efforts will now be made to secure the influence of such men as United States Senator John R. MacPherson and James Smith, jr., to turn the Dunn delegates to Martine.

To those men an influential Democratic delegation from Plainfield will represent that the nomination of Dunn will mean defeat and disaster, and that Martine alone can be elected against either Foster M. Voorhees or John C. Rankin, one of whom will be nominated on the Republican ticket. The Martine men claim that Martine was betrayed by the little bosses of Union county, and the big State and National bosses will be demanded to interfere.

Few, if any, of the delegates chosen in the Oranges will consent to do that other than which they were elected for, it is said, no matter what the leaders up that way demand. Most of them feel that Maybaum deserves their support for his plucky fight against big odds, and they will probably stand by him. If a break is made from Maybaum at all, it is said that Dunn will get some of the delegates, although it is held that Martine would secure the majority.

Colored Republican Factions in Plainfield.

(From The New York Evening Post.)

Col. Murrill, the colored Republican of Jersey City who caused such discord at the Minneapolis Convention last spring, is having a hard time to control the New Jersey colored vote for the Republicans this fall. He attended the meeting of the colored Republican State Committee in Plainfield, N. J., yesterday afternoon and succeeded in preventing the organization of colored men who would oppose his own State Republican Committee that was formed in Newark last Thursday. He said after the meeting that everything had worked his way and that he was now vindicated before the colored men. Only eight of the twenty-one New Jersey counties were represented by delegates at this meeting, and these were insufficient for a quorum. Some of these were supporting Murrill in his fight, and the meeting was at times highly exciting. Practically nothing was done.

Westfield's Athletic Fair.

The Westfield Athletic Club fair was opened yesterday, although most of the good people of Westfield were in New York celebrating.

The rooms of the club were finely decorated, and the first night attendance was large in face of the circumstances. The bowling was opened by Mr. Coding, president of the club. Representatives of several out-of-town clubs were present. Teams have been selected from nearly all the bowling clubs of towns near by, to take part in the bowling contest. Several clubs in Newark and Jersey City expect to send men. The highest score last night was by Flemming of the Elizabeth Athletic club.

Dancing began at 10 p. m., with music by Conde of Plainfield.

WOMEN MAKE THE MEN.

Dr. Lewis's Daughter Tells How Girls' Brothers Should Be Moulded.

The nineteenth annual W. C. T. U. convention opened at Roseville, Tuesday, with the State "Y's" anniversary, at which Miss Lewis, of Plainfield, read a paper headed, "What Girls Can Do to Help Their Brothers?" Miss Lewis said that it was generally admitted that the men are what the women make them. She admonished her fellow-workers to be careful of their immense power in the moulding of their brothers' characters. She had been told by a young man that if the girls only knew how much weight their actions and words had with the young men they would be more careful. She counselled her hearers therefore to conduct themselves in such a manner that the young men would on leaving their homes feel that they were better men, better Christians for having spent an evening in their presence.

At yesterday's convention sessions Mrs. J. T. Ellis, the corresponding secretary, read her report, which showed that there were 164 unions in the State, with a membership of 5,523 and 756 honorary members. There were 4,981 meetings held during the year and 3,215 mass-meetings. New unions numbered 797 and the money raised for local work amounted to $43,234.-97.

Does n't Give the "Courier" Any Circulation.

N. W. Ayer and Company, of Philadelphia, have issued the thirteenth edition of their "American Newspaper Annual". The work aims to record all that advertisers want to know of all the newspapers, big and little, in the United States. The total number of newspapers here classified is 20,115, an increase over last year of 1,104. This increase, according to the just view of the publishers of the Manual, is largely due to the fact that this is a presidential year, when campaign newspapers multiply. Deducting the dead newspapers from the number of those born during the year, the net increase is considerable.

This is what the Manual gives within its covers: Catalogue of newspapers and periodicals arranged by towns in States in alphabetical order; a gazetteer description of every place in the United States and Canada in which a newspaper is published, railroad and water communications, location of counties and places, distances from prominent points, telegraph offices, express routes, banking facilities; newspapers arranged by counties in States, with State and county headings, giving location, physical features, soil, agricultural products and manufactures, population of counties and county-seats, political votes by counties; religious, agricultural and class publications; press and editorial associations; tabulated statements, population tables, etc.

The Annual states that the average daily circulation of THE PRESS at the time the reports were compiled was 1,896, and it has grown continually since. The circulation of the News it "estimates" at figures much lower, and the guess is twice what it ought to be. It notes that a Courier is published, and gives it no circulation at all.

The annual has omitted the Union County Press club from its list of newspaper organizations.

FULLY SATISFIED.

North Plainfield Voters Assured that John Kean's Tribe Are Responsible for the Coal Combine.

(Somerville Messenger.)

The Democrats of North Plainfield swung out a handsome banner Thursday night. In the large crowd present were a number of Republicans. Mayor Saunders and Hon. Jas. J. Bergen of Somerville made forcible addresses. The banner raising was followed by a display of fireworks. In his remarks Mr. Bergen made a reference to the law passed last winter to legalize the leasing of the Central road to a foreign corporation. The bill failed to become a law. "Did you want it to become a law?" asked the speaker. "No! no!" shouted the audience. "Well, it did n't. Men who voted for the bill on the promise that the price of coal should not be raised, went to Gov. Abbett and urged him to veto the bill unless the companies would make a more binding agreement. This they refused to do; so the Governor declined to sign the bill." Some of his hearers afterwards said to Mr. Bergen that this explanation was entirely satisfactory and put the matter in a new light.

Soldiers Reunion.

The surviving members of the Fourteenth Regiment New Jersey Volunteers will hold their 14th annual reunion at Woodbridge, N. J., October 19, 1892. The comrades will meet at headquarters at 10:30 a. m. A lunch will be served at 1:30 p. m. There are a number of the members in this city who will attend.

Says the Colored Men Rule the Town.

The out-of-town papers all take an active interest in Plainfield matters, and one of them shows what it knows of the condition of politics in the Crescent city by stating that "The colored voters in the city of Plainfield hold the balance of power in local elections, and the leaders of both parties are now making strenuous efforts to induce these voters to join their respective campaign clubs."

Interesting to Athletes.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

ESTABLISHES A PRECEDENT.

Counselor Reed's Victory an Important Decision in Insurance Cases.

The New York Evening Post says that the victory of Mary Spencer, widow of John L. Spencer, of North Plainfield, over the Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance company, already recorded in these columns, decides an interesting and important law suit and establishes a precedent in insurance cases. Its statement of the facts of the case and the principles involved is as follows:

"The corporation issued a policy for $3,000 on the life of Spencer. He lapsed in his payment, and later made application for reinstatement. The company accepted his renewal, but required him to sign a statement that his health had been excellent ever since the issue of the policy.

"Some months later he died from the effects of worriment over financial difficulties in which he became involved, and when the widow demanded settlement of the insurance the company refused to pay, claiming that Spencer had given them a false warrantee in regard to health. Suit was brought, and counsellor Charles A. Reed, for the plaintiff, succeeded in establishing the point that the company had no right to require any such statement from the insured man when they accepted his premium as a policy renewal. He contended, and the court ruled, that the company's only privilege was to accept or reject his application for reinstatement, as they saw fit, without exacting any health warrantee from him. He further proved that Spencer was in good health at the time he signed the statement. Judgment was given the widow for the full amount of the claim, principal and interest, amounting to $3,418, with costs against the company."

There Are More Than that in Union.

The New York Advertiser says: "It is estimated that the investment in bicycles throughout this country is something like $52,500,000, and this figure will be used as a tremendous arguments for good roads by the agitators in behalf of a general movement with that end in view. That good roads have done much to develop riding is only too evident, and that it should be equally possible for cyclers to secure local legislation and appropriations for the improvement of thoroughfares and highways seems reasonable. In Union county, N. J., noted for its fine roads, among 80,000 people, it is estimated that 3,300 machines are in use, or one wheel to every twenty-four persons in the county."

TENNYSON BURIED.

The Poet's Remains Interred at Westminster Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—All that was mortal of Lord Tennyson was yesterday interred in Westminster Abbey with most impressive services.

The assemblage in the Abbey was a distinguished one. The Premier of England, Mr. Gladstone, was represented by Hon. Arthur Lyttleton; the Prince of Wales, by General Probyn, of his Household; the Duke of Edinburgh, by his private secretary, Hon. William James Cilville; the Duke of York, heir presumptive, by Sir Francis Winton, and the British Government by Hon. H. H. Asquith, the Home Secretary. Walter Besant and many other prominent men of letters were present.

The scene was most impressive. The Abbey choir was covered with a rich hanging of purple velvet. The nave was lined on both sides with orphan boys from the hospital founded by Gen. Gordon, an institution in which Tennyson took a marked sympathetic interest. The boys wore a modified Scotch uniform and carried themselves with military precision.

Along the aisle were also scattered the few survivors of the Light Brigade, the fame of whose Balaklava charge has been made perpetual by Tennyson's poem. Most of them wore the brilliant red uniform of Chelsea pensioners, and all had broad bands of crape on their arms.

At noon the sun burst out in full splendor from the haze which had hitherto partially obscured its rays and the interior of the Abbey was gloriously illumined, bringing out all the beauties of the sculpture and carving.

A moment later Sir Henry Ponsonby, the Queen's Private Secretary, entered St. Faith's Chapel, and on behalf of Her Majesty placed a beautiful wreath upon the coffin. Sir Henry then proceeded to the Dean of Westminster's stall, where he sat as representative of the Queen.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York occupied sub-deans' stalls.

They were placed in the Jerusalem Chamber, and were found to amount to several wagon-loads. Only a few of the most choice or appropriate designs were placed near the grave. One of these was composed of laurel gathered in Shakespeare's garden at Stratford.

Another wreath conspicuously placed was one ordered by the Tennyson Club of Arkansas and Missouri. It was composed of roses and chrysanthemums and was of especially beautiful design.

Mary Anderson sent a mat of laurel, violets and white may.

At half past twelve o'clock a stir around the door of St. Faith's Chapel attracted the attention of the waiting audience in the Abbey, and all eyes were directed to the spot.

First appeared the officiating clergy, then the coffin, which bore only the wreaths contributed by the Queen and members of the family.

The pall was an ordinary Union Jack. It was borne on the right hand by Lord Salisbury, the late Premier; Earl Selborne, Lord Rosebery, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and others.

Immediately behind the coffin walked the poet's son, Hallam Tennyson, with his wife and children, and some intimate friends of the family.

The procession passed through the cloisters and the nave to the altar, where the coffin was placed upon trestles and the religious ceremony was conducted, the Archbishop of Canterbury officiating, assisted by the dean and canons.

A number of Americans were present.

At the grave Dean Bradley said the prayer, the collect and the benediction and the great crowd dispersed as the notes of the dead march from "Saul" sounded through the Abbey. There was no procession from the Abbey at the close of the service.

THE END NEAR AT HAND

Not Believed That Mrs. Harrison Can Long Survive.

SHE GROWS WEAKER EVERY DAY.

Her Cough Has Ceased, But This is Regarded as a Bad Symptom—The Left Lung Involved — President Harrison Standing the Ordeal Bravely.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—There is not the slightest doubt now that Mrs. Harrison is gradually growing weaker, and not the slightest hope is held out by her family for her recovery.

Since her return from Loon Lake the ravages of the disease from which she is suffering have been slowly telling upon her, and her condition is very much worse than when she undertook the journey.

About the only nourishment the distinguished patient is now able to take is raw eggs and beef tea. This has been her principal diet for some time, but her condition is such at the present time that she is only able to take these in very small quantities.

The fact that her cough has ceased is regarded as a very unfavorable symptom, and her left lung is involved.

Mrs. Harrison sleeps most of the time, but when she awakens it is noticeable to her watchers that the rest does not benefit her, but only leaves her in a weaker condition.

Mrs. Harrison passed a fairly comfortable night, but the President thinks her condition so serious that it is not advisable to leave her bedside.

The ordeal through which President Harrison is passing is one that would be likely to break down a man of less will power. To the casual visitor who sees him at his desk, or shaking hands with general callers at the tri-weekly noonday receptions in the East room or as he walks for half an hour through a quiet street just before dinner, he seems the same self-satisfied, well-poised man as ever, but his friends and intimates know that he has suffered a mental and physical shock that has left its mark.

For more than a month now the President has felt himself compelled to abandon almost entirely participation in the political campaign and to give only the most formal and meager attention to the thousand and one routine matters of public business that would under ordinary circumstances demand the most protracted and serious consideration.

Each mail brings to the President's desk communications from every State in the Union, asking that he do this, and that, and the other thing, to help along the general cause, or the particular fortunes of a personal or political friend. Every hour there are men with campaign suggestions waiting at the White House door for "just a word with President Harrison," and night and day the telegraph service of the Executive Mansion is employed in bringing to the President's attention the details and incidents of the great political contest.

In a majority of cases the messages come from persons who want the President's assistance. Ordinarily, these appears would be listened to and granted. At present, however, the President is in no mood to go into the details of the campaign in any State and contents himself with turning the questions over to be settled by others.

GLASGOW FIEND CAUGHT.

McEwan Found in a Field with His Throat Cut—Is He the "Ripper?"

GLASGOW, Oct. 13.—A sailor of the name of McNeilly of the steamship Furnessa is under arrest charged with complicity in the murder and mutilation of the woman at West Lodge.

MacNeilly says that he slept alone in a room at the other end of the corridor from McEwan's room, and left for work very early without seeing him. McEwan, he says, met his victim in the street and induced her to go to his room. Further knowledge of her MacNeilly denies absolutely.

McEwan was caught yesterday in a field between Paisley and Glasgow. He had cut his throat and was lying weak from loss of blood in the corner of the hedge. He is under medical treatment and will probably recover. No statement was obtained from him.

The discovery that the uterus had been removed has given rise to fresh rumors that McEwan is Jack the Ripper.

Archbishop Satoli in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The entire Catholic Church of this country is interested in the arrival on the steamship Majestic of Archbishop Satoli, who comes on an important mission from the Holy See. He is accompanied by Mgr. C'Connell. The general good of the Catholic Church will be considered in a broad way. He will investigate the condition of the Church in this country, its membership, and recent growth. The Faribault school system will be studied.

Across Niagara Gorge on a Cable.

SUSPENSION BRIDGE, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Clifford Calverly of Toronto, Ont., performed the hazardous feat of walking across the Niagara Gorge on a wire cable, yesterday, at a point about midway between the suspension and cantilever bridges. The cable, which was 910 feet long, was guyed with ropes and ballasted with bags of sand, with a sag in the center of twenty-five feet.

Mrs. Deacon to Attend the Trial.

GRASSE, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Edward Parker Deacon has arrived, accompanied by her counsel, M. Barboux. She looks worn and anxious and leaned heavily on M. Barboux's arm. Interest in the trial has been increased, for until very recently she had not intended to be present and did not fully decide to come until yesterday. Mr. Deacon says he will insist that no indecency be allowed in the evidence.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The "Siecle" story of a dynamite attempt upon the Czar's life is a canard. The Czar and Czarewitch have left Warsaw to unveil the monument to Alexander II. at Czenstochaw.

A TEAPOT HOLDER.

No One Who Has Ever Had One Will Dispute Its Usefulness.

The materials are an ounce of pale, corn-colored single zephyr, a pair of medium sized steel knitting needles, a yard and a quarter of corn-colored ribbon and a quarter of a yard of pale green ribbon, both of these an inch wide.

Cast on fifty stitches, knit five rows plain.

Sixth Row.—Add a second ball of the same shade and knit with it seven stitches, then draw the thread to the back of the work and knit six with the first ball; alternate this way until you have the last seven stitches on the needle which are knit as an edge on either side, the stitches between forming the ribs.

Seventh Row.—Drop the thread with which you knitted the last seven stitches and bring the thread with which you knitted the last six forward to the right-hand needle, passing it between the other needle and the first stitch; knit this stitch, drawing the thread through the lower part of the loop and slipping the upper part off the needle; this first stitch is knit alike in every row on this side, which is the wrong side of the work. In going across this row, after knitting the first seven stitches, knit the next six with the thread from the seven of the previous row, bringing the thread forward in front of the work and passing it back of the needle before knitting; each thread must lie in front of the work on this side. Continue in this way across the row until but seven are left knit these and return with thread from the last six. Remember always to knit the first stitch as above and to draw the threads a little tighter on the wrong side.

When you have thirty-two rows, narrow every fifth stitch for two rows, then every fourth for two rows, then every third, then two, and in this way taper off for the small end. Draw up the other end into a round shape like the blunt end of an ear of corn. Sew the sides up for an inch, top and bottom, or more to fit the handle of your teapot. You may add to its realistic appearance by fringing a couple of inches of pale, yellowish-green ribbon, and attaching it to the top for silk. Narrow yellowish-green ribbon doubled and sewn on at the bottom, as in the illustration, will imitate the tender, inner leaves of the husk. Finish with a bow, top and bottom.—Country Gentleman.

HANDY MUSIC REST.

One That Is Durable as Well as Pretty and Convenient.

Many pianos have music rests in which the sheets get caught and torn when turned; others have no support for the back of the music, and it bends and breaks when not bound. The accompanying engraving illustrates a very pretty and convenient homemade rest. The materials required are two pieces of pine board a quarter of an inch thick, one fourteen inches square; the other of the same length and two inches wide; enough butcher's linen to cover both pieces; some floss and cord (the color to harmonize with the furnishing of the room). Work some design on the linen—a Kate Greenaway girl or a spray of flowers—and cover the large board with it. Also cover the slat, tack neatly and firmly, at a right angle, the large board to the edge of the narrow one, and edge the whole with the cord. This may be left on the piano rack, as it is ornamental as well as useful.—American Agriculturist.

FOR SLENDER WOMEN.

Why They Should Not Have Their Clothes Made Too Loose.

The slender woman's greatest mistake is in having her clothes too loose, believing that in this way she hides the angles. In reality her bodice should be fitted perfectly, padding used if necessary, and a reliance placed upon the trimming to give apparent size. The lace epaulettes, either on bodice or wrap, will add to the breadth, and make her look more rounded, while the lace cape has an equally good result. She can wear a short coat, double breasted and with flaring revers of fur or velvet; indeed, it may be said of her that everything impossible to her stout sister is permissible for her. A snugly-fitting bonnet will be found most becoming, and about her throat she can have either a high, stiff collar of white linen, or the full, fluffy fur or feather boa. The tailor-made suit in its severity is proper, for a good tailor knows how to fit even the plainest dress, so that the wearer, while slender, has a rounded appearance and does not suggest that unpleasant adjective, "angular." Remember that hard, plain fabrics are not suited to you, but that you want rather the soft, clinging stuffs that are at once graceful and in good style. In colors choose the warm browns, the brighter blues—although I still mean the dark ones. Soft delicate gray will be found particularly becoming, and is in beautiful harmony with gray hair.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Cat Heiress.

A benevolent old lady who died recently in Philadelphia left $1,000 in her will to be devoted to the care of a pet cat that had contributed very much to the happiness of her long life. All went well with the fund until the cat died, leaving five little kittens to be cared for, and now the trustees who were appointed to look after the fund do not know whether to turn the money over to the nephews and nieces of the old lady or to retain it and expend the means on the orphan kittens, who might be regarded in the law as the deceased cat's heirs. The case will probably be carried into court.

A leading characteristic of Bull Durham has always been the hold which it takes on old and fastidious smokers. What its excellence first secured, its uniformity has always retained, and it is, therefore, to-day as twenty-five years ago, the most popular Smoking Tobacco in the world.

ANGLE BOOK CASE.

One Way of Disposing of an Odd Corner to Advantage.

How best to dispose of an odd corner is many times the subject of considerable debate in more households than one. Sometimes it is found in the parlor, again in the sitting room and not infrequently in the dining room. But wherever it may be some means of disposing of the corner will suggest itself to some member of the family, and if the idea be acted upon a happy transformation is usually the result. An exceedingly handsome idea for such a corner is conveyed in the accompanying superb illustration for which together with the following particulars, we are, by the way, indebted to our esteemed contemporary, the Decorator and Furnisher. After illustrating and describing a number of clever household ideas, our contemporary says: "Another idea in the way of a book case is the angle dwarf book case shown in the illustration. It is simple and compact in design and will serve its purpose admirably. Such devices as these do away with the necessity of a regular library, and here we have in conjunction with a receptacle for books the expression of an art idea, with the addition of brackets for bric a brac, drapery for the books and decorated panels. There is a cupboard below the books for the reception of plans, rolls of drawing or manuscript. There is a corner cabinet in the superstructure, which arises to the frieze molding." Almost any of our army of mechanical readers could construct just such a piece of furniture, which when completed would be a lasting benefit and a work pleasing to look upon. For the panels bas reliefs of plaster of paris could be utilized and painted, if desired, in natural colors. These surrounded by light ash or oak moldings would make a very handsome appearance. One or two majolica jars on the brackets, of which there should be about three, and pale blue plush curtains to protect the books, would complete a handsome and useful piece of furniture.

FOUR NEW SLEEVES.

We May Expect to See Them on All Sides This Fall.

The accompanying cuts show four sleeve patterns which will be very popular in fall gowns.

The first sleeve shown is a leg-o'-mutton style in tweed, cheviot or serge, skillfully produced in waves and folds from shoulder to elbow. From the elbow it is plain, and finished at the wrist with cord loops and gimp buttons.

The second is a green tweed sleeve, lined with old gold silk, and braided with gold cord.

No. 3 is a cream-colored surah silk, spotted with coral pink, and trimmed with circular and straight frillings, together with treble folds of plain silk.

The "afternoon sleeve" shown in the fourth cut is made of Vicuna crepon cloth or bengaline, striped diagonally in the upper part with narrow velvet ribbon, matching in color the bone buttons, secured with button-holes.—N. Y. World.

To Render Canned Goods Safe.

If you are the least bit nervous about canned goods soak them—peas, lobsters, anything—an hour in iced water before heating them. This will remove any tinny taste that may be noticed in them, and take away the least shade of reproach that may cling to that best friend of the busy housekeeper, the canned article.

Chocolate Blanc Mange.

Dissolve one ounce of gelatine in as much water as will cover it, four ounces chocolate, grated, one quart of milk, twelve ounces of sugar; boil the milk, chocolate and sugar for five minutes, then add the gelatine and boil five minutes longer, stirring constantly; flavor with vanilla and pour into molds to cool.

Many Uses of Soda.

There is nothing more useful about a kitchen than sal-soda. It will, dissolved in a little water, remove grease from anything, and there is nothing like it for cleaning an iron sink. It is also the very best thing for cleaning hair brushes, which by the way, should be cleaned much more frequently than they are.

To Clean a Hair Brush.

To clean hair brushes, dip them up and down in soda water, rinse in tepid water in which a little ammonia has been mixed. Place several thicknesses of brown paper on the back of a very moderate oven, set the brushes upon this, bristles down, and dry.

MRS. ADLAI STEVENSON.

The Amiable Wife of the Democratic Candidate for Vice President.

Mrs. Adlai Stevenson is eminently qualified to share in any honor which the country may confer upon her husband. She is a woman of culture, and her social qualities have made her very popular. Her maiden name was Letitia Green and her father was presi dent of a Presbyterian college at Danville, Ky. When a student at Danville young Stevenson met her. He was very much impressed by her beauty and grace. Later she came to live with a brother-in-law at Chenoa, Ill. Mr. Stevenson, who was then practicing law in Metamora, lost no time in paying his addresses. Miss Green's parents belonged to that good old-fashioned school who believe that getting married is a serious business, and so, although she was by no means indifferent to the ardor of her brilliant young suitor, she did not accept him at once, but proved his constancy by compelling him to wait for some time for his answer. She afterward confessed that she thought a great deal of him even before he became her lover on account of his beautiful devotion to his mother. But even after he was accepted the engagement lasted two or three years. The wedding was the greatest social event in the history of that part of Illinois up to that time. Dr. Craig, now of the McCormick seminary, Chicago, was the officiating clergyman.

Rogues Will Have a Hard Time.

The prison commissioners of all the states have sent to Chicago measurements and descriptions of professional criminals who have been discharged from their various penitentiaries since 1890. The object of the law is to protect visitors from the horde of thieves that will naturally gravitate toward Chicago during the Columbian exposition, and to promote the work of identification when any rogue is arrested. One of the features of the criminal side of the exposition will be a national bureau of identification. Rogues are not going to have plain sailing during the exposition by long odds.

WILL BLAINE SPEAK?

Strong Effort Making to Induce Him to Take the Stump.

POLITICIANS AT OPHIR FARM.

The Ex-Secretary of State Declines to Talk of the Situation—He is Looking and Feeling Well—His Plans Not Yet Decided On.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Mr. Blaine is passing the time quietly at Ophir Farm, the residence of Whitelaw Reid, resting after his trip from Maine. Although a distinguished delegation came up from New York yesterday afternoon he did not meet them until he came downstairs to dinner at 7 o'clock in the evening. The gentlemen whom Mr. Reid had invited to meet Mr. Blaine were Gen. James S. Clarkson, Cornelius N. Bliss, Chairman Carter, of the Republican National Committee, and Secretary McComas.

To a press representative Mr. Reid stated this morning that the visit of Mr. Blaine, and his meeting with the directors of the Republican campaign, had no political significance. It was a purely social affair, and not a gathering for the holding of an important conference as to the progress of the campaign.

Mr. Reid also said that Mr. Blaine was not induced to come on in order to give the managers of the campaign an opportunity to make a personal and united appeal to him to deliver one or more campaign speeches.

"I have been expecting Mr. Blaine to visit me for some time," said Mr. Reid, "and he has not been able to come until now. He is on his way to his Washington residence, and while I would be most happy to have him with me for some time, I am not certain that he will remain longer than the end of this week.

"Mrs. Blaine expects to arrive in New York on Monday, and will go to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Damrosch, for a visit. Mr. Blaine may go there also for a time, and he may then go on to Washington, and he may return here. His plans are not yet settled.

"Now, about Mr. Blaine's health, he has been unwell all summer and is now improving rapidly. The way in which he stood the trip from Bar Harbor speaks volumes. He is looking and feeling very well after his twenty-four hours in the cars. He positively declines to see newspaper men and to talk politics."

It is the general opinion here, in spite of what Mr. Reid says that a strong effort will be made to induce Mr. Blaine to appear at least once at Madison Square Garden, and deliver one of his magnetic speeches in behalf of the Republican ticket. The absence of Mr. Harrison from the campaign made necessary by the illness of his wife, has, it is said, led the members of the National Republican Committee to decide that some strong climax is needed to arouse enthusiasm in the ranks and call out a full vote on election day.

Whether the arguments of General Clarkson, Joseph Manley, Cornelius N. Bliss and Mr. Reid, all of whom are strong personal friends of the ex-Secretary of State, will induce him to run the risk attendant upon entering a political campaign in his present physical condition is uncertain. The matter is evidently being seriously considered, and the visit of James G. Blaine to Whitelaw Reid may have a marked effect upon the campaign.

CALLED COLUMBUS A LIAR.

Judge Tourgee's Attack on the Discoverer at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 14.—"Columbus was a liar" said Albion W. Tourgee in a lecture before 3,000 people assembled in the Auditorium to celebrate the discovery of America. Nor was this the most surprising sentence in the invective Tourgee delivered against the navigator.

"Every act of his life was one of egotism," he said, "and intended to satisfy his greed of gain and fame.

"Everything he sailed on was wrong, and he discovered America because he was lost and could not do otherwise.

"His every act was one of selfishness, and he stole the credit of first seeing land from his faithful sailor, who was on watch.

"He kept two logs, in order to deceive his crew. He was lavishing promises he never expected to keep. His prayers always concerned himself.

"His parents were thriftless, and are known to history only through the evidences of indebtedness they left. He was probably a Mediterranean pirate in his early days, and not a single act of his life up to the time he was 50 years old was worthy of recording."

These are only samples of Mr. Tourgee's conclusions concerning Columbus. The people who heard him were non-plussed.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE APPORTIONMENT VALID.

Decision of the New York Court of Appeals in the Three Contests.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 14.—The immediate result of the decision of the Court of Appeals which upholds the Apportionment act of 1892, will be the redistricting of the counties of Oneida, Dutchess and Monroe, whose Boards of Supervisors refused to obey the law. In the remaining fifty-seven counties the redistricting has already been done.

The court is unanimous upon all the questions involved except those discussed in Judge Andrews' opinion.

The cases and decisions are as follows:

The people ex rel Bond, as appellant, vs. the Supervisors of Monroe county. The court is asked to issue a writ of mandamus compelling the Board of Supervisors of Monroe county to redistrict the Assembly districts in that county in compliance with the Apportionment law passed by the last Legislature.

Orders reversed, and motions for a mandamus granted with all costs.

Second case—The people ex rel Horn, appellant, vs. the Board of Supervisors of Oneida county, the same proceedings as in the Monroe case.

Orders reversed, and motions for a mandamus granted with costs in all courts.

Third case—The people ex rel George C. Carter, of Utica, appellant, vs. Frank Rice, Secretary of State. It asks the court to grant an injunction order restraining the Secretary of State from recognizing the new Apportionment law, or sending out notices of election of members of Assembly to County Clerks under that law.

Order affirmed, with costs in all courts.

The opinions are written by Judges Peckham and Gray. Earl, O'Brien and Maynard concur, and Andrews dissents on one question, in which Finch concurs.

Judge Peckham writes the principal opinion in the three cases. It covers forty-six pages of type written copy. He says in it, after reciting the character of the three cases:

All the proceedings have for their object the decision of the question as to the validity of the apportionment act of 1892.

The boards of supervisors, counties of Monroe and Oneida, are the only boards of the only counties in the State which have refused to make a division of their counties into Assembly districts for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the Act of 1892.

This apportionment Act of 1892, it is alleged, violates the provisions of the constitution in several particulars and the court is called upon to decide the questions involved at the earliest practicable moment in order that the supervisors and the election officers may be guided in the discharge of their duties by the opinion of this court.

We have given all the consideration possible to these cases since the argument thereof, and while the questions are in themselves most important and far reaching, yet we are compelled by the necessities of the case to decide them at the earliest moment. We, however, feel more competent to do this because, however important the question may be, we think the proper and correct answers are quite plain and clear.

DETECTIVE M'HENRY'S STORY.

Says He Was Only Trying to Pump the "Globe" Reporter.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 14.—Private Detective McHenry, the author of the story published in the Boston "Globe," regarding the Borden case, is now endeavoring to show to the Fall River authorities that he was working in their behalf and that his intention was to trick the "Globe" reporter."

He alleges that he felt that the reporter was playing a part, and that he was trying to find out just what the reporter was up to, and for whom he was working, intimating that the evidence in the case which the newspaper man was to buy was to be communicated to the defence in the Borden case.

McHenry says:

"My only object in leading the reporter off on a wild goose chase was to see if the surmise held by me and others was correct and, in order that the paper he represented might not be led into error, I explicitly cautioned him not to publish anything without giving me twenty-four hours notice.

"Having obtained all that I wanted from him, it was my desire to tell him, when he gave me the notice that I required, that he had better not publish the story, as it was not true.

"Instead of notifying me, as he promised, he rushed the story into print, and the result is that the paper he represented was foolishly caught by a plan which was intended solely to find out just where the reporter stood, and how far he was aiding the Government or the defence in his detective work."

McHenry denies having received any money from the "Globe" man.

JUDGE HUTCHINSON'S CASE.

Charged With Gross Misconduct—His Whereabouts a Mystery.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—The alleged gross misconduct of ex-Judge Eben Hutchinson, of Chelsea, has been called to the attention of the Superior Court in a formal way by the Boston Bar Association.

The Judge's whereabouts is a mystery, and the condition of things makes it probable that he has left the State forever. He is charged by the association with deceit, malpractice and misconduct, and the charges are laid before the Superior Court.

The Judge will have about three weeks longer to determine whether or not he will deny the charges and go to a hearing of them. The committee of the Bar Association which heard the charges found that each charge was sustained by the evidence.

If the Judge makes no appearance the case will be heard by the Superior Court before an order for disbarment is entered.

NEW YORK'S EXHIBITION OVER.

A Brilliant Banquet Winds Up the Columbian Festivities.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—As if to justify Sydney Smith's witticism that every event, even an earthquake, must be celebrated by the Anglo-Saxon race by a banquet, even if they hunt a place amid the ruins in which to dine, New York's celebration of the discovery of America was closed by a banquet last night.

The auditorium of the Lenox Lyceum, Fifty-ninth street and Madison avenue, where the feast was held, is an ideal banquet hall. Well proportioned and lofty, its natural advantages were enhanced by decorations and wonderfully artistic electric lighting to a point of exceeding beauty. The balconies were hung with hand-embroidered designs of the ancient armor of Italy and Spain on a background of crimson plush, interspersed with United States shields and the colors of Italy and Spain.

Among those who were present were nearly all the most notable persons in the Government of the United States, the Army and Navy, members of the foreign legations at Washington, Judges of the United States Supreme Court and of the higher State courts, Governors of several States of the Union, members of the City Government, the Board of Education, prominent members of the Chamber of Commerce, New York Stock Exchange, together with representative men from all professions.

The boxes and seats were all occupied, and there were about 800 spectators in addition to the banqueters. The tables were decorated with flowers and smilax, and the walls were hung with flags, banners and silk curtains.

At the head table were seated Vice-President Morton, Postmaster-General Wanamaker, the Hon. William Sulzer, Congressman A. J. Cummings, Secretary Tracy, Gen. Horace Porter, Secretary Foster, Governor Flower, Mayor Grant, ex-President Cleveland, the Hon. J. H. V. Arnold, and Commissioner Wahle.

Others who were present were Senator Hill, General Schofield, General Ruggles, General Howard, Governor Bulkeley of Connecticut, Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania, Governor Abbett of New Jersey, Rutherford B. Hayes and Governor Russell of Massachusetts.

There was one empty chair at the table of honor. Chauncey Depew, who was to have acted as toastmaster, was absent. Mayor Grant supplied his place as best he could. Mr. Depew's unexplained absence deprived the after dinner oratory of much of its sparkle.

At the close of the dinner at 10 p. m., Mayor Grant arose to propose the toasts. The drinking of the toasts was figuratively only. The Mayor, after thanking all of the organizations who had contributed to make the Columbian Celebration a success, briefly proposed: "The President of the United States," to which both Vice-President Morton and Secretary of State Foster responded.

President Arnold of the Board of Aldermen, responded to the toast "The City of New York." Mr. G. F. Wahle, jr., made a lengthy response to the Columbus toast "America and its Discoverer."

Gov. Flower responded for the State of New York.

Gen. Horace Porter, in proposing the toast, "American Patriotism," made one of his characteristic speeches.

The "New York Legislature" was responded to by Assemblyman Sulzer.

Congressman Amos J. Cummings responded to the "Congress of the United States" in the absence of W. Bourke Cockran.

Ex-Senator Warner Miller spoke of the Nicaragua Canal project as a further development of the great discovery of Columbus.

Neither of the ex-Presidents of the United States took any oratorial part in the proceedings, which, though pleasant enough, were somewhat tame and protracted.

TROOPS LEAVE HOMESTEAD.

Their Service There Cost Pennsylvania $600,000.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 14.—Camp Black was struck yesterday, and after 95 days' service the Sixteenth Regiment marched out of Homestead with flying colors to the sound of music and followed by the cheers of some non-unionists.

About 1,000 strikers watched the troops depart, but observed strict silence. Homestead is now free from troops. The cost to the State of maintaining the troops at Homestead has been $600,000.

Chairman Frick visited the mill yesterday. Nine new men were given employment by Supt. Potter.

Incendiaries Unearthed at Brockport.

BROCKPORT, N. Y., Oct. 14.—For sometime past incendiary fires have been frequent, causing a loss estimated at over $20,000. Yesterday officers arrested the following men, all residents of this vicinity, who confess the crime: Frank Griffin, Harvey Almy, Clarence Stoit, Henry Votz, Frank Russ, and George Gates. Most of them are married men and state that they started the fires simply for the purpose of seeing them burn.

Telegrapher Cox Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Frank P. Cox, the well known telegrapher, died at his residence in this city yesterday of consumption. He was at one time manager of the Bankers' & Merchants' Telegraph company at Washington, but for the past three years had been employed at the Executive Mansion.

SIX MINERS ENTOMBED

Fatal Explosion at the Stirling Run Colliery.

ONE KILLED, FOUR SERIOUSLY HURT

Eight Were Imprisoned—Two Rescued More Dead Than Alive—The Others Believed to be Doomed Because of the Presence of "Black Damp."

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 14.—By an explosion of gas in the Stirling Run colliery one and a half miles from here yesterday, one miner was killed, four seriously injured and eight imprisoned.

Two of the latter were rescued at 10 o'clock last night.

The colliery is operated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company.

Patrick McDevitt and Charles Balcavage, who were rescued, are in a critical condition. The others are believed to be doomed because of the presence of great quantities of "black damp."

The dead and injured are:

DEAD.

Thomas O'Hara.

INJURED.

Daniel Reed, driver; skull fractured, burned and cut; will probably die.

Samuel Rogers, loader; cut and bruised.

Horace Price, door boy; fearfully cut and mangled.

Wm. Mack, driver; mangled and cut.

Samuel Collins, Joseph Ketchie, Joseph Milnestock, Isaac Donney, Michael Wetchock and Benjamin Thomas.

Yesterday was pay day, and a large number of the men were out of the mine when the accident occurred.

The colliery is one of the largest in the Shamokin district, and is owned and operated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company.

Searchers are at work trying to rescue the entombed men.

THE JOHNSONS AVENGED.

Swift Punishment Overtakes the Murderers of Father and Daughter.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 14.—A special from Camden, Ala., says: Moses Johnson, aged 17; James Packer, aged 19; Dave Martin, aged 18, and Will Lewis, aged 19, all negroes, who were arrested for the murder of Richard H. Johnson and daughter, in Monroe county, last Friday night, confessed, and yesterday a posse of citizens started with them to the scene of the crime. Last night, hearing of their coming, a mob of excited people, white and black, collected, met the posse in the woods and overpowered them.

The report says the murderers were shot and their bodies burned by the mob. They were tied to trees, blindfolded and riddled with bullets. In their confession the murderers said the crime was committed for the purpose of robbery and rape.

Johnson, the victim, was called to the gate and his head split open with an axe. His daughter was then outraged and murdered. Both bodies were cremated in the house. The intense excitement that followed resulted in the lynching.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Saturday—For New Jersey, Fair; Slightly Warmer; South-westerly Winds.

EXTRA!

DUNN THE NOMINEE.

ELIZABETH'S CANDIDATE WINS IN THE RACE FOR CONGRESSIONAL HONORS.

ELIZABETH, Oct. 14.—A few minutes before 5 this afternoon John T. Dunn received the nomination of the Democratic convention for congressman, on the second ballot.

The first ballot was well divided.

The second ballot gave Dunn just enough votes to nominate, 61 in number.

Martine's vote was 24

CREDITABLE OPPOSITION.

Judge Werts's Attitude on the Liquor Subject, Said to Have Provoked the Saloon Men's Antagonism.

The liquor men, it is said, threaten to lead a rebellion against Judge Werts for Governor. It was he who amended the High License Local Option law of 1887 into its present shape, and the liquor law of the State as it exists to-day is known by his name. It is not satisfactory to the saloon men as it stands. For years—two or three years, at any rate—they have been making efforts to secure a modification of one of its most odious provisions by demanding a repeal of the clause which sets the Sunday saloon down as a disorderly house. The fraternity, who largely indulge in the sale of liquor on Sunday, consider the classification of their saloons as disorderly houses as a reproach upon the character of their business. And they have been quite earnest in their movement to eliminate the words from the statute. For each of the last three winters they have had committees waiting on the Legislature to enforce compliance with that demand, and the man who has met them with a denial at the very threshold of each session has been George T. Werts. The antagonism which his attitude on this subject has provoked against him among them has been somewhat intensified by his recent charge at the opening of the September term of the Hudson county courts, directing the grand jury to pursue the Sunday violators and indict them.

If this element is going to work actively for his defeat the more outspoken their opposition the better it will be for him. New Jersey is essentially a law and order State, and even those who do not believe in Sunday restrictions are yet possessed of the idea that as long as a law is upon the statute books it should be honestly enforced. The public opposition of the saloon men or of any other element that does not exactly commend itself to the public conscience is apt to crystallize the better sentiment of the State for him, and if the friends of Judge Werts can make all the voters acquainted with the fact that the liquor men are leagued against him he is more likely to be helped than hurt by their demonstrations.

Wedding Bells at Dunellen.

A very pretty wedding occurred Wednesday evening at the residence of Moses D. Brown, Dunellen, when his daughter, Laura A., was united in marriage to Jas. T. Armstrong of Brooklyn. The Rev. W. C. Kinsey of the M. E. church officiated. About sixty guests from Brooklyn, New York city, Lambertville, WhiteHouse, Plainfield, Dunellen, Elizabeth and Westfield were assembled to witness the ceremony, which was performed at 6:45, at which time, to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march, played by William Milliken, the bridal company appeared and marched slowly into the parlor in the following order: maids of honor, two little misses, Nellie Brown and Pauline Denton; Miss Mary Brown, bridesmaid; and Wm. Hutchinson, of Brooklyn, groomsman; and after them the bridal couple. The bride was attired in a neat and becoming costume of new blue velvidere cord, with diamond brooch, and earrings. The bridesmaid wore a tasteful costume of China silk and British lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bride's bouquet was of beautiful white roses. The rooms were tastefully decorated with cosmos, mountain fleece and marigolds. The presents were numerous and beautiful. The dining room of the new home was furnished by the family of the bride, while a check of $50 was received from the bridegroom's mother, together with a long list of pieces of silverware, crockery, lamps, and other goods.

Republicans Have a Meeting.

Colonel James A. Fairman, of New York, was the principal speaker before a gathering of Republicans in the Crescent rink last night. The Hon. John Ulrich called the meeting to order, and introduced James B. Anthony, of Netherwood, as the presiding officer. The list of other officers is as follows:

Vice Presidents—Dr. J. B. Probasco, James T. Closson, Robert A. Meeker, J. F. MacDonald, William G. E. See, Augustus D. Holmes, Townsend S. Hunn, Leander N. Lovell, Peter N. Kline, B. Frank Coriell, William H. Lyon, jr., George H. Babcock, Charles J. Fisk, H. Otis Newman, Tunis J. Carey, Charles B. Clifton, John C. Manning, Edward B. Ryder, Abraham Angleman.

Secretaries—William V. Stout, Daniel F. Ginna, F. W. Runyon, J. N. Robinson, William Kline.

An open-air band concert and Republican wheelmen's parade preceded the meeting.

The "Stag" at the Casino.

A "smoker will be given at the Casino by the Hillside Tennis club Saturday evening, Oct. 22.

An evening of rare enjoyment is promised, as the club has procured well-known artists from the professional stage to amuse its friends. The entertainment will be quite a novel one for Plainfield, and no doubt will be largely attended by all those gentlemen who love an evening of mirth, music and wit. Tickets may be procured at Reynolds's and at the Central pharmacy.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Frank Meeker, of the "Lion Tamer" show, visited his parents in this city, Wednesday.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Howard Wilson will take place from 144 Grove street this evening at 7.

Sidney W. Dean left yesterday for his home in Cincinnati, after spending several days with his cousin, Arthur Dean, of Madison avenue.

Henry Bock, an employe of C. M. Ulrich, is dangerously ill with hemorrhage of the lungs. He was married only a week ago last Sunday.

Chief engineer T. O. Doane was the guest of Phoenix Engine Company, No. 1, at Poughkeepsie, Wednesday, and was delighted with the fine reception the boys gave him.

David H. Mulford, formerly of Crescent avenue, this city, died this morning at Vineland, Cumberland county. The funeral will take place at 2 p. m., with burial here on Tuesday.

At the Seventh-day Baptist church, tomorrow morning, Dr. Lewis will discuss "The discovery of America, as related to the history and development of Protestant and Roman Catholic Christians".

C. E. Boss, principal of the North Plainfield public school, is a member of the committee on statistics to arrange the New Jersey State school exhibit for the Columbian exposition at Chicago.

The Rev. Father Cushing, of Jersey City, who is taking Father Stafford's place as assistant rector of St. Mary's church in this city, has already secured the popularity and high esteem of his people. He is a zealous worker, and a most devout and efficient clergyman, and is very companionable to the young men of the parish.

The announcement of the appearance on Monday evening next of Miss Celie Ellis and the merry comedy of "Dr. Bill" at Music Hall should be sufficient to crowd the house, for a brighter and more laughable comedy has never been seen here. In addition to having an excellent play there will be the added attraction of Miss Ellis, who is so well known here. She will be seen in the leading role. The company is one of importance and all can safely rely on an excellent performance.

THE GIRL WAS HIS COUSIN.

Shameful Abuse of Hospitality, by a Rascally Young Man.

John Cahill has appealed the case decided against him by a jury yesterday, and the fair complainant, Kate Sheridan, will have to tell her unfortunate story to a higher court. Kate is a cousin of Cahill, and her mother gave John a home at the time of his father's death. The young man, it is alleged, took advantage of the hospitality by securing the affections of the girl and leading her astray. She now wants him to support their child. Judge Codington was to fix the amount Cahill was to pay each week, but Cahill seems not satisfied with one conviction, but will make a bitter fight to secure a reversal of judgment. Craig A. Marsh is the girl's counsel, for the city, and Wm. A. Coddington is Cahill's lawyer.

Scotch Plains Delegates.

The Scotch Plains Republicans at their primary last night elected delegates as follows:

To Congressional convention—Hon. George Kyte, Dr. F. W. Westcott.
To County convention—H. Hand, L. W. Miller, M. Briggs, Geo. Ball.
To Assembly convention—John Robison, E. L. Hand, C. K. Moore, Joseph Clark, jr.

It Didn't Pay.

Miss Culture—Mr. Lardy, do you ever write for the magazines now?

Lardy—No.

Miss Culture—Why?

Lardy—Well, I sold them a story for five dollars eight years ago and then spent thirty-three dollars and sixty cents buying the magazine every month before it came out.—Judge.

Kind and Considerate.

"My wife is a kind and considerate woman."

"I am glad to hear it."

"She never calls me a fool, as some wives call their husbands."

"No?"

"No, she never goes further than to say: 'John, I believe you're half a fool.'"—N. Y. Press.

Fooled the Dentist.

Mother—Mercy me! The dentist has pulled the wrong tooth.

Little Dick (gleefully)—I fooled him bully.

"Fooled him?"

"Yes'm. I told him that was the one I knew if he touched th' achin' one it ud hurt awful."—Good News.

A Question of Economy.

Catkin—What did you marry her for if you intended to apply for a divorce so soon?

Barlow—She threatened to sue me for $25,000 damages for breach of promise, and I knew I could get a divorce a good deal cheaper than that.—Truth.

Trouble Coming.

Citizen—What's up?

Policeman—Oi'm knockin' fur help, an' ringin' fur an ambulance.

Citizen—What's the matter?

Policeman—Oi just saw two Oytalians smilin' at th' same woman.—N. Y.

PROGRESS IN CHINA.

The Wheels Move Slowly in the Dragon's Empire.

His Majesty the Emperor of China and the "Son of Heaven" is enjoying a train of miniature railroad cars, presented to him by the French syndicate of capitalists who wish to get contracts for building railways.

In China, they will wonder at its steam engine; and the six thousand electric lights, which are now being introduced into the holiest of Chinese sanctuaries, cannot but turn their eyes to our civilization. It will not be long ere a material advancement will be made in the science of medicine, which has for so many centuries remained a blot upon their civilization.

The missionaries are doing much to dispel the mysticism and reverent awe which the Chinaman holds for the concoctions of snakes, toads, lizards, etc., prepared by the native doctors. They recommend standard remedies which have long been favorably known in America and Europe, such as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a remedy for all cases of blood-taints or humors, which has had years of uninterrupted success in the United States, and numbers its cures by the tens of thousands. This is a point gained for the future welfare of the Dragonese Empire.

RECIPROCITY AND OUR SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

Written for the "Engineering and Mining Journal" by Charles Bullman, M. E., of Plainfield.

Has reciprocity benefited our trade relations with the South American Republics?

If this question be asked of an exponent of one political party, the answer will be that the total value of our trade with the countries with which we have reciprocity treaties, during the period for which these treaties have been in force, is $267,795,422, as compared with $190,379,678 for the corresponding preceding period, an increase of $77,415,744.

No sooner have we received this answer than we hear from the opposite party that the increase in trade has been most largely due to our greatly increased imports of coffee and sugar, and that the balance of trade against us has increased, for the periods named, from $121,986,980 to $183,138,066. The same person will state that with Porto Rico and British West Indies and British Guiana our trade has fallen off nearly one million dollars.

Both of these replies are true and yet neither gives the whole truth. Figures given in gross tell nothing; in fact, they most generally are misleading.

The chief benefits of reciprocity are to be measured by our exports, and especially by the exports of materials directly affected by it.

Our imports from Brazil and Cuba have increased $67,671,170 since the reciprocity treaties became law, but it can hardly be claimed that this is the result of reciprocity. The McKinley Bill removed the duties from sugar and hides, and their greater cheapness has simply given them an extended use in this country, just as would any reduction of duties and other charges lessen the cost and increase the consumption. Our imports of sugar, coffee and hides from Venezuela have increased also, yet we have no commercial treaty with that country. Increased cheapness extends use and causes an increased demand.

Brazil, with which we have had a commercial treaty since March 31, 1891, now admits cereals and various food products, agricultural tools, mining machinery, tools, and railway construction material free of duty, whereas before the treaty went into effect these various articles paid duties ranging from 5 to 48 per cent., and these articles still pay such duties when imported into Brazil from countries other than the United States. Certain other articles, such as lard, canned meats, cotton manufactures, iron and steel manufactures, not otherwise provided for, lumber and wood manufactures, are now admitted into Brazil with a reduction of duty of 25 per cent.

Our total exports to Brazil for the 15 months ending June 30 were valued at $18,044,452, as compared with $16,279,969 for the preceding period of like duration. Our exports of flour increased $1,745,459; steam railroad cars, $439,675; iron and steel manufactures, $1,544,959, the most important item of which was an increase of $1,028,989 in the value of steam engines; and lumber and wood manufactures $155,933; all of which articles are directly affected by the new tariff arrangement.

On the other hand we find that our exports of wheat have fallen off to the extent of $779,897; our exports of lard, $1,450,947, both of which articles are favorably affected by the reciprocity treaty. If this great decrease can not be satisfactorily explained it would seem to show that reciprocity had but little effect upon our trade, or that if it acted favorably in one case, it was unfavorable in another. But upon investigation we find that in 1891 the Argentine Republic had a very large output of wheat, and that owing to its proximity to Brazil it was enabled to sell its wheat there at a less price than the United States could do it, notwithstanding a different tariff in our favor of 5 per cent. As regards lard we find that our exports to Brazil during 1890 and 1891 were largely in excess of those of previous years on account of the failure of the corn crop of those years.

The writer saw a similar case in the Republic of Colombia, where owing to a failure in the corn crop of one province, the country not only suffered for the lack of corn, but also for pork and lard, into which the inhabitants were accustomed to transform their surplus of corn.

In the face of these figures it would be idle to deny that reciprocity has benefited our trade with that country, and the same line of investigation pursued with regard to other countries with which we have partial free trade will show a like condition of affairs, and the benefit appears to be greater in proportion, as reciprocity covers more articles of commerce. This is shown by an increase of exportations to such countries of $8,132,329 during the time such treaties have been in force over a like preceding period.

The fact remains, however, that while our exports have increased $8,132,329, our imports have increased $77,415,744. This different rate of increase is however susceptible of simple explanation. Before the McKinley bill was signed, its main provisions were known throughout the extent of our country, consequently the moment the duty was removed from sugar and coffee, the demands upon the countries producing them increased by leaps and bounds.

On the other hand, South American countries have but limited means of inland communication, and it is no exaggeration to say that there are thousands there who do not yet know of reciprocity; who do not know that certain classes of goods can now be obtained cheaper from the United States than from other countries, and in consequence of this ignorance, such persons continue to buy their goods in the dearest markets.

Again, South American merchants have for years traded with European merchants. Finally many South American merchants know nothing of our goods other than flour and kerosene. If our merchants wish to secure this trade they must diligently pursue the proper means to make their goods known. Reciprocity has extended our field of operations, but unless it be carefully cultivated, it will benefit us but little. In endeavoring to get this trade, it is of prime importance to know its needs and desires, and the local conditions which govern the demand. English, German and French merchants have for years studied these factors. If to-day they do a large business it is because they know the requirements of the different Republics, and are careful to comply with them; they have made known their merchandise by advertisement and by sending their agents to South America; they have studied the tastes of the people, and give them what they want, at the same time educating them to better things; they have established banking facilities and are willing to give long lines of credit; in short they have conformed to the local conditions governing trade in the South American Republics.

It is safe to say that reciprocity alone, or the mere fact that a mutually advantageous commercial treaty exists between some of those nations and ourselves, will not be sufficient to wrest from European countries the trade that they have for so many years enjoyed. Our merchants must pursue the tactics practiced by our rivals; they must advertise in papers and journals having a circulation in those countries; they must send their agents out to become acquainted with the merchants with whom they wish to trade, and to study the conditions under which trade is conducted. They must establish banks and be willing to give long lines of credit.

When they have found out what South America wants, they must send that and not something else will do as well. Do n't send flour in sacks, do n't send heavy pieces of machinery when it is possible to divide the weight, do n't send shoddy or job-lot goods of any kind, such as paper soled shoes to a wet country, and above all when the customer has been somewhat tardy in making payment, do n't believe he is trying to cheat, and do n't write a very sharp letter. The chances are that he is perfectly honest and will pay as soon as he gets the money from his customers in the far interior.

The Trolley Not an Instance to the Deadly Horse Car.

[New Brunswick Home News.]

The people who are known to hold up their hands in holy horror over the alleged frequency of accidents where electric trolley cars are used, might find much food for explication in an article published in the New York Recorder a few days ago. In the way of statistics the statement is made that in New York city there are four deaths and 300 minor accidents on the various horse car lines. But of these only a small proportion is reported to the public, either because of their insignificance or the desire of the railway people to suppress the facts.

Teachers Have to Go to School.

The Dunellen schools will be closed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, as the teachers are all summoned to an institute at Asbury Park. Middlesex and Monmouth counties hold a joint institute under the direction of superintendents H. Brewster Willis and Samuel Lockwood. Principal Roberts of Dunellen was directed by the county superintendent to furnish a paper on "Advanced Reading in Public Schools". This paper is on the programme for 10:40 a. m., of Tuesday. There will be over 500 teachers present at this institute, and they must attend from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m., as there will be three sessions each day. The average expense to each teacher for board and car fares will be about $10.

Where to Get a Stylish Cut Suit

"All Ready to Put On."

Every well-dressed man likes to wear a correct cut, perfect-fitting suit, and many have their clothing made to order, as they are not satisfied with the shape of ready-made garments. Watson & Co., at Newark, have this season marked out their new fall patterns in regular custom style, and you can now walk into their suit department and be fitted with garments that cannot be told from the best ordered work. All the leading custom styles like the new standard mixed cassimeres, or the popular blue, black or brown Velour cheviots, cut both in D. B. or S. B. style, they furnish at $12 and $15 respectively, and one entire department is filled with the new fancy dress worsted suits like you see in merchant tailors' windows cut in the latest Albert cutaway style, at $18 for any pattern you may select, while in their Broad or Market street windows you can see samples of the grandest pantaloon stock in Newark, in which line Watson & Co., have no rival.—The Newark Item.

THE CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT.

A Democratic Paper Says that Martine Alone Can Be Elected.

[New York World.]

James E. Martine, Plainfield's candidate for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the Eighth District, claims to have been sold out by the Elizabeth bosses, who had promised to attend to his canvass if he would take the stump for Cleveland. Martine fulfilled his part of the agreement, but a canvass of the delegates shows that John T. Dunn will get the nomination. Martine's friends are indignant at the treatment he has received, and efforts will be made, it is said, to secure the influence of Senator McPherson and James Smith, jr., to turn the Dunn delegates to Martine. It is claimed that Martine alone can be elected.

Miss Ellis as Mrs. Horton.

One of the finest of comedies is that of "Dr. Bill", which has now been touring this country for four years. It is one huge laugh from start to finish, and is clean and neat. It will be presented here Monday evening next. An excellent company will be seen. Miss Celie Ellis, who has been a summer guest at Hotel Netherwood and who has a large number of admirers here, will be seen in the leading role.

An Hour in a Signal Tower.

A casual traveler, gazing with curiosity at a signal tower in the yards of some busy trunk line, does so with but slight conception of the enormous amount of mental and manual labor necessary for the proper manipulation of the levers controlling the network of tracks and switches. Through the kindness of station master VanLiew, of the Jersey City station of the Jersey Central, a reporter learned the number of trains entering and leaving there daily, and the necessary switching for their proper handling. There are daily, 153 trains west and 152 trains east, and each west bound train must be switched into the shed and the switching engine sent back again, the engine of each train must also be switched before its train, and the train itself sent out from the station, thus making four combinations of switches for every west bound train sent out from the station. Each east bound, or incoming train must be let into the station, the switch engine then sent in after it, and let out again with the train, and the engine, which had pulled it, be then let out on its way to the round house, making four combinations also necessary for each eastern train. As there are 305 trains daily this necessitates 1,220 combinations in all each day, each combination requiring several movements of the levers. When all this is crowded into one working day it can readily be seen that a position in a signal tower is by no means a sinecure, and that the operators need no other exercise.

MRS. DEACON MUST BE TRIED.

The Judges Hold There Was No Intention of Abandonment.

GRASSE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. Deacon and her maids left for Paris last evening. Mr. Deacon will remain in Cannes the rest of the week to confer with his lawyers and arrange for the trial at Aix.

On Monday he will leave for Folkstone, where two of the children are staying with a relative. He purposes to remove his eldest daughter, now in a convent in Paris, and the baby, now with Mrs. Deacon, from France, before the case comes to trial.

When the case was called yesterday counsel for Mrs. Deacon interposed a plea to dismiss the suit on the ground that in a certain letter Deacon had implied an intention of abandonment.

The judges retired to consider this point, and at 11:10 p. m. returned and announced their decision that the wife had no grounds upon which to stop the proceedings, as her interpretation of the letter was not justified.

The court having decided that it had jurisdiction in the case, took a recess until 3 p. m.

Mrs. Deacon was not in court, but was represented by M. Barboux, her lawyer, accompanied by a stenographer.

When M. Barboux was called by Presiding Justice Tardi, he at once burst into a bombastic tirade against Mr. Deacon. He accused the latter of being a persistent drunkard, violent when in his cups, and frequently abusive of his wife. He said that Mr. Deacon when drunk had struck Mrs. Deacon frequently and had subjected her repeatedly to the most degrading language.

Deacon, moreover, he said, was crazy drunk when he shot M. Abeille in the Hotel Splendide in Cannes.

M. Barboux then launched into a turgid invocation of the speech of the prosecutor in the trial of Mr. Deacon as lacking the elementary instinct of manhood, and accused him of accepting from Mrs. Deacon the money for his food, clothes and carousals.

Barboux's speech was weak, pointless and planned merely to prejudice the court against Mr. Deacon without touching upon the merits of the charge against his wife.

During it Mr. Deacon sat pale and apparently indifferent beside his counsel, M. Frank Pilatte, of Nice.

As M. Pilatte rose to speak, Mr. Deacon shifted his position, leaned his head on his hand, and assumed an attitude of attention.

M. Pilatte opened his address with the statement that Mr. Deacon was prepared to prove conclusively the many adulteries of his wife. Mr. Deacon had come into court to clear his honor and to restore beyond all appeal his children to proper care in order that they might no longer be subject to the baneful influence of an adulterous mother.

M. Barboux asked that the case be carried to Aix, near Marseilles. M. Pilatte, for Mr. Deacon, said that he would have no objection if Mrs. Deacon would pay costs. The court then decided that Mrs. Deacon should pay costs and that the power of appeal be granted. The trial will probably take place about the middle of November.

The request for a dismissal on the ground of abandonment undoubtedly was the surprise which it was rumored before the opening, the defence had in store for Mr. Deacon.

The decision of the Grasse Court on this point has delighted Mr. Deacon, as he was not prepared for any rulings in his favor.

SNOW BLOCKADE IN THE WEST.

A Terrible Storm in Colorado and Utah—Trains Stalled for Two Days —Perishing of Many Horses and Cattle.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 14.—The Republican received a despatch from Cheyenne at 1 o'clock this morning which says that for nearly two days the severest storm ever known on the Union Pacific railroad has been raging there and as far west as Ogden, Utah. In all directions telegraphic communication was cut off until last night, when this despatch was sent through on a temporary wire.

All railroads have been blockaded, the cuts being filled with snow which in some places was piled up eighteen feet. Rotary snow-ploughs have been hard at work between Granite and Laramie, the snow being five feet deep on the level at the latter place. A half-dozen westbound trains were tied up here all yesterday, but left after the return of the snow-plough last night. To-day three coach-loads of people pulled in from the West in three sections, with more to follow. The Cheyenne Northern is entirely blockaded, telegraphic communications being cut off, no one knows where the belated trains on it are. Two days have elapsed since the road was snowed in.

At Granite Canyon, Roberts, a conductor on a train, yesterday was blown off the platform of a car and hurled down a fifteen-foot embankment, the deep snow saving his life.

Reports are being received of immense loss of cattle and horses in northern Colorado and in Wyoming. Thousands of dollars' worth of these animals are known to have perished, and it is estimated that almost a third of the cattle and horses on the ranges have been destroyed by the storm. An unknown dead man was found by the side of the railroad track near Greeley, Col., yesterday. He had perished from the effects of the storm.

THIEVES LOCKED IN A CAR.

Attempt at Robbery on the Pennsylvania Road—One Man Arrested.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 14.—At an early hour this morning a telegram was received here stating that thieves had boarded freight train No. 402 somewhere on the Amboy Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad on its way from Jersey City to Camden, and that they had been locked up in a car containing valuables. The telegram requested that officers here arrest the men. There were six thieves, five of whom forced the car and escaped between this city and Newtown, a few miles from here. One of the men was caught on another car, who gives his name as Stephen Hahn, of New York. Justice Hudson held him to await the action of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

ARE PARENTS BLIND?

Ella Wheeler Wilcox Writes About Girls and Boarding Schools.

Dangers Menace Maidens—Mothers Should Be Very Careful About Their Daughters' Early Years—The Country Girl in the City School.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

HEN asked to give my opinion of boarding schools I found it difficult to formulate.

The girl who has a wise, broad-minded, sympathetic mother had better remain away from boarding school.

The girl who has not this influence may be greatly benefited by a boarding school. There are more good schools than mothers in the land, I fear.

I had but three months' personal experience with boarding school. The only knowledge which I gained during those three months was the consciousness of the inadequateness of my mathematical ability and my wardrobe to cope with my associates. The mathematical deficiency could have been remedied, perhaps, by a return to the school. The matter of wardrobe seemed without solution.

I do not think a more unwise action can be made by parents than sending a young girl from the country to a city school. Yet it is done every year by thousands of devoted parents, who make painful sacrifices to enable them to carry out this cherished desire.

The young girl who goes through the first year of such a school and is not rendered restless, uneasy and unfitted for the practical duties of life which usually lie before country bred girls, is a model of good sense or a born philosopher.

The very sights and sounds of city life are distracting and exciting to the girl who is not accustomed to them; the crunching of carriage wheels on a gravel driveway, the fashionably attired women, the gossip in the air about balls and theaters, which the day scholars bring, is not at all conducive to good scholarship.

If a boarding school is to be selected, as necessity frequently demands that it must be, let it be as remote as possible from fashionable life. I wish we might have Protestant schools conducted in the manner of convent schools. Some of the most charming girls I have known, and some of the best educated, have been taught in convents. There is greater surveillance over the pupils, and greater system and more thoroughness than is to be found in most boarding schools. And yet a convent educated lady to whom I once made this remark assured me that she learned more mischief in the convent than she had ever in the world. "The girls were either very stupid or very bad," she said, "and the bad girls delighted in bringing pernicious books into the convent secretly and distributing them about. These books were hidden under mattresses and rugs, and the good, watchful-eyed sisters never discovered them. The very piety of these sisters was a dare to the vicious-minded girls to do shocking things."

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

One young girl entered the convent when a mere child. She graduated at eighteen, and was married three months afterward, but eloped with a stranger whom she met upon her bridal tour during the honeymoon. The pernicious books which had been smuggled into the convent were the cause of her disordered mind and final disastrous conduct.

We are all familiar with the sad case of the boarding school bride who died of morphine poisoning last year.

It strikes me that too many of our boarding-school mistresses take it for granted that their pupils must be "perfect ladies" because they belong to families of wealth and standing.

The trouble with our boarding schools is frequently in the extreme unworldliness of the instructors. Had I a daughter I would rather place her under the care of a veteran coquette, who knew human nature and the world thoroughly, than to trust her to some woman whose brain had been educated to the exclusion of eyes, heart and understanding of her kind.

FOOLISH PARENTS.

Many of the excellent women who preside over our boarding schools are as ignorant of human nature as babes. They never cared for anything in life so much as books, and they do not realize the dangers which menace the average normal natured girl. Teachers are the next most stupid beings to parents in this respect.

As for these parents, I grow every year and day more amazed and indignant with their stupidity and blind ignorance regarding their daughters. I sometimes think the parents of young girls of this generation must have been either idiots or angels in their own youth. They could have had no emotions and no temptations themselves, or they would never allow their daughters to walk such perilous paths, as scores of them do walk, unwarned and uninstructed.

A few years ago I knew parents who were preparing to send a beautiful young girl of fifteen away to school.

The girl was prematurely developed in heart and body, and of the voluptuous type so attractive to men. I asked her mother if she felt perfectly secure regarding the associates of her daughter at school.

"Oh, Mary is such an innocent-minded creature I can trust her anywhere," the mother replied, proudly. "She is really the most innocent child I ever saw for a girl of her age. I think she will develop very late. I want to keep her a little girl as long as possible, so I have not disturbed her mind with any premature confidences."

Now, to my absolute knowledge, gained by accident, I knew this young girl to be a woman in her emotions; and already had she passed through embryo adventures with the opposite sex which had aroused her curiosity as to what constituted her charm over men and stirred her woman's vanity. The innocence of her mind was disturbed by her unfolding emotions and her Eve-like desire for greater knowledge. Never did a young girl so need a mother's sympathy and counsel as this one. I often wonder why God permits a woman like that to become a mother. To send such a girl away to boarding-school was dangerous no doubt, yet hardly as dangerous as leaving her under the care of such a blind and stupid mother.

ANOTHER INNOCENT.

I know a brilliant lawyer who was a wild boy in his youth. He was forever in trouble of some kind with the fair sex and finally married a girl who ran away from school to become his wife. They are the parents of several children, the eldest a handsome, dark-eyed girl who inherits her father's love of adventure. She is only fifteen, but has already passed through a series of love affairs, known to all her friends and commented upon by strangers, but the criminally blind parents are ignorant of all this. No one dares tell them that almost daily on her way to and from the village school their daughter sees and talks to and receives notes from young men, and, utterly forgetting their own hazardous past, both father and mother imagine their daughter to be an innocent child in mind.

It might prove to be the moral salvation of this girl to send her away to a good boarding school if the right woman presided over it. She is not vicious—she is full of animal spirits and precocious feminine instincts.

Hundreds of young American girls are like her, and hundreds of stupid American parents fail to see the necessity and duty of guarding over such girls.

THE RIGHT WAY.

A girl like this ought to be treated very gently and with affection. She ought to be wisely taught and entertained. She should pass many hours in active physical exercise. The gymnasium is far better for such a girl than the boarding school. She should have no idle hours, no confidences with strange companions, no hidden books to read until she has crossed the dangerous chasm which spans girlhood and womanhood.

I have known a girl who was a mere child in mind to be forced into premature maturity by association with older and more experienced girls at boarding school. Where a number of young girls are thrown together constantly for companionship their conversation runs largely to love affairs. This young girl, who had never passed through any heart experiences, hearing so much upon the subject from her companions felt called upon to contribute her share to the entertainment. To the amazement of her parents and teachers she developed a faculty for relating tales of love adventure wherein she figured as heroine. Investigation proved the stories utterly without foundation. It was one of the abnormal developments of boarding school life.

I do not think elopements from boarding schools are so frequent as elopements from homes. I again assert that good and wise teachers, few as they are, are more plenty than good and wise parents.

I wish we could have a training school for parents—a school where the physical and moral nature of the young girl and boy should be discussed, and where the imperative duty of watching over this physical and moral nature should be impressed upon the mind of every woman and man before they were allowed to procure a marriage certificate. This would be a far better thing for the world at large than the boarding school.

The lack of such training for parents causes more harm and mischief to go on under their eyes than is possible in the average well ordered boarding school.

So stupid are parents in regard to their own children that those whom I most desire to reach by this article will read it without a suspicion that it can apply to them; while many a young girl of whom I never heard will feel her cheeks tingle and will wonder how I knew her secret.

Growing More Liberal

That's what the human race is doing—particularly the American part of it.

There are a few left who are satisfied with ancient history. But most people are ready to apply modern progress and common-sense to the treatment of the human stomach—an organ that demands its rights whether or no; that resents the insults of worn-out methods. All this is to emphasize the facts about

COTTOLENE

There was once a prejudice against Cottonseed oil. But people who are alive, who investigate, who have no bigotry in their composition, have found that pure, refined cottonseed oil combined with selected beef suet is a better article in every conceivable way than hog's lard. And so they wisely use it for cooking—and are correspondingly healthy and happy. The sales of COTTOLENE are enormous and constantly increasing; a proof that it is appreciated by appreciative persons.

BLAINE TALKS AT OPHIR

Makes a Short Speech to Mr. Reid's Neighbors.

NOT LIKELY TO SPEAK AGAIN.

His Discourse Devoted Chiefly to the Tariff—An Appeal to Irish Voters—Minister Egan and Dr. Depew Speak—A Distinguished Company Present.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 15.—From the porch of the Vice-Presidential candidate's home at Ophir Farm at 9 o'clock last night James G. Blaine delivered his long looked for speech on the issues of the present campaign. He spoke before an audience composed of nearly 1,000 of the voters of Westchester county, and in response to a serenade by a number of uniformed Republicans of the district.

It had long been a matter of earnest solicitation on the part of Mr. Blaine's friends and the Republican leaders that he should give utterance to his opinions on the issues of the campaign, but it looked all along exceedingly doubtful whether even the importunities of his friends could bring the statesman again before the public.

Mr. Blaine decided to make his brief and only speech of this campaign yesterday afternoon.

By the time dinner was over last evening distinguished visitors from all parts of the surrounding country began to pour into the corridors of Ophir Farm Mansion.

Among the clubs in attendance were the Colored Harrison and Reid Campaign Club of White Plains, the Whitelaw Reid Republican Club of Portchester, and the Harrison and Reid Republican Club of Rye.

There was great cheering when Mr. Reid and Mr. Blaine appeared. Mr. Blaine said in part:

"FELLOW CITIZENS OF NEW YORK—I should be churlish, indeed, if I did not make response to your call after you have come several miles to this beautiful home of Mr. Reid on a pleasant October evening. At the same time I am not making speeches in the canvass, for reasons which are well known to my friends, and which have no connection whatever with politics. Generally, administrations in a Presidential election are challenged on account of the condition of the business of the country, and I submit that the Republican Administration of President Harrison can triumphantly endure such a test.

"I doubt if, since the Government of the United States was instituted, anybody, at any time, has seen what we call "good times" so general, taking in so many interests and spreading prosperity throughout the whole domain of trade. I might appeal to New York if the city has ever passed a season more satisfactory in financial results than for the past two years, in which the general effect on Capital and Labor has been more prosperous.

"More men in New York get their living from pursuits protected by the tariff than from any other source. I know New York is the centre of our commerce, the great entrepot of our trade; but all the men engaged in commercial affairs in and about New York are smaller in numbers than the men engaged in manufactures.

"Nor, if you go West, where the Democrats this year are making considerable effort and doing a vast amount of boasting, will you find it different. Take Ohio, take Michigan, take Indiana, take Illinois, and the products of manufactories are greater in pecuniary amount than the products of agriculture in these four great agricultural States; so I think that when it happens to Democratic orators who are on the wing trying to arouse the hostility of these States against the protective tariff they will encounter a sentiment of which they have not dreamed.

"The amount of their farm mortgages rolls up into the millions. You would suppose it fabulous that the amount of money they embrace would ever have been so invested. This is not so among the farmers of New York. It is not so among the farmers of New Jersey. It is not so among the farmers of Connecticut. It is not so among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is not so among the farmers of any State near by whose condition can be easily learned, but by a singular fatality it is the Western States that have got all these farm mortgages burdening them and taking the life out of the people.

"The tariff, so the Democratic papers say, is the origin of a plutocratic government. When wealth shall rule and poor men shall not get their rights, I shall venture to challenge all statements of that kind, and I shall make the Democratic accusers the judges in the case.

"A careful examination of the list of wealthy men in the country has been published and has demonstrated the fact to be quite the reverse, to such an extent, indeed, that in the City of New York, taking the first one hundred and fifty great fortunes, not three, not two, not more than one would be considered as derived from manufacturing investments.

"I have a word to say about the Irish vote. I see it stated that the Democrats boast of having the mass of them in their ranks this year. It is one of the mysteries of politics that a question which interests England so supremely, which is canvassed almost as much in London as it is in New York, should have the Irish vote on the side of great Britain.

"I know this appeal has frequently been made to the Irish voters, but I make it with emphasis now, for I am unwilling to believe that with light and knowledge before them they will deliberately be on the side of their former oppressors."

After Mr. Blaine had finished his speech there were loud cries for Minister Egan, who made a speech that was loudly cheered.

The people present had not enough of speeches, and Dr. Depew was called upon. He made a witty address that was greeted with laughter and applause.

THE WORST STORM IN YEARS.

All Colorado Railroads Snowbound—Great Damage Reported.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 15.—Reports continue to arrive from various points in this State of numerous railroad and other accidents caused by the great snow storm.

All the railroads have been blocked by the snow, the cuts being filled in some cases to the depth of eighteen feet.

Rotary snow ploughs are hard at work on many of the roads.

At Loraine the snow is five feet deep on the level.

A number of west-bound trains are tied up here, waiting for the tracks west to be cleared.

A special from Cheyenne says that for nearly two days the worst storm ever known on the Union Pacific Railroad has been raging there and as far west as Ogden, Utah.

At Central City Ratiso Ebilie, an Austrian miner, blinded by the snow and wind, walked into a five-foot shaft and was instantly killed.

The Cheyenne Northern Railroad has been entirely blocked by snow for two days.

Telegraphic communication is cut off, and no one knows where the belated trains on the line now are.

At Granite Canyon Thursday night Conductor Roberts was blown off the platform of a car and hurled down a steep embankment into the deep snow. He fell fifteen feet but the snow saved his life.

In Northern Colorado and in Wyoming it is reported that the storm has caused a large loss of horses and cattle.

On some of the ranches it is estimated that fully one-third of the stock has perished.

WILL STAND NO TRIFLING.

Citizens of Coffeyville and Parsons, Kan., Ready for the Dalton Avengers.

PARSONS, Kan., Oct. 15.—This city was greatly excited over a telegram from Coffeyville saying that a large posse of men, believed to be the same gang that held up the Missouri Pacific train and supposed to be connected with the notorious Dalton gang of outlaws who met their death the 5th, had organized and were moving upon Coffeyville with the avowed purpose of avenging the death of the Daltons.

Since the Dalton massacre many persons have been in Coffeyville, and have openly condemned the manner in which this notorious gang met its death, and several sympathizers have been arrested and confined in jail.

As soon as the news of the contemplated invasion of Coffeyville was made public in this city a large posse of men was at once armed and was ready to embark on a special train for Coffeyville when the news reached this city that there was no likelihood of any trouble and that in case of any invasion the people of Coffeyville were prepared to cope with the invaders.

The town of Coffeyville has been a pandemonium of excitement, yet no braver set of men ever shouldered a gun than the gallant and fearless citizens of this Kansas town.

FRATERNAL COMPANY ASSIGNS.

The Universal Order of Security Reported in Trouble.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The downfall of fraternal orders continues. The latest is the assignment of the Universal Order of Security to Charles H. Edmunds.

The scheme of the order was similar to that of Iron Hall and Tonti, it having the seven year plan, but being more conservative in that the assessments were $5 instead of $2.50, the assessment fee of Iron Hall.

The order was incorporated in Philadelphia June 17, 1888, in Common Pleas Court No. 1, and had a membership of 4,000 one-fourth of which is in the local lodges of Philadelphia.

It is claimed that the assets consist of mortgages on Philadelphia real estate which can be converted into the full amount of the loan. No certificates of the order have yet matured and would not do so for three years to come. The only payments which have been made are those of sick benefits.

The cause of the assignment is to escape proceedings which Attorney-General Hensel, it is said, contemplates instituting against all such concerns.

SAYS HE WAS MURDERED.

A Woman's Story of a Supposed Suicide at Kingston.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The dead body of William Laurence was found near Harrrowers three years ago. At the time it was supposed to have been a case of suicide, and a coroner's jury rendered a verdict accordingly.

The woman with whom he was living at the time of his death, and who was supposed to be his wife, has made affidavit that Laurence was murdered by a man named Byron O. Chase, a former resident of Broadalban.

The woman is at present employed in a knitting mill at Broadalban. Chase is now serving a term in the Albany penitentiary.

It is thought that the men had engaged in a quarrel over the woman, during which Chase shot Laurence.

The statement, which recalls a death almost forgotten, has caused quite a sensation.

Faribault Scheme Not to be Considered.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—Mgr. Satolli, of Rome, who will represent the Pope at the Chicago Exposition exercises next Friday, denies that he has any commission or intention to inquire into the controversy on the school question, which has recently occupied the attention of the Catholics of the United States. That question, he says, has been entirely and definitely settled by the letters of the Holy Father and the Propaganda.

MAHER-GODDARD FIGHT.

The Men Will Battle Under the Auspices of the C. I. A. C. Dec. 8.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Coney Island Athletic Club has succeeded in signing Joe Goddard and Peter Maher for a fight to a finish with four ounce gloves, Marquis of Queensberry rules, the fight to take place December 8 next, under the auspices of the club at the club house on Coney Island.

It was announced last night that Goddard's manager had accepted an offer from the El Dorado Company to meet Maher on Thanksgiving Day, but this was positively denied by Secretary Eckhardt of the Coney Island Athletic Club.

He informed a reporter to-day that on the contrary his club had arranged a match with the men.

The fight will be for a purse of $7,500.

Three matches are now billed by the Coney Island Club all of which promise to be well contested affairs.

The first of note will be the fight between Choynski and Godfrey on the 31st. On this occasion there will be a preliminary contest between Kid Hogan, of Brooklyn, and Dolly Lyons, of New York, of ten rounds for a purse of $1,000.

The next contest on the programme will be a finish fight with four ounce gloves between Alex Greggians and Martin Costello, of Buffalo, on November 28.

A BOLD SWINDLE.

Samuel Green, of Wells, Me., Charged With Pension Fraud.

DOVER, N. H., Oct. 15.—Samuel W. Green, of Wells, Me., is in jail here charged with one of the worst cases of pension fraud ever perpetrated.

Samuel Green, of Wells, Me., enlisted in Company K, Fourteenth Maine regiment, November 22, 1861, being forty years old, and was discharged March 27, 1862, at Augusta, by reason of the loss of three toes on each foot before he was enlisted.

He never applied for a pension and was run over and killed by cars at Damariscotta, Me., while intoxicated, eight years ago.

He had a son, Samuel W., who filed a claim for a pension July 24, 1890, at Saco, Me., under the name of Samuel Green, alleging that he enlisted December 17, 1861, in Company K, Fourteenth Regiment, Maine volunteers, and was discharged by taking cold at Augusta, and that he had heart trouble and had been disabled half the time since.

The claim was granted, giving $12 a month from the date of application.

The Pension Department found that there were some discrepancies between Green's statement and the record, and referred it to Charles Fairbanks, Special Pension Examiner of New Hampshire, with the above result.

A NOVEL EXPEDITION.

Story Writers to Travel Three Years for Literature.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—Arrangements are being made for the sailing of an expedition from this port or New York for the discovery of literary material. It is said that it will be unlike any other expedition in fact or fiction unless it be that of the famous "Voyage of the Sunbeam." The expedition will start early next year.

The proposed expedition is the idea of a syndicate of short story writers engaged on all the leading papers in the United States, as well as novel authors and literary men in general. The members of the expedition are Julian Hawthorne, Dr. R. N. Keely, jr., Paul B. Du Chaillu, Richard A. F. Penrose, jr., and Mr. Rich, a Boston newspaper man of this city.

The expedition will set sail first for the West Indies. Then they will travel the South American coast, Japan, India, the Malay Islands and other places in search of literary material. The voyage will probably last three years.

CHINAMEN SMUGGLERS CAUGHT.

Seizure of a Canadian Barge With Chinese in the Hold—Remarkable Case.

ROUSE'S POINT, N. Y., Oct. 15.—One of the most remarkable seizures ever heard of in the province of Quebec took place yesterday when E. C. Van Kirk, special customs inspector at this place, took charge of the Canadian barge A. Gravel, Capt. Amos Hamel, from Sorel, bound to Albany, N. Y., in the hold of which were discovered fully a dozen Chinamen, all of whom, with the captain of the barge, were taken into custody.

The suspicions of the customs officers seem to have been aroused a few weeks ago when F. H. Twohey, Deputy Collector in charge of the Bonaventure Depot, observed a great number of Chinamen boarding railroad cars bound for St. John's, St. Hilaire and different points on or near the Richelieu river.

He at once notified Inspector Van Kirk, and the two officers went to work with the result just described.

It is said that three Canadians were in the deal and that they were to have received $50 a head for every Celestial they landed in the United States.

CALLED ON TO EXPLAIN

Carnegies Tell Why Government Work is Delayed.

SECRETARY TRACY IS SATISFIED.

The President Decides Not to Go to Chicago—Secretary Halford Makes a Statement Regarding the Morse-Gougar Controversy—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The steel manufacturers who hold contracts with the Navy Department for supplying steel for the construction and armor of new naval vessels, have been called upon by the Department for an explanation of the delays which have occurred in the delivery of the material.

At the instance of Secretary Tracy, Lieutenant Stone, U. S. N., and Mr. Hunsicker, representing the Carnegie Steel company, called at the Department yesterday to talk over the situation. Mr. Frick was expected to be here, but was detained at Homestead by reason of the removal of the State troops and will call upon Secretary Tracy at a later date.

After the conference Secretary Tracy said that it resulted satisfactorily to himself. According to the statements made to him, the Carnegie company was in better condition than he thought it was. He had received assurances that the work would be pushed, and that hereafter the contract requirements would be met.

To a reporter the Carnegie representatives said that while the armor plate and other Government steel work was behind-hand, if strict regard was had to the terms of the contract, the company had really met all reasonable expectations. Not a single armor plate factory in the world, they said, was to-day fully up with its contract obligations, and this statement did not except the famous French creuses forges and mills.

SECRETARY HALFORD'S ANSWER.

Tells What He Knows of the Morse-Gougar Controversy.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Private Secretary Halford was shown the despatch from Attleboro, Mass., in reference to the controversy between Representative Morse and Mrs. Gougar, in which his (Halford's) name is used.

He said that a cursory reading of the telegram would indicate that his name had been used by Mr. Morse as authority for the statement that $1,500 had been paid to the Prohibitionist speaker by the Democrats.

He said his connection with the matter related only to the assertion that Mrs. Gougar had supported the Democratic ticket in Indiana. Representative Morse had asked him if such was the case, and he had referred the inquiry to the Secretary of the Republican Central Committee of Indiana.

That gentleman had responded that the statement was correct, and his reply had been forwarded by him (Halford) to Mr. Morse. The $1,500 story, Mr. Halford said, he believed referred to an incident in Massachusetts politics, and, of course, he knew nothing about it.

WILL NOT GO TO CHICAGO.

The President Can Take No Part in the Dedicatory Exercises.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The President will not go to Chicago. Private Secretary Halford has so informed Adlai T. Ewing and John Addison, of Chicago, who are here to arrange for the trip of the notables to the celebration.

It is a great disappointment to the President to be compelled to decline the invitation. Since its inception the World's Fair has had no firmer friend than he, and it had for a long time been his sincere hope to be able to take a prominent part in the dedicatory ceremonies.

But his wife is first in his mind, and, her condition being too critical to risk leaving her long enough to go to Chicago, he has decided to remain at home. Vice-President Morton will therefore represent him, not only in the social duties, but the official, as well.

The Solar Eclipse of the 20th Inst.

As seen at Washington, the eclipse will begin at 11 h. 57 m., 12 s., a. m., and will end at 2 h. 57 m., 42 s., p. m.

Mrs. Harrison Much Weaker.

Her sleep is longer and more heavy, and on each awakening she is completely exhausted. The doctor said, however, that no particular change could be noted in her condition.

WAS TIRED OF LIFE.

A Buffalo Man Made Good a Threat to Kill Himself.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—Martin Staoell of 18 Monroe street is dying at the Fitch hospital from a bullet wound in the head.

Staoell got tired of life, kissed his daughter Tillie and said he was going to kill himself.

She had heard him make the threat before and paid no attention, for her father had been drinking. He went into his bedroom, placed a revolver to his temple and pulled the trigger. The doctors think he will not live.

Staoell was a farmer until recently, when he came to Buffalo to better his condition and was unsuccessful.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

They expect by the most liberal inducements to greatly increase their business, and to make their store the "Macy's" of Plainfield.

DUNN GETS IT.

THE LEADERS REFUSE TO HONOR THE MAN WHO MADE THEM.

A Crime of Injustice Committed Against James E. Martine at Elizabeth Yesterday.

If there was ever accomplished in political history an injustice—an act so unfair as to be almost a crime—it was accomplished at the Democratic convention in Elizabeth, yesterday, to nominate a candidate for congress for the new Eighth district. The convention was held in Library Hall and proved the liveliest that ever took place in Union county. At one time the police had to interfere to prevent a general row precipitated by the John T. Dunn delegates in their efforts to prevent organization. By their orders, councilman Frazee of this city, a member of the county executive committee, but opposed to Dunn, was thrown from the stage.

The nomination belonged by right of service, the promises of the leaders and the pledges made at past conventions, to James E. Martine of Plainfield. For years and years he had left his plow standing in his fields, and his crops withering where they stood unharvested, to go into the primaries and out upon the stump and the rostrum, to nominate or to save from defeat the men who yesterday effected his betrayal and snatched from his hands the only honor he has asked, the only ambition of his life.

Those men must have hid their heads in shame later in the day, when, after the delegates refused to make the nomination of Dunn unanimous—an unprecedented action—Martine, the betrayed, mounted the platform and begged everybody within reach of his voice, as a personal favor, to vote for Dunn. The convention was in session six hours.

There was also a struggle for the permanent chairmanship between Dr. Silvers of Rahway and Judge Wadsworth of Plainfield, the vote being: Silvers, 64; Wadsworth, 57. The candidates for the congressional nomination were John T. Dunn of Elizabeth, James E. Martine of Plainfield, Alex. Maybaum of Orange, and Gustave Pollak of Summit.

Sixty-one votes were necessary for a choice. There were three ballots—the first being an informal one—as follows:

Dunn, 44; Maybaum, 31; Martine, 22; Pollak, 4.

Dunn, 57; Maybaum, 35; Martine, 23; Pollak, 4.

Dunn, 59; Maybaum, 32; Martine, 22.

When the Summit delegates were called on the roll for this ballot, they asked to be excused. Then when the tally showed that Dunn had 59, two of the Summit men—at the solicitation of ex-assemblyman Lane—changed from Pollak to Dunn and the contest was settled.

MISHAP AT NETHERWOOD.

Mrs. Ohl and Companion Flung from Her Carriage Through the Carelessness of Road-Menders.

An unavoidable accident occurred near the residence of Mr. Talmadge on the Short Hills near Netherwood, last evening, owing, it is alleged, to the gross carelessness of those in charge of repairing the roads, as they had left a large wagon-load of crushed stone heaped up on the road-bed, and had it not been for Mrs. Cruikshank being a superior driver the city might have a heavy bill of damages to settle. As she was returning to her home and driving a spirited team, at a lively pace just after dark, there was another carriage approaching from the opposite direction. As it sheered off to the right to permit passing, the right wheel ran on to the heap of stone, which, being of the same color as the road-bed, was not visible to Mrs. Percy Ohl, who was driving in a village cart. In an instant the cart was turned completely over, and Mrs. Ohl and companion were thrown directly in front of Mrs. Cruikshank's team. There was but a moment to act in to prevent the team and carriage from crushing the unfortunate ones lying prostrate on the road.

Mrs. Cruikshank was equal to the occasion, and cleverly and suddenly drew her team about sufficiently to pass. She thought help was needed, and immediately called for assistance, which was very promptly responded to by several. Mrs. Ohl and her friend were, however, found to have no serious injuries, though badly bruised and their garments badly torn. Her horse ran away, but was soon stopped, the carriage being dragged on the hub. Mrs. Ohl was accompanied by Andrew Bache, an old Plainfielder, who, after an absence of 17 years, was enjoying the ride, and but a minute before had spoken of the great improvement in the condition of our streets.

An Authority Writes of the Starr Piano.

Arthur Wittich, a well-known musical professor of Reading, Pa., writes of the famous Starr piano sold by F. M. Hulett as follows:

"I consider it a very fine instrument in every respect, being an elegant piece of workmanship, possessing good quality of tone, very even, and well balanced throughout.

"I inquired of Walter Benton, our principal piano tuner, whether he had come across the Starr piano. He told me that he had two instruments of that make under his care; that he was surprised at the excellent workmanship of the same, and good qualities in general. I myself can heartily recommend them."

More Musical Treats for Plainfield.

Walter A. Hudson, an accomplished gentleman and a perfect master of the art of vocal and instrumental music and instruction, is in town arranging for classes. He also represents Harry Rowe Shelley, the famous composer and teacher, who is one of the faculty in the Metropolitan College of Music. He may be consulted at Hulett's music store by those interested in joining classes in harmony, piano or organ, or who wish to receive private instruction under Mr. Shelley. Mr. Hudson will be pleased to talk with all who would like to see Plainfielders have such opportunities for rare good instruction.

MIDDLESEX CLUB BEATEN.

Dunellen Wins a Well-Contested Trophy Contest on the Bowling Green.

The members of the Middlesex and Dunellen Bowling Green clubs disported themselves Thursday afternoon on the grounds of Christian Schepflin, that thorough gentleman and prince of entertainers, at Dunellen.

The match was for the Adams cup, and it was well contested. In the absence of some of the Middlesex club members, the Dunellen club permitted its president, Mr. Schepflin, to join the opposing team.

The Dunellen team triumphed and made a total score of 78 to the 55 points of Middlesex. James Stevens, of Dunellen, did the best playing of the day. The scores were as follows:

MIDDLESEX CLUB.

Rink 1—F. H. Richter, Peter W. Fick, C. Schepflin, skip, 25.
Rink 2—Joseph Fisher, C. S. Hoffman, H. B. Willis, skip, 24.
Rink 3—F. P. Haffner, W. E. Lindstedt, J. B. Betts, skip, 16. Total, 55.

DUNELLEN CLUB.

Rink 2—Jas. Smyth, Wm. Elliott, Thos. Stone, skip, 25.
Rink 3—H. B. McKnight, John Young, Jas. Stevens, skip, 34. Total, 78.

Referees, Andrew McKnight and J. Blish.

At the close of the game Mayor Haines, of Newark, who was an interested spectator, presented the cup to the Dunellen club, and president Schepflin accepted the trophy in a neat speech.

The individual prizes competed for during the summer by members of the Dunellen club were presented to the victors. Thomas Stone capturing the gold medal presented by Mr. Schepflin, and C. Schepflin taking the silver trophy, presented by James Smyth.

The meeting was a thoroughly enjoyable one, and broke up to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne". The Middlesex club has adopted resolutions of regret on the death recently of John W. Handren, who was the first president of the club.

Bowling for Prizes.

The Westfield Athletic club has had beautiful weather and a successful fair. There has been a steadily increasing crowd, and last night the building was packed. Money came in right and left. The prize drawings were opened, and votes for the most popular lady and the most popular club were in order. Special prizes found plenty of buyers, but the greatest attraction was the bowling hall, where the fight was on for the club prizes. Some fine records were made, and at the close of the evening the positions were as follows: W. E. Flemming of the Elizabeth Athletics stood first for first prize, and W. Foster of Westfield was second. A. E. Alpers of Westfield was first for second prize. H. Cox of Cranford and Mr. Shove of Westfield were tied for third prize, and C. CHORAL CONCERTS.

Programmes of Lighter Character to be Given This Season.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—It may interest many of your readers to learn that during the coming season the Choral society proposes to vary its programmes somewhat by producing some works of a lighter character, and not to confine its efforts and study to oratorios exclusively. The last half only of the programme for the first concert will be devoted to Mendelssohn's "Athalie" with its dramatic music and impressive readings. If possible Chas. Roberts, jr., will be engaged as the reader.

The second concert will be of a popular and miscellaneous character, and the series will terminate with the "Creation" which when rendered two years ago met with such unanimous approval.

Curious Tombstone Inscription.

J. E. Townsend, of 30 Somerset street, has just completed a white statuary marble tablet to be set at Hillside over the remains of Persis M. Smith, wife of J. M. C. Smith. The inscription is an odd one, as follows:

Persis M. Smith,
wife of J. M. C. Smith, died May, 1892,
aged 72 years.

She being born after her father passed his seventieth year, he being a soldier in the Revolutionary War.

Proclamation by the Governor.

Whereas, by a joint resolution approved June 29, 1892, it was resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled:

"That the President of the United States be authorized and directed to issue a proclamation recommending to the people the observance in all their localities of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America on October 21, 1892, by public demonstration and by suitable exercises in their schools and other places of assembly;"

And whereas, the President of the United States in pursuance of said authority, did on the 21st of July, 1892, issue this proclamation;

And whereas, the Executive Committee of the National Columbian Public School Celebration has urged the issuing of proclamations by the Governors of the several States, recommending the people to observe said day for the purposes set forth in said joint resolution of Congress;

Now therefore, I, Leon Abbett, Governor of the State of New Jersey, in order to carry out the purposes of said resolution, do hereby recommend that October 21, 1892, be observed by the people of this State as a general holiday and day of Thanksgiving; that our citizens cease from toil and devote themselves on that day as far as possible to such exercises in their schools and other places of assembly as will properly celebrate the day and carry out the purposes of said resolution.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be hereunto affixed, at Trenton, this twentieth day of August, eighteen hundred and ninety-two.

(L. S.)

LEON ABBETT.

By the Governor,
HENRY C. KELSEY, Secretary of State.

PITIFUL TRAGEDY.

LITTLE JIMMIE WELCH INSTANTLY KILLED BY THE CARS.

Another Sad Warning to Those Who Play on the Tracks—The Father's Heartrending Grief.

The little nine-year-old son of J. S. Welch was instantly killed on the Jersey Central railroad tracks near Grant avenue this afternoon.

A ponderous P. and R. "wildcat" locomotive, No. 222, unattached, was thundering over the rails to escape the 2:16 fast express then due on the same track.

The little Welch boy and several playmates were frolicking about on the tracks. Young Welch got in the path of the flying locomotive in such a manner as to be struck sidewise by the steam-chest.

The crew on the locomotive did not know that they had struck anyone.

Dr. Hedges was near, and he and others sought to revive the unconscious lad, who lay senseless where the engine had thrown him. Their efforts were unavailing; death must have been instantaneous.

The bereaved father, who works at Pond's, learned of the sad accident, and was heartbroken. He gathered up the lifeless form, strained it to his breast, and poured out his grief in sobs and moans. It was a most affecting spectacle.

The county physician has been summoned to view the remains, which will then be removed to the parents' home at 28 Lee place, and prepared for burial.

Young Welch's first name was James. It is said he had been jumping coal trains.

DEMOCRACY'S DAY.

To the Members of the Democratic Society of New Jersey and Democratic Citizens Generally.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the executive committee of the State society at a meeting held on Friday the 7th inst., it was ordered that a general request be sent out to the members of the Democratic organizations of the State and Democratic citizens generally, that Wednesday, October 26, be designated and recognized as "Democracy's Day", upon which occasion, at such hour best suiting the several localities, public meetings be held in every ward and township where it may be possible to have them.

Have Democratic principles enunciated in unmistakable terms either by addresses from local or visiting speakers or by the reading of Grover Cleveland's letter accepting the nomination as a candidate for the Presidency, Judge George T. Werts's address accepting the nomination as a candidate for governor, the State and National Democratic platforms, the letter of Hon. Carl Schurtz, or that of Hon. Wayne MacVeigh. We earnestly recommend that the letters of the two first named be read without fail, and as much of the others as time will permit.

Had you no prominent speakers to address you, a more instructive and edifying programme could not possibly be arranged than the reading of the above mentioned valuable public papers.

Do n't fail to have a meeting for the want of visiting speakers. Select your best readers to carry out our suggestions. You will then have done a good work which will bring forth rich fruit in November.

Extend a cordial invitation to not only your Democratic friends, but your political enemies as well, for among the latter we are likely to find many who can be persuaded to change their present proclivities. It is for Democrats to but present the true conditions of National affairs to carry weight with their arguments.

Do n't hesitate to urge your cause, for in this campaign we are on the popular side of the controversy. Preach Democratic doctrine where and whenever you can from now till the closing of the polls on November 8. Everything is promising for a grand victory on that day for both our State and National ticket.

As Hon. David B. Hill said in his famous Brooklyn speech: "It is our duty to organize! organize! organize!"

It will be the earnest effort of the Democratic society, aided by our State executive committee, to supply as many speakers for the 26th as it is possible to do; but do n't fail having the proposed meeting even if you fail in having speakers sent you. Find them in your midst. They are there, and many good ones, too.

Keep these headquarters, as well as the State executive committee, informed of your progress in arranging for "Democrack's Day".

Respectfully yours,
ROBERT ADRAIN,
President.
W. B. WILSON,
Chairman of Executive Committee.
W. S. MCKEAN,
Secretary.

Vilifying Its Own Leaders.

John M. Crane of this city was highly insulted by the local Republican organ, the Courier last night, when it stated that he was ejected bodily from the Democratic convention. Mr. Crane indignantly brands the assertion as utterly false. He is a stanch Republican, and was n't anywhere near the convention.

Rare Plant in Plainfield.

T. S. Thorn of the corner of New and Orchard streets has a plant which he claims cannot be duplicated in Plainfield. He calls it the "brugmasia", and says it is a most rare botanical growth. In April it was a sprout of only 6 inches. Now it is a shrub nearly 3 feet tall. It branches like a tree, and blooms perpetually. The last week in August it had 6 blossoms, now it has 42. It is a curious and handsome plant.

Bill Nye on Columbus.

Bill Nye says that when Christopher Columbus attained importance in his profession people who wanted anything discovered would always bring it to him rather than take it elsewhere. They knew it would be all discovered, just as thoroughly and reliably as defects of sight are discovered and remedied at Collier's, 3 Park avenue.

THE PASTOR'S FAREWELL EDITION.

Newsy Paragraphs from Dr. Mitchell's Last Issue of "The Visitor".

Miss Clara Burt has a professorship in Mr. Moody's school at Northfield, Mass.

Lemuel Cole, of Duer street, is recovering from a long and painful illness.

Miss Maxie Hurlbut has entered the Wilbraham Academy and will take a regular college course.

Mrs. Geo. R. Cornwell is slowly improving from an illness which has kept her confined to the house for a number of weeks.

That is a most beautiful and useful gift G. Q. Packer presented to Monroe Avenue chapel. It is a solid mahogany pulpit table.

Chas. E. Scudder has entered Wesleyan University. He will study for the ministry, and his friends have great hopes for his future success.

Just think of it! Over seventy enrolled in the primary department of Monroe Avenue chapel. Miss Emily Haff is grandly succeeding.

Mrs. Angleman, wife of the Rev. Geo. Angleman, of the Kansas Conference, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Corey, West Front street.

Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Jenkins have been taking an extended trip through the South. The rest was much needed by the doctor, who has a very large practice in our city.

During the summer James Carson was married to a very estimable young lady of Long Branch. They are keeping house in their own new home on Belmont avenue.

The pastor will preach his last sermon on the evening of the last Sabbath in October. At this time some statements will be made in regard to the growth and condition of the church.

Mrs. W. H. Larrabee is slowly regaining her health after a long and dangerous illness. She is now recuperating at Ocean Grove, and Dr. Larrabee is on a visit to Mt. Mitchell in the South.

Mrs. K. G. Emerson, and daughter, Miss Susie, have moved to New York city and united with the Sixty-first Street M. E. church. Their many friends in Plainfield regret their departure.

The pastor and wife will leave next Monday evening, October 17, for Pittsburgh to attend the wedding of Mrs. Mitchell's youngest sister. They will return to Plainfield the following Saturday morning.

Have you seen the new carpet that covers the entire floor in the Park Place chapel? It is beautiful. It represents the toil and sacrifice of the Chapel Ladies' Aid society, and the good taste of Mrs. W. H. Griffen and Dr. Carroll, who selected it. It harmonizes beautifully with all the interior decorations.

The pastor and wife will part with great regret from all of their Plainfield friends, but it will be especially hard to leave the little folks whom they have learned to love in the Junior League work. The pastor knows and calls by name over one thousand boys and girls in this city under fifteen years of age.

CROWDED OUT.

Interesting Items Held Over for Lack of Room.

Dr. Mitchell's Methodist church paper, The Visitor, is so brimming over with good things this month that its columns cannot contain them all. Here are some of the items crowded out:

J. S. Lunger takes an important class for boys in the Park Place chapel.

Chas. E. Horne has been enlarging and greatly improving his Willow avenue home, and will soon move into it.

The entire church should be engaged in earnest prayer that God may send to us just the pastor needed for the hour.

Curtains in the gallery to match the carpets are now greatly needed in Park Place chapel. They will soon be forthcoming.

Miss Etta Raybert has developed into a most accomplished elocutionist. She greatly pleased her friends at a social in Park Place chapel recently.

Ruth Evangeline, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Safford, was baptized at the family residence, 48 East Fifth street, Wednesday evening, Oct. 12.

The pastor stands ready to congratulate whoever may be chosen to succeed him in this church. He will have a devoted people to serve, a large field in which to work, and a lovely home in which to live.

The Epworth League had a very pleasant social Friday evening, Oct. 7, in Vincent chapel. It was the opening meeting for the autumn. President Joy is planning for some excellent things during the coming fall and winter.

Mrs. Geo. C. Mahon's many Plainfield friends will be glad to know that she is in very comfortable health at Asbury Park. That place has proved very beneficial to her health. For that reason the family have remained there so long.

Death of an Old Plainfielder.

News has just been received in Plainfield of the death of Lewis Randolph, formerly of Plainfield and uncle of Martha Runyon, of 126 West Front street. The death occurred at his late residence, near Delhi, Ill., Saturday, October 8, at 9:20 p. m., at the age of 83 years, eight months and twenty-five days.

Deceased was the son of Peter and Harriet F. Randolph, and was born in Somerset county, near this city.

Funeral services took place Monday, October 10, at 10:30 a. m., the Rev. S. F. Holt officiating.

Mr. Randolph, with his wife was one of the pioneer settlers in Jersey county, Ill., and made a fortune at Western farming.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B. F. Liepaner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me."—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

CHAMBERLAIN AGAINST DUNN.

Republicans Select Their Candidate for Congressman.

ELIZABETH, Oct. 15.—The Republican convention here to-day nominated W. S. Chamberlain of Bayonne to run against John T. Dunn in the Eighth Congressional district.

Foster M. Voorhees declined the nomination, as did also Mayor Gilbert of Plainfield, and John Ulrich also refused to accept. Therefore Chamberlain was decided on by first ballot, after an informal vote had been taken.

'Twill be an Event of the Season.

Miss Celie Ellis, who will be seen in the leading female role in the lively comedy, "Dr. Bill", at Stillman Music Hall next Monday evening, is a clever little woman whose first stage work was done in comic opera, in which she impersonated a wide range of soubrette and comedy roles with much success during several seasons, as a member of the McCaull Opera company, the J. C. Duff Opera company, and other leading musical organizations.

Since her adoption of the dramatic branch of the profession, and retirement from the lyric stage, Miss Ellis has made some notable hits in comedy, notably in "Blue Jeans", in which she played last season. Her part in "Dr. Bill" fits her like a glove, and gives an opportunity for true comedy work of a high order.

The character is that of a flirtatious and sprightly young married woman, Mrs. Horton, whose love for fun, diversion and excitement leads to most of the absurdly laughable complications with which the play of "Dr. Bill" abounds.

Miss Ellis has a wide circle of acquaintances in Plainfield, having made many visits here at the residence of her brother-in-law, ex-councilman G. Warren Watson, when Mr. Watson was a citizen of Plainfield. Her husband, Harry S. Blake, of New York, was the director of the performances of "Esmeralda", "The Belle of the Kitchen", and other pieces produced last season at the Casino by local amateurs; and he also has many friends here.

The Story is False!

(Bound Brook Chronicle.)

The New Brunswick Home News tells a tale of three bicyclers from that place who were arrested in Plainfield for riding without lanterns, after dark. The story goes that the policeman was bribed into letting them off by the presentation of a handful of cigars. An officer of the law who would accept as a bribe of the kind of tobacco smoked in New Brunswick must be a low-down sort of guardian.

PRETTY PINCUSHIONS.

They Sell Like Hot Cakes at Church Fairs.

One Is a Genuine Surprise and Can Be Made at a Trifling Expense—The Other Is an Easy Task for Bright Children.

A very salable article for a fair is a "surprise pincushion." This is made by covering a little round basket with a top with pink or blue crepe and making a little pincushion on the lid, with a frill of lace around it. A round-faced doll's head is then fixed on to one end of a spring and dressed as a clown, with tufts of white cotton or black horsehair for hair. The face is whitened, the lips are made scarlet and patches and a stiff frill for a collar are added. The rest of the spring is covered with the crepe and the bottom is firmly attached to the bottom of the basket. A button and a loop confine the top, which flies up as soon as it is unbuttoned, showing "Jack" as a surprise who is not expected in such a dainty little receptacle.

SURPRISE PINCUSHION.

Another pincushion which it is easy for a child to make is the "malt which lay in the house that Jack built," with its attendant mice. Two white bags, stuffed very lightly with bran, form the pincushion part; these are prettily tied with colored ribbon and placed leaning toward each other on a square of pasteboard covered with light-colored silk or velvet. The mice, which may be as many as desired, are made of apple seeds, the sharp point forms the nose, and the ears, whiskers and tails are made of black sewing silk.—N. Y. Tribune.

ROLLING AN UMBRELLA.

How to Keep a Good Silk Watershed in Excellent Condition.

Many a fine umbrella is cut off in youth through the carelessness of its owner. Take, for example, a good silk watershed. If you will examine the weave, usually a twill, you will notice that it is extremely sensitive.

Silk is moderately strong and elastic, a long and patient sufferer, but when it does begin to give out, it gives out very rapidly. You will notice that it is not bombproof, neither is it handproof. Now, the more you put your hands on the silk the worse it is for the umbrella. It is therefore a great mistake to catch your closed umbrella round the silk and go swinging along as if it were a club and could endure any amount of rough usage.

The moisture of the hand injures the silk far more than do the occasional rainstorms. When carrying an umbrella, whether for protection or for style, hold it by the handle. Another point regarding the umbrella: When closed do not hammer the walk as you pass along with the ferrule. This spoils the top of your umbrella and is not good for the ribs.

Close-rolled umbrellas are now the rage—have been for some time. The modern silk umbrella is intended to be a graceful addition to a man's style, as well as his protector. The way to roll an umbrella is simple, but the rule is commonly ignored; hence the number of those badly rolled.

To dry an umbrella, open it, secure the catch and rest it with the end of the stick on the ground. To roll an umbrella, shake out the silk until no part of it is confined between the ribs but all hangs free. Then place the top of the handle in the palm of the hand, with the fingers closed to form a circle. With the right hand, palm down, grasp the tips of the ribs, turn the umbrella from you with the right hand, at the same time turning the left hand toward you with a downward motion. Then hold the umbrella firmly with the left hand, while with the right you take a fresh grasp at the same place as before and turn. Continue turning until the left hand reaches the right. When the strap or ribbon is secured the umbrella will be perfectly smooth; with every fold neat and snug and the tips in an orderly circle near the handle.—N. Y. Recorder.

CARRIER FOR BABIES.

A Device Intended to Prevent Accidents to Infants.

Surgeons are but too familiar with the often life-long injuries and deformities experienced by sufferers as the result of falls during infancy from the arms of nurses. The accompanying illustration depicts a simple device in tended to prevent such accidents; while it may be useful in lessening the fatigue of carrying infants and freeing the arms of the nurse for other incidental duties. As will be seen by the figure, the appliance consists of strong network attached to an eyelet strap. This is thrown over the left shoulder and affixed to the end of the net, which is brought under the right arm by means of a hook. We draw attention to this invention, as we believe it to be calculated to be of service to such as have the personal charge of infants and useful as a preventive of a class of calamities to which very young children are liable.—London Lancet.

MIXING THE SALAD.

Salt, Pepper and Seasoning Should Be Mixed with the Vinegar.

A great mistake which some salad makers are guilty of is to stir the salt in with the oil or just after the oil. The salt and pepper and seasoning should be mixed with the vinegar, the salad leaves should be tossed in the oil and the seasoned vinegar poured over them. If the salt is mixed with the oil, it fails to melt and is apt to give the salad a gritty flavor.

Green salads are too often carelessly drained. A good salad basket is a very useful article. It is quite similar to a croquette basket in general appearance and costs but twenty-five cents. If a salad is properly washed and drained in such a basket, there is not likely to be much water left in the salad bowl when the dressing is poured over it. Not everyone knows that tomatoes are delicious dressed with a simple French dressing. The popular mayonnaise dressing which is so much more expensive than the simple French dressing is almost the only dressing in which tomatoes are served in the American household. The French housewife considers a mayonnaise dressing suitable only for a grand occasion and an extravagance for everyday use.

To prepare tomatoes with a French dressing, select firm, red tomatoes. The beefsteak tomato is especially nice for this purpose. Plunge them into boiling water and remove the skins, and set them on the ice to become thoroughly chilled. When they are ice-cold cut them into thin slices. To half a dozen tomatoes put half a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar and the same amount of the best salad oil. If you wish, add a few drops of onion juice, which gives a pleasant flavor for a change to this simple and delicious dinner salad.—N. Y. Tribune.

FAMILY SCRAP BAG.

TO CLEAN white woolen shawls steam in a steamer over a kettle of soapsuds. This is a good way to treat soiled lace.

YELLOW spots on the linen or cotton produced by the iron may be removed by setting them in the broiling sun.

HEADACHE, toothache, backache, or most any jointache will be relieved by heating the feet thoroughly with the shoes on.

TO PREVENT colored stockings from fading put a tablespoonful of black pepper into the water in which they are rinsed.

TO GIVE a good oak color to a pine floor wash in a solution of one pound of copperas dissolved in one gallon of strong lye.

IF your butter seems likely to spoil immerse the vessel which contains it in cold lime water, and keep it there until the sweetness of the butter is restored.

WORMWOOD boiled in vinegar and applied hot, with enough clothes wrapped around to keep the flesh moist, is said to be an invaluable remedy for a sprain or bruise.

TO REMOVE a glass stopper that has become fast put a drop of sweet oil or glycerine in the crevice about the stopper. In an hour or so the stopper may be easily removed.

TO TEST a ham stick a sharp knife under the bone; if it comes out clean, with a pleasant smell the ham is good; but if the knife is daubed and has a disagreeable smell, do not buy it.—Home Queen.

The Way to Pour Tea.

There is more in pouring tea and coffee than most persons dream of in their philosophy. Even if these decoctions are brought to the table ready made, it requires experience, judgment and exactness to apportion them so that they shall prove sufficient in quantity for the family and so that those who wish their tea weak will not get it strong, and vice versa. Often persons pour tea without being aware that the first cup is the weakest, and that the tea grows stronger as you proceed. The proper way to pour tea, therefore, is to fill all the cups before serving any; and where several cups of equal strength are wanted, pour a little into each, and then go back, reversing the order as you fill them, and the strength will be properly apportioned. — Farm and Home.

The Typewriter's Trials.

"Are you Miss Plunkins the new stenographer?" asked Mr. Comrox.

"Yes, sir."

"Well, put this in a letter: 'Smith & Co., Wauseoghenoe, Me. Sirs: The last consignment of yours was all out of gear. There wasn't nothing in it we could use. It was the all-firedest lot of stuff I ever set eyes on,'" he continued, growing excited. "Why, I tell you, Miss Plunkins, some of it was positively goshawful.

"It was moth-eaten, and we had to disappoint old timers in our trade just because these jays didn't come up to the scratch and do business. What I want to know is what they're goin' to do about it," and he paused for breath. He thought a moment and said: "Got all that?"

"Y-yes," replied the young woman, rather doubtfully.

"Well, fix it up and put 'Yours respectfully' after it and let me see it.

And yet people seem surprised wher stenographers lose their minds.—Washington Star.

It Has Come to This.

The women wear suspenders,
And are fond of men's cravats;
They also wear their blazers
And their nobby little hats.
Their gloves are very mannish,
And they wear their hair cut short;
They are up in all the racing slang,
And baseball is their forte.
And things are so reversed that men
In courting will not speak
Until they ascertain how much
A wife can earn a week.

What is It?

A substitute for lard? Upsetting the customs, habits, and prejudices of centuries? Yes, all this and more. Cottolene is a new cooking product—it is better than lard or butter for cooking, so say such noted housekeepers as

Marion Harland,
Catharine Owen,
Christine Terhune Herrick,
Emma P. Ewing,
Mrs. S. T. Rorer,
Mrs. F. A. Benson,
Amy Barnes,
Margaret Wister,

and many others; it is healthier—so says every thoughtful physician; and it is cheaper as every housekeeper knows when she finds that one-half the quantity answers every purpose.

COTTOLENE

is the purest clarified cottonseed oil mixed with pure beef fat. It is the best cooking material ever devised for frying anything and everything—easily digested and highly nutritious.

Beware of imitations. Ask your grocer for the genuine Cottolene.

LAKE CITY'S BIG WEEK

World's Fair Dedicatory Exercises Begin Wednesday.

PREPARATIONS ON A GRAND SCALE.

Programme for the Four Days of the Celebration—The Washington Notables Leave for Chicago To-morrow—Gov. Flower and His Staff En Route—Depew on the Objections to Breckinridge as Orator.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—The managers of the dedicatory exercises of the World's Fair, which begin Wednesday, have read and heard with no little envy the reports of the recent Columbian celebration in New York, and are straining every nerve to make the great parade of Friday equal, if not eclipse, the exhibition at the metropolis.

The decoration of the city is fairly under way, and by Wednesday Chicago will look her gayest. Some of the big buildings are fairly smothered under flags and bunting. Marvels of the decorator's art are seen everywhere. The designs on the Auditorium are probably the handsomest in the city.

Wednesday the inauguration of the celebration will take place by a reception to the Vice-President of the United States, the Cabinet and other distinguished guests at the Auditorium. President Harrison has formally notified the committee that he cannot be present, for reasons known to all.

On Thursday will occur the civic celebration, indicative of peace, contentment and prosperity. It will be participated in by innumerable civic societies. The procession will be reviewed by the Vice-President, the Cabinet and honored guests.

In the evening, at Jackson Park, amid myriads of electric lights and other displays, a water pageant, the "Procession of the Centuries," will move through the water-ways of the Exposition grounds.

Friday, Oct. 21, the national salute at sunrise will inaugurate the ceremonies of Dedication Day.

Vice-President Morton, the Cabinet, members of the Senate and House of Representatives, distinguished foreign guests and Governors of the different States and Territories with their official staffs, will be escorted by a guard of honor composed of troops of the U. S. Army, and detachments from the various State National Guards, to the Manufacturers and Liberal Arts Buildings, in which the dedicatory exercises will be held.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon in this building the following dedicatory exercises will be carried out under the direction of the Director General:

1. "Columbian March," written for the occasion by Prof. John K. Paine.
2. Prayer by Bishop Chas. H. Fowler, D. D., LL. D., of California.
3. Dedicatory ode, words by Miss Harriet Monroe, of Chicago; music by O. W. Chadwick, of Boston.
4. Presentation of the master artists of the Exposition and their complete work by the chief of construction.
5. Report of the Director-General of the World's Columbian Exposition.
6. Presentation of the buildings for dedication, by the Director-General, to the President of the World's Columbian Exposition.
7. Chorus, "The Heavens Are Telling," Haydn.
7. Presentation of the buildings for dedication by the president of the World's Columbian Commission to the Vice-President of the United States.
9. Chorus, "In Praise of God," Beethoven.
10. Dedication of the buildings by the Vice-President of the United States.
11. Hallelujah chorus from "The Messiah," Handel.
12. Dedicatory oration, Henry Watterson of Kentucky.
13. "The Star Spangled Banner," and "Hail Columbia," with full chorus and orchestral accompaniment.
14. Columbian oration, Chauncey M. Depew of New York.
15. National salute.

At the close of the programme a special electric and pyrotechnic display will be given, with a repetition of "The Procession of Centuries."

A series of military manœuvres and parades will constitute the main portion of Saturday, Oct. 22.

In the evening attractive and appropriate celebrations will be provided, followed by a magnificent display of fireworks. Pyrotecnic displays are scheduled for each of the evenings of the celebration, and they are expected to far surpass anything before attempted in that line.

A number of brilliant social entertainments will be given by the citizens of Chicago during the three evenings of the dedicatory ceremonies.

No admission fee will be charged for any part of the dedicatory exercises. Admission to Jackson Park on Dedication Day, however, will be by invitation only, the authorities having reluctantly concluded that safety to life and to the exposition property, and the comfort and consideration to which the distinguished guests are entitled, preclude the possibility of admitting the general public.

Arrangements have been made for seating 90,000 people in the Manufactures building, and room for 35,000 more people will be provided. There will be 15,000 reserved seats for specially invited persons, whose tickets will indicate the portions of the hall where good.

All other ticket holders, excepting 2,500 distinguished guests, will occupy seats in the order of first come, first served. Accommodations have been provided for all expected representatives of the American and foreign press.

Younghusband Was Not Indicted.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 17.—It develops that Mr. J. A. Younghusband of Detroit, heretofore reported as indicted for complicity in the Iron Hall swindles, was not among the number indicted. He seems rather to have been the victim of than a participator in the Iron Hall swindles.

Locked Up for Embezzlement.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 17.—Wm. H. Wildemere, Assistant Superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at Perth Amboy since April 1 last, has been arrested charged with alleged defalcations to the amount of $97.50. He is in jail in this city in default of bail.

New Money-Order Offices.

OFF FOR CHICAGO TO-MORROW.

Three Trains Will Carry the Washington Guests to the Dedication.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The distinguished guests of the World's Fair managers, who will go to the dedication of the buildings in Chicago from this city, will leave to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock over the Pennsylvania railroad. The party will occupy three trains.

One section will be occupied by Vice-President Morton, representing the President and members of the Cabinet. Mr. Morton and wife will go from New York and join the party at Harrisburg.

Secretaries Foster (of the Treasury) and Rusk will join the party at Chicago, but their families will go on the train from here. General Sheridan's widow and Madame Romero, wife of the Mexican Minister, will accompany the wife of Secretary of State Foster. Assistant Secretary of State Adee and Assistant Secretary Soley of the Navy Department and wife, will also be on this train.

The Justices of the Supreme Court will occupy another section. All will be present except Justices Field and Lamar, whose health will not permit them to make the trip. Justices Harlan and Blatchford will be unaccompanied by any members of their families; Justices Brewer and Shiras by their wives and daughters; Chief Justice Fuller and Justices Gray and Brown by their wives only. Clerk McKenney and Marshal Wright and wives will also be members of the Supreme Court party.

Since the Court was organized it has only twice attended a public function as a body—the opening of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876 and the celebration of the Centennial of the Inauguration of Washington at New York in 1889.

The passengers on the Diplomats' train will be the same as already stated in these despatches, with the addition of Mrs. Butterworth, wife of the ex-Congressman and First Secretary and Solicitor of the Board of Directors. Mr. J. Mott-Smith, Minister from Hawaii and wife, will go to Chicago from Boston. Major-General Schofield and wife will also go direct from New York.

The visitors will remain in Chicago taking part in the programme arranged, until Saturday, departing on the return trip at 5 o'clock that day.

Gov. Flower Off for Chicago.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Gov. Flower, his military staff, the members of the World's Fair State Commission (except John Boyd Thatcher, who left Saturday night), all of the clerks in the employ of the Commission, the women managers and private secretaries, left by the fast train for Buffalo this morning. There they will be met by Chief Executive Officer McNaughton, and the whole party, escorted by Troop A, New York Cavalry, will take a special train for Chicago.

CONDITION OF THE ARMY.

Generals Brooke and Merritt Report Discipline Good in Their Commands.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—General Brooke, commanding the Department of the Platte, has submitted his annual report to the War Department. The report says that the discipline of the troops has been good during the year, and the instructions in the new drill regulations, target practice and signaling have progressed satisfactorily at the posts.

The report shows an increase of court martials over those of last year, due to the efforts of officers to maintain discipline and also in a measure to the decrease in the number of old soldiers in the various regiments.

Gen. Brooke says this increase may be expected to continue until commanding officers of troops shall be upheld in minor disciplinary measures. The report shows that the post exchanges have passed beyond the experimental stage and may now be considered a successful and valuable institution.

Gen. Merritt, commanding the Department of the Dakotas, in his annual report to the War Department, states that the troops in his department are in an excellent state of discipline and well instructed. There is much complaint among line officers, however, because of a lack of good material for non-commissioned officers.

Many of the best men leave the army, the report says, after a short service under recent regulations.

Gen Merritt renews his recommendation of last year, that the pay of these men should be increased, as a matter of justice, for the work required, and it now looks as if it were even more necessary, the General continues, to keep up the tone of the army. Indian recruiting does not progress favorably so far as the foot companies are concerned.

The Strike on the Rio Grande.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 17.—The situation on the Rio Grande railroad remains unchanged. The men are still out and not a train has moved from Salida to Grand Junction since 7 o'clock Saturday morning. A committee of strikers has left Salida for Denver to confer with President Jeffries. There is danger that the strike will spread to the Midland as the trainmen announce that they will not haul Rio Grande passengers or freight.

Says the Strike is Lost.

HOMESTEAD, Oct. 17.—The editorial Saturday in the "Local News," declaring that the strike is lost, created a sensation here. This same paper was, during the inception of the wage struggle, an organ for the locked-out men, and the Advisory Committee published statements in its columns.

Growth of Socialism in Italy.

ROME, Oct. 17.—The Socialists in Milan and Turin are preparing to contest every seat in the coming general election, to be held November 6. At the last election there were but sixteen Socialist candidates in the field. This year there are already sixty.

DR. BRIGGS TO BE TRIED AGAIN.

This Time by the Presbyterian Synod of New York, Which Meets To-morrow.

ALBANY, Oct. 17.—There will be lively times at the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of New York that meets in this city to-morrow.

Dr. Briggs' case is familiar to all, but the singular thing is that after the General Assembly—the highest body in the Church—has found him guilty, the Synod of New York should take it up.

This is explained by the statement that this Synod is desirous of vindicating itself.

The complaint against Dr. Briggs was heard by the Presbytery of New York. This is a judiciatory, consisting of all pastors of churches within the New York City district.

The New York Presbytery heard the case and dismissed it, 94 to 39, thus giving the victory to Dr. Briggs.

The committee which made the complaint then appealed to the General Assembly then in session in Portland. The appeal of Briggs' accusers was entertained and the General Assembly decided that Briggs should stand trial.

The New York Synod strenuously objects to the action of the General Assembly in entertaining the appeal from the Presbytery when that appeal, according to the law of the Church, must be made to it, the next governing body in the jurisdiction of the Church. The members of the Synod feel that if this action of the General Assembly is to stand, there is absolutely no reason why the Synod should exist, as it would be a merely nominal body. The Synod is composed of delegates from each of the Presbyteries in the State, and from the Presbytery of Boston, which includes all of the New England churches of the Presbyterian order.

It is expected that 275 delegates will be present.

The programme as arranged opens the meetings Tuesday evening, October 18, at 7:30 o'clock, with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Asa S. Fiske, of Ithaca, who is the retiring Moderator.

After the sermon the Synod will be regularly organized by the election of a Moderator. On Wednesday morning the delegates will convene at 9 o'clock. The business of the Synod will be transacted at the morning and afternoon sessions.

The appeal in the Dr. Briggs case will probably be made Wednesday morning, and be referred to a committee. When the committee reports the discussion will be opened.

The Rev. Dr. Francis Brown, of New York, who is a personal friend of Dr. Briggs, will be present and will, it is thought, make the appeal and attend to the interests of his friend.

LIVELY TIMES IN PHILADELPHIA.

A Mad Dog and a Wild Bull Disturb the Sabbath Quiet.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—A sensation was created on Chestnut street last night by a mad dog, which bit a dozen people. The canine, a diminute yellow creature, started from Third and Chestnut streets, and ran up in the middle of the latter thoroughfare for several squares, when it took to the pavement.

People rushed hither and thither to give the rabid animal a clear course. At Sixth street the dog attacked an unknown Russian girl about 12 years of age, but her clothing is thought to have protected her from injury.

At Seventh street John Boyd could not get out of the way of the frothing canine and was severely bitten. At Eighth street William H. Boker, Dr. F. B. Hazel, L. Meyers and Charles H. Ebeinger were all attacked and more or less severely bitten.

Reserve Officer A. H. Jones then gave chase and at Ninth street killed the animal.

Six or seven other persons, whose names could not be learned, were also bitten.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—A wild bull, which escaped from a slaughter house after having been led to its death and having a deep cut inflicted in its neck, created a big stir on Montgomery avenue yesterday. At Park avenue it tossed 6-year-old Joseph Weston high into the air and the child fell in an unconscious head, alighting on his head. The animal fell dead at Norris street. The boy will recover.

Murdered By a Half-Witted Man.

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 17.—John Zanis, aged 30, a half-witted fellow, subject to epileptic fits, who with one blow of his closed right hand killed John Igo, aged 34, Saturday afternoon, as the result of a quarrel in a barber shop on West Main street, has been held for examination.

Flower Denounced by the C. L. U.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—At the meeting of the Central Labor Union in Clarendon Hall yesterday afternoon Governor Flower was denounced for refusing to pardon Master Workman James Hughes of National Trades Assembly No. 231 of Garment Workers, who was convicted of extortion.

Gov. Russell Aids an Injured Man.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The train which conveyed Gov. Russell and the Massachusetts World's Fair delegates to Fall River where they took the boat to this city en route to Chicago, run over and seriously injured a man at Taunton. Gov. Russell personally made up, with the party, a purse of $144 for the injured man.

Dr. Depew's Commentary.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 17.—Dr. Depew says: "Breckinridge refused to deliver the oration, I understand, because of the severe criticism of the Chicago papers upon his opposition in Congress to the World's Fair appropriation. Watterson's selection and acceptance is, I suppose, upon the principle that the spirit and meaning of the exposition should be interpreted by a Southerner and a Democrat, as well as by a New Yorker and a Republican."

AN ADVENTURESS' WORK

Consul Ruiz Victimized by His Adopted Daughter.

SHE HYPNOTIZED THE OLD MAN.

Made the Representative of Ecuador at New York Believe that She Was His Child—The Conspirators Too Avaricious, and Exposure Follows.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Domingo L. Ruiz, the white-haired Consul-General of Ecuador, who was arrested on Saturday on a charge of forging the signature of Gustave Preston, a South American merchant, to two notes for $1,000 each, was arraigned in court yesterday and held in $2,000 bonds. His lawyer declared that Ruiz was the victim of a lot of swindlers.

Bertha Laws, who claims and is acknowledged to be the adopted daughter of Consul Ruiz, was arrested at her home yesterday. It is claimed that she is closely connected with the forgery of the two $1,000 notes payable to Ruiz's order, and signed by such a clever fac-simile of the signature of Vice-Consul Preston of Boston.

During the brief proceedings before Justice Ryan the fact leaked out that Senor Ruiz, who is in his dotage, has for some time been in the hands of a band of conspirators, who have fleeced him out of $30,000. In their greed for more these rascals induced him to endorse two $1,000 checks.

The principal in the conspiracy is Mrs. Bertha Laws, his adopted daughter, who lives in great style at No. 225 West End avenue.

Consul-General Ruiz's friends say he was hypnotized by the woman, and has done her bidding for the past few years. It is also asserted that Mrs. Laws is a shrewd sharper, who has lived in luxury at his expense.

This woman first became acquainted with Senor Ruiz through an advertisement at the time his wife was in the country, while his daughter was traveling in Europe. He advertised for a housekeeper, and Mrs. Laws, who was then plain Bertha Krugstat, of Stockholm, Sweden, answered the notice, and was soon installed as housekeeper. She quickly ingratiated herself, and in a few weeks made him believe that she was his daughter by a woman other than his wife.

GARZA ON HIS WAY TO CHILI.

The Mexican Revolutionary Leader Escapes By Way of New York.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 17.—James Henderson, of this city, has just returned from Polito Blanco, the ranch of Alejande Gonzales, the father-in-law of Garza, the revolutionary leader. He says that Mrs. Garza is making preparations to go to Valparaiso, Chili, where she will join her husband, who sailed three weeks ago for that port from New York.

Mr. Gonzales said that Garza spent three weeks in Key West, Fla., making his escape from that place by secreting himself on a coast vessel when the Federal officers got on his trail.

He afterward made his way to Portland, Me., where he spent several weeks, being in that city at the time of the Maine State Fair. About a month ago he was visited at Portland by R. L. Summerler, the well known attorney, of San Antonio, who was retained to defend Mr. Gonzales and a number of revolutionists in their trial, which comes up before the November term of the Federal Court in San Antonio.

THE MOUNT HOLLY TRAGEDY.

Two Stories of the Shooting—Mrs. Hurto Denies Committing the Deed.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 17.—Prosecutor Budd has begun an investigation into the death of Lofard Mitchell, who was shot at a colored settlement, known as Timbucktoo, near here Saturday night, and died a half hour later.

There are two stories of the affair; one that Mitchell shot himself while carelessly handling a revolver, and the other that he was deliberately shot by Mrs. Frank Hurto.

The latter, however, denies having had the revolver in her hands.

Hurto is a white man and keeps a store that is much frequented by negroes.

A Cool and Plucky Girl.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—A 14-year-old daughter of John McGraw, of this city, had her foot cut off by the cars yesterday. She was going through the Erie yards when her foot became wedged in a frog. While she was endeavoring to free herself a passenger train came upon her suddenly. Seeing that she could not extricate her foot she threw herself to one side and allowed the locomotive to crush it into a shapeless mass. Later in the day the foot was amputated.

Congressman Chapin Wants to Resign.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 17.—It has been definitely learned that Mr. Chapin has sent in his resignation as Congressman to the Secretary of State, but owing to the complications which would arise in filling his place, in consequence of the recent changes in his ward boundaries, he was induced by the Democratic managers to withdraw it, and he will continue to represent the district until the close of his term.

Boy Killed in a Quarry.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—While several lads were playing with a derrick in a stone quarry operated by the Philadelphia & Frankford railroad yesterday, the chain gave a sudden lurch and 12-year-old Albert Platt, losing his grip, fell to the bottom of the quarry and was instantly killed.

Prof. Smith's Trial Begins To-day.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—The trial of Rev. Henry Preserved Smith, the eminent professor of Greek and Hebrew in Lane Theological Seminary, accused of teaching heretical doctrines, begins today. He is also charged with failure to carry out the obligation imposed upon him when he was ordained a minister of the Presbyterian Church.

Killed by the Central "Limited."

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—William Carr of this city was killed at East Syracuse yesterday afternoon by the East bound Chicago limited on the New York Central railroad. He was walking along the track when some one called to him to get out of the way of a freight train, when he stepped in front of the "Limited."

CLEVELAND'S

One rounded teaspoonful of Cleveland's Baking Powder does more and better work than a heaping teaspoonful of any other. A large saving on a year's bakings.

BAKING POWDER

A pure cream of tartar powder.

Used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of Cookery.

Cleveland's is the standard, it never varies, it does the most work, the best work and is perfectly wholesome, as it contains no ammonia, no alum, no adulteration.

CONSTABLE ZEIGLER'S CRIME.

His Shooting of William Kepley at Pottsville Seemingly Unjustifiable.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 17.—Martin Zeigler, a ward constable and ex-sheriff of Schuylkill county, who shot William Kepley early yesterday morning, and was committed to jail, has applied for a writ of habeas corpus on which a hearing will take place to-day.

The shooting took place shortly after midnight. Kepley, his wife and brother-in-law were on their way home, and when in the neighborhood of Zeigler's house, met a party of intoxicated young men who insulted them, whereupon a quarrel ensued. Zeigler, hearing the disturbance, ran out with his revolver, threatening to shoot some one if they did not move on.

Kepley, it is said, made some remarks when Zeigler shot him, the ball entering the mouth and coming out at the base of the brain, causing death in a few minutes.

Zeigler is known hereabouts for his hasty temper and brutality, having a most unsavory record as an officer of the law.

HOSMER CHALLENGES ROGERS.

Hanlan and O'Connor Offer No Excuse for Their Defeat of Saturday.

ORILLIA, Ont., Oct. 17.—After the double sculling match on Lake Couchiching, Saturday afternoon, between Geo. Hosmer and Jake Gaudaur and Edward Hanlan and William O'Connor, for a stake of $2,500 and the double scull championship of the world, which was won by Hosmer and Gaudaur, Hosmer issued a challedge to Rogers, of Worcester, Mass., for a three-mile race for $500 a side.

There is a good deal of speculation as to whether O'Connor and Gaudaur will be matched.

Hanlan and O'Connor offer no excuse for their defeat of Saturday.

CLOSE OF THE BASEBALL SEASON.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. DYING AT MUHLENBERG.

Brakeman Walsh Frightfully Maimed in a Railroad Collision.

At an early hour yesterday morning a big wreck occurred near Weston station on the main line of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad. Weston is about three miles from Bound Brook, and is a little way station at which none of the fast trains stop. At 2 a. m. yesterday a coal train heavily loaded was standing on the main track, when the fast New York freight drawn by the big compound engine No. 608 crashed into the rear end of the coal train, demolishing the caboose and ten cars loaded with coal, and blocking all tracks. The engine of the freight train was badly smashed. The fog was very thick at such an early hour in the morning, and the crew of the freight engine say that they did not see the red lights of the coal train until it was too late to prevent an accident. The engineer and fireman jumped, thus saving their lives, but brakeman John Walsh, of Philadelphia, was caught in the wreckage and lost both feet. He was brought to Muhlenberg Hospital. The tracks were blocked until noon Sunday, all of the P. and R. trains going to Easton over the Central railroad, and so around by way of Bethlehem to Philadelphia. Walsh, the sufferer at Muhlenberg, is unconscious much of the time, and there is little hope for his recovery, in spite of all the tender care and good nursing bestowed on him.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Frank W. Runyon, city clerk, has been at Ithaca, N. Y., since Thursday, attending the meeting of Alpha Delta Phi alumni of Cornell university. He arrived home this morning.

Funeral services were held this afternoon over the remains of little Jamie Welsh, who was killed by the cars last Saturday afternoon. The funeral took place from the home of the afflicted parents, 28 Lee place.

The Dover Iron Era says: "Miss Lillian Force, of Plainfield, who has for several weeks been the guest of the Misses DeCamp, of Chester, returned to her home on Monday last. She will be greatly missed by her many friends who fully appreciate her pleasant ways and wonderful musical talent.

A theatrical event of unusual social importance will take place this evening at Music Hall. Under the indorsement of her many friends in the Union County Country club, Miss Celie Ellis, sister of Mrs. G. Warren Watson, will appear in "Dr. Bill". Miss Ellis as is well known is the wife of Mr. Blake. Both Mr. and Mrs. Blake are well known in Plainfield and they have a host of friends who will see that she is greeted by a large house. Miss Ellis will play the leading role, Mrs. Horton.

OBITUARY.

Jennie E. Dunn.

The death occurred yesterday morning at 11, at her late residence, 24 West Fourth street, of Jennie E., wife of Fred S. Dunn, and daughter of mounted letter carrier E. T. Dunn, at the age of twenty-five years, six months and five days. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn had been married a little more than four years.

The deceased had been a long time ill. She and her husband had recently returned from southern California, where they went for Mrs. Dunn's health. They spent two years in the States of Washington and California, hoping to benefit the patient sufferer. Mr. Dunn did everything that a devoted husband could do, for her. Her passing away was calm and peaceful. Although not altogether conscious for several days, there were moments when she was able to recognize the loved ones grouped about her; and several times she spoke of Heaven and loved ones gone before, that she seemed to see and recognize. Especially affecting was an incident that occurred only the day before she died. "Do n't you wish"—she said with a lovely smile of radiant beatitude—"that you could close your eyes and look into Heaven as I do!"

The departed was a member of Trinity Reformed church and Sabbath-school, and an active, earnest worker in the Y. P. S. C. E. and Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters. She leaves a Christian record to be envied. None knew her but to love her. The bereaved ones find solace in the thought that she is asleep in Jesus, whose loving, faithful lamb she was.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity church to-morrow afternoon at 3:15, with interment at Hillside.

The Firemen's Parade.

The line of the firemen's parade to-morrow night will form on Broadway, right resting on East Fourth street, at 7 p. m. The inspection will take place then and there, by the mayor and council. The line of march will be: Broadway, North avenue, Park avenue, Front street, Central avenue, Eighth street, Madison avenue, Seventh street, Broadway, Front street, Park avenue, and dismiss. The line will be reviewed by the officials, from the Union County Country club-house. Following the dismissal will be a banquet at the rink.

—Register to-morrow.

TO ILLUSTRATE PLAINFIELD.

A Handsome Pictorial Souvenir to be Issued by THE PRESS.

The residents of Plainfield believe that as a city of homes they can hold their own with the rest of the world. The competition between the cities of the country is at present strong to see which can make the best appearance on paper. Handsome illustrated souvenirs of towns have from time to time been received by THE PRESS, and the belief has been developed that, with the co-operation of the people, Plainfield too might have a souvenir—one which should not alone serve to please and awaken interest among the friends to whom it might be sent, but which should, by bringing the matter before the people in this new setting, stimulate to more active enthusiasm regarding this beautiful city. THE PRESS believes that it can show that Plainfield is not only one of the best places in which to live, but also that it is advantageous for business enterprise. Trusting that it can depend on the hearty assistance of the business community and all who take pride in their home, THE PRESS commends to their consideration this little venture. THE PRESS has engaged R. M. Hooker, of New Haven, who has had large experience in this line of work, to represent it in this matter. He will call on the people and explain in detail.

Everybody Come Wednesday Evening.

The regular meeting of the Cleveland & Stevenson club, which was to have been held to-night, is postponed until Wednesday evening at Music Hall. This meeting is to be addressed by Charles H. Winfield of Jersey City, and Lindley Vinton of New York. Mr. Winfield is too well known in Plainfield to need further mention, and Mr. Vinton is one of the cleverest tariff speakers of the Tariff Reform club of New York. It is expected that citizens of Plainfield, without regard to party convictions, will be present at the meeting, and bring their wives and friends.

The issues of this campaign are of the most vital interest to every man, and scarcely less so to every woman. A band of music will furnish entertainment during the evening. Let everyone come, and do honor to the party of Grover Cleveland and Adlai E. Stevenson—Democrats, Mugwumps, tariff reformers, all are united under their banner.

Capt. Peck Comes to Town.

Captain A. D. Peck of the Massachusetts Bicycle club, with a party of friends from Boston, was in town yesterday en route for Philadelphia and Wilmington, Del. They wheeled from North Adams, Mass., through Pittsfield, the Berkshire Hills and Housatonic Valley, thence to Poughkeepsie and New York, and thence came by rail to Elizabeth, the rest of the way by wheel. The name of "Lonnie" Peck is as well known among cyclists as that of THE PRESS to the residents of Union county. He called on some of his Boston friends now living here, and received the welcome Lon always does wherever he goes. Capt. Peck is one of the most enthusiastic wheelmen of long standing, and is known personally to a great many Plainfield riders.

Jug-Breaking at the Baptist Church.

The annual meeting for jug-breaking of the Woman's Home Mission Sewing society of the First Baptist church will be held in the lecture-room of the church this evening at 8. Those holding jugs are requested to bring them in at this time, as the money obtained in this manner is used to supply necessary comforts to western missionaries.

Miss Mary Melby, a Swede, one of the home missionaries from Ellis Island, the port of entry of all immigration, will address the meeting, giving telling accounts of her work among the tens of thousands who throng our free shores. Choice music will be rendered.

High School Hares and Hounds.

Last Saturday witnessed one of the most enjoyable and satisfactory of the hare and hound runs which the boys of the High School have conducted. The chase was about 12 miles long, and through an exceedingly wild and rough part of the country.

The hares were three in number and ran well. Their trail was fairly good, but included numerous "bluffs" and bad places, so that the hounds could not follow as fast as they might have done. In one place on the route was a bog, nearly dry, but uneven with dead brush and holes in the ground. All the trail that could be found for some distance, here, was a small patch in the bog. Because of such places as this much time was lost.

Running from the High School through Plainfield, into Short Hills and back into the woods, the trail led; then into Scotch Plains in a roundabout way; then up the mountain-side to Johnston's drive; and thence to the High School through North Plainfield and Plainfield. Coming down the mountain, one of the hares hurt his ankle and dropped out. Only two of the hounds followed the trail the whole distance, and these pressed the hares rapidly into town, making the run in less than three hours. With the exception of the accident spoken of, nothing more serious than dirty hands, scratches, and some soreness, resulted from the run.

Stick to it! Sometimes you may have to wait. The troubles that have been years in gathering can't always be cleared away in a day. For all the diseases and disorders peculiar to womanhood, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the surest and speediest remedy. You can depend upon that—but if your case is obstinate, give it reasonable time.

It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and a positive specific for female weaknesses and ailments. All functional disturbances, painful irregularities and derangements are corrected and cured by it. All unnatural discharges, bearing-down sensations, weak back accompanied with faint spells and kindred symptoms, are corrected. In every case for which it's recommended, "Favorite Prescription," is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms. That proves that nothing else offered by the dealer can be "just as good."

A BIG NEW CORPORATION.

The American Lactose Company Will Operate at South Plainfield.

An incorporation was filed in the office of the Middlesex county clerk at New Brunswick, Saturday morning, for the American Lactose company, which is to conduct its business in Jersey City and South Plainfield in this State; in the counties of Chautauqua and Catteraugus and New York city, N. Y.; and in such other places as may be found necessary.

The company is formed to manufacture crude lactose or sugar of milk from whey or milk and to refine crude sugars; and to manufacture also poultry food, dog biscuit, lactose vinegar or lactic acid, also to refine glycerine.

The portion of the business to be carried on outside of this State is in the counties of Chautauqua and Catteraugus, N. Y., in the manufacture of cheese, butter and sugar of milk. The principal office is to be in the city of New York.

The total capital stock of the company is $250,000 and divided into 2,500 shares of the par value of $100. The stockholders are Wm. E. Smith, of South Plainfield, 2,490 shares; John R. Smith, Parkville, N. Y., 5 shares; Jeremiah A. North, Brooklyn, 5 shares. Business will be commenced on Oct. 17, 1892, and continue for fifty years.

Robert S. Hudspeth, of Hudson county, is counsel for the company.

Veterans, Read the Truth.

The private pension bills signed by the presidents during their terms of office since 1861 were in number as follows:

President A. Lincoln	44
President A. Johnson	471
President U. S. Grant, (8 years)	536
President R. B. Hayes, (4 years)	324
President C. A. Arthur, (4 years)	706
President Grover Cleveland, (4 years)	1825

These figures cannot be refuted.

And more veterans were retained in office by Grover Cleveland than by any other president.

This cannot be denied.

READ WHAT GEN. GRANT'S FRIEND, GEO. W. CHILDS, IN THE "PHILADELPHIA LEDGER", SAID:

"In this private pension business the President (Cleveland) has been engaged in correcting the errors of Congress. He has done it at the risk of having his motives misrepresented, his conduct denounced, his patriotism questioned, his popularity impaired; but conscious of being right, determined to do right, he has gone resolutely on in the faithful discharge of his duty. That is what he should be encouraged to continue to do, and by no others more than the brave men who fought the battles of their country, and who should now stand shoulder to shoulder with the Commander-in-Chief of the Army in his efforts to make the pension list a roll of honor and every pension certificate a token of valor and patriotism."

A Pronounced Success With a Young Plainfielder in It.

"Ye Earlie Trouble", Henry Guy Carlton's picturesque romantic drama of the American Revolution, now running at Proctor's Twenty-third street theater, New York, is the most pronounced success of the present season. It is the first drama presented in New York in some time which has received favorable mention from the entire press. It is seldom that a company comprising such strength is seen anywhere. Joseph Haworth, one of the best actors in the country, is seen in the role of Ralph Izzard, a patriot, and Jane Stewart never did anything letter than sweet Charity Van Twiller. Harry Woodruff, formerly of this city when his father was proprietor of Hotel Netherwood, is in the cast, which includes Mary Shaw, Wm. F. Owen, R. F. McClannin, Theodore Roberts, John E. Ince, Olive Oliver, Mrs. Mary Barker and Mrs. Frank Tannehill. Seldom does it occur that a play is not subjected to many changes immediately after the first presentation, "Ye Earlie Trouble" is an exception, however, Mr. Carlton has not found it necessary to make any alterations. The engagement at Proctor's will continue until Nov. 5.

Why They Have Malaria in Westfield.

(Editor Pearsall in The Standard.)

Presumably the rich New Jersey Central Railroad company employ artist landscape gardeners to produce the handsome parks that surround their stations. This ought to mean something to those of our citizens whose premises are gloom enshrouded by dense shrubbery and low branching trees. These educated, trained, experienced, high-priced park makers of the Central take for a cardinal principal the truth that shade must not be so dense as to prevent the growth of grass. Hence they cut away the under branches of their trees, thus admitting a free circulation of air and light. Some of our citizens who are everlastingly malarialized and blood-poisoned, might better look to their over-shaded, grass-starved, moss-bedraggled, miasmatic premises for the reason why they themselves have "that tired feeling", and all the rest of it. Let them profit by the experience and education of men who make a study and a business of park making.

Mr. Gilbert Didn't Want It.

The Elizabeth Journal says: "Mayor Gilbert, of Plainfield, formerly an Elizabethport boy, is another man who can, we firmly believe, carry the district; and without in the least disparaging Mr. Dunn's popularity or political strength we believe Mayor Gilbert is the man who can defeat him and ought to represent us in Congress."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65, North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

It May be Interesting to Know

That when excursion rates are made to Chicago for people who live in the East, to enable them to attend the World's Fair next year, it is contemplated by the Western roads to also make excursion rates from Chicago to all principal business and tourist points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, so that those who desire to spend a few weeks among their friends in the Great West, may have an opportunity of so doing without incurring much additional expense. It may be well to consider this subject in advance of actual time of starting, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co. has issued maps and time tables and other instructive reading matter, which it will be glad to furnish free of expense upon application by postal card addressed to Wm. Kelly, jr., Traveling Passenger Agent, 50 S. Third St., Philadelphia, Pa., or to Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill. 2t

Following Union's Good-Roads Example.

The improvement of the road from Highland Park, (East New Brunswick), to Metuchen is now under way, also the work on the Madison township road. There will be not less than ten miles of macadam road built in Middlesex county before the first of December, at a cost of about $60,000, of which expense the county taxpayers will pay two thirds and the State and property owners the other third.

The work on the county road from Holly's Corner to South Plainfield is also under way.

All the Marshes to Go to Amherst.

The Marsh Family association of America, including all persons by the name of Marsh, or who have descended from any by that name, and their families, are invited to attend the seventh family gathering and basket picnic at the house of the Rev. D. W. Marsh, Spring street, near High school-house, Amherst, Mass., Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 9 o'clock a. m. Representatives are requested to put in writing and bring, or send, all they know or can learn of the genealogy of their family. Col. Lucius B. Marsh, of Boston, will preside.

Reduced Rates to Chicago for the Dedicatory Ceremonies of the World's Fair.

For people desiring to attend the Dedicatory ceremonies of the World's Columbian exposition at Chicago, October 20 to 22, the Pennsylvania Railroad company will sell round-trip tickets at a rate of one and one-third the first-class limited fare, from October 18 to 20 inclusive, good for return passage until October 25 inclusive. For the accommodation of United States troops and enrolled State militia in uniform, traveling on continuous solid train tickets in bodies of not less than twenty-five, tickets will be sold at a rate of one fare for the round trip from October 17 to 19 inclusive, to be good going only on date of sale, and good for return passage until October 25.

Trying to Placate Martine.

[Elizabeth Journal.]

Mr. Martine did n't come within a mile of getting the Democratic congressional nomination yesterday; but one thing is certain, he has from this time out such a mortgage on the nomination next year for State senator that he will get it if he wants it. There is not the slightest doubt that he will have to get this office in order to conciliate the factions that were put on a war footing yesterday.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B. F. Liepaner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me."—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

A Democrat Frees His Mind.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—With the great masses of our citizens I deeply grieve over the failure of Mr. Martine to obtain the Congressional nomination. Had a man, his equal in all respects, been selected, we could have borne the disappointment.

My great regret is that the convention has inaugurated a new departure. Heretofore we have been educated that loyalty to the tenets of Democracy and the cordial adherence to the nominations made by the conventions, if the nominees were worthy of support, characterized true Democrats.

This new departure teaches us that the true road to preferment is if you are unsuccessful in obtaining a nomination to strive to assassinate and defeat your fortunate rival. If you wish to be a Democratic senator kill the Democratic candidate for assembly. If you desire the governorship slay the candidate for senator, and if your aspirations reach to the presidency, murder the candidate for governor.

The Democratic nominee, in this Congressional district is the first fruit of the new dispensation. A candidate for surrogate, he labored to defeat the election of Mr. Gerber, the nominee of the county convention. Can he complain, if he presents a poisoned goblet to a Democratic nominee, that it shall be returned to his own lips?

By his own act he has absolved every Democrat from all allegeance to himself.

NEMESIS.

Two Great Horses Together.

The two magnificent trotters Cypress, (2:18¼), and Bert Sheldon, (2:16½), have been matched to trot for a special purse of $500, over Waverly track on Friday, the 21st inst.

Cypress and Bert Sheldon are too well-known to need any extended description. The former acquired his record last fall at Point Breeze track, Philadelphia, where he trotted the fourth heat in 2:18¼. He is owned by Messrs. Bassini & Radel, proprietors of the Flemington stock farm. His sire is Kentucky Prince, by Clark Chief, and his dam Lady Hilton, by Sentinel. Bert Sheldon is by Warwick Boy, dam Cole. He is owned by A. C. Cole, of Middleburg, Pa. He acquired his present fame in the hands of George O. Smith, of Orange. Last fall Sheldon trotted at Bethlehem track in 2:20¼. His great success on half-mile tracks gained for him the sobriquet of "Black Demon" of the half-mile tracks. His record is 2:16¼, gained at Philadelphia last spring. His success this year has been phenomenal. In addition to this race there will be a 2:34 and 2:30 class.

Thinks It Means Defeat.

(New York Herald, Dem.)

The nomination by the Democrats, Friday night, of ex-Speaker John T. Dunn, of Elizabeth, makes the Eighth district, planned to be overwhelmingly Democratic, one of the doubtful ones. Union county, which is the biggest geographical section of it, is Democratic. Bayonne, which forms one wing of it, is Democratic. Orange, its other wing, is Democratic—Democratic all around and in all of its parts; and yet the Democrats may sacrifice it to a nomination that can commend itself only to the toughest of the tough! Dunn is weak in two directions. His personality is not an agreeable one. His associations and habits are not of the kind that self-respecting men would cultivate. The heelers in Elizabeth were his chief boomers. Martine, of Plainfield, says that they sold him out for Dunn. They sent him away to make speeches for the National Committee on the assurance that they would look after his Congressional campaign for him. When he came back to attend the convention he saw they had sold him out.

He might have known better than to have trusted them. He almost demonstrates his unfitness to be a congressional nominee in the verdant gullibility that can persuade him to take their word for anything. The tricksters knew he would beat them if he had stayed home, and that is why they sent him away. The result is this man Dunn. The next result will be defeat. The element that made Rankin mayor of Elizabeth and that turned Orange over to Truman will stand solidly against him, and that will settle him!

Sportsmen Return.

Charley Smith, Tom Keller and Niel Apgar returned Saturday from their trip to the Wilmington, Del., shooting tournament, loaded with honors and shekels for their fine marksmanship at blue-rocks.

A Lesson in Geography.

"How far is it around the world?"
In girlish innocence asked she.
"Ah, I will measure it," he said,
"If you'll permit me, love, to see."
Then when his strong right arm he'd placed
Around her waist so small and trim,
He found it wasn't very far—
For she was all the world to him.

MR. WHITE CAME HIGH

His Consent to Marry Cost Widow Nagle $100,000.

SHE NOW CHARGES HIM WITH FRAUD

White, Who is the Correspondent of the London "Illustrated News," is Under Arrest in New York—To be Taken to Cheyenne, Wyo., for Trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Charles A. White, representative of the London "Illustrated News," who was arrested in this city Saturday charged with the embezzlement of $50,000 by his wife, formerly Mrs. Nagle, who resides in Cheyenne, Wyo., will be extradited to-day. He was remanded at his hearing yesterday.

White, in the first instance, was also charged by his wife with having kidnapped her 16-year-old son, George H. Nagle, with ulterior designs upon his fortune. Telegraphic despatches were sent Superintendent Byrnes by her attorneys that the lad was being secreted at the St. James Hotel in this city, and upon their subsequent corroboration by the Cheyenne Chief of Police, two detectives were detailed upon the case.

When they called at the St. James for the lad, however, they learned that White had left for Rock Island, Ill., and that the boy had been sent to his mother.

This was about a month ago, and nothing was heard in the matter until Saturday, when the sheriff of Cheyenne arrived with requisition papers and a warrant under which White was arrested on the embezzlement charge.

White, it appears, met Mrs. Nagle, a wealthy widow, about a year ago, while both were visiting Hot Springs. The acquaintance soon culminated in marriage, and White, as Mrs. Nagle alleges, obtained from her by threats and duress $15,000 in cash and a promissory note for $75,000. In addition he embezzled from her $40,000 worth of stocks and bonds, and, immediately upon disposing of these, fled.

White, on the other hand, alleges that his matrimonial consent was purchased for $100,000, of which but $15,000 was paid in cash; the balance was to be paid as soon as the widow could convert her securities.

It was for the purpose of securing this balance, White says, that Mrs. Nagle gave him her note for $75,000 and ample collateral security.

WAS GREYE DROWNED?

And, If So, Did He Walk Off the Pilgrim While Asleep.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance, on the night of Saturday, Oct. 8, of Otis Greye, known in New York as a promoter of several Southern enterprises and speculations. Greye left New York on the steamer Pilgrim of the Fall River Line at 4:30 p. m. Saturday. Nothing further was seen of him on the trip.

At Fall River his stateroom was entered and found to be vacant. The berth had apparently been occupied, but only for a short time. Greye's clothing and underwear were lying on a chair beside the berth. In the pockets of his clothes were found his ticket, a wallet containing certificates of stock and a small amount of money.

So far as can be learned now the only property missing is $450 in greenbacks.

Greye was a sonambulist and it is thought he may have fallen overboard while walking in his sleep. Murder and suicide are also suggested.

"That the President of the United States be authorized and directed to issue a proclamation recommending to the people the observance in all their localities of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America on October 21, 1892, by public demonstration and by suitable exercises in their schools and other places of assembly;"

And whereas, the President of the United States in pursuance of said authority, did on the 21st of July, 1892, issue this proclamation;

Now therefore, I, Leon Abbett, Governor of the State of New Jersey, in order to carry out the purposes of said resolution, do hereby recommend that October 21, 1892, be observed by the people of this State as a general holiday and day of Thanksgiving; that our citizens cease from toil and devote themselves on that day as far as possible to such exercises in their schools and other places of assembly as will properly celebrate the day and carry out the purposes of said resolution.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be hereunto affixed, at Trenton, this twentieth day of August, eighteen hundred and ninety-two.

HOW TO DRIVE.

How to Handle the Reins on Crowded Streets.

'Tis Art to Be Acquired Only with Practice —Col. Kane's "Tally-Ho" the Starting of a Popular Pastime in This Country.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

Certainly in no country in the world has there been the same accumulation of wealth during the past twenty years as in our own. Consequently there have been added large numbers to the class which is generally known as gentlemen of leisure. To this fact and the steady but slow improvement of our roads the increased popularity of driving must be attributed, and as our cities and driveways become more crowded the art of driving will become more necessary. Those who remember thirty years ago know that in those days our present crowded streets would, if we had not improved our driving methods, become one continual block, and as this crowd increases so will reforms have to be introduced that will facilitate traffic.

The rapid growth of coaching since its introduction in 1876 demonstrates how earnest and energetic a nation we are even in our pleasures and sports. When Col. De Lancey Kane brought over his "Tally-Ho" in that year he had no idea that the progress would be so great.

The colonel was at that time a most enthusiastic lover of coaching, for the year before he ran a coach in England from London to Virginia Water. He took his lessons from Edwin Fownes, Sr., a celebrated whip, who acted as coachman or guide, and after the season was over the colonel was sufficiently expert to drive with the best amateur whips in the whole of England. Many a time had such old whips as the Duke of Beaufort paid the highest compliments to the father of coaching in this country.

It was during the next season, 1876, that the colonel brought over the first coach, which he appropriately named

"Tally-Ho," and with him came Arthur Fownes, one of the sons of Edwin Fownes, to act as guard. This coach, although an entirely new institution, caught on right away, and the crowds that waited its starting and arrival on Fifth avenue, near the Brunswick, are well remembered by all lovers and admirers of coaching. It ran from the city to Pelham, making as its stopping place the well known Arcularius hotel.

COACHING BECOMING POPULAR.

The success of the first year's experiment induced Col. Kane to extend its trip the next season to New Rochelle, putting up at the Neptune house. After that year, 1877, it may be said that coaching in America had taken root, and it has blossomed into one of the most popular pastimes of the country.

Many people regard driving a horse as one of the simplest things imaginable, but driving in its true sense is an art that cannot be acquired without practice and the thorough knowledge of how to manage the horse, manipulate the reins and use the whip. Let anyone view the parade of carriages and horses of all kinds which is to be seen in our fashionable driveways and it will not take long to convince him that there are drivers and drivers.

TANDEM DRIVING.

Tandem driving will, perhaps, never become so popular as four-in-hand, but it must always be ranked as fashionable and at the same time a somewhat difficult art to acquire. Tandem has about it an attraction entirely different to driving a pair or four-in-hand, having scarcely anything in common with either.

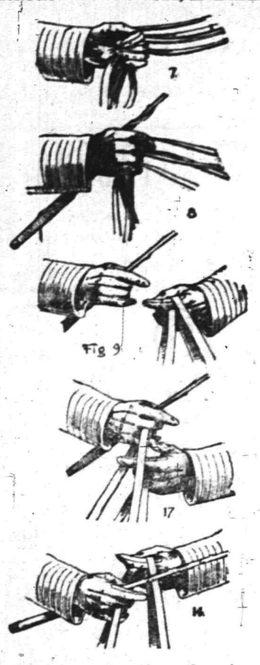
In driving tandem it is necessary to have a good box seat. Before getting up see that the bits drop in their places in the horses' mouths and that the curbs are not too tight. First hold the leader's rein in the right hand, with the left rein on top, as in figure No. 6. Place the wheeler's rein in the left hand, the right rein between the first and second fingers, and the other rein between the second and third, as in figure No. 6.

It is then necessary to keep the first finger open while you transfer the leader's reins from the right hand to the left, placing the left rein of the leader between the first finger and thumb, as in figure No. 7.

Place the reins in your left hand, as described, before mounting the box. When getting on the box the use of the left hand is required. The reins should be placed in the right hand, as in figure No. 8. As soon as comfortably seated upon the box replace the reins in the left hand in the same order as at first.

In order to avoid mishaps or delays see that both horses are well up in their traces and that the reins are neither too tight nor too slack.

The next thing to master is the management of the horse in turning. To turn to the left take hold of the leader's left rein with the right hand a few inches below the left hand, as in illustration No. 11; then draw the rein up over the left hand, which you should put forward a little at the same time until the rein forms a loop. The thumb should now be pressed tightly to hold the rein in this position until the turn is accomplished, when the rein should be allowed to assume its old position. In order to be prepared for any emergency you should have the right hand upon the right rein of the wheeler so as too prevent that horse from turning too quickly.



For the right turn it is only necessary to repeat this maneuver with the right rein of the leader. When looped the right hand should be ready to catch hold of the left rein of the wheeler, as in figure No. 12.

To pull off to the left side lay hold of the rein as in figure No. 13, and to the right side as in illustration No. 14. This requires practice, as the order of the reins should not be disturbed. It is necessary always that the leader be well in hand, for in turning sharply with the leader a free goer there is danger of the wheeler being thrown.

Before coming to the crest of a hill the best method is to take the leader's reins from the left to the right hand, holding them with the two bottom fingers, as in figure No 16. Then pull them back, placing the leader's reins in the left hand, but in so doing drop the left hand forward, as in figure No. 17. The reins will then be in the same position as before, excepting that the leader's reins will be shorter. If it be found necessary to take the wheeler back on going down hill take the leader's rein in the right hand and with thumb and finger hold the wheeler's reins behind the left hand, as in figure No. 18, at the same time allowing the left hand to go forward until the rein is the right length. Keep well hold of the reins that they will not slip, then place the leader's rein in its former position.

FOUR-IN-HAND.

Good judgment is one of the elements of a four-in-hand whip. The driving of four horses differs little from tandem excepting in the matter of starting. Take the reins in the left hand, as in illustration No. 7. Take hold of the two left reins and pull them out, as in illustration No. 19, until the buckles are perfectly even. This will leave the reins perfectly loose, but when you become seated on the box they will readjust themselves and become even.

The March of Civilization.

"Are you the widow of the man who was shot?" asked the Texas coroner of the woman who stood before him.

"Two hours ago I was," she replied, "but now I am the wife of the man who got the drop on him."—Truth.

Footing It.

She—Well?

He—Your father has just left me. When I asked him for your hand I told him that I was ready to put my best foot foremost, and—

She—And what did he say?

He—He said that he was also prepared to do the same.—Judge.

A GREAT TIE-UP LIKELY

Southwestern Railroads on the Verge of Trouble.

ATCHISON STRIKE ENDS IN A DAY.

It Was Caused by a Telegram Purporting to Come from Grand Chief Ramsey, Calling Out the Operators—The Order Was a Bogus One.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—The railways throughout the Southwest are on the verge of what will probably prove to be the most complete tie-up in recent years. A press representative this morning asked Grand Chief Ramsey of the Order of Railway Telegraphers what was being done on the Santa Fe system. Mr. Ramsey said: "Mr. E. S. Tobey, my private secretary and Deputy Grand Chief has full and complete charge of the situation on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe road. He ordered the telegraphers on that division to stop work and they obeyed. Yesterday the men on the Northern division between Purcell and Wichita were ordered out and I learn the order was obeyed promptly.

"If Mr. Tobey does not receive prompt and favorable response to his demand, you may be assured that every telegraph operator on the Santa Fe system and its many divisions and controlled lines will quit work."

In regard to the Missouri Pacific strike matter, Mr. Ramsey said: "We have just finished a conference with General Manager Smith and Superintendent Hammond and we will have a final meeting to-day. If no decision and agreement is reached at this meeting we will then give our ultimatum, setting a time limit that will probably result in some surprising action."

IT WAS ALL A MISTAKE.

A Bogus Despatch Caused the Strike on the Atchison Road.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 18.—A bogus despatch purporting to come from Grand Chief Ramsey, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, caused 900 operators and train despatchers on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe to desert their posts yesterday. The despatch was as follows:

"To all operators and despatchers—In view of the fact that the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe is operated by the Santa Fe, it is thought best that all operators on the Santa Fe should go out as well, as the company refuses to concede the conditions on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe schedule."

The walk-out resulted in the stoppage of all trains, and not a wheel was turned until the difficulty was settled.

General Manager Robinson, in speaking of the unexpected strike, said that it was all a mistake. He claims that Chief Ramsey did not write the despatch that resulted in the walk-out, but that it was sent by an operator in Dodge City named Johnson, who did it as a joke.

Last night a despatch from Grand Chief Ramsey, stating that the order to go out was bogus, was sent along the line, and the men returned to work.

This order did not affect the striking employes on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe.

General Manager Robinson said this morning: "The trouble on the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe is over the company's rules and regulations, and we did not expect the strike. I had expected to meet Mr. Ramsey to advise with him about that matter as soon as we could arrange a date."

Rio Grande Strike Will Not Spread.

DENVER, Oct. 18.—The strike of trainmen on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad remains unsettled and there is no immediate prospect of an agreement being reached. It is hardly probable that the strikers will receive aid from the other divisions. The switchmen and operators say the strike is ill-advised and they will have nothing to do with it. The strike will therefore hardly spread beyond its present limits.

STAMFORD'S CELEBRATION.

The City Filling Up With Visitors—Big Parade To-morrow.

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 18.—The event of last evening in the anniversary celebration was a concert by 200 children in Town Hall, which was filled to overflowing. Pupils, in appropriate costumes, by means of tableaux, recitations and songs, illustrated the history of the town, State and nation.

The squadron of four vessels, the Miantonomoh, Atlanta, Dolphin and Vesuvius, is now in the harbor, and thousands are visiting the ships to-day.

The programme of to-morrow's exercises is completed. There will be 5,000 in line, and elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of distinguished guests.

Stamford is filling up with visitors. To-night Pratt's "Triumph of Columbus" will be rendered with a chorus of 150 voices by the Stamford Oratorio Society, Alfred Hallmau, conductor, and an orchestra of thirty-five pieces.

HUNGARIANS VS. ITALIANS.

The Race War at Lattemer, Pa., Breaks Out Afresh.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 18.—The race war between Hungarian and Italian mine laborers at Lattemer broke out anew last evening. The Hungarians surrounded the Italian boarding houses and beat the inmates in a terrible manner. Two Italians were shot in the legs. They will recover.

John Merinko, the Hungarian who was shot in yesterday's battle, is dead. Peter Serlock and Michael Lenyko are lying at the point of death. Twenty arrests were made last night.

The Italians accused the Hungarians of taking their places in the mines.

STREET RAILROAD MEN.

Elaborate Arrangements for their Convention in Cleveland This Week.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 18.—The American Street Railroad Association will hold its annual convention in Cleveland on October 19, 20 and 21. The titles of the papers to be read are:

A model Electric Street-Railroad Bed, and Underground Wiring; a Perfect Overhead Electric Construction; Economy of Machine-Shops for Electric Street Railways; Power House Engines; Relative Cost Operation of Horse, Cable and Electric Roads; Standards for Electric Street Railways; Experiments on the Expansion of Continuous Rails; Is a Standard Rail-Head Possible?

The headquarters of the Association in Cleveland will be at the Hollendon Hotel, and the meeting will be held in the Young Men's Christian Association building.

An extensive exhibition of electric street car appliances will be held in the Army and Navy Building on Superior street, and several manufacturers of street cars and electric motors will have special exhibition cars in operation during the convention.

The vast importance of the subjects to be considered at the meetings promise to bring out a very large attendance of delegates and the supply men will also be present in large numbers with exhibits.

The "Street Railway News" of New York will publish a daily edition in Cleveland during the convention, which will give a synopsis of the proceedings and other news of interest to the delegates.

FLOWER AND THE HUGHES CASE.

The Governor Defers Action Until After the Election.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Gov. Flower was asked if he would make any reply to the resolutions of the Central Labor Union, of New York, denouncing him for refusing to pardon James Hughes, of Rochester, and practically threatening the Democratic party with the loss of 12,000 votes if the pardon was not granted before election? The Governor replied:

"I am not in the habit of granting pardons upon the demand or threat of any citizen or any body of citizens. Applications for executive clemency are considered on their merits. Nor do I conceive it my duty to grant pardons for campaign purposes.

"On account of the political aspect which Hughes' friends have given to the application in his behalf, I have refused to consider it until after election. It may as well be understood now as later that the Governor of this State is not to be bulldosed just before election, or at any other time, in the discharge of his official obligations."

THE BRITISH FLAG INSULTED.

An Outrage Perpetrated in New York By an Unknown Man.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—It has just been learned that an outrage on the British flag was perpetrated in Wall street on Friday.

About 5 o'clock, when the street was crowded with people going to their homes, after the day's business, an unknown man dashed up the stoop leading to the building of the Bank of British North America, No. 52 Wall street, and seizing hold of an English flag flying alongside of the American emblem tore it from its fastenings in front of the building, tore the flag to shreds, trampled it under his feet, all the while muttering maledictions, broke the staff into pieces and walked away.

The crowd looked on in amazement at the acts of the man, and although his proceeding were heartily denounced, no one interfered.

The man disappeared and no trace of him could be found, or anything which would lead to his identity.

The flag was a part of the decorations on the building in honor of the Columbian celebration.

DR. GRAVES' CASE.

Believed That He Will be Released on Bail and the Matter Dropped.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 18.—The appeal of Dr. Graves against his conviction and sentence to death for the murder of Mrs. Barnaby came up for consideration by the Supreme Court yesterday.

Elaborate briefs had been prepared for the prisoner as well as on behalf of the State.

Among the general public as well as in legal circles the opinion generally prevails that a new trial will be granted, that Graves will be released on bail, and that the indictment will then be pigeonholed.

Since the original trial of the case, District-Attorney Burleigh has vacated that position, and it is believed that the present incumbent is a strong believer in the innocence of the convicted man.

It is probably in anticipation of action by the Supreme Court favorable to the prisoner that the Barnaby family at Providence has been endeavoring to make a settlement by which all the legacies made by the dead woman, except that to Dr. Graves, shall be paid, so that the Barnaby and Conrad families may combine to defeat the Graves legacy.

MRS. HARRISON CHEERFUL.

The President Able to Attend to State Affairs a Short Time.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Harrison was more cheerful yesterday, although her condition has not materially changed. The President was able to devote a short time to work in his office.

No change is noted in Mrs. Harrison's condition to-day. She passed a comfortable night, and is resting easy.

WRECK OF THE BOKHARA

Only Twenty-Three Saved Out of Two Hundred on Board.

SHE WAS STRUCK BY A TYPHOON.

Driven on a Lee Shore—Passengers Swept Overboard and the Boats Smashed to Pieces—The Ship a Total Loss—Her Cargo Very Valuable.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Later despatches concerning the wreck of the Peninsula & Oriental steamship Bokhara in the channel of Fokien in the China Sea confirm the first reports of the disaster and give additional details.

The weather was terrific, and the raging waters quenched the fires on the steamer. The steamer became unmanageable and sank, and the commander and a majority of the officers and crew were lost.

There were 200 persons on board. Of these 177 were drowned. Twenty passengers, five officers and three sergeants of the Hong Kong garrison were among the lost. Among the saved are Dr. Lowson and Lieut. Markham.

Some time after the Bokhara left Shanghai the barometer began to fall, and the vessel was made snug alow and aloft to ride out the gale that was known to be approaching.

In a few more hours the wind was blowing a terrific gale. The steamer was to the westward of Formosa, where typhoons are of frequent occurrence, and in the cymparatively narrow waterway she did not have safe sea room. The sea was running tremendously high and efforts were made to lay the steamer head on; but with the wind shifting about the compass, a peculiarity of typhoons, this was impossible.

Soon a terribly high cross sea was running and the steamer was pitched about like an empty bottle. Her hatches were closely battened down, but the seas that boarded her soon tore the tarpaulins off, and shortly the hatches themselves were lifted and carried overboard. Spare sails were then lashed over the openings, but these were of little service in preventing the seas from entering the hold, and soon tons of water had entered the steamer. Water began to pour into the fire room, and, though every effort was made to keep it out, it began to gain on the pumps, which were working at their utmost capacity.

Consternation prevailed among the passengers. None of them was allowed on deck.

They were mostly Chinese, and had it not been for the fact that they were locked below many would undoubtedly have jumped into the sea.

Soon the coal passers and firemen were drowned out by the water rising in the fire room, and a few moments later the fires were extinguished.

The situation of the ship was now most precarious. Hawsers were thrown out to keep the vessel's head up to the wind, but she broached to, and she was soon rolling and pitching fearfully in the cross seas that were pounding her, and very often making clean breaches over her.

Suddenly, above the bowling and shrieking of the wind, a dull, booming sound was heard, and those on board knew they were drifting on a lee shore, and that the sound they heard was the sound of the crashing of rollers on the shore.

Soon through the blinding rain land was seen close at hand, and in a few minutes the steamer struck. Everyone was ordered on deck. The passengers had put on life preservers, but these were of little use, as many of the people were swept overboard and drowned by the seas breaking over them.

It was impossible to lower the boats. Those on the windward side of the steamer were smashed to pieces soon after she stranded, while those on the lee side could not be approached because of the seas that were sweeping the steamer's decks.

All hands huddled under the lee of the deck houses for what little shelter they afforded, but every time a sea surged over the vessel their number grew less, some of them having been carried away each time.

The twenty-three who were saved managed by almost superhuman efforts to hold on until the storm subsided. Then they were taken off in an exhausted condition.

It is probable that all the rescued will be brought to Hong Kong on Tuesday. The steamer Ancona has been sent to the wreck.

The cargo of the Bokhara was very valuable. It comprised a large amount of specie and a large consignment of silk.

Assaulted by a Tramp.

SUNBURY, Pa., Oct. 18.—When Emory Boyer, the son of Levi Boyer, a prominent politician of Paint township, Northumberland county, went to the barn at his home yesterday to hitch up a team, he was assaulted by a tramp with a coupling pin, and his head was beaten into a jelly. The father came to his son's aid and was seriously injured. The murderer is being hunted by a posse, and will probably be lynched if caught.

Yale to Make an Exhibit.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 18.—President Timothy Dwight of Yale University, has written to Major Woods of the Connecticut World's Fair Commission, asking that 1,000 square feet of space be apportioned the University for an exhibit at the Fair. The character of the exhibit has not yet been determined.

Gray Gables for Sale.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 18.—A Marion special says that ex-President Cleveland's Buzzards Bay residence, known as Gray Gables, is for sale, and it is stated that Mr. Cleveland will again make his summer home at Marion.

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATS.

The Condition in That State Not Entirely Satisfactory to the State Committee.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 18.—Everything that has been attempted in the way of harmony by the Democratic managers has so far proved a failure. Governor Abbett's presence in the canvass prevents the patching up of factional differences. His enemies in his own party proclaim their intention of laying him on the shelf. The anti-Abbett members of the committee are taking little interest in the Gubernatorial campaign and seldom visit headquarters. In fact it is difficult for Chairman McDermott to get a quorum to attend the regular meetings. Whatever is to be done, for nothing has been done yet in the way of an active canvass will have to be transacted by Gov. Abbett's friends, who have control of the headquarters and the funds. Appeals are pouring in begging the committee to get Judge Werts to write an open letter pledging himself, in case of election, to repudiate Abbett and repeal all the acts of the present administration.

Since the Newark "News" came out for John Kean, jr., for Governor, its old contemporaries have been jumping on it. They charge that the "News" misunderstands Wert's attitude. To disprove this charge the "News" has published a paragraph referring to Mr. Werts' position in the campaign, in which it says that Mr. Werts was nominated, despite his protests, on a platform which indorsed the scandalous record of bossism which has made the people of New Jersey groan in anguish of spirit, and that he is likely to yield in the future to the behests of the bosses as he has in the past.

NEITHER SIDE SCORED.

First Game Between Cleveland and Boston for the Championship.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 18.—The Clevelands and Bostons played the first game for the world's championship yesterday afternoon. Eleven innings were played, and neither side made a run. Then it was found necessary to call the game on account of darkness. The hits made by either club were few, and the pitchers had by all odds the brunt of the battle to bear.

Both Young and Stivetts were in great form, having speed, good control, and plenty of curves.

Young pitched the entire eleven innings without giving a base on balls. While there was a lack of base hits, there were several good fielding plays. The first basemen of both teams played their positions admirably. The Bostons found it impossible to steal bases on Zimmer, and the Clevelands got but one or two chances to try it on Kelly. The latter did not catch particularly well. The nearest that either side came to making a run was in the ninth inning with Cleveland at the bat.

WHERE IS SOMERBY?

He Has Made Himself Scarce Since Being Indicted.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The whereabouts of Freeman D. Somerby, Supreme President of one of the two reorganized branches of Iron Hall, is a matter of much speculation in this city. For nearly two months he has been visiting one city after another endeavoring to arouse enthusiasm for the order, but he carefully avoids Philadelphia and Indianapolis.

In the latter city there is already an indictment against him, and since the arrest of Messrs. Stockwell and Hayes he has not been seen here. From time to time reports of his doings in other cities have been received here, but when he will return to his home here is a question none can solve.

District-Attorney Graham refuses to say whether he intends arresting Somerby should he return home, and his son says he has no idea where his father is, as he seldom hears from him.

MINER LAW UPHELD.

The Supreme Court Decides in Favor of the Michigan Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The United States Supreme Court has affirmed the ruling of the State Court of Michigan in the case involving the constitutionality of the Miner election law. This decision is in favor of the Democrats. By the Miner law which this decision upholds presidential electors are chosen by districts.

The Supreme Court holds that the law of Michigan dividing the State into districts for the election of Presidential electors is invalid only so far as it conflicts with the act of Congress of 1887, relating to time of meeting of the electors. The act is not obnoxious to the provisions of the constitution conferring upon the State Legislature the power to fix the manner of choosing electors. The views of the court will be written at length later by Chief Justice Fuller.

FOR CORBETT AND JACKSON.

The National Club of London Will Give $20,000 for a Mill.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Capt. Cook, of this city, has received a cablegram from the London "Sportsman," under date of Oct. 16, stating that the National Club, of London, offers 4,000 pounds for a glove contest between Champion James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson.

The club guarantees Jackson all the betting and backing that Corbett may require, and will consent to any time for the meeting which the competitors may decide upon, although preferring the end of spring or late in April.

Capt. Cook has wired the cablegram to Corbett.

Arranging Another Long-Distance Race.

VIENNA, Oct. 18.—Archduke Albert, of Austria, is trying to arrange a long-distance ride from Vienna to Rome, and Rome to Vienna, on the same plan as the recent riding competition between officers of the Austro-Hungarian and German armies. The participants in the competition proposed by Archduke Albert would be Italian and Austro-Hungarian officers, and the ride would be attended by much greater national difficulties than exist between Vienna and Berlin.

A Prince After an American Heiress.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—It is stated that Prince Metternich has gone to the United States to marry an American heiress. The Austrian Embassy officials in Berlin declare their belief that the Emperor will forbid the marriage, as the Kaiser is said to have done in the case of Herr Von Brandt, German Minister to China, who also sought an American bride.

BIG RUSH TO CHICAGO

The Celebration Expected to Draw 500,000 Visitors.

CITY GORGEOUSLY DECORATED

Over a Million Dollars Spent in Trimming the Buildings—No Hard Feelings in the Windy City Because of the Alleged Ill Treatment of Her Aldermen in New York—Extortionate Hotel Rates—Dedicatory Exercises Begin To-morrow.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The great rush to the Columbian celebration of this week is fairly under way, and every train that comes into the city is packed with visitors. It is expected that 500,000 strangers will be here during the next four days.

The city is in holiday attire. From each window of the Siegel, Cooper & Co. building on State street swings a large American flag, while the remainder of the building is one mass of bunting artistically draped. Work on the Auditorium is nearly finished.

Along the line of march the most beautiful designs are to be seen. In the northern part of the parade district hundreds of yards of bunting are arranged in tasty designs and aided by banners, patriotic emblems and national colors. Work on the City Hall and County building has been commenced.

On the County building there is a large canvass typifying the landing of Columbus. Over the Randolph street front is a painted bust of the Goddess of Liberty. The portraits of Washington and Grant adorn other parts of the building, and it is probable that the City Hall and County building will be one of the most attractive on dedication day.

The most striking decorations to be seen on the lake front will be the Auditorium electric arch at the corner of Congress street and Michigan avenue. Four masts, rising from ornamental bases and carrying gold leafed globes, will be connected by lines of tinted incandescent lights. Flags, banners and festoons will make the arch beautiful by day, and the thousand glowing globes will give it renewed charms at night.

It is estimated that $1,500,000 will not cover the cost of decorations.

Concerning the alleged lack of courtesy in the treatment of the Chicago Aldermen who attended New York's celebration last week, the "Tribune" says editorially that it was no doubt entirely unintentional, and that nothing will be left undone here to make it comfortable for visitors from New York.

The "Tribune" editorial concludes as follows:

"Whatever ill-feeling may have existed in New York toward Chicago in the past, we trust, has died out, and they are now prepared to fraternize in the effort to celebrate the Quadro-Centennial, and after that is over to work together commercially in the future, as in the past, for the common good."

Congressman Breckinridge courteously declines the invitation of John Boyd Thatcher to make a speech at the dedication of New York's buildings next Saturday. He says he thinks it best not to make any speeches in Chicago dedication week.

The leading hotels are demanding almost incredible prices. Two gentlemen from New York now stopping at a downtown hotel were notified yesterday that the room they were jointly occupying would cost them at the rate of $75 each a day during the week. When they protested the landlord replied that one man's money was as good as another's and that the sooner they got out the better.

Fifty dollars a day for the three days of the exercises is the figure quoted at a number of hostelries where popular prices are generally charged.

The dedicatory exercises begin tomorrow. The programme for the week has already been given in these despatches.

BULLYING ENGLAND.

Pursuing Her Usual High Handed Course in the Gilbert Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—A correspondent, writing from Butaritara, Gilbert Islands, under date of Aug. 18, says that since the British flag was hoisted in July Americans have been subjected to many insults, and the native chiefs have been told plainly not to pay any attention to United States Consular Agent Rick.

Commander Davis of the British man-of-war Royalist goes out of his way to insult both the king and Americans. When he read in the San Francisco papers of the attention paid to King Tebureimoa on his recent visit to California, he cursed the King and Americans, saying the latter had turned the King's head and that he would soon put an end to it.

Later he made Captain Kustel, local manager of Wightman Brothers of San Francisco, pay $40 to a native who deserted from Kustel's schooner after receiving his advance money and pulled a pistol on Kustel when pursued. Mr. Kustel has sent the facts to Washington.

UNUSUAL PROBATE CASE.

A Reputed Widow Turns Out to Have Been Married.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 18.—At the Probate Court interesting facts were developed during the probate of the will of Susan Overton. Mrs. Overton lived with her sons at the time of her death and was supposed to be a widow. She left considerable real estate and a large bank account.

Her sons applied for the appointment of a receiver. A young man named Jas. Graham appeared and said he was the husband of the deceased woman, showing a marriage certificate in proof of his assertion.

Graham had boarded with Mrs. Overton and had married her, although she was old enough to be his mother.

Confessed She Shot Him.

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., Oct. 18.—Mrs. Harto, who shot and killed Leonard Mitchell on Saturday night, has admitted the shooting and says that the pistol belonged to her. She, however, disclaims any motive for her act, and refuses to explain the circumstances fully.

A Dominie on the Stump.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Rev. Dr. McKean, of Troy, will speak at Republican meetings at Hampton, Hartford, Argyle and Fort Edward. Gen. George A. Sheridan will speak at Glens Falls Oct. 21. John P. St. John will speak at Sandy Hill the same night.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

All interested are requested to apply at the rooms to-night, when they will be told of the success in business that has come to former members of this class through their knowledge of this useful art.

A Commanche From Plainfield.

The Elizabeth Herald says that early Sunday evening, officer T. P. Nolan arrested at the Elizabethport station Michael Donohue, of Plainfield, who was just drunk enough not to know what was good for him.

Donahue was shouting like a Commanche Indian when he was approached by the officer and warned to desist, but instead of doing so became insolent and demanded of the officer what business he had to interfere with anybody who was waiting for a train. When told to accompany the officer, Donohue lay down and refused to budge until he was persuaded in no gentle manner that it was best for him to do so. On being arraigned yesterday morning he was committed to jail for twenty days.

Good Time at the Boys' Club.

The boys at the Boys' club entertainment last night numbered (8). The event was highly enjoyable. There was excellent vocal music by Miss Schafer, and Mr. Cullinan gave fine banjo playing. Recitations by Miss Moore were another pleasant feature of the programme. A happy speech was made by the Rev. P. E. Smyth, who gave the boys much good advice.

EXTRA!

SPENCER FOR SURROGATE.

Somerset County Republican Nominations.

SOMERVILLE, Oct. 18, 3:30 p. m.—Geo. A. Dilts, of Raritan, was nominated for sheriff of Somerset county in the Republican convention held here to-day on the fourth ballot.

H. Newton Spencer, of North Plainfield, was nominated for surrogate on the first ballot. The nomination for assembly was unanimously given to Dr. James T. VanDerveer, of Branchburgh.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Greer, at Jackson avenue, yesterday afternoon.

D. W. Dorman, one of the first foremen of the old Gazelle hand engine, 30 years ago, and builder of the octagon houses at Fifth street and Park avenue, is in town visiting old friends and reviving old memories. He is now a prosperous citizen of Illinois. He will probably be at the firemen's banquet to-night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gœller, of 154 West Third street, celebrated the fifth anniversary of their wedding, Saturday evening. Music and dancing were indulged in until supper was served, after which Frederick Franks of New York gave several recitations, which were greatly enjoyed. The guests departed in high spirits, bestowing hearty congratulations on the host and hostess.

TO MOVE LAING'S HALL.

The Building to Face Madison Avenue—The Old Hotel Landmark Almost Gone.

Laing's Hotel is now pretty well demolished, and will soon be a thing of the past. The "annex", however, known as Laing's hall, is to be left standing, but will be turned around so as to face the Madison avenue extension, and be removed to 160 feet in the rear of Front street. The desired permission for this removal was granted by the common council to owners Babcock and Stillman last evening.

All for Gerber.

The following are the delegates elected at the Democratic primaries in this city, last evening, to attend the county convention at Elizabeth to-morrow. They are all opposed to the renomination of county clerk Crowell, claiming that he, or at least his friends, were instrumental in the betrayal of James E. Martine:

They Will Play on the Tracks.

A young son of James F. Buckle, of the popular house-decorating firm of Woolston & Buckle, was injured on the Jersey Central railroad yesterday afternoon. He and other lads were playing with empty coal cars on the siding at Fourth street, pushing them down the grade for the sake of the ride. Young Buckle was pushed off or fell, and one of the huge iron wheels crushed a foot. Dr. Tomlinson by skillful surgery saved the injured member from the necessity of amputation. There are bad fractures of the bones that will take a long time to heal.

These accidents on the rail should be a warning to those youths who play on the tracks.

Interesting to Athletes.

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, N. J., says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession, I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS, I tried other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S give almost instantaneous relief, and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back put two plasters on the small of the back and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In "sprint" and "distance" races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can invariably be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

THE PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL.

Its Course of Study as Now Arranged Too Severe for the Pupils—A Considerate View of the Subject by a Correspondent.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—A few days ago a class of young ladies in the High School of Rochester petitioned the board of education to make some changes in the course of study on the ground that "they were worked too hard". They reinforced their plea by quoting the opinion of a leading physician of their city that "the Rochester High School is working havoc with the girls".

There is something radically wrong with the curriculum of a school of which such things can be said. Any girl or boy of average brightness and fair health ought to be able to pursue all the studies of the usual High School course without taking any risk of breaking down the nervous system.

But can this be done in any High School? To bring the question home, Can it be done in the Plainfield High School? No, it must be answered, not even in the excellent school of Plainfield. I have the temerity to say this who knows that it is almost an unpardonable offence to pass any strictures upon the conduct of the public schools of this city.

I maintain that the High School system in Plainfield is so defective that only a very few pupils can endure the strain that is put upon those who desire to take the complete classical course. I know that only last year, to go no further back, five young ladies were compelled to drop out of that course because "they were worked too hard", to quote the words of the Rochester students. Others of the class who went on with the course did so at their peril, although certain temporary readjustments of their work were allowed that made the burden a little lighter.

These illustrations need not be multiplied, as they might be by citing the experience of this year's pupils who have had to fall out of the classical course or those who have been detained from entering upon it on account of its exactions.

If we are to enjoy the luxury of a High school at public expense, there is a manifest injustice in not arranging the system so that all who wish can avail themselves of its utmost advantages.

It is not for one who is no expert in educational matters to suggest the proper remedy for the evil complained of. It is enough if he insists that such a remedy should be found by those to whom the management of the school is committed.

I can imagine that a change to one session a day for the advanced classes would contribute not a little to the result desired. This might perhaps require the assistance of one more teacher of Greek or Latin, or both, and so increase the cost of the school by the amount of his salary. But if that small additional expense should make the system the success it ought to be by securing the greatest good to the greatest number, it would be a wise policy to incur it.

The one session plan would free the pupil from about two hours confinement in the school room which would be a great physicical gain of itself, besides giving that much more time for preparing the lessons. Some High schools have tried this plan and find it very satisfactory.

If this simple change in the conduct of our High school should prove sufficient to make the classical course possible to every pupil, it would be an easy solution of the problem. If other changes in addition are needed, let them be made. Certain it is, the time has come when the system of study should be reformed.

SCHOOL CELEBRATION.

Washingtonville to Fly a Banner from a Remarkable Old Flag-Pole.

The trustees and scholars of the Washingtonville school have purchased a handsome new flag to be floated over the school-house Discovery Day. It was thought necessary at first to procure a new flag-pole also, the present one having been in position for over thirty years. On examination, however, it was discovered that the pole was perfectly sound, the pure mountain air having effectually preserved it from decay.

The school, under the tuition of John F. Reger, is preparing for a fine Columbus celebration, which will take place in the Washingtonville Memorial chapel next Friday evening. There will be no charge for admission.

PEACE STREET LINGERS.

The Project to be Hampered by Another Long-Drawn-Out Investigation.

S. A. Ginna, Rufus K. Case and Charles J. Fisk were last night appointed by the common council commissioners to review the report of the Peace street commissioners and adjust the differences over the assessments made. The objectors on this side of the brook were Sarah A. MacDonald, Charles S. Guion and Frederick Hughes, who were dissatisfied with the amounts fixed on their property by the original commissioners, and therefore appealed. The new commissioners will act jointly with the North Plainfield township committee in fixing a new schedule of damages and benefits.

Ought to be smaller — the great, griping, old-fashioned pill. There's too much unpleasantness for the money. Ought to be better, too. They're big enough, and make trouble enough, to do more good.

That's just what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do,—more good. Instead of weakening the system, they renovate it; instead of upsetting, they cleanse and regulate it—mildly, gently, and naturally. They're the original Little Liver Pills—the smallest but most effective, purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and easiest to take. Only one little Pellet for a laxative—three for a cathartic. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attack, and all derangements of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're the cheapest pills you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get. It's a plan peculiar to Dr. Pierce's medicines.

Miss Ellis and "Dr. Bill."

The debut in this city of Miss Celie Ellis in legitimate comedy, last evening, was a most flattering occasion to that clever and beautiful young woman. Plainfield's highest society turned out en masse, and the Park club showered upon her American Beauty roses galore, while the wife of Mayor Saunders testified her good will and approval with a huge bouquet of mermets. The only regret of the evening was that Miss Ellis failed to do herself justice. She had been driven into a highly nervous state by the sordid persecution of a certain physician of the city, who took advantage of her presence in Plainfield to persecute her by seizing her costumes in payment of a bill he claimed was owing him by a relative of Miss Ellis. Of course he got the money and seemed to be very proud about it. The other members of the company, also, are deserving of praise with the exception of W. Miller Farnum. It was so evident that he could play his part of Dr. Bill so much better if he would n't try to act it, and so plain that he thought he was just about right in every respect as it was, that the audience had no applause for him.

—Some of Plainfield's leading women are pupils of Mrs. Griffin in painting on canvas and china. The talented artist is now booking new classes, and applications for instruction should be made at once.

"DEAD BROKE!"

A Cheeky Wheelman Finds Jerseymen Ready to Help the Penniless.

Harry Hilliard Wylie, of New York and Chicago, passed through Plainfield yesterday, bound on a thousand-mile trip on his bicycle, the result of a wager on the part of two leading wheel firms whether or not he can go from New York to Chicago without the outlay of a single penny and without a cent in his pocket.

Mr. Wylie has made a trip of this kind before, going from New York to Washington and return with but the expenditure of thirty cents, twenty of that going for a shave in the Capitol city.

Mr. Wylie left New York at an early hour yesterday, and tried at three ferries before he could beat his way over the river. Finally at the Cortlant street ferry of the Pennsylvania railroad the ferryman permitted him to pass, but absolutely refused to note the fact in a little book which the bicyclist carries, and in which everyone who gives him a meal or accords him the privilege of a night's lodging is asked to write his name and the assistance given.

The reason given by the ferry-master for not signing was that it might come back on him and be the cause of his discharge.

Mr. Wylie is a young man of pleasing appearance and intends on reaching Chicago to go on the staff of Bearings, a cycle organ.

He was dressed in the regulation knicker-bocker cycling suit, and carried on the front part of his wheel a rubber coat and one extra pair of stockings. These he expects to last until he has completed his journey, which he will do in about two weeks. On the handle-bar of his machine, and hanging over the front wheel, is a placard lettered "New York and Chicago—Dead Broke".

After hospitable treatment by cycle-dealer Rogers of this city, Wylie went on his way. He arrived in Somerville at 11, and at once hunted out Dr. Charles B. Mathewson, who as a member of the Somerset wheelmen is greatly interested in cycling. Dr. Mathewson took him to the County House, where F. V. Mount, the proprietor, another enthusiastic wheelman, gave him his dinner and inscribed some touching words in the young man's book. After dinner an interview was had by a PRESS representative with Mr. Wylie, who said that it seemed very hard to be running the country without a cent in one's pocket. He did not anticipate any trouble, however, as he would meet wheelmen in most every town he stopped. He sends a letter ahead to the club in the town he is about to strike, urging that he be taken care of, and saying that it is always meal time with him. Both the paper and envelopes have the words "Dead Broke" in large blue letters across their face.

In his trip to the Windy City, Wylie will go by way of Philadelphia, Hagerstown, Md., Wheeling, W. Va., Columbus, Ohio, and Indianapolis. He seemed to be in the best of spirits when he left for Trenton, where he stopped last night.

Somerset County Nominees.

The Democratic county convention was held at Somerville, yesterday, to nominate a surrogate, sheriff and assemblyman for Somerset county. The morning was devoted to appointing committees. When the convention met in the afternoon Lewis R. Blackford of North Plainfield was chosen permanent chairman.

At the call of the townships for surrogate, A. P. Huff was nominated on the first ballot by the vote of 35 to 10. The contest for sheriff was very gracefully given up by C. D. McMurtry of Bridgewater to Jacob S. Hoagland of Montgomery. In the assembly fight Geo. H. Cramer of Branchburgh won on the second ballot. The convention was addressed by the candidates and the Hon. J. A. Geissenhainer, nominee of the Third Congressional district.

Good Foot-Ball Playing.

Leal's foot-ball team will play the Pingrys of Elizabeth Wednesday afternoon, on the Crescent grounds.

Saturday afternoon, on the same grounds, the Leals will play the Brooklyn Latin school, who defeated the crack Polytechnics 48 to 0.

Both games will begin at 3:30. There will be good playing, and these interesting games should be attended by all lovers of manly out-door sport. It is from such teams as the Leals that the collegiate foot-ball teams are recruited, and the local branch of the sport should be heartily encouraged.

Gerber for County Clerk.

[New York World.]

The hot fight at the primaries throughout Union county last night was very close between Gerber and Crowell for county clerk. Gerber carried the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth Wards of Elizabeth, with a total of 59 delegates. Crowell has carried Rahway solid, the Seventh and Ninth Wards of Elizabeth, and the indications are that he has carried a majority of the townships. Gerber carried the First, Second, Third and Fourth Wards of Plainfield, which insures him the nomination on the first ballot.

Clear Title to the Property.

A deed transferring the engine-house property on Front street to George H. Babcock and Wm. M. Stillman has already been made, and the first part of the purchase money paid. But the property was bound by a trust mortgage necessitated by the fire department bonds, and this is now to be lifted and a new deed made out giving the purchasers title free and clear.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

NO PASTOR YET.

But The Rev. Richardson of Brooklyn Will Probably be Called.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: "The Rev. J. W. Richardson, who has been for about a year pastor of the Centennial Baptist church, Adelphi street, near Myrtle avenue, succeeding the Rev. Samuel McBride, D. D., who is now the secretary of the Society for the evangelization of Ireland, has just received a unanimous call to become the pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church of Plainfield, N. J.

"This is considered a flattering call, as the church is in a good financial condition and has a good property. Mr. Richardson has not, it is understood, publicly stated his intentions in the matter, but it is considered very probable that he would accept. His determination will not probably be made public until after the meeting of the Long Island Baptist association, which convenes in annual session in the Centennial church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week."

The Eagle is misinformed. No one has as yet been called to the Park Avenue pastorate. Mr. Richardson is favored by many, but he refuses to come unless the call is unanimous. To-morrow evening the congregation of the church will meet to discuss the matter, and the probabilities are that the Rev. Mr. Richardson will be given a unanimous call. He has preached here several times.

THE PEOPLE TO BE HEARD.

North Plainfield's Council to Listen to Everyone's Views on the Street-Railway Extension Matter.

Mayor Saunders of the borough is determined that the public shall have full and free opportunity to make known their wishes in the matter of electric-railway extension, and has therefore issued the following notice:

To all parties interested in the matter of the proposed street railway in Somerset street in the Borough of North Plainfield:

Notice is hereby given that application has been made to the Mayor and Council of the Borough of North Plainfield by the Board of Directors of the Plainfield Street Railway Company for the right to extend the track of said company into said Borough of North Plainfield and a location of said tracks on Somerset street, beginning at the division line between said borough and the City of Plainfield and running thence northerly along Somerset street to Johnston's Drive, together with the right to operate street cars thereon by means of electricity, overhead wires, or other approved motive power, and the said Mayor and Council will consider such application for location at the next regular meeting thereof to be held in the council chamber of the Borough of North Plainfield on Friday, the fourth day of November, 1892, at eight o'clock p. m., at which said time and place all persons interested in said matter are invited to be present and will be given an opportunity to express their views upon said subject.

And further notice is hereby given that at the time and place aforesaid said Mayor and Council will consider and act upon a proposed ordinance whereby it is proposed to locate said tracks as aforesaid and which is intended to provide for the laying of a single track street railway upon said street with suitable turnouts and switches, no turnout to be more than one hundred feet long nor nearer any other than two thousand feet.

That said company shall keep in repair the part of the street occupied by its tracks and eighteen inches on each side thereof. The rails to be of best quality and pattern of side bearing grooved rails and all work and material to be first-class, and according to specifications to be submitted to and approved by said Mayor and Council.

Said railway to be completed and in operation within five months next after the adoption of said ordinance. Cars to be lighted by electricity and properly heated in winter and to be of the same pattern as those now in use in Plainfield, and to be supplied with the most approved noiseless gearing and propelled by electricity, supplied by overhead wires supported by poles of steel or iron and properly insulated. Fares to be five cents for adults and children over ten years of age. School children, teachers and children over four and under ten years of age, three cents; a single fare shall entitle passengers to ride over the entire lines of said company within the combined limits of said Borough and the City of Plainfield.

A proper license fee to be charged said company for the running of its cars, the amount to be determined at said meeting. Cars to be run at proper headway and passengers to be carried through from Johnston's Drive to the railroad station in Plainfield and from that point to Johnston's Drive without change of cars.

The borough to have the power to compel said company to adopt such new and approved methods of propelling its cars as shall from time to time be developed, and in case of the adoption of any new and improved method rendering the use of overhead wires unnecessary, to remove such wires and poles supporting the same.

Said company to enter into a contract with said borough, secured by a bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful observance by said company of all the requirements of said ordinance, and upon failure to perform the same to forfeit said bond and also all right to operate said railway.

The said proposed ordinance is subject to such change and amendment as public interest may require.

(signed) WILLIAM L. SAUNDERS, Mayor.

Dated October 13, 1892.
H. H. BROKAW, Borough Clerk.

Rally for Tariff Restriction and Good Government.

Democrats and Republicans alike are invited to the mass meeting at Music Hall to morrow night. Everybody may be sure of an able tariff speech from Lindley Vinton, and a rousing address from Charles H. Winfield. James Clark will preside at the meeting. Special seats will be reserved for the ladies, and the latter may be assured of a pleasant and instructive entertainment.

The Cleveland and Stevenson club under whose auspices the meeting is given, earnestly requests all loyal Democrats, and all who are this year united with them under the issue of tariff reform, to be present and to assist the club in its effort to make this meeting a grand success.

It May be Interesting to Know

That when excursion rates are made to Chicago for people who live in the East, to enable them to attend the World's Fair next year, it is contemplated by the Western roads to also make excursion rates from Chicago to all principal business and tourist points in the West, Northwest and Southwest, so that those who desire to spend a few weeks among their friends in the Great West, may have an opportunity of so doing without incurring much additional expense. It may be well to consider this subject in advance of actual time of starting, and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Co. has issued maps and time tables and other instructive reading matter, which it will be glad to furnish free of expense upon application by postal card addressed to Wm. Kelly, jr., Traveling Passenger Agent, 50 S. Third St., Philadelphia, Pa., or to Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill. 2t

ONE KILLED, TWO WOUNDED.

Bold Daylight Robbery and Chase After Highwaymen at Port Jervis.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Shortly before 10 a. m. three tramps attacked and assaulted Ephraim Shay, a milkman from Sussex County, N. J., and robbed him of $200 in money.

The affray in broad daylight on a public street attracted a crowd and the police.

The robbers started to run away, but were met by Chief of Police Yaples and in the melee which followed one of the highwaymen was shot dead and the other two wounded.

The wounded men run for the Delaware river hotly pursued by the crowd. They swam the channel to a small island, where they hid, but were afterward captured and locked up. There has been no such excitement in town since the lynching of the negro Lewis.

DIPHTHERIA'S RAVAGES.

Many Deaths in and Near Philadelphia—Closing the Schools.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The ravages of diphtheria in Norwegian township, Schuylkill County, have become so great that the school directors have closed the schools at Hazleville. Almost every family is afflicted.

The disease is prevailing to an alarming extent in Conshohocken, near here, the deaths having reached a dozen or more. Two children died yesterday. The contagion has assumed such an alarming hold that there is talk of closing the public schools until it abates.

Thirty-three new cases of diphtheria were reported in this city during the past forty-eight hours. At present fifteen houses are quarantined and vigorous measures are being taken to wipe out the disease. The Board of Health will take action to-day on the funeral of Leopold Furth, an undertaker, who recently died from the disease, being made public.

MORAL EVILS OF M'KINLEYISM.

Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, Attorney General Under Garfield, Arraigns High Tariff.

The economic evils, however great, of the McKinley bill and the unreasonable system of protection it represents are of far less importance to my mind than the moral evils which follow in their wake. In deciding for what purposes the masses of the people may properly be taxed, it must not be forgotten that taxes have a wonderful capacity for filtering through all intervening obstacles till they reach the bowed back of toil and rest there, and therefore the giving of bounties under any form of taxation is mainly the giving away of the wages of labor. The sad truth that the curse of the poor is their poverty is illustrated in nothing more clearly than in the undue share they suffer of the burdens of taxation.

But apart from this consideration, ought not taxes only to be imposed as required for public purposes, or may they also be imposed for the pecuniary advantage of such persons or classes as are able to control congressional action in their favor? It seems to me like a travesty on taxation to require, as the McKinley bill does, the farmer who grows corn in Indiana to pay a bounty to the farmer who produces cane sugar in Louisiana, or to require the farmer who grows wheat in Pennsylvania to pay a bounty to the farmer who produces maple sugar in Vermont; but it is nearer tragedy than travesty to tax the masses of the people to increase the wealth of the very wealthy owners of most of our protected industries.

But even such inequality and injustice are the least of its evils, for while such a system endures political corruption is absolutely sure to increase, as such a system not only invites but it requires the corrupt use of money both at the polls and in congress. It is of its very essence that "fat" shall be "fried" out of its beneficiaries. Who shall happen to do the "frying" or who shall happen to distribute the "fat" upon any particular occasion is mere matter of detail; but while that system lasts both will continue to be done by somebody.—Wayne MacVeagh.

A Blindfold Argument for McKinleyism.

Candidate Reid's Tribune has been looking at the recent report of the New Jersey bureau of statistics of labor and industries and smiles over the fact that the building and loan associations of the state show a gratifying growth under McKinleyism. It announces that the shareholders of these associations increased in number from 71,726 in 1890 to 78,725 in 1891, and that in the same time the assets increased from $22,043,892 to $25,606,373, an increase in the first instance of almost 10 per cent., and in the second of a little over 16 per cent. This it proceeds to claim as a specially strong vindication of the McKinley law.

But the candidate's organ ought to have compared the growth of these associations under McKinleyism with their growth during the four years of President Cleveland's administration. A previous report of the same bureau shows that the shareholders in these associations increased from 25,000 in 1884 to 52,600 in 1888, and that the assets increased in the same time from $7,000,000 to $14,739,287. Here is an increase of over 100 per cent. in the membership and assets of these institutions under an administration which, according to this protection organ, was going to blight the industries of the state and turn the workingmen into the streets.

It is easy to argue for McKinleyism when you blindfold your honest eye!

Watch Hackett, Mr. President.

The secret circular sent out by Chairman Hackett, of the New York Republican state committee, which looks decidedly like an attempt to work Dudley's "blocks of five" game in New York, moves the Springfield (Mass.) Republican to offer the following warning to President Harrison: "Mr. Harrison perhaps is not responsible for Hackett's doings, but he must be aware of the scandalous direction in which his campaign is being moved, and he can put a stop to it if he will. He knows that with the enormous sums of money fried out of the protected manufacturers in 1888, more was done to debauch the franchise and undermine the foundation of a free government than can repeatedly be endured with any safety to the nation. President Harrison cannot afford again to be an accessory, before or after the fact, in such a crime against government and society as was openly committed by the Republican managers and openly boasted of by them in 1888."

The Repeal of the State Bank Tax.

The dishonest attempt of Republican organs and speakers to distort the plank in the Chicago platform favoring the repeal of the 10 per cent. state bank tax into an advocacy of "wildcat" currency will deceive nobody. The Democratic state convention of conservative old Massachusetts has given the correct interpretation of that plank in their own declaration of principles as follows:

We believe that, as the circulating note features of the national banking system are becoming obsolete in consequence of the contraction of the basis of circulation, it is necessary that some expedient should be found for the issuance and withdrawal, as the needs of trade may demand, of credit notes under such form of federal supervision as may be thought desirable. Hence we advocate the removal of the national tax upon such circulating notes of state banks as are so secured that their prompt redemption in lawful money will always be certain.

Who Pays the Tin Plate Tax?

The American Manufacturer, a prominent protectionist trade paper of Pittsburg, quotes the prices of tin plate in New York and London, from which it clearly appears that the American consumer is paying the McKinley tin plate tax in large doses. The price of Bessemer plates, I. C. coke finish—which is the standard grade—was $5.20 a box in New York on Sept. 28, while the cable from London reported the price there on the same grade to be twelve shillings, or $2.90. The difference is $2.30, and the McKinley tax is $2.37 on a box weighing 100 pounds.

Who is paying for McKinley's tin plate infant?

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup and whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Ave., opposite railroad station. 5-16-y

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

THE DEMOCRATIC VETERANS AWAKE TO THE ISSUE.

Comrade Amos J. Cummings' Experiences in the Great Grand Army Review—Brigade Upon Brigade of Democratic Veterans—All Shouting for Cleveland.

No sensible man will take any stock in the assertions that the bulk of the Grand Army vote will be polled against Cleveland and Stevenson. The man who makes this assertion does not know the composition of the Grand Army.

Without the muskets of the Democratic soldiers from the north the Union could not have been preserved. The Democratic veterans are still in line. They are as devoted to Democratic principles now as they have been in years past. The allegation that either Mr. Cleveland or the Democratic house has been opposed to pension legislation is untrue. The record shows it. Mr. Cleveland vetoed about 300 private pension bills while he was president. His veto messages are on record. They speak for themselves. Deserters and those unworthy of pensions alone can take exceptions to them. He signed more pension bills during his term of office than Mr. Harrison has signed.

Honor is the heart of the Grand Army organization. Mr. Cleveland's pension vetoes appeal directly to its spirit of honor. Grand Army veterans recognize this and will reward it. The Republicans have dared to pass only fifty of the 300 and odd pension bills vetoed by Mr. Cleveland, and no more.

A majority of the Democrats in the Fifty-first congress voted for a service pension bill. These votes are on record. If they had been sustained in their action by the Republican members of Tom Reed's congress, a service pension bill would have been passed, and this is what the Grand Army has asked.

I attended the Grand Army encampment at Washington as a member of Horace Greeley post, New York. I met old army comrades from nearly every state in the Union. I saw no Democrat among them who was not heartily in favor of the national Democratic ticket. Thousands of Cleveland buttons were worn by those in the parade, and there seemed to be as many Democratic veterans in line as there were Republicans.

General Daniel E. Sickles, the hero of Gettysburg, was among them. Maimed for life, he was cheered to the echo by his army comrades. All knew that he had repudiated the falsehoods concerning his opposition to the Democratic ticket, and that he was heartily in line among its supporters. No Grand Army veteran has a brighter record and is more devoted to Democratic principles. He is a true Democrat. His fight against Mr. Cleveland ended when Mr. Cleveland was nominated, and like a true Democrat he heartily supports the ticket. He was the orator of the day when the veil was drawn from the monument to the Tammany regiment at Gettysburg; he has presided at meetings of the Tammany Hall organization in New York, and his voice will be heard in Tammany meetings in advocacy of Democratic principles and of the Democratic ticket hereafter.

Another Democratic veteran in line was General Henry W. Slocum. He commanded a corps in the Army of the Potomac and led one of the armies of the west to victory. No man has ever questioned his devotion to Democratic principles. With the Brooklyn Democracy today he stands at the side of Hugh McLaughlin, battling nobly for the Democratic cause. His example alone will inspire every Democratic veteran throughout New York.

Another Democratic hero in the parade was General William S. Rosecrans. He won his straps early in the war in the campaign in West Virginia. At Iuka, Corinth, Stone River and on many another battlefield did he prove his devotion to the Union. Democracy means home rule, and William S. Rosecrans will never be found among those who advocate the force bill and the centralization of power.

And gallant General John M. Palmer was among the Democratic veterans. It is absurd to question his fealty to the Democratic ticket. He is an enthusiastic supporter of Cleveland and Stevenson. In days past he has struck many a sturdy blow for the cause of Democracy, and in days to come these blows will be repeated. It was John M. Palmer who carried Illinois for the Democracy two years ago, and John M. Palmer, I venture to say, with the aid of the Democratic veterans in Illinois, will carry that state for the Democracy this fall. He expresses the utmost confidence in Democratic success there.

There were two Democratic soldiers in Washington unable to participate in the parade. One was the heroic General Joseph J. Bartlett, of the Army of the Potomac, and the other that brilliant trooper, General William W. Averill. Both were on sick beds. General Bartlett was minister to Stockholm under President Grant. General John C. Black made him chief of division in the pension office. After the election of President Harrison he was turned out of his place because he was a Democrat. The blow was a cruel one. He had a paralytic stroke soon afterward and was left with very little resources. Today he is living upon a pension granted by the government. General Averill was more fortunate. In his old age congress placed him upon the retired list and he was saved from want. Both these generals are enthusiastic supporters of Cleveland and Stevenson.

General John C. Black is also among the Democratic veterans. Crippled and pale, he is a living witness to the lie that the Grand Army veterans are opposed to the national ticket.

Another Democratic veteran in line was General Samuel S. Yoder, of Ohio. He is now commander in chief of the Veterans' association. His voice has been repeatedly raised on behalf of the national ticket, and he expresses the utmost confidence in its success.

Among others in line was General Martin P. McMahon, John Sedgwick's famous adjutant general. A veteran Democrat—no man today can arouse more enthusiasm in the old Sixth corps. He has been president of the Association of the Army of the Potomac, and every Democratic veteran who served in that army will be sure to follow his lead.

There are other Democratic veterans to be named. Among them are General Walter S. Newberry, of Illinois; Colonel Hosea H. Rockwell, of Elmira, N. Y.; Colonel Hulbert S. Greenleaf, of Rochester, N. Y.; Colonel W. E. Haynes, of Ohio; Private Darius D. Hare, of Sandusky, O.; Private Irvine Duncan, Captain James W. Owens and Private A. J. Pearson, of Ohio; Captain Oscar Lapham, of Rhode Island; Captain Allen R. Bushnell, of Wisconsin; Colonel Herman W. Snow and Colonel Samuel T. Busey, of Illinois; Colonel David H. Patton and Private Augustus N. Martin, of Indiana; Private Fred E. White, of Iowa; Captain Harrison H. Wheeler, of Michigan; Captain William Henry Harries, of Minnesota; Private John C. Tarsney, of Missouri; Sergeant Luther F. McKinney, of New Hampshire; Private Edward F. McDonald, of New Jersey, and Sergeant Major Amos J. Cummings, of New York. All these veterans are Democratic members of congress and among the most earnest supporters of the Democratic ticket. They vote as they fought—for the Union and for the constitution.

But a stronger evidence of the sympathies of the boys in blue was shown in the theater at Washington during the Grand Army encampment. It was packed with veterans from pit to dome. When one of the actors made a complimentary allusion to Grover Cleveland there was enthusiastic cheering. It lasted more than a minute. Many of the veterans rose in their seats with Grand Army medals swinging from their breasts and swung their hats in Democratic ecstasy.

Whether the managers of the Republican campaign meant to use the Grand Army as a political factor or not, the evidence shows that the Democratic veterans are massed under the Cleveland banner, and are enthusiastic in the campaign on behalf of home rule, a reform tariff and equal opportunities for all.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS.

ANOTHER BLOCKS OF FIVE CIRCULAR

The New York State Republican Committee Caught in a Dudley Scheme.

It looks very much as if the New York state Republican committee is preparing to imitate this year Dudley's "blocks of five" methods of 1888. The following secret circular has been sent out by the state committee and has come to light:

REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE,
FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL,
NEW YORK, Sept. 20.
[Confidential.]

DEAR SIR—I know you are an active, earnest and sincere Republican, and that Republican success in the coming election is dear to your heart.

It is the desire of the New York state Republican committee to be permitted to request you to do some particular service for the Republican cause from time to time during the canvass. Such service will call for the exercise of discretion and the ability to keep a secret.

Are you willing to undertake such duty to help secure Republican success? If you are willing to do so, send me the name of a Democrat among your acquaintances whom you believe can be induced to vote the Republican ticket this fall. If more than one, give their names and place your letter in the inclosed envelope. Please sign the list with your full name and postoffice address plainly written.

You may be sure that any service you may be able to render will not be forgotten.

Let me hear from you by return mail. Truly yours,

C. W. HACKETT,
Chairman Executive Committee.

Chairman Hackett was asked to explain the meaning of his circular, and replied that it was to get addresses of Democrats to whom to "send circulars and documents." But Hackett's explanation does not explain. Is "the exercise of discretion and the ability to keep a secret" needed in so small a matter as supplying names for mailing "circulars and documents?"

And is the sending of a list of names so important a service as to call for a political reward, as implied in the words "will not be forgotten?" Also "some particular service from time to time" contemplates something further after the names have been furnished.

This is evidently another attempt to "divide the floaters into blocks of five." Let Democrats keep their eyes open.

Watterson on Harrison's Letter.

It is the most conclusive evidence the public has yet had of Mr. Harrison's narrowness, while it is at the same time a significant and almost pathetic proof of the desperate desire for re-election which dominates the president and the desperate extremes to which he thinks it necessary to go to secure that end.

Abounding in ill tempered abuse of his adversaries and amazing misstatements of their principles and purposes, there is no class of voters to which ingenuity may make a demagogic appeal that he does not seek to prejudice or deceive to his support. His letter, in truth, is one immense dragnet, woven of every variety of flimsy shreds and patches, and there is no water, be it ever so shallow, into which he does not cast it. Nothing appears too trivial for his partisan discussion, and the result is more like a cyclopedia constructed after the style of a thick and thin Republican newspaper editorial than an enunciation of the proposed policy of a presidential aspirant.—Courier-Journal.

Making Cigars Under McKinleyism.

The Cigar Makers' International union has declared a boycott against the product of one of our largest cigar manufacturing firms because that firm is said "to pauperize cigar makers." But if it be true that that firm "pauperizes cigar makers," where is the Protection to be found—Protection with a capital P—of the McKinley bill to the wage earners? Or is the pauperizing of the cigar maker the direct result of the promised but not realized protection to the tobacco grower?—United States Tobacco Journal.

The constantly growing interest manifested by our young men in the principles of the Democratic party constitute, in my opinion, the most reliable hope of their ascendency.—Grover Cleveland.

Letter of the Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate.

THE CAMPAIGN ISSUES ANALYZED.

His Views on the Tariff, Reciprocity and Currency—The Federal Elections Bill—Revival of American Shipping—President Harrison's Administration Praised.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Hon. Whitelaw Reid's letter accepting the Republican nomination for Vice-President is made public. It is addressed to Hon. W. T. Durbin, Anderson, Ind., and is dated Ophir Farm, N. Y., Oct. 18, 1892. In it Mr. Reid says:

"When the nomination with which the National Convention had honored me was formally announced by your committee, I accepted it at once. In doing so I accepted also the principles set forth in the resolutions adopted by the Convention as the basis of the appeal to the popular suffrage.

"There will be no misunderstanding as to the attitude of its candidates. What it intends it has set forth in language that cannot be mistaken; and they will strive, by all the lawful means in their power, to enforce its plainly expressed will.

"The party platforms, so called, are more important this year than usual. Both the leading candidates have once commanded the approval of the American people in its highest form of expression. Attention is therefore concentrated less on the men themselves and more on the principles each is put forward to represent, and would, in case of election, be required to carry out.

"It is obvious that the really vital issues which this year divide parties, and demand a popular decision, are those relating to the tariff and the currency. Fortunately, both sides have stated their positions on these subjects with distinctness, simplicity and frankness.

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

"We favor a protective tariff and when in full power made the present one. Our opponents favor tariff for revenue only, and promise the repeal of the present one.

"We maintain that the tariff should cover the difference in the cost of the home and foreign product, caused by the difference in the home and foreign wages for the labor employed upon it. Our opponents distinctly repudiated the proposition that American wages should be considered in the matter, and declared instead that a tariff for anything but revenue only was unconstitutional.

"We maintain that the present tariff has worked well: that it has developed American manufactures, steadied and increased American wages, and promoted the general prosperity. Our opponents deny that there has been any increase of prosperity under the present tariff, declare that wages have been reduced, and denounce the Republican policy, which, as they say, fosters no other industry so much as that of the sheriff.

"We favor the system by which, when we think the country ready for the reduction or abolition of duties, we insist upon getting corresponding and reciprocal advantages from foreign countries as the condition of their enjoying these advantages in our own market. Our opponents denounce this reciprocity as a sham, and, therefore, inferentially pledge themselves to its repeal.

"The sharp issues thus presented for the decision of the American people cover more comprehensively and more specifically than ever before the whole range of considerations relating to a protective tariff, its constitutionality, its expediency, its relation to wages, its practical workings and the question whether, as it is from time to time reduced, we should throw away the advantages thus extended to foreign nations or should get something in return for them."

Mr. Reid then goes on to say that the constitutionality of a protective tariff has heretofore been thought established, and notes that a tariff "avowedly for the encouragement and protection of manufactures" was early passed by the first Congress. He also quotes from a message to Congress of Andrew Jackson in which the constitutionality of the protective system is maintained and, coming down to the present time, adds the opinion of the Hon. George Ticknor Curtis on the same question.

Speaking of the expediency of a protective tariff, Mr. Reid says: "It has been vindicated by the experience of the last thirty years, the most wonderful period of financial success ever unheard of difficulties in the record of modern civilization. Under it and by its aid the Republican management of our finances has resulted in the largest payment of a national debt in the shortest time known to history, and in the simultaneous development of the industries of the country and the prosperity of the people on a scale without a parallel."

Coming down to the question of reciprocity, Mr. Reid goes on to show the benefits derived from that policy, which, he says, the Democrats have designated as a sham.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF ELECTIONS.

Mr. Reid, speaking of the "Force bill," says it scarcely calls for notice.

"The very title of the bill referred to," he says, "proclaimed its object to be to prevent the use of force at elections; it failed anyway, and the Southern white men who were lately its chief, as they were its most interested, opponents, now begin to wish it revived to protect them from being themselves counted out of elections they have fairly won—as in Alabama the other day—by their own white fellow-Democrats.

"It is well, however, to say that the denunciation in the Democratic platform of the principle that the Federal Government may supervise the election of Federal officers is grotesque. That principle has been long recognized; it has been sustained by the courts; it now stands undisputed on the Statute Book, and it was enforced at recent elections by Grover Cleveland, then President of the United States, through his order of Oct. 5, 1886, to Mr. Garland, his Attorney-General.

"But it is not to be disguised that the recent clamor against this principle, if it means anything, means a purpose to nullify the XIVth and XVth Articles of the Constitution of the United States.

THE MATTER OF CURRENCY.

"On the subject of the currency the issue between the Republican party and its opponents is almost as sharply defined as on the tariff. We demand that every dollar, paper, silver or gold, shall be made and kept as good as any other dollar. Our opponents, while professing the same desire, demand that the National Bank currency shall be broken down by the repeal of the 10 per cent. tax on the issues of State Banks.

"The proposals of our opponents is to sectionalize it again, and thus return to the State bank system under which it was rarely equal to coin, was often at a ruinous discount, and often worthless. It is true that the gradual payment of the Government bonds may require some change in the securities demanded as a guarantee for the National bank notes. The party which devised the system and made it a magnificent success may be relied upon to meet that emergency when it arises; and the one party that assuredly could not be relied upon in the matter is the party which has now formally proposed, as its remedy for the difficulty, a return to the semi-barbarous condition of the heterogenous State bank issues before the war.

"There is good reason to hope for some practical union of effort for a common solution of the silver problem, with an increased use of silver, through the renewed International Silver Conference, which the wise policy of the present administration has secured from the leading commercial nations of the world."

REVIVAL OF AMERICAN SHIPPING.

Mr. Reid next refers to the revival of American shipping and repeats his adhesion to the resolutions of the Republican National Convention as a whole. Of the shipping question he says:

"The Republican party has taken successful steps to this end, and the resolutions of its convention only confirm its devotion to a principle on which its practice has already been wise and efficient. The Democratic resolutions say nothing on the subject and it is fair to say that the Democratic party takes no interest in it."

In closing he pays a high tribute to the administration of President Harrison.

PROMOTIONS AT HOMESTEAD.

Potter No Longer Superintendent of the Carnegie Mills.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 19.—John A. Potter is no longer superintendent of the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel Company.

Mr. Potter has been appointed Chief Mechanical Engineer of the Carnegie Association, with offices in Pittsburg.

Mr. Charles Schwab, General Superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock, has been appointed General Superintendent of the Homestead Works, and Mr. James Cayley has been appointed Superintendent of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Braddock.

The changes came as a surprise, although the removal of Mr. Potter from the Homestead plant has been frequently hinted at.

It is well-known that Mr. Potter was extremely unpopular with the workmen at Homestead, many of the old employes having declared that they would never, under any circumstances, return to work under Mr. Potter's management.

Now that he has been succeeded by General Manager Schwab, who is a very popular official, it is claimed by the men that the removal of Mr. Potter is the last resort of the Carnegie Company to win back the confidence of their old employes and break the strike.

Secretary Lovejoy, of the Carnegie Company, said however, that the changes made are in the nature of merited promotions, and that the changes will not effect the attitude of the Company toward the strikers.

CONGRESSMAN MORSE RETRACTS.

Denies That He Said Some Things About Mrs. Gougar Attributed to Him.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Congressman Elijah A. Morse has written to Mrs. Gougar's attorneys stating that he has no wish to do Mrs. Gougar injustice, and that he has decided to retract the offensive statements attributed to him.

He adds, however, that the published statement has two things mixed, the unexplained $1,500 check, and Mrs. Gougar's political services in Indiana.

"I have," he states, "nowhere said that she received $1,500 from the Democrats in Indiana or anywhere else; neither have I said that Mr. Halford said so, and I shall deny that in my published letter."

BIG FIRE AT ENGLEWOOD, ILL.

Two Lives Known to be Lost and Fifteen Buildings Burned.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Fifteen buildings were burned yesterday and two lives lost at Englewood. Loss, $80,000. The fire started at Wright and Sixty-third streets in a bakery.

While in a hysterical condition Mrs. W. Butler, one of the victims, jumped from a third-story window of Hotel Kent, and, striking on her head, was instantly killed.

John Howard, a baker, was roasted to death. A woman and child, seen at a window in one of the burning structures, had not been accounted for after the fire and may have perished.

Three Trainmen Killed.

WAVERLY, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Three men lost their lives yesterday in a railroad wreck at the highway crossing near Scott's coal yard, a short distance from this place, on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. Engineer Patrick Lavan was standing with his engine on a frog, when a yard engine in charge of John Gorman came up the main line with a box car in front and smashed into Lavan's engine. Lavan and his fireman were killed, and Edward Passmoee, a brakeman, was struck by a caboose and killed.

EN ROUTE TO CHICAGO.

The Washington Guests Leave in Three Special Trains.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The Chicago Limited on the Pennsylvania yesterday was followed by three counterparts with even more sumptuously appointed, if that were possible, carrying the invited guests from the capital to the dedication of the World's Fair buildings and the attendant festivities and ceremonies at Chicago.

The party was probably one of the most distinguished and widely representative in character that ever traveled together.

The first train was composed of one composite baggage and smoking car, a dining car, two sleeping cars, an apartment car and an observation car. The cars were vestibuled throughout.

On this train were Secretary of State and Mrs. Foster, Attorney-General Miller, Secretary of the Navy Tracy, Mrs. Wilmerding and Miss Alice Wilmerding, daughter and grand-daughter of Secretary Tracy; Postmaster-General Wanamaker, Lieut. Cowles, Naval Aide to the Secretary; Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Soley, Lieut. Sutherland, Naval Aide to the Assistant Secretary, and others.

The second train comprised a composite car, a dining car and two sleeping cars. It was occupied by Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Justice Harlan, Justice and Mrs. Gray, Justice Blatchford, Justice and Mrs. and Miss Brewer, Justice Brown, Justice Shiras, Mr. J. H. McKinney, clerk and wife and others.

The third train was the diplomatic train. It was the largest and carried the greatest number of passengers. It comprised one composite car, a dining car, three sleeping cars, a compartment car and an observation car. Members of the foreign legations in the United States and their families largely occupied this train.

NEW YORK COURT OF APPEALS.

Several Cases of Unusual Importance Disposed of at Albany.

ALBANY, Oct. 19.—Several decisions of unusual importance have just been handed down by the Court of Appeals. In the case of Frank Hasbrouck to compel the Board of Canvassers of Dutchess County to reject certain marked ballots cast at the general election in November, 1891, on the ground that the ballots were marked for identification, the court dismisses the appeal of Hasbrouck. This affirms the order of Justice Barnard, quashing a writ of peremptory mandamus originally granted by him.

In the case of George M. Post, a confederate of buncoer O'Brien, the court denies the application for a writ of habeas corpus and Post is remanded to the custody of the sheriff. He will have to stand trial for robbery in the first degree. The first indictment for grand larceny has been superseded by the charge of robbery.

In the appeal of Fred McGuire from the conviction of murder in the first degree, the court affirmed the judgment. McGuire was indicted for the wilful killing of Mrs. Amelia Gregory in the town of Walkill, Orange county, Oct. 14, 1891. He was convicted principally upon the evidence of one Brazington and a Mrs. Sarah Brown, with the latter of whom the defendant was living at the time, and who, he alleged upon the trial, had committed the crime.

In the Ulster County Savings Bank case the appeal of Treasurer M. P. Trumpbour from an order denying his motion to dismiss the appeal of the people from the judgement allowing a demurrer to the indictment, the appeal is dismissed. Trumpbour was indicted for perjury committed in verifying his semi-annual report of the bank to the Superintendent of the Banking Department. The figures in the report were false.

In the appeal of Sheriff Van Tantassel of Ulster County from an order discharging Grove Webster from imprisonment under a warrant of commitment issued by the Recorder of the city of Kingston for refusing to obey the common council and produce certain books, the order is affirmed and the defendant discharged.

DR. BRIGGS' APPEAL.

To Be Considered To-day By the New York Synod.

ALBANY, Oct. 19.—The Synod of the New York Presbyterian Church assembled here yesterday. The business of importance is the appeal by the friends of Dr. Briggs from a decision of the Presbytery that the Committee of Prosecution is an original party, and has a right to carry the case through all the ecclesiastical court.

Should the Synod decide that the Committee of Prosecution is but a creature of the Presbytery, and has no authority to act without the direction of that body, it will be necessary for the committee to defend its own existence by appealing to the General Assembly. It is contended by the opponents of Dr. Briggs that as the General Assembly has recognized the committee the appeal is of no moment.

The opening sermon was preached last night by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. A. S. Fiske of Ithaca. The case of Dr. Briggs will likely be considered to-day.

Chief O'Mara Reported Indicted.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 19.—It is reported here that a true bill has been found by the Monmouth county grand jury against Chief of Police O'Mara, of Pittsburg, for forcibly taking Frank Mollick, the Long Branch baker, out of the State. Mollick was suspected of being an accomplice of Bergman, the Anarchist, who shot H. C. Frick at Pittsburg.

Booth's Condition Critical.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 19.—Edwin Booth is able to be about to-day, but is not permitted to venture out of the hotel. He is constantly guarded by his daughter and her husband. He is in very feeble health and likely to drop off at any moment.

CELEBRATION INAUGURATED TO-DAY

Reception to the Vice-President and Other Distinguished Guests—Thirty Governors Expected at the Exercises—Programme for the Dedication of New York's Building—Decorations Spoiled by Rain—Start of the Washington Party.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Chicago's population has already increased 25 per cent., and each train arriving brings its quota of pleasure seekers, who come to witness the dedicatory exercises. Hotel men anticipate the greatest gathering of strangers that has ever assembled in the city.

The arrival of the Massachusetts delegation was a big event. Of course all the residents of the old commonwealth have not invaded Chicago, but it sent a splendid representation, headed by Gov. Russell and the officers of the State. Besides this big delegation, there were several others of striking proportions. The size of Gov. Russell's party is only an average following for each of the Governors, more than thirty of whom will arrive before night.

Notwithstanding the great crush, there will be no discomfort. The hotel men are confident of their ability to care for all visitors who may come, and at reasonable rates, too, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

There is no truth in the repeated statement that there will be a dearth of carriages and cabs, and that in consequence exorbitant prices will prevail.

In regard to the many complaints that have poured into army headquarters as to the decision arrived at by Gen. Miles that the infantry will not participate in the down town parade, but will only meet the procession a mile from Jackson park, a suggestion is made that Saturday be military day, and that a grand military parade be given. The plan has not yet been thoroughly canvassed, but there is a probability an effort will be made to carry it out.

The State troops to arrive to-day are: Ohio, 2,000; Michigan, 500; Iowa, 1,200; Indiana, 1,000; Wisconsin, 1,200; Minnesota, 1,000; Missouri, 600.

The Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin regiments will be quartered in the Transportation Building and annex, and the Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, and Missouri troops in the Agricultural Building.

In the decorations compliments are paid to all the nations of the earth and to some lands that once were nations and have a notion of being nations again, but the stars and stripes are everywhere in the place of honor.

Chicago looked to-day like a brand new town. The transformation from the Sunday was extraordinary. Business houses that on Sunday looked dull and gloomy are turned as if by magic into bright beauty spots resplendant with rainbow coloring.

Everything is ready at the hotels for the reception of the distinguished guests who are arriving on every train. The Turkish Commissioners, Haaki Bey and Fahri Bey, with Hon. Arthur Rennick, the Executive Commissioner from Australia, have arrived. They are quartered at the Auditorium. Gov. H. H. Markham and staff have arrived from San Francisco.

Fifty-seven Esquimaux reached Chicago last night. They have twenty Esquimaux dogs, a number of sealskin kyacks, a komatik, or sled; a sealskin tent, several barrels of seal oil and blubber, a lot of green skins to be made into garments, dried deer and seal meat, and a lot of walrus and fish bones to be manufactured into trinkets.

Soon after the arrival of the train the Esquimaux were taken to the Fair grounds, where they will establish a native village and take up their abode until the close of the Exposition.

Apparently the elements are going to frown on Chicago's celebration. After six weeks of dry weather there was a decided change at midnight with a heavy rain.

To-day the sky is full of black clouds, and the drizzling rain has done havoc to the decorations.

Gov. Burleigh and party from Maine arrived on the Grand Trunk this morning and were at once driven to the Victoria and Wellington hotels.

Many former residents of Maine were at the depot to greet the distinguished party. The Governor is accompanied by his staff, executive council and many others.

The United States Marine Corps and the Indian boys from the Carlisle school, who are to take part in the dedication ceremonies, arrived on a special train.

Gov. R. J. Reynolds and staff of Delaware arrived late last night and are at the Leland. The members of the councils of the City of Philadelphia are also quartered at the Leland.

Gov. Frank Brown and staff of Maryland came in during the evening and are at the Palmer House.

Gov. Flower and staff arrived over the Michigan Central at 10 o'clock last night. The party was met at the depot by a reception committee and escorted to the Auditorium. Mrs. W. R. Halsey, niece of Gov. Flower, was a member of the party.

MRS. DEACON GIVES IN.

She is Anxious to Make a Compromise as to the Children.

GRASSE, Oct. 19.—Edward Parker Deacon has received from his wife overtures for a compromise regarding the children. Mrs. Deacon has been shaken by the result of the hearing at Grasse in her confidence as to success against her husband, and is therefore willing to come to terms.

Mr. Deacon, although he has come to no decision on the question of a compromise with his wife, is hastening preparations for the hearing at Aix, and declares that he will be satisfied with nothing short of the possession of all of the children. He denies that he ever entertained any opinion as to the paternity of the youngest child, being satisfied that it was his own child.

Should the court at Aix decide that the Court at Grasse was right in holding that there was no proof of intention on the part of Mr. Deacon to abandon his wife, the court at Aix may send the case back to Grasse for trial, although it is possible that the trial may be held at Aix.

The appeal is likely to be heard, as already cabled, in November. The people and the newspapers of the Riviera support Mr. Deacon in the controversy.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

HYMENEAL.

Schoonmaker—Many.

A most charming and joyous event was the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Many, daughter of Mrs. Edward F. Many, to George Beekman Schoonmaker, son of Mrs. M. L. Schoonmaker, which took place last evening at 7:30, at the home of the bride's very dear friend Mrs. Eugene Hamlin Hatch, 14 West Eighth street.

The pleasure of seeing the marriage ceremony was accorded to only the immediate circle of relatives and warm family friends. Surely never was bride more handsome, nor groom more justly proud, gallant and deserving. A rich costume of white silk and point lace heightened the bride's radiant beauty and strengthened her graceful dignity. If as bridesmaid to Miss Ketcham she had been the complement of a poem, as bride she was a vision of rarest loveliness and the perfection of matchless womanhood; and all hearts went out to her sweet and gentle graciousness. She was attended by one of the most winsome of bridesmaids, Miss Emily Tracy, who wore Nile-green silk and pearls. The nuptial knot was adjusted by the Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, who used the Episcopalian service. The best man was the Rev. G. Kennedy Newell, pastor of Hope chapel. The bride was given away by her brother, Edward F. Many, who bears a striking resemblance to his sister. The rooms were beautified with white and green decorations, and gorgeous with cosmos and chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, forming an appropriate setting for a superb picture as the bridal party entered to the witching strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin". Following the ceremony was a delightful reception, which was attended by the fashion, beauty and intellect of the town, who bestowed beauteous and bounteous gifts on the happy bridal pair. Among those there were: Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Rushmore, Prof. and Mrs. Maxson, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Newhall, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Kissam, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Struthers, Dr. and Mrs. Endicott, Mr. and Mrs. VanFleet, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. VanSise, Mrs. Worthington, Miss Worthington, Miss Jessie Utter, Miss Sarah Dean of Elizabeth, Miss Luella Cook of New York, Miss Madge Sutphen, the Misses Murray, the Misses Julia and Mary Ketcham, Mrs. John W. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Pliny Fisk, Mr. and Mrs S. A. Ginna, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Munger, Mr. and Mrs C. A. Baynon, Mr. and Mrs. John Drayton, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Beers, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. PARTICULAR MENTION.

Borough marshal Wm. N. Pangborn is to-day attending the reunion of his old regiment, the 14th, at Woodbridge.

Miss Maimie Doering of Succasunna, Morris county, is the guest of her friend Miss Florence V. Hurlburt of North Plainfield.

Karl Engvall died of pneumonia yesterday, at his late residence, 22 Spooner avenue. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Ex-councilman Lucien F. Brigham, formerly of Netherwood, was married yesterday in Pottsville, Pa., to Miss Laura Carpenter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John T. Carpenter, of that place.

The Tuesday Afternoon Musical club met yesterday at the home of Miss Florence Huntington, Franklin place. It is the object of the club this winter to arrange their programmes at each meeting so as to include only the writings of one of two composers. Yesterday Paderewski and Grieg were those chosen.

Mason Bey and Mrs. Mason, with a few friends, dined last Friday night at the home of B. J. Shreve, Grove street. Mason Bey is a Virginian by birth, but for more than twenty years has been connected with the Egyptian army. As an explorer in Africa, having circumnavigated Lake Albert in 1877, being governor of the Equatorial Provinces later, and a personal friend of Gordon and of Stanley, the fund of subjects at Mason Bey's command renders him an interesting and instructive talker; added to which, his charming style of narration makes him a delightful guest.

You don't get what you want, if you expect to buy Dr. Pierce's genuine medicines at less than the regular prices. You can buy counterfeits, imitations, dilutions, and substitutes, from unauthorized dealers, at what are called "cut prices," but the genuine guaranteed medicines cost more, and are worth more.

If you do get the genuine, they're the cheapest medicines you can buy, for they're guaranteed in every case to benefit or cure, or you have your money back.

But you won't get the genuine, except through druggists regularly authorized as agents, and at the following uniform and long-established prices:

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery (the remedy for all diseases arising from a torpid liver, or impure blood), . . $1.00 per bottle.
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription (the remedy for woman's chronic weaknesses and derangements), ... $1.00 per bottle.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets (the original and best little Liver Pills), 25 cents per vial.

PROUD NIGHT FOR THE FIREMEN.

A Most Creditable Department Display Enjoyed by the Entire Populace.

The Plainfield fire department made a most excellent showing last night. The parade was enjoyed by everyone, and all remarked that it was in every way a handsome and highly creditable affair. The old as well as the new apparatus was resplendent in polish, and as a whole was a shining example of how efficient modern appliances can make a model fire department such as Plainfield's. The authorities were greatly pleased with the exhibition, and expressed their delight in warm words of praise. Red fire was burned in profusion all along the line of march, and the display of fireworks was very pretty and as liberal as ever witnessed in Plainfield. The people entered heartily into the spirit of decoration and illumination in honor of the brave fire laddies, and lanterns and pyrotechnics blazed everywhere.

The new hose wagons were of course the centre of attraction, and were much admired. The perennial beauty, however, Alert's famous old silver carriage, was as much a favorite as ever. The popular old-time fireman, George Lissignolo, with H. M. Stockton, occupied the coveted post of honor at the tiller.

No. 2 company relegated her old carriage to the rear and labeled it affectionately "Gone but not forgotten".

At the banquet in the Crescent rink there was a veritable feast of good things. Everyone had abundance for the inner man. Among the honored guests from out of town were two fire commissioners from Trenton, including the president of the board; chief McGill of Trenton; Fred S. Bieber, foreman of Phœnix Hose of Poughkeepsie; and Sam Moore (formerly of Plainfield) assistant foreman. The mayors and councilmen of both city and borough attended in a body. Mayors Gilbert and Saunders made glowing addresses, chief McGill also spoke, and councilman F. E. Marsh complimented the firemen in high terms of praise for their alertness and efficency and general fine conduct and qualities. He promised even greater modern improvements than ever for the department next year.

The new hose wagons are models of strength and substantiality of construction and beauty of finish.

A Dog Poisoner in the Borough.

A wholesale poisoner of dogs is at work in North Plainfield. Yesterday borough marshal Pangborn was compelled to bury a carcass, and last night night six other dogs were killed. Three were found on Manning avenue, two on Jackson, and one on Chatham street. The half dozen were buried by the street commissioner.

REVOLT IN PLAINFIELD.

The Republican Stronghold Threatens to Knife the County Ticket.

(New York World.)

Plainfield Republicans are threatening destruction to the county ticket to be nominated Thursday. Surrogate Parrot is to be renominated, and the county clerk nomination is to go to William Chamberlain, of Rahway, if Foster Voorhees will not accept it. By this arrangement Plainfield Republicans are again left in the cold, and they are feeling ugly about it. They are charging both Republican leaders with treachery, and tell an interesting story of the Congressional convention of last Saturday.

It was understood, they say, that Union county's vote was to go to any man whom Plainfield might select. The Plainfield delegates settled upon John Ulrich, State organizer of clubs, and were unanimous in his support. They conferred with the Elizabeth and Rahway leaders and received no notice that Ulrich was not acceptable. What was their surprise when an Elizabeth man nominated John W. Murray, leader of the Plainfield delegation, for Congress, and when the ballot was cast every Rahway and Elizabeth vote was cast for Murray.

The Plainfield delegates felt that Elizabeth had made fools of them, so they cast their votes for Chamberlain, of Bayonne, nominating him, but they came away from that convention with knives. They are open in their denunciation of Elizabeth's treachery and say it was a trick to split the Plainfield delegation Plainfield is the Republican stronghold of the county and its vote is always counted on to carry any county Republican to victory.

It is safe to say that no Elizabeth or Rahway man can carry the party vote in Plainfield this year, and the defection may obliterate the Republican majority.

BOWLING ON THE GRASS.

LOCAL INTEREST IN THE ANCIENT SCOTTISH GAME.

Two Flourishing Clubs in This Vicinity—The Only Bowling Green in America at Dunellen—Interesting Facts Regarding the Game and Players—Peculiarities of Bowlers During Exciting Contests.

Readers of THE PRESS have from time to time been told of sporting and social events taking place on the bowling green at Dunellen, but few have been familiar with the details of the game of bowls, or have known much about Mr. Schepflin's green. To most Plainfielders, therefore, the following story of the sport, compiled by the New York Sun, will be new and interesting.

There is but one bowling green in America, and of that the State of New Jersey is the proud possessor. The green is situated in the picturesque town of Dunellen, N. J., and was laid out by C. Schepflin adjoining his handsome residence in Oak Grove. Some years ago Mr. Schepflin went to England and became interested in the game. On returning to America, he determined to lay out a green, and at the same time organized the Dunellen Bowling Green club. The green, which is next to the house, is a beautiful piece of sodded ground, 108 feet square. In making the green, the ground was first levelled and then topped by the finest sod. This is sprinkled and rolled frequently, and as a result is now as smooth as ground can be made. The grass is kept cropped close, and the ground looks like a carpet of green velvet. The green on which the bowling is done is raised about six inches above the remainder of the ground, the banks being supported by planking. Bowling, as practised in Scotland, is done on a level green about 42 yards long, so it can be seen that the Dunellen green is of good proportions. Where space is available it is advisable to make the green square, so that play may be carried on from any side. After securing the green, the other implements of the game consist of the bowls, jacks and mats. The bowls are made of lignum vitæ, and must not exceed 16½ inches in diameter. In shape they are made rather flatter at the ends than over the running part, and by that means the ball takes a curve or bend to one side or the other. This quality is given by the shape, as loaded balls are not permitted in match games. The bias may be employed to suit individual taste, but no bowl with a draw of less than one yard in a run of thirty yards is allowed in a match game.

It is the peculiar formation of the ball that necessitates skill in delivering it. Each ball bears on one of the flattened ends the initials of the player, and on the other the number of the ball. The end on which is the number is a trifle heavier than the other. If the player desires to curve the ball to the left the numbered end is held on the left side, and vice versa. Very little force is required in delivery, but great delicacy of manipulation is necessary.

The "jack" is a very important factor in the game. It consists of a round ball of white enamelled earthenware about 2½ inches in diameter. This is the mark at which the bowlers' aim. At the beginning of a game, the "jack" is rolled to the opposite end of the green. When it comes to a standstill the bowlers send the lignum vitæ missiles gliding toward the white object, and the side which gets its bowls nearest to the "jack" wins the game. In that respect bowls is on the same principle as curling. The mat is simply a square piece of oilcloth which serves the double purpose of a mark for the spot from which the bowlers play and also protects the grass from injury during the play. In a full rink, that is, two sides, with four players on each side, two bowls are delivered by each player. An ordinary game consists of nine points, but games for prize competitions consist of twenty-five points.

It was about twelve years ago that the Dunellen Bowling Green club was organized, and they have ever since played their games on the court built by Mr. Schepflin. About five years ago the Middlesex Bowling Green club was organized, its members being composed for the most part of young men, while the membership of the Dunellen club is made up mainly of veteran Scotch players, many of whom have bowled on the green in Bonny Scotland. The two clubs have had many brushes, but the experienced Dunellen players have so far come out ahead. The exception to the Scotch element in the Dunellen club is Mr. Schepflin, a German, who is more enthusiastic than any of his Scotch associates. The Dunellen club has about thirty members. C. Schepflin is president, William Elliott, vice-president, and James Smythe, secretary and treasurer. The Middlesex club has some twenty-five members. J. B. Betts is president, Peter W. Frick, treasurer, and Dr. Wagner, secretary.

Among the admirers of the game are Mayor Haines, of Newark, his son George D. Haines, ex-Sheriff Frick of Middlesex, County Superintendent of Schools H. B. Willis, and others. Probably the most expert players are Thomas Stone, a Newark engraver, and James Stevens of Jersey City. Both are of the Dunellen club, which contains many other expert bowlers.

A short time ago the Dunellen club held a ladies' day and entertained about forty fair guests on the green, the latter engaging in the sport with great zest.

It is difficult to imagine a prettier scene than that afforded by the green at Dunellen. On one side of the lawn is the picturesque home of Mr. Schepflin, which is surrounded by shade trees. A rustic fence divides the green from the street, and in the rear of the ground is stretched a sheltering marquee.

While the game is productive of intense excitement, it is not of the sort that engenders ill-feeling or harshness of demeanor. The contest is marked by jollity, good-natured badinage, and thorough good feeling. A good shot is received with exultant exclamations, while a poor effort is smoothed over thus:

"Never mind, my boy, ye played for it."

As soon as the "jack" is rolled the scene becomes very animated. The players send the noiseless missiles spinning over the grass in a constant procession. At last the game reaches a point where victory or defeat hinges on the last few shots. Then the excitement reaches white heat. All the players except the two who are to make the final shots gather at the end where the jack is, and coach and encourage their respective players. The men who are intrusted with the final shots are selected because of their skill, and the spectators are usually treated to some fine work. As one of these players prepares to deliver the ball, a player of his side who is at the other end of the green, takes off his hat, and laying it on the ground on the spot where it is desirable that the ball should land, remarks:

"Now, Tom, my boy, I want ye to put it right on my hat."

If the shot proves to be a good one, the player picks up his hat, throws it into the air, does a few steps of a Highland fling, and yells excitedly:

"Eh, my bonny chiel, ye did it, ye did it!"

After delivering the ball, the player usually runs after it in his excitement, as if to prevent it going wrong. When a ball is started on its journey and appears to be taking the right course, the coacher at the other end will yell:

"I like you, my boy, I like you."

In case a ball takes the right direction, but lacks headway, the coacher cries out in a voice of deepest anguish:

"Oh, my boy, you're not up, you're not up!"

Simple in detail, a healthful out-door sport, fascinating, bowling on the green appears to be a game capable of interesting Americans.

CLEAVER MAKES A STIR.

A Plainfield Clergyman Causes Discordant Excitement Among His Brethren.

The ministers and laymen who assembled in the First Reformed church at New Brunswick yesterday afternoon at the session of the classis of New Brunswick of the Dutch Reformed church were greatly stirred up by a matter which came before them. It was reported to the classis that the Rev. James B. Cleaver, pastor of the Reformed church at Bound Brook, and founder of the First Church of Christ of Plainfield, had gone to the most unusual procedure of baptising candidates for admission to his Reformed church by immersion. The usual Reformed form is baptizing only by sprinkling, and when the matter came up there were many who were ready to censure the Rev. Mr. Cleaver for his disregard of the forms of the Dutch Reformed church.

Mr. Cleaver was speedily on his feet with an explanation, and said that the church tenets allowed him to use his discretion as to whether to baptize by sprinkling or dipping. To immerse, he contended, did not interfere with or violate the church forms, since immersing was really baptism by dipping. Several clergymen sustained the argument of Mr. Cleaver that he had not departed from a true interpretation of the baptismal forms. The Bound Brook pastor was also defended by some of the Biblical scholars of the theological seminary at New Brunswick.

The discussion over the question was long and exciting. The usual quiet demeanor of the clergymen was greatly changed, and all participated in a debate that for earnestness and general excitement was never equalled in the history of the New Brunswick classis. Finally the question as to whether to censure the Rev. Mr. Cleaver or not came to a vote, and was negative.

Good Music for the People.

Fully one thousand people enjoyed the free organ recital given by W. E. MacClymont in the First Baptist church last evening. The programme included twelve selected numbers, which were rendered with marked ability. Mr. MacClymont is an artist whose efforts are always warmly appreciated, and the public last evening gave frequent and hearty testimonials of the pleasure the event afforded them. Mr. MacClymont was ably assisted by Mrs. Genevieve W. Hoyt, soprano.

The Baptists' Enterprise Famed Abroad.

(From The New York Examiner.)

Rev. David J. Yerkes, D. D., became pastor of the First church in 1863. His labors have been abundantly blessed, and pastor and people are still as united as ever in their work. The church has a present membership of 850, and sustains a prosperous Sunday-school of 500 members. They are carrying on a thriving mission in the eastern part of the town. The pastor's helper, a consecrated young man, is assisting in visiting the scattered membership and keeping them identified with the church life. He has also gathered together a large Bible class of adult young men numbering seventy-five. The women keep the membership well interested in home and foreign missions, and mindful of local needs of poor and unconverted. As one result, the church sustains a native preacher in India and a native pastor in Upper Burmah.

Katie, Mattie and Josie, Coming.

The Rooney family, in "Lord Rooney", will appear again at Music Hall, Saturday evening. A better performance in the line of farce-comedy is seldom seen. The entertainment in its entirety, has as many bright features, as many excellent qualities, and as much fun and life as any that has been seen here in many a day. The play, itself, has sufficient plot and basis to make it worthy the name of a play. Then it is presented by people who are capable of doing something and who work with willingness and seem intent upon pleasing. Katie, Mattie and Josie Rooney are the bright stars of the piece and make decided hits in their respective parts.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B. F. Liepsner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me."—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

ALL OCEAN RECORDS BROKEN.

Splendid Performance of the Steamship "City of Paris".

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—The Inman line steamship City of Paris came into port to-day breaking three ocean records. She made the voyage in 5 days 14 hours 24 minutes, beating her own record of 5 days 15 hours 58 minutes by 1 hour and 34 minutes. She also made yesterday a run of 530 miles, beating the best previous day's record of 528 miles, made by the Teutonic.

The third record broken by the City of Paris was that of average speed per hour. The best previous record was made by herself in July last, when her average per hour was 20.48 knots. In the voyage just finished her average was 20.70 knots.

At Rest.

There was a large attendance at Trinity church yesterday afternoon at the funeral of Jennie E., late wife of Fred. S. Dunn. The Rev. Cornelius Schenck read comforting words of Scripture and spoke most beautifully of the lovely attributes of the departed spirit. He was visibly affected by his emotions over the death of one of the best loved ones of his flock. The Rev. John Hart of Neshanic, the former pastor of the parents of the deceased, paid a just and glowing tribute to the dead, and closed the services with prayer.

The floral tributes surrounding the casket were many, and included the following: Basket of flowers; King's Daughters' cross in purple, from the Whatsoever Circle; pillow with initials C. E., from the Y. P. S. C. E.; pillow with name "Jennie"; cross of white and yellow roses; wreath of white roses and chrysanthemums; large bouquet of delicate pink roses from Sunday-school class; pink bouquet, yellow bouquet, bouquet of white carnations, white bouquet, bouquet of white chrysanthenums. A Christian Endeavor pin and King's Daughters' badge rested on the breast of the deceased. The remains were placed in the family plot at Hillside.

The pall-bearers, chosen from the Christian Endeavor Society, were: E. E. Anthony, W. F. Oliver, J. A. Love, F. S. Cutter, D. Krymer and Theo. H. Hardy.

HANDSOME FALL SUITS.

Watson & Co. Make a New Departure in the Clothing Trade.

After years of experience and hard work, Watson and Company, the celebrated Newark clothiers have succeeded in placing their entire stock of clothing on a really custom made basis. All patterns used this fall are graded from actual measures taken in their order department and every detail of use and fancy will be found on their ready made garments. So perfect is the immense new stock they now offer that you can walk into their establishment and be fitted out in any of the popular custom made garments in any cut that is new and fashionable at prices but little more than half the rates demanded by merchant tailors for garments of equal style and durability, while every handsome pattern that can only be seen in merchant tailor's windows will be found on their racks all ready to put on.

It is really the correct cut of a garment that improves the dress appearance of the wearer, and that is what makes the clothing that Watson & Co. show in all their Broad and Market street windows so popular with the best dressed young men of Newark.

Just now it is worth taking a day off to see the new standard mixed suits in all the new shades and the choice D. B. and S. B. Velour faced cheviot suits in black, blue and proper shade of brown, they are selling complete for $12 and $15 or their immense stock of fancy worsted dress suits in all the beautiful new patterns, which they average at $18 for any style you may fancy. Watson & Co. have many imitators but no other firm set out the same bold, genteel, and correct-cut garments, and in perfect fitting pantaloons their stock is so large and their patterns so confined that they practically monopolize the trade of the city.

Read their new advertisement, and try one of their perfect fitting hand cut suits, now when you can get the choice of styles which the first buyers always secure.—The Newark Item.

New York and Chicago Line Works Satisfactorily.

MAYORS SEND CONGRATULATIONS.

Only One Circuit as Yet Established, But a Number Will Soon be in Operation—Connecting Lines to Reach All Important Points.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The long distance telephone line between this city and Chicago, which was formally opened last evening, operated in the most perfect and satisfactory manner. The line was opened by a conversation between Mayor Grant in New York and Mayor Washburne in Chicago.

In a neat speech Mayor Grant offered his congratulations to Mayor Washburne, upon the approaching celebration and also upon the opening of a telephone communication which brings the two cities so close together.

Chicago's representative returned the congratulations and in glowing terms alluded to the new line as a means of communication which supplants the telegraph and orally unites the people of the entire country.

The New York end of the line is at the main offices of the American Telephone and Telegraph company at 18 Courtland street, where the guests of the company numbering about 150 gathered.

By a perfect arrangement of receivers, twenty persons at a time were able to hear the entire conversation carried on.

Professor Alexander Graham Bell, the original inventor of the telephone, was the second to take the chair before the little table, to converse with William H. Hubbard of Chicago.

While Professor Bell was talking in an ordinary tone into the transmitter which carried his voice along the wires a thousand miles, he was surrounded by a scene bright and lively and exciting to a certain degree. Along two sides of the room a row of curiously wrought benches each connecting with a hand telephone was occupied by sitters, whose faces expressed better than words could tell the deep interest they felt.

The wire over which yesterday's test was made is of copper, and is nearly three times as heavy as the ordinary long-distance telephone wire. It weighs 435 pounds to the mile, and the circuit contains 826,500 pounds of copper wire. There is now only one circuit, but its complete success will result in the speedy establishment of a number of wires, over which communication can be had with Chicago as readily as is now had with Brooklyn.

The principal points on the line are Newark, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Cleveland, Toledo, and South Bend, Ind.

In the Eastern States connecting lines reach all important points from Portland, Me., on the east, to Buffalo, north, and Washington, south. In the West branches are completed, or substantially so, from Chicago to Milwaukee, and from Toledo to Detroit. Through these branches, and through connecting lines, all important points in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin will soon be reached.

THOUSANDS IN STAMFORD.

Visitors Inspect the United States Cruisers in the Harbor.

STAMFORD, CONN., Oct. 19.—Thousands from the surrounding country visited Stamford to take part in the celebration of the city's 250th anniversary.

The musical event was the presentation of Platti's "Triumph of Columbus" in the evening, and that left the earlier hours for visitors and citizens to inspect the United States war vessels in the Sound.

In every means of water conveyance thousands went off to them. The Atlanta, the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius and the Miantonomoh were open to inspection and their armaments and furnishing proved of intense interest to the constant stream of people who boarded them.

The Town Hall was crowded in the evening, when the "Triumph of Columbus" was sung with good effect.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—The Norwegian steamship Agnes, from Bluefields, reports having rescued Thomas Conner, first officer, and Charles Scott, a seaman, belonging to the Honduras steamer Stranger, of Ruatan, which sailed from Belize for Bluefields, via Ruatan, with thirteen passengers, seven of whom were women and three children, and with a crew of six men.

The ship was capsized in a storm Oct. 10, at 11 p. m., and all are supposed to have been lost with the exception of two men.

Shippers Must Pay Elevator Charges.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The Pennsylvania, the Baltimore & Ohio, and the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad companies have agreed to abolish the elevator and floating charges on grain shipments to Philadelphia and Baltimore. Hereafter the full tariffs on grain will be charged by the three companies. This will make a difference of from three to five cents per 100 pounds in favor of the railroads.

Church Burglars Captured.

DANBURY, Conn., Oct. 19.—The burglars who entered St. Peter's Church Saturday night and stole several hundred dollars worth of gold and silver from the altar, have been captured. They are three in number and gave the names of Daniel Mackey, John Green and John Clark, all of New York. The stolen goods were found buried in the ground near the Housatonic railroad, a short distance below the city.

Gov. McKinley's Car Stoned.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 19.—While Gov. McKinley was passing Hurricane Station, midway between Charleston and Huntington in a train, at 11 a. m., a stone crashed through the window of the car next to the Governor, but did not hurt any one. Five other stones were thrown. The men who did the work could not be found.

THEY BEAT TIME.

The Great Living Bandmasters of Different Nations.

An Englishman's Admiration of the German Band—Austria Ranks High in the Way of Bands—Gilmore's Possible Successor.

[COPYRIGHT 1892.]

The lamented death of Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, universally conceded to be the greatest bandmaster America has known, while naturally suggesting speculation as to who shall worthily succeed to his fame, brings to the front the interesting subject of the military band as an institution and recalls the many famous names which are associated with both its history and its development into its modern condition of perfection.

The great names of Lulli, Wieprecht, Julien, the Strausses, Godfrey and Gungl, so inseparably connected with the story of the military band, come to mind just now and fix our attention upon the glory they achieved as organizers and wielders of the baton.

It has been appropriately said that an inevitable accompaniment of the military system is the band of music, serving, as it always has, to eliminate cowardice and beget bravery. Louis XIV., the grand monarch of the Bourbon dynasty, most fully recognized the inestimable services rendered to an army by the inspiring strains of martial music. Hence he patronized and encouraged the efforts of Lulli, whose trained troupe of expert performers on the violin always marched with the army under the flaunting banner of the fleur de lis. There was a time when military music, or as much of it as the world then knew, consisted of a flourish of trumpets, the shrill notes of the fife and the roll of the drum. But this was merely the embryo of the imposing instrumental combination that we call a band, and Germany, as the foremost musical nation of the world, originally took the lead in its development.

The bands of the French army were once little more than drum corps, though it is admitted that French drummers were artists of uncommon ability. They had, in fact, the reputation of timing their instruments to the measured tramp, tramp of the soldiers in a style no other nation could equal. In the course of years the bands of the French army were vastly altered for the better, partly through the influence of national pride, and largely through agitation. The influence of M. Perrin achieved great results. He was probably the father of the modern French military band. According to his ideas a competent bandmaster should be absolutely qualified to play every instrument used in the band, and also possess an elaborate musical education in regard to composition and theory. For a properly equipped infantry band M. Perrin insisted upon a total of forty performers, classified as follows: Five first-class musicians, eight second class, ten third and fifteen fourth class, besides the bandmaster and his assistant.

But Perrin bettered things vastly, and since 1856 the French bands have been able to hold their own with any. One great fault found with them during the Second empire was that all the instruments were made by one firm. Sax enjoyed this monopoly from the government, and it was claimed by experts that a general monotony and "family likeness" in tone resulted. The proverb that too many cooks spoil the broth does not apply in this connection, it seems. In the Crimean war the French army kept its bands intact long after the rigors of the campaign and climate had demoralized those of the English regiments, and when the allies entered Sebastopol it was to the sprightly and cheering notes of "Partant pour la Syria."

The most notable French band of this century was that organized by M. Julien, which used to tour in foreign countries and perform at great festivals everywhere. In canvassing the merits of French bands, more especially those of the army, musical critics have claimed that they aim rather at a strong noise than at the attainment of the full, sweet sounds.

Austria occupies a high position in the ranks of nations which have gained distinction in the organization of bands of music. To-day, as for years past, the names of the two Strausses stand preeminent. Sons of a distinguished father, who, although himself a musician and kappelmeister of an Austrian regiment, set his face against their following the same profession, they found the force of nature stronger than anything else and drifted into music as a thing inevitable. And their success has, if anything, outshone that of their father. Who does not know and love the waltzes of Johann Strauss? To the Viennese—to the Austrians at large—his "Beautiful Blue Danube" is regarded almost as a national air.

Johann Strauss was born in Vienna in 1800, and his original calling was that of bank clerk. His mother, however, favored his musical aspirations and allowed him to have a violin teacher in private. Then he went to Drechsler for composition lessons. His first waltz was written at the age of twelve. The Austrian army was fortunate enough to obtain his services for a time and he became kappelmeister in an infantry regiment. He was now in his true element and did much to improve the condition of the military music as he found it. His methods and ideas were generally adopted, and the consequence was a marked rise in the general excellence of Austrian regimental bands.

On the death of his father he amalgamated the latter's band with his own and made a grand tour of the German cities. His fame was so great in Russia that the government engaged him to superintend the popular concerts of music in St. Petersburg, and so it was that, leading his band in the Petropaulovski park in that city, Johann Strauss won the affection of the masses as Gilmore did with us.

Connected for a time with the court balls at Vienna as director, he resigned to make a tour of the world, during which he visited New York and Boston.

Eduard Strauss, who so recently performed at the Madison Square garden in New York, is a younger brother of Johann, and though not quite so prominent enjoys a wide fame. He was, like his brother, very popular in St. Petersburg when he filled the position of conductor of the open air concerts in the park, to which he succeeded on the former's resignation.

In England, for many years, the inferiority of the military bands was proverbial. Fifes and drums were the only part [illegible] government, and the band [illegible] kept up to such standard as it possessed by the voluntary contributions of the officers to the band fund. Things are changed now, and the English army band of 1892 is a thing no service need be ashamed of. The English bands are still, as regards funds, run on much the same principle as of old. As all army officers there possess private means, it follows that in those corps where the officers are the wealthiest the best bands are found. The Foot guards, as the swellest part of the army, took the prize in this respect, the band of the Grenadier regiment having a world-famous reputation. There are several reasons for this. The officers being men of rank and fortune, the band fund was plethoric, and the engagement of the best bandmaster thus rendered possible. Under the regime of the great Dan Godfrey the band of the Grenadier guards became, like Gilmore's, a household word in every land.

Dan Godfrey is one of the best-known figures in London, a frequenter of the clubs and a much-feted man in society and literary circles. He is constantly to be seen in the Savage club, the center of a group of friends and admirers. The accompanying portrait was sketched from life.

The United States has lost in Gilmore a man so distinguished that it will be difficult to replace him, but probably the mantle will descend upon Carla Alberto Cappa, the widely known bandmaster of the Seventh regiment of New York. He is already a favorite in many parts of the country. By birth a Scandinavian, and the son of a major in the Scandinavian army, he enlisted first in the Sixth Lancers of his native country and when twenty shipped aboard the United States ship Concord at Genoa. Just before the war he joined the band of which he has been conductor for the past eleven years. He also acted for several years as first trombone in the orchestra of Theodore Thomas. As an American representative band Cappa's has had a record gratifying to our national pride, and there seems no reason why we need have any apprehension as to the future triumphs of this country in the matter of musical art as expounded by the achievements of our leading military bands.

It is to be hoped that under the leadership of the great Gilmore's successor the band he made so famous will continue to maintain its high standard of excellence. THOMAS DONNELLY.

A Vain Regret.

and not one of us has had an attack of "richness" since. We further found that, unlike lard, Cottolene had no unpleasant odor when cooking, and lastly Mother's favorite and conservative cooking authority came out and gave it a big recommendation which clinched the matter. CHICAGO'S CELEBRATION

Festivities on a Grand Scale Preceding the Dedicatory Exercises.

TO-DAY DEVOTED TO CIVIC PARADES WATER PAGEANT TO-NIGHT.

Formal Inaugural Reception to the City's Guests of Honor at the Auditorium Last Night—A Frightful Crush at the Ball—Trouble Over the Military Procession To-morrow—Plan of the Exposition Grounds—Some of the Buildings.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The civic celebration in connection with the dedication of the World's Fair buildings is taking place to-day. Innumerable societies are to take part in the parade, which will be reviewed by the Vice-President, the Cabinet and other notables.

This evening, at Jackson Park, amid myriads of electric lights and other displays, a water pageant, the "Procession of the Centuries," will move through the water-ways of the Exposition grounds.

There have been a few hitches in the orderly procession of events, but nothing that promises to interfere seriously with the success of the celebration. The people are anxious to see the big military parade to-morrow, but the line of march, as far as things are settled at present, is to be from Washington Park to Jackson, and every one who knows the geography of Chicago knows how far from the real city those points are.

The citizens are signing petitions to have the soldiers go through the down town parade. Gen. Nelson A. Miles says that he does not think that it will be possible to take the troops through the city.

"A parade in the city," he says, "means that all roads to the World's Fair grounds will be swamped. The congested traffic would interfere with the passage of the visitors' carriages, to say nothing of the public."

Chicago's Auditorium, the greatest assembly hall of the continent, was ablaze with light and beauty last night. Lovely women were there whose presence would create a furore at a drawing room in Buckingham Palace, women in toilets that would put to shame the greatest creations of a Worth. And there were men who have made their imprint on the history of this and other nations, statesmen and diplomats, warriors that have faced the dusky foe in the jungles and tried conclusions with the enemy on the briny deep; men of letters and of law, of science and of art. Patriotism was the animative motive of the occasion and the event. So far as the official programme of the dedication week was concerned, last night's reception had no recognition, beyond the formal endorsement of the Committee on Ceremonies of the World's Columbian Exposition.

It was a scene of almost indescribable brilliancy that presented itself to the vision of the Vice-President of the United States when, leaning upon the arm of President H. N. Higginbotham, of the World's Fair Directory, he appeared upon the floor of the ballroom. The steel curtain of the stage had been raised, and in its place half fluttered the Spanish royal banner. To the right and left, above and below, were banners upon which were embroidered the initials of Queen Isabella and her consort, the rulers of Spain at the time of the great discoverer.

To the right and left, before and behind, above and below, fluttering in the air from the balconies and hiding from view the primitive nakedness of the marble pillars, were the Stars and Stripes in profusion almost beyond the arithmetician's art of calculating or guess work.

Twenty-five boxes were occupied by the Executives of States, commencing with Governor Page, of Vermont, and concluding with Gov. Markham, of California. All of the Chief Executives were accompanied either by their staffs, or by their respective families. Conspicuous in the tier of boxes were Governors McKinley, of Ohio, Boies, of Iowa, Peck, of Wisconsin, and Boyd, of Nebraska.

The Vice-President was escorted to a position in the eastern corner of the hall and the reception was at once inaugurated. The guests passed over the floor in procession, being first introduced to the managers, then to the Committee of Arrangements, next to the patronesses, and finally, after running this gauntlet, to the Vice-President and distinguished guests.

The crush in the ballroom was something terrible, and dancing was practically out of the question.

New Yorkers who were present here last night drew sorrowful comparisons as they gazed at their tattered garments with the notable Centennial ball, when Ward McAllister managed to make 1,000 guests comfortable in the Metropolitan Opera House, and he announced that 1,000 was the utmost limit of any successful ball.

At the conclusion of the reception and which continued until nearly 11 o'clock, the Vice-President was escorted to the loge on the immediate right of the stage followed by the remainder of the distinguished guests.

Although Chicago did not provide anything like the great parade of school children at the Columbian celebration in New York, public exercises of some kind were held in all the grammar and high schools in the city and were well attended by the parents of the little ones. The programmes included addresses by the professors and teachers, patriotic songs, hoisting of flags, recitations, etc.

Apparently the hotels are already as full at they need be. There are crowds at the large ones and small ones alike, and at some of them, notably at the Auditorium, the Palmer and the Grand Pacific, it is difficult at times to force a way through the crowds that fill the rotundas.

But large as the crowd already on the ground is, it is not a circumstance to that which may be expected with the next few hours. Special trains packed with men and women of note and distinction are speeding Chicagoward from pretty well every State and Territory; while the ordinary trains are running in two, three, and in some cases four sections.

At times this morning the tide of humanity poured itself out of the Union and Grand Central depots as if it never intended to stop.

When Gov. Tuttle of New Hampshire, with his staff and party, reached the city, carriages on hand were barely sufficient for the accommodation of the ladies, and so the Governor headed the procession on foot to the Wellington.

There was a large crowd at the Union station to extend a welcome to Gov. Mc-

HORTICULTURAL.

Kinley and the delegation from the Buckeye State. They came in force, over 250 of them; members of both branches of the Legislature, representatives of the Judicial bench, officials of the various State Departments and the members of the State Board of World's Fair Managers.

The Buckeye train had barely been gotten out of the depot when that having the delegation from the Keystone State rolled in. Gov. Pattison was one of the first to alight from the front end of the second car, while from the rear end peered forth a face that has become generally known to newspaper readers within the last few weeks—that of Chief Justice Paxso whose charge to the grand jury in the Homestead treason cases is still creating so much of a national sensation.

Close behind him alighted Maj.-Gen. George W. Snowden, who had command of the troops at Homestead.

The remainder of the party, to a total of nearly one hundred, was made up of the Governor's staff, State officials and members of the State World's Fair Commission.

EXPOSITION PALACES.

Magnificent Structures for the Real Products of the World.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The Eastern man can hardly appreciate the intense feeling of local pride with which Chicago greets her visitors.

Although only in its fifty-sixth year as a municipality, Chicago has become the second city in population in the country, and in all branches of progress is second only to the metropolis. Chicago itself will, to many, be the most remarkable exhibit, not only of the dedication ceremonies, but of the Exposition itself.

The exposition grounds and buildings will be universally conceded as the marvel of building operations of the century. On March 1, 1891, Jackson Park, on the Lake Michigan shore, was little more than barren prairie and marsh. To-day magnificent structures costing nearly $15,000,000 are either completed or so nearly so that in a few weeks they will be ready for exhibits.

The following statistics will convey an idea of the immensity of the work, and the magnificent achievement of the ten leading architects of the country who designed and have supervised the construction:

THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS.

Jackson Park, the site of the Exposition, is seven and a half miles south by east of the City Hall, Chicago. It embraces 633 acres, of which about one-fifth had been improved as a public pleasure park. No more beautiful or convenient site for a World's Fair could have been found in the world.

The waters of the lake have been let into a series of artificial lagoons, by which a complete tour of the grounds may be made in boats. Landscape gardeners have had almost carte blanche in the matter of decoration and have kept pace with the architects in making an entirely beautiful and artistic site beyond the anticipations of the most enthusiastic Chicago Exposition boomer.

There are thirteen main Exposition buildings.

Along the western boundary of the grounds are the tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad, by which every Eastern and Southern trunk line may run its cars direct to the grounds. Cable cars and an elevated road also reach Jackson park from the heart of the city, insuring, with the railroad and boat service on the lake, prompt handling of the largest number of people that have ever applied for transportation in this country.

The Exposition officials have planned to transport 150,000 people per hour between Chicago and Jackson park, and feel assured they will be able to accomplish this great feat.

WOMAN'S BUILDING.

For the accepted design of this structure Miss Sophia G. Hayden received a prize of $1,000. The principal facade of the building has an extreme length of 400 feet, the depth being one-half that distance. The style of architecture is Italian Renaissance. The building is incased with "staff," and will, when completed, be one of the most noticeable edifices on the grounds. The hanging gardens will be a unique and impressive feature of the centre pavilion. The estimate for this building was $200,000, but the actual cost was reduced to $138,000.

MANUFACTURES AND LIBERAL ARTS

This is the mammoth structure of the Exposition. It is 1,687 feet long by 787, and covers nearly thirty-one acres of ground. It is the largest building ever constructed under one roof. The style of architecture is Corinthian, and throughout the treatment is severely classic. There are four great entrances, one in the centre of each facade. The entrances are designed in the manner of triumphal arches. The building occupies the most conspicuous place on the grounds, facing the lake. The exterior of the structure is covered with "staff," which is treated so as to represent marble. The contract price was $1,700,000.

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING.

The imposing Government building is a classic structure, bearing a strong resemblance to the National Museum and other Government buildings in Washington. It was designed by Supervising Architect of the Treasury Windrim and cost $400,000. The structure covers an area of 345 by 415 feet and is constructed of iron and glass. The central dome, 120 feet in diameter and 150 feet high, is the leading architectural feature of the edifice. The allotments of space for the several departments are: War Department, 23,000 square feet; Treasury, 10,500; Agriculture, 23,250; Interior, 24,000; Postoffice, 9,000; Fisheries, 20,000; Smithsonian Institute, balance of space.

THE HORTICULTURAL BUILDING.

The Horticultural building is immediately south of the entrance to Jackson park and faces the lagoon. The structure is 998 feet long and has an extreme width of 250 feet. It cost $300,000, and was designed by W. L. B. Jenny, of Chicago. The plan is a central pavilion, with two end pavilions, each connected with the central one by front and rear curtains, forming two interior courts, each 88 by 270 feet. The centre of the pavilion is roofed by a crystal dome 187 feet in diameter and 113 feet high.

ART PALACE.

The Fine Arts building is a pure type of the most refined classic architecture in the Grecian-Ionic style. It is oblong, 500 by 320 feet, intersected north, east, south and west by a great nave and transept 100 feet wide and 70 feet high. The dome is 60 feet in diameter. Galleries 60 feet wide run around the entire building. C. B. Atwood was the architect. The building is located in the north of the park, the south front facing the lagoon. This building cost $670,000.

STAMFORD'S GREAT DAY.

Her 250th Anniversary Celebrated With Elaborate Exercises.

STAMFORD, Conn., Oct. 20.—Stamford's celebration of her 250th anniversary was ended in a fitting manner.

On the spot where two-and-a-half centuries ago a company of pilgrims, in revolt against the oppression of the times, built their homes and planted the germs from which American institutions grew, some thirty thousand of their descendants and those who linked their fortunes with them celebrated in a fitting manner the founding of the town.

The religious services Sunday, the childrens' exercises Monday, and the musical festival Tuesday had whetted the appetite of the town's people and their visitors for something grand and imposing.

A big arch has been erected in Atlantic street, near the public square. It was inscribed "Welcome to Stamford, 1641—1891."

A big reviewing stand had been constructed and the town had been draped with bunting until its streets were like rivers of red, white and blue, with here and there a portrait of George Washington and Columbus.

Three of Uncle Sam's new ships anchored in the harbor, added to the dignity of the occasion. They were the Atlanta, Miantonomah and Vesuvius.

The town had been crowded with people since Sunday. But every train on the closing day brought more people as did also boats from along the Sound. A large number drove in from hamlets in the interior.

During the forenoon the crowds examined the antiquities exhibited in Association Hall, and admired the decorations along the principal streets. They also visited the men-of-war in the harbor.

The feature of the day, the grand military and civic parade, formed at Atlantic and Main streets and started shortly after 11 o'clock.

Commodore James D. Smith was Grand Marshal, and forty leading citizens, mounted, acted as aides.

The streets were packed with people, and the police had no little difficulty in clearing the way for the procession to move.

The G. A. R. Posts followed the National Guard, and included posts from Mount Vernon, N. Y.; Norwalk, New Canaan, Westport, Greenwich, Danbury, Stamford and a delegation from the Soldiers' Home at Noroton, Conn.

The parade was reviewed by Gov. Bulkely and staff and ex-Gov. Lounsbury, Senator Platt and the town officials.

Earthquake in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—Three distinct earthquake shocks of three to four distinct vibrations each were noted in Martinsville yesterday. The shocks were five minutes apart. The trembling of the earth was plainly perceptible, and the people were greatly frightened, but no damage was done.

More Trouble Over London's Catholic Lord Mayor.

STORMY SCENES AT A MEETING

Knill's Adherents Finally Succeed in Carrying Their Point—Poisoner Cream's Chances for Escape Growing Very Slim—Yesterday's Testimony in the Case.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A lively meeting was held last night in Memorial Hall, under the auspices of the Anti-Popery Society, to protest against the election of Alderman Knill, a Catholic, as Lord Mayor of London.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. Phillips, a Hebrew, who was Knill's chief opponent in the candidacy for the office. Phillips had to shout at the top of his voice throughout the meeting in order to gain a hearing at all, and at times the din was so great that no business could be transacted. In the course of some bitter remarks Phillips asserted that Knill was an improper person for Lord Mayor, inasmuch as he must obey the orders of the Pope in all things. At this there were cries of "You're a liar!" "Knill is an honest man!" etc.

It was evident at an early stage of the proceedings that Knill's friends were in the majority. Several fruitless attempts to eject disturbers from the hall resulted in fights, during which the proceedings of the meeting were suspended. Edward Littleto, one of Phillips' partisans, made a motion that Knill was an unfit person to be Lord Mayor.

Littleton explained that he had written to Lord Salisbury, asking whether the action of the Pope in sending the pallium to Archbishop Vaughn was not a defiance of the laws of England.

Lord Salisbury's reply was a mere statement that the question was one for the lawyers to answer. Roars of derisive laughter followed the reading of the letter.

Mr. Littleton evoked renewed jeers by a complaint that Mr. Gladstone, to whom a similar inquiry was addressed, had simply acknowledged the receipt of the letter.

Beaufoi Moore, president of the Anti-Popery society, leader of the movement against Knill, and owner of the famous Cheshire Cheese hostelry, seconded Mr. Littleton's motion declaring the unfitness of Knill. His utterances were scarcely audible above the din made by shouts of inquiry as to the price of whiskey and other articles dealt in by Moore.

The friends of Knill now took charge of affairs, Capt. Salbury moving, as an amendment to Mr. Littleton's resolution, that Mr. Knill was the fittest person possible for Lord Mayor.

The chairman tried to avoid putting the amendment, but was forced to do so, and it was carried by an overwhelming majority, amid frantic cheers by the Knillites and howls of rage from the Anti-Popery zealots.

CREAM IN A BAD WAY.

Testimony to be Admitted in Regard to Other Poisoning Cases.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The decision of Justice Hawkins in the case of the alleged poisoner, Thomas Neill Cream, to permit the admission of testimony in regard to other alleged poisoning cases, as well as that of Matilda Clover, for which the prisoner is on trial, is regarded as lessening Cream's chances of escape.

John Patrick Haynes, a photographer, testified that Cream had shown him a notebook in which were entered the initials of the women who had been poisoned together with the date of their death.

Miss Laura Sabbatini, the girl who was engaged to marry Cream, testified she, at Cream's request, wrote the letters used in the attempted blackmailing of Dr. Harper, whom Cream had declared had poisoned the young women.

GEN. SICKLES WILL RUN.

And Gen. McMahon Will Too, on an Independent Ticket.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Gen. Martin T. McMahon, who was defeated for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the Tenth District by Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, announced that the latter was ineligible for the place, as he is an officer in the United States Army.

General Sickles, however, does not consider himself an office holder within the meaning of the Constitution, and intends to make the race for Congress.

Gen. McMahon is much wrought up over the matter and declares that he will run on an independent ticket if Gen. Sickles does not withdraw.

TO-MORROW A LEGAL HOLIDAY?

The New York State Court of Appeals Will Not Sit on That Day.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The Court of Appeals at first coincided with General Rosendale in his private opinion to the Governor to the effect that Friday, Oct. 21 is not a legal holiday in this State, and the judges decided to hold court on that day.

They have since decided to take a holiday to-morrow.

Exciting Convention at Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Democrats of Union county held an exciting convention in Library Hall in this city yesterday afternoon, nominating ex-Surrogate James J. Gerber of Elizabeth for County Clerk in place of the present incumbent, J. L. Crowell of Rahway, who was also a candidate. The question of party usage established by precedent, was raised by Crowell's friends, they demanding accordingly, his renomination and threatening revenge if refused. The police were called in to quell the disturbance caused by the factions.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING OF SAILORS.

Mate Sullivan and Ten Men Spend Twenty-five Days in an Open Boat.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Full details are received of the wreck of the American ship W. S. Campbell, and the terrible sufferings of the mate and ten sailors in an open boat for twenty-five days. Mate A. R. Sullivan and six men arrived on the Honolulu steamer yesterday.

Sullivan is a young American of considerable literary ability, and told an admirable story of the wreck. He rehearsed the details of the coming of the hurricane off the coast of Mexico when the lumber laden ship ran before the wind.

"The Captain before he left the cabin sat down at the piano and played 'Down went McGinty.' He decided to set fire to the ship for fear she might wreck other vessels, so as they shoved off the torch was applied and soon afterward she blew up, as there were explosives on board.

"After staying together two days," added Sullivan, "I decided to push on, as my boat was the swiftest. All hands were put on short allowance, half-condensed milk and water and three biscuits a day; canned meat at morning meal and in the evening one tin of fruit was used.

"On the tenth day our water gave out and I put the men on the same allowance of wine. On the fourteenth, signs of weakness were noticable in several faces. Twenty days out and all our liquids were exhausted. The men behaved well with the exception of three Chilian sailors. The men noticed that the Chilians seemed to stand the short allowance better than themselves and it was decided to ascertain the way they did it.

"Watch was set, and during the night they were discovered eating from the rations of the supposed sleeping sailors. It was all I could do to save the lives of the Chilians, as several of the men drew their knives and swore to kill them. Finally, as I was stronger than they, I overpowered them and threw their knives overboard. Just before we sighted land these men became very weak, and would have died had not help come that day."

No tidings have been received of the missing boat, which contained Capt. Havener, wife and child, Second Mate Alexander Murray, Third Mate Percy E. Turner and eleven men. It is thought that they were picked up by a vessel going round Cape Horn, or perished.

THE SEATS BROKE DOWN.

Three Hundred Children Fall Fifteen Feet at a Columbus Festival Rehearsal.

WEST WINSTED, Conn., Oct. 20.—Eight hundred pupils of the public schools, with principals and teachers, yesterday marched to the rink to practice chorus singing of national airs for the big Columbus celebration. Temporary seats were erected in tiers to the height of fifteen feet to hold 1,000 pupils.

They were being seated on the upper seats, and the first 400 had been seated, when the five top rows collapsed. Three hundred children fell to the floor in a heap, and the wreck and their screams caused a panic among the others, who escaped, while several women fainted.

A crowd was quickly on the spot to rescue the children, some of whom were pulled out with broken arms, legs and collar bones, or otherwise hurt, some being unconscious.

All the town doctors were summoned, and many teams were pressed into service to take the children home. None were fatally hurt.

The smallest children, those from 5 to 12 years of age, occupied the top seats, which had evidently been carelessly constructed. The community is excited and indignant, and there have been threats of lynching Carpenter Curtis, while there are said to be many law suits in store for him.

The children were to be the feature of the Columbus celebration, but the accident has greatly interfered with that part of the programme.

The report shows the order to be sound.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Cooper Union was never crowded to a greater extent than it was last night on the occasion of the Democratic mass meeting. FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Friday: For New Jersey, Fair; Westerly Winds, Becoming Variable; Stationary Temperature.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—There will be an office of thanksgiving and prayer in observance of Discovery Day, at Grace church to-morrow morning at 11.

—Ira C. Andrews, a most excellent instructor, will open a class in dancing at Hulett's conservatory of music Saturday evening.

—J. G. Miller, the druggist, made an assignment to-day for the benefit of his creditors. John Vetterlein was the assignee selected.

—Delegates Jacob Kriney and Abram Rockafellow, who voted for J. L. Crowell as county clerk on the first ballot in yesterday's convention, joined their votes and voices afterwards in making the nomination of James J. Gerber unanimous.

—George H. Burgess, of Central avenue, was suddenly prostrated in the Asbestos club room this morning, either by impure close air, or feebleness from age. For a time his friends were alarmed, but he soon revived so as to be able to go to his home.

—The Tiers are now supplying manufactured ice to their customers, and the people find it so superior to natural ice that the people are demanding it altogether. Therefore the Tiers will probably go into the manufacture of ice instead of harvesting it from ponds.

—George L. VanEmburgh & Son will have their opening Saturday, when they will display a fine line of notions and men's, women's and children's furnishings. Their new place of business at Front street opposite Park avenue, in the First National Bank building, has been nicely fitted up, and it will be a pleasure for the public to call there.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The engagement is announced of Miss Annie Guion and George S. Clay, both of this city.

Miss Emma Butler, niece of W. C. Butler, is visiting friends on Fifth avenue, New York.

Bert Love, formerly of Neuman Bros., has accepted a position as contract clerk in the Pond Tool Works.

Among the passengers on the record-breaking trip of the City of Paris were Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lowry and George Vincent and wife.

The little son of S. C. Mundy of Smalley's North avenue meat market now has a cunning little sister, who came to town Monday night.

A fancy dress sociable was given by Messrs. Flagg and Pierson of Westfield last evening. Before and after the excellent supper there were games, dancing and instrumental and vocal music. A. G. Carpenter of Plainfield furnished the orchestra.

Miss Lizette P. Harrison, who has been for some time connected with the Government Bureau of Religious Statistics, under Dr. Carroll, in this city, has accepted the position of amanuensis and private secretary to J. Brooks Fenno, 22 Louisburg Square, Boston.

FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

PLAINFIELD VOTERS HEAR SOME ROUSING ARGUMENT.

Successful Mass-Meeting of the Democracy, in Music Hall—Great Speeches by Powerful Orators—Resolutions Outspoken Against Republican Evils.

The mass-meeting in Music Hall last evening under the auspices of the Cleveland and Stevenson club was a glowing success. The theatre held a large body of voters, and in the boxes were numbers of fine-looking women, the flower of the local Democracy. The stage was filled with representative citizens, from among the vice-presidents and secretaries of the evening.

As chairman of the executive committee of the club, H. B. Ely called the meeting to order, when the music by Guttman's band subsided, and introduced the presiding officer, James Clark. Mr. Clark proved his ability and fitness by wasting no time in verbiage but got right down to business and pushed through the routine work so that the speakers might be heard for whom the audience was waiting.

The list of officials was announced by Mr. Ely as follows:

President—James Clark.

Vice-presidents—The Hon. Jos. W. Yates, the Hon. James E. Martine, Otto Arens, Major R. L. Burnett, DeWitt C. Ivins, H. E. Daboll, G. F. C. Smillie, Col. Mason W. Tyler, ex-councilman Rowland Cox, E. W. Conklin, E. C. Perkins, E. L. Walz, judge Louis F. Wadsworth, Henry B. Ely, councilman Vincent L. Frazee, county attorney Wm. K. McClure, Seymour Marsh, E. H. Booth, ex-postmaster W. L. Force, A. L. Force, Wm. A. Coddington, ex-councilman Walter L. Hetfield, Wm. J. Lowe.

Secretaries—Noel Verrier, Lewis G. Timpson, J. M. Morrison, Peter Flynn, C. B. Van Winkle, George Tobin, Louis H. Brown.

Then the following resolutions were read. They were enthusiastically applauded and unanimously adopted:

The Democrats of Plainfield, N. J., in mass-meeting assembled, resolve:

That they heartily endorse the platform of the national Democratic party adopted at Chicago, declaring the principle of the Democratic party that taxes should be levied, and burdens imposed on the people, for the sole purpose of raising the money necessary for the support of the government;

That they condemn the policy of the Republican party which advocates the use of the taxing power to confer special favors and advantages on the few at the expense of the many;

That they especially condemn the attempt of the Republican party to control the elections not simply of the South but of the North as well, by the use of the Federal power, and with the "force bill"; neither the President nor any part of the Republican party has denied that it is the policy of that party to pass the Lodge bill;

That the record of Grover Cleveland as President of the United States is a guarantee that the business interests of the country, and the interests of the laboring classes, will be secure in his hands;

That the candidate for Governor, George T. Werts, has shown to the people of this State, by his ability and integrity, his worthiness for the high office for which he is a candidate.

Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 19, 1892.

The first speaker of the evening was L. Vinton of New York, who interested and edified the people for an hour. During his speech the entrance of Charles H. Winfield was greeted with great applause, and James E. Martine on entering received a genuine ovation.

Mr. Vinton said that the Democratic party fought for equal rights to all and secret favors to none, while the Republicans favored a high tariff that taxed all the people for the private gain of a few. The high tariff he denounced as robbery of the masses in order that a handful of capitalists might fill their coffers. Even—he said—were "Protection" theoretically correct the largest number that could be theoretically protected was 5 to 7 per cent. of the entire inhabitants of the country. And if "Protection" did n't protect all alike it was a rank injustice. He himself was president of a machinery manufacturing company, and as a manufacturer he proclaimed that he did not want to be "protected", for Republican "Protection" was robbery.

The speaker showed that in Free Trade England wages were higher and the condition of the workingman was superior to those of "Protection" Germany; and that the overburdened and oppressed Germans were revolting against the tyranny of "Protection" and were crying "You shall not tax what I eat!" The condition of things there bordered on revolution, while in Free Trade England peace and plenty and prosperity prevailed.

Mr. Vinton showed that American wages had been lowered instead of increased under the infamous McKinley bill, and proved that the Republican tariff on coal had been responsible for the possibility of the big coal combine which was now grinding suffering humanity. The increase of profit to the combine by its raising the price of coal he showed to be $84,000,000 a year, all of which came out of the pockets of the consumers, through the Republican high tariff agency.

He exposed the folly of Reciprocity as an attempt to club other nations into trading with the United States, and showed that by its workings more had been lost than gained.

A portion of the huge profits of "Protection"—he argued—went from the few who received the benefits into the Republican corruption fund to buy votes to continue "Protection" for the benefit of those same few.

Mr. Vinton bitterly attacked the dishonesty of the men leading the Republican campaign, and held the moral question at stake to be even more important than the issue of dollars and cents. He was once a stanch Republican, and held with Gresham and MacVeigh and President Arthur [hearty applause for all these names] that the high war tariff should be lowered. As the party had fallen and the long procession of honored men had come over to the growing, thriving, honest party, he too had left the degenerated Republicanism and united himself with the Democrats on their superb and patriotic platform of high-principles.

Prosecutor Winfield of Jersey City was as warmly received as ever. Chairman Clark introduced him as "the man who prosecutes ballot-box stuffers".

Mr. Winfield urged the voters to take the presidential records of the two candidates—Cleveland's manly, strong and honest, Harrison's weak and namby-pamby—and compare the administrations side by side. Then they could not but choose for Cleveland.

By convincing arguments Mr. Winfield showed the beauties and benefits of Tariff Reform, the true meaning of which he held to be less taxation. The Democrats—he said—were in favor of that; and they were opposed to all this "Protection" taxation beyond the financial needs of the government. Democracy meant reduced taxation, Republicanism was increased taxation. The "Protection" doctrine was to tax consumers for the purpose of enriching manufacturers. "Protection" meant to pay tariff on what the people eat, drink and wear. It was all a great injustice. The poor man consumed more than the rich man in propertion to what he possessed, and so through the tariff or consumption tax the poor man paid more than the rich. It was a fraud, an opppression. A just law would bear on all alike; this favored a few at the expense of the many. Through "Protection" 2,000,000 paid tribute to 63,000,000. The Democratic party had always stood by the Constitution, and was opposed to such unconstitutional injustice.

Mr. Winfield gave a history of the tariff laws of the land. Incidentally paying a glowing tribute to the noble army who went forth to war, he told how the tariff had been necessitated by the great civil struggle. It was a war measure. In '61, 35 per cent. was considered a monstrous tariff, and the legislators apologized "because it was only temporary". The Republicans increased that tariff, and continued to increase it, and sought to make it eternal. The greedy manufacturers had tasted the sweets of selfish high tariff; they were getting rich out of the people's pockets; and they found "Protection" an easy way to continue their tremendous gains without honest labor and sweat of brow. The people were clamoring for relief from this awful burden, and the Democracy would give it to them. The Republicans had been asked for decreased tariff, and instead they had increased it. They had been asked for bread, and had given a stone.

The present tariff was a gigantic conspiracy. The "protected" manufacturers were responsible for the Republican corruption fund. And in the lead of all the hypocrites was the pious, holy, saint John Wannamaker.

"Satan trembles when he sees
The humblest sinner on his knees.
What then must be his wild despair
When Wannamaker kneels in prayer!"

This quotation brought down the house.

Mr. Winfield went on to tell in detail what corruption had been done by the Republicans, and what notorious corruption was being done by them now. He characterized "Protection" as a dishonest invention, which begat monopolies and brought death to every republic.

When Mr. Winfield had finished, the people clamored for Mr. Martine, and he made one of his characteristic speeches. Mr. Yates presented the following resolutions for adoption, and the meeting then adjourned, with the band playing national airs:

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Plainfield assembled in mass-meeting, endorse the principles set forth in the National Convention held in Chicago, nominating Grover Cleveland for President and Adlai E. Stevenson for Vice-President of this great nation.

That we are positively opposed to any legislation having a tendency to strip a State of any power (not delegated to the national government) to control our home people; especially are we opposed to any action of our State legislature appointing commissions to govern our cities and townships in determining how and in what way they shall care for themselves.

That we are strenuously opposed to all taxes levied on the people for the benefit of the few at the expense of the masses under the deceptive policy set forth in the McKinley bill. Be it further

Resolved, That, if the statement made by the Republican leaders is true: that the duties upon the imports into this country are paid by the foreigners instead of the consumers, (which the Democrats do not believe to be a fact) we do not see on what moral ground an advanced Christian nation can say to the less favored people of the world: that they shall thereby be shut off (through the McKinley tariff) from any commercial enterprise with us whatever; while all the while we are sending to them missionaries from our more civilized country, to teach them the Golden Rule: "To do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you."

That we are opposed to forcing a tax for the benefit of any class, rich or poor, and that such a privilege is demoralizing, unjust, and does not inspire the best effort of our people to come into competition with other nations; and that any citizen of this country should not be compelled to contribute for his neighbors' benefit by FORCED legislation (as comes under the guise of the McKinley Tariff Bill), BUT should be left at his own option, to make such charitable contributions of his earnings as he may think just, in the interest of any industrial enterprise.

That we are opposed to the deceptive literature which (to mystify the people) is being issued by the leaders of the Republican party, upon the questions coming up for their consideration before they cast their vote in November next.

That we are opposed to all systems of bribery, which are not only damaging to this, but to all coming generations, who are to control this country in the future.

Good Music at a Fair.

A fair for the benefit of Grace church school will be held at 17 Crescent avenue, to-morrow. A novelty in fairs will be music by a glee club of male voices, consisting of A. Norbury, alto; Mr. Lewis, first tenor; L. H. VanBuren, second tenor; and A. F. Freeman, basso. They will sing "Strike the Lyre", by T. Cooke; "Dame Durden", by Dr. Harrington; "Sleep While the Soft Evening", by Sir Henry R. Bishop, and other selections.

Arrested — the progress of Consumption. In all it's earlier stages, it can be cured. It's a scrofulous affection of the lungs — a blood taint—and, as in every other form of scrofula, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a certain remedy. But it must be taken in time —and now is the time to take it.

It purifies the blood — that's the secret. Nothing else acts like it. It's the most potent strength-restorer, blood-cleanser, and flesh-builder known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, and all lingering Coughs, it's a remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure.

If it doesn't, the money is returned.
In other words, it's sold on trial.
No other medicine of its kind is.
And that proves that nothing else is "just as good" as the "Discovery."
The dealer is thinking of his profit, not of yours, when he urges something else.
Judge for yourself which is likely to be the better medicine.

IN MEMORIAM.

Rudolph M. Titsworth.

(Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis in The Sabbath Recorder.)

Rudolph Mitchell Titsworth was born at Bridgeton, N. J., Sept. 26, 1820; he entered the heavenly rest Oct. 10, 1892, having just passed his 72d birth-day. He was apprenticed at the tailor's trade at Plainfield, N. J., when eleven years of age, and with a slight exception Plainfield has been his home for sixty years. In January, 1845, he was married to Eliza Randolph, who preceded him to the "better land" in 1883. Out of seven children born to them three sons remain. He made a public profession of Christianity at the age of fourteen and was baptized by the Rev. Wm. B. Maxson, D. D., at New Market, N. J. He became a constituent member of the Plainfield Seventh-day Baptist church in 1838, and remained a devoted member until called to the "Church of the First-Born". He was officially connected with church work, and with the cause of education in the city of Plainfield, as trustee, treasurer, member of school boards, Sabbath-school superintendent, etc., during the greater part of his life. The beginning of his last illness compelled him to leave the morning service on Sabbath, Oct. 1. On the day following he was able to go out for the last time and spent his remaining strength in visiting the new church edifice which is now abuilding; he being a trustee and member of the building committee. Literally, he went home from the house of God; blessed such a going home! He was a man of few words, but of large sympathies, and a "loving heart" of strong faith and trust. Most of his immediate friends have passed to the other side, and he was ripe and waiting to follow. While he seemed to be recovering heart disease opened the door to his going hence almost instantaneously. The following lines from Whittier would have found full and quick response from his lips. They are added as a help and comfort to those who have passed the line of "Seventy", and who are waiting to be "called up higher":

When on my day of life the night is falling,
And, in the winds from unsunned spaces blown,
I hear far voices out of darkness calling
My feet to paths unknown,

Thou who hast made my home of life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay;
O Love divine, O Helper ever present,
Be Thou my strength and stay.

Be near me when all else is from me drifting,
Earth, sky, home's picture, days of shade and shine,
And kindly faces to my own uplifting
The love which answers mine.

I have but Thee, O Father! Let Thy Spirit
Be with me then to comfort and uphold;
No gate of pearl, no branch of palm, I merit,
Nor street of shining gold.

Suffice it if, my good and ill unreckoned,
And both forgiven through Thy abounding grace,
I find myself by hands familiar beckoned
Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among Thy many mansions,
Some sheltering shade, where sin and striving cease,
And flows forever through heaven's green expansions
The river of Thy peace.

There from the music round about me stealing,
I fain would learn the new and holy song,
And find at last beneath Thy trees of healing,
The life for which I long.

Ex-Assemblyman Lane Denies Connection With Mr. Dunn's Nomination.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I am somewhat surprised to see in your account of the recent congressional convention the statement that two Summit delegates changed from Pollak to Dunn at my solicitation.

It is impossible to imagine a more inexcusable misconception or one so wholly without the shadow of a foundation upon which to rest. From the time the convention met for preliminary organization until it adjourned sine die, I did not speak to a single member of the Summit delegation or any other delegation, and had not the remotest connection, direct or indirect, with the action taken by the representatives of Summit in that convention.

Health in Old Age.

Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "I commenced using BRANDETH'S PILLS over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistant use of BRANDETH'S PILLS. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of BRANDETH'S PILLS always cure me. If my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or costiveness a few doses of BRANDETH'S PILLS restored their health at once."

REDFERN IN TROUBLE.

Edward Goodacre, a Member of the Firm, Held for Smuggling.

NEW PASTOR FOR PARK AVENUE.

The Baptists Decide to Call the Rev. Richardson.

At a business meeting of the Park Avenue Baptist congregation, called for the purpose, last night, it was unanimously decided to call to the pastorate the Rev. J. W. Richardson of the Centennial Baptist church, Brooklyn. The attendance was large, and Mr. Richardson will undoubtedly accept the unanimous call.

A. W. Day, Charles Haynes and Peter Wyckoff were appointed a committee to notify the clergyman of the call. They waited on him to-day.

Mr. Richardson has a wife and two children.

THE ECLIPSE.

The Sun Turns Off Its Current in Imitation Lights.

The eclipse of the sun to-day was a novelty for the people, and a great success. The sky was clear, and the passing of the moon between the earth and the sun was distinctly visible. Smoked glasses were in great demand among observers. The eclipse began at noon, and was greatest at 1:30. By 3 it was all over. The light of the sun was shut off to nearly one half its every-day brilliancy, and things took on a copper hue. It was n't dark enough, however, for the chickens to go to roost, and the eclipse was n't an instance to that which will take place Nov. 8.

An Imported Servant Girl Goes Mad.

VERDICT FOR THE WOMAN.

Miss VanDoren Recovers Against the Reading Railroad.

The supreme court has settled the suit of Miss Abbie VanDoren of Bound Brook against the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company. Miss VanDoren was crippled for life by injuries received through the frightening of a horse by a Reading locomotive left with steam hissing, near a crossing. The jury awarded her $8,000. The company to-day argued for a new trial. Counselor Charles A. Reed of Plainfield successfully opposed them, and a new trial was denied. The verdict therefore stands.

QUEEN OF THE OCEAN.

City of Paris Again Smashes the Westward Record.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The steamship City of Paris of the Inman line has again broken the westward record from Queenstown, which was made by her when she made the run in July in 5 days, 15 hours and 58 minutes.

She also beats the record for a single day's run by covering 530 miles, against the record of 528 miles made by the Teutonic.

The City of Paris sailed from Liverpool October 12 and from Queenstown on the 13th and arrived at Sandy Hook lightship October 19, covering a distance of 2,782 miles in 5 days, 14 hours and 24 minutes, beating the record by 1 hour and 34 minutes.

Her day's runs were as follows: 448, 508, 503, 505, 530, 288.

The City of Paris left Daunt's Rock Lightship at 3:14 p. m. (Greenwich mean time) on Thursday last, the 13th, in a moderate breeze with frequent squalls, these weather conditions remaining with her to the 16th, when the breeze increased to a fresh gale with a rough northerly sea, lasting two days.

On the 18th the gale subsided to a moderate breeze with smooth sea, which continued to the end of the voyage, the steamer reaching Sandy Hook Lightship at 5:38 a. m., (Greenwich mean time), October 19th.

The average speed was 20.70, the best on record.

The City of Paris was commanded by Captain Frederick Watkins, and this was her twenty-ninth westward voyage.

Next Saturday Evening at Music Hall.

If literary merit, unquestioned originality, the introduction of a long array of unique specialties and a company of remarkable strength are to be regarded as factors in the success of a farce-comedy, that much-discussed production, "Lord Rooney", the latest effort of Mr. Carroll, should certainly verify all the favorable predictions that have been made concerning it. Apart entirely from the intrinsic worth of the piece, it should score an unequivocal success by reason alone of the excellent calibre of the artists engaged in its interpretation. There is certainly no instance on record of any similar dramatic attraction being supported by so powerful and evenly balanced cast as is the cast with "Lord Rooney". Katie, Mattie and Josie Rooney are the bright stars of the piece and do some clever specialties during the performance.

Winton for Senator.

The Democrats of Bergen county did themselves credit Wednesday by re-nominating Henry D. Winton for State Senator. Mr. Winton is one well qualified to fill so important a position and was the only Democratic Senator who voted against the coal combine bill. He certainly ought to be re-elected by an increased and handsome majority.

GAME TO THE LAST.

Wild Horses Run Sixty Hours As Ranchmen Bide Their Time.

How Herds Are Surrounded—Cowboys' Ponies Are Swift, But the Wild Horse Is Swifter—Trickery Alone Can Capture the Noble Animal.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

"Here, wake up, you fellars! an' if any o' you stoveup steer stabbers want t' make up for th' good horses you've run t' death on th' round-up jump into yer saddles lively! Thur's es fine a bunch of wild horses seven miles up th draw as ever jumped the range." This was the electrifying way in which Hosted Billy, of the "X—X" cattle outfit announced his arrival at our camp on Smoky Hill Fork the other morning, as we were at our simple breakfast of saleratus bread, "jerked" beef and coffee, preparatory to breaking camp at the close of the stock round-up for the Big Sandy district in eastern Colorado. For several days we had been seeing wild-horse signs, while riding the range to bring in the cattle for cutting out, and only the day before I had been wishing we might run across one of the bands known to range in the locality before my return to Denver. Every man in our outfit, that early summer's morning, knew his business, and had only to be told by Bob Graham, the boss of the round-up, what would be expected of him, to go to the exact place in the formation of the great circle intended to be drawn around the band of wild horses as the first move in their capture. Joe Sommers, one of the best rough riders I ever saw, and I pulled out of camp together on fine ponies. Making a wide swing of a dozen miles to the northwest, and then gradually drifting toward the sand hill near which the band had been sighted, we saw one and then another of the boys who were doing the same.

Then commenced the work of what the author of the "fifth school reader" would call "ringing the wild horse," but which the practical-minded vaquero of the plains terms "a piece o' blamed tiresome ridin'." When the great circle, embracing several miles, is closely watched and guarded at every point by trusty riders, the boss of the round-up gives the signal to start. The horse hunter is not so foolish as to rush in and try to make an immediate capture. He takes things easily. Capturing a band of wild horses is not a matter of speed so much as of endurance. The circle being made all secure, the next move in the game is when the band of wild horses, the advance stallion guards of which for some time have been suspiciously sniffing the air, see a little cow pony and rider leisurely coming toward them over the hills.

This is enough.

The beautiful black stallion, king of the band by reason of victory in many fierce battles for supremacy of kind, gives a warning snort and stands an instant motionless—a magnificent piece of animate statuary against the sky—as he sweeps the plain for a second view of the intruder. It takes only a second, but in that instant every sub chief of the band has marshaled his members, every mare has sprung to the side of her colt and as the equine commander in chief gives a neigh of command and turns for the flight, the whole band of 300 horses follows in his wake, and sweeps across the sandy reaches like a whirlwind, and they swiftly leave the pony and its rider, still leisurely pacing along, out of sight in the rear. The cowboy lounges in lazy contentment on his quietly-grazing pony. But far in front of the advancing equine band its alert leader soon sees a second human form, shadowed by a spreading sombrero. With another commanding neigh the general stops, and with almost military precision the entire band obediently comes to rest in his rear. A second only is lost in hesitation and the troop is thundering over the sage brush at right angles to its former course. In about three minutes another cowboy is sighted in front by the keen-visioned leader, and now, after another wheel, the course of the band is almost parallel with the one taken in starting. At every turn now as the horses approach the limits of the great circle there starts up a cowboy, and as the band in swinging around at last passes, its starting point a wild gleam of defiance flashes in the eye of the leader.

The frenzied animals tear madly on in their course, are turned at every point as before and make another lap of the imprisoning human corral. Clear around again they go. Once on approaching the limit of the circle the bold leader plunges straight ahead to lead his band to liberty, and one of the cowboys, with a perfect cannonade of shots from his brace of six-shooters and wild wavings of his big hat, turns them back.

Soon a bronzed rider on a fleet-footed mustang breaks out from behind them and gives pursuit. Now begins the work which we are all determined shall know no pause until we shall lead these creatures of the plain captive for the use of man. The business-like little pony in the dust of the rear has been there before and knows his business now. He has caught the spirit of the sport, and while a whoop bursts forth from his rider he is laying off the furlongs over the homes of the little prairie dogs in joyous bounds as he gives wild chase to the fugitives. For mile after mile the startled jack rabbits and coyotes scatter on either side as the living cyclone sweeps down the stretch.

It is turned at the quarter of two riders on guard at this important point, but how the quivering sides of his favorite pony—for which a cowboy will fight any day—show the rider that his horse is becoming winded. On nearing the next turn a shot from his gun gives the signal for a relay rider to take his place with a fresh horse. And so it goes for hour after hour with relay riders.

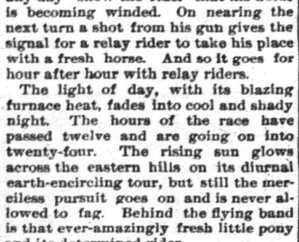
The light of day, with its blazing furnace heat, fades into cool and shady night. The hours of the race have passed twelve and are going on into twenty-four. The rising sun glows across the eastern hills on its diurnal earth-encircling tour, but still the merciless pursuit goes on and is never allowed to fag. Behind the flying band is that ever-amazingly fresh little pony and its determined rider.

All day long the grim messenger of death has been in their wake, and now is forcing the pace, which for the first twelve hours the fleeing horses were themselves allowed to set. The circle around which they whirl is much smaller now and the plains' sand is heavy and deep from the trampling of the former laps. The stifling alkali dust hangs over the plain in clouds, blood is mixed with the flecks of foam now flung from tortured nostrils and the bloodshot, but still defiantly gleaming eyes of the mettled rovers of the range. All show that it is only the sturdy strain of centuries coursing through their veins which keeps them, with their leader at the head, from plunging into some convenient ravine to end such suicide death. But life is sweet, and on they go. It is forty-eight hours now since these hated herders first disturbed their peace, and one can see the end of the race is not far distant.

A little brown filly from the flying band falls, and is left behind, too exhausted to rise.

"A-ha-a!" says the trailer under his breath. A shot rings out and at the signal two extras come riding up. The animal is roped, but immediately leaps to her feet, lashes out viciously and in a frenzy of strength tries to break away. Another hurtling noose comes sailing through the air, sinking over her head.



A CAPTURE.

and she is led away a helpless captive. More hours go by and one by one the weaker fall behind and after a brief struggle are tied up. The band is completely broken down, and now at the end of sixty hours of continuous flight can scarcely stagger.

Then comes the massacre of liberty for them. All the cowboys come crowding close around the helpless animals, which make but feeble resistance. An audacious cowboy even gives the lately proud and defiant leader a cruel cut in the flanks with the flying tip of his lariat as he quietly steals up. But even this indignity elicits but a few spasmodic bounds, so greatly swollen have become the stiffened muscles and so fiery the thirst in the captive's throat. The weaker have sunk down in the sand, and it is only a question of how many of the animals can be roped and secured by the means at hand to the rounding up outfit. Our Kit Carson cowboys were hampered in their forces, and, as usual, were compelled to allow the greater portion of the band to finally escape.

The animals we captured are fine specimens, being beautiful bays, jet blacks, roans, sorrels, three of them cream whites and four calico colored. We took them to the home ranch with the rest of the stock, where they are now kept, the pride of the X—X outfit and the subjects of much speculation on the part of the boys in anticipation of their speed and other qualities, when the time shall come to put them under the saddle.

Not Entirely Unprepared.

"Papa will be so surprised," murmured Evangeline, as Roderick slipped the jewel-bespangled circlet on her fairy finger, "but you will have to ask his consent. Don't shrink from the ordeal, dear! Remember that the fondest hopes of your own Evangeline will go with you. I think you will find papa in the library."

"Well, youhg man," said Papa McGinnis, with some impatience, as Roderick McStab timidly entered the parlor, "seems to me it's taken you and Eva a derned long time to settle matters. I've been waiting here more'n an hour!"—Chicago Tribune.

CLOSING SCENES OF CHICAGO'S FETE

Dedication Exercises Wind Up With a Wonderful Display of Pyrotechnics.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK THE CONSECRATION.

All the Civilized Nations of the World Represented--One Hundred and Fifty Thousand People Hear Depew's Great Effort--Woman's Part in the Proceedings--Columbus Day Observed in Hundreds of Places.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Chicago's big celebration is over, and the 600,000 visitors who were attracted here during the week are leaving as rapidly as possible. The only event of importance to-day is the dedication of the New York State building, for which an interesting programme has been arranged.

Last night the celebration closed with the most brilliant and gorgeous display of fireworks ever given in the world. To avoid the concentration of a mass of people, this display was divided into three parts and given in as many parts of the World's Fair city. A display was given at Washington park at the south, Lincoln park at the north, and Garfield park at the west side.

The largest crowd congregated at Washington park, which was the most accessible from the heart of the city, but it is estimated that no less than 200,000 people saw each of these displays.

If the turn-out of the two previous days were rightly designated as a throng, that of the closing day of the exercises was something more than a multitude.

Day had barely dawned when the streets were alive with people, which as the day advanced swelled to an enormous multitude.

Fortunate holders of invitations entitling them to a participation in the exercises of the day began to move southward at an abnormally early hour, apparently determined to take time by the forelock and to secure a point of vantage.

Little time was occupied in assigning the distinguished visitors to their respective places in the parade, and a few minutes after 9 o'clock the order was given for the head of the column to move, and the body proceeded to the Liberal Arts building.

The guests that had participated in the procession were escorted to their seats upon the platform with the utmost despatch, Vice-President Morton being seated directly in front with President T. W. Palmer on his right, President Higginbotham on his left, and Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Ireland, Bishop Fowler, Mayor Washburne, Henry Watterson, Chauncey M. Depew occupying seats on either side.

To the east and west on the same platform were seated the members of the Cabinet, the Diplomatic Corps, the Judges of the Supreme Court, Governors of the States, and the other distinguished guests.

Mind cannot conceive, nor pencil describe the scene that was presented when the last of those that had participated in the parade were seated.

On the platform were representatives of every country on the civilized globe; before them the largest audience that has ever assembled since the day upon which the Creator said "Let there be light."

Little time was occupied in preliminaries. Without waiting for a signal the orchestra broke forth with the opening strains of the Columbia March, arousing the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

As the strains of the music died away Bishop Chas. H. Fowler, of California, one of the most eminent divines of the Methodist Church, arose in his place.

The immense audience, which stretched back almost as far as the eye could reach, followed his example. The eminent divine then gave thanks to the Almighty for what had already been accomplished, and besought the blessing of the great Ruler of all upon what remained to be done.

A hundred and fifty thousand throats voiced a fervent amen as the Bishop resumed his seat.

The task of making the formal announcement that the work of preparing the buildings and grounds had been completed was performed by Hon. George R. Davis, Director-General, who was received with a burst of applause that went up to the roof of the structure.

A hearty welcome was extended in behalf of the citizens of Chicago by Mayor Hempstead Washburne.

The remarks of Chicago's Mayor evoked unbounded enthusiasm on the part of those within hearing distance.

Chivalry dictated a warm welcome to Mrs. Sarah C. Le Moyne, who read a portion of the Columbian ode written by Miss Harriet Monroe.

The reading was interspersed with choral selections of the ode by the chorus of 3,000 voices.

Mrs. Potter Palmer made a brief address on the part of the Board of Lady Managers, and President Higginbotham then tendered the buildings on behalf of the Exposition to President Palmer of the Columbian Committee.

President Palmer responded in a neat little speech, which was greeted with a round of applause.

Enthusiasm grew into a tumult when Mr. Morton was introduced to dedicate the buildings in behalf of the United States.

The conclusion of the Vice-President's address was the signal for loud and long continued applause, and when the Vice-President stepped forward to bow his thanks one-eighth of a million men and women rose to their feet and gave him a salvo of applause that he is likely to remember so long as he lives.

The "Hallelujah Chorus" was rendered at this point.

A good old-fashioned reception of cordiality was extended to Henry Watterson when he came to the front of the stage to deliver the address.

When the eminent Kentuckian had resumed his seat and the applause that greeted his peroration had subsided, the choir rendered the Star Spangled Banner and Hail Columbia with orchestral accompaniment.

This incentive to a patriotic outburst was not needed to serve as an introduction to the next speaker, for when the only Chauncey Depew stepped forward the audience went into ecstasies, and would not be quieted. Comparative silence at last restored, however, the eminent national orator, with a smile upon his face, spoke in part as follows:

This day belongs not to America, but to the World. The results of the event it commemorates are the heritage of the peoples of every race and clime. We celebrate the emancipation of man. The preparation was the work of almost countless centuries, the realization was the revelation of one. The Cross on Calvary was hope; the cross raised on San Salvador was opportunity.

But for the first, Columbus would never have sailed, but for the second, there would have been no place for the planting, the nurture and the expansion of civil and religious liberty.

Ancient history is a dreary record of unstable civilizations. Each reached its zenith of material splendor, and perished. Force was the factor in the government of the world when Christ was born, and force was the sole exercise of authority both by Church and State when Columbus sailed from Palos. The Wise Men traveled from the East towards the West under the guidance of the Star of Bethlehem. The spirit of the equality of all men before God and the law, moved westward from Calvary with its revolutionary influence upon old institutions, to the Atlantic ocean. Columbus carried it westward across the seas. The emigrants from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales, from Germany and Holland, from Sweden and Denmark, from France and Italy, have, under its guidance and inspiration, moved west, and again west, building States and founding cities until the Pacific limited their march. The Exhibition of arts and science, of industries and inventions, of education and civilization, which the Republic of the United States will here present, and to which, through its Chief Magistrate, it invites all nations, condenses and displays the flower and fruitage of this transcendent miracle.

The anarchy and chaos which followed the breaking up of the Roman empire necessarily produced the feudal system. Under its banner races could unite and petty principalities be merged, law substituted for brute force, and right for might. It founded and endowed universities, and encouraged commerce. It conceded no political privileges, but unconsciously prepared its subjects to demand them.

Absolutism in the State and bigotted intolerance in the Church, shackled popular unrest, and imprisoned thought and enterprise in the fifteenth century. The dungeon was ready for the philosopher who proclaimed the truths of the solar system, or the navigator who would prove the sphericity of the earth. Punishment was the incentive to patriotism, and piety was held possible by torture. Yet all that humanity to-day cherishes as its best heritage and choicest gifts, there was neither thought nor hope.

Fifty years before Columbus sailed from Palos, Guttenberg and Faust had forged the hammer which was to break the bonds of superstition, and open the prison doors of the mind.

They had invented the printing press, and movable types. The prior adoption of a cheap process for the manufacture of paper at once utilized the press. Its first service, like all its succeeding efforts, was for the people. But the first born of the marvellous creation of these primitive printers of Mayence was the printed Bible. The priceless contributions of Greece and Rome to the intellectual training and development of the modern world came afterward, through the same wondrous machine. The force, however, which made possible America, and its reflex influence upon Europe, was the open Bible by the family fireside.

God always has in training some commanding genius for the control of great crises in the affairs of nations and peoples. The lights which illumine our firmament to-day are Columbus, the discover, Washington the founder, and Lincoln the saviour.

Neither realism nor romance furnishes a more striking and picturesque figure than that of Christopher Columbus. This mystery about his origin heightens the charm of his story.

To secure the means to test the truth of his speculations, this poor and unknown dreamer must win the support of kings and overcome the hostility of the Church. He never doubted his ability to do both, though he knew of no man living who was so great in power, or lineage, or learning that he could accomplish either. Unaided and alone he succeeded in arousing the jealousies of sovereigns, and dividing the councils of the ecclesiastics.

After ten years of disappointment and poverty, subsisting most of the time upon the charity of the enlightened monk of the Convent of Ribalda, who was his unfaltering friend, he stood before the throne of Ferdinand and Isabella, and rising to imperial dignity in his rags, embodied the same royal conditions in his petition.

It was a happy omen of the position which woman was to hold in America, that the only person who comprehended the majestic scope of his plans, and the invincible quality of his genius, was the able and gracious Queen of Castile. Isabella alone of all the dignitaries of that age, shares with Columbus the honors of his great achievement. She arrayed her kingdom and her private fortune behind the enthusiasm of this mystic mariner, and posterity pays homage to her wisdom and faith.

Mr. Depew then referred to the division of the country, the northern continent between England, France and Spain, and the southern between Spain and Portugal and dwelt on different periods in its history, the breaking away from British rule and the wonderful advances made in all that tends to a free country for an intelligent and prosperous people. Closing he said:

All hail, Columbus, discoverer, dreamer, hero and apostle. We here, of every race and country, recognize the horizon which bounded his vision and the infinite scope of his genius. The voice of gratitude and praise for all the blessings which have been showered upon mankind by his adventure is limited to no language, but is uttered in every tongue. Neither marble nor brass can fitly form his statue. Continents are his monument, and unnumbered millions, past, present and to come, who enjoy in their liberties, their happiness the fruits of his faith, will reverently guard and preserve, from century to century, his name and fame.

The oration was repeatedly punctuated with applause. When it was concluded three cheers were called for and responded to by all of those within hearing.

After the chorus had readred Beethoven's "In Praise of God," Cardinal Gibbons arose. A wave of his hand and every head was bowed before the throne of grace, while the eminent prelate delivered himself of a fervent supplication.

After this there was more music. The audience, which had been remarkably still and patient, began to manifest tokens of fatigue at this point, and an exodus from the south end door was inaugurated. The exercises, however, were close to an end.

A blessing was pronounced by Rev. Dr. A. P. McCook of the First Presbyterian church of Philadelphia, and almost before his closing words had died away the band struck up the familiar strains of "America" and the audience joined in the second stanza.

DISCOVERY DAY.

Celebrated With Elaborate Exercises Throughout the Country.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The real anniversary of the discovery of America was celebrated in this city in a quiet and dignified way. Having paid tribute to the learned men who moved Oct. 12 ahead nine days, New York did not feel called upon to back up Chicago in observing the actual anniversary of the great discovery of Columbus. The Custom House and other Federal offices, the Stock, Produce, Consolidated and other exchanges suspended business, and the banks remained closed.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 22.—The City of Churches did herself proud in celebrating the Columbus anniversary. The parade, which was reviewed by ex-President Cleveland and other distinguished guests, was most imposing. Fully 35,000 were in the line, which took five hours to pass a given point.

The Catholic organizations marched in a body as did the Italians.

Trenton Was in Line.

The principal feature was a procession in which the Italian, Hungarian, French, German and Irish societies took part. Posts of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, Odd Fellows and thousands of school children also participated, and half a dozen floats and many bands of music helped to make it the finest procession ever seen in the city.

Civic Display at Reading.

READING, Pa., Oct. 22.—The celebration of Columbus Day here was the greatest civic display ever seen in Reading. Nearly every building in the city is decorated. Thousands of people came from the surrounding country and all business was suspended. About 20,000 persons were in the parade. Of this number 6,000 were public school boys and the rest were secret, labor and other organizations.

The Swindling Beauvais Family Convicted.

THOUSANDS WERE THEIR VICTIMS

More Wrecks on the Spanish Coast--The Alleged Dynamiter Egan Soon to be Released--Poisoner Cream Sentenced to be Hanged--Other Foreign News.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—A. M. Beauvais, his wife and son have been sentenced to one year's imprisonment each for having defrauded a vast number of persons through a matrimonial bureau and by the "natural child trick." The amount fraudulently obtained by the family is in the hundreds of thousands.

The Beauvais family is the most enterprising gang of matrimonial swindlers on the continent. More than 4,000 persons who had been plucked by them complained to the Paris police, and 12,000 or 15,000 more are believed to have swallowed their chagrin and their losses without a protest.

The method of M. Beauvais was to advertise in popular newspapers that "A young orphan possessing 500,000 francs will marry a serious gentleman. Apply H. C., Poste Bestante, Lyons." The locality, of course, was frequently changed.

Beauvais then arranged to have the letters forwarded to him under various names at different addresses. He replied to his dupes asking for thirty francs, for registration, and when this sum was received he sent the photograph of a beautiful girl.

This girl, who acted as the bait, was generally Beauvais' own daughter, but the part was often unwittingly played by some other girl generally engaged by him as a lady's companion for his wife or in some such similar capacity.

It cost thirty francs more to have an interview with the girl supposed to be in search of a husband, their meeting generally taking place in a railway station or a museum. It was generally brief, and the matrimonially inclined bachelor never saw his lady love again, nor could he ever find any trace of her, the Beauvais family always suddenly moving to pastures new when things were likely to become awkward.

The son of Beauvais acted independently of his father and mother. He had invented "the natural child trick," which was to promise, by advertisement, 200 francs a mouth for the board of a natural child plus 25,000 francs when the child reached its majority. All information was to be sent in exchange for ten francs.

Of course when people sent ten francs they never heard any more about the natural child. The number of dupes made by this young man may be judged from the fact that when the police arrested him 600 letters, half of which number contained ten francs, were awaiting him at the postoffice.

Mlle. Beauvais, who is only 16 years old, was left at liberty, so that she might look after her brothers and sisters, three very young children.

DROWNED IN SIGHT OF THEIR WIVES.

Tragic Scene on the Spanish Coast—Brave Fishermen in a Tremendous Sea.

MADRID, Oct. 22.—A violent storm prevailed last night along the Spanish Mediterranean coast, and a number of wrecks of fishing boats are reported.

A fishing smack of Valencia was lost in sight of the city, among the spectators being the wives and children of the men on board.

The smack sank, and the fishermen started to swim ashore. Boats put off from shore, but little progress could be made against the head wind and the sea. Seven were drowned.

The women and children were crying bitterly, and many fell on their knees and prayed, and when the women saw the men sink one after another they shouted and wrung their hands in agony.

The captain and two others were fine swimmers and passed the boats going to the rescue of their companions. They told the oarsmen not to stop for them, but to strive to reach the men who could not swim as well. These three men succeeded in reaching shore.

The government of Columbia has asked authorization from Congress to permit the reduction of import duties on certain articles proceeding from the United States, with the understanding that by this means could be obtained free entry into those markets for some of our productions. In any event the speech that Mr. Blaine will make will not be a long one. There has, as yet, been no definite time fixed for the departure of Mr. Blaine to Washington.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

ST. MARY'S CELEBRATION.

Patriotic Exercises by the Pupils, Including an Outdoor and an Indoor Programme.

At St. Mary's school, situated on the corner of Liberty and Sixth streets, a scene worth rebording was witnessed yesterday.

On the church lawn, a platform had been erected, on which were seated his honor mayor Gilbert, the Rev. P. E Smyth, rector of St. Mary's church, the Rev. J. Cushing, the Rev. M. L. Glennon, of Asbury Park, the Rev. J. Smith, of Cranford, the Rev. Mr. Robertson and A. Harpending.

The programme opened with the reading of the president's proclamation, by the master of ceremonies, Frederick Hughes.

Father Smyth then presented the flag, to four little misses, who carried it to the flag-pole, where the cadets unfurled it to the breeze, amid the cheers of the assembly.

On the return of the representatives to the stand, all the pupils, with one voice, gave the following salute to their country's flag: "I pledge allegiance to my flag, and the country to which it belongs; one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all".

The little representatives who had the honor of receiving the flag from their pastor's hands were Alida Hughes, Clara Lanning, Maggie Harding and Annie Daley.

The mayor then spoke in a pleasant and familiar way to the children He advised them to study and understand the history of and reason for establishing the various holidays of the country and, particularly this new one, in honor of Columbus. He adverted in strong and earnest language to the opportunities for enjoying happiness and liberty in this great country, and pointed to the prominent features in the character of Columbus, courage and perseverance, as objects of imitation for all.

When the mayor concluded his address, Miss Genevieve Harpending, in the name of the pupils, presented to him a handsome basket of red, white, and blue flowers, as a testimony of their appreciation of his kindness to them on the occasion.

All then joined in a chorus for their country, "My country 'tis of thee".

After the drum corps had played a few national airs, they marched through some of the streets of the city, the children and audience meantime proceeding to the school hall, to enjoy the second portion of the exercises as follows: Chorus—"Song of Columbus Day." Declamation—"Our Country," by master John Daley. Chorus—"Columbia the Gem of the Ocean." Historical—"Columbus and his Discoveries." Chorus—"Columbia's Flag is Waving." Concert recitation—"Columbia's Banner." Chorus—"Star-Spangled Banner." Historical—"America's Progress." "Drill of the Little Patriots." Finale—"Hymn of Thanksgiving."

The hall was crowded with an appreciative audience; it was beautifully decorated, displaying the good taste of W. Harding and M. Winn; the children looked very pretty in their costumes of red, white and blue, and recited their parts in the exercises with great ease and correctness.

Too much praise cannot be given to Colonel Parker, for the military display of the cadets who have been under his supervision.

Father Smyth has good reason to be proud of his school children, and their progress in education and discipline.

Gratitude to Muhlenberg.

Miss Clara S. Hellwig and brother, have recovered from serious illnes at the Muhlenberg Hospital. They say they can not speak highly enough of that excellent institution, of which Plainfield has full reason to be proud.

Those composing the committee, all of whom are well known residents of this city, manifest a great interest in adding to the comforts of the patients. The efficient matron, Mrs. Clarinda Walrod always kind and sympathetic, is untiring in her efforts to meet the many demands on one holding so important and responsible a position. She is ably assisted by the competent and attentive nurses, Mrs. Ball and Miss Grace Utley.

Regarding the medical staff, they add, no one can speak of them but in praise for their watchful attention to the afflicted. All this contributes to make the hospital not only a most useful but also a home-like place.

Does Not Conflict.

Having no wish to do anything which would in anyway interfere with the plans of any local organization, Mr. Hooker, who has charge of the publication of the "Daily Press Illustrated Souvenir of Plainfield", has consulted with the executive board of the Plainfield Camera club, and is authorized by them to say that in their opinion the proposed publication will not conflict with the work they are engaged upon. The souvenir is meeting with the approval and support of Plainfield's best citizens, and there seems to be no reason why Plainfield should not be illustrated in a manner to do credit to the city.

—Two hours and a half of unalloyed, unadulterated fun will be occupied at Music Hall, this evening, in telling of the narrative of the latest farce comedy, "Lord Rooney".

A woman who can see. She's the woman who gets well. It's the woman who won't see and won't believe who has to suffer.

And it's needless. There's a medicine—a legitimate medicine—that's made to stop woman's suffering and cure woman's ailments. It's Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, imparting vigor and strength to the whole system. For periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, and all "female complaints," it's a positive remedy. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

No other medicine for women is guaranteed, as this is. If it fails to give satisfaction, in any case, the money paid for it is refunded. You pay only for the good you get. On these terms it's the cheapest.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNally celebrated the anniversary of their wedding, Thursday evening, at their home on Kensington avenue. The house was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. Dancing, vocal and instrumental music and amusing games were features of the occasion. At midnight a tempting supper was served. Guests were present from Brooklyn, New York, Newark and this city. The couple was the recipient of many pretty presents.

A charming informal dance was given by Miss Josie Taylor, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Wheeler, 24 LaGrande avenue, Thursday evening. The rooms were tastefully decorated with choice flowers. Another Successful Tea.

The first "tea" of the season, under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work society of Trinity Reformed church, held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver, Manning avenue, last evening, was a grand success, both in the number in attendance and the amount realized financially. As THE PRESS predicted, everyone in attendance had a most enjoyable social time, being most hospitably entertained by the host and hostess.

LORD TENNYSON'S DOUBLE.

The Censor Discovers a Proper Successor to the Laureate, and Tells a Little Bohemian Yarn About Himself.

Now that Lord Tennyson has passed away the cables tell us it is an open question who will succeed him as the laureate. There are a raft of eligibles, each just about as fit as the other and none but will be quite lost in Tennyson's boots. I have been wondering why, with the laureateship such a sinecure as it has come to be, it might not be a good idea to select a man with regard to looks and not alleged poetry energy, and following this up I have to direct the attention of Her Gracious Majesty, through THE PRESS, to a gentleman who lives near Plainfield and whom I have often seen on the cars from New York when it so happened that I failed to connect with the train bearing our club car, doncherknow. I have met him several times, too, walking about Fanwood while doing my Sunday afternoon drive. Geography aside, this gentleman bears so remarkable a resemblance to Lord Tennyson as I remember him twelve or fifteen years gone, that I verily believe he could step into the poet's place and pick up the routine of a laureate and everyone would take it that Tennyson had come back to earth, looking younger and brighter.

It may be, of course, that my friend is not possessed of the literary instincts of his illustrious double, but that need not frighten him as nothing readable had been expected of Tennyson for years, and he did not disappoint the expectations. Twenty times have I been tempted to introduce myself to my Lord Alfred of the cars and ask him if he recalls a pleasant little chat in a quaint old English garden one pretty summer afternoon that seems but last month to me although it is more years ago than there are signs in the zodiac. Of course, he would think me insane but I feel I must find a way to account for the likeness he bears.

Perhaps others have remarked it, and maybe someone can tell me whom my friend of the distinguished similarity really is.

* * * * *

It was late, quite late, Tuesday night. The parade of Roman Catholics in honor of the late persecuted Columbus had long since passed down Fifth avenue and been forgotten. Those who still lingered in the neighborhood of Madison square felt a wintry zest in the air that made them either slink into the first open door, or step briskly along to keep the blood moving. I strolled up the Rialto at a good pace, meeting a host of Columbian celebrants in salubrious frames of mind and one or two sober people making for sleep and warmth. I stopped in front of Thorley's to greet a little home-going theatrical friend of mine who was hardly recognizable buried in some great big wintry fur affair and encircled by a boa that completely hid her up to the eyes. She it was who did the recognizing and then disclosed her identity by a partial revelation of her face.

"Oh, I'm so glad to see you," said she. "Harry ——— promised to take me to supper to-night but when I came out of the stage-door he was nowhere to be seen, the wretch, after letting me spend the whole evening cultivating an overpowering hunger."

The hint was delightfully transparent and I volunteered to discount the recreant Harry and appease the awful appetite. We strolled along to the Brunswick and took possession of a cosy corner table in the big cafe. The oysters had just made their appearance when my little friend suddenly exclaimed: "Why, here comes Harry now with that horrid Mlle. ——— of the Casino!" And sure enough there Harry was, seating himself in the opposite corner beside a lady of effulgent blonde hair and self-assertive complexion, and utterly oblivious of our proximity.

"Now is your time," said I, "to revenge yourself on the oysters."

"Oh, I'm not seeking revenge," she laughed. "Indeed, he's not worth it, you know; but I do hate to get a note from a fellow asking if he may meet me after the performance to escort me to supper, and then walk out of the theatre and find him not. Perhaps you won't believe it, but its very provoking just the same."

"So I should imagine," I replied, and then; knowing Harry's reputation for reliability at the clubs, added "You don't happen to have his note with you I suppose?"

"Yes, indeed, here it is", she returned, enticing the missive from its hiding-place in her wrap. "Just listen to this:

MY DEAR MISS ———May I have the pleasure of meeting you at the stage-door this evening and entertaining you at a small supper? Silence shall stand for consent.

Very sincerely,
HARRY ———.

The Tenderloin Club.

And there he sits with that Casino girl while I am ——".

"Suffering the company of a commonplace substitute like me", I interrupted.

"Nothing of the sort," she said, blushing. "You know better than that—but what do you make out of Harry's conduct?"

"Well", I suggested, "is n't his note dated?"

"I suppose so", she replied, referring to the paper. "Yes, October the tenth."

"Ah", I returned. "And is this October the tenth?"

She counted up a calendar on her fingers. "Let me see; Sunday was—Sunday was the—Why yesterday was the tenth, was n't it?"

"To be sure", I answered. "When was your letter mailed?"

She looked at the postmark. "October the tenth, nine a. m."

Health in Old Age.

Edward Collinson, Queens N. Y., says: "I commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistant use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or biliousness, but four or five doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS always cure me. If my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion or costiveness a few doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS restored their health at once."

"Ah; and you received it when?"

"This morning only—at rehearsal."

"Very well—you see the postman is to blame, and you have misjudged poor Harry. He is seeking forgetfulness in the society of the lady from the Casino."

"Well, I 'm ever so sorry it happened—poor boy, I 'll have to write to him explaining it all; but then, you know, if it had n't turned out just so I might not have met this supper."

"That is very true", I replied. "Let me fill your wine glass again to the glory of the procrastinating postman."

THE CENSOR.

AMATEURS IN OPERA.

The New Casino of the Westfield Athletic Club Christened with "Patience".

The new and handsome club-house of the Westfield Athletic club was filled Thursday evening with the wealth and beauty of that pretty town, the occasion being the initial entertainment in the club-house casino. Gilbert and Sullivan's dainty opera, "Patience", with its "stained-glass attitudes" and its delightful melodies, was performed by amateurs, mostly local, and was as well sung and played as might be expected of any professionals. The following was the cast:

Reginald Bunthorne.....William Holmes
Archibald Grosvenor.....W. S. Barnaby
Colonel Calverly.....George P. Haynes
Major Murgatroyd.....Julian Crouch
Lieut. the Duke of Dunstable.....Ogden Ring
Patience.....Miss E. C. White
Lady Jane.....Miss A. M. Stacy
Lady Angela.....Miss F. Tompkins
Lady Ella.....Miss S. J. Brown
Lady Saphir.....Miss A. L. Nicholl

DRAGOON GUARDS—Messrs. A. Denman, W. E. Denman, R. T. Hibson, C. E. Horton, J. Harper Hunt, Lewis T. Hunt, Fred Lewis, W. H. Martin, F. B. Niebrugge, J. P. Ring, H. N. Taylor and H. VanSaun.

MAIDENS—The Misses A. Beam, M. Beam, E. Coughlin, A. Jackson, T. Jackson, E. Gregory, G. Smith, L. S. Stacy, N. Tompkins, Mrs. W. S. Barnaby, Mrs. J. P. Ring and Mrs. H. N. Taylor.

Mr. Holmes, of this city, who was the Bunthorne, looked, acted and sang the part to perfection, although it must be said that there was no number in his score which gave his voice an opportunity to do itself justice. Mr. Holmes is well known in this city as a church singer and has appeared several times with the Four-Leaf Clover in comedy, but this was his debut in opera, and he is to be congratulated on his signal success. Mr. Barnaby was a handsome Grosvenor and sang well, though at times inarticulately. Of the three military men nothing but praise may be said: Col. Haynes was martial, Major Couch was unctious, and Lieut. Ring made up like a picture and sang sweetly and daintily.

Miss White was a pretty and piquant Patience, singing charmingly, and acting with vivacity. Miss Stacy, the Lady Jane, was, as Mr. Gilbert made her say, "massive", and portrayed the advanced esthete with just the proper rigidity and absurdity. The Misses Tompkins, Brown and Nicholl were pretty, graceful and tuneful.

The chorus was evenly balanced and remarkably well trained, reflecting the utmost credit on Mr. Jackson, the stage manager. The whole affair was successful beyond all expectation, and the young people who, having attempted so ambitious a production, carried it through with such credit, are deserving of unstinted praise.

The programme called Thursday's the "initial performance", and this would seem to imply that further entertainments are projected. It is to be devoutly hoped that the inference is correct.

A Laugh for All of You This Evening.

That good may come out of evil is exemplified in the arising, from the multitude of inferior farce-comedy productions, of a work so highly meritorious in its character as "Lord Rooney".

The piece is billed as "the laughing festival", and that it is a grand laughing festival, in the fullest sense of the word, has been the unanimous verdict of all who have witnessed it. In building the play, its author, Mr. Carroll, has departed from the well-worn methods generally used by the constructors of similar pieces, and the result has been a production that unfailingly tickles the palates of all playgoers. Mossbacked "jokes", old-fashioned devices, like trick stairs and siphon bottles, and all rough-and-tumble concomitants of the average farce-comedy have been rigidly excluded and, in their place, is found fresh spontaneous humor, legitimate comedy situations and a myriad of entirely novel, musical and other features. Katie Rooney as Chips gives a very clever performance, and her specialties and imitations of her father (Pat Rooney) score a decided hit. Mattie Rooney is also a clever and pretty soubrette, and her serpentine dance is the hit of the performance. Mattie Rooney is one of the most graceful lady dancers on the stage. Josie Rooney as Mrs. Parrigon plays her part well. The balance of the company are well up in their parts.

Found Their Home in Others' Hands.

It was indeed a surprise Thursday evening, when a large number of relatives and friends visited Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carney of 40 Craig place, the occasion being the eleventh anniversary of their wedding day. When Christopher Columbus discovered America, he was no more surprised than were Mr. and Mrs. Carney. Both were absent from home, and when they returned it was to find their home in possession of their friends. As they entered, they were congratulated by all. The happy event will long be remembered. The evening was delightfully spent in games, singing, recitations, etc. The young people took the opportunity to keep step with the music. Mr. and Mrs. Carney proved themselves as host and hostess equal to the occasion.

THE WOMEN ADMIRED THEM.

Brett No. 2 Started Off With a Strike, But the Others Could n't Follow the Pace.

The bowlers of the Plainfield Crescent League went to Elizabeth Thursday night to help open the new club-house alleys, and were defeated in an interesting contest. Many of the most charming young women of the town witnessed the sport. They were of unanimous opinion that the Crescent team was composed of nice, well-trained bowlers, all gentlemen, and expressed the hope to see them again in better luck. The score.

Disgraceful Doings by Local Larkers.

A married woman from Plainfield and a married man from Dunellen were conspicuous figures at Bound Brook yesterday. They were in a buggy, and both seemed intoxicated. They drove over a drummer boy, and the woman then horse-whipped the boy for getting in the road. They were arrested and put under bonds for trial.

—The class in light gymnastics will meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-night.

As Wise As Ever.

"Never put off until to-morrow what can be done to-day" is a wise saying, and is especially worthy of remembrance in all matters of physical ailment. Those weak eyes of yours may get beyond remedy if not attended to at once. Call at Collier's to-day, therefore, and learn how their sight may be long preserved to you.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—B. F. Liepaner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.

His Whisky Flask Was Nearly Empty, and He Had But Seventeen Cents.

The body of an unknown man was found lying alongside the Jersey Central tracks near Graceland station early this morning. His legs had been mangled by a train in the night, and the corpse was cold in death.

The remains were brought to Casey's morgue in this city for identification.

The deceased was evidently about 25 years old, was 5 feet 6 inches tall, had a smooth face with an old scar on the cheek, brown hair, wore a brown sack coat with small check, trousers with a silk stripe, and blue and white striped stockings. He had 17 cents in his pockets, a nearly-empty flask of whisky, a portion of a pay envelope reading "James Kenney, $5, August balance 18[illegible]". A Police Gazette of late date kept him company.

Christopher Visits Dunellen.

A Columbus celebration was held at Dunellen, by the pupils of the Whittier and the Lincoln public schools yesterday. The pupils, to the number of 267, turned out with the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and, headed by the New Market band, marched from the Whittier building through the principal streets of the town to the Lincoln school. The whole procession was led by a band of mounted schoolboys and followed by a float representing the Santa Maria, made by John Merechrod. In the vessel were pupils representing Ferdinand and Isabella and their attendants. Miss Maggie Voorhees represented Columbia, and John Kelly was Columbus in the parade.

Plainfield to Send Another Missionary.

At Thursday's session of the Women's Missionary society of the Baptist association, held in Bloomfield, Mrs. Mary H. Pike, of Plainfield, after speaking of the good work already accomplished, asked that the amount of $1,000, which had been given yearly for foreign missions, be doubled this year for the reason that it was the centennial anniversary of the establishing of the first Society of Foreign Missions by the Baptist society.

She then spoke of the good work of Miss Ida Fay, of Plainfield, who is a missionary in India. She was sent there by the Young Ladies' Society of New Jersey. It intended to send her sister to that country next December as an assistant in teaching the heathen.

—Plainfield's public and parochial school children celebrated Columbus Day in a highly creditable manner. Exercises of song and recitation were held in the different public school building, in accordance with the programmes published in these columns some days ago.

MAN OF FASHION.

Sarony Tells How Some Big Men Pose for Their Pictures.

Garfield Looked Over His Shoulder—Jay Gould Is Perfectly Natural—Astor, Webb and Others Before the Camera.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

Napoleon Sarony, a fur cap on his iron-gray hair, Lillian Russell, radiant as a star, selecting photographs at the counter. A silvery laugh, the rich rustle of a dress, the rumble of an elevator, a faint odor of lingering perfume, and the famous photographer is alone.

"How do rich men pose? Not so well as she who has just gone out. Ah, me! ah me! To have all like her to photograph, a photographer's work would be a kaleidoscopic paradise. It is harder to pose a man than a woman—that is, it is harder for a man to do it. When I pose a man I always watch for his strong characteristics. See that picture over on the wall, that painting of a strong-faced bearded man, with a black felt hat? That was taken from the best photograph James A. Garfield ever had taken. Garfield came in here one day to me, and I watched him and watched him until I thought I had caught his characteristic attitude. I took him so. Then he arose, big bodied, firm and strong, and started toward the door. As he neared it he turned half round, put his hat on just as he would if he had been leaving his office, and said: 'Good-by.' As he looked over his shoulder the lines and all came up so strong that I said: 'Wait; stop where you are! I must take another picture and it must be the pose you have now.' He was surprised, for he thought the posing was all over. But when the photograph was given him he saw it all.

"Secretary of State Bayard had almost a similar experience. You see, when a man comes in to pose to me I engage him in varied conversation to get at his different moods and actions. Well, the secretary came one day, and as we sat and chatted, his right hand came up several times toward his chest and outward, and it struck me that was just the gesture he would make addressing the senate, so long the scene of his intellectual activity. And I caught him just that way. He was a little uncertain about that being the thing until later on. The Danish minister saw it in Washington and came all the way to New York to see if I couldn't catch his individuality in the same way. 'Why,' he said, 'I could almost hear the Delaware senator's sonorous voice again, and as I looked at the photo graph I seemed to sit once more in the diplomatic gallery of the senate.'

JAY GOULD ASSUMES A NATURAL POSITION.

"Rich men are men of character, and each one has some strong individual points that stand out clearly. One will come and stand chatting with his hands always behind him. Another will gesticulate vigorously. Another will carry his hands in his vest. Another will carry his head very high. That reminds me of Robert L. Stuart, the rich sugar man, who came to be posed one day. He kept raising his head too high.

"'You must be a very successful man,' I said.

"'I am, sir,' he replied, curtly. Then I said:

"'What do you keep your head so high for? When you do that you raise the physical part of your head at the expense of the intellectual.'

"When, following the hint, he dropped his chin and thus was taken, he admitted it was the best likeness he ever had.

"Probably Jay Gould is one of the easiest men to pose. He is perfectly natural. He likes a bust of three-quarter view. I cannot conceive of conditions being such as to lift Mr. Gould out of his naturalness. So when he comes here he walks, as it were, right into the mouth of the camera, tarries a moment, leaves his impress there and goes out again. Then you have Jay Gould and you can depend upon it.

"Quite such a man was William Astor, very unaffected, very simple, very easy. No doubt this came from his experience with the best society the world over. Such a man is not easily perturbed. Having been long the cynosure of the public's eyes, being stared at by the cold, mechanical eye of the camera does not disturb him. It is nice to take a man like William Astor. He was different from Jay Gould in one respect. Jay Gould takes a good picture because he seems to be and probably is largely unconscious of the necessity of preparing specially for the photograph. William Astor, on the contrary, entered into the same relation for a moment with his photographer as he would with some distinguished company at which he was to be the chief guest. There he would aim to be thoroughly natural, but at the same time all the accessories of gesture, of repose, of toilet would be carefully attended to.

"John Jacob Astor is probably too young yet to have acquired the calmness that the older society men display before the camera, and that is doubtless the reason why he is somewhat difficult to suit. It isn't every photographer that would find it easy to pose this young man, for when the pose doesn't suit him he doesn't hesitate to say so in very emphatic terms. At the same time, however, his nervousness leads him to resent suggestions, which seem to him as reflections on his personal appearance. He is not much given to photograph-taking and is content with one or two poses a year.

"Now, take Ward McAllister," went on Mr. Sarony. "There is a type different from the easily taken ones I have mentioned. Peculiar, original enough."

"Why?"

"Well, the difference is in expression, in the expression entirely. Now, if he could divest himself of the photographic feeling it wouldn't be so hard to get a good picture of the society leader, but in that respect he is almost like a novice at the camera. He takes a three-quarter head and will not depart from that style. To get him to be natural it is necessary to interest him in something that will keep his mind entirely off the fact that he is at a photographer's. If a beautiful woman dressed in the latest style should float by within the scope of his vision he would be so interested in her as a possible member of the society he is so particular to note that he would be for the moment absorbed. Then catch him.

"Harry Le Grand Cannon is one of the most particular of the Gotham swells about his photographs. He is as much exercised over it as some men are over the selection of a bride. He will try half a dozen poses before he is satisfied with one, then probably he will take the others and leave the very one he thought was the climax of accuracy. He likes to try the effect on a photograph of a change of attire. He has a very expressive and mobile countenance, a face whose entire look may be radically changed by a different style of collar, or by the peculiar set of a necktie, or even the presence of a gem or stone in the neckwear may have an effect on the ensemble that would strike his critical eye at once. Taking his photograph is not a matter of a few minutes. He makes up his mind to take the best part of a day when he starts out to give a sitting.

"There is no delicacy of pose or attitude in Elbridge T. Gerry's camera make-up. The bluff old commodore goes at it just as he would take a position on deck to see how the land lay. He prefers a bust to a simple head. This no doubt may come from his appreciation of the good pair of shoulders that his firm, decided head is set upon. It is a matter of but a few minutes to get Mr. Gerry's face on a negative—just long enough for him to say: 'Well, I guess this looks all right, doesn't it?' a few preliminary hitches, a sly smile-twitch in the corner of his mouth, a rapidly-vanishing twinkle in his merry old eye and a salt-air repose.

"Oh! I had almost forgotten Commodore Vanderbilt," went on Sarony, as he took off his fez cap and scratched his scarce locks as if to waken recollection. "I remember how he used to enjoy having a photograph taken. Nobody ever knew how much he would unbend when he was preparing to be taken. He seemed to esteem it as much of a piece of fun as would a boy. Then he was so full of individuality in every move and action that it was a delight to take his strong, well-lined face. He had no favorite pose, but always left that to me. I remember one day the fifth or sixth time that he called on me when I wasn't just satisfied with the pose I had secured, so I said to him: 'Give me your idea of it, commodore.'

"He laid his hand on my shoulder and said: 'You are doing this. I'm not. If it isn't right I'd rather have some one else to blame than myself.'"

"I wonder if I couldn't collect at least half of the insurance of my wife," remarked Col. Percy Yerger to his friend, Maj. Witherspoon, as they were sipping their mint juleps in a Harlem saloon.

"Why, is your wife dead, then," asked his friend.

"Well, not exactly. But every night when I come home late she says she is half dead with fright and anxiety. It seems to me that in law and equity I could collect half the insurance money."—Texas Siftings.

The Only Case on Record.

"That's a very beautiful girl," said a visitor, referring to a handsome young woman who was seated on the exhibition platform of the dime museum.

"Yes," said the attendant, "she is very beautiful."

"Is she on exhibition for her beauty?"

"No, not exactly. She is on exhibition because she doesn't know she's beautiful. It is supposed to be the only case of the kind on record."—N. Y. Press.

PISTOLS IN THE PULPIT

How Maniac Emmons Kept a Church All to Himself.

NARROW ESCAPE OF AN OFFICER.

A Lively Time in a Congregational Church at Springfield—Captured Only When He Slept—The Pastor Had Refused to Let Him Preach, and He Was Determined to be Heard.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 24.—It is probable that Charles M. Emmons, after his crazy doings of yesterday, will now be put where he can make no more trouble.

The spectacle of a wild-eyed man standing in the pulpit of Olivet Congregational Church, with a cocked revolver in his right hand and another lying on the pulpit, greeted the early arrivals at that church yesterday morning. The pastor, Rev. L. A. Cone, had exchanged with L. H. Dorchester, another city pastor, but Rev. Mr. Dorchester was not able to get into the pulpit, as the madman held it against all comers at the muzzle of his revolver.

He was Charles M. Emmons, a member of the church, and an employe of the government at the United States Armory. Emmons gained admittance to the church at an early hour, and had his position well fortified before any one else arrived. Around his body he had wrapped a sofa cover and had a black veil over his head and face. The janitor tried to eject him, but as he approached the pulpit the madman fired three shots in rapid succession. All of them lodged in the ceiling.

In the meantime the congregation had begun to arrive, and the news spread throughout the city. In less than fifteen minutes the church had a congregation larger than ever in its history, but all kept at a respectful distance from the lunatic's gun.

Then the janitor, reinforced by Deacon Adams, other church members, and four policemen, re-entered the church, but they were unable to capture the pulpit. Emmons, a revolver in each hand, warned them not to advance.

"Come a step nearer and I will shoot," he said.

Several persons who knew him tried to persuade him to leave the pulpit, but he answered their entreaties by pointing his revolvers at their heads and warning them to retire. The police attempted in various ways to attract the attention of the crazed man, when it was planned to rush upon and overpower him. But this was only the signal for more shooting, two bullets grazing the helmet of the officer who made the attempt.

The officers then held a council, and it was decided that, as Emmons was so well armed, it would be more prudent to await events.

Emmons held the fort until after 2 o'clock, when he fell asleep in his chair. Then Detective Atkins and Patrolman Haynes crept carefully up to the platform and pounced upon him. Emmons struggled desperately but was soon overpowered, disarmed and handcuffed. As they started for the police station Emmons begged hard to be allowed to put on his overcoat. The handcuffs were taken off for this purpose and before he could be prevented the madman brought out another revolver and fired again, but hit no one.

At the police station Emmons claimed that he had been hounded by enemies for twenty years and had written a sermon entitled "The Truth," which he had asked Pastor Cone to preach. Mr. Cone had refused and he had determined to take possession of the pulpit and preach it himself.

Emmons has shown signs of insanity for several weeks, but was not considered dangerous. He created a scene at Trinity Church last Sunday, when he entered the pulpit, sat down and removed his shoes, at the same time ordering all others to do the same, as they were on holy ground. He was removed without any trouble and the affair was kept quiet. He had a well worn copy of the Bible and the neatly written manuscript of his sermon when captured.

Powder Mills Blown Up.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Oct. 24.—The powder mills of the Phœnix Powder company at Kellogg, four miles below here, blew up yesterday afternoon. The shock broke many windows throughout the city and felt like an earthquake. Hundreds went to the scene from here. The explosion was from some mysterious cause as no workmen were employed on the premises that day.

Corner Stone Laying at New Brunswick.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 24.—The corner stone of the new parochial school was laid yesterday afternoon. About 1,500 men were in line, parading through the principal streets, headed by brass bands and drum corps playing national airs. Thousands viewed the procession. Delegations were present from Perth Amboy, Sayerville, Rahway and Jersey City.

A Channing Monument at Newport.

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 24.—The foundation is to be started to-day for a monument to William Ellery Channing, the great Unitarian. It is to be erected in Touro park, a few feet from the historic old stone mill, and facing the Channing memorial church. It is a gift to the city by a person whose name the sculptor refuses to reveal.

SEIZED AN AMERICAN BARK.

The Cape Horn Pigeon Taken Into Vladivostok by a Russian Officer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The whaling bark Cape Horn Pigeon, belonging to the firm of J. & W. R. Wing, of New Bedford, Mass., was seized by a Russian naval officer commanding the confiscated sealing schooner Marie on Sep. 10.

The bark was in the southern part of Okhotsk Sea, only 84 miles from Itarup, an island belonging to Japan.

The cause for seizure, as given by the Russian officer, was for whaling in Okhotsk Sea, which was closed and belonged to Russia. The crew of the Cape Horn Pigeon were sent to Vladivostok in the Marie in charge of their first mate, and the Russians took possession of the bark and took her to the same port. The Marie arrived on Sep. 15, and the Cape Horn Pigeon on Sep. 19.

Directly after the arrival of the latter vessel her crew was taken from the schooner and put on shore, with no food or shelter. They were unable to get satisfaction from the police authorities and lived for five days in the storehouse of a charitable Chinaman, who gave them food and lodging. The master of the Cape Horn Pigeon sent a telegram to the United States Minister at St. Petersburg, and a cable message to the owners of the vessel.

A protest against the illegal seizure was presented to the Governor-General and one to the Admiral of the port. The United States steamship Marion was in the harbor and her commanding officer sent a protest to Vice-Admiral Tystor, commanding all the Russian naval force on that station. The Cape Horn Pigeon was restored to her master on Sep. 25, and the Vice-Admiral told him that the seizure was a mistake in the judgment on the part of the commanding officer of the Marie.

The bark is to be held until the claim for damages against the Russian government has been presented and the receipt acknowledged by the Vice-Admiral. The claim is to be final, an agreement being made that no further claims would be presented. The claim has been sent in and is for $4,985. It will be settled in St. Petersburg.

"WHITE CAPS" MURDER A TRAMP.

Two Laborers Under Arrest Charged With Having Committed the Crime.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Oct. 24.—Alfred Schneck and Oliver Schneck, laborers of Sumneytown, are under arrest on warrants issued at the instance of District Attorney Brownback, charging them with the murder of Lucas Smith, a tramp, who was well known in the upper end of this county and in the lower section of Berks county.

Several weeks ago Smith arrived in Sumneytown, after indulging in a protracted spree, and slept in the haymow of the hotel at Sumneytown. That night, it is alleged, the Schnecks entered the barn dressed in sheets and white caps and beat and kicked Smith into insensibility.

The tramp was so badly used up that next day he was given a bed and medical treatment. On the morning of Oct. 14 he was found dead in bed.

The attending physician attributed death to apoplexy, and the mutilated remains of Smith were given a decent burial last Sunday.

By that time rumors of the brutal assault of the Schencks began to spread, and both disappeared. The matter seemed to have quieted down, and they returned to their homes, when their arrest followed.

ASKING FOR INVESTIGATION.

Petition to the Vermont Legislature in the Case of Arden Humphrey.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 24.—The friends of Arden H. Humphrey have sent a petition on to the State Legislature, asking for an investigation into the sudden disappearance of Humphrey from the Brattleboro Insane Asylum, where he was employed.

Humphrey has not been seen since 9:30 p. m., June 25, 1889. Mrs. Henry H. Jackson, two weeks ago released from the asylum at Waterbury, was confined at the Brattleboro asylum when Humphrey disappeared, and she says that young Humphrey committed some trivial offense on the day he disappeared and she swears that for the offense he was stripped and horsewhipped.

It is not alleged by her that his death was directly caused by ill treatment, but that his sense of shame may have led him to commit suicide.

Zimmerman and Sanger to Race.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Zimmerman and Sanger, the two famous wheelmen, have been matched for a trophy to be represented in $2,000 and side stakes of $20,000 more, six weeks from this date in the South, probably in New Orleans, but if not on the track there, then at Augusta, Savannah, Columbus, Ga., or in Jacksonville, Fla. The man winning two out of three events set, one, two and five miles, will be declared the victor. In order to save these two stars to the world of amateurs they will not touch a penny of the money.

Increase in Germany's Exports.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—The reports of thirteen United States Consuls in Germany show that the exports form this country to the United States in July, August and September amounted to $15,570,000. The increase of nearly $3,000,000 is due to the heavy exports of sugar which previously were checked by the American Sugar Trust.

No Case Against the Italian.

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 24.—The Middlesex grand jury reports "no bill" in the case of Fortunato Amante, arrested six months ago, charged with having killed another Italian named Mafatano, whose body was found near the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad at Everett, Mass.

THEY FEAR BERI BERI.

The Japanese Disease Causes Alarm Among New York Health Officers.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—A new disease, contagious and fatal, has reached this port, causing much alarm among the health officers at quarantine. The disease is imported from Japan, where it is known as beri beri.

The bark H. P. Cann arrived off quarantine yesterday, 170 days out from Iloilo, and reported that two deaths from the disease had occurred en route. Seaman Thomas Russell died on Sep. 23, and Carpenter John Nugent on Oct. 8. Both were buried at sea.

When the ship arrived at Norfolk, Va., the first mate and seven men, who were stricken with beri beri, were put ashore and sent to the hospital.

The disease is unknown here. The authorities are at a loss how to handle it should other ships follow with the disease on board.

The Cann is laden with sugar and tea, and makes the third vessel which has reached this port in the past four weeks, on which death from this disease has been reported.

The disease is said to resemble yellow fever somewhat, but it is more fatal.

The Cann will be detained at Quarantine and thoroughly disinfected, while stringent measures will be adopted to cope with the disease from other vessels arriving from the fever stricken Japanese ports.

TO CARRY THE MATTER HIGHER.

U. S. Grand Jury Will be Asked to Proceed Against Monmouth Park Officers.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 24.—There is great indignation among the members composing the law and order league and the churches of Monmouth county because the recent grand jury failed to indict officers and bookmakers of the Park Association. They are greatly enraged because the supporters of the park insinuate that the Rev. S. Edward Young, the Secretary of the County League, was not in Freehold while the grand jury was in session because he was afraid to give his testimony.

In Mr. Young's sermon on the subject, last night he spoke at length on the subject, refuting the charge.

It is the intention of the Law and Order League to carry the matter before the United States grand jury, and the politicians and gamblers are much agitated over the proposed action.

DANGER TO VESSELS.

Quarantine at Delaware Breakwater Causes Pilots to Protest.

LEWES, Del., Oct. 24.—Pilots declare that unless the National Quarantine at the Delaware Breakwater shall be lifted large vessels will meet with disaster, now that the winter months are approaching, while lying off the unsafe harbor awaiting a visit from the Government officials.

The place where inward bound vessels are compelled to lie is most dangerous at any time, they say, other than when the wind blows from the southwest.

Under the advice of leading Philadelphia merchants, the pilots will petition the Board of Port Wardens and other maritime bodies of that city setting forth the many dangers to which vessels are subjected by reason of the National Quarantine.

Lost Cash and Jewelry in Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Several of the party of Washington guests at the World's Fair dedication in Chicago last week were sufferers at the hands of sneak thieves or burglars. Marquis Imperiali, secretary of the Italian Legation, lost $55 in cash, a pair of diamond studs, a pearl pin and the jeweled insignia of the several orders with which he has been decorated. One of the ladies lost a valuable pocketbook containing $25 in money and two or three pieces of diamond jewelry.

Suicide of a Meditative Toper.

LYONS, N. Y., Oct. 24.—"Tip" Brown, a village character, was attacked by delirium tremens in Christopher Hopp's saloon, and started to drown himself in the river. He was finally prevented from doing so and locked up. Hopp himself was a periodical drunkard, and Brown's condition set him to thinking, so it appeared from his talk, as to how he was likely to wind up if he did not quit. He brooded over the matter several hours, and then cut his throat from ear to ear, expiring instantly.

Found Dead in His Bath Room.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Edwin J. Denning, senior member of the dry goods firm of E. J. Denning & Co., successors to the retail business of A. T. Stewart, was found dead yesterday in the bath room of his residence, 5 East Ninth street. Denning entered the bath room about 11 o'clock Saturday night, but it was not until 2 o'clock in the afternoon that he was found dead, leaning over the tub. Death was due to paralysis of the heart.

Murderer Van Loon Must Hang.

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 24.—The Circuit Court has handed down its decision in the case of Frank Van Loon, the second Jesse James, whose bold robbery of the Columbus Grove Bank and the murder of the cashier startled the world last August. Van Loon is condemned to hang next month and his attorneys filed a motion to take the case up on an error, but the court in its decision refused the petition and the defense will carry the case up.

Threatened With a Water Famine.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 24.—The Kittanning Point reservoir from which this city gets its water supply is entirely dry. The storage reservoir contains only enough water to last twenty four hours with ordinary usage. Water is turned on only two hours in the forenoon. Unless there shall be rain soon a famine will be the result.

TO KNIFE THE WARDEN

Perry Did Not Crave Liberty, But Revenge.

HIS LEASE OF FREEDOM WAS BRIEF.

Recaptured Within the Prison Walls—Struck Down by a Guard, and, It is Reported, Fatally Injured—The Escape—Excitement at Lyons Among Those Whom He Threatened to Kill.

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 24.—It was a very brief period of liberty which Oliver Curtis Perry enjoyed after his escape from his cell.

He was captured inside the prison wall, and the only result of his desperate attempt to escape is to make his condition more miserable.

After escaping from the wing in which his cell was located, Perry boldly crossed the prison yard and hid in the basement of the broom shop, where Convict Johnson was murdered by a fellow prisoner only a few weeks ago.

When the night had sufficiently advanced for the darkness to conceal his movements, Perry tried to gain access to the broom shop. It was closely guarded, however, and he next proceeded to the marble shop. Here again he was frustrated in his attempt to gain admittance, as the guards were on the alert, and his efforts attracted their attention.

Perry started to run as soon as he found that his presence was discovered. He went directly to the collar shop, where a large number of knives are kept, the fugitive's one idea seeming to be to secure a weapon of some kind.

As he neared the collar shop he was seen by Keeper Tunis, who stood in the shadow of the building. When within ten feet of the guard, Perry was challenged and ordered to halt. He did not obey and the guard fired a shot from his rifle over the convict's head.

This had no effect upon Perry, other than to change the course in which he was running and to increase his speed. His change of direction was fatal, however, as it caused him to pass within reach of Keeper Smith, who, without waiting to challenge the fleeing man, struck him over the head with his heavy night stick.

So powerful was the blow that the cane was broken, and Perry was stretched unconscious at the keeper's feet, the blood flowing freely from a deep wound. Perry was at once taken to the dungeon where he will be confined for some time to come without even the comfort of a board to rest upon.

It is said that after his capture Perry told Warden Durston that it was not liberty he sought, but an opportunity to stick a knife into him. He has conceived a deep hatred for the Warden during his long confinement in the screen cell.

The instrument which Perry used to dig through the wall of his cell was the iron leg of his bedstead, which he had managed to loosen from its fastening.

After the wily little desperado had been safely lodged in a dungeon the extra guards were relieved.

Warden Durston assembled them in the keepers' hall and in an address warned them not to discuss the matter of Perry's escape and capture in public. Despite these precautions, however, the particulars have transpired.

A rumor is in circulation that Perry was very seriously hurt by Keeper Smith's blow, and that death may result. The rumor cannot be confirmed.

FEARED PERRY'S VENGEANCE.

His Escape Caused Alarm at Lyons, N. Y., Among Railroad Employes.

LYONS, N. Y., Oct. 24.—The news that Oliver Curtis Perry had escaped from Auburn prison created not only excitement here, the scene of his notorious acts of last winter, but genuine alarm, especially among those who had anything to do with the capture and trial of the desperado.

After Perry was captured, and frequently during his incarceration, he made threats that he would sooner or later "do" the men who had been instrumental in bringing him to justice.

The especial object of his hatred was Deputy Sheriff Collins, who forced him to surrender, and Perry made no bones of talking of the revenge he intended to have upon the official.

The employes at the New York Central railroad station, and in fact, nearly every one who had in any way been connected with his being landed behind the bars, came in for a share of the train robbers denunciation. He promised each and every one a dose of cold lead if he ever got out—and he said he would in short order.

These threats of Perry were at once recalled when the news of his escape was received by those against whom they were directed, and there was a decided feeling of anxiety that the desperado would come back to make his words good.

Collins didn't appear at all scared, but the news filled the employes at the railroad stations and in the big yards here with unpleasant apprehension.

Little knots of men gathered here and there, the escape was discussed, and the stirring scenes in which Perry figured last winter were retold.

The mere mention of Perry's name was enough to cause a shiver to run through these assemblages. Most of the men at once armed themselves in anticipation of the robber's reappearance in this section.

Six Thought to Have Perished.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 24.—The fire Saturday night at Folsom and Beale streets caused a loss of $55,000, $50,000 of which falls on Tallant's California oil works, and the remainder upon Hober, Wall & Co.'s box factory and Fendington's Sons' iron works. It is feared that four white men and two Chinese lost their lives in the fire. It is thought that they perished in the tank, but it will not be known until the debris is cleared away.

Minister Egan Greatly Incensed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Minister Patrick Egan is greatly incensed at the attack upon him by Mr. Wayne MacVeagh in his speech Wednesday night. Mr. Egan characterizes Mr. MacVeagh's remarks relative to his official fitness as a "rascally attack wholly without foundation." Mr. Egan says he will reply in an open letter.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"Absolutely the Best."

It is made of pure cream of tartar and soda, no ammonia, no alum. A like quantity goes farther and does better work. It is therefore cheaper.

Cleveland's is the baking powder used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of cookery. It never varies, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Try a can.

A ROMANTIC COURTSHIP.

How a Young Spokane Lawyer Won a Brooklyn Girl.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 24.—Eighteen months ago little Gertie Homan, the 10-year-old actress, daughter of William Homan of 65 Hooper street, Williamsburgh, while playing in the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" company at Spokane Falls, met Mr. J. Kennedy Stout, a wealthy young lawyer, who was also the dramatic editor of the Spokane "Spokesman."

Mr. Stout had attended the performance and was delighted with the little lady's work. He secured an introduction to her in the green-room, and before the company left Spokane had her promise to correspond with him.

Toward the end of the season he lost the "road" of the show and sent a letter to the Williamsburg home of his young correspondent. Her sister, Ida, a pretty brunette, opened the letter and replied to it, informing Mr. Stout where Gertie was playing. In the mean time the little actress had sent him a letter, too, and a photograph containing the picture of herself and her four sisters, among them that of her sister Ida.

Mr. Stout answered Ida's letter and asked her to keep him informed of Gertie's movements. Several more letters were exchanged. Mr. Stout sent his photograph to Ida, and a short time afterward they became engaged. No date for the wedding was set, it being intended that the couple should arrange that when they met.

As Mr. Stout is a member of Gov. Ferry's staff he had to accompany his Excellency to Chicago for the dedicatory celebration. He wrote his fiancee, and after a great deal of hesitation Miss Homan consented to meet him to-day and arrange to be married this week. He will arrive at the Grand Station this afternoon from the West, and there will be a party of friends to meet him.

Mr. Stout is worth more than a quarter of a million dollars. He is well known in the State of Washington. He is about 30 years old, and while a reporter on the New York "Tribune" ten years ago took Horace Greeley's advice to go West and grow up with the country.

MISS SHANNON'S DIVORCE.

Henry Guy Carleton Cannot Marry Again in New York State.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—If Henry Guy Carleton desires to marry a third wife, as he is currently reported, it will be necessary for him to have the ceremony performed in some State other than New York. His second wife, Effie Shannon, of Frohman's Lyceum Theatre Company, secured her divorce three days ago, the decree being granted by Justice Pratt, in the Supreme Court of Brooklyn, upon recommendation of Referee E. H. Pomeroy, who heard all the evidence against the journalist, humorist and playwright.

It is claimed by Carleton himself that his first wife, who subsequently divorced him, fell in love with his stutter.

He married Effie Shannon in Hoboken, N. J., on April 10, 1890, and for awhile the couple lived in Brooklyn. After a few months Mrs. Carleton left him and returned to her own people.

A private detective furnished Miss Shannon with the necessary evidence to obtain a divorce.

—F. M. Hulett, the hustling music-man of West Front street, has a fine hall to rent for dancing, musicals and similar occasions. He has sumptuously furnished both of the floors leased by him in the Manning building, and they make a most delightful and available conservatory of music, something which Plainfield long has wanted.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE GENTLY BREATHES HER LAST.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Harrison, beloved wife of the President, died at 3:20 this afternoon.

The end was very peaceful.

AWFUL RAILWAY WRECK

MANY PASSENGERS KILLED ON THE READING ROAD.

The Loss of Life Variously Placed Between Ten and Fifty—Burning of the Wrecked Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 24.—The fast express train from Shamokin, on the Reading railroad, due here at 9:30 this morning, ran into a coal train in the West Manayunk tunnel, and a frightful smash-up resulted. A number of persons are reported killed. The cars caught fire and are now burning in the tunnel.

From one source it is learned that eight or ten persons are killed. Another report gives the number as twenty-five, while a Press bulletin puts it at fifty-two. The latter report is not confirmed.

The railroad officials refuse to give any details.

FATAL GUNNING ACCIDENT.

Young John Singer Frightfully Mangled by a Gun Explosion.

A fatal shooting accident occurred on Stony Hill, back of Berckley Heights, Saturday morning. John Singer, a young man about 16 years of age, saw a large hen hawk that had been taking his mother's pullets. He went into the house and procured a shot gun and tried to shoot the hawk. With a loud report the gun exploded. A piece of the shattered breech struck the young man squarely in the forehead, crushing in the skull so that the brains protruded out on the forehead. The shock made the young man unconscious, in which condition he was carried into his house. Dr. Westcott, who was summoned, said the patient was too weak to undergo the operation of trepanning, and no hopes of recovery could be held out to the parents, whose grief is heart-rending, as he was their oldest son and a great help to them. He was a favorite with his schoolmates and companions.

The young man has been unconscious up to this morning, and no hope of recovery is entertained, as the doctor said such cases of recovery are rare, and so much of the brain matter oozed out that the probability is he would be a lunatic anyway.

A singular part of the accident was that the heavy load of shot was so deflected by the explosion that a part of the calf of a leg was torn away by it.

A Simple Wire Caused All the Trouble.

The repeated blows of the fire-gong Friday and yesterday were caused by an old district messenger wire which had not been properly cleared away from the debris of Laing's dismantled hotel. The wire formed a connection between fire-alarm wire and trolley wire, whenever a car passed and the trolley pressed the dead wire against the live one. After a long and vexatious search the trouble was located and the cause of interference removed.

This Morning's Alarm.

The back-draught of a chimney in the Stelle and White building at Front street and Park avenue, drove all the smoke of a stove into one of the offices, at 7 this morning, filling the room to suffocation. It was thought there was a fire, and the gong was sounded from box 12. The office door was broken open, and the recall was sounded.

IN A CELL WITH SPOOKS.

Bicycle Martin Tries to Sell a Wheel to Spirits, and Is Surprisingly Handled.

A delightful affair was the "stag" entertainment given at the Casino by the Hillside Tennis club, Saturday evening. The audience of three hundred men had a merry time, and the air was heavy with fragrant Havana smoke and tremulous with laughter and applause. The orchestral music of Lambert was enjoyed. Charles Noe Daly sang many popular airs and was highly received by his large number of friends in the audience. Will Lyle was the best part of the show in his nimble and tuneful banjo work and comic specialties. The majority of his "gags" were new and bright, and he was as lively as a cricket and as bright and funny as John G. Saxe. The Brothers Perry gave exquisite music on tumbler onicon, zither, autoharp, Swiss bells, guitar, and other instruments. An amusing glove contest of four rounds took place between M. Mulroy and J. Fisk, in which the grinning slugger introduced as the "Cyclone" lost his wind and was blown and hammered to pieces. H. A. Knudson did a mysterious cabinet trick in which Frank L. C. Martin got some good advertising and brought down the house. Martin insisted on going into the cabinet to see the spirits work. "Sell him a bicycle, Frank!" shouted someone. "Insure his life"—yelled another. The curtain was drawn, and right away began a terrific tussle with the spooks. Martin was hammered and hauled and shot at, and came staggering bewilderedly out, and with a tambourine bursted over his head. Knudson, still chained fast to a big post, was wearing Martin's coat. There were shrieks of laughter and thunders of applause. "I don't know how 'twas done"—said Martin.

SUNDAY BASE-BALL MOB.

Crescent League Players Assist Rival Teams in a Wrangling Game.

Nearly two thousand people witnessed the base-ball game at Paterson, yesterday, between the Olympics and Patersons. Bonner, W. Murphy and Leidy, of the Crescents, were playing on the Olympics, with Clare pitching; and Turner, Daley and Sneden were on the Paterson team.

Nine hits were made off Sneden; of these, three were made by Bonner. On the other side, seven hits were made off Clare. The Patersons put up a very good game, but were outplayed at every point, Sneden having no field behind him to support him properly, showing once more that Sneden, although a good pitcher always goes all to pieces if he has not a proper field ready all the time for the worst.

A very excited mob witnessed the game. The spectators were all over the grounds, rooting and hoodooing. The umpires were obliged to stop the game three or four times, on account of the mob refusing to step back of the foul line. A game between Somerville and Plainfield is a quiet affair in comparison with the scenes which occurred yesterday at Paterson. The score was standing 8 to 5 at the end of the seventh inning, in favor of the Olympics, when one of the umpires called the game "on account of darkness". The Paterson side, not satisfied, waited awhile, and Mr. Hopkins, the other umpire, gave the game to Paterson, 9 to 0.

They had agreed previous to the game to give to the players their regular pay and to the winning side 20 per cent. of the receipts. After the game, the Paterson managers drove back to the city, taking the money and refusing to give to the Olympic players the percentage promised, saying that there was no reason for calling the game. Bonner and Murphy were obliged to come back to Plainfield with the promise that their money would be sent to them. The game was won all right enough; the question was really if it was too dark to play another inning. The score:

Olympics	6	0	0	1	0	0	1—3
Base-hits	3	2	0	2	0	1	1
Paterson	3	0	2	0	0	0	0—5
Base-hits	3	0	2	0	1	0	1

Leidy has accepted a position as moulder in one of the Paterson foundries.

A PLAINFIELDER'S GLIMPSE.

W. D. Murray Writes of What He Saw of the Trials, Deprivations and Triumphs of American Missionaries in a Country Where $7 Feeds and Educates a Girl for One Year.

The following article, contributed by W. D. Murray of this city to The Young Men's Era, and published under the title "Missions in Japan", will be read with especial interest by Plainfielders, particularly since Mr. Murray is to give an illustrated lecture on "Japan" in the Crescent Avenue church to-night.

In casting about for a spot to visit this summer, my thoughts were first turned toward Japan, because here I could see, from the inside, mission work in the foreign field. I hesitated a little, afraid that the missionaries might not enjoy having a visitor among them in their season of rest. This feeling was entirely changed after I had visited a few of them. Dr. DeForest expressed the wish that those who have visited Japan might formulate and circulate a written statement of the pleasure and profit of such a visit, in order that others might be induced to come over here. Later I read the following in Dr. Green's report for the past year: "An increasing number of Christian tourists visit Japan from year to year. We appreciate the interest they have manifested, but may we not ask a larger share of their time and thought, that we may be able sometimes to see our work through their eyes and be benefited by their counsels? Is it not possible, that in some way such visitors may be the messengers of the churches?" And now it gives me pleasure to testify of the benefit derived from personal contact with these consecrated servants of the Lord, and to tell how much my interest in all mission work has been deepened by this brief visit.

Christian missions existed in Japan in the sixteenth century, but later they were driven away. In the Tokyo museum I saw some of the signs which were posted throughout the country offering a reward for the apprehension of Christians, a certain sum for a layman, more for a priest. I saw also the brass plates bearing the image of Christ on which Christians were compelled to trample as they renounced their allegiance to Him. But mission work really dates from the time when the American Perry spread the American flag on the capstan of his ship in Mississippi Bay, and, reading the One Hundredth Psalm, opened Japan to commerce and the gospel. The first baptism is said to have taken place in 1864 and now there are nearly 40,000 Christians.

I have heard many times at home, and I have heard again this summer, the statement made by men engaged in business in foreign mission lands, that the missionaries were doing no good, but were merely living in luxury at the expense of others. Whatever else my visit has done it has proved the absolute falsity of all such statements and it has given me the right to contradict them whenever I hear them. I trust that even this brief letter will show how absurd such senseless words are.

Although summer is not the best time to see the machinery at work, it is a good time to find the missionaries at leisure and to get information from them. I had opportunities to meet them thus both at Nikko and at Hiei-zan. In these places I saw over fifty of those at work in this field. It is a treat to talk with the veterans, Dr. Green and Dr. Knox; it seemed strange to meet Mr. McNair, whom I last saw helping Princeton defeat Yale at football, and to hear from him how anxious the people were, particularly in the country, to hear the old, old story; I enjoyed talking with the teachers of the Doshisha, many of whom had been co-workers with Mr. Neeshima; with Mr. Yakoi, whom we remember as Mr. Ise; with Mr. Fuwa, Mr. Aoki and other members of the Kumamota band; with Mr. Briar, formerly secretary of the Lockport, N. Y., association, now of the China Inland Mission; with Beauchamp of the famous Cambridge eight, seven of whom went into the China Inland Mission with Mr. Gulick, mother of our advocate of physical culture, and with all the rest. In the little service held on Sunday in a Buddhist priest's house at Nikko it seemed appropriate for the minister to read as the Old Testament lesson the passage containing the text with which Dr. Pierson precipitated the Student Volunteer Movement at Mt. Hermon, "Speak to the children of Israel that they go forward", and for the New Testament lesson the watchword of that movement, Acts 1: 8.

Hiei-zan, the summer camp of the missionaries of the American board, is a mountain some seven miles from here. At one time it contained 3,000 Buddhist temples, but to-day it has only twenty. The plateaus where these old temples stood are now convenient places for tents, and the old roads up and down and over the mountains, beaten hard by the feet of thousands of priests are the paths from one missionary home to another. Through the kindness of Dr. Green we were invited to spend Sunday on the mountain and gladly we accepted. Such a Sunday one seldom has. It was like an oasis in a dry land. At 9 we had a Bible class. Nearly all the missionaries here use the revised version of the Bible. At 10:30 Mr. Beauchamp preached the sermon of the day. In accordance with the custom of the China Inland Mission he wears the Chinese dress and has his hair in a queue. His station he told me was five months distant from the coast, on the borders of Thibet. After the sermon we celebrated the Lord's Supper with impressive solemnity. At 4 we had a praise service at which four children were baptized. To take part in all these sacred ordinances with those who have left all to follow Him was stimulating to one interested in the coming of the kingdom. It was a day of joy to me. And then as I was being escorted through the darkness back to my host's tent we came suddenly upon a little tent filled with Japanese servants who were having an evening prayer meeting.

I did not find any missionaries living in luxury. On the other hand, I saw those whose abilities would assure them every luxury at home living here in very humble circumstances, lacking not only many creature comforts but often things which we regard as necessaries. Moreover, say what we will, they are here in exile, among a strange people, many of whose manners and customs are not pleasant to us, a people hard to understand, a people of whom a writer of authority says, "Everything proves that theirs is a temperament without equilibrum, a disposition tossed like ships without ballast, a passive nature driven backward and forward by fits and starts." Said one old missionary to me, "Every American missionary in Japan would go home at once were it not for his abiding faith in the cause he represents." I heard another man who had been here ten years speak of New York as his home just as you would speak of Chicago. Even the business men are here only to make their pile, then go home. Then, too, a climate in which everything mildews, where gloves have to be kept in sealed tin boxes, where part of the year brings too much rain and part too much heat, is a severe strain on the strongest constitution. Their trials are many, even outside the hostility of the native religion. The proverbial slowness of the people tries their patience sorely, and the incessant consultations they find necessary earn for many of them the name of the man of Uz. Many times their best intentions are misunderstood, and obstacles block the way which they cannot see or know. There is no Sunday here and that means much. A native Christian finds that he is losing his trade because his customers can buy from his neighbor on seven days in the week and from him only on six. Need compels him to open on this day, and finding that he can do away with a part of the Christian's religion he wonders how much of it is absolutely essential. Politics, too, has become a distraction to a people ever seeking some new thing.

And yet a missionary said to me, "I would ten times rather be here than at home"; and I would not convey the impression that there is no joy in the missionaries' life. No; it is true of those whom I met that their rewards are great. They have gone forth, weeping it may be, bearing precious seed, and again and again they come rejoicing bringing their sheaves with them. They sow liberally, they reap bountifully. The direct results are many converts, and a church so firmly established that it would continue to exist were every foreign Christian driven out. There were fifteen Christians in the first diet; there are nine in the one just ended. The first speaker and the first chairman of the committee of the whole were Christians. Hardly less cheering must be the indirect results of their work. To see a whole people slowly improving in their social condition is a privilege denied us at home.

And the future is bright and cheering. While the rate of increase is not as large as it once was there is constant growth; there is increasing strength. The Presbyterian church alone has in its ministry twenty men who are the intellectual equals of any men in Japan. In them largely lies the promise of the future.

And now just a word as to our part in this grand work. From what I have seen no place presents such opportunities for large returns on comparatively small investments. Seven dollars feed and educate a girl for a year; fourteen dollars feed, clothe, and educate an orphan for a year; three dollars and a quarter a month take care of a student in college in Tokyo. Will you have a part in this work? God grant that we may be willing to enjoy the pleasures, the privileges He has set before us in this golden age.

"CHINATOWN'S" COMPANION.

The Greatest of Charles Hoyt's Successes to be Played in Plainfield.

Hoyt's "A Hole in the Ground", which is one of Charles H. Hoyt's greatest successes, will make its first appearance at Music Hall Thursday evening.

That Hoyt's plays are funny goes without saying, and none more so than the above named. The entire three acts are full to the brim with bright, witty satire and music, and specialty features without end. Charles Cowles, in the character of the Stranger, has a part that suits his clever capabilities, and from which he succeeds in extracting an endless amount of enjoyment for the audience. To hear him say "Is that clock right?" and see him take refuge in the "swearing room", is sufficient unto the ends of laughter for days to come. Frank Lawton, as the Station Agent, also gives us the stage creation of a typical railroad official who exists in real life, as those who have traveled much can all testify. Then there are the Lunch Counter Girl, and the pretty Telegraph Operator, played respectively by Miss Virginia Earl and Miss Margaret May, who played Tags in the "County Fair" last season; Barry Maxwell as the Tramp, the Young Elopers and the "Tarriers", all with their specialties to introduce, aside from the laugh-provoking scenes and situations into which Mr. Hoyt has placed them in his satire. Hoyt's name and laughter go hand in hand, and there would seem to be no solid reason why Music Hall should not resound with merriment Thursday evening.

MR. BABCOCK REPLIES.

No Reasons for Strictures Against the Public Schools, He Says.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I have been favored with a copy of your paper of Oct. 18, having a mark against the article signed "Pater" referring to the High School and its work. Ordinarily anonymous articles deserve and should receive no notice, but in this instance, the author having thus specially called my attention to it, permit me to say that if, instead of rushing into print on a subject he admittedly knows nothing about, "Pater" had taken the trouble to see the superintendent of schools first, he would have found there was no foundation for his strictures, and would have saved himself the trouble of writing them out. But, probably, this would not have served his purpose, for the race of grumbling paters is not generally happy unless there is something to grumble about.

Our public schools are rightfully looked upon as equal to any in the State, and an attempt to misrepresent them is a blow to the fair fame of the city. It is not necessary that they be defended to the citizens of Plainfield, but there may be others as ignorant as "Pater", and it may therefore be well to state that there is no "crowding" other than is required to take the pupils through the necessary course of study in the time at their disposal. Probably "Pater" would be the first one to grumble if another year was added to the course in order to make it easier for a few who find their health will not permit them to keep up with the majority. His plan of one session a day would only bring a still greater hardship upon the feeble ones, for it would crowd the work now done in two sessions, with an intermission between, into one without relief. In cases where a single session has been adopted the hours of study have not been shortened, the intermission only having been done away with. That the average student does not find the course in the High School too hard, is proven by the fact that as many find time for additional studies as are deterred by sickness from completing the course. The cases "Pater" refers to, of last year, were the result of an attempt to crowd two years of Greek into one. Our new superintendent has already made changes under which such a case cannot occur again. Students in poor health such as to require an exception in their favor can always have it made by bring a certificate from their family physician; and parents or others, who have suggestions, requests, or complaints, will find the superintendent ever ready to listen kindly and act wisely in each case. If "Pater" wishes his child to go slower, and so add an extra year to its time in school, doubtless he can be accommodated if he will make a proper application; but anonymous communications to the press will not help secure such a result.

President Board of Education.

GOOD COUNTY ROADS.

Old Middlesex Follows Union's Example.

For about two weeks past, work has been in progress in conformity with a contract awarded to James Y. Wilson, of stone-crusher fame, in macadamizing and building a public road beginning at the city line on Park avenue and continuing southward up to and as far as Holly's farm, the stone road-bed to be fourteen feet wide, clear of gutters, and the stone to be eight inches deep. The work is under the experienced guidance of ex-street commissioner George Angleman, who for the past thirty-five years or more has made grading and road-making a specialty. With only a small force of ten men he now has already completed over thirteen hundred feet of the work, a feat but seldom experienced in modern road-building, and when all completed both contractor and superintendent will have the thanks of those people who appreciate a good solid road for heavy carting and general purposes. New Jersey has set the example to other States of having first taken the lead in her Legislature to macadamize her highways. She will leave to future generations a lasting memorial of her progress in that line. It may perhaps be only a short time when all the principal thoroughfares of the whole State will be stone-covered, and glorious New Jersey will rank as the Boulevard of the East.

A Valuable Work.

A work entitled "The Discovery and Conquest of the New World" has been published by H. J. Smith & Co., of Philadelphia, and bound in handsome cloth and morocco, beautifully inlaid with gold and silver. It contains over 850 pages, and over 600 pictures, and it is the creation of the combined genius of Washington Irving, William R. Robertson, D. D., F. R. S., George Bancroft, John Fiske, U. S. Grant, James G. Blaine, and others. The illustrations are of the finest, the printing is first-class, and the binding is substantial and durable. It is a most reliable authority, and a most perfect history of the United States from the earliest date to the present time, and an acquisition for any library, being well adapted to the wants of the people. E. Marcile, whose address is 129 Central avenue, is the agent in this city, and can furnish the book at manufacturers' prices.

Music, Facts and Fun, Interspersed With Courtship and Marriage.

Those are the star features promised at the Casino, this evening, when the celebrated Fowler Concert company will give an entertaining programme of pleasing plantation songs and joyous jubilee melodies, "interspersed", as their announcement states, "with a lecture by the silver tongued orator, the Rev. Dr. J. W. Stevenson, on the interesting subject: 'Courtship and Marriage'."

Tickets at 50 cents each have been on sale all the week and may be obtained at the door. The press everywhere speaks in praise of the concert company, and an enjoyable evening is promised.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—R. F. Lispenard, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

DUG UP A SKELETON.

Mortal Remains Discovered in a West Second Street Back Yard.

A human skeleton was unearthed this afternoon by workmen digging a seespool in the yard at 78 West Second street.

The bones were very dry and porous, and vegetable fibres from roots were matted about them.

Small fragments of the coffin that once had encased the bones were found. The wood had been converted by dry-rot into a sponge-like substance, as pliable as spunk. Occasionally a rusted nail from the coffin clung to a bit of the wood.

The bones were evidently those of a full-grown person. From the shape of the pelvis it was judged that the skeleton was that of a woman.

A mat of fine, silken hair, of a beautiful rich golden color, lay beside the skull. The hair was short, but any man who wore such hair must have been a veritable Adonis.

The upper jaw of the skull was toothless, and there were no teeth in the detatched lower jaw.

The femur was particularly slender and graceful, and the skull must once have been a handsome shape. The phalanges of the hands were very long and tapering, and the hands were probably of an artistic piano-playing sort.

The bones were eagerly scanned by a curious crowd of gaping bystanders, who speculated in heartless and vulgar jibes over the identity of the dead one.

The locality where the skeleton was found was once a burying-ground. Several other skeletons have been similarly unearthed from time to time, in that neighborhood.

The bones will be decently boxed and re-interred.

TO A BLONDE BEAUTY.

LINES ON THE DISCOVERY OF HER BONES.

I do not know how long ago
She lived, the queen of all the town;
Nor can I tell what day so fell
They laid her 'neath the daisies brown.

But I can say that gentle May
Was petted, courted, everywhere:
A winsome grace was in her face;
The sunshine glimmered in her hair.

Straight as a pine, her form divine,
In stately minuet oft led;
And for her part in deeds of heart
Blessings were showered on her head.

Her beaming eye, soft as the sky;
Her fair cheeks blushed as roses bloom:
Her loving glance would fiends entrance;
Her kindly smile would light a tomb.

Flawless as pearl, most radiant girl;
Man clings to prize so wondrous fair:
But came a day she could not stay,
And vanished in the sunset there.

Full well I know what dreadful woe
Fell on her house that rueful hour;
Oh sad decree, that such as she
Should bloom to perish like a flower.

In all her race there is a trace
Of beauty such as hers in youth;
Daughter or son is every one
Matchless in purity and truth.

But oh the blot: She is forgot!
What gratitude in mortal tribe!
Lift up the stones, toss out her bones—
Fit food for modern jest and jibe.

Men come and go; a saintly glow
Gleams on their path and disappears;
And in her case perchance we trace
A vision of our coming years.

THE JESUIT CONVENTION.

For the First Time They Assemble Outside of Rome.

Jealous of Vatican Influence—Rumors as to the Future Policy of the Order—Tendency to Adopt Reactionary Methods—Brief Jesuit History.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

THE general congregation of the Society of Jesus, which has just been held at Azpeytia, in Spain, is worthy of attention from several points of view. The object of this great meeting of the Jesuit order was the election of a vicar general to replace the late Father Anderledy

The selection of the monastery of Azpeytia as the place of meeting was at once appropriate and significant. Near there Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the order, was born, in 1491, of a noble Biscayan family. Hence the place is one of sacred memory to the Jesuits. Again, in holding their congregation at Azpeytia the order has established a portentous precedent, for this is the first time in their history that they have ever held it outside of Rome. During the three hundred and three-score years which have passed since the vow was taken by Loyola and his followers that constituted the order, not one of its elective meetings for the affairs anent of a general has ever been held outside of the Eternal city. Here lies the significance of the congregation of 1892, inasmuch as it is supposed to signalize the culmination of centuries of secret friction between the vatican and the Jesuits. Not in Rome has the new chief of the order been selected, but in a comparatively remote part of romantic Spain, near the wild waters of the bay of Biscay, and not very distant from the ancient walls of Pampeluna, under whose shadow the chivalric Loyola, defending the city against France, received the wound that confined him to his couch for months and was the indirect cause of his forsaking the sword for the cross.

So far as history and every known record can advise us, the Jesuit order is eminently representative of the Catholic church militant. In its conception the product of a soldier's brain, its first tenet was the preaching of the faith wheresoever and in whatsoever manner the church might require. Duty was its watchword and hesitation unknown in its lexicon. At the time the Jesuits started in upon the mission as an order affairs in Europe were disturbed and critical. King Henry VIII., of England, had just destroyed no less than six hundred monasteries, and was at war with the vatican, which gladly welcomed the proffered services of a disciplined body of fearless and devoted men ready to undertake anything in the cause of religion to which they might be assigned, and who possessed one priceless qualification — they were organized under a constitution whose keystone was obedience to one leader. This was Loyola himself—the first general of the Jesuits. The office was to be and has continued to this day, a perpetual one, invested with absolute authority, acknowledging no superior but the pope himself. The revenues were to be enjoyed only by such colleges as the society might establish for the maintenance of students, religious or otherwise, but the members, individually or in common, were not to hold property. The Roman college of cardinals objected, at first, to the recognition of the order, but finally gave in, and Pope Paul III. issued his bull confirming its authority.

The administration of Aquaviva carried us well into the seventeenth century, and the growth and achievements of the Jesuit order were very great during his incumbency. Their college at Rome attained the fame of a great university, with thousands of students, and the number of Christian converts in Japan increased from 200,000 to nearly 800,000, the missionary work being almost solely conducted by Jesuits. China was also invaded by them and Robert de Nobili, dispatched to India in the same cause, succeeded by his tact and skill in securing numerous converts. Ricci and De Nobili, the two Jesuit priests who respectively proselytized in China and India, show what wonderful gifts the Jesuits possessed in approaching Oriental people upon that most delicate question—their religion. The attack made not long since by a Japanese missionary upon Sir Edwin Arnold, and the reply of the latter to the strictures passed upon his proceedings while in Japan, is peculiarly apropos here. Sir Edwin claimed that the average modern missionary does not succeed in the Orient because of his failure to get in touch with the imaginative and asthetic temperament of the people among whom he labors. The thorough knowledge of human nature and adaptability of the Jesuits to their surroundings, at all times characteristic of the order, was finely shown in the methods adopted by the two priests just referred to. Nobili gained the confidence of the Hindoos by assuming the dress and manners of a Brahmin and by strictly respecting the prejudices of caste. The result was complete success in his mission. Ricci spent twenty years in China, and actually had savoir faire enough to gain the friendship of the emperor, whose protection enabled him to extend his labors. This period was also marked by the troubles of the order in Venice and in England. It was expelled from the former, and in the latter country many members were executed by the government through sectarian prejudice.

North and South America each had an early acquaintance with the Jesuits. They began preaching to the Huron Indians in 1625 and assisted in the founding of the colony of Maryland eight years later. Most readers are familiar with their extraordinary career in Paraguay, where they practically converted a whole nation to Christianity.

There seems to have been more than one reason for the unprecedented action of the Jesuits in holding their convention outside of Rome this year. It used to be said that there were two popes in the Catholic church—the white and the black pope, the former being the recognized pontiff of the vatican, the latter the head of the Jesuits. This saying arose from the power and independent constitution of Jesuits, which, while it certainly acknowledges the authority of the pope at Rome, makes the order independent of diocesan control. The local bishops or archbishops do not interfere with the order in any way. The constitution also enjoins the Jesuits from seeking advancement to high office, but if the Roman pontiff constrains a Jesuit to accept promotion he is supposed to obey. Among the present cardinals at Rome the Jesuits are, indeed, represented with considerable force, Cardinal Ledochowski, the man who bearded Bismarck when the German chancellor was in the height of his power, being now chief of the propaganda. His career is more suggestive of the old-time Jesuit, who, aggressive and fearless, was perpetually coming into collision with the civil power. Ledochowski, when a bishop in Germany, refused to allow the German language to be taught in the Catholic seminaries, and, in 1874, under the iron rule of Bismarck, he was imprisoned and heavily fined. Time brings its compensations, for young Emperor William is said to have been trying to conciliate Ledochowski in order to secure for Germany a powerful friend at Rome. Another influential Jesuit at the vatican is Father S. M. Brandie, editor of the Civilita Cattolica, who prepares each morning a selection from the newspapers which he knows the pope will be interested in reading. He is in constant touch with his holiness, who possesses a high regard for him. Thus we see the Jesuits, through certain distinguished representatives, wielding an influence near the vatican, and yet this fact does not alter their determination to break away from vatican pressure. They have clearly shown their hand by going to Spain this year to elect their black pope. It is true that since the death of Father Anderledy the Jesuit order has been under the regency of Father Martin, who is a Spaniard and naturally partial to his native land. It was understood from the first that he would be the choice of the order for the office of general. But, as already stated, it was the foreign members who raised the strongest protest against having the election in Rome.

Keen observers regard the present situation as the beginning of the end, and predict an active and decisive campaign between the Jesuits and the vatican. They say that the order has long looked with suspicion and disfavor upon the increasing liberalism of vatican policy toward things temporal, and that, consistently clinging to the mediæval tradition of the absolute authority of the church, the Jesuits consider that Leo XIII. is weakening against the outside pressure of modern socialism and generally leveling tendencies. It is also asserted in some quarters that the Jesuits believe, first, in the ascendency of the church, and then in their own ascendency within the church over the pontiff, and that they are now actively at work to realize their ideal conception of power. The predictionists claim that this policy, if carried to its logical conclusion, will result in the extinction of either the Jesuits or the papacy. It is secretly rumored that the new general, Father Martin, has great influence with the queen regent, of Spain, and that his object is to form a powerful alliance between the order and the Spanish throne. Clerical influence at the court—the priest at the sovereign's elbow, advising and suggesting—this savors of the old regime of the middle ages. The revival of the old Spanish Catholic blue laws of the time of Isabella is reported to be a part of Martin's programme. Spain is once more to be the theater of the intrigues of church and state and the lever with which the Jesuits will seek to move the vatican in the direction of their own desires. Extremists even go so far as to assert that the total elimination of Protestantism in Spain is contemplated by Martin and his disciples, through the application of the above mentioned drastic laws of Isabella II., which made it a penal offense for any Spaniard to embrace any faith but that of Catholicity and under whose operations numbers of persons were thrown into dungeons to languish there during the royal and clerical pleasure. Time alone can prove whether or not these prophecies truly foreshadow events to come.

PEACEFULLY SHE SANK INTO REST

In the Early Morning Hours Mrs. Harrison's Sufferings Were Ended.

A SORROWFUL GROUP AT THE INVALID'S BEDSIDE.

THE PRESIDENT OVERCOME.

Fears for His Health—Close Attention in the Sick Room Has Worn Greatly Upon His Nervous System—Mrs. Harrison Had Three Sinking Spells Yesterday, and Each Time It Was Thought the End Had Come—History of the Case—Mrs. Harrison's Life—Other Deaths in the Executive Mansion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The long vigil is over and Mrs. Harrison is numbered with the dead. She passed away at 1:40 this morning. The President was completely overcome.

She sank slowly from midnight, the change in the last two hours being more marked than at any time.

Her respiration, just before the end, had fallen to eight a minute, and the awakenings from the lethargic sleeps were at greater intervals and for briefer periods.

The President had been with her for an unbroken stretch of nine and a half hours.

All the members of the family were present at the bedside when the end came.

Shortly before noon Dr. Gardner reached the house and remained at the bedside of the patient until noon.

As he left, he stated that it seemed to him impossible that Mrs. Harrison could survive the day, and this statement was communicated to the members of the Cabinet who are not now on their way to Washington—Messrs. J. W. Foster, Charles Foster and Rusk.

The first named is in Indianapolis, the second in Chicago, and the last in Wisconsin.

The family were early gathered in the room adjacent to the sick chamber, and when informed that Mrs. Harrison's condition showed no unexpected change, repaired to the dining room.

MRS. BENJAMIN HARRISON.

After luncheon, the President returned to the bedside of his wife, from which he has been absent the last few days only long enough to obtain absolutely needed rest.

The other members of the family went on to the piazza at the south side of the house for a breath of fresh air.

When thus refreshed, the sad vigil which they have so long maintained was resumed.

During the morning there were rather more than the usual number of callers, who left their cards merely after receiving the answers to their inquiries.

Among them were many of the Diplomatic Corps, who have just returned to Washington from Chicago.

The visit by Baron Fava, Italian Minister, last Tuesday evening inquiring of Mrs. Harrison's condition in obedience to instructions from the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has already been noted, but it transpires that a week ago last Saturday Hon. Mr. Herbert, British Charge d'Affaires, presented the inquiries of Her Majesty Queen Victoria, to which formal response was made last week through the State Department.

A few of the callers, including Attorney-General Miller, visited the office portion of the building and had brief interviews with Private Secretary Halford.

At 1 o'clock Dr. Gardner paid a third visit to the White House. He remained but a few minutes, and as he left gave to a crowd of newspaper men the condition of Mrs. Harrison at that hour.

"She is gradually growing weaker, slipping away."

"What are the probabilities?"

"She is likely to pass away at any moment, and she may live five or six hours yet."

"Is she conscious?"

"Occasionally. She passes most of the time in heavy sleep, but arouses once in a while, when we moisten her lips with a stimulant."

"Does she come out of the sleep naturally, or is it the result of efforts by those about?"

"She arouses naturally, and is conscious. There is no coma in her condition. In cases of this kind, the patient generally dies of asthenia, diminution of the vital forces."

About 6 o'clock Private Secretary Halford said that Dr. Gardner had stated that Mrs. Harrison might live until 8 o'clock.

Shortly afterwards advices were received by wire at the White House that a story had originated in the West that Mrs. Harrison was dead. It gradually worked its way East and in a short time several telegrams of condolence were received. Mr. Montgomery, in charge of the telegraph department, immediately answered the messages to the effect that there was no truth in the story and its circulation was premature.

At 7 o'clock a message was received from John N. Scott, Mrs. Harrison's brother, stating that he would leave Fort Townsend, Washington, at once. The family has been endeavoring to reach Mr. Scott, who is Mrs. Hrrrison's only brother, since Saturday, but had been unable to locate him. He had been absent from home on business. It will be impossible for him to reach here before Friday or Saturday.

The President passed the entire day at the bedside of his wife. He did not enter the office portion of the building. In the morning, during the two hours when it seemed death was imminent, he stood over the bedside holding the hand of his stricken partner, and breath by breath they fought the invader back together, and won a few more hours of earthly companionship.

The result of the long strain upon the President is a matter of serious concern to his friends, but it is believed that he will be able to endure it with the same confidence and trust that has made him such a consoler to others in hours of their deepest distress.

A few minutes before 8 o'clock Dr. Gardner made his fifth visit of the day to the White House, and as that had been the probable hour fixed by him when a change would occur, his reappearance was anxiously awaited by the newspaper men gathered about the door.

In the meanwhile it was learned for the third time in the course of the day, that Mrs. Harrison was overcome by what it seemed must be a fatal nervous attack. Most of the family were at the supper table and were summoned thence to the sick room. The patient, however, again rallied, and entered upon the sleep that follows these incidents of the progress of the case.

At 11:30 o'clock Dr. Gardner told Mr. Halford that if Mrs. Harrison passed the midnight hour alive she might live until 4 o'clock in the morning. The patient's respiration was then scant 16 to the minute. Until it decreased to 10 a minute, Dr. Gardner said, there was no immediate danger of collapse.

In the course of the disease, he said, Mrs. Harrison's respiration had been as high as 45 or 50 a minute for brief intervals. At that time small quantities of phlegm had formed in the throat, but the air made its way through with less difficulty than may be imagined.

MRS. HARRISON'S ILLNESS.

She Inherited Consumption—A Gradual Decline Since Spring.

Mrs. Harrison, though apparently the embodiment of womanly strength and robust health, inherited on her mother's side the disease that has laid her low. The first appearance of the insidious disease in her own case dates back to an attack of the "grippe" two years ago. Soon after her return to Washington as wife of the President it began to be noticed that she was not apparently as strong physically or as well able to meet her social duties as she had shown herself to be during her husband's term as Senator.

In spite of the help she received from Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison in carrying on the duties of her arduous position, it was noticed that, although she had formerly been a very fair walker, she seldom set foot to the ground, and from being one of the most regular of churchgoers, she was seldom seen at the Church of the Covenant except in the sunniest weather.

In the winter of 1890-91 she had the "grippe." This pulled her down a great deal, but the trip made by her with the President to the Pacific coast, it was thought, had entirely restored her. She enjoyed every moment of it, and treasured all the souvenirs of travel with which she was inundated. These she arranged with much taste in the corners of the White House corridors up stairs.

About that time, also, she became much interested in the organization of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and consented to serve as the first president. Although she did not attempt much of the actual work of her place she gave it her warmest co-operation.

One of the last occasions on which she appeared in public was at an evening reception given on the 22d of February last to the members of the order, and to the Sons of the American Revolution.

In March last she was far from well, but as she had managed to go through the official round of entertainment without breaking down, she herself thought her indisposition only temporary. Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Russell Harrison had planned to give a grand lawn party on the White House grounds after Easter. Mrs. Harrison was enthusiastically in favor of it. She continued to hold her weekly receptions for her friends at 5 o'clock in the Blue Room.

It was at one of these informal little afternoons, early in April, that Mrs. Harrison felt the beginning of her illness. She asked her guests to excuse her, leaving Mrs. McKee to do the honors.

From that day Mrs. Harrison never was a well woman. She rallied somewhat in May, and then was taken that unfortunate trip down Chesapeake Bay, when the Government steamer on which she was, the Jessamine, was caught in a northeast storm and Mrs. Harrison suffered severely. Those who saw her leave the White House that day, almost carried in the President's arms, had grave doubts of her recovery. And from that on her disease seemed to progress rapidly.

When she was brought back from Fortress Monroe the true character of her disease became apparent to her physician and her intimate friends, though it was carefully concealed from the public and she was ordered to Loon Lake in the hope that the revivifying influences of the pine laden air might arrest the progress of the pulmonary trouble which the racking cough, night sweats and wasting strength only too plainly indicated.

It is too recent to need recapitulation how these hopes proved delusive, and at her own request she was carried back to her cheerful rooms at the White House.

SKETCH OF MRS. HARRISON.

A Model Wife and Mother—Her Life in the White House.

Carrie L. Harrison was the daughter of the Rev. John W. Scott, who at the time of her birth—in 1833—was professor at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and subsequently became president of the female college in the same town. At this college she became a student, and while there made the acquaintance of Benjamin Harrison, who subsequently became President. He was at that time studying at the Miami University.

The young couple became warmly attached to each other, and when Benjamin was 20—in 1853—they were married. Two children—Russell and Mamie S.—were the result of this marriage. Russell in time married a daughter of Senator Saunders, and became prominent in the politics of Montana Territory. Mamie married Mr. McKee, a tradesman in an Indianapolis boot and shoe house, and had two children—Benjamin Harrison McKee and Mary Lodge McKee. Russell also had one daughter—Martisser.

As a wife and mother Mrs. Harrison was worthy of all praise. During her husband's early troubles she helped him in many ways, and her wise counsel was often of great service to him. She reared and educated her children thoroughly and sensibly and made their home always attractive to them.

She was also a skilful housekeeper, and few women were more adept in the art of domestic economy.

Besides these admirable qualities, however, she had many others. She was an interesting and ready conversationalist, and became famous for her bon mots and repartees. She was a studious reader, but not of modern novels, the books which she preferred being of a graver, more thoughtful character.

To do good works was her delight, and she was for many years one of the managers of the Indianapolis Orphan Asylum.

Very pretty in her youth, Mrs. Harrison retained to the last almost all of her attractiveness. Her features were regular, her eyes bright and dark, and her hair dark brown and abundant. Especially beautiful were her hands, which were models for their shape and whiteness.

Mrs. Harrison lived so long in Washington, and her family were so much there as actual residents, that she was practically as much at home there as in Indianapolis.

In all the honors that came to her husband she remained just the same consistent, helpful woman that she was the first day they were married.

In the years of her absence from Washington her father, Dr. Scott, resided there with his daughter, Mrs. Russell F. Lord, who died nearly two years ago. Dr. Scott was for many years a clerk in the Pension Office, and resigned his position when his son-in-law became President. Their modest home was the rendezvous of all the Harrisons when they came to Washington, and when the family moved into the White House Dr. Scott and Mrs. Lord accompanied them.

WHITE HOUSE DEATHS.

But Two Presidents' Wives Have Passed Away There.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Harrison is the second President's wife who has died in the White House. And it is a strange coincidence that most of the deaths that have occurred within its walls were of persons connected more or less remotely, personally or politically, with the family of President Harrison.

The first death was that of President William Henry Harrison, which occurred on the morning of April 4, 1841, just one month after his inauguration. The President, on that occasion, went through the ceremonies bareheaded in the midst of a driving storm. On April 1 he was compelled to take to his bed and send for a physician. But the disease resisted all treatment, and at 12.30 o'clock on the morning of April 4 the President breathed his last.

Mrs. Letitia Tyler, first wife of President Tyler, who was elected Vice-President on the ticket with Gen. Harrison, and succeeded him as Chief Executive, died in the White House on the 10th of September the next year, 1842.

During her brief stay in the Executive Mansion, Mrs. Tyler was unable to discharge the duties of hostess, her place being taken first by Mrs. Robert Tyler, her son's wife, and later by Mrs. Semple, her daughter. Her funeral sermon was preached by Dr. Hawley and her body laid to rest in the family burying ground, New Kent county, Va.

The third death was that of President Zachary Taylor, who entered the White House March 4, 1849. He lived only until July 9, 1850. His death was the result of exposure on the 4th of July just previous, when he took part in the dedication of Washington's monument. The weather was exceedingly hot and the President drank freely of ice water and partook of a large quantity of fruit.

Immediately upon his return to the White House he was seized with an indisposition from which he never recovered, but which was not believed to be of a fatal or even serious nature on the morning of his death.

Willie Lincoln, second son of President Lincoln, died in the White House in February, 1862, when "Tad," the favorite son of the martyred President, lay seriously ill.

Mr. Lincoln said that the blow was the saddest experience of his life and the hardest to bear. Willie was 12 years old when he died.

Frederick F. Dent, father of Mrs. U. S. Grant, who was a member of the family from the time Gen. Grant entered the White House, died there on December 15, 1873.

Zimmerman Denies a Match.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The statement that a match had been arranged between Bicyclist Zimmerman of New York and Sanger of Milwaukee, for $10,000 a side, is denied by Zimmerman. He is willing to meet Sanger, however, if the latter's friends are willing to back him.

Killed a Bank Robber.

FREMONT, Neb., Oct. 25.—At 3 a. m. the night watchman detected a man trying to blow open the safe of the First National Bank. The watchman shot the robber through the head, killing him instantly. The dead man is unknown in this locality.

THE READING DISASTER

Mystery Surrounds the Cause of the Wreck.

RESPONSIBLE PARTY NOT KNOWN.

The Dead Number Seven, Two Are Fatally Hurt, and More Than Twenty Are Injured, Some Seriously—Coroner's Inquest to be Held at Norristown.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—There is considerable mystery connected with the awful disaster of yesterday on the Reading railroad near the West Manayunk tunnel. General Superintendent Bonzano says that the train despatcher at Pencoyd had been notified to give the freight train orders to wait there until the south-bound express had passed. The freight did wait at Pencoyd until the accommodation had passed, as was the usual custom, but then pulled out.

Whether or not the train despatcher delivered the order for the freight to wait for the express is not known, but it is thought he did not. The Sunday rush of coal trains had blocked the south-bound track, and all trains were running over the north-bound track.

The coroner's jury, which will begin the inquest at Norristown, as soon as matters can be arranged, will fix the responsibility, and until then it is believed the person responsible will not be directly known.

A correct list of the dead is:

BOYNTON, JAMES T., 30 years old, Reading.

DEVINE, MARGARET, 60 years, Minersville.

HERR, DAVID S., 59 years, of Harrisburg, member of the Legislature from Dauphin county, and a Republican candidate for re-election from the Harrisburg district.

KILBAIN, JABOB, 36 years, of Tamaqua, fireman on freight train.

STIEFF, JOHN, aged 16, newsboy, Reading.

UNKNOWN WOMAN, 21 years old, supposed to be Annie Atkinson, of Minersville.

WELCH, THOMAS, 36 years, Auburn, Pa., fireman on express.

The fatally injured are:

Thomas Fitzpatrick, Auburn, Pa., engineer of express; fractured skull and concussion of the brain; at St. Timothy's hospital.

S. D. Rhodes, Phœnixville; jaw fractured and concussion of brain.

The injured, who were taken to St. Timothy's Hospital, Roxborough, are:

William H. Becker, aged 32, Pottstown, Pa., leg broken.

Joseph E. Burfield, 29, Renova, Pa., scalp lacerated.

James H. Chillson, 27, Reading, contused leg and lacerated head.

M. D. Cowden, 40, Harrisburg, contused leg.

Ella Devine, 27, Philadelphia, laxation of thigh.

Wm. H. Embrey, 33, Reading, lacerated scalp, wound severe.

J. Clayton Epler, baggageman, Pottsville, 27, concussion of skull, face cut.

Hiram Gottschild, 42, Reading, compound fracture of both legs, right leg amputated.

Rev. Charles Hare, 31, Phœnixville, ankle sprained.

William Halsey, 36, Allentown, leg crushed.

Annie Kemp, 33, Hamburg, Pa., leg fractured.

Moritz G. Leppert, Phœnixville, both legs broken.

Mrs. Leppert, 52, wife of the above, leg broken.

A. C. Printz, 27, Reading, conductor of express train, fractured thigh.

Mary E. Prettyman, 26, Pottstown, contusion of ankle.

Annie K. Sides, 45, Reading, broken leg.

Mrs. Mary Tees, 50, Valley Forge, leg fractured.

Dr. Joseph E. Wright, 30, Phœnixville, both legs crushed.

John E. Wyncoop, Port Kennedy, hand crushed, afterward amputated.

Other injured were brought to this city and cared for.

The horrible occurrence is told in detail as follows:

The wreck of the Shamokin express three-quarters of a mile north of the West Manayunk tunnel, with its attendant list of dead and wounded, the burning of cars, the hours and hours of pain and suffering to which the injured and imprisoned passengers were subjected, together with the details of the unceasing labor of the rescuers in the face of almost overwhelming difficulties makes a most appalling tale, the like of which this vicinity has not known for years.

The express train which left Shamokin at 5 o'clock in the morning was composed of an engine, a baggage car, smoking car, four day coaches and the Pullman parlor car "Crestaline" the latter being attached at Reading. It was from Harrisburg. A singular fact is that all of the parlor car occupants escaped injury.

Thomas Fitzpatrick was at the lever of the express and Thomas Welsh was the fireman. Harry C. Printz was the conductor.

Owing to the accumulation of freight and coal trains on the south-bound track, Conductor Printz had received orders to take the north-bound track from West Conshohocken to West Falls, and ignorant of any impending danger he did so and the train rushed along at the rate of about forty miles an hour.

At Pencoyd, a train made up of empty coal and freight cars drawn by engine No. 538, and manned by Engineer Chas. Sellig and Fireman Bernard Gallagher, remained on a side track until the accommodation had passed, and then, in accordance with its usual custom, pulled out for Bridgeport at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

As the freight emerged from the West Manayunk tunnel the express was little more than a mile away, and the trains were rushing toward one another on the same track, their combined speed being 45 miles on hour.

At a point directly opposite Shawmount, which is on the other side of the Schuylkill river, the railroad makes a wide curve around the base of a steep hill, which seems to hang suspended over the track.

Just before the express rounded the curve and came in sight of this spot, the engineer sounded his whistle, and a moment later, as the train dashed around the turn, an answering scream of alarm sounded from the freight, which now came full upon the sight of the engineer and fireman on the express. The trains came together with fearful force.

The wreck took fire, but the flames were extinguished by the Manayunk fire department.

The south-bound track was cleared by afternoon, but the north-bound track was blocked all day.

Conductor George W. Hamilton of the express stated that he had orders that the track was clear from Conshohocken to West Falls.

The empty coal cars burned freely as they were piled up one above the other.

Brakeman Kilrain was 23 years of age. He was single, but supported his mother and two other relatives.

The coolest man in the wreck was Dr. Wright. He was wedged in by the seats and although suffering from broken bones, he coolly gave directions to those who were trying to extricate him.

There were several narrow escapes.

Rev J. Madison Kane of the First Baptist Church of Phoenixville escaped uninjured although two people in front of him were killed.

J. H. Furnam of 2500 North Twelfth street and Bert Hagenbuch of Mahaney City had just left the smoker and taken seats in the rear car.

The man who took Furnam's seat was killed and the man who took Hagenbuch's seat was badly injured.

Joseph W. Erwin and Col. Williams, L. Durant of Coffeyville, W. T. Torrel, assistant master car builder of the Reading railroad, and William Scratchord of Germantown were among the passengers who escaped injury.

Superintendent Whiteame of the main line was in his observation car "Ariel" when the crash came and gave personal attention to relieving the distressed.

PECK'S CASE AGAIN ADJOURNED.

The Prosecutor Was Late and the Judge Had Dismissed the Charge.

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—When the criminal charge against Charles F. Peck came up in the police court yesterday, counsel prosecuting did not appear and Mr. Meegan of the counsel for the defense asked that the charge be dismissed.

The request was accorded to, but later Mr. Chase, as prosecuting attorney, asked that instead of dismissing the case, it be put over until the week after election. Justice Guttman then made his decision in accordance with Mr. Chase's wishes.

This is the sixth postponement that the Peck case has had in the various courts.

When Mr. Meegan heard of this change he hurried back to court and made objection. The police justice then sent for Mr. Chase and there was a united spirited argument. Mr. Meegan argued that the case was already before the upper court, the Grand Jury having found an indictment. This was a superfluous movement and he moved to dismiss because two indictments of a similar nature could not be found. The District Attorney had said that the case should be dismissed.

Mr. Chase said that it was not known what the indictment of the Grand Jury contained.

Mr. Meegan said that if it was so he would subpœna the District-Attorney to tell.

Mr. Chase did not answer this argument and the Court finally adjourned the case.

Beri Beri Not Fatal Here.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 25.—The seamen from the bark H. P. Cann, who were put ashore here last week suffering from the Japanese disease beri beri, have been discharged from St. Vincent's Hospital as cured and have left the city. Dr. Vanderslice of the hospital staff, speaking of the disease, said it was a dangerous one in countries where the conditions were such as to favor it, but that the conditions which would make it dangerous here do not exist at this time.

Child Roasted in a Bonfire.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Honora Jackson, five years old, met death in a horrible manner here. She went out into the yard of her residence to play shortly before dinner time, when a bonfire in an adjoining yard attracted her attention. She climbed the fence to view it, lost her balance, and fell headlong into the flames. She was literally roasted to death before her body could be taken from the flames.

Mr. Cleveland Will Not Speak.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Mr. Cleveland has written to the Business Men's Democratic association declining to speak at the meeting announced to be held at Madison Square garden on Oct. 29. Mr. Cleveland's reasons for this action are based on the conclusion that his presence would attract many Democrats on the last day of registration, and consequently lose the party many votes.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Wednesday: For New Jersey, Fair; Stationary Temperature; Northwesterly Winds.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Joseph Pike of this city has 112 votes in the New York Recorder's contest for the most popular wheelman in America.

—There will be a grand pool and billiard exhibition by Jos. Gerstel and pard, to-morrow, at Krewson's billiard parlor, 25 West Front street.

—The Philharmonic concerts are to be held this season, as usual, in the Casino, and not in Music Hall. The Choral concerts will be held in the latter place.

—A mere handful of Republicans heard S. W. Reese of Westfield speak for "Protection" in Spencer's Hall last evening. There was a painful lack of enthusiasm.

—A source of attraction and gratification for those seeking fine edibles in the line of delicatessen and lunch is "The Dairy", kept by Mrs. M. G. Laning at 44 West Front street.

—A PRESS representative saw a sight most unusual at this season of the year, Sunday—that of an apple tree in full bloom. The tree was on the farm of William W. TenEyck, in Piscataway.

—A. D. Mallison is a public benefactor. He has lighted up a hitherto dark section of North avenue by a bright electric lamp in front of his store, placed there and kept burning at his own expense.

—For a year the Plainfield Crescents have held high-record score of 1446 on the Arthur Kull club's alleys. Last Saturday night the Elizabeth Field club bowled a total of 1534 in a ten-men team contest.

—T. J. Cahill, assistant superintendent of the Prudential Insurance company in Plainfield, has had a successful operation performed on his eye by a Philadelphia specialist, after three years of suffering.

—The Plainfield local union of the Christian Endeavor societies will give an entertainment in the Seventh-Day church, Thursday evening, Nov. 3. Miss Lulu Raymond, elocutionist, will be the star.

—White & VanAredale are offering very liberal inducements throughout every department. Their system of doing business is, buying for spot cash and selling for cash, giving their customers every benefit possible.

—The North Plainfield Republican banner has been hauled in since Sunday. Maybe the party's afraid of the wind, but, if so, how will they stand the blow of two weeks from to-day? If it 's hauled in for repairs, all right! That's an example the Democrats this side of the brook should follow with their banner.

—Every rider of a wheel, at least, should take advantage of the opportunity offered from Thursday of this week till Wednesday, Nov. 9, to see the magnificent exhibition of chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and orchids at Pitcher & Manda's nurseries, Short Hills. Everyone is welcome, the roads are fine and the show gorgeous.

—Through inadvertence, an unseasonable advertisement concerning iced tea has been running along in another column, for Neuman Bros. That enterprising grocery firm is nothing if not up to the times, and just now they are running cold-weather specialties, instead of goods for the heated team. Call at their Broadway store, and you'll find everything you want for your household, in the way of fine groceries, fruits and vegetables.

PARK AVENUE'S NEW PASTOR.

He Is a Native of Boston, and Has a Most Excellent Record.

The Rev. J. W. Richardson, the new pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church in this city, will be installed over his new charge next month. Formal "recognition services" of the new pastorate will be held in the Park Avenue edifice some time during November, when the Rev. D. C. Eddy, D. D., president of the Long Island Baptist association, will preach the installation sermon.

The Rev. Mr. Richardson is well known throughout his denomination. From the "Centennial Volume", published by the Masonic Grand Lodge of Connecticut, for which the clergyman had the honor of delivering the oration on the one-hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Lodge in Connecticut, the following partial sketch is taken:

"After the usual preparatory studies for the ministry in Boston, where the Rev. Mr. Richardson was born, he was ordained at Mystic, Conn., in Dec. 1880, and entered at once into a very successful career in the ministry, occupying some of the most important pulpits in the denomination of which he is a member. For three years he was stationed at Waterbury, Conn., during which time nearly two hundred and fifty united with the church.

"Resigning on account of ill health, he accepted an unanimous call to the Stamford, Conn., Baptist church. During a pastorate of four years, over two hundred additions were made to the church."

The Christian Inquirer, one of the leading denominational papers published in New York, says:

"The Rev. J. W. Richardson, of the Centennial Baptist church, in Adelphi street, has been called to the pulpit of the Park Avenue Baptist church, Plainfield, N. J. Although but a short time in the city, he has proved himself so able and acceptable a preacher that there will be general regret should he leave Brooklyn."

SWELLING THE LIST.

Another Prominent and Influential Republican Comes Out for Cleveland.

Christian Schepflin, successor to the long-established firm of Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co., the well-known manufacturers, doing a large business in both Plainfield and New York, has always been a stanch Republican, but has now come out with all his influence for Cleveland and Stevenson, and authorizes the making of this statement through the Hon. J. W. Yates to THE PRESS and the public.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Dr. Joseph E. Wright, a physician well known in this city, and formerly of Somerville, had both his legs broken in the Reading railroad smash-up yesterday morning.

The Rev. Stevenson Fails to Draw.

There were just thirteen people at the Casino last night to witness the jubilee concert of the Fowler concert company and hear the lecture of the Rev. Dr. J. W. Stevenson. The lecturer and his troupe were an hour late, but went serenely on with the show before the handful of people. The payment of the newspaper bills took every cent the troupe had. The Country club is out the rent of the Casino, and had to take up a collection among the members to pay the stranded company's hack hire and car fare out of town.

Education at the Boys' Club.

A class in reading was started last evening at the Boys' club through the kindness of the Misses Lewis, Hughes, Dowd and Smith from the Y. W. C. T. U. They have taken this work for the winter. Clarence Titsworth has taken a class in scroll-sawing for the winter. There are at present four evenings devoted to scroll-saw work, two to reading, two to writing, and one to singing.

Sinks Itself for Seven Cents.

The Courier has started in to rival the New York Herald's famous "personal" column, as follows:

This new departnre is one of untold interest and possibility, and will no doubt be hailed with joy by a certain class of our citizens. Thus at a cent a word, such assignations can be made through the Courier for seven cents.

—Tickets are now on sale for Hoyt's "Hole in the Ground".

—Republican documents are now inserted in periodicals in the local mail.

—Young men who desire to study short-hand at the Y. M. C. A. should apply at the rooms this evening.

—No one has identified the body found along the Jersey Central tracks near Graceland, and it will be interred in Potter's Field.

Although many remedies are pushed into the market by spicy advertisements, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup still takes the lead.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease, Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. WORK OF UNION'S GRAND JURY.

Thirty Indictments and a Presentment About Selling Liquor Sunday.

The Union county grand jury finished its labors yesterday for the October term and came into court with thirty indictments out of the 185 cases considered.

The grand jury indicted for murder Honce Caterno, Charles Primeo, Angelo Vetula, Frank Micko, Antonio Jacquitino and Jacob Jacquitino. They are charged with the killing of Patrick Kiely on the night of Sept. 25. The prisoners pleaded not guilty. William Lautch was indicted for manslaughter. He shot John Sable, by accident, he claims.

The jury brought in a presentment against the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sunday in Elizabeth and other parts of the county and called upon the authorities to enforce the law against Sunday violations. The jury has indicted several saloon-keepers for illegal selling.

Good Foot-Ball By Local Players.

All that Leal's school foot-ball team needs is a little practice, and they will be invincible in their class. Lack of practice is all that lost them the game with the Brooklyn Latin school, Saturday. The game was a fine one, and the score was only 8 to 0. The visitors scored one touchdown in each half. Their interference was particularly good. The Leals lined up as follows: VanVliet, center; Brown, right guard; Thomas, right tackle; Henderson, right end; Peck, left guard; Abbott, left tackle; Schoonmaker, left end; McGee, quarter back; Simmonds, right half back; Atwood, left half back: Ryder, full back.

The Leals are to play other good games on the Crescent grounds, that will be duly announced.

New Jersey Baptists' State Convention.

The Baptist denomination of this State meet in their sixty-third anniversary today and to-morrow at East Orange. At their last gathering they reported 40,732 members in 225 churches, showing a valuation of church property a little over $3 500,000.

Representatives from the First, Park Avenue and Mt. Olive churches, of this city, are in attendance.

One of Hoyt's Successes Here.

"A Hole in the Ground", with Frank Lawton in his original character as the station agent and all the other good people in the cast, will appear at Music Hall, Thursday evening. Barry Maxwell as the umpire, Virginia Earl as the lunch girl, and Margaret May as the telegraph operator introduce a number of interesting specialties. It is the companion piece to "A Trip to Chinatown".

Can be counted on to cure Catarrh—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's nothing new. For 25 years it has been doing that very thing. It gives prompt and complete relief—but you want more than that. And you get it, with this Remedy—there's a cure that is perfect and permanent. The worst chronic cases, no matter of how long standing, yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. "Cold in the Head" needs but a few applications. Catarrhal Headache, and all the troubles that come from Catarrh, are at once relieved and cured.

You can count on something else, too—$500 in cash.

You can count on it, but it's more than doubtful whether you earn it.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, in good faith, offer that amount for an incurable case of Catarrh. Don't think that you have one, though. They'll pay you, if they can't cure you. That's certain.

But they can cure you. That's just about as certain, too. Can you ask more?

FIRST WARD GRIEVANCES.

No Fire Protection, No Water, No Nothing, But Foul Odors from the Gravel Pit.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I have been reading an article in a recent issue of the Courier, purporting to be the grievances of a number of property-holders livin in the western part of our city. It was with some surprise I read of the various complaints made by the various parties interviewed, who seem to be so terribly oppressed by the tax levy for "fire protection"; simply that alone is the heavy burden they groan under. What selfish mortals they be, to object to contribute a few cents to give protection to the majority, of their fellow-citizens, even though lacking it themselves. They should be glad they are allowed to exist without being taxed for it. I read of one who claims that the nearest fire hydrant is 2,000 feet distant. Oh, happy man, to be so close to water while in my neighborhood at Netherwood, even our wells have been taken from us and some of our houses are from 4,000 to 5,000 feet from any hydrant. How does that strike our west-enders? And as for a fire-alarm box,—beyond Richmond street it is almost as good as the old days when the boys used to "run wid de machine"—only now we have to run to the fire box (a mile away) instead of to the fire. We have also to contend with the vile odors that emanate from the pest-hole of Plainfield, the gravel pits, and gently assail our olfactory senses so strongly, spreading sickness and disease in our midst. And since the city fathers have placed a watch upon the scavangers they now dump night-soil and other refuse on Jackson, Johnston and Midway avenues. We here are unlike the west end, inasmuch as they are privileged with living on streets owned and cared for by the city, while many of us here live on unopened and uncared-for streets, and yet we are paying our quota of taxes for the benefit of the other wards of the city, and still we murmur not. How blessed ye are, and know it not! Come to our end the first ward and there you can kick. You have mail delivered to your house. What would you do if you lived at this end—no mail delivery here, and still although we live in "free delivery Plainfield" there is none delivered to us, nor is there a letter box any where near, and last but not by any means the least you are blessed with an abundant supply of water, while we are deprived of our water by an octupus that will in time be a serious and lamentable source of trouble to many if not all users of driven wells, the Water company. Their wells are so much deeper than people generally sink, that our wells must as a natural law of gravity give way before the continuous drain upon the wells in a lower stratum or water vein; and a propos of this I read the other evening how a representative of the Water company stated that there was no perceptable decrease in the flow of water in their wells; why, then, was it that they sunk their pumps six feet lower then they were originally? Can he explain? To the people who at present seem to be so very much exercised about the unjust tax, I would say look into our grievances and you will find you are not so badly situated as you imagine, and in the natural course of events take it all as it comes and with the Turk say "Kismet, Allah be Praised! I yet live!" N.

Jimmy Won the Match.

There was an interesting shooting match at live pigeons at Bound Brook, yesterday, on fine meadow grounds opposite the Middlebrook Hotel. The match was between James H. Force, proprietor of the Mansion House, at Bound Brook, and an old and esteemed resident, John D. Voorhees, of the same borough. Both parties had agreed to a live pigeon match at 20 birds a side, Hurlingham rules to govern, $50 a side. There was much interest manifested in the match by friends of both. Mr. Voorhees is a man of over 82 years of age, and has been a great pigeon shot in his day, and is to-day a no mean opponent to a great many younger shooters, while his adversary of yesterday has turned the shady side of 53. There was a large attendance of shooters present to witness the match, and after all the preliminaries had been arranged the contestants stepped to the score under the following conditions—J. H. Force at 28 yards rise and John D. Voorhees 30 yards rise, with 50 yards boundary. Henry Pound pulled the traps which were five in number, and "J. A. P." acted as referee and judge. The result of the contest was as follows, the figure 1 denoting the kill with the first barrel and the figure 2 the second barrel. The 0 of course tells the story about who lost the match:

J. H. Force..2220212022201212220020-14
J. D. Voorhees..2202201022101000212-11

A considerable amount of money changed hands on the result of the match, but the best of feeling prevailed, and after the same was over there were interesting sweepstake matches in which Plainfield's "Dutchy" (Charley Smith) came out ahead as usual. A fine collation was served at the Middlebrook Hotel, conducted by L. Fisher, and everyone returned to their homes well pleased with the pleasures of the day. If Bound Brook thinks it can furnish shooters to beat Plainfield, why let them send in their challenge,

A Scheme First Told of by THE PRESS Months Ago.

A Philadelphia despatch says: "A plan to light by electricity the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Broad Street station and Byrn Mawr, on the main line, and between Frankford and Broad street, on the New York division, is under consideration. If the project is carried out there will be practically no further use for headlights on the locomotives running between these points, and should the line of electric lights be continued all the way to New York, which is not improbable, the entire roadway will be as light as day at all times."

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me." —Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

I was so much troubled with catarrh it seriously affected my voice. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm did the work. My voice is fully restored.—Rev. F. Lindner, A. M., pastor of the Olivet Baptist church, Philadelphia, Pa.

ALCOHOL AND BLACK PEPPER.

That is the Regular Beverage of the Raritan Italian, and Somerville's Streets are Therefore Dangerous Places.

Victor LaCallabo, an Italian living in Raritan, marched with the other members of his society in the two parades which were held in Raritan and Bound Brook, last Friday, in celebration of Columbus. Then his presence was not such that anyone would pick him out from the rest of his illiterate associates; now he is a marked man!

Going to Raritan in the evening he wound up the day by getting gloriously full, after which he started on the war path intent upon doing some deed of violence. The main street between Somerville and Raritan is lonely after nightfall, although street lamps occasionally illuminate th darkness. Two respectable young men living in Raritan, were going home that night about 12, when they were set upon by LaCallabo and roundly abused. Upon their remonstrating with him, he drew a knife and attempted to assault them. They ran back to Somerville and meeting officer Manning Crow on the street persuaded him to go with them to their homes. When half way to Raritan they met a young fellow named Meehan who said he had passed the man just up the street and had been cursed by him. At hearing this officer Crow redoubled his speed and soon caught up with the Italian.

He was recognized by the two young men as being their assailant, although he claimed not to understand what they were talking about. After a short struggle Crow put the nippers on him and lodged him in the Somerville jail. An ugly looking knife with a blade fully a foot long was found in his possession. There is scarcely a week passes that some one of these importations does not attempt violence of this sort. But is it any wonder?

In Prosecutor W. V. Steele's office in Somerville is a bottle one-third full of a liquor which was purchased in Raritan of an Italian who was indicted some months ago for illegal selling of rum. The contents of the bottle were used as evidence against the man. An analysis proved that the mixture was nothing but crude alcohol plentifully sprinkled with black pepper, the use of which would drive the sanest man into a state of mad delirium.

FORGED BILLS OF LADING.

New Judgments for Over $130,000 Are Rendered Against the Firm of Which John F. Wiechers of This City is a Member.

Two big judgments were rendered in the Union county court at Elizabeth yesterday morning by Judge VanSyckle against the defunct firm of Field, Lindley, Wiechers & Co., of New York. Edward M. Field of the old firm forged bills of lading and then sold them to the firm of Percival, Knauth & Co., bankers and dealers in exchange. One bill represented that Field had 40,000 bushels of wheat on board the ship Dolga and 75,000 bushels on board the ship Triumph, both consigned to European ports.

Field alleged the ships were in New York Harbor ready to sail, while in reality the Dolga was in China and the Triumph in South America, and Field did not have a bushel of wheat on either craft. Although the forgeries were individual acts of Field, the money he raised on the bills of lading were used by him to defray certain indebtedness of his firm, and hence the suit against his partners as well as himself.

Ex-Senator Edwards, of Hudson, represented the plaintiffs, and R. V. Lindabury the defendants. The suits were tried without a jury. Judge VanSyckel rendered a verdict for $48,580.15 on one suit and $81,729.78 on the other, making a total judgement against the defendants of $130,309.94.

To Elevate the Pennsy's Tracks.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will next Sunday begin to run its trains through Elizabeth on two tracks, in order to give an opportunity of elevating the other two tracks, as announced would be done some time ago.

The work of elevating the two tracks will be rapidly done, as it is said that with the force of men that will be put to work a half a mile of trestle can be raised in a day. Trains will be running on the elevation on January 1, 1893.

The company hope to secure permission to elevate the tracks through Newark also. The tracks have already been elevated in Jersey City.

TEN DOLLARS AND COSTS.

That's what a Somerville Butcher Paid for Tying Calves by the Legs.

On Sept. 22, Cornelius N. Dumont, agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, made complaint before Arthur P. Sutphen, a justice of the peace, that Edward Kinsey, a Somerville butcher had violated the 17th section of the act concerning cruelty to animals. The complaint set forth that on or about the above mentioned day, Kinsey had brought to Somerville in his wagon three calves whose legs were tied together in a most cruel and inhuman manner.

The only defense set up by Kinsey was that all butchers did this and he did not think it was cruel. As this was the first complaint, justice Sutphen imposed a fine of $10 and costs on Kinsey with the warning that upon a repetition of this offense by anyone he would impose the maximum penalty, which is $100.

COL. TOLLIVER SHOT DEAD.

Revival of the Old Kentucky Feud—Battle Expected Shortly.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 25.—A telegram received here says the Tolliver-Howard feud has broken out in Western Kentucky with fatal results. A general fight occurred last night between the two factions.

Col. Tolliver was shot in the breast and instantly killed. Wylie Tolliver was shot in the bowels and Sam Howard received four rifle balls in his body. Both of the men will die. Their relatives and friends are arming and a battle is shortly expected.

This feud has been slumbering for two years, ever since Capt. Hank Tolliver married the widow of one of the Howards he had killed, and everybody thought the troubles ended by the marriage.

The feud has already resulted in more than fifty deaths.

BOSTON'S CHAMPIONS.

They Win the Deciding Game from the Cleveland Nine.

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—Although there was a strong, cold easterly wind blowing, a big crowd went out to see what bid fair to be the final game in the championship series between Boston and Cleveland. The Bostons had demonstrated pretty thoroughly that they were entirely to rapid for the Clevelands.

The Hubbites captured four straight games, and only needed yesterday's game to become the world's champions. The series called for five games out of nine. The first game was a tie and the others have all been Boston first and Clevelaud nowhere.

The score was 8 to 3.

A Boy Accidentally Shoots Himself.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Oct. 25.—A shocking accident occurred at Stony Hill, a mountain village back of Plainfield, yesterday. John Singer, 16-years-old, was shooting with a shot gun at a large hawk which had been despoiling his father's hennery. The gun exploded and the fragments of the shattered breach tore away the front of his skull, leaving the brain bare. The boy is in a dying condition.

Murderer Webster in Sing Sing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Burton C. Webster, convicted of manslaughter in having shot and killed Broker Charles Goodwin, and whose application to be released on bail pending a decision in his appeal for a new trial was denied yesterday, has been taken to Sing Sing to serve his sentence of nineteen years' imprisonment.

Held for Illegal Registration.

ALBANY, Oct. 25.—The cases of George Sullivan, Fred Shepard, Charles Maly, John White, and William Flannigan, arrested for illegal registration, came up before United States Commissioners Meade and Frothingham and Sullivan and the others were held in $1,000 each for the Auburn Term, Nov. 15.

Wreck on the St. Paul.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 25.—A disastrous railroad wreck occurred on the Milwaukee & Northern branch of the St. Paul railroad near Piedmont, sixty miles north of this city at 10:55 a. m., resulting in the death of two men and the injuring of half a dozen more, some of whom are likely to die.

Rotten Egged the Speakers.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 25.—Captain R. F. Kolb, candidate for Governor, met with his first outrage upon the stump Saturday. He and S. S. Booth, Fusion candidate for elector in the 5th district attempted to speak at Gordon, Henry County, and were rotten egged by a dozen or more persons who declared they should not speak. Capt. Kolb after talking 15 or 20 minutes, left the stand and Major Booth, who afterward tried to speak was hit in the back with a rotten egg. This broke the meeting up.

Seven Killed at Columbia, Wash.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 25.—While a large force of men were engaged in laying tracks across the false work of the big second bridge west of Columbia, the entire structure gave way, dashing them upon the rocks below, crushing a number of workmen out of all human resemblance. Seven were killed.

Stormy Weather on the Atlantic.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Guion steamship Alaska, from New York on October 15 for Liverpool, has just arrived in Queenstown after a terrible passage. The weather in crossing was terrific. It is said that the storm has hindered the passage of all vessels now on the ocean.

WISCONSIN POLITICS.

The Republican and Democratic Candidates for Governor.

Both Parties Have Nominated Good Tickets and Are Conducting a Vigorous Campaign—George W. Peck and John C. Spooner.

The election for choosing state officers in Wisconsin occurs every two years, and is held on November 8. The present state officials, says the Chicago Graphic, are all democrats, and the legislature is democratic on joint ballot by thirty-five. The state has been considered one of the strongholds of the republican party, and the present chief executive is the second democrat elected within the past quarter of a century. In 1873, the issue made over the Potter railroad law resulted in the election of Gov. Taylor, who served for only one term, when the republicans again came into power, which they continued to hold absolute until 1890. In the elections of that year the democrats carried everything before them, the plurality of the gubernatorial candidate being 28,320.

The vote at the presidential election in 1888 gave the republicans a plurality of 21,321. The scattering vote for president in that year was 14,277 for Fisk, the prohibition candidate; and 8,522 for Streeter, the union labor candidate.

The election of a democratic legislature resulted in the selection of William F. Vilas to succeed John C. Spooner,

EX-SENATOR JOHN C. SPOONER.

the present candidate on the republican ticket for governor, in the United States senate. The legislature which will be elected in November will choose a successor to Senator Philetus Sawyer, whose term of office expires March 3, 1893. Senator Sawyer is desirous of re-election and will be especially active in the campaign.

The fight now in progress is a spirited one. The democrats have renominated entire the ticket of 1890, headed by Gov. Peck, and the republicans have placed in the field what is conceded to be a strong ticket, at the head of which is ex-United States Senator Spooner.

John C. Spooner, the republican nominee for governor, was born at Lawrenceburgh, Ind., January 6, 1843, and went to Wisconsin in 1859. He studied in the Wisconsin state university, from which he graduated in 1864. He entered the union army as a private, and was breveted major at the close of his service. Admitted to the bar in 1867, he served as assistant attorney general of the state until 1870. In 1872 he was elected to the assembly, and in 1885 was chosen to the United States senate, succeeding Senator Angus Cameron, his term of office expiring March 3, 1891. Mr. Spooner is a member of the board of regents of the Wisconsin university, and has taken a lively interest in educational matters.

George W. Peck, the present governor, and the democratic nominee for re-election, was born in Jefferson county, New York, September 28, 1840, his family removing to Wisconsin three years later. He attended the common schools until fifteen years old, when he learned the printer's trade. In 1861 he became a newspaper proprietor, but later entered the army and served till the close of the war. After a three years' journalistic career in New York city he returned to Wisconsin, and shortly afterward started the paper which not only brought him a comfortable fortune, but made his name a household word. Being personally popular, Mr. Peck had the good fortune to be named for office at a time when the Bennett school law was a prominent issue. He is an ardent Cleveland man, and is said to fully indorse the ex-president's views upon all leading questions.

Ice Made with Gas.

A Canadian living at International Bridge, Ont., makes a remarkable announcement. He has discovered a method of making artificial ice by the use of common illuminating gas. After use the gas may be returned to the mains, uninjured as far as its illuminating qualities are concerned, not being deteriorated in the least. Experiments made at the gas plant at International Bridge gave a temperature of eighty degrees below zero—this with the use of gas and water alone—no chemicals of any kind having been added to the solution.

The Deepest Water.

The deepest soundings ever taken in the Pacific ocean or, in fact, any place on the globe, were made in the vicinity of the Ladrone islands, where the depth was found to be 26,850 feet or about five miles.

Health in Old Age.

Edward Collinson, Queens, N. Y., says: "I commenced using BRANDRETH'S PILLS over fifty-five years ago. I first bought them in London, and have continued using them since I came to this country in 1836. I am now over seventy-five years old, hale and hearty, and attribute my wonderful health to the persistant use of BRANDRETH'S PILLS. Occasionally I have a bad cold or severe attack of rheumatism, indigestion or billousness, but four or five doses of BRANDRETH'S PILLS always cure me. If my children have been sick with scarlet fever, measles, acid stomach, disordered digestion, or costiveness a few dose of BRANDRETH'S PILLS restored their health at once."

STARTLING!

This Has No Uncertain Sound.

What Does This Mean To Our People?

It Rings With a Great and Grand Hope.

Something Thousands Are Seeking For.

A Fact of Marvellous Import To All.

NEWBURG, N. Y.—A telegraphic dispatch from Newburg, N. Y., reveals the fact that a most marvellous change has taken place in the person of one of its oldest and best known citizens. H. S. Shorter, Esq., is an old man of 75 years, and lives at 391 Broadway, Newburg, N. Y. It appears that Mr. Shorter, who was an extensive lumber dealer, began to grow languid, got tired easily, was nervous and debilitated, until at last he became so weak and exhausted that he was just able to drag himself around. He lost flesh and strength so rapidly and became so alarmingly prostrated that his friends and relatives despaired of his life.

Now came the marvellous change.

Suddenly Mr. Shorter was transformed from his condition of extreme weakness to one of strength; his nerves grew quickly strong and steady, his muscles became vigorous, his blood was revivified and enriched, he gained 15 pounds in weight and to-day is in sound and perfect health.

Such a remarkable transformation in a man of his age was a nine days' wonder.

Of course the cause was eagerly looked for.

Your correspondent, determined to know the truth for the paper's readers, listened to the following astonishing facts from Mr. Shorter's own lips:

"I feel now like a new man!

"What do you think of taking an old man of 75 years, physically weak and broken down, and making him feel like a boy again! giving him new life, health and strength, and adding 15 pounds of solid flesh to his weak and debilitated frame!

"And all in two months, with three bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy! Well, that is just what has taken place in me; instead of being weak, debilitated and exhausted, just able to drag myself around, I feel now like a new man!

"I advise all to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy!"

Surely this wonderful remedy is a most marvellous health restorer, and, without doubt, the greatest medical discovery of the age.

If it can thus give back health and strength to an old man, weakened and exhausted by disease, how much more surely and certainly will it cure the thousands who are run down, weak, nervous and prostrated, who suffer from poor blood, weak nerves, dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, malaria, kidney and liver complaints, etc. For debility it is a speedy restorer of strength and vigor. If you are run down in health and need a medicine to strengthen the nerves, invigorate the blood, tone up the stomach and regulate the bowels, kidneys and liver, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which is purely vegetable and harmless, and is the best remedy known in the world.

Use it, for it will restore your health and strength. You can get it at any druggists for $1.

It is the discovery and prescription of the well-known and successful physician, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th street, New York, the eminent specialist in the cure of nervous and chronic diseases, who can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

BOOKCASE DRAPERY.

How to Make One That Will Please Those Who Use It.

A bookcase drapery of almost any goods is more eloquent and beautiful if it bears a motto artistically embroidered; or the letters might be painted in dyes and outlined in gold thread. A suitable curtain would be of silk mail cloth, velours, but some soft drapery goods would be prettier; such goods as Yokohama silk or some soft, self-colored twilled silk. Embroider or paint the motto first and then line the curtain and suspend it by rings from a pole at the top shelf. Let the words be placed irregularly on the drapery in careless "sketchy" letters. Mottoes will doubtless suggest themselves to you. Here are two or three:

"Of making many books there is no end."
"Books are faithful friends."
"Give me the room whose every nook
Is dedicated to a book."

Unless the bookcase is quite wide a single curtain will look better than two. Crinkled tissue paper may now be bought by the yard and is devoted to a great variety of uses. I have heard of its serving for window drapery in a room not much used. It is very durable and will bear vigorous dusting, so I see no reason why it should not serve such a purpose if it suits one's taste. It certainly makes lovely lamp shades, and here is one way of making them: Buy a wire frame at any notion store and for a bracket lamp of medium size you will need sixteen sheets of tissue paper, eight of white and eight of rose color. Take each sheet singly in the hand and fold loosely until only about an inch wide; then stroke downward until well creased, then open and refold and stroke again, and repeat the process until it is a mass of crimps. When all are crimped paste the pink ones together for the outside of the shade and the white ones for the lining; they are then pasted upon the wire frame and brought closely and evenly to the neck of the wire frame where it is secured by a silk thread which is wound tightly about it several times.

DRAPERY FOR BOOKCASE.

Leave enough margin at the top to draw into a double ruffle which shall reach almost to the top of the chimney. On the lower edge a little double ruffle is made by creasing the paper all around, about three inches from the edge, and afterwards stretching the crimps out a little with the finger below the line. Tie a wide ribbon of rose color about the "neck" of the shade, finishing with a bow.—Housekeeper.

SPREAD AND BOLSTER.

Just the Thing for a Room Furnished in the Empire Style.

The spread and bolster shown in the illustration were made for a room furnished in the empire style. The design was embroidered in delicate shades on a handsome, soft, cream-colored satin, and finished simply with a cord around the edge. The bed itself was gilded, and had embroidered panels inserted at the head and foot. Among others was a very harmonious, handsome and effective spread, the coloring being made to match some empire brocade used for the hangings. A conventional tulip design was rendered in light gold silks, and the background darned in dull reds. The leaves were outlined, and the flowers worked in long and short stitches, the material being of a rich cream color.

EMPIRE SPREAD AND BOLSTER.

These spreads are intended not to hang down straight, but to be tucked in all around, in some cases the empire beds having ornamented sides with carved decorations, and in others a festooned valance being provided in materials and colorings to harmonize with the spreads and curtains employed. In this style of decoration the plain bolster, as illustrated, is always provided, which is, of course, together with the embroidered covering, removed at night. The pillows are frequently kept in a long-shaped ottoman box, placed at the foot of the bed, and which is itself amply provided with cushions in order to form not only a handsome but a comfortable lounge.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Protect Your Eyesight.

Keep an old soft linen pocket handkerchief to clean your spectacles with. If necessary, they can be cleaned with a little ammonia water. Do not put them under your pillow at night, and be careful to keep the frame straight, otherwise the lenses will not be true and your sight will suffer accordingly.

Oil and Grease Stains.

Stains of oil and grease may be entirely removed from carpet or cloth by the brisk application of buckwheat flour, removing the flour as soon as it has absorbed the oil or until the spots shall have completely disappeared.

An Observing Parson.

He saw the brethren slumbering,
And heard them snoring loud and deep,

A Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food—imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.

A NATION IN MOURNING

Sympathy for Mr. Harrison from All Quarters.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETE

A Brief Service to be Held Over the Remains of the White House Mistress Tomorrow—Burial at Indianapolis Friday—Only the Members of the President's Official Family to Accompany the Body.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Although it is the President's wish that there shall be no public or official display in connection with the death of Mrs. Harrison, and the funeral services both here and in Indianapolis will be as simple as the rites of the Presbyterian Church will permit, there are certain ceremonial observances inseparable from the event.

All the Ministers of foreign powers in this city will call personally on the Secretary of State to express condolence, and will subsequently file in writing with him in permanent form the testimonials of their regret. The foreign secretaries of friendly powers will in like manner convey their sympathies to our Ministers and representatives abroad.

The Vice-President and Mrs. Morton and the members of the Cabinet and their wives being the official family of the President will, it is understood, go in mourning and will therefore withdraw from all participation in social events for one month.

Following the precedent established in the case of the death of Mrs. Tyler, the Executive Departments in Washington will probably be closed on the day of the funeral ceremonies here.

President Harrison's brother, John Scott Harrison of Kansas City, will reach Washington to-morrow morning and accompany the train to Indianapolis after the services here.

Mr. Carter B. Harrison of Tennessee, another brother, will join the party at Indianapolis.

Vice-President Morton will be present at the services in this city.

Over all the government offices and over the hotels and many of the business buildings the flags are at half mast.

Two policemen guard the entrance to the grounds to prevent invasion by the curious, but there has been no necessity for their services.

There will be private services in the Blue room of the White House to-morrow morning, conducted by Dr. Hamlin, and services at Indianapolis in the First Presbyterian Church, of which the President and Mrs. Harrison were for many years active members, on Friday.

These will be in charge of Rev. Matthew L. Haines, D. D., who was pastor of the church when the family came to Washington.

At the request of Dr. Hamlin, Rev. Dr. Bartlett of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, will assist in the services at the White House to-morrow morning. Dr. Bartlett was pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, Indianapolis, previous to coming to Washington, and a neighbor of the President's family.

At the funeral of the wife and daughter of Secretary Tracy in the White House, Mrs. Harrison was much impressed by the singing of Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," by the choir of St. John's Church, and often spoke of it. The choir will be present at the services and repeat the hymn.

Arrangements for the funeral train are being perfected by Mr. George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania road, acting under the direction of Mr. Frank Thompson, first vice-president. The train will consist of six vestibuled Pullman cars—a composite baggage and saloon car, a dining car, a sleeping car, a compartment car, a private car, and an observation car, in the latter of which the casket will be carried to Indianapolis.

The train will leave Washington at 11:30 a. m. to-morrow, and run on the following schedule: Leave Harrisburg 3:35 p. m., leave Altoona 7 p. m., leave Pittsburg (central time) 9:20 p. m., leave Columbus 3:45 a. m., arrive at Indianapolis 9:30 a. m.

From the station in the President's home city, which his beloved wife last saw amid scenes of patriotic enthusiasm and friendly welcome when the chief executive and his party were returning from the famous tour through the South and West, the funeral cortege will proceed directly and without delay to the First Presbyterian Church, corner of New York and Pennsylvania streets.

Here Rev. M. L. Haines, the President's pastor, will conduct simple services, attendance on which will probably be restricted to relatives and intimate friends.

Leaving the church the funeral procession will wind its way to the beautiful cemetery of Crown Hill, where rests the remains of Governor Oliver P. Morton, Vice-President Thomas A. Hendricks, ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald, General E. R. S. Canby and Governor Whitcomb.

In this beautiful spot, overlooking the city where President Harrison ranks as a private citizen, the body will be interred with brief and simple ceremony.

The exact resting place is being selected by friends of the family in Indianapolis.

It is not the desire of the Executive family to remain in Indianapolis for rest after the fatigue of the journey from Washington. The arrangements for the funeral contemplate an immediate return on their part to the railroad station, the special train to leave for Washington within a short time thereafter.

From the hour when the White House was closed following the death of Mrs. Harrison quiet had reigned until the usual time for opening the mansion. President Harrison retired and obtained some rest; when he reappeared in the morning, he bore himself with the calmness and fortitude that comes from dependence upon a higher power and a resignation to the mandates of His will.

He was, of course, suffering greatly from the blow that had fallen, no less severe because long delayed and long expected, but his morning greeting was as much like the usual one as could have been expected.

The family breakfasted together, and the little ones learned of the great loss they had sustained during their hours of sleep.

They have sadly missed "grandma" in the months that have passed, for above all other joys Mrs. Harrison appreciated the companionship, and care as well, of the children of the household. The love of both the President and herself for them was one of the beautiful and prominent features of home life in the White House.

After breakfast the President retired to his room as did the ladies.

Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Dimmick, upon whom the greater portion of the burden of the illness of Mrs. Harrison has fallen, were feeling the effects of the long strain they had undergone, and perforce sought rest and quiet.

They are in no other wise the worse, and will be able soon to resume the wonted duties of life.

The ushers were early required to receive the cards of callers who came with messages of condolence, or on business connected with the sad event.

Among the first to arrive was Rev. Dr. Hamlin, the President's pastor; Attorney-General Miller, Secretary Tracy, Postmaster-General Wanamaker and Assistant Secretary of War, Grant, who remained some time in consultation with Private Secretary Halford and Mr. McKee.

Mr. R. A. Parke, District Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, who was consulted with regard to the transportation of the funeral party to Indianapolis, was also among the early visitors.

Mr. Michael Herbert, Charge D' Affaires at the British legation, was among the first to leave a message of condolence.

Emperor William was represented by Baron Clemens von Ketteler, Charge D' Affaires at the German legation; the sympathy of President Carnot was extended by M. Jules Boeufvo, chancellor of the French legation, M. Maurice Depres, its secretary, and M. Thibaut, French consul in Washington.

Other diplomatists to leave cards were Ye Cha Yun, Charge D' Affaires of Korea; Ceyatano Romero, Charge D' Affaires of Mexico, and Miss Romero; Minister Tateno of Japan and his wife; Salvador Mendonca, the Brazilian Minister, and Dona Mendonca and Mgrditch Effendi Norighyan, secretary of the Turkish legation.

With the great flood of notes and cards came a comforting message from ex-Secretary Blaine and Mrs. Blaine, who returned to Washington, Monday night to the big red house within little more than a stone's throw of the Executive Mansion.

A great number of telegrams conveying messages of sympathy and sorrow have been received at the White House from all parts of the country. They have not yet been brought to the notice of the President, and none will be made public until he has been made acquainted with them. One of the first came from Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland.

The casket selected for Mrs. Harrison's interment is of cedar covered with black cloth with oxydized silver bars along the side and across the ends. On its top will be a silver plate bearing the inscription:

"Caroline Scott Harrison, wife of Benjamin Harrison," and the date of Mrs. Harrison's death.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—The following telegram has just been sent from this city:

THE DISASTER NEAR SPOKANE.

Seven Were Killed, Five Fatally Injured, and Others Hurt.

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 26.—An accident on the construction line of the Great Northern road Monday resulted in the death of seven men, fatally injuring five and seriously injuring six others. The dead are:

John Leonard, conductor, of St. Paul; John Johnson, James Wright, Daniel Waksux: Nels Nelson, J. Brady, A. Olsen.

The fatally injured are: J. Gilman, J. Robertson, G. Nelson, J. J. Cambell, J. Linville. The seriously injured are: George Nelson, Charles Anderson, Robert Anderson, A. Maxwell, C. James, Henry Payne. All are laborers, except Conductor Leonard.

When the second span was reached the false work under the bridge collapsed, and the track machine, together with two carloads of ties and three cars loaded with rails, fell into the river, sixty feet below.

The men were thrown in every direction and some of them buried under ties and rails, with the above result.

Shot a Brigadier-General.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 26.—While Brig.-Gen. W. G. Veal, of the Trans-Mississippi Department of the United Confederate Veterans, was seated at a table writing an order at Camp Sterling Price, Dr. R. N. Jones, of this city, entered, drew his pistol, and shot Gen. Veal dead. Many officers were in the building and hastened to the scene in time to seize Jones. He was taken to jail by the sheriff. The shooting grew out of an old feud.

Forest Fires Near Asbury Park.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 26.—The continued drought has been the cause of disastrous forest fires which are now raging just north and west of here. The woods adjoining Edgemere have been on fire several days and a large force of men have been called out to fight the flames. Valuable timber land has been destroyed and unless a rain comes shortly the damage will be much greater.

University Extension Conference.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

AT REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS.

Senator Hiscock and Charles Emory Smith Speak Hopefully.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—At the National Republican Headquarters business is practically suspended owing to the President's bereavement. The building is draped, a flag hangs at half mast and all members of the committee at headquarters have telegraphed expressions of sympathy to the President and his family.

Among the most prominent of the callers at the Republican Headquarters yesterday were ex-Gov. P. C. Cheney of New Hampshire, Senator Hiscock of New York, Hon. J. A. Scranton and Senator Quay.

Senator Quay had a long conference with Chairman Carter, General Clarkson, Secretary McComas and Mr. Manley. The subject discussed was the situation in New York. Every phase of the campaign in this State was taken up, and Mr. Quay gave his views fully, making numerous suggestions as to what ought to be done to get out the full Republican vote.

Senator Hiscock, speaking of the situation in New York, said:

"I have been in different sections of the State, and the interest seems to be increasing everywhere. In my judgment we are going to poll a full Republican vote. Things look fully as well in the rural districts as they did in 1888, and the large registration is in our favor."

Hon. Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia "Press," says:

"I am more familiar with the situation in New Jersey and Delaware because I have spoken a number of times in each of these States. There is no apathy among the Republicans in these States, and there may be more surprising results in the election than a Republican could have ventured to prophesy. I have found that the Republicans are thoroughly alert and making a fight to win."

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

Emily Healy, Missing Since January 1, Was Frozen to Death.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Oct. 26.—The mystery surrounding the dissappearance of a young girl from this city last January, has just been cleared up by the finding of her body in a hollow stump two miles south of Fredonia.

On the first day of last January Emily Healy left the home of her sister, with whom she had quarrelled over a young man whose company Emily had been keeing, and since that time no trace of her had been discovered. On Monday her body was found as stated, the flesh entirely gone from the bones, and the only means of indentification being the color of her hair and the filling of a tooth.

The coroner held an inquest and rendered a verdict that the girl came to her death by freezing. It is supposed she was trying to make her way to her mother's home at Arkwright.

Mrs. Bennett's Peculiar Death.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Mrs. Ambrosia Bennett, 70 years old, of Kirkwood, met a peculiar death yesterday. The poormaster was removing her to the county house in this city. The horse became frightened and ran away, and the driver turned them into a farm yard toward a cherry tree. One limb of the tree is bent down and is sharpened to a point. As the wagon entered the yard it careened upon two wheels, elevating the side occupied by Mrs. Bennett so that the pointed limb was forced through her temple. She lived but a few hours.

Dalton Will Sue Coffeyville.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 26.—Will Dalton will bring suit against the city of Coffeyville for damages, basing his claim on the alleged rifling of the pockets of the Dalton gang of bandits after they were killed. According to Will, Emmett will be defended by Senator Vest, of Missouri, who, he alleges, has proffered his services free because of a long-standing friendship for the family. Emmett is improving, and will recover.

Eloped With Three Telephone Girls.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—George D. Simmons, for 14 years an employe of the Chicago Telephone company, has eloped with three telephone girls. They are sisters named Leyden. Simmons left a wife and family. The girls lived for some time in a flat on Twenty-fourth street. Mr. Simmons, it is said, visited the sisters quite frequently.

Confessed to the Robbery.

NEWBURG, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Six weeks ago the till of the steamer Newburg was robbed of $600. A young man was arrested on suspicion, but was finally discharged. George A. Lawrence, the freight clerk, aged 21, was yesterday arrested on the charge. He weakened and confessed all. He is in jail here.

The Boss Will Probably Die.

NEWTON, Mass., Oct. 26.—In the police court John Halloran, 73, was held in $12,000 bail to appear before the court on Nov. 6. Halloran assaulted John Foster, a boss in the paving department, with a pickaxe handle, fracturing his skull. There is little hope of his recovery.

Miners Against an Eight-Hour Day.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Durham miners balloted again yesterday on the subject of making an eight-hour working day compulsory by law. The result was a vote of 12,694 in favor of making eight hours compulsory, and 29,217 in opposition to an eight-hour law.

Reported Absorption Denied.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Andrew Allen, president of the Montreal Telegraph company, emphatically denies the report from New York that the Western Union Telegraph company will absorb the Montreal Telegraph company.

WITH THE POLITICIANS

Notes and Opinions from Party Headquarters.

THE ALBANY FACTIONAL FIGHT.

Reported that the Democrats There Are to be United—Senator Hiscock on the Situation—Tammany's Big Demonstration Last Night—Other Campaign News.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan has some important and interesting news from Albany. The fight between Judge D. Cady Herrick and the regular Democratic organization over the candidates for Assembly is to be compromised, and there will be only one Democratic candidate in each district of the capital. The fight at one time threatened to give the Republicans the four Assemblymen from Albany.

Sergeant-at-Arms Redmond, of the Assembly, and other Albany men, who were at State headquarters, said that two propositions of compromise had been made and that one or the other would certainly be accepted.

The real fight is in the First and Fourth Assembly districts of Albany, where Judge Herrick has named candidates in opposition to those of the regular Democratic organization.

The plan of compromise likely to be accepted is to take down both candidates in each district and substitute new candidates, who shall be acceptable to both factions.

The other proposition is to let Herrick have the candidates in two districts and the regular organization name the men in the other two. This would insure only one set of candidates and the election of four Democratic Assemblymen.

The news that the fight is to be settled is very gratifying to Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan. Judge Herrick has caused the State Committee no little trouble in Albany county. When the Reapportionment bill was before the Legislature, Judge Herrick threatened to defeat it unless Albany county got four Assemblymen, instead of three, as at first proposed.

He got the four Assemblymen, and then he joined the anti-snapper movement, and has since been working in opposition to the State committee.

The next Legislature will be too close to take any chances of losing an Assemblyman by a factional fight, so a compromise in Albany county was urged by the members of the State committee.

Among the callers at Democratic State headquarters were Senator Nichols, of Syracuse, State Committeeman Pat Maloney, and James B. Lyons, of Albany. They all brought cheering news of the outlook up the State.

Chairman Edward Murphy, of the State Committee, is still in the city and had a conference with Senator Hill, who is at the Hotel Normandie.

When Senator Hill returns from Virginia next week he will begin a tour of this State, making speeches at a number of points in the interior. He will speak next week at Port Jervis, Hancock, Syracuse, and other places to be agreed on later.

TAMMANY'S BIG DEMONSTRATION.

A Dozen Meetings at Once—Senator Hill Speaks in the Wigwam.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Tammany gave a gigantic object lesson last night and showed how political demonstrations ought to be conducted when run on the broad and expansive methods peculiar to these braves.

One huge mass meeting was held extending from Broadway and 14th street to the east side of Third avenue and 14th street. Yet it was so arranged that though one harmonious whole no less than a dozen meetings were running at the same time. There was an attendance of at least 20,000 people. Dense crowds clustered around the several hustings.

Tammany Hall was packed. Gov. Flower presided at the meeting here and Senator Hill was the orator. He was enthusiastically received.

Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan, General Daniel Sickles and Congressman Amos J. Cummings also spoke. A number of overflow meetings were addressed by Commissioner Gilroy, State Senator Roesch and others.

Withdraws from the Ticket.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Daniel F. Toomey of Dunkirk, the Democratic nominee for Assembly in Chautauqua county, has sent to County Clerk Albro a notice of his withdrawal from the county ticket and directing that his name be left off the official ballot. Mr. Toomey is the recognized Hill leader in Chautauqua county.

Candidate Stevenson Hopeful.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson arrived in this city last night. He will remain here several days and will speak to-night in Brooklyn. He speaks encouragingly of the North and South. Michigan, he says, will give the Democrats six electoral votes, and Alabama is sure to go Democratic.

Mr. Cleveland is Confident.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 26.—Major Dennis, of this city, an old-time Democrat of New York, has an autograph letter from ex-President Grover Cleveland, who writes: "Those who are well informed on the situation have no apprehension as to the outcome in New York. I know of no Democrats who are not enthusiastic and confident."

A Republican Parade Abandoned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The parade of the Business Men's Republican Association which was to have taken place next Saturday, has been abandoned on account of the death of Mrs. Harrison. Resolutions were adopted at a meeting of the association expressing sympathy with President Harrison in his deep affliction.

Declines the Nomination.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Wm. H. Faxon, the Democratic nominee for Member of Assembly in Warren county, is out with a letter declining the nomination, and has filed his declination with the County clerk.

Bayard to Speak in Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 26.—Ex-Secretary of State Thomas F. Bayard will speak at the Grand Opera house in this city next Friday night.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"Absolutely the Best."

It is made of pure cream of tartar and soda, no ammonia, no alum. A like quantity goes farther and does better work. It is therefore cheaper.

Cleveland's is the baking powder used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of cookery. It never varies, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Try a can.

REIGN OF TERROR IN SICILY.

Brigandage Worse Than Ever Before—Robbers "Stand in" With Officials.

CATANIA, Oct. 26.—A reign of terror has been introduced by brigands throughout Sicily despite the activity of government police soldiery. Inhabitants of the smaller towns are in a state of constant alarm. At night the streets are infested with highwaymen, and innumerable burglaries are committed in broad daylight.

At Alderno, 17 miles from this city, theft and burglary have multiplied threefold, and several murders for money have taken place within the last three weeks. No arrests have been made, as the brigands are sheltered by men who are influential.

The wealthy families of Bronte and Paterno receive menacing letters daily. Conspicuous men of business are so threatened with kidnapping, assassination or highway robbery in case they do not at once surrender large sums, that few venture out at night without a guard.

At Biancaville at Belpasso the people have been so intimidated that at night the streets are completely deserted and every house of any pretensions is guarded by special watchmen.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Thursday: For New Jersey, Generally Fair; Northwesterly Winds.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—St. Joseph's church, Manning avenue, is now furnished with electric lights.

—Janitor Hope of the Bryant school has the school flag at half-mast in mourning for Mrs. Harrison.

—Seats for "A Hole in the Ground" are now selling at the Central pharmacy, corner of Front street and Park avenue.

—Don't forget the festival in Saenger and Turner hall, to-morrow evening, for St. Joseph's church. O'Reilly will furnish the music.

—The Leal foot-ball team go to Elizabeth this afternoon to play the Pingry team a game of foot-ball on the Grier avenue grounds.

—The annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the State begins at Bridgeton to-day. The societies of this city are represented.

—Mrs. L. Adams, the women's favorite milliner, has opened a branch establishment at Westfield. THE PRESS heartily recommends her to the people of that place.

—The sole agency for the sale of Huyler's candy in this city has been secured by manager J. H. Leggett of the Central pharmacy. He has now a full line on his counter.

—Miss C. S. Hellwig, who, since her arrival in Plainfield three years ago, has been teaching at the Misses Scribner and Newton's school, is again among the prominent families in this city resuming her lessons after a prolonged illness. She is warmly greeted by her numerous friends and pupils.

—All young men interested in the study of English branches for foreign-speaking young men, short-hand, book-keeping, mechanical drawing, singing, light gymnastics, arithmetic, or algebra, should apply at the Y. M. C. A. rooms without delay. A $2 membership in the association entitles to any or all of these classes, with the exception of short-hand, for which there is an extra charge of $3.

—What shall the people do with the leaves that deluge the streets? The corporation counsel and fire marshal warn the householders not to violate the ordinance prohibiting bonfires. The street commissioner has no appropriation to pay for clearing them away. The residents decline to go to the expense of individual carting. Are the leaves to rot in the gutters all winter and breed foul smells and disease?

—The initial performances of Sydney Rosenfeld's "The Lady or the Tiger" have been received with enthusiastic favor, and a high degree of satisfaction, by lovers of comic opera at the Broadway theater, New York, during the past week, and the author's cleverly-written conceit, which he has based on Frank Stockton's charming sketch, bids fair to become a worthy as well as a prosperous successor of "Wang". The production of "The Lady or the Tiger" is a most commendable one, and its handsome stage settings and brilliant effects of costume, together with the precision of evolution and general excellence of ensemble, reflect great credit upon the executive department of Mr. Hopper's excellent organization, and taken in its entirety it is without doubt one of the most successful productions in the annals of light comic opera in New York.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

F. L. C. Martin has gone on a three-days' business trip to Boston and Hartford.

W. L. Force has been re-appointed fish warden for Union county by Gov. Abbett by nomination from the State fish commissioners.

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes of this city opened the New Jersey State Baptist convention at East Orange yesterday with devotional services, and made the reply to the address of welcome. Other devotional services were led by the Rev. J. H. Parks of Scotch Plains.

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. White, Mr and Mrs. O. B. Leonard, and Mrs. Pike, from the First Baptist church, are delegates to the Sixty-third convention of the New Jersey Baptists now being held in the First Baptist church at East Orange.

Major J. H. Ackerman, a prominent resident of New Providence, visited our office on Tuesday, where his pleasing countenance is always welcome. The major and his family will leave their pleasant home in NewProvidence for their winter one at Jacksonville, Fla., the latter part of November.

Miss Juliette Gordon, who will sing the part of Bettina in Mr. Dixey's revival of "The Mascot" at Music Hall, Saturday evening, has but recently returned from Paris, where she spent two years in the famous Conservatory of Music and under the best French teachers. Her voice is said to be of the richest quality.

Miss Etta Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brown of Dunellen, was married last Thursday evening at 5, at her parents' home, to Jules Banner of Elizabeth. The Rev. Mr. Kinzle, pastor of the Dunellen M. E. church, officiated. It was a quiet home wedding. The happy couple have been spending their honeymoon in Brooklyn.

Christian Schepflin, who was announced in THE PRESS, New York Post and other papers, yesterday, as a convert from the Republican party, has been a Democrat all his life past and will be, he says, all his life to come. The statement was made at the request of Joseph W. Yates who took it for granted that Mr. Schepflin, as the largest and oldest clothing manufacturer in the country, must be a member of the Republican party whose methods are to keep on increasing the price of everything we wear.

THE CITY'S LIQUOR CASES.

Watson and Miller Again Arrested —Lee's Case Dead.

Druggist F. A. Miller of South Second street is to be tried Monday before judge Codington on the charge of selling liquor against the law. Policeman Giese is the complainant. Miller was fined $25 for a similar offense some time ago.

Michael Watson also is to be arrested again for illegal liquor selling. He is out of town now. When he returns the officers will seize him.

Since the above was put in type, Watson was apprehended. There are three charges against him. He pleaded not guilty and was held for trial Nov. 2. James McFadden, his father-in-law, furnished $200 bail in each case.

William Lee is not to be prosecuted on the charge made against him. The witness who volunteered the evidence against him now says he lied and leaves the city without any case.

The informer against Watson is said to be a Courier spy.

That New Electric Road.

The Elizabeth and Plainfield Street Railway company made application to the township committees at Roselle and Cranford, Monday night, for the privilege of running their tracks through the two townships, so as to connect Elizabeth with Westfield. The Roselle committeemen will hear the application and listen to opposition, Nov. 14, and the Cranford committeemen Nov. 10. South avenue is to be the line of travel.

BY THE WAY.

—A mothers' meeting will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms to-morrow afternoon at 3:30.

—Expressman Hoagland says he would thank the fellow who picked up his lost rope yesterday, to return it.

—The Plainfield street railway cars are now nicely heated, each by a stove neatly enclosed by a nickel-plated covering.

—The First Presbyterian Sunday-school library is to profit by the Smith family concert in the chapel Friday evening. The entertainment will be worth attending.

—One evidence of the unprecedentedly pleasant as well as charming weather that has existed day after day for weeks past, is that the workman engaged on a house just completed by contractor J. B. Mills, have only been interrupted one half-day by rain in the two months and a half it has taken to build it.

It is too bad to spend half of a short life distressed with neuralgia, when a 25 cent bottle of Salvation Oil will cure it quickly.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

DEMOCRACY'S DAY.

Ex-Councilman Rowland Cox Will Preside at To-Night's Meeting of the Cleveland and Stevenson Club and Will Make a Speech.

To-night will be observed at the Cleveland and Stevenson club as "Democratic night". To-day has been designated by the State committee as a day in which Democrats throughout the State shall meet together and hear expounded the doctrines of the Democracy. Clubs everywhere in New Jersey will gather to-night and listen to Democratic speakers.

At the rooms of the Plainfield Cleveland and Stevenson club at 59 Broadway, Rowland Cox will preside and make an address. Following Mr. Cox there will be read the letter of Grover Cleveland accepting the Presidential nomination, and Wayne MacVeagh's now famous letter of withdrawal from the Republican party. Preston Stevenson, of Bergen county, will make the address of the evening. It will be an essentially Democratic night, and every Democrat in town should be present. The meeting will begin at 8.

To-Morrow Night at Music Hall.

Hoyt's comedy, "A Hole in the Ground", will be presented at Music Hall, to-morrow night. Although the piece is one of Hoyt's oldest it is always favorably received and the people laugh until they are tired. There are no material changes in the play since it was seen in New York last: the company is evenly balanced and give a good entertainment. Frank Lawton and Chas. O. Cowles do most of the work and they are as funny a team as Hoyt has in his circle. Miss Virginia Earl gets most of the applause. Her acting, dancing and singing are unusually good. Her "Boom de Aye" dance is one of the funniest things seen in a long while. Miss Margaret May does some good dancing too.

Resolutions of Democratic Sympathy With the President.

At the Democratic rally in Elizabeth, last evening, the following, offered by James E. Martine, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That the Democrats of Union county in meeting assembled, take this opportunity to express their deep and heartfelt sadness at the bereavement of President Harrison in the death of his most estimable wife. Though in the heat of political controversy, we stop to blend our tears with that afflicted household, and do bear willing testimony to Mrs. Harrison's moral worth and many womanly virtues.

Opening Night at the Fanwood Club.

Last night was opening night at the Fanwood club. The members turned out in large numbers, and enjoyed the dancing, bowling and other amusements provided by the committee. Among those present were: Benjamin Urnec and wife, F. D. Warren and wife, F. B. Anderson and wife, A. K. Gardner and wife, Wm. H. Lawrence and wife, H. Robinson and wife, T. T. Bainbridge and wife, F. Bradley and wife, the Misses Pentz, the Misses Boucher, Miss Bacon of Brooklyn, George C. Miller, I. Quereau, president J. P. Stevens, A. D. Beeken, judge Ashley, Robert B. Reilly, and Messrs. Pentz. Mr. Carpenter of Plainfield furnished the excellent music.

A Chance for a Ninth Victory.

The New Jersey Trap Shooters' league will hold their tenth and last shoot of the season on the grounds of the Maplewood Gun club to-morrow afternoon, beginning at 2. In connection with the shoot, the Maplewood club will have an all-day tournament; events to begin at 10 a. m. The contests for the league trophy have been won eight out of nine times by the Independent Gun club of Plainfield, and once by the Maplewood Gun club.

Crippled by a Singular Accident.

Frank Moffett, of Sterling, is suffering serious injuries received from a singular accident. He and a well-known sport of Basking Ridge, had a boxing match in a barn. All the local sports from Sterling, Basking Ridge and Bernardsville were on hand to see the fun. Moffett was having the best of the fight when his opponent made a spurt and drove him into a corner. Moffett drew back his fist to strike a decisive blow and crashed his elbow through a window. The glass made a terrible gash in the flesh of the arm, and severed several arteries. Two doctors were summoned, but Moffett bled nearly to death. It will be spring before he recovers the use of his arm.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best in the market. A single bottle will convince you of its excellence. Try it.

It's an insult to your intelligence, but some unscrupulous dealers try it. For instance: you're suffering from some Skin, Scalp or Scrofulous affection, or are feeling "run-down" or "used-up." There's a torpid liver, impure blood, and all that may come from it.

You've decided, wisely, that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the medicine to help you. You know that it's guaranteed to do so, as no other blood purifier is.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, you get your money back.

Can you ask more?

But what is best for you to take isn't always best for the dealer to sell. He offers something that's "just as good." Is it likely? If the makers of a medicine can't trust it, can you?

If they can trust it, then why not guarantee it, as the makers of the "Discovery" do?

The genuine sold only through authorized agents, at the uniform price of $1.00.

Beware of spurious imitations or substitutes offered at less prices.

LOOK HERE MR. BABCOCK!

HOW ABOUT THE MATTER AS MR. WELLS PUTS IT?

This Communication is Not Anonymous and the Writer "Knows That Better Work is Being Done in Other High Schools With One Session".

TO THE EDITOR OF THE PRESS:—I was glad to see "Pater's" letter and very glad to read Mr. Babcock's reply. Mr. Babcock says, "We should apply to the superintendent of schools." That is exactly what I have done in the past, with no avail, as Miss Bulkley maintained that the arguments in favor of the two sessions were unanswerable. But I think the question should be open to discussion.

Most High schools have one session. The pupils meet at 8:30 a. m. and are dismissed at 1 p. m., making a session of four hours' work with a short intermission. Here the hours are from 9 to 12, 1:30 to 3:30. As the noon hour-and-a-half counts for nothing, either for the pupil who rushes home for a hasty bite or for the one who stays to eat a cold lunch and attempts to study, we have six-and-a-half hours given up to school work, which arrangement throws the study period into the evening. It may be best for the primary schools to have two sessions for there are several such departments in the city each drawing from its immediate neighborhood; but there is only one High school and most of the pupils come quite a distance.

One can see why it is necessary for a pupil of six to study under the supervision of a teacher, but I think the pupil of sixteen is capable of studying full as well at home. Would it not be better for the older pupils to make the journey but once a day, putting to a good use the time at noon otherwise wasted?

On stormy days when the school has but one session, the regular work for the day cannot be carried out, whereas, if one session were the rule, there would be no interruption of work, no lessons left over, and each day's work would be complete.

I fail to see what there is in favor of two sessions and would be glad to hear from Mr. Babcock on this point. I know that better work is being done in other High schools with one session in the four years course, and I believe it possible for us to do just as well here. I appreciate the fact that being one who pays for the privilege may not add anything to the weight of my remarks. But having had two children in the school for several years and having heard at the exercises in June how much those who pay contribute to the support of the school, I venture to write as above. How do the regular patrons of the school feel about this matter? HENRY B. WELLS,

North Plainfield.

The President's Great Sorrow.

In his great sorrow President Harrison and his household have with them the unfeigned sympathy of the American nation—we are sure, we may say, of the world. In the presence of the grim conqueror the din and rancor of political tumult are hushed to be succeeded by the still small voice of respectful mourning. At such a time the President is merged in the bereaved husband, and the grief-stricken household commands that a halt be called in the strife of parties, so that even amid the heat of political debate not one word shall fall harshly upon the ear concerning the representative opponent of the Democracy of this country. Already before the President's bereavement public speakers on the side of Mr. Cleveland have paused for a moment in their addresses and paid a sorrowful tribute to the gentle and suffering wife of the nation's Chief Magistrate. With a chivalric delicacy that is peculiarly his own, Mr. Cleveland refrained from participation in the Chicago celebration, because the dark shadow of death overhung the White House and thereby prevented Mr. Harrison from being present. Thus both as a private citizen and as one who in a few days might be called to supersede the present Chief Executive, the ex-President communicated to his political antagonist the sympathy felt not only by the Democracy, but also by all our people, who then realized that it was only a matter of a few days when we should be called upon to mourn the loss of one who had so aptly and so often filled the position of the First Lady in the land and so aptly presided over the social functions of the White House. One of the most admirable features of the passing campaign is to be found in the universal sympathy shown to President Harrison and the members of his afflicted family. There is, indeed, a strength and earnestness in the National sorrow of Americans that has no parallel elsewhere.

And W. Holt Apgar Himself is One of the Most Personally Popular and Personally Fit.

[From The Trenton True American.]

W. Holt Apgar [who will be elected State Senator from Mercer county, next month] in his letter of acceptance, summons and depends upon the manliness of our voters, which should inspire them to repel the insult of the open bribery which is threatened by the Republicans in our county. Personal popularity, personal manners, personal fitness have been made secondary considerations in this election by our opponents, and men have been nominated whose ability and willingness to buy votes, however acquired, is the one qualification, beyond question.

The whole Republican scheme is an insult to the county, and if it succeeds will destroy the self-respect of our people and sink our community into disrepute.

A WILL CASE IN COURT.

Mrs. Annie E. Bond Disappoints Her Plainfield Relatives.

The matter of the caveat to the probating of the will of the late Mrs. Annie E. Bond, of 67 Clinton street, came up in the orphans' court at Newark yesterday. She left the bulk of her property, which was in all worth about $8,000, to the Home for Aged Women, and the caveat was filed by her husband, her brother, J. Lot Marshall, and her nephew, Harry Marshall, the latter two of this city. She died on May 17 of this year.

Lawyer Marsh, of Plainfield, who appeared for the contestants, asked that the case be certified to the circuit court in order that it might be tried before a jury, or for a two weeks' postponement. He said that he would try to prove testamentary incapacity on the part of the testatrix, and as the principal witness is out of the State he was unable to go on with the case.

William B. Guild opposed the motion, stating that as the woman had died on May 17 and as the estate is being neglected because there is no one to care for it, the matter should be settled as soon as possible.

The judge suggested that both sides agree on an administrator to act while the case was pending, as it would probably take a long time to reach a conclusion. It was settled that the case should begin at once, but that Mr. Marsh should not be asked to show his defence until he should be better prepared. It was also agreed that the executor should be appointed the administrator, who is to act until the case is settled.

David A. Lawrence, of 53 Academy street, who was one of the witnesses to the will, testified that he kew Mrs. Bond for about fifteen years, and at the time of the will she was in normal condition of mind and he never had cause to suspect her sanity. In answer to lawyer Marsh he admitted that neither he nor anybody else in his presence made any test of the woman's sanity.

William P. Enders, another of the witnesses to the will, gave similar testimony. He admitted that the executor, Daniel Lawrence, had the will already written out in his pocket when the witnesses arrived.

Daniel Lawrence, the executor, testified that he prepared the original draft of the will at the request of Mrs. Bond. He swore that he read it to her and that she read it before she affixed her signature to it. Her mental condition was good at the time that she signed, he said, and at all other times.

On cross-examination he stated that he made no suggestions to Mrs. Bond as to how she should dispose of her property. The rough draft of the will he burned after the instrument itself was made, and also the memorandum from which the first draft was made.

Nobody was present when he read the will to Mrs. Bond and when she read it after him. He took it away with him, but did not remember whether she requested him to do so or not. He was away about three hours looking for the witnesses and did not read the paper to her after he came back. The paper which he took away, he testified very positively, was the same which he brought back.

Mr. Lawrence testified that the testatrix had told him to ignore her husband in drawing the will, because she did not want him to get one cent, but gave him no reason for deserving this, nor for cutting off her mother with one-fourth of her wearing apparel. He could not remember all the instructions which Mrs. Bond gave him at this time.

The case was adjourned at this point to November 15, and Daniel Lawrence was appointed administrator, in accordance with the judge's advice, under bonds of $1,000.

ALL READY TO PUT ON.

Handsome, Correct Cut Garments, Made Up as Close Copies of the Best Custom Work, All Ready to Put On.

Did you ever have your clothes made to order by a swell New York or London tailor?

If you did you know what its costs to get the correct shape and make-up. Watson and company of Newark, have their designs furnished by the best tailors in these cities, and can give you the advance styles long before they reach anywhere else. They certainly have the brightest, lightest tailoring establishment in this city where you can have a handsome suit made to order from $25 to $50, or see close copies of the same cut garments "all ready to put on" at half these rates.

Look at the long lines of handsome BLACK AND FANCY VELOUR CHEVIOT SUITS now shown in all their Broad and Market street windows at $12, $15 and $18, or the samples of perfect fitting pantaloons, all ready to put on or made to order at $6 a pair, and remember they can show you hundreds of handsome confined styles not to be found elsewhere. Watson and company have done a great deal to improve the character of the clothing sold in Newark, but they have never shown such an immense stock of elegant garments as you can see on their racks today—all cut from designs furnished by the best tailors in the world and often improve on by their own designers. Try them just once and none of the ordinary machine cut clothing will suit you again after you see how a correct hand-cut suit from Watson and company will improve your dress appearance, but do not expect to get any gifts, discounts or commissions at their establishment.—The Newark Item.

If your lungs are sore, chest, or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by A. D. Mallinson, 65 North Avenue, opposite railroad station. 5-18-y

ITS LABORS CONCLUDED

Protestant Episcopal Convention Adjourns.

IMPORTANT MATTERS DEFERRED.

Among These Is the Marriage and Divorce Canon—Election of Bishops—Reading of the Pastoral Letter—Message of Sympathy to Mr. Harrison.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—With the reading of the pastoral letter the Episcopal convention concluded its work last night. Much routine business was disposed of, but one important question, with which the House of Bishops had struggled for a week, was not acted upon by the House of Deputies because of lack of time. This was the marriage and divorce canon. No further action will be taken in the matter until the next convention meets.

A report was submitted by the Committee on Church Unity, which, after referring to the action of the Presbyterian Assembly, concludes that it has reason to be encouraged at the progress made and asks to be continued.

The president of the House of Deputies was directed, on behalf of the convention, to send a message of condolence to President Harrison.

The Rev. F. B. Graves was elected Bishop of China, vice Dr. Samuel R. H. Hoyt, declined. The Rev. William R Thomas, of Highland Valley, N. Y., was elected Bishop of Michigan, vice Dr. Joseph H. Johnson, declined.

The pastoral letter was read last night by Bishop Thompson of Mississippi, before an audience that filled every part of Emanuel Church. It began by congratulating the Church on the adoption of the revised prayer book, which all the clergy are called upon to use strictly according to its rubrics. Then follows reference to the progress made by the Church in behalf of Christian unity. Care is advised in opening the door of the priesthood, so that only those properly fitted to perform the duties are allowed to enter. Then comes a rap at the emotional preacher and a protest against the growing tendency toward a short tenure of the pastoral office. The marriage and divorce question is commented upon at length. The letter says in part:

"It is with sad foreboding that all Christian people must see how the sanctity and permanency of the marriage bond has been outraged and broken by the lawless legislation of so many of our States. The Church of God can have no regard for such legislation. She has set herself in her own legislation to record her solemn protest against a tendency which in our judgment, enlightened by the Word of God and the guidance of the Holy Spirit, can lead only to the ruin of the civil state and the destruction of all religion and purity of living among men.

"We are convinced that much if not all the looseness with which the marriage bond is treated in legislation and practice is due to the first falsehood, which considers the individual as the unit of human society, and demands therefore that the motive of all civil arrangements shall be the pleasure and contentment of the individual. As a matter of historical fact as well as of scientific determination, the family is a unit, and the well-being of the individual can be rightly sought only in and through the well-being of the family."

BLAST EXPLODED TOO SOON.

One Killed and Two Fatally Injured at Rock Glen, Pa.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 26. — Anthony Girard was instantly killed, and Vincent Carrelloso and Frank Passiolo fatally injured, the latter having both of his eyes blown out, in addition to his face being frightfully lacerated, and the former had an arm torn from its socket, by the premature explosion of a blast in a cut at Rock Glen, on the Pennsylvania railroad last evening.

In their hurry to finish the day's work, the men used the iron bar, which stamps the giant powder, too heavily, and set off the blast.

The body of Girard was picked up 200 feet away after it had been blown high into the air.

Gathering for the W. C. T. U. Convention.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 26.—Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the W. C. T. U., Miss Anna Gordon, her private secretary, Lady Henry Somerset, and Mrs. Rostall, corresponding secretary of the W. C. T. U., have arrived in this city, and are quartered at the Brown Palace hotel. A large number of delegates have already arrived. The regular sessions of the convention will begin Friday morning. All the arrangements for the convention are now complete.

The Engineer Had No Orders.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Train Despatcher Rupp, at White Falls Station, says that neither the engineer of the coal train nor himself is responsible for Monday's accident. He says the engineer had no orders, that coal trains always run without orders, and that the crew of this coal train were new to the road, only having been running for a few days past, and probably did not know that the express was running south on the northbound track.

A Phenomenal Railroad Run.

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—The Empire State express broke the railroad record for fast running between Buffalo and Rochester yesterday. The train left Rochester 90 minutes late and made 10 miles at the rate of 95 miles an hour. The entire run to Buffalo, 69 miles, was made in 71 minutes. The run is phenomenal, for the grade at Byron is the steepest on the road.

A Big Run of Mackerel.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 26.—The largest run of mackerel known here for years took place last night. Every net in Cape Cod made hauls and it is estimated that 75,000 large and medium fish were taken. A number of nets sank with the weight of the fish. Large quantities are being salted, one man taking 1,200 fish and others in proportion.

The Steamer Brittania Beached.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 26.—The steamer Brittania, of the North Atlantic line, composed of New England capitalists, from Boston for Halifax, struck yesterday on Race Horse shoals, off Cape Sable. She came off soon afterwards, but was so badly damaged on the bottom that she was beached in Barrington Bay to prevent her from sinking. The passengers and crew were safely landed. The Brittania is considered one of the finest vessels of her size afloat. She is 2,000 tons register and cost over $300,000.

A Fortune to an Unknown Daughter.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Dr. John of Valparaiso, Ind., dying, left an estate of $500,000, which it has just been discovered will go to a daughter whom the deceased never knew he had.

Killed by a Railway Train.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 26.—Joseph Armstrong, a carpenter and builder, was struck by a train on the West Jersey railroad just after leaving his place of business. He was instantly killed.

QUOTING BRITISH OPINIONS.

But We Are Intelligent Enough to Decide for Ourselves What We Want.

Nothing illustrates better the pitiable plight of the McKinley organs than their silly attempt to prejudice Mr. Cleveland with American voters by quoting from English and Canadian papers. Every intelligent voter must see that this is an utter abandonment of reason and argument. It is a confession that Americans dare not use their own minds to think out what is the best system of taxation for themselves.

The voters of the United States showed unmistakably in the elections of 1890 that they want no McKinleyism. All signs indicate that they are of the same opinion still and are about to reiterate their opinion with renewed emphasis. But at this juncture President Harrison steps in with a quotation from an English paper, and his organs one and all follow his example and vie with each other in finding the most telling quotations for influencing the American voter.

The other day a four track air line railroad to run between New York and Chicago was chartered. The people of Chicago want the new road, and so do the people of New York. Business men in Chicago are not alarmed when they read in the New York papers that the people of New York want the road built and expect to profit by it, for they recognize the simple fact that trade is profitable to both parties engaging in it. The buyer cannot get terms from the seller except upon a basis which is mutually satisfactory.

The Englishman wants to sell his goods to us because he thinks he can do so at a profit. Shall we quote his newspapers and decline to trade with him because we are not able to trust our own business judgment as to what is a good bargain for us? We are quite ready to sell him our wheat and cotton, and Republicans themselves delight in showing us how much of these commodities John Bull has to buy from us, and how great a profit this brings to our farmers. But if Americans are shrewd enough to sell to John Bull at a profit they can surely be trusted to buy from him at a like profit.

It is time to have done with this silliness of quoting British opinions. We have reached years of discretion, and can decide for ourselves what we want.

McKinley Prosperity.

According to President Harrison everything is prosperous under the McKinley tariff. Is it evidence of prosperity that 40,000 workmen during August were on a strike or locked out? Is it evidence of prosperity that in the iron and steel business, the most highly protected on the list, except the clothing of the people, there has been a reduction of wages of from 10 to 20 per cent? Is Homestead an object lesson that high tariff is for labor and not for capital? Finally in The Bulletin of the Iron and Steel Association we find these admissions:

"We have never known a period in the history of the American iron trade when prices have been so generally low and unremunerative as during the past twelve months, and yet production has never been so great. The explanation of the continued low prices is that our producing capacity is still beyond our enormous consumptive wants."

Does not this enforce the necessity of looking beyond the home market to dispose of our surplus? Is it not an admission, coupled with conceded facts, that McKinleyism has forced down wages and brought about low and unremunerative prices, the lowest "in the history of the American iron trade?"—Pittsburg Post.

Republican "Calamity Prophets."

Republican editors who have criticised the Democrats as "croakers" and "calamity prophets" will be pained to see that their own leaders have become so deeply alarmed that they have taken up their tale of woe and are making the air blue with prophecies of ruin. Chairman Tom Carter gives out to his Republican organs an interview in which he shows that he is wrestling with fear and doubt; but he nevertheless hopes that "the common sense of the people will prevent turning the country over to final ruin."

Chairman Carter's doleful forebodings are fortified with awful political weather predictions by Senator Aldrich and Secretary Charles Foster. These two prophets of evil assure the American people that if Cleveland is elected the United States senate and house will also be Democratic, and Foster says that "such a result would be an undisguised calamity to the American people."

Another cup of "calamity croakers!" The Republican outlook for victory on Nov. 8 has made the prophets unusually blue. They should brace up. Their ruin does not mean the country's ruin.

Cleveland and the Young Men.

The New York Tribune enjoys the distinction of being perhaps the most blindly partisan Republican journal in the United States. Nevertheless it shows in the following words, from its leading editorial of Oct. 1, that it has a correct understanding of the causes of Grover Cleveland's popularity among the young men of this country:

The esteem in which Mr. Cleveland has heretofore been held by a great number of his fellow citizens has proceeded from the belief that he was a bold and uncompromising advocate of his own conscientious convictions; that he was possessed in fact by that courage of opinion which, just verging on willfulness and rashness, has often availed to captivate the popular mind and heart. To this estimate of his moral qualities Mr. Cleveland owes in great degree the admiration which he has inspired in many young and ingenuous persons and most of the panegyrics to which the country has listened with conflicting emotions during the last eight years.

It is stated that last year alone the Carnegie company collected from the builders of America an extra tax by selling their products at extra prices, because of the tariff, of more than $1,000,000.—Wade's Fibre and Fabric.

SENOR ROMERO RUBIO.

One of the Most Progressive Men in the Mexican Republic.

Romero Rubio is secretary of state, father-in-law of President Diaz and one of the most intellectual men in the Mexican republic. He has received a leave of absence from the congress of his country and next spring he will visit the United States. The visit will be made with the intention of making observations and securing information about the affairs of state by which he may benefit his country and improve the condition of the Mexican people.

Senor Rubio is the recognized man of learning of the country in which he lives. He is an excellent Spanish and French scholar and he devotes a great deal of his time to literary research and study. One of his great aims in life is to obtain better educational facilities for his country and to raise the Mexican people up to a higher plane. He also co-operates with his son-in-law, the president, for the improvement of the arts and sciences.

The minister of the interior is a native of Mexico. He is a distinguished-looking man about sixty years of age, but he is well preserved and does not look half that age. His daughter, Mrs. Diaz, is one of the handsomest women in the republic, and his other three daughters are also distinguished for their beauty. In winter Senor Rubio, with his wife and two of his daughters, who are unmarried, lives in his handsome house in the City of Mexico. In the summer he lives at his beautiful country place at Penon, on the banks of Lake Tuxcoco. Penon is about twelve miles from the capital, and there Senor Rubio's handsome summer house is surrounded by beautiful grounds. This Mexican statesman will visit all the greater points of interest in the United States and will probably be here for four months.

BIRD-EATING SPIDERS.

Huge Tarantulas Which Live on Humming Birds and Mice.

The London Pall Mall Budget gives sketches of the two bird-eating spiders which Mr. T. Terry, of the Grange, Borough-green, Kent, recently presented to the London Zoo. They measure about six inches from end to end of legs, their bodies being about two inches long. The female is black, the male being lighter and less heavy. They are fed on cockroaches and other insects, the remains of which we have seen about the cage (and an occasional mouse for a treat). Their poison is so deadly that a small animal is killed instantly. Mr. Terry writes as follows concerning those interesting spiders: "In some newspaper reports they are described as the Brazilian bird-eating spiders, in others that they eat a good fat bird. These spiders were obtained by me in Port of Spain, Trinidad, under the guidance of my friends, Mr. Moule and Mr. Hoadley (living there), two of the most enthusiastic naturalists I have ever met, especially among deadly insects and snakes. These spiders no doubt live on young birds of the smallest kind, humming birds; also mice. Their bite often causes death to man, and at any time a most terrible fever. The spiders I have in my possession I feed on cockroaches, sand beetles and moths. I have also tried them with very young sparrows."

Getting Rid of the King.

Prince Bismarck told a story the other day of the battlefield of Konigratz. The old emperor, then king of Prussia, had exposed himself and his staff to the enemy's fire, and would not hear of retreating to a safe distance. At last Prince Bismarck rode up to him, saying: "As responsible minister I must insist upon your majesty's retreat to a safe distance. If your majesty were to be killed the victory would be of no use to us." The king saw the force of this and slowly retreated, but in his zeal returned again and again to the front. "When I noticed it," Prince Bismarck went on, "I only rose in my saddle and looked at him. He understood perfectly, and called out rather angrily: 'Yes, I am coming.' But we did not get on fast enough, and at last I rode up close to the king, took my foot out of the right stirrup, and secretly gave his horse an energetic kick. Such a thing had never before happened to the fat mare, but the move was successful, for she shot off in a fine canter."

A Rare Qualification.

A New York housekeeper recently went to inspect a batch of newly-arrived emigrants, and picked out a modest-looking Norwegian lass.

"Can you cook?"

"No."

"Can you see after the children?"

"No."

"Then, pray, what can you do?"

"Milk reindeer."—Boston Globe.

Irreparable Loss.

Yabsley—I hear that a burglar got away with your best suit of clothes the other night.

Mudge—Yes, he did. And the worst of it is there were ten dollars in one of the pockets. I can get another suit easily enough, but it is going to make me hustle to make up that ten.—Indianapolis Journal.

Reproved.

Clara—I heard that Miss Clinker told you the other night that my gowns never fitted me.

Maude—Yes, and I was very much provoked with her.

Clara—What did you say to her?

Maude—I told her that she was altogether too blunt.—Judge.

A Peculiar Mistake.

Old Mr. Fulton Ferry is becoming very absent-minded. Meeting Johnny Fizzletop he asked:

"Are you the only son in the family?"

"Yes, sir."

"Humph! I've been taking you for your brother ever since I first saw you."—Texas Siftings.

Righteous Indignation.

The Bride—Kiss me again, dear.

The Groom—But, Madge, I have done nothing but kiss you for the last three hours!

The Bride (bursting into tears)—Traitor! You love another!—Truth.

May Have Merited the Advice.

Amateur Artist—I should like to present the last picture I painted to some charitable institution; now, which would you recommend?

Cruel Lady Friend—The blind asylum.—Life's Calendar.

The Proper Correction.

"I can't do this example," said little Miss Bleecker to her governess from Boston.

"Oh, you mustn't say that."

"Well, I cawn't do it, then."—Frank Leslie's Weekly.

Had Been Tested Before.

Minnie—I simply couldn't have refused Jack after he offered me this lovely engagement ring.

Gladys—Yes. Jack has always placed great reliance in that ring.—Chicago News.

No Novelty in That.

Friend—Doctor, did you ever fight a duel?

Doctor—A duel? No, indeed. What novelty would it be for me to kill a man?—Texas Siftings.

A Gay Lothario.

"It is an outrage the way you treat me," said Miss Esmerelda Longcoffin, the belle of Harlem, to Hostetter McGinnis.

"How so, Miss Esmerelda?"

"You have sworn to love and cherish me, and now you are making love to another young woman. It is a hideous outrage."

"Be calm, Esmerelda, be calm. I'm going to go back on her, too."—Texas Siftings.

Family Discipline.

Mrs. Bandry is an Austin parent who is very severe with her children. She maintains strict discipline, and never allows them to speak out loud. A few days ago Mrs. Bandry and her little daughter Maud were about to go calling, when the latter said: "Ma, your hair is coming down."

"Child, when you speak to me you must do it in silence."—Texas Siftings.

An Explanation.

Mrs. New Lucre—Susette, a friend of mine informed me that, on last Wednesday evening, at about eight o'clock, she met you walking in the park with my husband. Is this true?

Susette (indignantly)—Non, madame! Eet is not true; it was on Jursday evening, about ten o'clock.—Brooklyn Life

"NO MORE DOCTORS FOR ME!
They said I was consumptive, sent me to Florida, told me to keep quiet, no excitement, and no tennis. Just think of it. One day I found a little book called 'Guide to Health,' by Mrs. Pinkham, and in it I found out what ailed me. So I wrote to her, got a lovely reply, told me just what to do, and I am in splendid health now."

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable Compound conquers all those weaknesses and ailments so prevalent with the sex, and restores perfect health.

All Druggists sell it as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00.

For the cure of Kidney Complaints, either sex, the Compound has no rival.

Mrs. Pinkham freely answers letters of inquiry. Enclose stamp for reply.

Send two 2-cent stamps for Mrs. Pinkham's beautiful 32-page illustrated book, entitled "GUIDE TO HEALTH AND ETIQUETTE." It contains a volume of valuable information. It has saved lives, and may save yours.

THE LAST SAD RITES

A Brief Service Over Mrs Harrison This Morning.

ON THE WAY TO INDIANAPOLIS

Vice-President Morton and the Cabinet Officers Honorary Pall Bearers—The Funeral Proper to be Held at Her Old Home To-morrow Morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning, in the presence of the President and his family, the Vice-President, the Cabinet officers and the members of their families, the brief funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Harrison commenced.

The casket, which was strewn with flowers, of which Mrs. Harrison was exceedingly fond, was removed to the East room, where the exercises were held, last evening.

Rev. Dr. Hamlin opened with the recitation of a few selections from the Scriptures adapted to the occasion, closing with a short invocation. Rev. Dr. Bartlett then read the Scripture lesson, following which the boy choir of St. John's Episcopal Church, recessed in the adjoining parlor, sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say Come Unto Me and Rest."

Dr. Hamlin offered the closing prayer, and as those present left the room, the choir rendered Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light."

The body bearers were chosen from the watchmen and messengers of the White House. They were Messrs. Loeffler, Turner, Bubois, Kenny, Brickner, Harrie, Lewis and Hollinberger.

Vice-President Morton and the members of the Cabinet present were honorary bearers. The funeral cortege proceeded to the Pennsylvania Railroad station, and shortly before noon the start was made for Indianapolis.

All the members of the President's family, with the exception of his three grandchildren, accompany the remains of Mrs. Harrison. This, of course, includes Dr. Scott, the venerable father of Mrs. Harrison.

It was at first thought that his advanced age would prevent his making the trip, but when the matter was broached to him he emphatically declared that he proposed to go, and would not listen to a proposition to the contrary.

J. H. McKee, the President's son-in-law, is also with the party.

Others accompanying the remains are Lieutenant and Mrs. Parker, Mr. Findlay of Baltimore, cousin of the President; Vice-President Morton, Secretary of State and Mrs. Foster, Mrs. S. B. Elkins, Attorney General and Mrs. Miller, Postmaster General Wanamaker, Mrs. Wilmerding, Secretary No ble, Secretary and Mrs. Rusk, Private Secretary Halford, Col. D. H. Ernest, Mrs. R. C. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Boyd, Miss Sanger.

The pall bearers who will officiate at Indianapolis are H. R. Allen, John B. Elam, Hugh Hanna, E. B. Martindale, Gen. Lew Wallace, of Crawfordsville; William E. Niblack, of Vincennes; John R. Elder and T. P. Haughey.

The funeral train will reach Indianapolis early to-morrow morning, and at about 10 o'clock the Church services will begin.

They will take place in the First Presbyterian Church on the corner of New York and Pennsylvania streets. Rev. Dr. N. L. Haines, pastor of that church, will officiate. The body will then be taken to Crown Hill Cemetery and buried, after which the President and the party will return to Washington. The services at Indianapolis will be very simple.

INDIANAPOLIS IN MOURNING.

Business Houses and Residences Draped Out of Respect.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27.—Many of the business firms along Illinois, Washington and Pennsylvania streets, through which the funeral cortege of Mrs. Harrison will pass to the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning, have draped their buildings, and the city presents a marked contrast to its appearance last week, when it was arrayed in bunting in honor of the great discoverer.

The drapery consists of black bands encircling the houses from cornice to foundation, equally festooned with white of the same material.

For the time and until after the obsequies there will be no political demonstrations in the city, both parties having cancelled all engagements out of respect to the dead mistress of the White House. When the remains reach this city they will be transferred directly to the church, where a short service will be held, and from the church they will be taken to Crown Hill Cemetery for interment.

The funeral cortege will move north on Pennsylvania street to Vermont street, then east to Delaware street and north to Seventh and West to Meridian, which is the principal thoroughfare leading to the cemetery.

This route will take the cortege past the family residence on Delaware street, which was the home of Mrs. Harrison for many years prior to her removal to Washington, and with which was associated so many of her most pleasant memories.

COMMENT FROM ABROAD.

What the London Papers Say of Mrs. Harrison's Death.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The "Times" says of the death of Mrs. Harrison: "The death of Mrs. Harrison is an event of more than ordinary importance, inasmuch as her husband's success may in a very large degree be ascribed to her. Wide in her culture, catholic in her ideas and tastes, she broadened her circle of friends with advancing years. Her death will cause genuine widespread sorrow."

The "Chronicle" says: "Very great sympathy with President Harrison will be felt everywhere. Mrs. Harrison was the counterpart of her husband, whose private character is admired and respected even by his political enemies."

The "Daily News" expresses admiration of Mrs. Harrison's courage in going to Washington when she knew her illness was fatal, adding: "She has won the regard of the American nation, by her worth of character and devotion to her husband."

ABSOLUTELY PURE

MILBANK IS DEAD.

Reported Demise of the Family Exterminator Confirmed.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The news of the death of Harry Vane Milbank, the duelist, is confirmed.

He died on Monday at Davos Platz, Switzerland, of a broken constitution.

Harry Vane Milbank was an Englishman by birth but has lived on the continent the greater part of his life.

He was educated at Eton and afterwards joined the Blues.

With his regiment he passed through the war in the Soudan and was present with General Herbert Stewart when the latter was killed.

His principal other occupation has been to spend money and fight duels.

He has owned racing stables in England, Germany and France, and, while not known as a plunger, he has been a constant player at most of the gaming clubs of the European capitals.

He has gone the pace as few, even of his own countrymen, have done.

How many duels Milbank fought even his best friends do not know, but he is said to have participated in seventeen or eighteen.

The natural inference is that a man who has killed four men in single combat is a bloodthirsty monster. But Milbank claimed that he never provoked a quarrel. He considered himself unfortunate in having obtained a reputation as a duellist which he has been compelled to uphold all over Europe, where, particularly in France and Italy, ambitious fighters have schemed to bring about quarrels for the sake of testing their skill with pistol or rapier against an Englishman.

Harry Milbank was a son of Sir Frederick Milbank and a grandson of Mark Milbank, who married the daughter of the first Duke of Cleveland. His sister was the wife of Count Kliest von Loss, a German nobleman, who is a brother-in-law of the Duke of Hamilton.

The young man spent 300,000 pounds, but still had a large fortune left. Had he lived, there was a probability that within a short time he might have been numbered among the score of richest Englishmen.

The late Duke of Cleveland, whose personal estate after his death was valued at 5,000,000 pounds sterling, was one of the greatest mineral owners in Great Britain. He owned a large part of Durham and the richest coal and iron district in England.

Sir Frederick Milbank would have been the unquestioned heir to this entire estate had he not consented some time ago to cut off the entail in consideration of 500,000 pounds.

Milbank's part in the Borrowe-Drayton scandal was that of a friend of Hallett Alsop Borrowe, when the latter was challenged by Mr. James Coleman Drayton, on account, it is understood, of alleged attentions by Mr. Borrowe to Mrs. Augusta Drayton, the third daughter of the late William Astor.

A GREAT GRAIN BLOCKADE.

Western Elevators Filled and Thousands of Cars Side-tracked.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—There are 10,000 loaded grain cars here, and there is absolutely no place to unload them. Every elevator is full, few of the shippers are inclined to pay the full rate, and the majority do not care to handle it at any price.

The reason for the lack of lake transportation is that every elevator from Toledo to Buffalo seems to be as full as those in Chicago are. Eastbound lines from Chicago are beginning to hold their cars. If they took every car of the traffic offered them they might easily see the time within a few weeks when all their cars would be used as storehouses on trunk line side tracks.

Exactly this state of affairs is coming about in a less degree on Western roads. Cars are being piled up in Chicago at a rate which will soon make the blockade of last year an insignificant affair. To remove the blockade from here is exactly the same as pushing the Chicago end of a rope, the other end of which is in New York city. The rope must be pulled from the New York end.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Oct. 27.—The grain blockade and car famine has set in. In northwest Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska the roads are unable to handle any grain at all, and most of the lines are refusing to take grain. The inflow of grain since the roads became swamped has filled elevators everywhere, and all sorts of buil dings are being used temporarily for grain warehouses.

On 90 miles of track of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, in South Dakota, 327 cars were standing on side tracks Saturday night and cannot be moved for want of motive power. The same night 110 cars came into Aberdeen from the Jim River line, and this completed the demoralization. The other lines are in little better shape. In many cases buyers have quit taking grain from farmers.

SEEK DIVORCE AFTER FORTY YEARS.

Both Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, of Cohoes, File Petitions.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—William Moore, a wealthy knit-goods manufacturer, of Cohoes, has brought suit for absolute divorce. Mrs. Moore has made a general denial of the complaint, and petitions for a divorce from her husband on statutory grounds.

Mr. Moore is 65 years old, and his wife a few years younger. They have been married nearly 40 years. A few years ago the husband and wife signed articles of separation, Mrs. Moore receiving $100 a month and one-third of the value of the house in which they had lived.

It is stated that Mr. Moore wants to sell the Cohoes residence to the Young Women's Christian association, and last week sent a paper to his wife for her signature. She refused to sign. The divorce suit followed.

The Moores have a daughter, the wife of a lawyer in the South.

NOTES OF THE CANVASS

Committeeman Quincy Sees No Hope for Republicans.

THE OUTLOOK IN NEW JERSEY.

Republican State Committee Has Cheering Advices from all Quarters—New York County Democrats Withdraw Their Candidates—General Stevenson's Plans.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Josiah Quincy, the Massachusetts member of the Democratic National Committee, has given to the press his views in detail on the national political outlook. New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana he considers reasonably sure for Cleveland.

Says he: "The number of votes required to elect in the Electoral College this year is 223. If we get the votes of all the Southern States and of the four Northern States above named, Cleveland will have 226 votes, and will be elected even though the line of former Republican States continues unbroken at every point. But we are sure of five or six votes for Cleveland in Michigan, so that we could lose Connecticut or West Virginia and still elect him by a clear majority.

"But suppose that we should lose both these States—and West Virginia is normally such a close State that perhaps we cannot count with certainty upon her electoral vote—this would leave us with 219 votes, allowing only five from Michigan, and while this number polls four votes short of a clear majority, it would elect Cleveland in the House, for the People's party is perfectly sure to get as many as three electoral votes, which would prevent the Republicans from having a majority.

"It is interesting to observe that even if the utmost Republican claims should be realized by any chance in the South, and if Harrison should get the 28 electoral votes of West Virginia, North Carolina and Alabama, Cleveland would still have in the remaining Southern States, and New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana and Michigan, 203 electoral votes, and if we secured 19 votes, the election would even then be thrown into the House.

"I have not counted the four votes of New Hampshire or the three of Rhode Island. There is at least an even chance that the former will go for Cleveland and the latter is, at the least, uncertain for Harrison.

"It seems to me, therefore, that while there are uncertainties on both sides, the sum of the uncertainties is decidedly against the Republicans. They may possibly carry New York, but they have not such grounds for confidence in that State as the Democrats have; or they may possibly re-elect Harrison without the votes of New York, though the odds are certainly heavily against such a result."

OUTLOOK IN JERSEY.

The Republican State Committee Full of Confidence.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 27. — Chairman Franklin Murphy of the Republican State Committee gives the following as his opinion of the political outlook in New Jersey:

"The State Committee is prosecuting the campaign with all the vigor that it possesses. Regular meetings of the committee are held every Tuesday. The meetings of the Executive Committee may be said to be continuous. Their work has been greatly aided by the candidate for Governor, whose large political experience makes his judgment of the greatest value to them. As an evidence of the vigor with which the work is being executed, it might be stated that sixty meetings were held last week under the auspices of the State Committee, and these do not include a large number of smaller meetings held under the direction of the various county committees.

"The advices from all over the State indicate a most hopeful condition of affairs.

"It is the opinion of old campaigners that there has not been so much enthusiasm in the Republican cause since the war.

"The State committee is fully aware of the dissensions in the Democratic ranks, as well as the dissatisfaction among the people with the Democratic administration. As a matter of fact, the Democratic party is on the defensive, and the committee proposes to keep them there by pursuing an aggressive campaign until election, in the full belief that the time has come when the people are tired of Democratic misrule, and will place in the hands of the Republican party the responsibility of the State government."

Speeches by Gov. McKinley.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Many prominent visitors were at National Republican Headquarters yesterday, including Senators Aldrich and Quay, Congressman Quackenbush of New York, ex-Congressman Burleigh of New York and B. F. Jones of Pennsylvania. The appointments for Gov. McKinley in New York and Pennsylvania were arranged as follows: Poughkeepsie, Monday afternoon, Oct. 31; Brooklyn, Monday evening; Utica, Tuesday afternoon; Rochester, Tuesday evening; Towanda, Wednesday afternoon; Scranton, on Wednesday evening.

Cheney on the New Hampshire Situation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Ex-Gov. P. C. Cheney of New Hampshire is in town conferring with the Republican campaign managers. Talking of the situation in that State he said the canvass showed that, even making all allowances for the other side, the Republicans have the advantage and there was no longer any doubt that Harrison and the Republican nominee for Governor would win.

MORE TROUBLE IN HAYTI.

Revolution Against Hippolyte's Government Said to be Imminent.

PANAMA, via. GALVESTON, October 26.—The discord in Hayti between the supporters of General Hippolyte's government and those of General Manignat are reaching a culmination, and it is thought that a revolution will shortly break out against Hippolyte.

His antagonists are becoming bolder every day.

All the principal Haytian centers, except Jacmel, have given majorities for the Liberal party, and make no concealment of the favor with which they regard the movement of General Manignat.

President Hippolyte cannot trust even his nearest councillors.

A conspiracy has been discovered among the members of the Cabinet and the officers of the navy for the overthrow of Hippolyte and to aid in putting Manignant at the head of affairs.

Several arrests have been made and the alleged traitors have been put in close confinement.

Whether their heads will fall will probably depend upon the events of the next four days.

The conspirators proposed, it is stated, to suborn the navy and turn the vessels over to the enemies of the government.

It is reported that a great defalcation has been discovered in the collection of the customs duties, showing that Hippolyte's subordinates have been robbing the treasury on their account, and this development has added to the public dissatisfaction and anxiety for a change.

Hippolyte, it is said, has resolved to make a diplomatic issue with Great Britain on the subject of the expedition from Kingston, Jamaica, that came to a fiasco in that harbor, and to learn whether Great Britain has a right, with impunity, to permit Jamaica to be a hatching place for conspiracies, and a starting point for revolutionary expeditions against existing authority in Hayti.

Hippolyte will demand redress for the injury which he claims to be done by the toleration and encouragement given to filibusterers in Jamaica.

Meantime it is reported that the general difficulty in the way of the Manignat faction is the lack of funds. This, Hippolyte hopes, will make the exiles in Jamaica impotent for the time being to take advantage of the situation in Hayti.

DENIED AT AUBURN.

The Moulton Interview at Chicago Regarding Perry Declared Untrue.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Edgar Lydon Moulton, of London, a retired East India merchant, who is in the United States examining the penal institutions on behalf of the Prison Reform society, is at the Palmer house.

He was visiting the Auburn, N. Y., penitentiary last week, when Perry, the train robber, escaped. He saw Perry's capture, and says:

"One of the keepers grabbed a heavy billet of wood, and, though Perry was not then unruly, hit him over the head, knocking him insensible, and injuring him so badly that I was informed he could not recover. The assault on the prisoner seemed to me to be entirely uncalled for and unprovoked.

"I have traveled all over Europe visiting prisons, and at the time of the prison reform congress in St. Petersburg some years ago I saw the prisons of the Czar. Much as they are to be condemned, I have never seen or heard directly of a single case of brutality which equaled the attack made on the defenseless prisoner in Auburn."

AUBURN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—The Moulton interview is untrue. The capture of Perry was effected at 2 a. m., at which time the blow was given, and, of course, no outsider witnessed the act.

After hurling a stone at a keeper, Perry was felled to the ground by a blow from the keeper's cane, which was the only blow dealt. He recovered in a few moments and poured forth a volley of abuse at the officials. He is still in the dungeon, and is reported "not seriously injured."

AFFAIRS OF UNION SEMINARY.

Two More Directors Resign and Others Contemplate Such a Move.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—In addition to Drs. Hall and Booth, two more of the directors of the Union Theological Seminary have resigned their positions as directors. The two men are Rev. Erskine N. White of this city and the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia.

The resignations are the outcome of the difference of opinion between the faculty of the Union Theological Seminary and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

It is said that the Rev. Dr. John C. Bliss, Moderator of the presbytery, who is said not to be in thorough accord with his fellow seminary directors in their act of secession; Dr. William A. Booth of Englewood, N. J., and Dr. Worcester, Professor of Systematic Theology, also contemplate resigning.

The resignations of Drs. Booth and Hall are irrevocable. They will not be asked to reconsider their decision, but their letters will be placed before the Seminary Board at its next meeting and their places will be filled soon.

Dr. Booth explains his action by saying that his resignation was not caused by any bad feeling. It is simply a belief that the compact made between the General Assembly and the seminary, two religious bodies, cannot be abrogated. It has been abrogated, and first-class lawyers have supported the legality of the action. With him it is a matter of conscience.

Mitkiewicz Gets His Furniture.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The case of Julian Wall, the Washington agent of R. J. Horner of New York, against Count Eugene D. Mitkiewicz and others, came up for hearing yesterday before Judge Bradley in the Circuit Court, upon a motion of the defendant Mitkiewicz, for a return of the property recently seized by the marshal under a writ of replevin issued in the case. After argument, the court granted the motion of the defendant's attorneys and passed an order directing the marshal to return to the Count the property seized.

Denouncing Premier Loubet.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The decision of Premier Loubet in the Carmaux arbitration has astounded the Radicals and enraged the miners, who look upon it as a virtual surrender to the mine owners. Deputies Miller, Pelletan and Clemenceau have sent telegrams to Carmaux denouncing the Premier's conclusions, and a meeting of Republican Deputies has been called to be held in Paris to-day. The crisis is worse than ever.

THE READING ALLIANCE

A Most Important Extension of the Trunk System.

DETAILS OF THE CONSOLIDATION.

The Entrance of the P. & R. into the Boston & Maine Has No Speculative Significance—Hard and Soft Coal Traffic Will be Benefited—Advantages to the City of Philadelphia.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The friendly alliance made yesterday between the Boston & Maine and Reading systems will undoubtedly be very remunerative to both companies. It may be of interest to know that the aggregate mileage of the allied roads will exceed 9,000 miles, and that the combined system will carry on its pay rolls over 130,000 employes.

The meeting resulted in the resignation of William T. Hart, a director of the Boston & Maine, and the vacancy was filled by the election of Archibald A. McLeod, president of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad.

President Frank Jones, of the Boston & Maine, then tendered his resignation, and Mr. McLeod was unanimously elected to the presidency in his place.

The position of chairman of the Board of Directors was created, and Mr. Jones was chosen to fill it, being charged with the executive management of the Boston & Maine system as heretofore.

The Reading will now distribute its enormous merchandise and coal traffic into New England over the Boston & Maine system, and Boston will be made the centre of the distribution.

For some time minor details of the new relationship have been under consideration, but they were not fully formulated until last Monday, when President McLeod met representatives of the Boston & Maine railroad in New York and matters were brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

Mr. McLeod was reluctant to take upon himself the cares and responsibilities other than those now resting upon him; but, after looking over the situation carefully, and believing that such an alliance would be greatly to the advantage of both properties, he decided to take hold and to give whatever assistance he could to the practical development, and he trusts the successful operation of the property.

After he arrived at this determination he enlisted many of his friends and associates of large means, whose financial strength will be of great benefit to the property.

It is said that the New York & New England road will be used as a connecting link in certain directions, and, further, that the entrance of the Reading into the Boston & Maine system has no speculative significance, but is entirely for the development of the property; also, that the large expenditures recently made by the Boston & Maine in the acquisition of the property of the McLean Insane Asylum at Somerville and elsewhere were unquestionably made with this pending alliance in view.

The effect of this alliance will not only be an advantage to the anthracite, but to the bituminous coal traffic. Apart, however, from the coal interests, the consolidation means a most important extension of the Trunk system, which the Reading management has developed. It means a new and great independent line for the transportation of wheat, oil, manufactured goods and general merchandise.

The advantage to Philadelphia, not only as a manufacturing, but a commercial centre, will be incalculable. With its independent roads to the lakes by the way of Buffalo, to the West and South by way of Pittsburg and Baltimore, Philadelphia has, through this new Reading alliance, likewise its own direct road to New England and the Canadas.

FIERCE FOREST FIRES.

Fears That the Flames May Reach a Powder Mill.

FARMINGDALE, N. J., Oct. 27.—The forest along the tracks of the New Jersey Southern railroad, between this place and Columbia siding, is on fire, and is being rapidly consumed.

A large force is making a fight, rendered almost ineffectual, owing to the dryness of the underbrush.

The fire is on the west side of the tracks, and fears are entertained that if the flames spread across the tracks they may reach the works of the Columbia powder mills, a quarter of a mile distant, where, it is said, several tons of powder are stored.

CHRISTMAS BEEF FOR A QUEEN.

A New Yorker Buys $63,000 Worth of Kentucky Cattle for England.

PARIS, Ky., Oct. 27.—Charlton Alexander, the millionaire banker, of this city, and cattle king of Bourbon county, has just sold 700 fine Durham cattle to T. C. Eastman, of New York city, for $63,000.

The cattle will be shipped to New York to-morrow, and it will require 60 cattle cars to transport them. The cattle will average 1,800 pounds in weight, and are the finest Kentucky ever sent out.

They will be shipped to London for Christmas beef, part of them going to Queen Victoria.

Atlas Line to Have a Rival.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Atlas steamship line, which is an English corporation and has enjoyed for years a monopoly of the Columbian trade, running its line of vessels from this port, is to have a competitor in the shape of a new steamship line, which was organized yesterday. Several New York shippers are at the head of the concern.

Edwin Booth Better.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 27.—Edwin Booth, who has been in poor health since his arrival here about a month ago, was able to take a carriage ride this morning, and upon his return to the hotel said that he felt better than he has for weeks. He does not look as enfeebled as he did, and it is thought he may yet recover.

Joseph Hoffman a Stowaway.

BOMBAY, Oct. 27.—The Bombay "Gazette" says that Joseph Hoffman, the pianoforte prodigy, has reached Calcutta as a stowaway on the ship Buckhurst. He had been visiting a relative in Cardiff where he got aboard the Buckhurst. He will give concerts in Calcutta and other Indian cities.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Friday: For New Jersey, Fair; Slightly Warmer.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—"Hole in the Ground" to-night.

—Don't miss the pretty girls, funny comedians, dancers and singers at Music Hall to-night.

—There will be an interesting meeting of the North Plainfield Democratic association to-night at 8 Local speakers will address.

—The householders seem to have taken the disposition of dead leaves into their own hands. They burn them in big bonfires, in spite of the fire marshal's edict.

—A man named Pitney, who has relatives here, was brought by Dr. Dorland from Somerville last night suffering from nervous disorder. Dr. Probasco sent him to Muhlenberg.

—George McGinnis of Linden avenue, an employe in McCullough's steam mill on Steiner place, North Plainfield, was grinding a tool yesterday when an emery wheel burst and made an ugly cut on his head. Dr. Carman dressed the wound.

—The boxing contest of the Coney Island Athletic club that takes place next Monday night, in which Choyninski, the Californian, and Godfrey, the Bostonian, will figure as principals, will be witnessed by many lovers of the manly art from this city.

—The bowling alley connected with Hope chapel, which has been in operation for about six weeks, has been drawing large attendance each evening. The young men belonging to the chapel seem to enjoy the pastime very much. Last evening the highest score bowled was by Harry Turner, who broke his record of two weeks ago, by bowling 197. This is pretty good for an amateur who began learning the game only lately.

—This morning the sale of seats began for Mr. Dixey's engagement at Music Hall, Saturday evening, where he will present his version of Audran's most charming opera "The Mascot" (up to date). The company is an excellent one in many respects. Miss Juliette Gordon will be the Bettina, Signor Tagliapietra the Pippo, Miss Yolandi Wallace Frametta, Harold C. Blake Frederick, Fred Lennox Rocco, and Mr. Dixey Prince Lorenzo: certainly a strong cast.

—Secretary Riker and superintendent Passmore of the Street Railway company met with the North Plainfield councilmanic committee last night, and discussed the matter of street railway extension. They perfected various details, and agreed on 8 months as the limit for the road to be in operation. As soon as the contract is ratified by the council, the work of construction will be begun, and the road will doubtless be in running order by early spring, unless too severe weather interferes.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy rose in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

HYMENEAL.

Moffett—Runyon.

At the home of the bride, 212 Arlington avenue, last evening, took place the marriage of Miss Marian L. Runyon, daughter of the late J. C. Runyon, to Charles Leonard Moffett of the popular and prosperous law firm of Moffett & Powers.

At 7:30, the bridal party proceeded to the rear parlor of the house, immediately in front of the mantle-piece, which was artistically arranged with potted plants and cut flowers, to represent an altar. They were met by the Rev. Dr. Lowry, who performed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom received the congratulations and good wishes of the 150 guests present. Refreshments were then served.

The bride and groom left on the 9:03 train for New York. They will take a trip through New York State, and on their return will take up their residence in Dunellen, the former home of the groom.

Henry C. Runyon, a brother of the bride, and Linn Edsall acted as ushers and also stood up with the bridal couple.

A sister of the bride presided at the piano and played the wedding march from Lohengrin as the party passed through the rooms. The gifts were numerous and handsome.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cadmus and baby Helen are at grandpa and grandma Cadmus's, Brooklyn, for three weeks.

The death occurred in North Plainfield, yesterday, of Edward Harrigan of Craig place in his fifty-second year.

Mary E., widow of the late Ephriam Briant, died yesterday at her home, 36 West Fifth street, in her seventy-seventh year.

Dr. W. E. Stelle and wife of Park avenue were among the stormed-tossed passengers on board the Teutonic which arrived yesterday.

The Young People's League of the First Baptist church will hold a sociable at the residence of the Misses Marsh, Madison avenue, this evening.

The wedding will take place Nov. 16, at the home of the bride, of Miss Agnes Steinhauser of Jersey City to Thomas Hale, jr., of East Fifth street.

J. Ran Dunn, of 24 West Fourth street, will start for Ashville, N. C., Monday morning. He will spend the winter in that celebrated resort, hoping to benefit his health.

George E. Vincent, of the Chautauqua Assembly, and son of Plainfield's Bishop, went to England recently to secure lecturers for that popular institution. Among others he tried to get Andrew Lang, but that genial author was obliged to decline on account of his health.

It having been found necessary in order to save a good eye, to remove one that has been of no use to H. P. Reynolds for some years, the operation was performed yesterday afternoon at his home on Washington avenue. Dr. Endicott of this city administered the anæsthetic, Dr. Murray held the patient's pulse, and Dr. Kipp, the specialist, performed the operation, which was entirely successful.

News was received in this city this morning of the sudden death of Ferdinand Ruttman, sr., at Brooklyn, yesterday. Mr. Ruttman was for many years a resident of this city, having a beautiful home on the corner of Broadway and Kensington avenue. About two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ruttman took apartments in "The Pierrepont", on Montague street, Brooklyn, and it was there that Mr. Ruttman died. Hundreds of Plainfield people will sympathize with Mrs. Ruttman in her affliction. The funeral takes place to-morrow morning from "The Pierrepont".

The office of THE PRESS was flooded with radiant sunshine this morning when the staff were favored with a pleasant call from the new pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, the Rev. John W. Richardson, and his estimable wife. The clergyman has all the qualities of head and heart to win the high esteem and fellowship of the entire community, and his helpmeet is a most charming little woman. THE PRESS extends its warmest greetings to the newcomers, and assures them that they will find their lines here cast in very pleasant places. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson will reside in Mr. Martine's house on Prospect avenue, adjoining the church.

Better Pay Its Own Rent.

How the Democrats are wishing that election was over so that the Cleveland and Stevenson club could stop paying rent in the Crescent rink.—Courier.

This is another of the envious Courier's spiteful lies. The rent of the Cleveland and Stevenson club's rooms in the Crescent rink building is paid in full up to Nov. 18, ten days after election, while the Republican club, Charley Hand says, has n't paid its rent to date.

DEMOCRACY'S DAY IN PLAINFIELD.

Speeches by Ex-Councilman Cox and Preston Stevenson, and Resolutions of Sympathy With the President.

Democracy's Day was celebrated at the rooms of the Plainfield Cleveland and Stevenson club, last evening, by the reading of the ex-President's letter of acceptance, and speeches by ex-councilman Rowland Cox, of this city, and Preston Stevenson of Bergen county.

The rooms were well filled. President Demarest opened the meeting and introduced Mr. Cox as the presiding officer. Mr. Cox's speech was a gem. Too brief, but clear cut, sapient and eloquent. Mr. Stevenson's was an oration—as fine a one as has been heard in Plainfield during this campaign.

Before the meeting adjourned all present stood up and adopted the following resolutions offered by J. W. Yates:

WHEREAS, We meet in the discussion of public interest, we do not forget there is an Unseen Power higher than we, governing our destinies; and

WHEREAS, It has pleased Divine Providence to remove by death one of the noble women of our country, the wife of the chief magistrate of this nation; therefore be it

Resolved, That we tender our sincere and earnest sympathy and condolence to the President of the United States in this his great bereavement. Be it further

Resolved, That the Cleveland and Stevenson club of Plainfield, New Jersey, to-night assembled, hereby instruct its secretary to send a copy of these resolutions to Benjamin Harrison, President of the United States.

OUR 400 SCANDALIZED!

A New York Paper Says They Were Shocked by Specialties Introduced in "Dr. Bill."

The New York Herald says that "The fashionable women of Plainfield have not recovered from a deception, as they term it, which was practised on them a week ago by two actresses at a performance of 'Dr. Bill' in Stillman Music Hall.

"In a word, the Four Hundred of Plainfield (except the young men) were scandalized by a show which they say was full of vulgarisms and high kicks, and to make matters worse a rector was inveigled into the business along with many of his fashionable parishioners.

"The innocent cause of all this trouble appears to have been H. C. Blake, whose wife, Miss Celie Ellis, played the leading female part in 'Dr. Bill.' Mr. Blake is popular with Plainfield people. He has trained them for their private theatricals, in which they feel the greatest pride. A year ago a company of these amateurs produced 'Esmeralda', and made a decided impression on the select few who witnessed the performance. Mr. Blake had coached the young men and women for this event and they naturally felt grateful to him for having fitted them to produce so great an impression on Plainfield society.

"Now, when it was learned that Mr. Blake's wife was going to Plainfield in 'Dr. Bill', Mr. Blake's friends promised him that they would give her a grand send off. Mayor and Mrs. Saunders were in conspicuous seats, and so were Mr. and Mrs. Brooks and many other people prominent in the town. These good folk evidently expected a refined comedy.

"The execution of the 'kangaroo dance' by Miss Alice Trudelle was so richly embellished with suggestive variations by that young woman that people who had seen the play in New York characterized it as outrageous. The select portion of the audience was glad when it was over. Judge, then, of their horror and dismay when the star of the evening, Miss Celie Ellis (Mrs. Blake) did a drunken act and sang a song which included a reference to being up all night at a wine supper.

"Some of the more fastidious left the theatre after this. Mrs. Blake's song, they said, was not in the play and should have been omitted. Those who stayed until the close of the performance were treated to another dance by Miss Trudelle who appeared this time in abbreviated skirts, black tights and a red garter. This was the last straw. Miss Trudelle, they say, kicked so expressively that the whole female portion of the audience blushed continuously. The young men, however, insisted on encoring the actress half a dozen times."

THOMAS LANE RENOMINATED.

And Candidate Kelly Urges His Friends to Vote for Judge Werts.

The First Assembly District convention of this county, met in Queen's Hall, Elizabeth, yesterday, and nominated by acclamation Timothy Kelly for Assemblyman.

Counselor Kelly came before the convention and in a ringing speech accepted the nomination. Mr. Kelly called upon all his friends to rally to the support of George T. Werts and give him a big majority in November.

The Democrats in the Second District convention, held at Summit, nominated Assemblyman Thomas F. Lane for the third term.

The Third District Democratic convention, held at Westfield, nominated Leonard G. Cohen, sr., of Westfield, as announced in THE PRESS of yesterday.

—Officer Hope captured another wheelbarrow full of coal from Jersey Central coal car thieves last night.

All gone—woman's suffering and woman's weakness. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription puts a stop to it. It's a remedy for all the delicate derangements and disorders that make her suffer, and a cure for all the diseases and disturbances that make her weak. It's a legitimate medicine, that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nervine that soothes and strengthens. For bearing-down pains, displacements, and all the functional irregularities peculiar to the sex, it's a safe and certain remedy.

Other medicines claim to cure!

That's true. But they don't claim to do this: if the "Favorite Prescription" fails to benefit or cure, in any case for which it's recommended, the money paid for it is refunded.

Judge for yourself which is likely to be the better medicine.

And think whether something else offered by the dealer is likely to be "just as good."

You pay only for the good you get. On these terms it's the cheapest.

WERTS NOT INDIFFERENT

HE IS ANXIOUS TO BE THE NEXT GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY.

He Makes an Emphatic Denial of the Stories that He Cares Not for the Result of the Campaign and Says He Expects the Vote and Influence of Every True Democrat—The Reports that He Did Not Care to Be Elected, He Is Aware, Emanated from Those Who Want the Republicans to Win.

(From The New York World.)

One of the stories that has been persistently circulated during the present campaign with a view to injuring Judge Werts's candidacy is that charging that he does not care whether he is elected or defeated. The story was told before the Judge accepted the nomination, and it has been told and retold so many times since that a good many unthinking persons may have believed it.

Judge Werts himself has heard the story a score of times, but believing that the persons who were engaged in circulating it would eventually see how absurd it was he paid no attention to it.

The position of dignified silence which the Judge assumed at the outset of the campaign as a tribute to the honorable position of Justice of the Supreme Court, which he is occupying, and the fact that he tried so hard before the State Convention met to defeat his own nomination, gave his enemies a rare opportunity to circulate the lie.

The Judge's friends, who were aware of his real sentiments regarding the result of the election and knew that he was anxious to win, did everything in their power to show that the story was untrue and unwarranted.

Judge Francis Child, of Morristown, one of Judge Werts's most intimate friends, at last wrote the Judge calling his attention to the story and asking him whether it was true or not.

"For my own part", Judge Childs wrote, "I know it is absolutely untrue and false, but I think a statement from yourself to that effect would forever put an end to the ambition of the mischief-makers who are so assiduously circulating it."

Judge Werts, upon reading the letter from his friend, wrote the following reply, which explains itself:

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 25, 1892.

Hon. Francis Childs:

MY DEAR SIR—Yours, saying that certain persons, representing themselves to be my personal friends, are stating that I am indifferent as to the result of the Gubernatorial contest, is received.

Such action, by any person or alleged friend, is entirely unwarranted and unauthorized by any act or declaration of mine. So far from being indifferent as to the result, I am, of course, anxious to succeed and expect to receive the vote and influence of every loyal Democrat in the State.

Although restrained by my official position from any participation in the campaign, I feel I can with propriety make this statement, in justice not only to myself but to the party whose nominee I am.

I could appreciate the motives of the "friends" you allude to more highly were I not fully aware that they are prompted rather by a longing desire for the success of the Republican party than anxiety for the welfare of the Democratic candidate.

Yours very truly,
GEORGE T. WERTS.

LED THE TRAIL FROM PLAINFIELD.

Interesting History of the Prairie Pioneers Who Founded Jersey County in Honor of Their Native Soil.

Concerning the death of Lewis Randolph, late uncle of Martha J. and Mary E. Runyon of 126 West Front street, which was briefly noted in these columns some days ago, the Jersey County Democrat of Jerseyville, Ill., publishes the following:

Lewis Randolph was born in Bernards township, Somerset county, New Jersey, on the 13th day of Dec., 1808. He was the second son of Peter and Harriet Randolph. Mr. Randolph was a blacksmith by trade, making it his business in a country place, having a small farm where he resided and which he managed in connection with his trade, doing country blacksmithing and making augers until that business failed. Lewis worked on the farm or in the shop as his help was mostly needed until the spring of 1828, when on the 24th of May he was married to Mary Ann Compton, daughter of Moore and Mary (Anderson) Compton and who was born March 28, 1810. In the spring of 1829 he moved on a farm bought by his father, where he resided until 1837, living as one unbroken family but always having a desire to see the far west. Fully making up his mind about the first of September to go west, he sold the farm, and on the 10th of October, 1837, with his wife and three children and Miss Eliza Jane Compton, sister of his wife and now Mrs. J. K. Stelle, living in Jerseyville, also Bryant Cross, Jacob K. Stelle, Isaac Goltra, now Dr. Goltra, of Springfield, Ill., Stephen Sutton and James T. Harris, he started on the long journey traveling in wagons. Having good roads and fine weather, their new mode of living seemed pleasant, as they always camped out wherever night overtook them, until they had performed the largest part of their journey. But in passing through a part of Ohio, Indiana and the eastern part of Illinois they had to travel over a new cut road—stumps in the timber, and new on the prairies. They took it patiently, as they were doing as well as others, they being pretty thickly scattered along the route, going both ways to and from the country. On the 21st of November they landed in Jacksonville on a most disagreeable and rainy day, perfectly satisfied to unload and go to housekeeping for a while and also giving them a chance of finding a place to make a home. Mr. Randolph selected the place where he resided until his death, on the part of the 13th section of township 7, range 11, then a part of Greene county, but by an act of the Legislature in 1839 it was divided and the southern part was called Jersey county. Here he arrived on the 21st day of April, 1838, after a three days' travel from Jacksonville to St. Louis. Mr. Randolph has always been an exemplary citizen and was deeply interested in everything that would add to or develop the welfare of the country. He held the office of school treasurer for many years and was a director in the Farmers' Insurance company since its organization, and was also a trustee of the Baptist church for more than twenty years. About three weeks ago he was stricken with paralysis, and although deprived of the use of a portion of his limbs, and his speech somewhat affected, still he was resigned and not a murmuring word passed his lips; and so he quietly passed away on October 8, 1892, leaving a wife and five children and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

THAT PLAINFIELD PASTOR'S BOOK.

How Dr. Lewis of the Seventh-Day Church Traces Modern Christianity Back to Old-World Paganism.

(From The Sabbath Recorder.)

"Paganism Surviving in Christianity" is the title of the new book by Dr. A. H. Lewis of Plainfield, just published by G. P. Putman's Sons in New York. We have not yet seen the book, but from what we know of Dr. Lewis's investigations along the lines indicated by its title, we have no hesitancy in commending it to the careful perusal of all our readers.

The Church Union for October makes the following comments on it:

"Dr. Lewis has written pretty extensively upon the various phases in which the Sabbath-Sunday question is viewable; and in this line of authorship has received much commendation, which, in our judgment, he has richly deserved. The present work, in a somewhat new field, is distinguished by the same degree of painstaking research and of what he believes to be both important and true, as characterize his finer literary labors. His principal object is to show that the pagan systems which antedated the coming of Christ exercised a 'controlling influence on the development of the first five centuries of Western Christianity, and hence of all subsequent time'. In other words, he considers the early historic Christianity in its relation to Greek and Roman thought; and does this in the belief that only by a right understanding of such thought and its corresponding practice in the sphere of religion, can any one hope to obtain a true insight into the underlying philosophy which seems to explain the church of the first centuries. The four practical points which Dr. Lewis purposed to illustrate are (1), the influence of pagan thought upon the Bible and on interpretation; (2), this same influence in the growth of the organized church, through the pagan 'water-worship cult'; (3), also as it is discernible in the spiritual life of the church by bringing about a substitution of pagan holidayism for Christian Sabbathism, through 'the sun-worship cult'; and (4), as this potent influence is further seen in the subsequent character of the church, by the union of church and State, and thus the subjugation of Christianity to the civil power according to a pagan model. And upon these topics the author tells us he has written, for those who are thoughtful and earnest, who are anxious to know what the past has been that they may better understand the duties of the present and the unfolding issues of the future'. The issues involved, we are further instructed, are larger than denominational boundaries or the territory of creeds, and are of special interest to those who would understand the Protestant revolt against Romanism, and what are to be the relations in time to come of these divisions of Christendom to each other and to the meanings of Holy Scripture. It is not possible to read this volume without being impressed with its contents as presenting new views of old truths, and views that are winsome of the most cultivated mental eyesight. Perhaps the book is burdened with too much quotation. It would, we think, have been better had Dr. Lewis put himself to the labor of sifting his authorities more carefully, and given us the best in occasional foot notes rather than occupy the text with so many extracts from authors who add little or nothing to the weight of the principal ones. The book is printed and bound finely."

A RARE TREAT TO-NIGHT.

Hoyt's "Hole in the Ground" to be Presented at Music Hall by the Original Company.

Hoyt's piece called "A Hole in the Ground", to be given by the original company at Music Hall, this evening, has had the test of many years' performance; and it is to all intents and purposes as entertaining to-day as at the hour when it was first presented to a delighted public. The things which it caricatures so comically still exist and will exist until traveling is no more; hence the play is always of contemporaneous interest. In this piece as in every other that Hoyt has written, the everyday people among whom we continually move are portrayed with a fidelity which no other American playwright has approached. That quality in Mr. Hoyt's work seems to have been ignored by the solemn people who inveigh against him and his works. The characters in this piece are not of the refined type; they don't belong to the element whom we call the best people. But they do represent with picturesque truth the commoner sort of Americans. Surely that phase of our civilization ought not to be neglected any more than the other and more polished phase.

The part of the Station Agent is acted now as of old by Frank Lawton, who makes the most of the part. The other characters are well taken and the various specialties in the way of singing and dancing are performed with skill.

The healing and purifying qualities of Salvation Oil render it the best article for the speedy cure of ulcerated sores. 25c.

GEISSENHAINER WINNING VOTES.

Even Somerset Will Give Him a Majority Which the Republicans Expected.

The Democrats of Somerset had a jubilee in Germania Hall, Somerville, last night. All of the townships were well represented. Music by two bands and a drum corps combined, with red fire and cheers, filled in the time until the meeting was called to order. The ladies present were frequently regaled with loud cries by a strong-lunged individual as to whether Mr. Cleveland was all right or not. The crowd invariably answered that he was. On a similar question being asked about Mr. Harrison, some fellow howled "Rats!" and the crowd laughed. The speeches were made by the Hon. Girard B. Brown of Connecticut, the Hon. George E. Pace of Millstone, and the Hon. Jacob A. Geissenhainer, the Congressional nominee of the Third district. The speakers were frequently interrupted by cheers and applause.

If appearances are not deceiving, Mr. Geissenhainer will get the majority in Somerset, which he does not expect. Since last week, when in a speech there, Hoffman, the Republican nominee for Congress, reviled the memory of a young lawyer, who was very popular there, his stock has gone way below par. After the meeting the band played "The wearing of the green", and the crowd went home.

A Fine Business Improvement.

The handsome new archway connecting Doane & Edsall's shoe department with Edsall's dry goods store, is completed, and is one of the finest and most important business improvements made in this city for a long time. The two elegant stores, filled as they are with the best and most desirable goods the market affords, present a very attractive and metropolitan appearance. The formal opening occurs to-morrow and will continue for several days, at which time special introductory bargains will be offered. The proprietors of these popular stores are to be congratulated upon their enterprise.

Stole Her Watch Before Her Face.

Three colored crooks came out from New York, last night, and "worked" the ball held in the Crescent rink by Cypress Commandery of colored Knights Templar. Mrs. Julia Randolph of Park avenue, one of the most admired belles of colored society, had her gold watch stolen by one of the crooks while he sat talking to her. Her husband, William B. Randolph, said to be the most graceful square-dancer in the city, neglected to have the thief seized and searched for fear of a counter-charge of false imprisonment in case the watch was not found in the man's possession.

"Ah, doctor," exclaimed the old lady, "you have described my feelings exactly."—Texas Siftings.

A BROOKLYN SENSATION.

Society Shocked by Divorce Proceedings in High Life.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Oct. 27.—A sensation was caused among the fashionable residents of Brooklyn Heights yesterday by the announcement of a suit for absolute divorce brought by Mrs. William H. Langley, the wife of the wealthiest citizen of Brooklyn. It was also stated that the husband had determined to bring a counter suit for divorce and an action for damages for the alienation of his wife's affections, the well-known lawyer, Wm. C. DeWitt, being involved.

The defendant, W. H. Langley, is many times over a millionaire.

Mr. Langley's answer is a complete denial of all the offenses alleged. He has also determined, on the authority of his lawyer, Chauncey Truax, to bring a counter suit and an action for $250,000 damages against William C. DeWitt for the alienation of Mrs. Langley's affections.

Mrs. Langley's friends say that this talk is only intended as a bluff to frighten Mrs. Langley into an abandonment of the suit, through her fear of the scandal attaching to such an action, but Mr. Truax denies this.

Mr. De Witt is very indignant at the charge, and says it is a "monstrous slander and an infamous lie, which will recoil upon its inventors." Mr. De Witt is well known as one of the leading lawyers and one of the most eloquent orators of the City of Churches. He is an ardent Democrat and a conspicuous figure in the political history of Kings county. He is 52 years of age.

WRECK OF THE SPINNEY.

Bound from New York to San Francisco With a Valuable Cargo.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The captain and crew of the ship Joseph S. Spinney, which was 138 days out from New York, with a general cargo consigned to this city, were brought here by the fishing steamer Farragut yesterday.

The Spinney struck on a sunken rock in the vicinity of Fort Ross, about 75 miles up the coast, and rapidly filled water. The crew of 26 left the ship.

The Spinney was built in 1874 in Thomastown, Me. She was a full-rigged ship, 230 feet in length, 26 feet beam and 27 feet in depth, with a registered tonnage of 1,795 tons. She was owned by Captain Harvey Mills and others in this city. The cargo is lost.

Czar Offended at Franz Joseph.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—It is reported that the Czar was deeply offended by Emperor Franz Joseph's decision at the last moment not to meet him at Skiernievice. Emperor Franz Joseph is said to have sent a despatch to the Czar saying that, owing to Emperor William's visit to Vienna, he felt that he could not come. Although this story is common report in official circles and the press, no satisfactory authority can be found for it.

NEW FAD IN MUSIC

How the Taste Changes in Things Musical.

Society Ladies Enthusiastic Over the New Musical Craze.

Its Chief Exponent's Interesting Talk In Regard to Himself.

The fashion in music is all running toward the banjo this season. Thousands of girls and women in fashionable society, to say nothing of the men, have taken up the banjo as the popular musical instrument of the day. The "thrm thrum" of fair fingers is heard on every hand.

Prof. Henry C. Weitzel, on of the greatest musicians this century has produced, occupies the undisputed position of the best banjo player in the world. Visited at his home, 841 South Canton street, Baltimore, Md., the great exponent of the banjo was found full of enthusiasm for his beloved instrument. And in his hands the music is indeed beautiful—wonderful.

The great Professor, as everybody knows, was most seriously sick for a time, but his thousands of admirers will be glad to learn that he has completely recovered his health.

PROFESSOR HENRY C. WEITZEL.

When approached in regard to his health he spoke in raptures concerning his recovery, for he considers his restoration to health little short of a miracle, as he had well-nigh lost hope of being well again.

"I suffered severely," he said, "with indigestion, nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I had spells of weakness come over me so that my legs would give way and I would be forced to leave my work. In fact I was in a bad fix, and my nerves were in a very serious condition. I now thank God that I got some of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy—got the best medicine at last after trifling with many doctors, who did me no good. I am using my second bottle, and it certainly beats all the medicine I ever saw. I tell you I feel like another man."

Professor Weitzel is well known at this office, and the editor can therefore personally vouch for the absolute truth and correctness of every one of the above statements. None of Professor Weitzel's friends ever expected to see him well again, and his restoration to health is a great triumph for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It certainly does cure the sick. It makes them strong and well. Besides, it has the great virtue of being a perfectly harmless remedy, as it is purely vegetable. Although sold by druggists for $1.00, it is not a patent medicine in the ordinary sense of the word, but it is the discovery and prescription of the great specialist in nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th st., New York, who gives consultation and advice free to the sick and suffering, either personally if you call at his office, or by letter if you write him about your case.

We advise sufferers from disease to use his wonderful discovery, which so remarkably restored Professor Weitzel to health and strength.

FAIR HANDS FOR ALL.

How to Make and Keep the Finger Nails Beautiful.

A Little Trouble, with Almost No Expense, Will Do It—Simple But Effective Directions Furnished by a Manicure.

What is rarer than a beautiful hand, beautifully kept? Nothing.

What avails a lovely face and figure, though perfectly gowned, if your eyes are soon to be shocked by the sight of a rough, red hand, with ill-kept finger nails, or, rather, nails that are strangers to any keeping at all?

The latest method in artistic manicuring demands that the hands be give a thorough massage previous to the commencement of the treatment proper.

It is highly grateful to the tired hands of the pianist and writer, as well as the weary, work-stiffened fingers of the typewriters and all others who earn their bread by the sweat of the hands. It strengthens and refreshes the hands, giving that feeling of exquisite cleanliness which a Turkish bath imparts to the body.

The question is often asked: "Why are my hands so rough and yours so smooth?"

This question is best answered in the Yankee fashion by asking another: "What kind of soap do you use?"

The fair customer looks as though you suspected her of using a cheap article. Ten to one she will immediately give you the name of some highly-perfumed soap and will seem greatly surprised when you explain that the unperfumed soaps are the best.

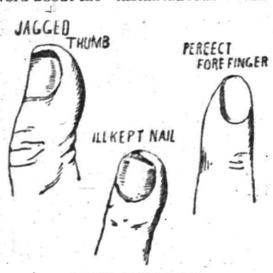
A goodly share of all the troubles of the skin of the hands originates from the diseased, fatty matter in high scented soaps.

Always endeavor to use a soap that will replace as much of the natural oil of the skin as possible, for it is that only which keeps the skin soft and smooth.

Owing to the excessive dryness of our American climate we need to hold in our natural oil if we would keep at bay that foe of women's happiness—wrinkles.

The outer or scarf skin, through dryness, becomes looser than the under layer, hence wrinkles.

And right here is the place to say a word about the "instantaneous wrinkle removers," which are professed to do away with wrinkles of both young and old.



THREE CONDITIONS.

There is no preparation yet discovered which will in itself accomplish this. But in the hands of a scientific "masseur," and with the aid of a pure oil, they can, by constant care, be kept away, but not through any virtue of the preparation used.

The massage will strengthen the muscles which have become flabby and the oil will feed and fatten the skin, thereby causing it to become smooth and firm.

If you would have smooth white hands, keep them out of hot water. Use a pure soap and always take time to thoroughly dry them.

Too frequent use of the nail-brush will cause that painful condition of the finger ends called hang-nails.

Never bite or tear them off, but clip with a sharp pair of scissors and anoint with a little cold cream to prevent the irritation which would otherwise arise.

Never put steel instruments under the nails. Every time one is used you unconsciously prick the delicate skin and soon you will begin to notice a dark, dirty line under the nails, for which you cannot account, and which nothing will remove but time and disuse of the steel instruments.

A little orange wood stick will be found to be a very effective agent with which to clean the nails, and to daily press away the encroaching skin which seems so determined to hide from view that chief beauty of our nails, the half moon.

If the hands are rough, wear a loose pair of kid gloves. Allow them to remain on all night. In the morning wash in tepid water, using a little French almond meal, and your hands will be much improved.

Highly polished, pointed and painted nails have long since been discarded, except by those with whom exaggeration is a card.

A nail should keep as far as possible the general outline of the finger's end. But there can be no rule in this matter, as the nails, like the hair, should be cut in the manner most becoming the wearer.

Give a little more attention and time to this particular branch of the toilet and I am sure, by your improved feelings and appearance, you will be more than repaid.—N. Y. Sunday Journal.

In Leap Year.

He—If I say yes will you promise to let me have all the cigarettes I want?

She—Yes, dearest.

He—And never scold when I'm out late at nights, nor try to make me get up and make fires?

She—Yes!

He—And never bring your mother on a visit, and stop chewing that horrid gum?

She—Anything, only say yes.

He (sadly)—No, Margaret; I fear it cannot be. If you tried to live up to all those promises you'd die in a week—but I will always look on you as a sister.—Jury.

Her Heart.

Her heart is a returning ball,
With an elastic string!
It never flies beyond recall
At her most careless fling;
And when she sends it out to me,
I grasp at it in vain,
For, with a smile of girlish glee,
She draws it back again!
—Harry Romaine, in Puck.

Wronged.

Her Papa—No daughter of mine shall marry a loafer.

Young Dusenberry—But, sir, I am not a loafer. Why, I spend more time at my toilet than most men do at business.—Household Monthly.

Appropriate.

Spriggins—What made Howler dedicate that new poem of his to a Chicago girl?

Higgins—Didn't you notice that its feet would not bear critical scanning?—Truth.

Hard to Tell.

"Are you married or single?" asked the census-taker of the lady of the house.

"Well, I hardly know," she replied "you see the jury disagreed."—Life.

Too Much of Its Kind.

She (at the end of the fourth act)—I don't like that play. It's too gushing. There is altogether too much kissing in it.

He—It isn't real kissing. They don't do that in plays; It's only an imitation—it's only stage kissing.

She (later in the evening)—Don't you think, George, that a stage kiss must be—don't, George!—awfully—do you hear me, George?—unsatisfying?—Boston Globe.

New Kind of Money.

"Pa," asked a small boy, thoughtfully, "what is regret money?"

"Never heard of it, my son," answered his pa.

"Well, pa, I read in the paper the other day, 'all regret money squandered,' and I thought you might get me a little to squander."

His pa is still thinking about it.—Detroit Free Press.

Both Gone.

Dashaway—I am going out of town, and I came around to know if I could borrow your dress-suit case.

Travers—I am sorry, old man, but it's with the dress suit.—Truth.

No Wonder.

Mrs. Isaacs — How you got your clothes so full of cotton?

Mr. Isaacs—(brushing himself)—I vos showing a gustomer dose all vool goots.—Life.

Harry's Wish.

"Papa," said Harry, as he looked at his new baby brother, "I wish we had seven more, because with him and me and seven more we'd have a baseball nine."—Harper's Young People.

The Gallus Gal.

When the summer girl's suspenders break
She's not at a loss what to do;
She knows not the use of the tenpenny nail,
But the spot where the recreant galluses fail
She mends with a hairpin or two.
—N. Y. Herald.

An Expert.

"Is Barrows a good editor?"

"Fine. Why, that man can throw a poem into a waste basket twenty feet away from him."—Jury.

Cause for Rejoicing.

"I'm glad I'm not a peach," said Rollo. "If I was, mamma'd eat me, she's so fond of 'em."—Harper's Young People.

Better Than No Play.

Little Dick—What shall we play now?

Little Dot—Oh, I'm tired out. Let's just pretend we is playin'.—Good News.

Cause and Effect.

Extreme of heat and cold produce like effects. When a man is "frozen out" he is apt to get red-hot.—Life.

BACK TO HER OLD HOME

Mrs. Harrison's Remains Interred There To-day.

INDIANAPOLIS A CITY OF MOURNING.

All Business and Traffic Along the Route of the Cortege Suspended—Services at the Church—Honorary Pall Bearers Become Active Ones—The Funeral Party Returns to Washington To-night.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 28.—The capital of the State is in mourning garb for its favorite daughter. Sombre drapery is to be seen on every hand. Flags are displayed at half mast from roof and window, and for block after block there is hardly a building that is not draped to a more or less elaborate extent.

Some of the biggest structures have streamers of black and white reaching from roof to sidewalk, or stretched across from window to window on every story. In others the goods have been removed from the show windows and replaced with mourning emblems and devices of various kinds, while crepe and white rosettes are displayed on many of the private residences along the streets over which the funeral procession is to move to the cemetery.

Business is almost entirely suspended, most of the business houses having decided to close before Mayor Sullivan issued his proclamation. Many industrial establishments have also suspended operations for the day.

President Harrison's brother, J. S. Harrison of Kansas City, Mrs. A. Saunders and Charles L. Saunders of Nebraska, mother and brother of Mrs. Russell Harrison; Gen. Schofield, Mrs. Schofield and Captain Schofield, ex-President Hayes, Secretary of the Treasury Foster and Hon. T. W. Palmer of Michigan, President of the World's Columbian Commission, have arrived to attend the obsequies.

It was the President's desire that the arrangements be so changed as to dispense with the services of the ten soldiers from the United States Arsenal, who had been selected to act as active pall bearers. The request was due to the wish of the President to avoid anything savoring of display or ostentation.

The honorary pall-bearers that had been selected, Judge W. A. Woods, Thos. H. Sharpe, W. P. Fishback, Moses G. McLain, Dr. H. R. Allen, John B. Elam, Hugh Hanna, E. B. Martindale, Gen. Lew Wallace of Crawfordsville, Hon. W. F. Niblack of Vincennes, John R. Elder, Theodore P. Haughey, were notified last evening that they must take part in an active capacity.

The interior of the First Presbyterian Church presents a sombre, yet beautiful appearance.

Florists and decorators to a total of 18 were hard at work yesterday, and their labors were not finished until this morning. The front of the big organ behind the pulpit platform has been entirely hidden with folds of drapery festooned in black and white, while above are three shields, similarly festooned, and so arranged as to typify a burst of sunlight, the entire effect being extremely striking.

Wide drapings of black run the entire length of the edifice, over the stained glass windows, relieved at each panel with monster rosettes of white. Two American flags are draped over the front of the gallery, but there is no other display of the national colors. The ten side lights are festooned in black and white and smilax, while from each depends a cluster of carnations, roses and palm leaves.

Beautiful snow-white chrysanthemums, towering to a height of eight feet, support either side of the pulpit, while before it are palms, exotics, and long, graceful ferns; back of the pulpit and surrounding the organ a profusion of plants, plams, and flowers in bloom fill the air with fragrance.

There are heavy drapings over the exterior of the two entrance doors of the church.

The services in the church will be simple. When all are seated Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead, Kindly Light," will be rendered by the choir, and Rev. Dr. Haines, Mrs. Harrison's pastor during the latter years of her residence in this city, will deliver a short invocation. A selection of Scripture will be read, and the pastor will make a brief address. The mourners will be led in prayer by Rev. Dr. Hyde, of the Congregational Church, and after the rendition of the hymn commencing "One Sweetly Soleman Thought," Dr. Haines will pronounce the benediction.

At the grave a short passage of Scripture will be read, and a prayer will be offered as the casket is lowered into the vault. This service will occupy but a few moments.

The funeral procession will be headed by a detachment of police. Then will come, in order, carriages containing the officiating divines and the pall bearers. The hearse will follow, and directly behind it the President and the immediate relatives, followed by the members of the Cabinet and their ladies.

After them will follow Gov. Chase and the State officials, the Ladies' Board of the Orphan Home, intimate lady friends, and carriages in general.

The total number of carriages in line will exceed 100. All traffic will be suspended on the thoroughfares over which the cortege passes.

The funeral party will leave Indianapolis to-night at 6 o'clock, arriving in Washington about 4:30 to-morrow afternoon.

Progress of the Funeral Train.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 28.—The funeral train bearing the remains of Mrs. Harrison reached here at 9:20 last night, and then proceeded onward to Columbus, which was reached at 3:45 this morning. At all points where the train stopped many people assembled to pay respect to the dead.

Timber Destroyed at Richland.

MAY'S LANDING, N. J., Oct. 28.—A large forest fire two miles from Richland burned fiercely all night. A large force of men fought it for several hours, but could not stop its progress. Several hundred acres of land were burned over, and the timber destroyed.

The Mayor Poisoned.

VIENNA, Oct. 28.—Mayor Zniesienie, of Lemberg, is dead, of a dose of poison administered in his food. He had made himself exceedingly unpopular by enforcing the orders of the government for the prevention of cholera. No arrests have yet been made.

THE BOSTON PRISON OUTBREAK.

One Officer and One Prisoner Badly Injured During the Trouble.

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—A serious outbreak occurred at the House of Corrections about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. One officer and one prisoner were badly, but not seriously injured.

The trouble arose from four prisoners being denied the privileges of the yard. This caused much feeling among the other prisoners, five hundred of whom rose in revolt and refused to go to work, and with shears, chairs, flatirons and all the other articles belonging to a tailor shop, seriously assaulted the officers in charge.

The men who were refused the privileges of the yard are the men who escaped last July and were soon recaptured. Since then they have been kept in close confinement.

This caused much sympathy among the other prisoners, one of whom became unruly Wednesday and attacked with a tailor's goose an officer who attempted to take him from a workshop, striking him on the head.

Although almost stunned the officer grappled with his assailant and both fell to the floor.

Other convicts joined in the attack on the officer.

The noise of the struggle brought other officers to the scene, the trouble was quelled and the unruly prisoner and three others were locked up. At this, about seventy-five other prisoners refused to go to work unless the four men were released, but were induced by Warden Whitton to work until they could see one of the Commissioners.

Yesterday four more ringleaders of Wednesday's riot were locked up and the five hundred prisoners were marched out to the workshops.

The men in several shops again rose in revolt, and armed with everything they could pick up attacked the officers.

The police were quickly summoned and 175 who had been foremost in the last riot were locked up in their cells, after something of a tussle.

Some 300 of the prisoners are now working in the shops, the others are locked up, and no further trouble is expected.

The Commissioners of Public Institutions are at the House, and will investigate the cause of the revolt.

READING IMPROVEMENTS.

The Entire Line Soon to be Equipped With the Block System.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28. — Reading railroad officials, since the deplorable accident near Manayunk, declare more than ever their determination to push forward such improvement as will lessen the chances of accidents through careless employes. With this object in view, contracts, it is said, have been given out to extend the Automatic Block Signal system to Bound Brook. It is already in existence between Bound Brook and New York, and contracts have also been given to apply it to the lines as far as Bethlehem and Pottsville. As soon as possible the Automatic Block Signal, it is said, will govern the entire Reading system.

The tunnels between Reading and Williamsport have been widened and the tracks on the Reading system made to conform to a standard width.

DEATH OF DEWITT C. LITTLEJOHN.

Speaker of the New York Assembly Several Terms and Member of Congress.

OSWEGO, Oct. 28.—Hon. Dewitt C. Littlejohn, who was Speaker of the Assembly in 1855-'57-'59-'60-'61, is dead, at his home here.

He was in the seventy-fifth year of his age.

He has been prominently identified with the Republican party in this section for years. He was a member of the thirty-eighth Congress, and took the 110th Regiment to the front in the war of the Rebellion, as its colonel. He was appointed United States Consul to Liverpool by President Lincoln, but declined. He built the old New York & Oswego Midland Railroad, now the New York, Ontario & Western Railroad and was its first president.

DEVOY TO EGAN.

Accuracy of the Minister's Letter to MacVeagh Denied.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—John Devoy of this city has written an open letter to Patrick Egan in which the accuracy of some of the latter's statements in his letter to Wayne MacVeagh is denied.

Mr. Devoy says that while Irishmen have accepted the report of John Dillon, Father Sheehy and Matthew Harris as an honest audit of Egan's accounts, nobody classes any of the three as an expert accountant.

He reiterates the charge that the alleged use of $100,000 of the League's funds for speculation on the Chicago Board of Trade by Egan and Alexander Sullivan has never been explained.

The letter closes with a charge that Egan had assisted the Cronin murderers in an attempt to justify that crime.

Philadelphia's Scant Water Supply.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—Philadelphia's water supply is alarmingly low and strenuous efforts are being made to prevent a famine. The police are instructed to request householders to discontinue washing pavements until rains of such duration shall fall as to sufficiently swell the quantity of water in the Schuylkill river.

Fatal Peep Into a Shot Gun.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Nelson Devoe, aged 18 years, was fatally wounded yesterday by the accidental discharge of a shot gun. She was looking into the barrel when the charge blew out crushing her jaw and destroying the sight of one eye and otherwise injuring her face.

"BLAINE IS ALL WRONG."

So Says Paymaster Sullivan, Regarding Behring Sea Matters.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The recent alleged remarks of Paymaster John Clyde Sullivan of the U. S. S. Mohican have been called to the attention of officials of the State, Navy and Interior Departments, and it is probable that a court martial will result from them. Paymaster Sullivan, who has been on duty with his ship in Behring Sea suppressing seal poaching, is reported to have said in an interview published in Seattle, Wash.:

"We haven't the shadow of a right to declare Behring Sea a closed sea, and we will be knocked out entirely by the International Commission. I have read everything I could get my hands on upon the subject, and am something of a lawyer as well as a sailor, and I believe Blaine's contention is all wrong, and the United States will pay double for the work we have been doing in Behring Sea."

This remark has been taken up by the British Columbian papers, and has been brought to the attention of the State and Navy Departments.

Mr. Sullivan also offended the Interior Department by the following alleged remarks about the government of Alaska:

"That country should be a regular territorial form of government, with a delegate to Congress. It should have every facility for the development of its wonderful resources. This bureaucratic form of government is a fraud, anyway, and, as a rule, inefficient men are always appointed to manage affairs. Our work the past season has been to prevent pelagic sealing, and we have done so as far as we could."

Unless Mr. Sullivan has been much misrepresented by the interviewer, he will probably find himself in very hot water.

TRIED TO HANG THE BOY.

Two Youths in Newark Play "Wild West" With a Comrade.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 28.—Louis Barnheim, aged 11 years, of Charlton street, was found lying in the street last night, choking and his tongue hanging out. A rope was around his neck, and an end of it was found fastened to the railing of a stoop.

When released he was almost insensible. He was taken to his home. When he recovered sufficiently to tell his story he said that Hyman Samuel and Willie Geninger, boys of the same age, had lassoed him and then tried to hang him. His mother swore out a warrant before Judge Priesel against Hyman Samuel, of Charlton street.

Barnheim is in a bad condition. The rope wore away all the skin to the flesh. Later he became hysterical. The affair has caused intense excitement here.

More Violence at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 28.—Only two acts of violence were reported here last evening. A non-union boarding house on Ninth street was stoned, and the driver of a grocery wagon was compelled to drive for his life to escape an infuriated crowd because his employer sells goods to the families of non-union workmen. The sheriff's deputies now on duty number 50, and more deputies are expected to-day. The non-union men in the mill are greatly agitated over the violent occurrences of the last few days; as a result very little work is being done.

Eight Negroes to be Hanged.

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Oct. 28.—Eight men will be hanged for the murder on April 23, last, of D. J. H. Hill. Judge Robinson yesterday announced the decision convicting Joshua Brainard, Louis Benson, Henry Hurtt, Moses Brown, Frisby Comegys, Charles Brooks, Fletcher Williams and Charles Emory of murder in the first degree. The defendants are all colored. It is expected that the date of or dates of execution will be announced by Governor Brown within a few days.

Big Fire in Brockton.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 28.—Brockton was visited last night by a big fire. About 7:30 the entire department was called to the factories of the Brockton Last company on Crescent and Perkins streets, the largest in the United States, and valuable molds for last making were destroyed which will be hard to replace. There was also about $2,000 worth of finished product destroyed owned by manufacturers. The company's loss is about $60,000.

Shut Down for a Short Time Only.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—It is said by General Manager Sweigard that there is no truth in the reports that the Reading collieries in and around the Schuylkill Valley had shut down for an indefinite period owing to the scarcity of water. He said they were compelled to stop work for a day or so to allow the road to catch up, as there were not cars enough to handle the business in consequence of the heavy general traffic on the lines.

Big Mountain Fire Near Port Clinton.

PORT CLINTON, Pa., Oct. 28.—A great fire is raging on the Blue Mountain between this place and Drehersville, and heavy damage is being done to timber. Men are fighting the flames at different points. Rain is anxiously looked for, for everything is so dry that mountain fires will be of daily occurrence until the earth receives a regular soaking. Water is daily becoming scarcer.

The Blake to Come to New York.

HALIFAX, Oct. 28.—The naval authorities here have received word from the Admiralty office in London that H. M. S. Blake, the largest warship in the world except one twin ship, will visit New Yrok in April, representing England in the World's Fair Naval Review there. The Blake is the flagship of the North American station.

Murderer Cream Confesses to More Atrocities.

KILLED SEVERAL GIRLS IN CANADA

Gladstone to Appear in the Commons Only on Rare Occasions—The German Emperor Angry—Murderer Mellor in Court—Other Cable News.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Thomas Neill Cream has confessed that from 1874 to 1881, when he was arrested in Chicago, he made a practice of poisoning dissolute girls in Canada. His numerous victims, he says, were buried without suspicion on the part of anybody that they had died unnatural deaths.

A medical expert who has examined Cream says he undoubtedly suffers from satyriasis.

All information as to the confession comes from Mr. Waters, his solicitor. Mr. Waters says that he will probably not make the details public until after the execution.

Cream confessed to him everything criminal in his Canadian career, minutely described the girls murdered, his methods in killing them, and his devices to escape detection.

"He fairly made every hair on my head stand on end," said Mr. Waters last evening. "His story was startling beyond anything I have ever before heard."

After his confession Cream became angry at Mr. Waters, and threatened to "do" him after the trial.

Mr. Waters absolutely refused to make any further statement.

THE KAISER IN A RAGE.

Determined to Punish the Man Who Made Public the Army Bill.

BERLIN, Oct. 28.—The Kaiser is greatly angered by the premature publication of the provisions of the Army bill, which the government proposes to introduce in the Richstag. The Kaiser had a long consultation yesterday with Chancellor Caprivi.

The Kaiser spoke in terms of unmeasured and angry denunciation of the violation of the confidence of which no one had been guilty in regard to the bill, and seemed inclined to argue that the Chancellor had some responsibility in the matter.

General Caprivi succeeded in convincing His Majesty that nothing had been done on his part more than strict official duty required. A copy of the bill had been delivered marked secret, to each member of the Bundesrath or Federal Council.

It certainly was not supposed that any member of the Council would so far forget the dignity and responsibility of his office as to reveal the provisions of the bill to the public press.

WILL THE FRENCH MINISTRY FALL?

The Premier's Rejected Carmaux Decision Jeopardizes Its Position.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The striking miners at Carmaux have unconditionally rejected the conclusion of the Committee of Arbitration. Premier Loubet's award shows his laudable independence, but it has jeopardized his position and that of the Ministry. The miners would accept the award but for political agitators whose only desire is to overturn the Cabinet.

Seventy-three Radical members of the Chamber of Deputies, including MM. Clemenceau, Pelletan and Millerand, who represent the striking miners, held a meeting and decided to demand amnesty for the strikers condemned for riot.

GLADSTONE TO TAKE IT EASY.

He Will Attend Parliament Only When Absolutely Necessary.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—By advice of his physician, Sir Andrew Clark, Mr. Gladstone will attend in the House of Commons during the coming session only when important measures are under discussion.

When Mr. Gladstone is absent Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will lead the House, and, as Sir William is afflicted with opthalmic malady that may incapacitate him at any time, another member of the Cabinet will be ready to take the command in such an event.

Murderer Mellor in Court.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Joseph Mellor, who is charged with having murdered his wife in their home on the Hollins road, at Oldham, was before the court for examination yesterday. Every entrance to the courtroom was beseiged from early morning by crowds seeking admission, and it was only by the liberal use of their batons that the police were enabled to make an entrance for the magistrates and prisoner. An analyst appointed by the court deposed to having found human blood on various articles of the prisoner's clothing.

Balfour a Bi-metallist Now.

LONDON, Oct. 28. — The Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour spoke at length to Manchester merchants and bankers yesterday in support of the resolution that the most effective remedy of the present disastrous fluctuations in the relations of gold and silver would be an international agreement for the unrestricted coinage of both metals. Mr. Balfour's declaration of his complete surrender to the bi-metallists was received with enthusiasm and some surprise.

Fighting Russian Generals Punished.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The court martial of Gen. Rippenham and Gen. Zwistonoff, who came to blows on the manœuvre field in the presence of the Czar recently, has been concluded. Gen. Rippenham was sentenced to be deprived of his honors and to be reduced to the ranks for 60 days. Gen. Zwistonoff, who provoked the fight, was expelled in dishonor from the army.

Ejected Parnell's Sister from a Hotel.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Anna Parnell, the sister of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, appeared in the Westminster County Court yesterday against the owner of an hotel on the Strand. The hotel keeper ejected her from the hotel after having let her a room, and she sued him for damages. The case was adjourned until to-day, without the taking of any testimony.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"Absolutely the Best."

It is made of pure cream of tartar and soda, no ammonia, no alum. A like quantity goes farther and does better work. It is therefore cheaper.

Cleveland's is the baking powder used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of cookery. It never varies, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Try a can.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

TRAINS COLLIDE ON A BRIDGE.

TERRE HAUTE, Oct. 28.—At 7 o'clock this morning two freight trains on the Big Four road came together with a crash on the bridge over the Wabash River near this city. Both engines and a dozen cars went to the bottom of the river, over 100 feet below.

It was stated several persons were killed.

A GOOD PASTOR GOING.

Farewell Reception to Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell.

Vincent chapel was crowded last evening with a host of friends of the Rev. Dr. Charles B. Mitchell and wife, to bid a regretful farewell to the popular pastor and his charming helpmate. There were gathered together all classes and conditions of men, rich and poor, of high station and of lesser degree, all bound together in the one unison of sympathy and affection, all sorrowful over the good man's and good woman's departure, all eager to join in the hearty greeting of "Godspeed you both in your new field of noble work!"

Every Protestant pastor of Plainfield was present, each expressing a loss of personal fellowship in the change about to be made. Members of other churches, and members of no church, joined with the Methodists in the common regrets and good wishes.

The chapel was beautifully decorated, with palms and other plants. The air was filled with music from well-tuned instruments. The scene was one of animation and vivacity; the picture was a pretty one, and one that will long linger in the memory.

There were eight large tables, elegantly dressed, where tea, coffee, bon-bons, and other good things, were served in abundance. The spirit of generous hospitality abounded. Everyone was free to go to the tables for anything they wished.

Each of the little class rooms was a perfect bower of beauty, greatly heightening the general effect.

The Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlbut made the parting speech for the church, in his happiest and most cordial vein, and the Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes was the master of oratory and heartfelt esteem and good wishes for the other churches. Dr. Mitchell fittingly and feelingly responded.

At the conclusion of the speech-making, everyone in the large throng of people shook hands with Dr. and Mrs. Mitchell, and, bidding them an affectionate good-bye, prayed that blessings manifold might attend them in their western field.

TOUGH TIMES IN RARITAN.

The Gang Who Run the Streets Are on the War-Path Against Law-and-Order People.

The members of the Wyho gang who live in Raritan are by no means awed by the killing of one of their number, Jimmie Hahn, some time ago by officer Stauch. In the matter of killing the young tough, Stauch was backed up by John Purcell, a boss in the Raritan Woolen mills, a man of large influence in the town, and a stanch Democrat. Last Sunday night the Wyhos revenged themselves on Purcell by breaking into his barn and taking therefrom a goat which he had bought as a plaything for his children. Taking a rope which they found in the barn, the young ruffians tied it around the goat's neck and hung him up to a tree in front of Purcell's house. The first thing Purcell saw when coming out of his house in the morning was the body of the animal. He was terribly angry, and will exhaust every means to find out the perpetrators. Just who the guilty parties are is not known, of course, but circumstances strongly point to the friends of young Hahn as the only enemies Purcell has. At the time officer Stauch was released from jail, no indictment having been found against him, the friends of Hahn swore vengence on all concerned. The next day after his release the officer went back to duty on the streets of Raritan. He is there yet, but he holds his life in the hollow of his hand. Raritan is a tough town, and sooner or later the officer will be laid out. Of course the hanging of a goat is in itself not so terrible, but at the same time such lawlessness is not to be tolerated.

DIXEY AS THE "PRINCE".

He and His Company to Appear Here Just as They Did in New York.

The well deserved success and popularity that attended Henry E. Dixey as Adonis bids fair to be thrown into the shade by the warmth of the welcome and cordial reception extended to him as Prince Lorenzo in "The Mascot".

Mr. Dixey's revival of Audran's charming and always popular opera was received with the greatest satisfaction in New York city, where crowded houses for the run of several weeks testified in the truest manner to what the public thought of it. The mounting of the piece was accomplished in the most elaborate manner, and the costumes and appointments are exceedingly handsome, as well as tasteful and accurate. There is no change in the company from the original, and "The Mascot" will be produced at Music Hall, Plainfield, to-morrow evening, in every respect as it was so successfully in New York.

Mr. Dixey as the Prince is afforded an excellent opportunity for the exercise of his well recognized ability and talent as a comedian, and no better proof of the versatility and adaptibility of this accomplished actor is wanting than in his inimitable impersonation of the Prince.

Miss Juliette Gordon, who took high lessons at the Paris Conservatoire, from which she has just arrived after two years' study, is the Bettina, and her playing and singing of the past have been spoken of in the highest praise. "The Mascot" has never before been produced on the same scale of magnificence, or by such admirable artists, as is the case in the Dixey production.

Oh! Those Independents.

Again have the Independent Gun club of Plainfield shown their superior shooting qualities in the final team contest of the New Jersey Trap Shooters' League, which was decided yesterday on the grounds of the Maplewood Gun club at Maplewood, N. J. The quintet of shooters from the Independent Gun club, were again winners, with a score of 113 breaks out of a possible 125 blue-rocks. This credits them with nine victories out of the ten contests. The team of the Boiling Springs Fishing and Gun club, of Rutherford, finished second in the competition. The winning team receives $200 in cash and a LeFevre hammerless gun valued at $125, and the Boiling Springs Gun club will receive the second prize of $150 in cash. The other prizes will be announced in THE PRESS later. That the Independents have won nine out of the ten team contests is proof conclusive that their members possess shooting qualities that are hard to beat. Charley Smith (Dutchy), who has captained the winning team is to be congratulated upon his wise selection of shooters at each contest.

The score:

Try something better. With Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the benefit is lasting. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels. Taken in time, they prevent trouble. In any case, they cure it.

And they cure it easily: they're mild and gentle, but thorough and effective. There's no disturbance to the system, diet or occupation. The hosts of friends of the Rev. and Mrs. Asa Reed Dilts, will join in hearty satisfaction and congratulation if the rumor proves true that he has received a call to Northampton, Mass., one of the most beautiful spots in the universe and a city larger than Plainfield.

The Westfield Leader says: "William Holmes, who sang the part of Bunthorne in Patience, is a Plainfield gentleman with a promising voice. He was worthy of the kind words so freely bestowed on him by the audience." The Leader should have added that Mr. Holmes's voice is not only promising but paying.

The King's Daughters gave an entertainment last evening at the home of Miss Bowers, to raise funds for their work of charity. The attendance was very large, and everyone had a delightful time. Mrs. Saunders sang with ease and grace, Mr. Creede of Elizabeth sang, Miss Duffy of New York played on the violin, and Miss Maude Agnes Bowers recited "Pauline Pavlovna" and "Peter Mulrooney and the Black Filly" in her own gratifying way.

A FASCINATING SPORT.

How Our Ancestors Enjoyed a Game Now Played Only at Dunellen.

Bowling on the green, which is played in America only on Christian Schepflin's courts at Dunellen, is a game of which the majority of Americans possess limited knowledge. When bowling is referred to, inhabitants of this country invariably associate with it a vision of long, smooth, wooden alleys, and large wooden pins that go crashing down before the assaults of huge wooden balls. Such incidents of the game as "strikes", "breaks", and "spares", are also brought to mind, and there is a recollection of vociferous cheering following the accomplishment of an effective shot. The roar of the balls as they go thundering down the alleys, the deafening clatter of the pins as they fall in a heap, the ecstacies of the exultant bowlers, and the plaudits of the spectators, make a scene not easily effaced from memory.

In striking contrast is the game of bowling on the green. In place of the wooden alleys is a velvety surface of greensward, over which the balls roll with noiseless speed. No pins are used, the test of skill being ability to place the ball near a mark. The bright sunshine furnishes the light, while the players, breathing the pure air, trip about upon the springy turf and enjoy the exhilarating sport with a keenness of relish known only to outdoor pastimes. In enthusiasm the bowlers of the green are not a whit behind those of the wooden alleys, and the skill required to play the game with effect makes the contest intensely exciting.

The game of outdoor bowls is a very ancient pastime, and is still popular in Great Britian, although comparatively unknown in this country. It was also a favorite game with the Dutch, and the early inhabitants of New York city made it a common recreation. The ground on which they played was at the lower end of Broadway, and is now the ornamental park named Bowling Green. In the early days of the game in England it became a craze, and during the reign of Henry VIII, play was prohibited by enactment, on the ground that it interfered with the military duties of his subjects. That law was repealed in 1845. The most notable game of bowls recorded by history was played at Plymouth, England, July 19, 1588. Among those who participated in the game were Sir Francis Drake, Sir Martin Frobisher, Sir Walter Raleigh, and other important military and naval figures. While the game was in progress a messenger, dusty and breathless, arrived with the startling information that the Spanish Armada had been sighted. Immediately there was great excitement, and Drake was importuned to set off at once and repel the invaders. He laughed unconcernedly and said there was no hurry. They would play out the match and then have plenty of time in which to beat the Spaniards. Not till the last point was scored did Drake and his associates turn their attention to the more serious business of defending their country against the Spanish invaders. When they did, they found that a terrific storm had made their task of conquering the Armada an easy one.

It is doubtful if American citizens would calmly engage in a game of bowling on the green or anywhere else if a hostile fleet of war ships was heading toward this land, but in times of peace the descendants of George Washington are inveterate players of all sorts of interesting games. There is good reason to believe that as knowledge of the game of outdoor bowls becomes more general it will come into popular favor. While as much skill is demanded as in any game of that sort, severe muscular exertion is not required, and old and young can enjoy the sport.

Catarrh in New England.

Ely's Cream Balm gives satisfaction to every one using it for catarrhal troubles.—G. K. Mellor, druggist, Worcester, Mass.

Highly Popular With His Firm.

F. M. Hulett has been so rushed with orders for the famous Starr pianos that he has kept the factory busy trying to keep pace with him. A member of the firm writes:

"We have shipped you to-day one style 'S' piano, and will say regarding the solid mahoganies we are doing everything we can to hurry them out, consistent with good work. We have got them now in the regulators' hands, and you will soon be having more solid mahoganies than you will need. You may rely on one thing, Mr. Hulett, and that is that we wish to give the orders of Mr. Haynes, for all of his trade, our special attention, and he has no person on our books that we entertain any higher regard for than Mr. Hulett; and you may rest assured that we will do everything we possibly can to get these goods to you promptly. The trouble is with us, that we do not anticipate such a demand for solid mahogany goods; the sale for them is not regular every day like it is for the ebonies and rosewoods, but it will come in spells and sometimes we will have orders in one week which will take everything we have on the floor. We have right now more solid mahogany cases in our varnish room than we have ever had at one time before".

Peeping Tom at Dunellen.

The Weekly Call reports that "some ladies who reside upon Main street were very much frightened one night last week by a strange man looking through the window at them. They left their house and went in search of their husbands, and were followed by the man, who always managed to keep on the opposite side of the street from them. When they finally secured masculine aid the stranger disappeared."

MR. FOUNTAIN'S FINDS.

Written for "The Press".

Now cometh tales most marvelous,
Tales that shock us and astound,
Tales of things that Mr. Fountain
In his backyard has found.
Surely all must pause to wonder,
When they read the catalogue
Of relics that were rescued from
That prehistoric bog.

A heap of mud exactly like
The mound-builders devised,
(Though what on earth they did it for
I never have surmised);
Some bos Americanus bones,
That stood the test of time;
A reindeer's tooth (the reindeer must Have smothered in this clime);

A lot of shabby bric-a-brac,
Arrow-heads, 'tis said,
(No antique find may be complete Without an arrow-head);
Some ancient paving, badly done,
But still as good as new;
Some nondescript utensils, and
A skeleton or two.

Now, there's just one thought that strikes (me,
As I peruse the list,
And I would like to mention that (Though I'm no pessimist):
The only explanation to
My poor imagery,
Is that the place was once the kitchen
Of a small menagerie.

For reindeers lived with cave bears
In the cheerful age of stone,
While mound-builders and arrow-heads
Have quite a modern tone;
And as for that poor buffalo,
I'm sure you'll all allow,
He must have been a stranger here—
Unless he was a cow!

For eocene and miocene,
And pliocene won't mix,
Any more than will the waters
Of the Jordan and the Styx,
And I should dearly love to get
A shy presentiment,
By what coincidence these things,
All mingled in one tent.

Things that New Jersey Democrats Would Like to Know.

(From The New York Sun.)

The campaign goes finely in New Jersey. Every honest and loyal Democrat is doing his best to enlarge the majority for the national ticket, and to enlarge the majority for the State ticket.

There are certain things, however, that New Jersey Democrats would like to know, and intend to know, before election day.

What is the source of the preposterous yarn, brought across the North River to Democratic headquarters in this town, that the national ticket is in danger of defeat in New Jersey?

Who are the authors of the suggestion, heard here and there on both sides of the river, representing the peril of the national ticket as so great that the State must be saved for Cleveland and Stevenson, even if by the sacrifice of Judge Werts; in other words, that votes for Cleveland must be gained by the trade of votes for John Kean, jr., for governor?

Somebody is concerned in this propaganda of misinformation. Somebody is interested in spreading the idea that either the Democratic national ticket or State ticket is bound to be defeated in New Jersey week after next, and that, all things considered, it is better that the State ticket should go under. Who is it?

Suppose the Hon. Miles Ross, who represents New Jersey on the National Democratic Committee and is likewise a member of the Executive Committee of the National Democratic Committee, devotes some of his valuable time to tracing to their origin these false reports and traitorous suggestions. The task seems to belong appropriately to the Hon. Miles Ross as the official link, in a certain sense, between Democratic national politics and Democratic State politics in New Jersey. At all events, the rank and file of the party will look to him for the detection and punishment of any traitor who is attempting to create a panic concerning the prospects of the national ticket, solely in order that the Republican candidate for Governor may profit, and if any mischief results through a lack of interest or vigor on the part of the Hon. Miles Ross, the rank and file of the Democracy will be likely, justly or unjustly, to hold him to sharp account. Let Miles Ross, therefore, ferret out this attempted infamy, and turn over the traitors to be tried and shot in sight of the whole camp.

It is sometimes said that the Hon. Miles Ross is in politics for business, not for fun. This is business, not fun.

LOSS MAY REACH TWENTY MILLIONS

Thousands Homeless and Several Dead as the Result of Milwaukee's Fire.

BURNED TRACT A MILE LONG AND HALF A MILE WIDE.

FLAMES FANNED BY A HURRICANE.

The Conflagration Started at 5:30 Last Evening in an Oil Establishment, and Was Not Wholly Subdued This Morning—Its Progress Stayed on One Side by Lake Michigan—Railroad Yards Swept—Help Sent from Neighboring Cities—Scores of Business Blocks and Hundreds of Dwellings Wiped Out.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29.—Scores of blocks of Milwaukee's largest business firms together with hundreds of frame houses were destroyed by the fire of last night. The entire loss is supposed to be between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

Commencing at 5:30 in an oil establishment on East Water street near the river, the flames, driven by the fearful hurricane which was blowing, spread with frightful rapidity to the lake over half a mile to the east. It is utterly impossible to estimate the loss with any degree of accuracy.

Even a complete list of the big business houses cannot be obtained while to these must be added the small individual losses of hundreds of small property owners whose houses and household goods have been destroyed.

The tract burned is over half a mile wide east and west, and a mile north and south, commencing in the establishment of the Union Oil company, at 275 East Water street. The fire was blazing fiercely when the city department reached the scene. Owing to the hurricane that was blowing the men were utterly unable to do anything, and, for any practical results, might as well have done nothing.

In spite of this the men worked bravely and did everything in their power, risking their lives in the burning buildings, and endeavoring, by tearing down blocks in advance of the path of the fire, to check it. This was in vain, and all night long the flames continued along their way from the establishment in which it started.

The path of the fire was in the shape of an immense V, the point being in the oil establishment, while one line extended directly east to the lake, the other running to the lake in a southerly direction. Through immense factories from four to seven stories high, which were supposed to be fire proof, the flames spread with as much ease as though they were frame cottages, which they attacked farther east.

After wiping out the factories and wholesale establishments the fire found easy prey in the scores of blocks filled with frame houses which extend east of Milwaukee street. From these the flames leaped to the freight house of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western. These caught on the extreme southern end and in a moment were ablaze along their whole length, over two blocks.

Adjoining the depots were the freight yards of the same railroad, as well as of the Chicago & Northwestern. These yards were filled with hundreds of loaded cars, all of which were quickly consumed.

As soon as it was seen that the yards were in the path of the holocaust a score of switch engines were set at work to endeavor to get the loaded cars out of the yards. The men worked bravely, and succeeded in removing some of the trains, but they could only take them further south, the yards to the north being blocked.

This did no good as the wind suddenly shifted from the northwest to almost direct north, and in a moment the cars which had just escaped the flames in one place were burned in another. As soon as the destruction of the railroad yards was assured, the wind as though prompted by malice veered from west to north. Had it remained in the west the fire would have exhausted itself in the lake.

Chief Foley kept the fire confined to one block on East Water street until 7 o'clock, when it got away from him and leaped across the street and began a rapid march toward Lake Michigan, six blocks away, cutting down in short order a dozen stores.

The entire lower part of the Third Ward, inhabited by poor Irish families, is devastated. About 300 cottages have been destroyed and the poor people wandered about the streets loudly lamenting their losses. Some of them were housed with friends and relatives, but the majority were compelled to spend the bleak night out of doors.

Alarms came in every few minutes from parts of the city widely separated, and it is thought that firebugs helped in the work of destruction. The elegant residence of L. F. Hodges, a member of the Board of Trade, at Ninth and Cedar streets, two miles from the place where the fire started, was destroyed.

Many of the scenes of the great fire of 1871 in Chicago were enacted, the dynamite explosions, the leaping flames, and crumbling walls adding to the terror of the situation.

The light horse squadron and the Fourth battalion were called out to guard property.

All the southern section of Milwaukee is in ruins. Never in the history of the city has such a calamity befallen it. Acres of land, embracing the great manufacturing districts of the city, have been devastated, and now lie a mass of smouldering ruins. Almost the entire southern division from East Water street to the lake has been consumed.

The streets burned entirely and on which no houses or buildings are left are Buffalo, Chicago, Menominee, Corcoran avenue, Erie, Polk, Oregon and Pierce. Besides these, East Water street is ruined from Detroit south to the river and Broadway. Milwaukee, Jefferson, Jackson, Van Buren and Carr, from Buffalo street south.

While the fire was at its fiercest and its northern limit, the first aid was received from outside sources. This was in the shape of two fire engines, one each from Waukesha and Racine.

At the morgue three bodies, two brave firemen and an elderly lady, are stretched cold and charred in death. At the Emergency Hospital four other victims of the fire are prostrated, two of whom are not expected to survive the morning. These four are men. Another very seriously injured person has been removed to St. Mary's.

In the intensely exciting state of affairs it is impossible to get any names, and the dead, dying and injured remain unidentified.

Engine house No. 10 has been burned, and five engines belonging to the local department were literally melted in an alley before they could be drawn out.

Almost at the beginning of the conflagration the second floor of a building fell with a terrific crash. A fireman was missing, and three policemen entered the sea of fire to look for the doomed man. With a barrel of oil lying across his body the fireman lay downward. A bursting cask of the flaming liquid covered his clothing. He was dragged from the very edge of that ocean of fire, only to die while being taken to the hospital.

In a small frame house an aged woman lay dying. She heard the crackling flames eating their way toward her bed. She was powerless to move. She resigned herself to her fate, when before her appeared Officer Marquardt. His hair was singed, and his face was blackened by the smoke. He lifted the dying woman from her bed and carried her to a grocery wagon that stood near, and, seizing the thills, ran toward the Emergency hospital.

He called for assistance in drawing his burden, but before the hospital was reached the woman died from the shock. Mrs. Callahan, a woman about 40 years old, sought refuge in the Third Ward school house, and died from heart disease. She was taken to Peacock's undertaking establishment.

The other fireman cannot be identified. He had nothing about his body to reveal his identity. It was only known that he was a fireman by his canvas suit and his blue shirt.

Milwaukee, the metropolis of Wisconsin, has 205,000 inhabitants, and spreads over an area of 14 square miles. Being the distributing point for the bulk of the products of Minnesota, Iowa, and Wisconsin, its commerce is largely agricultural.

Its harbor, a natural one in the shape of an S, is the best of all the lake ports. A few years ago the Government constructed a harbor of refuge there.

The Milwaukee river divides the city into three divisions and is navigable for vessels of the largest lake tonnage for three miles from its mouth, directly through the business portion of the city.

It is the leading market for malt liquors, and contains many slaughtering and meat packing establishments, flour and grist mills, and foundries and machine shops. The city is lighted by electricity, and has excellent systems of water works and sewerage.

VICTIM OF OYSTER PIRATES.

The Rough Experience of a Young Man Who Was "Shanghaied."

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 29.—Detective Gregory has just returned from Baltimore with William Motz, aged 19, who was one of a party of eighteen who were "shanghaied" by the agents in this city of the Maryland oyster pirates.

Motz's mother discovered where her son had gone and she employed detectives to get him back.

Motz was seen by a reporter this morning and he told the following story:

"When we went away we were promised $10 in advance, but not one of us ever received a cent. When we got on board the boats they told us that the money had gone for our fare and the agent's commission.

"We were taken to Baltimore on the Central Railroad, and when we reached the city we were taken into a big building and each one was given a bottle of whiskey. Then the agents came to sign us. I told him that I was 19 years old, and the agent put it down 21.

"We we then hustled into vans and driven to a steamer which took us to the dredgers.

"The suits we were given were made of muslin painted.

"If you wanted a blanket you had to buy one and as I had no money I had to use my trousers for a pillow and I was compelled to sleep without any covering.

"In the morning my trousers were so covered with vermin that I had to throw them away.

"We had to work from 5 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night. I kicked once and got knocked down with a club.

"A man named Mueller, who was one of the party, was taken sick the second day out. They clubbed him, and made him work until he fell unconscious. Then he was thrown down stairs."

BIG REDUCTION OF SALARIES.

The Chicago Club Finding it Difficult to Sign Players.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The Chicago Baseball Club is experiencing some difficulty in signing three of last season's players—Ryan, Hutchison and Kittridge, and it is still a question whether these three cracks will wear Anson's uniforms next year.

Schriver is now the only player of the old crew signed, and he had to submit to a reduction of 33 per cent. before President Hart would affix his name to next year's roster.

Schriver was cut from $2,400 to $1,600, and without much of a murmur.

The same proportionate cut was suggested to Ryan, but the star center fielder could not reconcile himself to the divorcement of a cool thousand from his salary.

Hutchison will in all likelihood be asked to stand a slight cut. It is rumored that "Hutch" despite his inborn docility, will interpose a very vigorous kick, and may abandon the diamond if pressed too hard.

Kittridge, but recently married, contends that he cannot and will not accept a reduction. He says that he can earn more money in commercial life than the Chicago Club contemplates paying.

MRS. HARRISON AT REST.

Outpouring of All Classes—Presidential Party Homeward Bound.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 29.—President Harrison and the immediate members of his family were driven from the cemetery directly after the funeral to the residence of Mr. R. S. McKee, where he rested and afterwards partook of luncheon.

Throughout the trying ordeal the bereaved husband bore himself with remarkable fortitude and his effort toward self control was communicated to the ladies of the party, enabling them to maintain some degree of composure.

Mr. Scott, the venerable father of Mrs. Harrison, appeared like one in a dream and was apparently oblivious to the trying features of the solemn occasion.

The great concourse of people which surrounded the church and filled Crown Hill cemetery yesterday testified better than words can tell to the respect in which the President's wife was held. Nearly every citizen of this capital knew and admired Caroline Scott Harrison, and that her death was deplored as a personal affliction by those who were not closely acquainted with her, was apparent in the out-pouring of all classes—the humblest as well as the residents of the mansions on Delaware street and other fashionable thoroughfares.

All turned aside from their daily avocations to do honor to the memory of one whom they had revered and respected in life as the highest type and embodiment of American womanhood. It may be truthfully said that all Indianapolis mourned.

The funeral party left on its return to Washington at 7:30 in the evening.

During the few moments that remained before the departure of the train the President received the pall bearers and a few other intimates in his private car, and feelingly expressed his gratitude for the part they had taken in the solemn event of the day. Just before the train left the President dictated and signed the following, with the request that it should be furnished to the local press:

"My dear friends and neighbors—I cannot leave you without saying that the tender and gracious sympathy which you have shown to-day for me and for my children, and, much more, the touching evidences you have given for the dear wife and mother, have deeply moved our hearts.

"We yearn to tarry with you, and to rest near the hallowed spot where your loving hands have laid our dead; but the little grandchildren watch in wondering silence for our return and need our care, and some public business will no longer wait upon my sorrow. May a gracious God keep and bless you all.

Most gratefully yours,
BENJAMIN HARRISON."

FIGHT FOR A WIDOW.

A Bloody Duel in Idaho Between Two Stock Raisers.

GOLD HILL, Idaho, Oct. 29.—George Barker and Henry Paxton fought a duel with knives fifteen miles from here. Both will die and Maggie Brandt, over whom the men quarrelled, will be disfigured for life.

Both men are well-to-do stock raisers and Mrs. Brandt, who is a prepossessing widow, was employed as a housekeeper by a man named Meserve.

She betrothed herself to both her lovers and for nearly two months neither of them suspected that anything was wrong.

Last Saturday the two men met at Meserve's house. Both drew large knives. They were in a room about fifteen feet square.

As the half-crazed men circled about the room they upset and broke articles of furniture and at every blow blood flew.

Mrs. Brandt stood just outside the door and witnessed the affray.

She did not call upon anyone to interfere, and it is said she enjoyed the sanguinary scene.

After fully ten minutes of desperate fighting Barker fell from a terrible wound in his throat. Paxton was also badly hurt. A blow from Barker's knife nearly scalped him.

Mrs. Brandt rushed in and attempted to embrace him, when he cut her nose off and put out her eye with a slash.

THE MINISTER AN EX-CONVICT.

How a Shrewd Individual Imposed on the Swiss Government.

BERNE, Oct. 29.—The Swiss government has cancelled the mission of the new Minister from the Republic of Salvador, in Central America. This action has been taken in view of an astounding discovery to the effect that the Minister is an ex-convict, who had been in prison in Paris, and whose measurement, from the thumb to toe-nail, is now in the possession of the Parisian police.

This ex-convict diplomat is a Sicilian adventurer who, finding the field for brigandage in that island not sufficiently profitable, or perhaps too dangerous, changed the scene of his operations to the French capital, and there came to grief.

The description of him taken by the French police before he had his head shaved preparatory to a course of prison diet and compulsory exercise, leaves no doubt as to identity, and the Swiss government is satisfied that the man is a fraud and a swindler.

Hotel Guests Barely Escaped.

WATERBURY, Conn., Oct. 29.—The Wallace House in Cheshire was totally destroyed by fire at an early morning hour. The loss is $10,000, no insurance. Twenty guests sleeping in the hotel were aroused barely in time to escape.

Snow Storm in Ohio and Kentucky.

GREENUP, Ky., Oct. 29.—Quite a heavy snow storm visited this section yesterday morning. At Portsmouth, O., half an inch of snow fell yesterday.

LOSS OF THE ROUMANIA

One Hundred and Thirteen Souls Perished.

WRECKED OFF PORTUGAL'S COAST.

Only Nine Escaped—The Anchor Liner Left Liverpool Sunday for Bombay—Caught Too Near the Shore in a Fog and Dashed on the Rocks.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The reported loss of the Anchor line steamship Roumania, Captain Young, at the mouth of the Arnoya, near Peniche, early Thursday morning, is confirmed. One hundred and thirteen of the 122 persons on board were lost.

The Roumania left Liverpool last Sunday for Bombay. She carried 55 passengers, a crew of 67 men, and a full cargo of valuable merchandise. She experienced heavy weather from early on Monday morning. On Tuesday she ran into a furious storm. All her passengers were ordered below, and were not allowed on deck again until Wednesday noon.

After a few hours of the first clear sailing she had had, the Roumania ran into a thick fog in about 42 degrees north latitude. She proceeded at half speed, and, it was supposed, well out from the coast. A violent storm came on after several hours in the fog.

When the storm struck her the Roumania was but a few miles from shore. The ship made little progress and the captain was unable to keep her bow to the wind. She went on the rocks almost without warning.

Heavy seas broke over the ship's decks, and many of the passengers, who ran on deck in a panic, were swept overboard and drowned.

A lifeboat was cut away and an attempt was made to lower it, but the boat was swamped. For two hours further attempts were abandoned.

The storm abated, and another boat was lowered and loaded with passengers. At 100 yards from the ship it capsized and all were drowned.

Two boats were started out from the shore, but put back, as the men were convinced that they could not live in such a heavy sea.

Another boat was lowered from the Roumania, but when half loaded was dashed against the ship's side and capsized. Fifteen persons, who had descended to her, were drowned.

Meantime wave after wave had broken over the Roumania, smashing her deck houses and ventilators, carrying away her smokestack and masts, and sweeping many of the passengers and seamen overboard.

Those still left decided to wait until the storm abated further before attempting to get ashore.

After an hour of suspense the seven men and two women who had remained on board lowered the last boat.

The storm had subsided, and although obliged to ride through a heavy surf, they reached shore in safety. The two women were the only passengers saved. Captain Young is reported to be among the lost.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Nitro-Glycerine Factory Near Lima, O., Goes Up With Fatal Results.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 29.—A special from Lima, Ohio, says: At precisely 10 a. m. the nitro-glycerine factory, two miles south of this city, exploded with a terrific report that was heard for twenty miles.

Buildings shook and windows were smashed all over the city.

Three persons are known to be dead, two probably fatally injured, and two teamsters missing.

THE DEAD:

ANDY SCHUTE, well shooter, whose home is in Bradford.
BENJAMIN DOWLING, teamster.
HENRY SCHAFNELL, watchman.

INJURED:

William Potter, badly hurt, but not fatally.
Tom Matcue, dangerously injured.
Ben Dowe, leg blown off. The two latter will probably die.

The farmhouse of William Hooker, 1,800 yards from the scene, was totally wrecked, and a servant girl injured by falling debris.

The farmhouse of Thomas Placer, a half mile above the Hooker homestead, was also badly damaged.

A great gaping hole marks the spot where the magazine stood.

The cause of the explosion is a mystery, but it is supposed that the glycerine was in some manner set on fire.

A $5,000 plate glass front in the Metropolitan Bank, fully three miles from the scene, was shattered.

Rev. Dixon Rises to Explain.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Rev. Thomas Dixon, jr., the sensational preacher, has issued a card in explanation of his recent arrest on Staten Island for shooting robins. He admits that the published accounts of the affair are absolutely correct, but endeavors to exculpate himself by pleading ignorance to the law; ignorance of the fact that a robin is a song bird and practically ignorance of everything except the loss of $155, the aggregate amount of the fines imposed upon him.

Two Killed by the Cars.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—Michael Kane and his wife of Wood street, this city, met death at Darby in attempting to cross the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks at Fifty-eighth street. The couple were in a cab driven by a man named Maguire, who did not see an express train approaching on the north bound track until it was too late. He jumped and escaped with a few slight scratches. Kane and his wife were instantly killed.

Defaulter Trumpbour Back in Jail.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Oct. 29.—M. B. Trumpbour, the defaulting assistant treasurer of the Ulster County Savings Institution, who has been out on bail without trial, is again in his old cell in the jail. Hewitt Boice, who was on his bond for $10,000, has withdrawn his bond and caused his arrest.

Olympia to be Launched Nov. 5.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—The new protected cruiser Olympia, which will be launched at San Francisco, Nov. 5, will be christened by Miss Anna Belle Dickie, daughter of George W. Dickie of San Francisco. The Olympia will make the fifth ship built on the Pacific coast for the new navy.

Cleveland's Baking Powder

"Absolutely the Best."

It is made of pure cream of tartar and soda, no ammonia, no alum. A like quantity goes farther and does better work. It is therefore cheaper.

Cleveland's is the baking powder used in the U. S. Army and by teachers of cookery. It never varies, and always gives perfect satisfaction. Try a can.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Forecast Till 8 P. M. Sunday: For New Jersey, Clearing, Followed by Fair Weather During Sunday; Colder Sunday Morning; Winds Becoming High, Northwesterly.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A praise service will be held in the W. C. T. U. rooms this evening.

—There will be service in the German Reformed church Wednesday evening at 7:45.

—The ladies' society of the St. Peter's German Lutheran church will hereafter meet the first Thursday in each month.

—The class in light gymnastics taught by E. L. Walz, jr., will meet at the Y. M. C. A rooms to-night. All interested should apply at once.

—The opera of "The Mascot", with the full New York company, will be presented in this city this evening in a way never before equalled in Plainfield.

—There will be a Democratic mass-meeting at 59 Broadway, Crescent rink building, Monday evening, Oct. 31, at 8. The meeting will be addressed by I. D. Murphy, of Washington, D. C., and others.

—Seven ex-Republican Cabinet officers are supporting Mr. Cleveland in this campaign—Hugh McCullough, Walter Q. Gresham, Carl Schurz, Wayne McVeagh, Benj. H. Bristow, Daniel McK. Key and Jacob D. Cox.

—The entertainment under the auspices of the local union of the Y. P. S. C. E., announced to be given in the Seventh Day Baptist church, Thursday evening of next week, will be given in the First Presbyterian church instead.

—The Democratic candidate for congress from this district, John T. Dunn, and Leonard G. Cohen, the assembly candidate, are expected to be present at the regular meeting of the Cleveland and Stevenson club next Monday evening.

—White & VanArsdale are offering inducements of the best kind to keep the trade of Plainfield at home. They have a large store, well stocked with new and seasonable goods, crockery, tin and glassware, house-furnishings, etc., and all so well arranged that shopping is a pleasure. They deliver goods everywhere free of charge.

—The Young Ladies' Missionary society of the First Baptist church is preparing for a fair to be held December 5 and 6. Mrs. Jane Roome has granted the use of the "Homestead" on Washington avenue, (next to the Park club-house), which is so admirably adapted for such a purpose, and as all the rooms are to be in use it will probably be a brilliant affair.

—One peculiarity of the performance of "The Mascot", as will be seen at Music Hall to-night, which appeals very strongly to the judicious play-goer, is the entirely original creation of the character of Lorenzo which Mr. Dixey has made. To the present generation, to whom the opera is new, this will not be apparent, but to those who have seen "The Mascot" in the days of its wonderful popularity of the past, the change is a most delightful one.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

The wife of ex-mayor John H. VanWinkle of North Plainfield, is lying very low. Her life is despaired of.

The Methodist chapels will unite with the main church congregation to-morrow evening in attending Dr. Mitchell's farewell service.

The Rev. Charles E. Herring of New York, who will preach in the First Presbyterian church to-morrow will probably be called to the pastorate.

Martin Wooden of Brooklyn, of the Royal Baking Powder company, called on his mother, yesterday, in North Plainfield, where she has lived over sixty years.

Mrs. Vincent, wife of the Bishop, is visiting at the home of Mulford Estil on Grove street, during her husband's attendance at the Bishops' convention in New York.

Miss Celie Ellis will sever her connection with the "Dr. Bill" company, next Saturday evening, at Elizabeth, where she will make her last appearance as Mrs. Horton.

Robert Jenkins, one of the most enterprising and successful business men of Dover, Morris county, and Miss L. DeCamp, of Chester, are the guests of Miss Force of Duer street.

At the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church just held in Baltimore, the Rev. T. Logan Murphy of North Plainfield was elected one of the trustees of the American Church Building Fund commission.

When Henry E. Dixey first determined to essay the role of Lorenzo, he wisely concluded to study the character as presented by French artists, and from them he has learned that the character is a "legitimate" one, in the portrayal of which coarseness and buffoonery are out of place. In this he departs from the precedents set in this country, but the correctness of his judgment has already been attested by the financial success of his venture. He will be seen in the character at Music Hall to-night.

A notable gathering of musicians took place Thursday evening, at the residence of Arthur Friedheim, (pianist), to celebrate his birthday. The guests were Anton Seidel, H. E. Krehbiel, Max Spicker, Mr. Fechter, a new tenor just arrived, Albert Bagley, and A. F. Venino, of this city. They were invited to partake of a very excellent dinner. As soon as the tongues were somewhat oiled, through the medium of fine Rhine wines, music became the general topic, and as might be expected from enthusiastic Wagnerians, Wagners' operas came in for the lion's share.

DEADHEADS ON THE STREET CARS.

The Police and Firemen in Uniform Will Hereafter Ride Free on Plainfield's Trolley Road.

Beginning Monday next, all regular policemen in uniform will ride free at all times on the cars of the Plainfield Street Railway company.

All firemen in uniform will also be carried free at all times.

And all firemen, though not in uniform, upon displaying their badge will be carried free from the moment an alarm of fire is sounded and until 30 minutes after the recall.

That Personal Column.

The following advertisement was found in the street addressed to the "Want and Offer Editor" of a certain local paper:

TROLLEY CAR, Plainfield ave. to Randolph's, Friday afternoon. Will petite brunette, blue dress, sailor hat, grant interview gentleman opposite. Mention incident. Admirer, 12769 Courrier uptown.

At a cent-a-word the paper loses a quarter which Mr. Admirer can put on the plate at church to-morrow. Truly the N. Y. Herald's personals are no longer in it.

The Colored Democrats at Works.

The Cleveland and Stevenson Colored Democratic club will meet next Monday evening for important business, and the rooms of the club will be open every evening till election. The club has a considerable membership of colored voters. Its president is Wm. E. Johnson, its vice-president J. E. Payne, and George Saddler is chairman of the executive committee.

Good Work Tells.

Marsh, Ayers & Co., Plainfield's painters and decorators, have a large force of men at work in New York decorating a large private residence, under the management of T. B. Marsh, one of the firm.

BY THE WAY.

—Do n't forget the special bargains in shoes at Doane & Edsall's to-night and next Monday.

—All members of the Bicycle club who contemplate joining the gymnasium class are expected to be on hand next Wednesday evening, when the season's work will begin.

—The bringing of Saturday night shows to Music Hall, proves a great boom for the druggists, confectioners, cigar dealers and in fact all the retail merchants in the city. They attract people from home and bring them down town where most all drop in the stores and buy something.

—The Courier spy tried to induce F. Linke, the wholesale liquor dealer on Front street, to break the law and sell him a pint of whiskey. But Mr. Linke refused and the spy did not have the hoped for pleasure of having Mr. Linke arrested. Yet the Courier is advertising Mr. Linke and accepting his money for it.

Else You'll Not be in It.

When Cleveland met Boston it did n't have even a sight at the base-ball pennant. This, some think, however, is not premonitory of Cleveland not having a sight of the presidential pennant. Be this as it may, you won't have any sight at all if you do n't attend to your eyes in time. Call at Collier's and be freely and reliably advised of their condition.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. H. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

THE SPY STILL AT WORK.

He Gets a Woman to Sell Him Beer, and Then Has Her Arrested in Imitation of "Detective" Murphy Methods.

Mrs. Lizzie Schorb, wife of William Schorb, was arrested by sergeant Lynch yesterday afternoon on the charge of selling liquor without a license. The police reserve their evidence till the trial, but it is understood that the Courier spy taking his meals at the Schorb restaurant under the old post-office induced the woman to supply him with a glass of beer from the saloon overhead, and then made complaint against her.

Mrs. Schorb pleaded not guilty, before judge Codington, and gave her recognizance for $200 to appear for trial next Friday at 10 a. m.

REPUBLICANS IN REVOLT.

John Kean, Jr., Is Likely to Lose 500 Votes in Union County.

[New York World.]

Another leading Republican of Elizabeth, Union county, is opposed to the election of John Kean, jr., for governor. His name is withheld for the present, but it is sufficient to say that he is one of the wealthiest men of the county, and one who has always ranked high in the party councils and has freely given his time and money in years gone by to promote its interests. He is an eloquent and logical speaker, and his voice has heretofore been heard in hot Presidential and State campaigns. This year he has remained out of politics solely, it is alleged by his friends, because he is disgusted with the nomination of a monopolist for Chief Executive of the State.

The revolt of leading Republicans of Union county against the candidacy of Kean, jr., is growing daily, and bids fair to attain formidable proportions before Nov. 8. It strongly resembles the Republican revolt in Union county against James G. Blaine eight years ago, with this difference, that most of the malcontents now opposed to Kean, jr., were enthusiastic Blaine men in 1884. Mr. Kean was originally a strong Blaine man, but he flopped over to Harrison when he became a candidate for renomination. This change of sentiment, it is said, was in return for Harrison and Sewell's action in making him the political boss and dispenser of Federal patronage in the Third New Jersey district. Many of the prominent Blaine Republicans of Union county are going to retaliate for Kean's desertion of their favorite and punish the young millionaire by casting their ballots for George T. Werts.

It is estimated by conservative men who are familiar with the extent of the Republican antagonism to John Kean, jr., that not less than 400 Republicans in Elizabeth, Plainfield and Rahway will vote against him, and that he will lose 500 Republican votes in Union county.

Assembly Nominations.

The Democratic Assembly conventions for this county were held Wednesday afternoon. In the first distric Timothy M. Kelly, of Elizabeth, a rising young lawyer, was nominated, with but little opposition.

In the second district there were several candidates, but Hon. Thomas F. Lane was finally renominated for a third term. Mr. Lane is a hustler, and will doubtless be elected again by a good majority, as the district is safely Democratic.

In this, the third district, Leonard Cohen, sr., of Westfield, was unanimously nominated for the assembly. He is a prominent farmer and highly respected by all parties. Hon. George W. Kyte, of Fanwood, has again been nominated by the Republicans, and though they have a large majority in the district, there is a chance for his defeat with such an excellent candidate as Mr. Cohen, as the people, especially in Mr. Kyte's neighborhood, think he is becoming too much of a chronic officeholder, being a member of the Board of Freeholders, of the township committee and now nominated for the third time for the Assembly.

Mr. Venino Writes a Book.

Albert Venino, of this city, has caused quite a stir in musical circles by the announcement of his new book, entitled "A Pedal System for the Piano." Dr. Wm. Mason has expressly written for this book, a very beautiful study. Shubert & Co., are the publishers, and the book will appear in January. The Pedal, Mr. Venino holds, has since its origin, been misused, and often employed to cover a multitude of sins, by teacher, pupil and pianist, alike, with but few exceptions. This book is a guide for the correct use of the pedal for beginner as well as for advanced pupils. There is no doubt that it will have a large sale, as it supplies a long-felt want.

Worth five dollars a bottle, but sold for only one dollar, and guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded—the genuine Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Fraudulent imitations of this medicine are sometimes offered and sold at 50 and 70 cents.

To protect the public from such imposition, the genuine is now sold only through druggists, regularly authorized as agents, and at the uniform and long-established price of $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00.

But each bottle of the genuine Golden Medical Discovery carries with it something that makes it the cheapest blood-purifier and liver-invigorator that you can buy. It's the printed guarantee of its makers that, if it fails to benefit or cure you, they'll return the money. You pay only for the good you get, with this and with all of Dr. Pierce's medicines. You pay the one fixed price—but if there's no help, there's no pay. It's "value received, or your money back."

Sore Against Ring Rule.

(Rahway Democrat.)

It appears by the following from the New York Evening Post that all is not lovely in the Republican ranks in this county—feeling, as do also the Democrats, that the parties in Elizabeth are altogether too liberal with themselves:

"The Republicans of Plainfield are disgruntled because of the lack of recognition given them by the members of the party in the other districts of the county. The city of Plainfield is the one solidly Republican stronghold in Union county, and the Plainfield voters feel that they have not the prominence in the party that their importance demands. This continual 'turning down' of the Plainfield faction has been secretly resented for a long time, and now that resentment has broken out in the form of open hostility and threats. The local Republican organ in its latest issue voiced the sentiment of the disgruntled members of the party in strong language, indicating that the flopping over of many Plainfield voters to the ranks of the Democracy may be expected."

TRIBUTE TO A WORTHY CITIZEN.

How Popular and Progressive Lewis Blackford Is Viewed Abroad.

That bright and enterprising newspaper, the Somerville Democrat, has issued a handsome souvenir edition, containing an interesting and profitable story of the industrial and commercial growth of the town, its history from its earliest settlement, and sketches of prominent merchants and citizens, all finely illustrated. The Democrat handles one highly-esteemed citizens of North Plainfi in this style:

"Lewis R. Blackford, the builder at North Plainfield, was born in Middlesex county in 1846. After going through the public school in Plainfield he served his time learning the carpenter trade. Having an inclination to become a merchant, he took a position as clerk in a clothing store at New Brunswick, where he remained for five years, and took a more lucrative position in the largest dry goods house in the city of Brooklyn for two years. Dissatisfied with the business, and failing in health, he was obliged to abandon his ideas of becoming a merchant, and to recuperate his health went south for a brief period. Returning to Plainfield he took up his trade and worked as a journeyman carpenter until 1876, when he commenced business for himself as a carpenter and builder, in which capacity he has met with phenomenal success, having constructed during the past fifteen years many of the finest residences and buildings in and about the vicinity of Plainfield.

"During Mr. Blackford's long business career he has been honored by his fellow citizens with positions of trust, both in political and civil life. These duties he has performed faithfully and properly particularly among the numerous orders of which he is an active member. He is Past Chancellor of Unity Lodge, No. 102, Knights of Pythias; Past Grand of Queen City Lodge, No. 126, I. O. O. F.; Past Chief Patriarch of Noah Dove Encampment, No. 28, I. O. O. F.; Recorder of Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W.; a member of Wetumpka Lodge, K. of H.; a member of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M.; a member of the Independent Order of Red men; Treasurer of the Non-Secret Endowment Order of Plainfield, No. 42; a member of the Finance Committee Grand Encampment, I. O. O. F., and served two years as a member of the Finance Committe Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and is President of the Carpenter's Union, No. 159, of Plainfield. In all of the important positions held by Mr. Blackford in the above orders, he has never failed to work incessantly for the benefit and advancement of the various orders with whom he is associated, and has been held in the highest esteem by its members for his ability, and his indefatigable efforts in their behalf. As foreman of the grand jury for the fall term of 1891, he was highly complimented by the court and its officers for the valuable service he rendered to the county in the fearless discharge of his duty. He has always manifested a deep interest in politics, and on numerous occasions has given able assistance to the Democratic party and its nominees, and on two occasions has been the presiding officer of the Democratic county convention, the first being the one that nominated William J. Keys for senator and James J. Bergen for assembly, the other being the late convention which nominated the county ticket. As a presiding officer he is just in his rulings and governs the convention with a firm and resolute hand, transacting its business with such promptness and despatch that it does not require much to observe that he is master of the situation. Mr. Blackford having rendered such valuable services to his party on so many occasions, it may be truthfully stated, that in the near future his party will undoubtedly reward him for his unflinching support and loyalty."

Get Together.

(From The Union Democrat.)

As we intimated in referring to the result in the county convention last week, it will be a very hard thing for the multitude of friends of County Clerk Crowell to overlook or condone the act of the majority of delegates, in depriving him of the usage of the party—a renomination, which he had a right to expect. But, as the adage goes—"What cannot be cured must be endured"—and the welfare of the Democratic party in this county is of too great value to allow such an important office as that of County Clerk—held by a Democrat ever since the county was formed—to fall into the hands of the enemy. Therefore let all of us who are friends of Mr. Crowell loyally stand by the ticket, and not assist to put a club in the hands of our opponents to break our own heads—to use a homely phrase: for our readers know that Mayor Chamberlain, the Republican candidate, is a strong partisan, and if elected will take every political advantage the office affords. Again we say—Democrats, stand by the whole ticket!

Daniel Roberts Sole Owner Again.

All the matters in difference between Daniel S. Roberts and Edward S. Lyon, and with which A. W. Waldron, jr., was incidentally connected, have been amicably adjusted to all concerned. Mr. Roberts has bought out the interest of Mr. Lyon in the livery business, the partnership heretofore existing between them has been dissolved by mutual consent, and the proceedings in Chancery discontinued.

The price paid by Mr. Roberts was $1,400 in cash and the release of Mr. Lyon from his unpaid notes of $4,300 that had been given towards the purchase of his interest. It is said that Mr. Lyon once offered to draw out for a horse and wagon.

CAMPAIGN IS BOOMING

Both Sides Working With Redoubled Activity.

EACH CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

What is Doing at the Different Headquarters—Claims of Partisans and Reasons for Same—Carlisle Explains His Failure to Register—Notes of the Canvass.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The last week of the campaign for the Democrats finds Senator Gorman, Mr. Whitney, Mr. Croker, Edward Murphy, jr., and Lieut.-Gov. Sheehan with their heads very close together.

Mr. Murphy was hurt in a carriage accident at Troy yesterday, but he was at the Hoffman House in the evening consulting with Mr. Sheehan. The Democrats are especially delighted to find the Maryland Senator in such close communion with his old friend Mr. Whitney and Mr. Croker and the leaders of the State machine. This fact more than any other has contributed to the confidence of the betting men that Mr. Cleveland is to carry New York State.

The gentlemen in charge of the campaign said that they were confident of Mr. Cleveland's election, but, for all that, they would not relax their efforts, and that they proposed during the week at hand to put in their best licks.

The Republican fighters, National and State, had all sorts of delegations visiting them in the afternoon and evening. Most of the committeemen are in town, and most of them will remain on the scene until after election. The National Committeemen were the most confident lot of citizens you ever met in a national fight. As has already been said, if they are bluffing, they are dandies at the business.

They emphatically declare that Harrison will win. They base most of their arguments on the figures received from the different States, and from what they say is the trend among business men, who write that they are opposed to any change in the Administration at this time.

In view of the claims at both headquarters it is difficult to attempt any prophesying. The betting in New York State is entirely in favor of the Democrats. The offers are still even on the general result. There was a whisper last night that the betting men will see some fireworks this week.

There is a good deal of interesting, if not actually valuable, figuring among expert political leaders just now as to how the Electoral College will stand after the votes have been counted. The total number of electors is 444, and the majority necessary to elect is 223. The officers of either of the National Committees have not yet authorized any table showing their claims, but the following figures have been privately approved by some of the Republican officers and come as near as possible at this time to being an official statement of the minimum Republican claim. The purpose of these figures is to show how Republican victory is probable, even with the loss (which is not conceded) of New York, Connecticut, New Jersey and West Virginia, as well as of Nevada, which is now conceded to the Third party,

Populist electors—Nevada, 3.

An essential feature of this calculation, which gives Harrison two more votes than are needed, is that it includes Indiana in the Republican column. The Democratic managers claim Indiana. They assert that the figures gathered by the Cincinnati "Enquirer" show that the Hosier State will give a Democratic plurality of about 7,000 instead of a Republican plurality of 700 as claimed.

CARLISLE'S VIEWS.

Thinks Cleveland a Sure Winner—His Failure to Register.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Senator John G. Carlisle, of Kentucky, arrived in New York late last night. Being asked about the report that he did not register, he said:

"A good deal of importance seems to be attached to my failure to register. The simple fact was that I was in Frankfort attending the Court of Appeals. I understood, and it was generally believed, before I left home, that the City Council of Covington would pass an ordinance allowing two additional days for registration.

"But the ordinance was not passed, and when I arrived in Covington I found the registry lists closed. That is all there was to it."

The Senator says the outlook for Cleveland is exceedingly encouraging, and that there is no doubt of his election.

Senator Quay Denies a Story.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Senator M. S. Quay, of Pennsylvania, is still in New York. His attention was called to-day to the despatch sent from this city Friday night by Col. A. K. McClure, of the Philadelphia "Times," saying that he (Quay) had abandoned all hope of victory in New York State. He replied: "I have once denied that I made any such admission. That was only a few days ago when a similar report was current."

Senator Osborne's Registry in Dispute.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The Republicans of this city tried to have the name of State Senator Edward B. Osborne stricken from the registry on the ground of illegal registration. The Senator has been stopping with his son at Albany and made his home at the Nelson House in this city. The inspectors refused to strike his name off and there is talk of taking the matter to the courts.

IN MEMORY OF LUTHER

The Grand Celebration in Wittenberg To-day.

INTEREST IN THE EMPEROR'S SPEECH

Mr. Deacon Arrives in London—His Wife Persists in Trying to Compromise the Case—Hamburg and Cholera—Other Late News by Cable.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The speech of Emperor William at the Wittenberg celebration to-day is to be of a politico-religious nature. It will touch gingerly on the relations of Church and State, and will emphasize his opinion that evangelical monarchs, notably of the House of Hohenzollern, have always made the protection of religious liberty and the toleration of heterodoxy one of the most conspicuous features of their domestic policies.

Should the Emperor make the last-mentioned avowal unequivocally, he will discourage the Lutheran zealots who are trying to drive Professor Harnack from his chair of theology in the Berlin University, because he does not believe in the Immaculate Conception.

The city of Wittenberg has been decorated magnificently in honor of to-day's anniversary. Triumphal arches have been erected at the Elster Thor and the Augusteum, the Collegian Strasse. Luther's house, Melancthon's house, the Electoral palace, the infantry barracks, and the whole market place are trimmed with great masses of flags and bunting.

Luther's bust is in every window, and is hung on nearly every private house. Despite the chilliness of the weather hundreds of peasants, who have walked to the city, were obliged to sleep last night in the fields or in temporary sheds. Hotels and houses are overflowing.

Dr. Luther, a physician descended from the great Reformer, is at Wittenberg to represent the Luther family at the consecration service. The Mayors of Hamburg, Luebeck and Bremen will represent at the celebration the old free cities. Lutheran churches throughout Germany were crowded at all services yesterday, and all Lutheran clergymen preached Reformation day sermons.

THE CASE OF THE DEACONS.

All the Wife's Overtures for Compromise Rejected by the Husband.

LONDON, Oct. 31. — Edward Parker Deacon has come to London to pass a few days after which he will go to the Riviera to consult with his lawyers as to the hearing of his wife's appeal from the court in Grasse where she was to have been tried for criminal adultery.

The appeal will be heard in about three weeks before a full bench of seven judges.

Mr. Deacon has been approached since the proceedings in Grasse by M. Barboux, Mrs. Deacon's lawyer. Through him she has offered to compromise matters with her husband. If Mr. Deacon would abandon the criminal adultery case, she signified her willingness to allow him unopposed action in obtaining a divorce in France.

Mr. Deacon, however, rejected the offer, because a divorce in France allows both parties equal rights over the children. As soon as he declined absolutely to consider the compromise M. Barboux sent out detectives to scour London and Paris for the purpose of getting every detail of Mr. Deacon's life in both cities.

Repeated efforts have been made to bribe Blanahard, Mr. Deacon's valet, who testified at Mr. Deacon's trial that Mrs. Deacon used to motion to Abeille that he should come when her husband went out and that the intimacy between Mrs. Deacon and Abeille was so patent that all the servants knew about it and laughed about it.

Not long ago Blanchard received an offer of 1,500 francs to be paid as soon as he would pledge himself to disappear from Francs.

New York Merchant's Fatal Fall.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—James Rogers, a New York merchant, while going upstairs to his room in the Hotel Imperial, Edinburgh, last night, slipped and fell to the bottom of the flight. He was picked up unconscious and was removed to the Royal Infirmary. He died in an hour without once regaining consciousness. An examination showed that he had suffered from a compound fracture of the skull.

Hamburg Not Yet Free from Cholera.

HAMBURG, Oct. 31.—Although there have been few cholera cases and no deaths from cholera here since Friday, the city will not be declared free from the epidemic for some time. Altona has not had a case since Friday. One case has been reported in Luebeck and another in a suburb of Luebeck.

Paper Trust in Canada.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 31.—A movement is on foot to combine all the paper manufacturers in Canada. English capital is behind it, and it is said the combination will soon be effected. It is understood that an export duty on spruce will be demanded as a retaliatory measure for the McKinley tariff on wood pulp.

Chairman Murphy Hurt.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Edward Murphy, jr., chairman of the Democratic State Committee, had his right shoulder dislocated by being thrown from his carriage in a collision yesterday.

REGISTRATION IN NEW YORK.

Reports from All Parts of the State Show An Increase Over Last Year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Reports from all sections of the State show that the registration is larger than was expected even by the most reckless guesser.

In this city the total registration for the four days was 309,833 against 286,542 in 1888 and 261,623 in 1891.

Brooklyn, 181,668 against 158,426 in 1891. Total in Kings County 194,000.
Buffalo, 58,500; last year, 50,273.
Amsterdam, 4,539; last year, 3,950.
Troy, 14,875; last year, 14,620.
Poughkeepsie, 5,359; last year, 5,324.
Middletown, 3,156; last year, 2,817.
Watertown, 4,427; an increase of 409 over last year.
Auburn, 5,949; a gain of 483 over last year.
Newburg, 5,852; last year, 5,391.
Oswego, 5,075, against 4,772 in 1891.
Syracuse, 23,065; last year 20,825.

The total registration in Schenectady is 5,523, an increase of 535 over the registration of last year.

The total registration throughout the seven districts in Norwich, is 2,187 against 2,105 last year.

FLORIDA ELECTORS.

They May Not be Permitted to Cast the Vote of the State.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 31.—It is reported that the vote of Florida may be thrown out of the Electoral College owing to a fight among the Democrats, which has resulted in the removal by Gov. Flemming of Tax Collector I. E. Johnson of Duval county because he refused to receive $4,000 in payment of poll taxes for 2,000 votes after noon on Sep. 3, the last day for their payment.

Chairman Harvey of the People's party says these refusals were common all over the State, and that, following the Johnson precedent, 35 out of the 45 collectors should be removed. He will carry the matter before Congress claiming that fully 20,000 voters were thus illegally disfranchised.

Arrests for Illegal Registration.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Sixteen arrests for illegal registration have been made in the Eighth district. The Federal marshals, who had bagged a prisoner in the same district the day before, got another there yesterday, got four in the Second district, one in the Third, and two Blackwell's Island paupers. Among the arrests was the notorious Mart Allen.

WONDERFUL STRIKE OF GOLD.

A New Find of the Metal in the Eclipse Mine Causes a Sensation.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 31.—The past week has been a surprising one in the Cripple Creek gold camp, and at least one big discovery has been made. The camp is all excitement over the wonderful strike made in the Eclipse mine yesterday.

The Eclipse is located in Requa Gulch, and has been a regular shipper for the past two months, averaging about a carload a week. The returns from these shipments have averaged over $100 a ton, but there was nothing in the character of the ore to prepare the men who were taking it out for the wonderful stuff that was uncovered yesterday.

At a depth of 95 feet a vein of white talc and crystalized quartz was encountered, the vein apparently being about four feet in width. The ore is full of rusty gold, some of it being in large cubes, which even old miners pronounce the most wonderful display of free gold they ever saw.

There is much to indicate that this will be what expert mining men have been claiming all along—the greatest gold camp in the world. There are now over 30 shipping mines, and the advent of the railroad will double the number.

BIG FIRE AT PHILADELPHIA.

Shipping and Wharves Damaged to the Extent of $200,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—Point Breeze was visited again by fire at an early hour yesterday morning and before the flames could be controlled the wharves and shipping were damaged to the extent of nearly $200,000.

The iron bark Felix, Captain Raines, which was lying at the wharf awaiting a load of refined oil was sunk, and the bark Elena G., loaded with case oil was badly damaged; a lighter loaded with cases of oil was burned to the water's edge. Chas. Houseman's lime barge was destroyed, five hundred feet of wharf property was burned, a house and barn belonging to the city were wiped out and other property was destroyed or badly damaged.

The fire burned stubbornly all day and it was not until late in the evening that it was extinguished.

Havoc Done to Lake Shipping.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—The northwest gale of Saturday caused great havoc in lake shipping. Two lives were lost and boatworth over one million dollars were wrecked. As most of the larger boats can be saved the actual money loss will probably not exceed $200,000. The storm on the lower lakes is lessening, but on Lake Superior the wind is still blowing a furious gale accompanied by a very heavy snow.

Killed by a Keg of Beer.

MAHANOY, Pa., Oct. 31.—A party of miners were taking a keg of beer out on the hillside at Buck Mountain yesterday, where they intended having a jollification, when John Molinsky, who was carrying the keg on his shoulder, was pushed by a companion. Molinsky fell to the ground and the keg of beer struck him, crushing in the back of his head and neck. He died a few minutes later. The man that pushed him fled to the woods.

STEVENSON'S ANSWER

The Democratic Candidate Formally Accepts.

CAMPAIGN QUESTIONS DISCUSSED.

The Vice-Presidential Nominee Gives His Views on the Tariff and the Currency—Nearly Half the Document Devoted to the Lodge Bill and Similar Attempted Legislation.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 30.—The letter of acceptance has been sent to the President of the National Democratic Convention by Gen. A. E. Stevenson:

CHARLESTON, Oct. 29.

TO THE HON. WILLIAM L. WILSON, CHAIRMAN, ETC.

When, in the presence of my countrymen I accepted the honor conferred upon me by the convention over which you presided, I promised to indicate by letter in a more formal manner my acceptance of the nomination tendered me by the assembled representatives of the Democratic party of the United States.

Since that time I have been engaged continually in the discussion before the people of many States of the Union of the issues emphasized by the convention and represented by our candidate for President, Grover Cleveland. Opportunity has thus been denied me to write with the care I would like to the more formal answer promised to your committee.

The full discussion of public questions, commonly expected from a candidate for Vice President, has been rendered less imperative by the complete presentation of the Democratic creed, by the gentleman with whom I have the honor to be associated as a candidate on the National ticket. His treatment of the issues now before the country for discussion and settlement, was so complete that I can do little more than endorse his position and give it the emphasis of my unqualified approval.

The greatest power conferred upon human government is that of taxation. All the great struggles of the people for a broader political liberty have tended towards the limitation of this power by right to tax—a right which should always be limited by the necessities of the government—and the benefits of which may be shared by all whenever this power is used to draw tribute from the many for the benefit of the few, or when parts of the people are oppressed in order that the remainder may prosper unduly, equality is lost sight sight of, injustice hardens into precedent which is used to excuse new exactions, and there arises artificial distinctions which the beneficiaries come to look upon in due time as vested rights sacred to themselves.

It is plain that our present inequitable system of tariff taxation has promoted the growth of such condition in our land, favored though it has been by an industrious and enterprising people, a friendly climate, a productive soil and the highest development of political liberty. If the beneficiaries of this system shall be able to add a new tenure of power to those they have already enjoyed, the development of unfavorable conditions must continue until the power to tax will be lodged in those who are willing and able to pay for the perpetuation of privilege originally conferred by a confiding people for the preservation inviolate of their own government.

There is no longer pretext or excuse for the maintenance of a war tariff in times of peace and more than a quarter of a century after armed conflict has ceased. The platform of the National Democratic Convention demands the reform of this system and the adoption in its place of one which will insure equality to all our people. I am in full and hearty accord with these purposes.

The convention also declared its position on the currency question in no unmeaning words, when it said in the platform: "We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver, without discriminating against either metal or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or be adjusted through international agreement, or by such safeguards of legislation as shall insure the parity of the two metals and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the markets and in payment of debt, and we demand that all paper currency shall be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin."

To this plain and unequivocal declaration in favor of sound, honest money, I subscribe without reservation or qualification. A safe circulating medium is absolutely essential to the protection of the business interests of our country, while to the wage earner or the farmer it is an important that every dollar, whatever its form, that finds its way into his pocket should be of equal, unquestioned, and universal exchangeable value and of equal purchasing power.

Another issue of great moment in the pending contest is the Force bill, the magnitude of which cannot be overstated. It may mean the control of the election of Representatives in Congress by the bayonet. The Republican party, by its acts in the Fifty-first Congress, and by its platform in its late national convention, stands pledged to the passage of this bill. That it will pass it when it has the power no sane man can doubt. To all our people who desire the peace and prosperity of our common country this question is all-important.

Since my nomination I have been in eight of the Southern and Southwestern States of the Union, and have talked with men of all classes and conditions there. I found a general and growing apprehension of the evils, which, it is believed, would result from the Lodge bill or similar threatened legislation. I found the industries established by Northern capital during Mr. Cleveland's administration in a languishing condition, and that the immigration of labor and the investment of capital invited to those States by their then peaceful condition had ceased.

The enactment of a Force bill into law, while it would threaten the liberties of the entire people, would undoubtedly retard the material growth of the States at which it was specially aimed, would incite in many communities race troubles and invite retaliatory legislation, which would discontinue and destroy the security of Northern investments.

Its reflex action upon the Northern States would result in a consequent loss of commercial and trade relations with the vast territory now becoming tributary to their wealth and prosperity. I say nothing now of the inherent vice of the un-American and revolutionary spirit involved in the Lodge bill, which was pronounced by a Republican Senator "the most infamous that ever crossed the threshold of the Senate."

I appeal to the instinct of self interest and common justice in the American people. The era of good feeling and renewed commercial relations, commencing with the election of Mr. Cleveland in 1884, should not be interrupted by the inauguration of a policy which tends to destroy popular representation and the purity of local self-government, which furnishes an instrument to discredited Federal power to perpetuate itself, which seeks to keep alive sectional jealousies and strife, which threatens important commercial interests, and which offers no excuse or palliation for its existence, except the perpetuation in power of a political party which has lost public confidence.

I accept the nomination tendered me, and, should the action of the convention meet the approval of my countrymen, will, to the best of my ability, discharge with fidelity the duties of the important trust confided to me.

Very respectfully,
ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

MILWAUKEE'S DISASTER.

Measures of Relief for the Sufferers By the Great Fire.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—The work of relief goes steadily on and plans are still being devised to succor the unfortunate people who lost their homes by the great fire.

Churches and public buildings have been thrown open to accommodate them temporarily, while every society and organization in the city is maturing plans for immediate financial relief.

The subscriptions, some of which were started while the fire was still raging, are being rapidly swelled.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a general committee of relief was organized to forward the work, and subscriptions began to pour in from the citizens who were in attendance before even the committee was appointed.

Several subscriptions of $1,000 were made on the spot and within a few hours the subscriptions reached the sum of about $60,000.

It is estimated that 600 families were burned out, and that at least 1,500 individuals are homeless. As most of their buildings, tenements and dwellings were uninsured, these people have met with almost total loss and are destitute.

The business district devastated is an important one, embracing many heavy wholesale houses. The total loss by the fire is now estimated at about $5,000,000 with insurance of about $3,000,000.

The corrected list of dead are: Henry Peddenbroch, fireman; Charles Stahr, fireman, suffocated by smoke; Mrs. Callahan and Mrs. Mary O'Brien, both widows, died of fright and excitement after being removed from the burning dwellings.

Frank Rogers, who has been partially paralyzed for some time, is still missing, and it is now quite certain that he perished in the flames.

Of the injured it is now believed that all will recover.

THREE KILLED, SEVERAL HURT.

The Chimney of a Potomac River Steamboat Blown Off.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The steam chimney of the steamboat Wakefield, belonging to the Potomac River Steamboat company, blew off at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and killed three men, probably four, and more or less seriously injured three others. The steamer was on the return trip to Washington, and when off Maryland Point, about 50 miles down the river, the accident occurred.

Alexander Tolman and James Johnson, colored firemen, were instantly killed by flying fragments, and William Clark, a colored boot-black, was blown off the boat by the shock and drowned. Another colored man is missing, and it is believed he met the fate of the boot-black.

E. L. Gerdon, a white assistant engineer, was badly bruised about the head and arms. He was brought to his home in Alexandria. William Motley and William Carney, colored deck hands, were badly scalded and otherwise injured. They were brought to Washington and are now at Providence hospital.

The Wakefield was only slightly damaged, and immediately after the accident was towed to a landing at Quantico, about 40 miles from Washington. She was used principally as a freight boat, stopping at all the Potomac river landings for a distance of 85 miles down, but occasionally transported passengers.

Weather Forecast.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31.—For New England: Generally fair, followed by threatening weather, possibly snow in northern Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont; cooler, westerly winds increasing to gales along the coast.

For Eastern New York, Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware: Generally fair weather; cooler northwesterly winds; gales on the coast; warmer on Tuesday.

For Western New York: Fair weather; warmer westerly winds; rising barometer at the lake stations.

FREE TRADE IMPOSSIBLE.

(From Grover Cleveland's Letter of Acceptance.)

We anticipate with calmness the misrepresentation of our motives and purposes, instigated by a selfishness which seeks to hold in unrelenting grasp its unfair advantage under present tariff laws. We will rely upon the intelligence of our fellow-countrymen to reject the charge that a party comprising a majority of our people is planning the destruction or injury of American interests; and we know they cannot be frightened by the specter of impossible free trade.

"Do they not tell you that Grover Cleveland will carry this State by 10,000, but that they expect to defeat George T. Werts by money? Is not that on every lip? Does it not come to you from your Republican friends? Is this true? Is our liberty, our right of suffrage, to be wounded and broken down in the person of the father of free ballots, and that by the introduction of large amounts of money in our State?—Attorney-General Stockton's Speech.

A New York workman, lineman for the N. Y. and N. J. Telephone company, fell sixty feet to the ground, from a telephone pole at the corner of Grandview avenue and Somerset street this forenoon. A badly bruised arm was his worst injury. He walked to Dr. Carman's and was cared for.

How to Keep Good Pastors in Plainfield.

In his farewell discourse last evening Dr. Mitchell said:

"We have had good evening congregations; but if we could have had such audiences as this, on every Sunday evening, I should have hestitated louger about leaving this church."

So Plainfield churches may take warning. The way to keep a good pastor is to show appreciation of his works by large and attentive congregations.

A Borough Barn Burned.

The new gong in the borough was used for a fire-alarm for the first time Saturday night at 10:30, when Warren Engine company was summoned to fight flames which were consuming the barn of Charles Wyckoff at the foot of the mountains in a line with Duer street. The barn was burned to the ground. The engine took water from the brook, but was unable to do anything to check the headway of the fire, which had too far advanced. The insurance was $200, and the loss a trifle more.

The speech-making over, all sat down to partake of the chowder, which was heartily relished. Afterwards all present listened to songs that were sung by some of the members present. TRACED TO PLAINFIELD.

MR. ROSENZWEIG AND MISS WALTZMAN ELOPE

And Mrs. Rosenzweig's Father Employs Detectives Who Follow Them to This City, and the Wife Becomes "Miss" Rosie Samuels, Owing to Her Husband's Fondness for the Governess.

Judge McAdam in the Superior court, New York, Saturday morning granted Mrs. Rosie S. Rosenzweig a decree of absolute divorce from Marx Rosenzweig on statutory grounds. No alimony was demanded, as all parties in the case are wealthy, the wife's father being Marcus Samuels, who is in the wholesale millinery business at 632 Broadway. Marx Rosenzweig is a member of the firm of Gennaro DeAngelis & Co., civil engineers and contractors, 4 West Fourteenth street.

The co-respondent in the case was Annie Weltzman, who had lived in the Rosenzweig family for several years as governess. Detectives employed by Mr. Samuels have traced Mr. Rosenzweig and Miss Weltzman to Plainfield. There are two children, Clarence, aged seven and Gertrude, aged three years. Mrs. Rosenzweig, who now becomes Miss Samuels once more will have charge of the children.

The marriage took place at Thirty-fifth street and Lexington avenue on October 28, 1883. The couple went to live in Mount Vernon, where they had a luxurious home. Before the end of the first year, however, Mrs. Rosenzweig felt that her husband's affections had been taken from her.

The climax came with the advent of the governess, Annie Weltzman, with whom the husband fell in love.

Miss Weltzman became ill, and was removed to Mount Sinai Hospital by the family physician. When she recovered Rosenzweig determed to take her back to his home.

"She will never set foot in this house again as governess", said Mrs. Rosenzweig.

"Then she will come as a boarder and have the best room in the house", retorted the husband, who had his way.

Mrs. Levy, of 244 East 117th street, chanced to be visiting the house when she saw enough to make Mrs. Rosenzweig insist next morning that Miss Weizman should leave the house.

"No, she won't leave the house, but you can get out when you please, and the sooner you go the better I will like it", is what the husband is said to have replied, and Mrs. Rosenzweig went away that day, returning to her father at 274 Lenox avenue.

Rosenzweig promptly brought an action against his wife's father and mother for $50,000 on the ground that they had alienated her affections from him. When the suit came up for trial last week Mr. Rosenzweig decided to press this claim no further.

NO VERDICT.

The Jury in the Miller Case Could n't Agree.

Frederick A. Miller, druggist, was tried this morning on the charge of violating the liquor-license law by selling whisky without a prescription. Judge Codington and a jury sat on the case. Miller had counselor Reed to defend him, while corporation counsel Craig A. Marsh represented the city. Miller contended that what he sold was to a man claiming to suffer from a cold, and was not pure whisky, but a cough concoction. The jury found after much deliberation that they could not agree, and were discharged. They stood as follows:

DOCTOR'S FEES AND FREE ADVERTISING.

According to newspaper reports, a celebrated American surgeon received $5,000 for removing a little wen from a wealthy lady's scalp. The papers fail to state the exact amount of free advertising the doctor managed to obtain.—National Advertiser.

Let's reason together.

Here's a firm, one of the largest the country over, the world over; it has grown, step by step, through many years to greatness.

This firm pays the newspapers good money (expensive work, this advertising!) to tell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that if they can't benefit or cure they don't want your money.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on this liberal plan. If it doesn't benefit or cure, it costs nothing. It cures Skin, Scalp and Scrofulous affections, as Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Fever-sores, White Swellings, Hip-joint disease and kindred ailments.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, no matter how many hundred doses are offered for its price ($1.00 a bottle), since you pay only for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

Never defer a vital matter. A cough shouldn't be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it at once.

The wonderful cure by Salvation Oil of Mr. M. S. Culp, a chronic rheumatic, 816 George st., Baltimore, Md., is a miracle.

The strong wind was fanning the flames and driving huge clouds of smoke before them. As near as could be seen from the train windows there appeared to be few houses in the neighborhood.

The country folks are battling with the fire and are doing their utmost to check its consumption of the timber.

A PASTOR'S PARTING.

DR. MITCHELL SAYS GOOD-BYE TO HIS PEOPLE.

Powerful and Affecting Farewell Sermon to a Large Congregation in the Episcopal Church—Strong Attack on the Local Saloon and License System—The Clergyman Longing for Home.

In his farewell sermon to Plainfield, last evening, the Rev. Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell was as valiant as ever a fighter against wrong, a wise counselor, an earnest Christian, a good and tender-hearted man.

The night was a beautiful one; the moon shone bright from a cloudless sky and bathed the earth with its glorious rich-hued autumnal foliage in a flood of mellow golden light. The air was as quiet as a tranquil heart, and pleasantly crisp with the frosty tinge of harvest-time. A Sabbath peace rested over all.

The Methodist Episcopal church was early filled with worshipers, and before the time for opening service the walls of the outer aisles were lined with those obliged to stand. Many extra seats were provided at the front of the church and in the aisles, but even these were not enough.

"If I had such a gloriously large congregation as this at every service"—remarked the clergyman—"I say to you in all frankness that I should more seriously consider the matter of leaving you people. But it is only when a pastor is going away that he gets such a gathering as this."

The people were all in an impressive mood, for a regret, a gentle sorrow, was in their hearts, at the personal loss to themselves of so kind and faithful a friend as the departing clergyman, at the loss to the community at large of so good a citizen, so splendid a minister of God. And so their melting hearts were quick to recognize that the services throughout were even more than usually affecting, and in their emotion tears welled to many eyes.

There was a tender strain in every hymn; in every word of the preacher there was power and fire and benediction.

In his opening prayer Dr. Mitchell asked that blessings be showered upon the people from whom he was going away; that they who would for a space be without a shepherd might be lovingly enfolded, fed, and cared for, by the Master Shepherd; that he who was to minister temporarily to the flock might be blessed with a double visitation of the Spirit. And in their hearts, to this and more, the people said Amen.

The pastor poured his whole soul into his sermon. His text was chosen from Paul's epistle to the Galatians, sixth chapter and ninth verse: "Let us not be weary in well-doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not".

This warning admonition and happy promise, Dr. Mitchell made a personal application of, to himself and people. In glowing words he depicted the glories of the Christian's life, and dwelt on the divine beatitude of the eternal heaven of the faithful. It was not a bed of roses—the Christian's life—or, at least, not a bed of thornless roses—for the satanic foe was sharp and unyielding and deathless: but for those who were tireless in striving after good, in doing works of goodness, there was a most glorious reward.

MUZZLE THE DOGS: WHY NOT THE SALOONS?

There was opposition to the Christian and the church—much opposition, and from sources least anticipated. The saloon was arrayed in all its worldly might against the church, and helping the saloons were men of high position and influence.

He admitted that it was enough to make one discouraged: to see men whom he respected for other things gathered together in council and voting to muzzle the dogs yet licensing the sale of strong drink.

They pay a man to catch your dog,—he said—unless the dog has his head bound up in an uncomfortable and cruel muzzle, and yet they accept pay in license fees from the liquor-men and permit the saloons to stay wide open, while on every hand there are desolate homes and snapping heart-strings, all from the curse of the rum trade. Why muzzle the dogs,—he cried—just because some months ago a dog ran through town that was feared to be mad, and yet leave these gates of death and of hell wide open in the heart of our beautiful city? Why not put a muzzle on both the front door and the back door of such infamous institutions?

Yes: to have men honored and respected voting for such a traffic in the community was enough to make one heartsick: it made him weary: yet we must not yield to that weariness; we must not faint; for the time of the harvest was yet to come.

AGAIN THE SALOON.

Yet again during his sermon did Dr. Mitchell preach in unequivocal language against the evil power of the saloon.

Here—he said—is a large congregation of people banded together for the one purpose of doing good, a church of might, a great blessing to the community. Yet as great and good an institution as it was, there were many who could view its departure without regret, who would spare it much more readily than they would the saloons. If it should become known—he argued—that the Methodists of Plainfield were going to shut up shop, go out of business, many would view the calamity with equanimity; and there would be no loss of sleep; yet let it be known that on the morrow every rum-hole in town was to be closed, and what wailing there would be, what sleepless eyelids!

PERSONAL APPLICATION OF THE TEXT.

The words of the sermon's text—said the doctor—were addressed to the Galatians, a warm-hearted, impulsive, but fickle people in Central Asia Minor. At first they received St Paul with great eagerness, and accepted his gospel with delight; but soon afterwards their changeable disposition led them to forsake his teachings and to follow new teachers. Hence Paul's appeal in the text.

Do n't—said the preacher—do n't let us be weary; let us not play the Galatian, as we are all too apt to do.

GOOD WORK AND THRIFTY GROWTH OF THE LOCAL CHURCH.

We as a church—Dr. Mitchell said—have been engaged in well-doing. There are idle and criminal classes in this city; there are rich and indolent people here. But this church is not of these. The Christian's life is keyed to service, and this church has been at work in well-doing, like its Master who went about doing good.

Dr. Mitchell gave a brief review of the good work done in the church during the four years of his ministry; the three Sunday-schools, with an aggregate of nearly 800 attendants; the Epworth League, with 200 members; the Junior League, for the younger children; the annual expenses of the church about $8,000, and additional $10,600 in benevolent contributions. During his pastorate here he had preached 400 sermons; attended 325 prayer meetings; married 56 couples; baptized 160 people; and made 2,500 pastoral visits.

A DANGER TO BE SHUNNED.

Our text—he continued—tells us of a danger to be shunned: that men may grow weary in well-doing. Some weary of the monotony of the toil; some like frequent change of employment; some are disappointed in the results of their labors; from various reasons people grow weary in well-doing.

Some are tired of the opposition which they encounter; some say "I have done my part—now let others do theirs". Some are cold of heart, and some are weak of will.

Let us not grow weary! Let us hold each other up! Life is too short for us to surrender our hopes. Eternity is so long that we cannot afford to forget it. Let us rise above weariness and do our work!

A BEAUTIFUL PROMISE.

For—he said—we have an encouraging promise—"We shall reap". But it has a condition, if we faint not.

We shall reap in this present life the harvest of our toil. There were four years ago in this church 497 members. have received by letter 195; have received new members after a period of probation, 176, making a total of 371. Some have died, and 113 have moved away, and now the membership is 703. Thus have we reaped.

Your pastor has reaped in kind words of appreciation; in the love of many warm hearts; in the provision made for his care and support; in the letters from those who have written of receiving blessings under his ministry.

And these are but a part of the results, for they are not all seen, they cannot all be counted upon church records, they may not be tabulated.

We shall reap our most abundant reward in the life to come.

RICH DEVELOPMENTS OF THE FUTURE.

In the famous green vault in Dresden there is shown a silver egg; touch a spring and it opens, disclosing a golden yolk. Touch another spring, and the yolk breaks apart; showing an enameled bird of rich and variegated plumage. Touch one more spring, and the bird flies apart and within it lies a diamond ring.

So in the Christian's life each moment of the future has new developments, and in the hereafter, when the last spring has been touched, we shall find our abundant reward.

A DIVINE EXAMPLE.

As a divine example of One who wearied not in well-doing, was the Master, whose life was a ministry of thirty-three years. Yet only a handful of people over a hundred gathered, after his crucifixion on a felon's cross and burial like a pauper in a borrowed tomb, with faith enough to await the fulfilment of His promise. He further told of the missionaries who in foreign lands and amid many perils had wrought for many years before making a single convert.

METHODIST FORESIGHT.

In speaking of the work achieved by the Methodists, Dr. Mitchell referred to the handsome and thriving new chapels, which had been built with commendable foresight in sections which were already beginning to acquire the "boom" which had been anticipated. The hard-headed, money-making business scheme of an electric railway had followed and was following directly in the footsteps of the Methodists, and the electric bond would soon unite the two chapels in distant sections of the outskirts directly with the mother church. The Methodists were to be congratulated in having chosen as their fields the neighborhoods that now gave promise of such great development.

LONGING FOR HOME.

There was a husky tremor in his voice, and the eyes of his hearers were dewed with tears as Dr. Mitchell spoke of his longing for home.

I have never had a home—he said.—My father never had a home. My father's father was homeless also. I come from a long line of Methodist itinerants. I was born in a parsonage, and have been on the march ever since. I never expect to have a home, on this earth. I expect to keep on the march till I die. My home is yonder. And that home I long for.

I love this world—it is a beautiful one. And never did it seem more beautiful than this autumn. I love this country here. Of all the bright and happy garden-spots in this or in any other country, there is none I love more than this. Were I free to choose my earthly home, my abiding-place should be beautiful Plainfield. It is rich in lovely homes. It is a bower of paradise with trees and flowers. Its range of hills is a delight. The roar and salt of the sea quiver and spice the air that float from ocean's shore across its plains. Its contiguity to so many points of interest is an added charm.

Yes: I love this world, this life, these friends, this church. But dearly as I love these things they are not my home. My home is There. I want to live this life just so long as the Master has work for me to do, and in His service I am a wanderer. I want to get Home; I want to get Home. When the wide firmament is rolled up like a scroll I want to awake in the realms of the blest. I want to meet my sainted father there. I want to greet the loved ones who have gone before. I want to see assembled these friends, and those of other congregations which are dear to me. But most of all I want to hear the Master's "Well done, well done: enter thou into the joy of thy Lord!"

And I want that same blessing to be visited on each one of you.

SAVING GRACE AND FINAL REWARD.

"By faith ye are saved"—said Paul. But a greater than Paul has said "Ye shall be rewarded according to the works ye have done in the body". And so we must work for our reward, and faint not. I—said the preacher—cannot hope for so great a reward as Paul's, but my humble reward will be just as precious and joyous to me as Paul's to him.

A MODEL SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

During his sermon Dr. Mitchell took occasion to speak of Vincent chapel and its Sunday-school. It was a fact to marvel at that among those hundreds of Sunday-school children there could not be found twenty of the requisite age who were not professing and active followers of Christ. Dr. Hurlbut, whose wide experience included travels all over the land from sea to sea, said that there was nothing like it anywhere. It was a most gratifying and wonderful state of affairs.

Dr. Vincent's prayer, and Dr. Mitchell's prayer, had been that the new pastor coming four years ago might especially lay hold on the hearts of the young, and his work among the youths had been productive of especially bountiful harvests.

[Dr. Mitchell's new congregation is composed largely of young men, for work among whom he seems especially fitted.]

The closing prayer of the evening was by the Rev. Dr. J. L. Hurlbut, who will have charge of the church till a new pastor is selected. Dr. Mitchell pronounced the benediction, calling down upon the people the grace and blessings of the Triune God.

At the close of the service many of the audience pressed forward to take the pastor's hand and wish him abundant prosperity in his new field of labor. Many were visibly affected and some sobbed outright.

OTHER SERVICES OF THE DAY.

All of the closing services of the day of Dr. Mitchell's ministry in Plainfield were attended by unusually large audiences.

In the morning the Methodist Episcopal church was filled at the sacramental service. The retiring pastor baptized a number of people, received others into church, and read several letters of membership. In the Communion service which followed, he was aided by Dr. Hurlbut, Dr. Carroll, and the Rev. Mr. Hyde; and more than three hundred people received the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

In the afternoon, Dr. Mitchell made a tour of the three Sunday-schools, in Vincent, Monroe Avenue and Park Place chapels, and delivered at each school a brief farewell address.

So goes away from Plainfield one of the best pastors this city ever knew. May bountiful blessings ever attend him and his!

In Defence of Miss Trudelle and Mrs. Blake.

Plainfield is still discussing the recent presentation of "Dr. Bill" there. Friends of Miss Alice Trudelle, and she has many, say that the harsh criticisms passed upon her share of the performance were entirely undeserved. One of them, who witnessed the entire play, writes to the New York Herald:

It is not true that her execution of the kangaroo dance was made "suggestive" nor was in any particular immodest. Neither did she at any time appear in abbreviated skirts. She is to be commended for her delicate handling of a part which otherwise might have been made coarse and vulgar. Everything that could have been so characterized was carefully eliminated.

Friends of Miss Celie Ellis also assert that the criticisms passed upon her were unjust and ill-founded. It is denied—says the Herald—that she sang a song in which reference was made to "being up all night at a wine supper" or did a "drunken act". During the visit of the company Miss Ellis was the guest of a lady conspicuous in Plainfield social circles and was entertained at supper by the Union County Country club.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. John VanWinkle.

Counselor John H. VanWinkle was again bereaved, Sunday morning at 6:45, when his wife, Mrs. Emma T. Judson, died, at their home, 19 Duer street. She was married to Mr. VanWinkle in June, 1891, and came to Plainfield a total stranger. Her charming personality, however, won for her many friends, and she became warmly beloved by all who knew her. She was an active member of Trinity church, a devoted wife and Christian. Her loss will be keenly felt in a happy home and in her church.

Mrs. VanWinkle was a sufferer from a fatal form of liver disease. For the three days preceding her death she was unconscious. Mr. VanWinkle spared nothing to cure her trouble. Three different specialists from New York were employed by him and did all they could. Mrs. VanWinkle's mother was summoned from her home in Paris, Ill., and her sister and aunt came from Washington, and were all three present at the death-bed. Mr. VanWinkle is crushed by this his second affliction, and has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

The funeral service will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from 19 Duer street. Interment will be made in the family plot in the North Plainfield cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Chandler.

Mary, widow of the late George Chandler, died yesterday in her seventy-ninth year, at the residence of her son-in-law, Daniel L. Hulick, 35 Jackson avenue, where funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1 p. m. She was mother of John Chandler, and of Mrs. Isaac W. Pangborn, as well as of Mrs. Hulick.

Allow me to add my tribute to the efficacy of Ely's Cream Balm. I was suffering from a severe attack of influenza and catarrh and was induced to try your remedy. The result was marvelous. I could hardly articulate, and in less than twenty-four hours the catarrhal symptoms and my hoarseness disappeared and I was able to sing a heavy role in grand opera with voice unimpaired. I strongly recommend it to all singers.—Wm. R. Hamilton, leading basso of the C. D. Hess Grand Opera Co.

A TERRIBLE HITTER.

Admiral Ammen's Ram, to be Launched About November 1.

Interesting Details in the Construction of This Remarkable Craft—Her Method of Fighting Compared with That of the Warship.

[COPYRIGHT, 1892.]

The Ammen ram is a decidedly unique specimen of naval architecture.

Her general shape, the details of her construction and her means of offense and defense are quite unlike those of any other vessel yet designed, as will be seen further on.

But these wide departures from the usual practice of a naval construction are due to the fact that she is intended for one specific warlike object, and that object is to sink her adversary by ramming. In designing her, every feature that would tend to adapt her the better to this single mode of attack was carefully considered and developed to the highest practicable degree.

Other warships, it is true, have powerful ram-bows, and the reader has, doubtless, not failed to observe the dangerous spurs projecting from the bows of all our new cruisers. The value of ramming in modern naval warfare is not overlooked in any of the vessels now built.

But other warships also carry powerful batteries of guns, and, as a rule, torpedo outfits. The gun, the torpedo and the ram are the three great marine weapons, the greatest importance being usually attached to the gun.

The Ammen ram, however, will have no torpedoes, nor will she carry any guns, save four small rapid-firing pieces, added to her equipment as an afterthought, with a view of affording some protection against boat attacks.

She is a ram, pure and simple, and nothing else. She is not intended to cruise or to capture prizes or to bombard cities and forts.

Her single mission is to sally forth from a threatened home port and to attack the hostile vessels, sinking them by means of blows from her deadly beak.

Lying low in the water, she offers a poor target to the enemy's guns, and even if struck she is impervious to projectiles, which would be harmlessly deflected from her curved "turtle-back" deck, clad with thick steel armor.

Upon sighting the enemy, the captain of the ram would enter his conning tower, the walls of which are formed of eighteen inches of solid steel, and in this safe retreat he would direct the movements of his destructive craft, his attention undiverted by guns or torpedoes, and his confidence and coolness strengthened by the knowledge that his vessel is practically invulnerable to hostile guns.

The tactics suggested by Admiral Ammen with these rams is to send them forward at the beginning of the battle, letting them bear the brunt and take the first shock of the conflict. When they had performed their mission—that is, when they had sunk or disabled as many of the enemy's ships as possible—the reserve squadron of battleships and large cruisers would come up and complete the victory.

The contract price of the ram is $930,000; the cost of a first-class battleship is over $3,000,000, to which must be added an expensive armament of guns and torpedoes. The rams are comparatively cheap to maintain; the battleships extremely expensive.

Yet, on the other hand, the rams have but one sphere of usefulness. They are useless for cruising purposes, for bombardment, for commerce destruction. The battleships are not only of immense importance in coast defense, but they are adapted for the three forms of naval operations named.

The question is a deep one, and the most rational view of the matter would seem to be, as Admiral Ammen suggests, to construct a number of rams to be added to the remainder of the naval establishment.

Described in semi-technical language, the ram's most important features are follows: Her extreme length, over all, is 251 feet; extreme breadth, 43 feet 5 inches; total depth, from bottom of keel to crown of deck, 22 feet 10 inches. Under normal conditions she will draw 14 feet 11 inches of water, and at this draught her displacement is 2,155 tons. When going into action, however, she is lowered in the water to a fighting draught of 15 feet 5 inches, and her displacement is then increased to 2,240 tons.

The feature which is apt, at first glance, to strike the observer as most remarkable, is the peculiar shape of the hull, as shown in the cross-section.

The lower portion of the hull, instead of being parabolic, as in other vessels, is dish-shaped up to a sharp "knuckle," which runs completely around the vessel, forming a sharp blade, the edge of which is ordinarily six inches beneath the surface of the water, but one foot below at the fighting draught.

This blade-like side is a most notable characteristic of the ram. It was adopted not only to facilitate exit from an enemy's hull after ramming, but in order that, after striking an antagonist's side, the latter might be ripped—indeed, literally cut—away. It also increases the destructive effect of a glancing blow and at the same time increases the ram's structural strength.

Above this "knuckle" or blade the shape of the hull is that of a circular arc, with a radius amidships of about thirty feet. There is thus formed a curved deck, or "turtle-back," which is armored throughout, the thickness of armor tapering from six inches at the "knuckle" to two inches at the crown of deck. Below the "knuckle" extends an armor belt five feet deep, the thickness of this belt tapering from six to three inches. The walls of the conning tower are eighteen inches thick. The lower portions of the smokestack and the ventilators are protected with six inches of armor. All the armor is of steel.

The framing of the hull is remarkably strong, and is particularly adapted to resist the strains incident to ramming.

This framing consists of a series of stout longitudinal girders, which are continuous from end to end of the vessel, gathering at the bow and stern. They extend below the turtle-back deck as well as in the hull proper.

Between these longitudinals transverse frames are worked in at intervals of four feet throughout the vessel's length. There is thus formed a very rigid structure.

There is a double bottom, the inner bottom being two feet from the outer. The space between these two bottoms is subdivided into no less than seventy-two water tight compartments.

It may thus be seen that the injury that would result to the vessel from grounding or from the explosion of a torpedo has been minimized.

The main body of the vessel, within the inner bottom, has also been subdivided into numerous watertight compartments by both longitudinal and transverse bulkheads.

The vessel is fitted with twin screws, the machinery consisting of two horizontal triple expansion engines, with a combined indicated horse power of fifty-four hundred. The high, intermediate and low pressure cylinders are twenty-five, thirty-six and fifty-six inches in diameter respectively, and the stroke of all pistons is thirty-six inches.

A speed of eighteen knots is confidently expected. The contract requires seventeen knots, and if this requirement is not complied with, the vessel will be rejected.

There are two double-ended and one single-ended Scotch boilers, 13¼ feet in diameter.

The coal bunker capacity is 259 tons.

The vessel will be equipped with all the modern devices for artificial ventilation, drainage, etc., and will be lighted throughout by electricity.

It has been previously stated that she will carry four small guns on her deck as a protection against torpedo boats. These weapons will be 6-pounder rapid-fire guns.

The ram's crew will number ninety-one all told, officers and men.

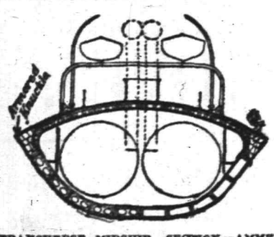
The boat outfit will comprise a steam cutter, a working launch and two whale boats.

The president of the Bath iron works is Gen. Thomas W. Hyde, a distinguished volunteer officer during the civil war, with a fine record.

The superintendent of ship building is Mr. Charles R. Hanscom, and his chief assistant is Mr. W. C. Besselievre.

The government inspector, who supervises the work as it proceeds, is Naval Constructor John B. Hoover, United States navy.

It is interesting to note that there is but one vessel in the world which bears



TRANSVERSE MIDSHIP SECTION—AMMEN RAM.

even the remotest resemblance to the Ammen ram.

This is the British torpedo ram Polyphemus, a vessel built some eleven years ago. She is slightly large than the Ammen ram, displacing 2,640 tons. She is of steel, with twin screws, and has a speed of about eighteen knots.

She has a "turtle-back" deck, and possesses certain other points of resemblance to the Ammen ram, from which she differs, however, in the under-water contour and construction of her hull, and also in the fact that she is not exclusively a ram, but is intended largely, if not mainly, to fight with torpedoes.

Woman's Close Perception.

"If a woman would only take me in from head to foot, instead of from heel to crown," said a pretty girl, "somehow this street criticism wouldn't seem so insulting, but you positively feel like a wooden doll under that searching glance that cares not for your features but only the details of your gown." And how observant most women are! That swift, passing look reveals every defect and likewise takes in every charm, and the critic can tell her escort how many shoe-buttons are missing or whether the shoe-laces are silk or not, as well as the sort of trimming and its arrangement on your gown and whether you wore flowers or feathers in your hat. This staring is rude, but it certainly sharpens the perceptions.—Argonaut.

A Rare Qualification.

A New York housekeeper recently went to inspect a batch of newly-arrived emigrants, and picked out a modest-looking Norwegian lass.

"Can you cook?"

"No."

"Can you see after the children?"

"No."

"Then, pray, what can you do?"

"Milk reindeer."—Boston Globe.

Irreparable Loss.

Yabsley—I hear that a burglar got away with your best suit of clothes the other night.

Mudge—Yes, he did. And the worst of it is there were ten dollars in one of the pockets. I can get another suit easily enough, but it is going to make me hustle to make up that ten.—Indianapolis Journal.

Reproved.

Clara—I heard that Miss Clinker told you the other night that my gowns never fitted me.

Maude—Yes, and I was very much provoked with her.

Clara—What did you say to her?

Maude—I told her that she was altogether too blunt.—Judge.

A Peculiar Mistake.

Old Mr. Fulton Ferry is becoming very absent-minded. Meeting Johnny Fixletop he asked:

"Are you the only son in the family?"

"Yes, sir."

"Humph! You been foolin' 'round the house your brother ever since I first saw you."—Texas Siftings.

Righteous Indignation.

The Bride—Kiss me again, dear.

The Groom—But, Madge, I have done nothing but kiss you for the last three hours!

The Bride (bursting into tears)—Traitor! You love another!—Truth.

May Have Merited the Advice.

Amateur Artist—I should like to present the last picture I painted to some charitable institution; now, which would you recommend?

Cruel Lady Friend—The blind asylum.—Life's Calendar.

The Proper Correction.

"I can't do this example," said little Miss Bleecker to her governess from Boston.

"Oh, you mustn't say that."

"Well, I cawn't do it, then."—Frank Leslie's Weekly.

Had Been Tested Before.

Minnie—I simply couldn't have refused Jack after he offered me this lovely engagement ring.

Gladys—Yes. Jack has always placed great reliance in that ring.—Chicago News.

No Novelty in That.

Friend—Doctor, did you ever fight a duel?

Doctor—A duel? No, indeed. What novelty would it be for me to kill a man?
